A. Their Graves are places of Reſt; not Priſons, but Beds of Reſt. Iſa. 57. 2. He ſhall enter into peace, they ſhall reſt in their beds, each one walking in his uprightneſs.

Q. 4. What is the Firſt evil they reſt from?

A. All the toils, and troubles, and afflictions of this life. Rev. 14. 13. They may reſt from their labours, and their works do follow them.

Q. 5. VVhat is the Second evil they reſt from?

A. They reſt from all perſecutions from men. Job. 13. 17. There the wicked ceaſe from troubling, and there the weary be at reſt.

Q. 6. VVhat is the Third evil they reſt from?

A. They reſt from Sin, never to feel temptation or inclination to ſin. Heb. 12. 23. And to the ſpirits of juſt men made perfect.

Q. 7. How long ſhall the Bodies reſt in the Grave?

A. Not for ever, but till the Day of the Reſurrection. Job 19. 26. For though after my skin worms deſtroy this body, yet in my fleſh ſhall I ſee God.

Q. 8. VVhat is the Firſt inference from hence?

A. That union with Chriſt redounds to the ſingular advantage of the Body as well as the Soul. Rom. 8. 11. But if the ſpirit of him that raiſed up Jeſus from the dead, dwell in you, he that raiſed up Chriſt from the dead, ſhall alſo quicken your mortal bodies by his ſpirit that dwelleth in you.

Q. 9. VVhat is the Second Inference?

A. That Death diſſolves not the union betwixt Chriſt and the Souls or Bodies of his. Mat. 22. 33. I am the God of Abraham, the God of Iſaac, and the God of Jacob; God is not the God of the dead, but of the living.

Q. 10. VVhat is the Third Inference?

A. That ſeeing our Bodies are to have ſo long and ſo ſweet reſt in the Grave, we ſhould not ſpare them in God's Service now. 2 Pet. 1. 13, 14. Yea, I think it meet, as long as I am in this Tabernacle, to ſtir you up, by putting you in remembrance, knowing that ſhortly I muſt put off this my Tabernacle, even as our Lord Jeſus Chriſt hath ſhewed me.

Q. 11. VVhat is the Fourth Inference?

A. That Chriſtians ſhould neither too much fear their own, nor ſorrow for others death. Rom. 8. 38. For I am perſwaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers,—— nor any other creature ſhall be able to ſeparate us from the love of God which is in Chriſt Jeſus our Lord. 1 Theſ. 4. 13. I would not have you to be ignorant concerning them which are aſleep, that ye ſorrow not even as others which have no hope.

Of the Reſurrection.

Queſt. 1. IS the Reſurrection a credible Doctrine?

A. Yes, it is. Acts 26. 8. VVhy ſhould it be thought a thing incredible with you, that God ſhould raiſe the dead?

Q. 2. VVhy then doth it ſeem incredible to man?

A. Becauſe they err, not knowing the Scriptures, and the Power of God. Mark 12. 24. Do ye not therefore err, becauſe ye know not the Scriptures, neither the power of God? The Power of God aſſures us it may be ſo, and the word of God tells us it muſt be ſo.

Q. 3. Is it ſinful to doubt of the Doctrin of the Reſurrection?

A. 'Tis not only a ſin to doubt it, but an hereſy to deny it, it being a fundamental Article. Heb. 6. 2. And of the reſurrection of the dead. 1 Cor. 15. 13, 14. But if there be no reſurrection of the dead, then is Chriſt not riſen; and if Chriſt be not riſen, then is our preaching vain, and your faith is alſo vain.

Q. 4. VVho muſt riſe again at the Reſurrection?

A. All men, good and bad, muſt riſe again. Acts 24. 15. And have hope towards God, which they themſelves alſo allow, that there ſhall be a reſurrection of the dead, both of the juſt and the unjuſt. Rev. 20. 12, 13, 14. And I ſaw the dead ſmall and great, ſtand before God, &c.

Q. 5. VVhat is the firſt difference betwixt the Reſurrection of the juſt and unjuſt?

A. Saints riſe by virtue of their union with Chriſt. Rom. 8. 11. But if the ſpirit of him that raiſed up Jeſus from the dead dwell in you; he that raiſed up Chriſt from the dead, ſhall alſo quicken your mortal bodies by his ſpirit that dwelleth in you. But the wicked by his power.

Q. 6. VVhat is the ſecond difference?

A. The ſecond and main difference will be in the contrary ends to which they riſe, ſome to life, and ſome to condemnation. Dan. 12. 2. And many of them that ſleep in the duſt of the earth ſhall awake, ſome to everlaſting life, and ſome to ſhame, and everlaſting contempt.

Q. 7. VVhat is the glory to which Saints bodies ſhall be raiſed?

A. In the likeneſs of Chriſt's glorious Body. Phil. 3. 21. VVho ſhall change our vile body, that it may be faſhioned like to his glorious body.

Q. 8. What is the Firſt inference from hence?

A. That every man ſhould ſtrive to the uttermoſt to attain to the Reſurrection of the juſt Phil. 3. 10, 11. That I may know him, and the power of his Reſurrection, and the fellowſhip of the ſufferings, being made conformable unto his death, if by any means I might attain to the reſurrection of the dead.

Q. 9. What is the ſecond Inference?

A. Comfort to them that now groan under manifold Diſtempers, and Deformities of Body;

they being made equal to Angels. Mark 12. 25. For when they ſhall riſe from the dead, they neither marry, nor are given in marriage, but are as the Angels which are in heaven.

Q. 10. What is the third Inference?

A. Get union with Chriſt by Faith, as you expect a joyful Reſurrection. John 11. 25. Jeſus ſaid unto her, I am the reſurrection, and the life; he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet ſhall he live.

Q. 11. What is the fourth Inference?

A. Saints ſhould not fear Death. Gen. 46. 3. Fear not to go down into Egypt.

Q. 12. What is the laſt Inference?

A. Imploy your Bodies for good now.

Of Chriſt's acknowledging Believers.

Queſt. 38. What benefit do Believers receive from Chriſt at the Reſurrection?

A. At the Reſurrection Believers being raiſed up in glory, ſhall be openly acknowledged, and acquitted in the Day of Judgment, and made perfectly bleſſed in the full enjoying of God to all Eternity.

Q. 1. What is it to be acknowledged by Chriſt?

A. It is Chriſt's owning of the ſpecial relation betwixt him and them. Mat. 25. 34. Come ye bleſſed of my father, inherit the Kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world.

Q. 2. Whom will Chriſt acknowledge for his?

A. Such as confeſs Chriſt now. Mat. 10. 32. Whoſoever therefore ſhall confeſs me before men, him will I confeſs alſo before my father which is in heaven.

Q. 3. Before whom will Chriſt confeſs them?

A. Before his Father, Angels and men. Rev. 3. 5. He that overcometh, the ſame ſhall be cloathed in white Raiment, and I will not blot out his name out of the book of life, but I will confeſs his name before my Father, and before Angels.

Q. 4. Who ſhall be denied by Chriſt in that Day?

A. All that now deny Chriſt, ſhall be denied by him. 2 Tim. 2. 12. If we deny him, he alſo will deny us.

Q. 5. Why will Chriſt openly acknowledge them?

A. To wipe off all Aſperſions and Cenſures that now are caſt upon them. Iſa. 66. 5. Your brethren that hated you, that caſt you out for my names ſake, ſaid, Let the Lord be glorified; but he ſhall appear to your joy, and they ſhall be aſhamed.

Q. 6. What will be the effect of Chriſt's Acknowment?

A. 'Twill put a full end to all Doubts, Fears, and Jealouſies of themſelves. 1 Cor. 4. 3, 4. But with me it is a very ſmall thing that I ſhould be judged of you, or of man's judgment; yea, I judge not my own ſelf, for I know nothing by my ſelf; yet am I not hereby juſtified, but he that judgeth me is the Lord.

Q. 7. What other effect will it produce in them?

A. Joy unſpeakable and tranſcendent: hence called time of refreſhing. Acts 3. 19. When the time of refreſhing ſhall come from the preſence of the Lord.

Q. 8. Is this the only time Chriſt acknowledgeth them?

A. No, he acknowledgeth them by his Spirit's Teſtimony now; but that's private in their Boſoms. Rom. 8. 16. The ſpirit it ſelf beareth witneſs with our ſpirits, that we are the children of God.

Q. 9. What is the firſt Inference from hence?

A. To warn all how they paſs raſh Cenſures on Chriſt's Servants. Pſal. 73. 15. If I ſay, I will ſpeak this, Behold I ſhould offend againſt the generation of thy children.

Q. 10. What is the ſecond Inference?

A. Let none be afraid or aſhamed to confeſs the Perſon, Office, or any truth of Chriſt, for any loſs or danger, that may threaten them. Luke 12. 8, 9. Alſo I ſay unto you whoſoever ſhall confeſs me before men, him ſhall the ſon of man alſo confeſs before the Angels of God. But he that denieth me before men, ſhall be denied before the Angels of God.

Q. 11. What is the third Inference?

A. Let Chriſtians abound in good works. Every act of Charity for Chriſt, ſhall be acknowledged by him in the Day of Judgment. Mat. 25. 35. For I was an hungred, and ye gave me meat; I was thirſty, and ye gave me drink; I was a ſtranger, and ye took me in.

Q. 12. What is the laſt Inference?

A. Let all Chriſtians love and long for the day of Chriſt's appearing. 2 Tim. 4. 8. Hence forth there is laid up for me a crown of righteouſneſs, which the Lord, the righteous Judge ſhall give me at that day, and not to me only, but unto them alſo that love his appearing.

Of Chriſt's acquitting Believers.

Queſt. 1. What is it to be acquitted by Chriſt?

A. It is to be diſcharged and cleared from all the guilt of Sin, and puniſhment due to it by the Law, upon the account of Chriſt's Righteouſneſs imputed by God, and received by Faith. Rom. 5. 1. Therefore being juſtified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jeſus Chriſt. Rom. 8. 1. There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Chriſt Jeſus.

Q. 2. How many ways are Believers acquitted?

A. They are acquitted now in the Court of Heaven. Rom. 8. 33. Who ſhall lay any thing to the charge of God's Elect? It is God that juſtifieth. In the Court of their own Conſciences. 1 John 3. 21. Beloved, if our hearts condemn us not, then have we confidence towards God. And in the Day of Judgment. Both particular; Heb. 9. 27. As it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgment. And general. Acts 3. 19. Repent ye therefore and be converted, that your ſins may be blotted out. Their Sins are then blotted out.

Q. 3. How doth Chriſt's acquittance now, differ from that at Judgment?

A. They differ in reſpect of Publickneſs; this is ſecret in the Believer's boſom, and that open before Men and Angels. Rev. 3. 5. I will confeſs his name before my Father, and before his Angels.

Q. 4. What is the ſecond Difference?

A. They differ in reſpect of ſubjective certainty and aſſurance. A Believer may doubt of this, but not of that. 1 Cor. 4. 4, 5. For I know nothing of my ſelf, yet am I not hereby juſtified; but he that judgeth me is the Lord; therefore judge nothing before the time, until the Lord come.

Q. 5. What is the third Difference betwixt them?

A. They differ in point of Conſolation. This always bears proportion to the certainty of it. Hence that day is called the time of refreſhing; when Chriſt blots out their Sins by Sentencial

Juſtification. Acts 3. 19. Repent ye therefore and be converted, that your ſins may be blotted out, when the times of refreſhing ſhall come from the preſence of the Lord.

Q. 6. Do Believers then lie under condemnation till that day?

A. No, they are truly and fully juſtified now. John 5. 24. He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that ſent me, hath everlaſting life, and ſhall not come into condemnation; but is paſſed from death unto life. But this Sentence is not yet publiſht by Chriſt's own mouth, as it ſhall be then.

Q. 7. On what account ſhall they be acquitted in that Day?

A. On the very ſame account and ſcore they are now, viz. For the imputed Righteouſneſs of Chriſt in the way of Free-grace. Eph. 1. 7. In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveneſs of ſins, according to the riches of his grace.

Q. 8. Muſt the Saints be ſummoned to Chriſt's Bar in that Day?

A. Yes, they muſt appear as well as others. 2 Cor. 5. 10 For we muſt all appear before the judgment-ſeat of Chriſt. But not to the ſame end. John 5. 29. And ſhall come forth, they that have done good, unto the reſurrection of life: and they that have done evil, unto the reſurrection of damnation.

Q. 9. What is the firſt Inference hence?

A. How ſure is a Believer's Juſtification, being ſo ratified privately and publickly, in this World, and that to come!

Q. 10. What is the ſecond Inference?

A. Though the Day of Judgment be awfully ſolemn, it ſhould not be dreadful to Believers. They ſhould look for, and haſten to the coming of the Day of God. 2 Pet. 3. 12. Looking for, and haſtening unto the coming of the day of God, &c.

Q. 11. What is the third Inference?

A. That Faith is a Grace of abſolute neceſſity, and unſpeakable excellency. Rom. 5. 1, 2. Therefore being juſtified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jeſus Chriſt. By whom alſo we have acceſs by faith into this grace wherein we ſtand.

Q. 12. What is the laſt Inference?

A. All unbelievers are in a miſerable State now. John 3. 18. He that believeth not, is condemned already. And worſe in the World to come. Mat. 25. 41. Depart from me ye curſed into everlaſting fire, prepared for the Devil and his Angels.

Of the full Enjoyment of God.

Queſt. 1. WHat doth perfect Bleſſedneſs ſuppoſe and imply?

A. It ſuppoſes the total Freedom of Believers from all the moral evil of Sin. Eph. 5. 27. That he might preſent you to himſelf a glorious Church, not having ſpot nor wrinkle, or any ſuch thing, but that it ſhould be holy, and without blemiſh. And from all the penal evils of ſuffering. Rev. 21. 4. And God ſhall wipe away all tears from their eyes, and there ſhall be no more death, neither ſorrow, nor crying, neither ſhall there be any more pain, for the former things are paſſed away.

Q. 2. What elſe is implied in perfect Bleſſedneſs?

A. It implies the full and perfect enjoyment of God. 1 Cor. 15. 28. And when all things ſhall be ſubdued unto him, then ſhall the Son alſo himſelf be ſubject unto him that put all things under him, that God may be all in all.

Q. 3. What is it for God to be all in all?

A. It implies three things in it. Firſt, That all the Saints ſhall be filled and ſatisfied from God alone. Secondly, That there ſhall be no need of other things out of which they were wont to fetch comfort. Thirdly, That all other things, as Heaven, Angels, Saints, ſhould be loved and enjoyed in God.

Q. 4. In what reſpect ſhall they Enjoy God in Heaven?

A. They ſhall have the glorious and immediate preſence of God with them. Rev. 21. 3. God himſelf ſhall be with them, and be their God.

Q. 5. In what other reſpects ſhall they Enjoy God?

A. They ſhall ſee him as he is. 1 John 3. 2. We ſhall be like him; for we ſhall ſee him as he is.

Q. 6. What will ſuch a viſion of God produce?

A. It will produce perfect conformity in them to God. 1 John 3. 2. When he ſhall appear, we ſhall be like him, for we ſhall ſee him as he is. And perfect joy will reſult from hence. Pſal. 16. 11. In thy preſence is fulneſs of joy, at thy right hand there are pleaſures for evermore.

Q. 7. Do not the Saints enjoy God here?

A. Yes, they do; but not ſo as they ſhall enjoy him in Heaven. 1 Cor. 13. 12. Now we ſee through a glaſs darkly, but then face to face; now I know in part; but then ſhall I know even as alſo I am known.

Q. 8. What are the ſpecial differences between the Saints Communion with God here, and that in Heaven?

A. Their Communion with God here is clogg'd with Sin. Rom. 7. 21. I find then a law, that when I would do good, evil is preſent with me. Here it is not conſtant. Pſal. 22. 1. My God, my God, why haſt thou forſaken me? Nor is it ſatisfying: but in Heaven it will be pure, conſtant and ſatisfying.

Q. 9. How long ſhall they there enjoy God?

A. Not for days, years, ages, but for ever and ever. 1 Theſ. 4. 17. And ſo ſhall we be ever with the Lord.

Q. 10. What is the firſt Inſtruction from hence?

A. That the World is not the place of the Saints reſt and ſatisfaction. Heb. 4. 9. There remaineth therefore a reſt to the people of God. 2 Cor. 5. 2, 6. For in this we groan earneſtly, deſiring to be cloathed upon with our houſe which is from heaven; therefore we are always confident, knowing that whilſt we are at home in the body, we are abſent from the Lord.

Q. 11. What is the ſecond Inſtruction from hence?

A. That Death is a ſingular benefit to the Saints; and though it be an enemy to Nature, yet it is the medium to Glory. 2 Cor. 5. 4. For we that are in this Tabernacle do groan, being burthened, not for that we would be uncloathed, but cloathed upon, that mortality might be ſwallowed up of life.

Q. 12. What is the third Inſtruction hence?

A. The neceſſity of Faith and Regeneration in this World. None ſhall be raiſed up in glory, acknowledged, acquitted, and made perfectly bleſſed in the full enjoyment of God, but Believers. Rom. 8. 30. Moreover whom he did predeſtinate, them he alſo called; and whom he called, them he alſo juſtified; and whom he juſtified, them he alſo glorified. Heb. 12. 14. Follow peace with all men, and holineſs, without which no man ſhall ſee the Lord.

Of Man's Duty to God.

Queſt. 39. What is the Duty that God requireth of Man?

A. The Duty which God requireth of Man, is Obedience to his revealed will.

Q. 1. Is Obedience to God's will the Duty of every Man?

A. It is unqueſtionably the Duty of every man to obey the will of God, ſo far as he hath made it known to him. Micah 6. 8. He hath ſhewed thee, O man, what is good, and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do juſtly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God.

Q. 2. On what account is Man's Obedience due to God?

A. 'Tis due to him, Firſt, As he is our Creator, In whom we live, and move, and have our being, Acts 17. 27, 28. Secondly, As he is our Benefactor, from whom we receive all our Mercies. Deut. 28. 47. Becauſe thou ſerveſt not the Lord thy God with joyfulneſs, and with gladneſs of heart, for the abundance of all things; Therefore ſhalt thou ſerve thine enemies, which the Lord ſhall ſend againſt thee, in hunger, thirſt, and nakedneſs, and in want of all things. Thirdly, As he is our Lord, and Law-giver. Jam. 4. 12. There is one Law-giver, who is able to ſave, and to deſtroy.

Q. 3. Is Obedience due to none but God only?

A. Yes, ſubjects muſt obey their lawful Magiſtrates. Rom. 13. 1. Let every ſoul be ſubject to the higher powers, for there is no power but of God. The powers that be are ordained of God. People their Miniſters. Heb. 13. 17. Obey them that have the rule over you, and ſubmit your ſelves, for they watch for your ſouls, as they that muſt give an account. Children their Parents. Eph. 6. 1. Children obey your Parents in the Lord, for this is right. But not as they are to obey God.

Q. 4. What is the difference betwixt our obedience to God's Commands, and Men's?

A. We are to obey God chiefly and ſupreamly, for his own ſake. 1 Pet. 2. 13. Submit your ſelves to every ordinance of man, for the Lords ſake. And Eph. 6. 1. Children obey your parents [in the Lord] for this is right.

Q. 5. What muſt we do when the Commands of God and Men fall croſs to one another?

A. In that caſe we muſt yield our obedience to God; and not to man, whatever we ſuffer for it. Acts 4. 19. Whether it be right in the ſight of God to hearken unto you more than unto God, judge ye.

Q. 6. Why muſt we obey God rather than Man?

A. Becauſe God is the Supream and Sovereign Lord of our Conſciences, and no Creature hath power to command our Obedience, but in, and from him. Iſa. 33. 22. For the Lord is our judge, the Lord is our lawgiver, the Lord is our King, he will ſave us.

Q. 7. Have the People Liberty to compare the Laws of God and Men, and judge how they agree, or differ?

A. Yes, their Judgment of Diſcretion is both commanded; 1 Cor. 10. 15. I ſpeak as to wiſe men, judge ye what I ſay. And commended; Acts 17. 11. Theſe were more noble than thoſe in Theſſalonica, in that they received the word with all readineſs of mind, and ſearched the Scriptures daily, whether thoſe things were ſo.

Q. 8. What is the only Rule for our Obedience to God?

A. The will of God revealed in the Scriptures, is our only Rule of Obedience. Iſa. 8. 20. To the law, and to the teſtimony; if they ſpeak not according to this word, it is becauſe there is no light in them.

Q. 9. But if a man have a voice, a viſion, or a dream, ſeeming to hint the ſecret will of God, may he not obey it?

A. Yes; if it be conſonant to the revealed will of God in the word, otherwiſe not. Deut. 29. 29. The ſecret things belong unto the Lord our God, but thoſe things which are revealed belong unto us, and to our children for ever, that we may do all the words of this law.

Q. 10. What is the firſt Inſtruction hence?

A. That it's highly ſinful and dangerous to diſobey the known will of God in any thing. Rom. 1. 18. For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven againſt all ungodlineſs and unrighteouſneſs of men, who hold the truth in unrighteouſneſs. Luke 12. 47. And that ſervant which knew his Lord's will, and prepared not himſelf, neither did according to his will, ſhall be beaten with many ſtripes.

Q. 11. What is the ſecond Inſtruction?

A. That's a bleſſed man, who conſcienciouſly labours to obey the will of God ſo far as he can diſcover it. John 13. 17. If ye know theſe things, happy are ye if ye do them. Gal. 6 16. And as many as walk according to this rule, peace be on them, and mercy.

Q. 12. What is the third Inference?

A. It is highly ſinful and dangerous to command others, or obey commands from others, which are not according to God's Command. Hoſ. 5. 11. Ephraim is oppreſſed, and broken in judgment, becauſe he willingly walketh after the commandment. Jer. 7. 31. And they have built the high places of Tophet, which is in the valley of the ſon of Hinnom, to burn their ſons and their daughters in the fire, which I commanded them not, neither came it into my heart.

Of the Moral Law.

Queſt 40. and 41. What did God at firſt reveal to Man for the Rule of his Obedience?

A. The Rule which God at firſt revealed to Man for his Obedience, was the Moral Law.

Where is the Moral Law ſummarily comprehended?

A. The Moral Law is ſummarily comprehended in the Ten Commandments.

Q. 1. Is every man under the Direction and Obligation of a Law?

A. Yes; Man being a reaſonable Creature, is capable of, and fitted for Government by Law, which other Creatures are not; and being an accountable Creature to God, muſt needs be under a Law. Rom. 2. 15. Which ſhew the works of the Law written in their hearts; their conſciences alſo bearing witneſs, and their thoughts the mean while accuſing, or elſe excuſing one another?

Q. 2. How could man be under a Law before the Law was given by Moſes?

A. Before ever the Law was given at Sinai, all the race of Adam had a Law written in their Hearts, viz. the Light of Reaſon, and Dictates of Natural Conſcience. Rom. 2. 14. For when the Gentiles which have not the law, do by nature the things things contained in the Law, theſe having not the aw, are a law unto themſelves. And beſides this, the Church had the revealed will of God to direct them. 2 Pet. 1. 19, 20. We have alſo a more ſure word of Propheſy, whereunto ye do well to take heed, as unto a light that ſhineth in a dark place, until the day dawn, and the day-ſtar ariſe in your hearts. Knowing this firſt, that no propheſy of the Scripture is of any private interpretation.

Q. 3. What is the meaning of the Moral Law?

A. 'Tis not a Law to direct and order our Manners; but a Law that binds univerſally and perpetually, as the Ten Commandments do thoſe to whom they are promulged, and the Light of Nature doth all others. Rom. 2. 14. For when the Gentiles which have not the Law, do by nature the things contained in the Law, theſe having not the Law, are a Law unto themſelves. Luke 16. 17. It is eaſier for heaven and earth to paſs, than one tittle of the Law to fall.

Q. 4. VVhy is it ſaid to be ſummarily comprehended in the Ten Commandments?

A. Becauſe much more is included in every Command, than is expreſt, as our Saviour ſhews in his expoſition of it. Mat. 22. 40. On theſe two Commandments hang all the law and the prophets.

Q. 6. Doth the Moral Law bind Chriſtians under the Goſpel?

A. Yes, it doth, as a Rule to order their Converſations by. Jam. 2. 8, 9, 10. If ye fulfil the royal law according to the Scripture, Thou ſhalt love thy Neighbour as thy ſelf; ye do well: but if ye have reſpect to perſons, ye commit ſin, and are convinced of the law as tranſgreſſors; for whoſoever ſhall keep the whole law, and yet offend in one point, is guilty of all?

Q. 6. Is the Moral Law the ſame thing with the Covenant of Works, and impoſed for the ſame end?

A. God never deſigned the Law to be the way of Man's Juſtiſication ſince the Fall. Gal. 3. 21, 22. Is the law then againſt the promiſes of God? God forbid! for if there had been a law given which could have given life, verily righteouſneſs would have been by the law; but the Scripture hath concluded all under ſin, that the promiſe by faith of Jeſus Chriſt might be given to them that believe. But it was promulged to convince Men of Sin. Rom. 7. 7. VVhat ſhall we ſay then? Is the law ſin? God forbid! Nay, I had not known ſin, but by the law; for I had not known luſt, except the law had ſaid, Thou ſhall not covet. And bring them to Chriſt. Gal. 3. 24. VVherefore the law was our School-maſter to bring us unto Chriſt, that we might be juſtified by faith.

Q. 7. VVhat is the firſt Inference from hence?

A. Hence we learn the abominable Nature of Popery. The Pope being that lawleſs One, who will not be bound to the Laws of God himſelf. 2 Theſ. 2. 8. Then ſhall that wicked one be revealed whom the Lord ſhall conſume with the ſpirit of his mouth, and ſhall deſtroy with the brightneſs of his coming, But aſſumes Power to diſpence with God's Laws to others.

Q. 8. VVhat is the ſecond Inference hence?

A. That man dieth not as Beaſts die; which re under no Moral Law, and therefore capable of no ſin; but muſt come to Judgment after Death. Eccleſ. 3. 21. Who knoweth the ſpirit of man that goeth upward, and the ſpirit of the Beaſt that goeth downward to the earth? Heb. 9. 27. And as it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgment.

Q. 9. What is the third Inference hence.

A. That though the actions of men naturally conſidered are tranſcient, yet their conſequences and effects are permanent; An act is ſoon done, a word ſoon ſpoken, a thought ſoon thought; but when done, ſpoken or thought, they are placed to account. Gal. 6. 7, 8. Be not deceived, God is not mocked; for whatſoever a man ſoweth, that ſhall he alſo reap; for he that ſoweth to the fleſh, ſhall of the fleſh reap corruption; but he that ſoweth to the ſpirit, ſhall of the ſpirit reap life everlaſting.

Q. 10. What is the fourth Inference from hence?

A. That God will proceed with men by different rules in the Day of Judgment, according to the different Laws they lived under in this World. Rom. 2. 12. For as many as have ſinned without law, ſhall alſo periſh without law; and as many as have ſinned in the law, ſhall be judged by the law.

Q. 11. What is the fifth Inference from hence?

A. That thoſe who have ſinned againſt the cleareſt Light, and beſt Helps, will, if they die impenitent, be judged to the greateſt Miſery. Matt. 11. 23. And thou Capernaum which are exalted unto heaven, ſhalt be brought down to Hell; for if the mighty works which have been done in thee, had been done in Sodom, it would have remained untill this day. Heb. 2. 3. How ſhall we eſcape if we neglect ſo great ſalvation?

Q. 12. What is the ſixth Inference from hence?

A. That as we are to prize the Moral Law highly, as a Rule of Life; Pſal. 119. 105. Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path. So are we to bleſs God for the Goſpel-Diſpenſation, by which only we can attain to Juſtification and Salvation. Heb. 12. 22. But we are come to Mount Sion, and unto the City of the living God, the heavenly Jeruſalem, to an innumerable company of Angels.

Of Love to God and Man.

Queſt. 42. What is the ſum of the Ten Commandments?

A. The ſum of the Ten Commandments is to love the Lord our God with all our hearts, with all our ſoul, with all our ſtrength, and with all our mind; and our Neighbour as our ſelves.

Q. 1. What is the ſum of the Ten Commandments?

A. To love the Lord our God with a Sincere love, in and for him. Matt. 22. 37. 38. Jeſus ſaid unto him, Thou ſhalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy ſoul, and with all thy mind. This is the Firſt and Great Commandment; The Second is like unto it, Thou ſhalt love thy Neighbour as thy ſelf.

Q. 2. What is the firſt thing contained in our ſupream Love to God?

A. It implies the loving of God purely and abſolutely for himſelf. The Excellencies that are in him. Cant. 1. 3. Thy name is as ointment poured forth; therefore the virgins love thee. And the benefits we receive from him. Pſal. 116. 1. I love the Lord becauſe he hath heard my voice and my ſupplication.

Q. 3. What is the Second Property of this Supream Love?

A. Supream love devotes the whole man to God and Chriſt: So that in life and death that man deſigns the Glory of God as his main end. Rom. 14. 7, 8. For none of us liveth to himſelf, and no man dieth to himſelf; for whether we live, we live unto the Lord; and whether we die, we die unto the Lord; whether we live therefore or die, we are the Lord's.

Q. 4. What is the third Property of Supream Love?

A. It cauſes the Soul to depreciate and ſlight all other things in compariſon of God's Glory, and an Intreſt in Chriſt. Acts 20. 24. But none of theſe things move me, neither count I my life dear unto my ſelf, ſo that I may finiſh my courſe with joy. Phil. 3. 8, 9 I count all things but loſs for the excellency of the knowledge of Chriſt Jeſus my Lord.

Q. 5. What is the fourth Property of Supream Love?

A. It centers the Soul in God as its only reſt. Pſal. 116. 7. Return unto thy reſt, O my ſoul. And cannot be ſatisfied till it come to the full enjoyment of him. 2 Theſ. 3. 5. The Lord direct your hearts into the love of God, and patient waiting for Chriſt.

Q. 6. Why muſt we love God with a ſupream Love?

A. Becauſe ſuch a love only ſuits the tranſcendent Excellency of God. Commands all we are and have for God, and is the only love that will continue to the end. Rom. 8. 35. Who ſhall ſeparate us from the love of Chriſt?

Q. 7. What is it to love our Neighbour as our ſelves?

A. It is the exact Obſervation and Practice of the golden Rule of Chriſt. Matt. 7. 12. Therefore all things whatſoever ye would that men ſhould do to you, do ye even ſo to them, for this is the law and the prophets.

Q. 8. Are all men to be loved alike, and with the ſame degree of Love;

A. No; tho we muſt love all men with the love of Benevolence; yet the Saints only with the love of Complancency. Pſal. 16. 3. But to the ſaints that are in the earth, and to the excellent, in whom is all my delight. And to ſuch we muſt eſpecially do good. Gal. 6. 10. As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men, eſpecially unto them who are of the houſhold of faith.

Q. 9. VVhat is the firſt Inſtruction from hence?

A. Hence we learn the excellency of Divine love. Moſes expreſſes the Whole Duty of Man in Ten Commandments. Chriſt hangs the Whole Law upon theſe Two, Love to God and our Neighbour. Mark 12. 30, 31. Thou ſhalt love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy ſtrength. This is the firſt Commandment. And the Second is like, namely, this, Thou ſhalt love thy neighbour as thy ſelf; there is none other Commandment greater than theſe. And the Apoſtle reduces theſe Two into One. Gal. 5. 14. For all the law is fulfilled in one word, even in this, Thou ſhalt love thy Neighbour as thy ſelf.

Q. 10. VVhat is the ſecond Inference from hence?

A. It convinces the holieſt of men how far ſhort they come in their Obedience to the rule of duty, and therein the law is our School-maſter to bring us to Chriſt. Gal. 3. 24.

Q. 11. VVhat is the third Inference from hence?

A. It diſcovers the excellency and perfection of the Law of God. Pſal. 19. 7. The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the ſoul. And that we are highly to honour and magnify it as a rule of duty, though we muſt utterly renounce it as the way of our Juſtification.

Q. 12. VVhat is the laſt Inference from hence?

A, That there is nothing too dear for a Chriſtian in this world, but he muſt give it up by ſelf-denial, when it comes in competition with his ſupream love to God. Luke 14. 26. If any man come to me, and hate not his father, and mother, wife, and children, and brethren, and ſiſters, yea, and his own life alſo, he cannot be my diſciple. ( i. e. ) Love them leſs than me.

Of the Perface to the Commandments.

Queſt. 43. and 44. What is the Preface to the Ten Commandments?

A. The Preface to the Ten Commandments is in theſe words, I am the Lord thy God which have brought thee out of the Land of Egypt, out of the Houſe of Bondage.

What doth the Preface to the Ten Commandments teach us?

A. The Preface to the Ten Commandments teacheth us, that becauſe God is the Lord, and our God, and Redeemer, therefore we are bound to keep all his Commandments.

Q. 1 VVhy doth God uſe arguments and inducements to win men to the obedience of his laws?

A. Becauſe he loves to work on man as a rational Creature, according to the principles of his Nature. Hoſ. 11. 4. I drew them with cords of a man, with bands of love. And becauſe he delights in none but free and chearful Obedience. Pſal. 110. 3. Thy people ſhall be willing in the day of thy power.

Q. 2. What is the firſt argument in this Preface?

A. It is the ſovereignty of the Law-giver [ I am the Lord ] which ſhould awe the heart of every man to obedience. Jam. 4. 12. There is one law-giver, who is able to ſave and to deſtroy.

Q. 3. What is the ſecond argument to Obedience?

A. One propriety in God by Covenant [ I am the Lord thy God ] This obligeth to Obedience and aggravateth diſobedince. Pſal. 50. 7. Hear, O my people, and I will ſpeak; O Iſrael, and I will teſtify againſt thee; I am God, even thy God. Hoſ. 9. 1. Thou haſt gone a whoring from thy God.

Q. 4. What is the third argument unto Obedience?

A. The benefits of Redemtion that they receive from God. Benefits perſwade to duty; and the goodneſs of God leads to repentance. Rom. 2. 4.

Q. 5. How can deliverance out of Egypt, be an argument to them that never were in Egypt?

A. As that Deliverance was a Type of our Deliverance, ſo 'tis an argument to us, and an argument from the leſs to the greater; ſo it obligeth us more than them. Luke 1. 74, 75. That he would grant us, that we being delivered out of the hand of our enemies, might ſerve him without ſear, in holineſs and righteouſneſs before him all the days of our life.

Q 6. What is that deliverance we have? and how doth it oblige us to Obedience?

A. Our Deliverance is not from Egypt, but from Hell. Who hath delivered us from the power of darkneſs, and hath tranſlated us into the kingdom of his dear Son. Col. 1. 13. And our perſons are bought by the Redeemer to glorify God. 1 Cor 6. 1 What, know ye not that your body is the Temple of the Holy Ghoſt, which is in you; for ye are bought with a price; wherefore glorify God in your body, and in your ſpirits which are Gods.

Q 7. Is it not mercenary to ſerve God upon the account of benefits received, or to be received?

A.

A. He that makes religious Duties Mediums t attain carnal Advantages only, is of a worſe than mercenary Spirit. Hoſe. 7. 14. And they have not cried unto me with their hearts, when they howled upon their beds; they aſſembled themſelves for corn and wine, and they rebelled againſt me. But to be quickened by Mercy to Duty is not mercenary, but Evangelical. Hoſ. 3. 5. They ſhall fear the Lord and his goodneſs.

Q. 8. What is the firſt Inference from hence?

A. That great is the condeſcention of God to Man, that he will uſe arguments to induce him to obedience, who might exact it only by his Sovereignty, and juſtly damn us for our diſobedience. 2 Cor. 5. 20. Now then we are embaſſadors for Chriſt, as though God did beſeech you by us, we pray you in Chriſt's ſtead, be ye reconciled to God.

Q. 9. What is the ſecond Inference from hence?

A. That the more mercy any receive from God, the more obligations are laid on them to obey him. Pſal. 116. 1, 2. I love the Lord becauſe he hath heard my voice, and my ſupplication; becauſe he hath inclined his ear unto me, therefore will I call upon him as long as I live.

Q. 10. What is the third Inference from hence?

A. The more mercies and favours any man ſins againſt, the greater is that man's ſin, and the ſorer will be his puniſhment. Amos 3. 1. 2. You only have I known of all the families of the earth; wherefore I will puniſh you for all your iniquities.

Q. 11. What is the fourth Inference from hence?

A. That God's expectations are greater, where his mercies and favours have been ſo. Iſa. 5. 4. What could have been done more to my vineyard, that I have not done in it? wherefore when I looked that it ſhould bring for grapes, brought it forth wild grapes.

Q. 12. What is the laſt Inference from hence;

A. That memorials of God's Mercies are to be kept by us, to provoke us to conſtant and chearful duties of obedience Exod. 17. 14. And the Lord ſaid unto Moſes, Write this for a memorial in a book, and rehearſe it in the ears of Joſhua. Pſal. 103. 2, 3. Bleſs the Lord, O my ſoul. forget not all his benefits.

Of the First Commandment.

Queſt. 45. Which is the Firſt Commandment?

A. The Firſt Commandment is, Thou ſhalt have no other Gods before me.

Q. 1. What is the firſt duty enjoin'd in the firſt Commandment?

A. It is to know and acknowledge the Exiſtence or Being of God, and conſequently condemns all Atheiſm, both in judgment and practice. Heb. 11. 6. He that cometh to God muſt believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently ſeek him. Pſal. 14. 1. The fool hath ſaid in his heart, there is no God.

Q. 2. What is the ſecond duty of the Firſt Commandment?

A. It requires all men to know and acknowledge the unity of God. Deut. 6. 4. Hear, O Iſrael, the Lord our God is one Lord. And condemns Polytheiſm, or plurality of Gods. 1 Cor. 8. 5, 6. For tho' there be that are called Gods, whether in heaven or in earth, as there be Gods many, and Lords many; but to us there is but one God.

Q. 3. Whence ſprang the Opinion of more Gods than one at firſt in the world?

A. It ſprang from ignorance of God's Omnipreſence and Omnipotence. Hence came their vain imaginations. Rom 1. 21. Becauſe that when they knew God, they glorified him not as God, neither were thankful, but became vain in their imaginations, and their fooliſh heart was darkened. They thought the preſence and power of God might reach one place, and not another. 1 Kings 20. 23. And the ſervants of the King of Aſſyria ſaid unto him, Their gods are gods of the hills, therefore they were ſtronger than we; but let us fight againſt them in the plain, and ſurely we ſhall be ſtronger than they.

Q. 4. What were the firſt Creatures worſhipped as Gods?

A. Probably the heavenly Bodies, Sun, Moon and Stars, becauſe of their ſplendor and influences? theſe as Heralds, do proclaim God to the World. Pſal. 19. 1, 2. The heavens declare the glory of God, and the firmament ſheweth his handy work. Day unto day uttereth ſpeech, and night unto night ſheweth knowledge. And theſe meſſengers of God were miſtaken for God himſelf; Job 31. 26, 27. If I beheld the ſun when it ſhined, or the moon walking in brightneſs, and my heart hath been ſecretly inticed, or my mouth hath kiſſed my hand; This alſo were an iniquity, for I ſhould have denied the God that is above.

Q. 5. What do theſe words [ before me ] import?

A. It notes God's perfect knowledge and abhorrance of all Idolatry, or worſhipping of another God, as what he cannot endure to behold. Jer. 44. 3, 4. Becauſe of their wickedneſs which they have committed to provoke me to anger, in that they went to burn incenſe to ſerve other Gods, whom they knew not, neither they, you, nor your fathers; howbeit I ſent unto you all my ſervants the prophets, riſing early, and ſending them, ſaying, O do not this abominable thing that I hate.

Q. 6. Are none guilty of this ſin but heatheniſh Idolaters?

A. Yes, all that place their ſupream love or truſt in any creature, make their creature their God, and in Scripture are called Idolaters. Col. 3. 5. And covetouſneſs which is Idolatry.

Q. 7. How doth the Idolatry forbidden in the firſt, differ from that forbidden in the ſecond Commandment?

A. The Idolatry forbidden in the firſt Commandment is a ſin reſpecting the object of worſhip, when we ſet up any thing in the place of God, which by nature is not God. Gal. 4. 8. Howbeit then when ye knew not God, ye did ſervice unto them which by nature are no gods. But that againſt the ſecond Commandment is, when we pretend to worſhip the true God, but do it by ſuch means, and in ſuch a manner as he hath not required, or hath forbidden. Exod. 32. 4, 5. And he received them at their hands, and faſhioned it with a graving tool, after he had made a molten calf, and they ſaid, Theſe be thy Gods, O Iſrael, which brought thee up out of the houſe of Egypt.

Q. 8. What is the firſt inference from the firſt Commandment?

A. That it is a ſpecial mercy to be brought forth in a land where the true God is known and worſhipped. Pſal. 147. 20. He hath not dealt ſo with any nation; and as for his judgments they have not known them; praiſe ye the Lord.

Q. 6. What is the ſecond inference from the 1ſt Commandment?

A. That it is a great and dreadful ſin to live without the worſhip of God in the world. Eph. 2. 12. That at that time ye were without Chriſt,---and without God in the world.

Q. 10. What's the third inference from the 1ſt Commandment ?

A. That Chriſtians muſt not comply with Idolatrous or Superſtitious worſhip, when they are caſt into Idolatrous places, how great ſoever the danger be. Pſal. 16. 4: Their ſorrows ſhall de multiplied, that haſten after another God ; their drink offering of blood will I not offer, nor take up their names into my lips.

Q. 11. What is the fourth inference from hence ?

A. That the ſupream love, fear, and truſt of the Soul is God's peculiar right and due. Whoſoever places them on any other beſides God is guilty of a very heinous and great ſin againſt him. 1 John 2. 15. Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world ; if any man love the world, the love of the father is not in him. Compar'd with Job 31. 24, 28. If I have made gold my hope, or have ſaid to the fine gold, Thou art my confidence ; this alſo were an iniquity to be puniſhed by the Judge, for I ſhould have denied the God that is above.

Q. 12. What is the fifth inference hence ?

A. That God's eye diſcovers the cloſeſt Idolatry in the world, whether it be in ſecret actions ; Ezek. 8. 12. Haſt thou ſeen what the ancients of the houſe of Iſrael do in the dark ? Every man in the chambers of his imagery ; for they ſay, the Lord ſeeth us not, the Lord hath forſaken the earth. Or inward affections. Col. 3. 5. Mortify therefore your members which are upon the earth, fornication, uncleanneſs, inordinate affection, evil concupiſcence, and covetouſneſs, which is Idolatry.

Q. 13. What is the ſixth inference from hence ?

A. That an high and full condition in the world, is a dangerous condition, and lies moſt expoſed to to the danger of Heart-idolatry. Prov. 30. 9. Leſt I be full, and deny thee, and ſay, Who is the Lord ? Mark 10. 24. How hard is it for them that truſt in riches to enter into the kingdom of heaven ?

Q. 14. What is the laſt Inference ?

A. That in covenanting with God, and avouching him for our God, we muſt wholly renounce all others, and take God alone for our portion ; and the object of our love and dependance. Hoſ. 3. 3. Thou ſhalt not be for another man. So will I alſo be for thee. Luke 14. 33. So likewiſe whoſoever he be of you, that forſaketh not all that he hath, he cannot be my diſciple.

Of the ſecond Commandment.

Queſt. 49. Which is the ſecond Commandment ?

A. The ſecond Commandment is, [ Thou ſhalt not make unto thee any graven Image, or any likeneſs of any thing that is in Heaven above, or that is in the Earth beneath, or that is in the Water under the Earth ; thou ſhalt not bow down thy ſelf to them, nor ſerve them : For I the Lord thy God am a jealous God, viſiting the iniquities of the Fathers upon the Children, unto the third and fourth generation, of them that hate me, and ſhewing mercy unto thouſands of them that love me, and keep my Commandments ]

Queſt. 50. What is required in the ſecond Commandment ?

A. The ſecond Commandment requireth, the receiving, obſerving, and keeping pure and entire all ſuch Religious Worſhip and Ordinances, as God hath appointed in his Word.

Queſt. 51. What is forbidden in the ſecond Commandment ?

A. The ſecond Commandment forbiddeth the Worſhipping of God by Images, or any other way, not appointed in his word.

Queſt. 52. What are the Reaſons annexed to the ſecond Commandment ?

A. The Reaſons annexed to the ſecond Commandment are, Gods Sovereignty over us, his propriety in us, and his zeal he hath to his own Worſhip ?

Q. 1. What is the Sin eſpecially forbidden in the ſecond Commandment ?

A. The Sin here forbidden is the corruption of God's Worſhip, by making any ſimilitude of any Perſon in the Godhead, and performing Divine Worſhip before it, or to it, Exod. 32. 8. They have turned aſide quickly out of the way which I commanded them : they have made them a molten calf, and have worſhipped, and have ſacrificed thereunto, and ſaid, theſe be thy Gods, O Iſrael, which have brought thee up out of the land of Egypt. Deut. 4. 15, 16. Take ye therefore good heed unto your ſelves, ( for ye ſaw no manner of ſimilitude on the day that the Lord ſpake unto you in Horeb, out of the midſt of the fire ; ) leſt ye corrupt your ſelves, and make you a graven image, the ſimilitude of any figure, the likeneſs of male or female.

Q. 2. What is the ſecond Sin forbidden in this Commandment ?

A. The ſecond Sin againſt this Commandment is Will-worſhip, conſiſting in the addition of mans inventions to the Worſhip of God as a part thereof, Matth. 15. 9. But in vain do they worſhip me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men. Col. 2.20,21,22,23. Wherefore if ye be dead with Chriſt from the rudiments of the world ; why, as though living in the world, are ye ſubject to ordinances, ( Touch not, taſte not, handle not : Which all are to periſh with the uſing ) after the commandments and doctrines of men : which things have indeed a ſhew of wiſdom in will-worſhip and humility, and neglecting of the body, not in any honour to the ſatisfying of the fleſh.

Q. 3. But if thoſe additions be for the more decent worſhipping of God, is it not allowed by 1 Cor. 14. 40. Let all things be done decently and in order ?

A. No ; That Scripture commands that Gods Inſtitutions be regularly and decently performed, but not that we invent Ceremonies that are ſymbolical, to make them more decent than Chriſt left them.

Q. 4. Why is the ſecond Commandment left out in all the publick Offices of the Popiſh Church ?

A. Becauſe it expreſly condemns their Idolatrous Images, kneeling, at the Sacrament, Prayers to Saints, and all their Superſtitious Croſſes, Surplices, Chriſme, as ſinful.

Q. 5. Do they not clear themſelves from Idolatry, by telling us they only worſhip God before, or by them, but not the Images themſelves ?

A. No, they do not ; for the uſe of Images in Gods Worſhip is expreſly condemned in this Commandment ; and if this would excuſe the Papiſts, it had alſo excuſed the Iſraelites in worſhipping the Calf. Exod. 32. 4. ---And they ſaid, theſe be thy Gods, O Iſrael, that brought thee up out of the land of Egypt.

Q. 6. What's the firſt Reaſon annexed to the ſecond Cammandment ?

A. The firſt Reaſon annexed is Gods Sovereignty, I the Lord; which ſhews that it belongs to God only in inſtiture his own Worſhip, and make it effectul; and therefore to do that in his Worſhip which he never commanded, is ſinful and dangerous; Jer. 7. 31. And they have built the high places of Tophet, which is in the valley of the ſon of Hinnom, to burn their ſons and their daughters in the fire, which I commanded them not, neither, came it into my heart.

Q. 7. What's the ſecond Reaſon annexed to the ſecond Commandment?

A. The ſecond Reaſon is Gods Propriety in us! he is our God, and we belong to him; and therefore to corrupt his Worſhip, greatly aggravates our Sin, Hoſ. 9. 1. Rejoyce not, O Iſrael, for joy as other people; for thou haſt gone a whoring from thy God, &c.

Q. 8. What's the third Reaſon annexed to the ſecond Commandment?

A. The jealouſie of God over his Worſhip and Worſhippers; ſo that this ſin of corrupting his Worſhip, will dreadfully incenſe his wrath, as it did, Levit. 10. 1, 2. And Nadab and Abihu the ſons of Aaron, took either of them his cenſer, and put fire thereon, and offered ſtrange fire before the Lord, which he commanded them not. And there went out fire from the Lord, and devoured them, and they dyed before the Lord.

Q. 9. What's the firſt Inſtruction from the ſecond Commandment?

A. That it is an hainous ſin to neglect the Worſhip of God, in that manner he hath appointed us to Worſhip him, as in Prayer, Jer. 10. 25. Pour out thy fury upon the Heathen that know thee not, and upon the families that call not on thy name. ---Hearing the Word, Prov. 28. 9. He that turneth away his ear from hearing the law even his prayer ſhall be abomination.

Q. 10. What's the ſecond Inſtruction from the ſecond Commandment?

A. That thoſe that ſuffer for endeavouring to preſerve the purity of Gods Ordinances, and nonconformity to the contrary injunctions of men, have a good warrant to bear them out in all ſuch Sufferings; Deut. 4. 2. Ye ſhall not add unto the word which I command you, neither ſhall you diminiſh ought from it, that ye may keep the Commandments of the Lord your God, which I command you, &c.

Q. 11. What's the third Inſtruction from the ſecond Commandment?

A. That it is higly ſinful and dangerous to innovate and preſcribe by Humane Authority, ſuch ſymbolical Rites in the Worſhip of God, as he never appointed or allowed in his Word, Matth. 15. 9. But in vain do they worſhip me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men.

Q. 12. What's the fourth Inſtruction hence?

A. Hence we learn how much Parents and Children are obliged to worſhip God conſtantly, ſpiritually, and agreeably to his Will revealed in his Word, otherwiſe the jealouſie of God will viſit them both in the way of Judgment. For as Obedience entails a Bleſſing, ſo Diſobedience entails a Curſe on Poſterity, Exod. 34. 14. For thou ſhalt worſhip no other God; for the Lord, whoſe name is jealous, is a jealous God.

Of the third Commandment.

Queſt. 53. Which is the third Commandment?

A. The third Commandment is, [Thou ſhalt not take the Name of the Lord thy God in vain; for the Lord will not hold him guiltleſs, that taketh his Name in vain.]

Queſt. 54. What is required in the third Commandment?

A. The third Commandment requireth the holy and reverend uſe of Gods Names, Titles, Attributes, Ordinances, Word and Works.

Queſt 55. What is forbidden in the third Commandment?

A. The third Commandment forbiddeth all profaning or abuſing of any thing, whereby God maketh himſelf known.

Queſt. 56. What is the Reaſon annexed to the Third Commandment?

A. The Reaſon annexed to the third Commandment is, that however the breakers of this Commandment may eſcape puniſhment from men, yet the Lord our God will not ſuffer them to eſcape his Righteous Judgment.

Q. 1. How doth this Commandment differ from the firſt and ſecond?

A. The firſt hath reſpect to the object of Worſhip, forbidding us to worſhip any other but God. The ſecond reſpects the means of Worſhip, forbidding us to worſhip God by any other means than what he hath preſcribed. But the third reſpects the manner of his Worſhip, forbidding all careleſs or profane uſe of his Name, and commanding an holy reverence from us in all our ſolemn addreſſes to him, or ordinary mention of his Name. Mal 1. 6. A ſon honoureth his father, and a ſervant his Maſter: If I then be a father, where is mine honour? and if I be a maſter, where is my fear? ſaith the Lord of hoſts unto you, O Prieſts, that deſpiſe my name: And ye ſay, wherein have we deſpiſed thy name?

Q. 2. What is the firſt thing eſpecially required in the third Commandment?

A. It requires the moſt aweful and reverential frame of our hearts in all our approaches to God? Pſal. 89. 7. God is greatly to be feared in the aſſembly of the ſaints; and to be had in reverence of all them that are about him. And in his Worſhip, Joh. 4. 24. God is a ſpirit; and they that worſhip him, muſt worſhip him in ſpirit and in truth.

Q. 3. What's the ſecond thing required in this Commandment?

A. It requires truth in our witneſs-bearing, as knowing God ſeeth our heartes, and is witneſs to all that we think or ſpeak; Zech. 5. 4. I will bring it forth, ſaith the Lord of hoſts, and it ſhall enter into the houſe of the thief, and into the houſe of him that ſweareth falſly by my name, &c.

Q. 4. What's the third thing required in this Commandment?

A. That in all our Appeals to God in ſecret or doubtful matters, we be ſure that the Appeal be neceſſary, aweful and true: Jer 17. 16. As for me, I have not haſtened from being a paſtour to follow thee, neither have I deſired the woful day, thou knoweſt: that which came out of my lips was right before thee. Pſal. 139. 23, 24. Search me, O God, and know my heart: try me, and know my thoughts. And ſee if there be any wicked way in me; and lead me in the way everlaſting.

Q. 5. What doth this Commandment eſpecially forbid?

A. It forbids and condemns all profane Oaths as moſt injurious to the Name of God. Mat. 5. 34, 37. ---Swear not at all, neither by heaven for it is Gods throne, &c. but let your communication be yea, yea, nay, nay,; for whatſoever is more than theſe, cometh of evil.

Q. 6. What is the danger of profane or falſe Swearing!

A. Such are reckoned Enemies to God, Pſal. 139. 20. ---Thine enemies take thy name in vain. The Curſe of God enters into ſuch Families, Zech. 5. 4. I will bring it forth, ſaith the Lord of hoſts, and it ſhall enter into the houſe of the chief, and into the houſe of him that ſweareth falſly by my name, &c. And the Lord will not hold them guiltleſs.

Q. 7. What elſe is forbidden in this Commandment?

A. It forbids and condemns all heedleſs, wandering, and drowſie performance of Gods Worſhip: Iſa. 29. 13, 14. Wherefore the Lord ſaid, foraſmuch as this people drew near me with their mouth, and with their lips do honour me, but have removed their heart far from me, and their fear towards me is taught by the precept of men: Therefore, behold, I will proceed to do a marvellous work amongſt this people, even a marvellous work and a wonder: for the wiſdom of their wiſe men ſhall periſh, and the underſtanding of their prudent men ſhall be hid. And 2 Kings 10. 31. But Jehu took no heed to walk in the law of the Lord God of Iſrael, with all his heart: for he departed not from the ſins of Jeroboam, which made Iſrael to ſin?

Q. 8. What other ſin is forbidden in this Command?

A. It forbids all light and irreverent uſe of the Scriptures, eſpecially in our jeſts, or by way of ſcoffing. Jer. 17. 15. Behold, they ſay unto me, where is the word of the Lord? let it come now, Jer. 6. 10. ---Behold the word of the Lord is unto them a reproach: they have no delight in it.

Q. 9. By what Argument doth God enforce the third Commandment on men?

A. That the breakers of this Command ſhall ſurely be puniſhed by the Lord, either in this life, Deut. 28. 58, 59. If thou wilt not obſerve to do all the words of this law, that are written in this book, that thou mayſt fear this glorious and fearful name, The Lord thy God: Then the Lord will make thy plagues wonderful, and the plagues of thy ſeed, even great plagues, and of long continuance, and ſore ſickneſs, and of long continuance: Or in that to come, Rom. 2. 5. But after thy hardneſs and impenitent heart, treaſureſt up unto thy ſelf wrath againſt the day of wrath, and revelation of the righteous judgment of God: Except they repent and reform.

Q. 10. What's the firſt Inſtruction from the third Commandment?

A. That great and infinite is the Patience of God in forbearing provoking Sinners ſo long as he doth; Rom. 9. 22. What if God willing to ſhew his wrath, and to make his power known, endured with much long-ſuffering the veſſels of wrath fitted to deſtruction?

Q. 11. What's the ſecond Inſtruction from hence?

A. That God is to be juſtified in the ſevereſt of his Judgments, by which at any time he manifeſts his diſpleaſure againſt the profaneneſs of the World. Hoſ. 4. 1, 2, 3. Hear the word of the Lord, ye children of Iſrael: for the Lord hath a controverſie with the inhabitants of the land, becauſe there is no truth, nor mercy, nor knowledge of God in the land. By ſwearing, and lying, and killing, and ſtealing, and committing adultery, they break out, and blood toucheth blood. Therefore ſhall the land mourn, and every one that dwelleth therein ſhall languiſh, with the beaſts of the field, and with the fowls of heaven, yea the fiſhes of the ſea alſo ſhall be taken away.

Q. 12. What's the third Inſtruction from hence?

A. That God takes ſpecial notice of, and greatly delighteth in them that fear and reverence his Name; Iſa. 66. 5. Hear the word of the Lord, ye that tremble at his word: Your brethren that hated you, that caſt you out for my names ſake, ſaid, let the Lord be glorified; but he ſhall appear to your joy, and they ſhall be aſhamed. Mal. 3. 16. ---And a book of remembrance was written before him, for them that feared the Lord, and that thought upon his name.

Q. 13. What's the laſt Inference from hence?

A. That thoſe Parents have much to anſwer for, that by their Examples teach, or by their Negligence encourage their Children to profane Gods Name. Jer. 5. 7. How ſhall I pardon thee for this? Thy children have forſaken me, and ſworn by them that are no Gods, &c.

Of the Sabbath.

Queſt 57. Which is the fourth Commandment?

A. The fourth Commandment is, [Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy: Six days ſhalt thou labour, and do all thy work; but the ſeventh day is the Sabbath of the Lord thy God; in it thou ſhalt not do any work, thou, nor thy Son, nor thy Daughter, thy Man-ſervant, nor thy Maid-ſervant, nor thy Cattle, nor thy Stranger which is within thy Gates: For in ſix dayes the Lord made Heaven and Earth, the Sea, and all that in them is, and reſted the ſeventh day, wherefore the Lord bleſſed the Sabbath day, and hallowed it.]

Queſt. 58. What is required in the fourth Commandment?

A. The fourth Commandment requireth the keeping holy to God, ſuch ſet time as he hath appointed in his Word, expreſly one whole day in ſeven, to be an holy Sabbath unto the Lord.

Queſt 59. Which day of the ſeven hath God appointed to be the weekly Sabbath?

A. From the beginning of the World to the Reſurrection of Chriſt, God hath appointed the ſeventh day of the week to be the weekly Sabbath; and the firſt day of the week ever ſince, to continue to the end of the World, which is the Chriſtian Sabbath.

Q. 1. What ſpecial marks of honour hath God ſet upon this fourth Commandment?

A. God hath ſet four peculiar marks of honour on it.

(1.) It is the largeſt of all the Commands.

(2.) It hath a ſolemn Memento prefixed to it.

(3.) It is delivered both poſitively and negatively, which the reſt are not. And,

(4.) It is enforced with more Arguments to ſtrengthen the Command on us, than any other.

Q. 2. Why will God have a Sabbath obſerved on Earth?

A. God will have a Sabbath on Earth, to give us therein an Emblem of that Eternal Sabbath in Heaven, wherein his people ſhall be ſerving him and praiſing him without interruption, or mixture of any other buſineſs throughout Eternity;

Heb. 4. 9. There remaineth therefore a reſt to the people of God.

Q. 3. For what other Reaſons will God have a Sabbath?

A. He will have a Sabbath for the honour of his name, Iſa. 58. 13 If thou turn away thy foot from the ſabbath, from doing thy pleaſure on my holy day, and call the ſabbath a delight, the holy of the Lord, honourable, and ſhalt honour him, not doing thine own ways, nor finding thine own pleaſure, nor ſpeaking thine own words. For the good of Mens Souls; Mark 2. 27. And he ſaid unto them, the ſabbath was made for man, not man for the ſabbath. And in mercy to the Bodies of Men and Beaſts.

Q. 4. Is this Commandment Moral and Perpetual, or Ceremonial and Temporary?

A. It is, and muſt needs be Moral, and not Ceremonial; becauſe all the Reaſons that enforce it, are perpetual, and the Sabbath continued, when the Ceremonial Law ceaſed, and was vaniſhed; Mat. 24. 20. But pray ye, that your flight be not in the winter, neither on the ſabbath day.

Q. 5. What day of the ſeven is the Chriſtian Sabbath?

A. The firſt day of the Week is our Sabbath, ſince the Reſurrection of Chriſt. This is the day which was foretold to be our Sabbath; Pſal. 118. 24. This is the day which the Lord hath made; we will rejoyce and be glad in it. The Lord hath marked it for himſelf by ſetting his own Name on it; Rev. 1. 10. I was in the Spirit on the Lord's day. And the Apoſtles and Primitive Church conſtantly ſet it apart to Religious uſes and ends; Acts 20. 7. And upon the firſt day of the week, when the diſciples came together to break bread, Paul preached unto them, &c. 1 Cor. 16. 2. Upon the firſt day of the week, let every one of you lay by him in ſtore, as God hath proſpered him, that there be no gatherings when I come.

Q. 6. When doth the Chriſtian Sabbath begin?

A. It appears that this day is not to be reckoned from evening to evening, but from morning to morning; becauſe the Chriſtian Sabbath muſt begin, when the Jewiſh Sabbath ended, but that ended towards the morning; Mat. 28. 1. In the end of the ſabbath, as it began to dawn, towards the firſt day of the week, came Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary to ſee the ſepulchre.

Q. 7. What is the ground of changing the day?

A. The ſolemn commemoration of our Redemption by the Reſurrection of Chriſt from the dead, is the ground of tranſlating the Sabbath from the ſeventh to the firſt day of the Week; Pſal. 118. 24. This is the day which the Lord hath made; we will rejoyce, and be glad in it. Mark 16. 9. Now when Jeſus was riſen early the firſt day of the week, he appeared firſt to Mary Magdalene, out of whom he had caſt ſeven devils.

Q. 8. Is it the whole day, or only ſome hours of the day that are ſet apart for God?

A. Not a part, but the whole day is the Lords; and it is as dangerous to halve it with God in point of time, as it was for Annanias and Sapphira to halve their dedicated Goods, and bring in but a part. Remember that thou keep holy the ſabbath day, is the Command.

Q. 9 Is there any other day holy beſides this?

A. No day but this is holy by Inſtitution of the Lord; yet days of Humiliation and Thankſgiving may be lawfully ſet apart by men on a Call of Providence; but Popiſh Holy dayes are not warrantable, nor to be obſerved; Gal. 4. 10. Ye obſerve dayes, and months, and times, and years.

Q. 10. But ſeeing every day ſhould be a Sabbath to a Chriſtian, what needs any other ſet time?

A. Though Chriſtians muſt walk every day with God, yet every day cannot be a Sabbath, becauſe God calls us to other Duties on thoſe dayes, but will have this to be a ſolemn and entire day to himſelf.

Q. 11. But if a man ſcruple the change of the Sabbath, may he not keep both dayes weekly?

A. No; for then by doing more than God requires, he breaks a plain Command, Six days ſhalt thou labour.

Q. 12. At what time ſhould Chriſtians be up, and at their Duties on the Lords day?

A. As early in the morning as their ſtrength will permit, to prepare by private for publick Duties; yet the publick are not to be entrenched on by private Duties; Acts 10. 33. ---Now therefore are we all here preſent before God, to hear all things that are commanded thee of God.

Of the Sabbath.

Queſt. 60. HOw is the Sabbath to be Sanctified?

A. The Sabbath is to be Sanctified by an holy reſting all that day, even from ſuch worldly employments and recreations as are lawful on other days, and ſpending the whole time in the publick and private exerciſes of Gods Worſhip, except ſo much as is to be taken up in the works of neceſſity and mercy.

Queſt. 61. What are the Sins forbidden in the fourth Commandment?

A. The fourth Commandment forbiddeth the omiſſion or careleſs performance of the Duties required, and the profaning the day by Idleneſs, or doing that which is in it ſelf ſinful, or by unneceſſary thoughts, words or works, about our worldly employments or recreations.

Queſt. 62 What are the Reaſons annexed to the fourth Commandment?

A. The Reaſons annexed to the fourth Commandment are, Gods allowing us ſix dayes of the week for our own employment, his challenging a ſpecial propriety in the ſeventh, his own example, and his bleſſing the Sabbath day.

Q. 1. What is the Reſt which God requires on the Sabbath?

A. It is not a meer natural or civil, but an holy reſt, reſembling the reſt in Heaven, wherein the Mind is moſt active and buſie in the work of God, though the Body be at reſt, and the Spirit not wearied with its work; Rev. 4. 8. And the four beaſts had each of them ſix wings about him, and they were full of eyes within, and they reſt not day and night, ſaying, holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty, which was, and is, and is to come.

Q. 2. May not any works of our civil Calling be ordinarily done on that day?

A. No; it is ſinful to put our hands ordinarly to our Callings on that day, and God uſually puniſhes it; Neh. 13. 15, 16, 17, 18. In thoſe days ſaw I in Judah, ſome treading wine-preſſes on the ſabbath, and bringing in ſheaves, and lading aſſes, as alſo wine, grapes, and figs, and all manner of burdens, which they brought into Jeruſalem on the ſabbath day; and I teſtified againſt them in the day wherein they ſold victuals. There dwelt men of Tyre alſo therein, which brought fiſh and all manner of ware, and ſold on the ſabbath, unto the children of Judah, and in Jeruſalem. Then I contended with the nobles of Judah, and ſaid unto them, What evil thing is this that ye do, and profane the ſabbath day? Did not your fathers thus, and did not our God bring all this evil upon us, and upon this city? yet ye bring more wrath upon Iſrael by profaning the ſabbath.

Q. 3. May we not refreſh our Bodies by Recreations, or our Minds by thoughts of Earthly Buſineſs or Diſcourſes on that day?

A. Recreations of the Body which are lawful on other days, are ſinful on this day; and all the Recreations of the Mind allowed on this day, are Spiritual and Heavenly; Iſa. 58. 13, 14. If thou turn away thy foot from the ſabbath, from doing thy pleaſure on my holy day, and call the ſabbath a delight, the holy of the Lord, honourable, and ſhalt honour him, not doing thine own ways, nor finding thine own pleaſure, nor ſpeaking thine own words: Then ſhalt thou delight thy ſelf in the Lord, and I will cauſe thee to ride upon the high places of the earth, and feed thee with the heritage of Jacob thy father; for the mouth of the Lord hath ſpoken it.

Q. 4. What works may lawfully be done on that day?

A. Chriſts example warrants works of neceſſity, and works of mercy, but no other, Mat. 12. 3, 4. But he ſaid unto them, have ye not read what David did, when he was an hungred, and they that were with him, How he entered into the houſe of God, and did eat the ſhew-bread, which was not lawful for him to eat, neither for them which were with him, but only for the prieſts. And ver. 7. But if ye had known what this meaneth, I will have mercy, and not ſacrifice, &c.

Q. 5. What are the holy Duties of the Sabbath?

A. The Publick Worſhip of God in reading and hearing the Word Preached; Iſa. 66. 23. And it ſhall come to paſs that from one new moon to another, and from one ſabbath to another, ſhall all fleſh come to worſhip before me, ſaith the Lord. Luke 4. 16. ---And as his cuſtom was, he went into the ſynagogue on the ſabbath day, and ſtood up for to read. And Prayer; Acts 16. 13, 14. And on the ſabbath day we went out of the city by a river ſide, where prayer was wont to be made, &c. And receiving the Sacrament; Acts 20. 7. And upon the firſt day of the week, when the diſciples came together to break bread, Paul preached unto them, &c.

Q. 6. Are private Duties in our Families required, as well as publick on the Sabbath?

A. Yes; it is not enough to ſanctifie the Sabbath in publick Ordinances, but God requires it to be ſanctified in Family and private Duties; Lev. 23. 3. ---But the ſeventh day is the ſabbath of reſt, an holy convocation, ye ſhall do no work therein: it is the ſabbath of the Lord in all your dwellings.

Q. 7. With what frame of Spirit are all Sabbath duties, both publick and private to be performed?

A. They are to be performed with Spiritual delight; Iſa. 58. 13. If thou turn away thy foot from the ſabbath, from doing thy pleaſure on my holy day, and call the ſabbath a delight, &c. And all grudging at, and wearineſs of Spiritual exerciſes is a ſin forbidden; Mal. 1. 13. Ye ſaid alſo, behold what a wearineſs is it, and ye have ſnuffed at it ſaith the Lord of hoſts, and ye brought that which was torn, and the lame, and the ſick: thus ye brought an offering; ſhould I accept this of your hand ſaith the Lord? Amos 8. 5. When will the new moon be gone that we may ſell corn? and the ſabbath that we may ſet forth wheat? &c.

Q. 8. What is the firſt Reaſon annexed to this Command?

A. The firſt Reaſon is the ſufficient and large allowance of time God hath given us for our civil Callings and earthly buſineſs. Six days in the week is a large allowance.

Q. 9. What is the ſecond Reaſon annexed to this fourth Command?

A. The ſecond Reaſon is God's ſanctifying and ſeparating this day by a ſpecial Command and Inſtitution for his ſervice; ſo that to profane this time is to ſin againſt an expreſs Divine Statute.

Q. 10. What's the third Reaſon annexed to this Command?

A. The third Reaſon is God's own Example, who reſted the ſeventh day from all his works, and bleſſed this day, by vertue of which Bleſſing we are encouraged to ſanctifie it.

Q. 11. Is it not enough to ſanctifie this day in our own perſons?

A. No; if God hath put any under our Authority, their profaning the Sabbath will become our ſin, though we be never ſo ſtrict in the obſervation of it our ſelves.

Q. 12. May we continue our civil Employments to the laſt moment of our common time?

A. Except Neceſſity or Mercy urge us, we ought to break off before, and allow ſome time to prepare for the Sabbath; Luke 23. 54. And that day was the preparation, and the ſabbath drew on.

Q. 13. What is the firſt Inference from hence?

A. That we have all great cauſe to be humbled for our Sabbath Tranſgreſſions, either in our unpreparedneſs for it, our want of delight and ſpirituality in it, or the due government of our Families, as God requires.

Q. 14. What is the ſecond Inference from hence?

A. That Chriſtians on the Sabbath day have a fair occaſion and help to reallize to themſelves the Heavenly ſtate, in which they are to live abſtract from the World, and God is to be all in all to them.

Of the fifth Commandment.

Queſt. 63. Which is the fifth Commandment?

A. The fifth Commandment is, [Honour thy Father and thy Mother, that thy days may be long in the Land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.]

Q. 64. What is required in the fifth Commandment?

A. The fifth Commandment requireth the preſerving the Honour, and performing the Duties belonging to every one in their ſeveral places and relations, as ſuperiors, inferiors, or equals.

Queſt. 65. What is forbidden in the fifth Commandment?

A. The fifth Commandment forbiddet the neglecting of, or doing any thing again the honour and duty which belongeth to e very one in their ſeveral places and relation

Queſt. 66. What is the Reaſon annexe to the fifth Commandment?

A. The Reaſon annexed to the fifth Com mandment is, a promiſe of long life and pro ſperit

ſperity (as far as it ſhall ſerve for Gods glory, and their own good) to all ſuch as keep this Commandment.

Q. 1. What Relatives are directly and more eſpecially concerned in this fifth Commandment ?

A. All Superiours and Inferiours are concerned in it. Eſpecially (1) Political Fathers and their Children; that is, Kings and Subjects: Mark 11. 10. Bleſſed be the kingdom of our father David, &c. (2.) Spiritual Fathers and their Children; that is, Miniſters and their People: 1 Cor. 4 15. For though you have ten thouſand inſtructers in Chriſt, yet have ye not many fathers, for in Chriſt Jeſus I have begotten you through the goſpel. (3.) Natural Parents and their Children; Epheſ. 6. 1. Children obey your parents in the Lord. (4.) All Civil Superiours and Inferiours, as Husbands and Wives, Maſters and Servants; Epheſ. 5. 22.. Wives ſubmit your ſelves unto your own husbands, as unto the Lord. And Epheſ. 6. 5. Servants be obedient to them are your maſters accordings to the fleſh, &c.

Q. 2. What is the Duty of Political Fathers or Magiſtrates, to their Political Children or Subjects ?

A. It is to rule and govern the people over whom God hath ſet them with Wiſdom; 2 Chron. 1. 10. Give me now wiſdom and knowledge, that I may go out and come in before this people. Juſtice, 2 Chron. 16. 5. 6, 7. And he ſet judges in the land, throughout all the fenced cities of Judah, city by city. And he ſaid to the judges, Take heed what ye do; for ye judge not for man, but for the Lord, who is with you in the judgment. Wherefore now let the fear of the Lord be upon you, take heed and do it, &c. And Piety, 2 Sam. 23. 3. ---He that ruleth over men muſt be juſt, ruling in the fear of God. Carefully providing for their Souls in every place of their dominion; 2 Chron. 17. 9. And they taught in Judah, and had the book of the law of the Lord with them, and went about throughout all the cities of Judah, and taught the people. And for their common outward peace and ſafety? 2 Chron. 17. 12.. And Jehoſhaphat waxed great exceedingly, and he built in Judah caſtles and cities of ſtore.

Q. 3. What are the Duties of Subjects to their Rulers ?

A. It is to pray for them: 1 Tim. 2. 1, 2. I exhort therefore, that firſt of all ſupplications, prayers, interceſſions, and giving of thanks be made for all men: For kings, and for all that are in authority, &c. To honour them, 1 Pet. 2. 17. ---Fear God, honour the King. To obey their juſt Laws, Rom. 13. 1. Let every ſoul be ſubject unto the higher powers, &c. And to pay them the Tribute that is due to them, Rom. 13. 7. Render therefore to all their dues, tribute to whom tribute is due, cuſtom to whom cuſtom, &c.

Q. 4. What are the Duties of Miniſters to their people. ?

A. Their Duty is, (1) To feed their flock conſtantly with wholeſom food, 2 Tim. 4. 2. Preach the word, be inſtant in ſeaſon, and out of ſeaſon, rebuke, reprove, exhort, with all long-ſuffering and doctrine. (2.) To be full of bowels of tender Affection to them, 1 Theſſ. 2. 7, 8. But we were gentle, among you, even as a nurſe cheriſheth her children: So being affectionately deſirous of you, we were willing to have imparted unto you, not the Goſpel of God only, but alſo our own ſouls, becauſe ye were dear unto us, (3.) To pray for them, Eph 1. 15, 16. Wherefore I alſo, after I heard of your faith in the Lord Jeſus, and love unto all the ſaints, Ceaſe not to give thanks for you, making mention of you in my prayers. (4.) To watch over them, 1 Pet. 5. 2. Feed the flock of God which is among you, taking the overſight thereof not by conſtraint, but willingly, &c. And (5.) To walk as an Example of Godlineſs before them, Tit. 2. 7. In all things ſhewing thy ſelf a pattern of good works, &c. All which Duties require their reſidence among them, 1 Pet. 5. 2 Feed the flock of God which is among you, &c.

Q. 5. What are the peoples Duties towards their Miniſters ?

A. Their Duty, is, (1.) To eſteem and love them dearly for their works ſake, 1 Theſ. 5. 12, 13. And we beſeech you, Brethren, to know them which labour among you, and are over you in the Lord and admoniſh you; and to eſteem them very highly in love for their works ſake. (2.) To attend on the Word preached by them, as the Word of God, 1 Theſſ. 2. 13. For this cauſe alſo thank we God without ceaſing, becauſe when ye received the word of God, which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but (as it is in truth) the word of God. (3) To pray for them and the ſucceſs of their labours, Heb. 13. 18. Pray for us, &c. (4.) Not to receive light and malicious reports againſt them. 1 Tim. 5. 19. Againſt an elder receive not an accuſation but before two or three witneſſes. (5.) To make a competent and comfortable proviſion for them, Gal. 6. 6. Let him that is taught in the word, communicate unto him that teacheth, in all good things.

Q. 6. What are the Duties of Natural Parents to their Children ?

A. It is their Duty, (1.) To be tenderly, but not fondly affectionate to, and tender over them, Iſa. 40. 15. Can a woman forget her ſucking child, that ſhe ſhould not have compaſſion on the ſon of her womb? (2) To educate them for God, Epheſ. 6. 4. And ye fathers provoke not your children to wrath, but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord. (3.) To reſtrain their Sins by Correction, Prov. 29. 15. The rod and reproof give wiſdom, but a child left to himſelf, bringeth his mother to ſhame. (4.) To provide for their livelyhood, 1 Tim. 5. 8. But if any provide not for his own, and eſpecially for thoſe of his own houſe, he hath denied the faith, and is worſe than an infidel. (5.) To pray dayly for them, Job 1. 5. And it was ſo when the days of their feaſting were gone about, that Job ſent and ſanctified them, and roſe up early in the Morning, and offered burnt-offerings according to the number of them all: For Job ſaid, it may be that my ſons have ſinned, and curſed God in their hearts: Thus did Job continually. (6.) To encourage them with endearing language in the way of Godlineſs, Prov. 31. 1, 2, 3. The words of King Lemuel, the propheſie that his mother taught him. What, my ſon! and what the ſon of my womb! and what the ſon of my vows! Give not thy ſtrength unto women, nor thy wayes to that which deſtroyeth Kings.

Q. 7. What are the Duties of Children to Parents ?

A. Their Duty is, (1.) To obey them only in the Lord, Eph. 6. 1. Children obey your parents in the Lord. (2.) To reverence and honour them, Levit. 19. 3. Ye ſhall fear every man his mother and his father, &c. (3) To ſubmit to their Reproofs and Corrections, Heb. 12. 9. Furthermore we have had fathers of our fleſh, which corrected us, and we gave them reverence. (4.) To provide for them, if they be poor and needy, and we have ability, Gen. 47. 12. And Joſeph nouriſhed his father and his brethren, thren, and all his fathers houſhold with bread, according to their families.

Q. 8. What ſhall Children do, when Parents abuſe their Authority, by forbidding Duty or commanding Sin?

A. In ſuch caſes Children are to obey God rather than their Parents, Acts 4. 19. But Peter and John anſwered, and ſaid unto them, Whether it be right in the ſight of God, to hearken unto you, more than unto God, judge ye. But yet to manage their refuſals of Obedience with all Meekneſs and Humility.

Q. 9. What is the firſt duty of Husbands to their Wives?

A. The firſt Duty, on which all other Duties depend, is cohabitation with them, 1 Pet. 3. 7. Likewiſe ye husbands, dwell with them according to knowledge, &c. And nothing can make this Duty void, but a lawful divorce for Adultery, Matth. 5. 31, 32. ---But I ſay unto you, that whoſoever ſhall put away his wife, ſaving for the cauſe of fornication, cauſeth her to commit adultery, &c.

Q. 10. What's the Husbands ſecond Duty to his Wife?

A. True and hearty love to Soul and Body, Eph. 5. 25. Husbands love your wives, even as Chriſt alſo loved the church, and gave himſelf for it. Evidencing it ſelf in careful proviſion for them. 2 Cor. 7. 33. But he that is married, careth for the things of the world, how he may pleaſe his wife. But eſpecially to their Souls in winning them to Chriſt, 1 Cor. 7. 16. ---Or how knoweſt thou, O man, whether thou ſhalt ſave thy wife? And building them up in Chriſt, 1 Pet. 3. 7. Likewiſe, ye husbands, dwell with them according to knowledge, giving honour unto the wife, as unto the weaker veſſel, and as being heirs together of the grace of life, that your prayers be not hindred.

Q. 11. What are the Duties of Wives to their Husbands?

A. 'Tis their Duty, (1.) To be in ſubjection to their own Husbands; Eph. 5. 22, 23. VVives ſubmit your ſelves unto your own husbands, as unto the Lord: For the husband is the head of the wife, even as Chriſt is the head of the Church. (2.) To reverence them; Eph. 5. 33. ---And the wife ſee that ſhe reverence her husband. (3.) To expreſs their Reverence in ſuitable Words and Actions; 1 Pet. 3. 6. Even as Sarah obeyed Abraham, calling him, Lord, &c. (4.) To be faithful to them; Prov. 31. 12. She will do him good and not evil, all the dayes of her life. (5.) To adorn their Relation with meekneſs and quietneſs of Spirit; 1 Pet. 3. 4. But let it be the hidden man of the heart in that which is not corruptible, even the ornament of a meek and quiet ſpirit, which is in the ſight of God of great price.

Q. 12. What are the Duties of Servants to their Maſters?

A. 'Tis their Duty, (1.) To be faithful in all things committed to their charge; Tit. 2. 10. Not purloining, but ſhewing all good fidelity, &c. (2.) To honour them in all reſpectful Words and Carriages; 1 Tim. 6. 1. Let as many ſervants as are under the yoke, count their own maſters worthy of all honour, &c. (3.) To bear patiently their rebukes; 1 Pet. 2. 18, 19. Servants, be ſubject to your maſters with all fear; not only to the good and gentle, but alſo to the froward. For this is thank-worthy, if a man for conſcience toward God, endure grief, ſuffering wrongfully.

Q. 13. What is the Firſt Duty of Maſters to their Servants?

A. Their firſt Duty is to rule over them with gentleneſs, and not with terrour and rigour; Eph. 6. 9. And ye maſters, do the ſame things unto them, forbearing threatning: Knowing that your maſter alſo is in heaven, neither is there reſpect of perſons with him.

Q. 14. What's the ſecond Duty of Maſters to their Servants?

A. To pay them their Wages fully and without delay; Deut. 24. 14, 15. Thou ſhalt not oppreſs an hired ſervant that is poor and needy, whether he be of thy brethren, or of thy ſtrangers that are in thy land within thy gates. At his day thou ſhalt give him his hire, neither ſhall the ſun go down upon it, for he is poor, and ſetteth his heart upon it; leaſt he cry againſt thee unto the Lord, and it be ſin unto thee. And to provide Food for them convenient; Prov. 27. 27. And thou ſhalt have goats-milk enough for thy food, for the food of thy houſhold, and for the maintenance for thy Maidens.

Q. 15. What's the third Duty of Maſters to their Servants?

A. The third and principal Duty is to engage them as much as in them lies, to the wayes of God, and Duties of Religion, as Abraham did, Gen. 18. 19. For I know him that he will command his children, and his houſhold after him, and they ſhall keep the way of the Lord, &c. And Joſhua, Joſh. 24. 15. ---But as for me and my houſe, we will ſerve the Lord.

Of the ſixth Commandment.

Queſt. 67. Which is the ſixth Commandment?

A. The ſixth Commandment is, [Thou ſhalt not kill.]

Queſt. 68. What is required in the ſixth Commandment?

A. The ſixth Commandment requireth all lawful endeavours to preſerve our own life, and the life of others.

Queſt. 69. What is forbidden in the ſixth Commandment?

A. The ſixth Commandment forbiddeth the taking away of our own life, or the life of our Neighbour unjuſtly, or whatſoever tendeth thereunto.

Q. 1. What is the natural order of theſe Commandments in the ſecond Table?

A. In theſe Commands God begins with the neareſt concern of Man, which is Life, Job 2. 4. ---Skin for skin, yea all that a man hath, will he giv for his life. Next to that his Command guards his neareſt Relative, from whom the beſt outward comfort is to riſe, his Wife, Mark 10. 8. And they twain ſhall be one fleſh, &c. After that his good Name, which is very precious to him, Eccleſ. 7. 1. A good name is better than precious oyntment And then his Goods, which ſupport his life, Iſa. 3. 1. For behold, the Lord, the Lord of hoſts, doth take away from Jeruſalem, and from Judah, the ſtay and the ſtaff, the whole ſtay of bread, and the whole ſtay of water.

Q. 2. How far doth this Command extend it ſelf?

A. It prohibits all Cruelty, and commands all Help, Care, and Pity, ſo far as Mens hearts and hands can go, for the relief and preſervation of others, Pſal. 119. 96. ---But thy commandment exceeding broad.

Q. 3. Doth this Command reſpect only the outward action, or alſo the inward paſſion of the Soul?

A. It reſpects and bridles the inward Paſſion of the Soul, as well as outward Actions; as Hatred, 1 John 3. 15. Whoſoever hateth his brother is a murderer, &c. And cauſleſs Anger, Matth. 5. 22. But I ſay unto you, that whoſoever is angry with his brother without a cauſe, ſhall be in danger of the judgment, &c.

Q. 4. Doth this Command only reſpect the lives of others?

A. No, it primarily reſpects our own lives, and forbids us all things that tend to the ſhortening and ruin of them, Eph. 5. 29. For no man ever yet hated his own fleſh, but nouriſheth and cheriſheth it, even as the Lord the church.

Q. 5. How many ways may men ſin againſt this Command, with reſpect to their own lives?

A. A Man ſinneth againſt his own Life, not only by deſtroying himſelf, as the Jaylour would have done. Acts 16. 27. And the keeper of the priſon awaking out of his ſleep, and ſeeing the priſon doors open, he drew out his ſword, and would have killed himſelf ſuppoſing that the priſoners had been fled; But by refuſing Food or Phyſick to preſerve Life, or macerating our Bodies with exceſſive Sorrows, 2 Cor. 7. 10. ---But the ſorrow of the world worketh death, or envy at others felicity: Prov. 14. 30. ---But envy the rottenneſs of the bones.

Q. 6. How are men guilty of murther with reſpect to others?

A. Murther with reſpect to others, may be either with relation to their Bodies; Numb. 35. 30. Whoſo killeth, any perſon, the murtherer ſhall be put to death, &c. Or to their Souls, which is the moſt henious murder in the World? Ezek. 3. 18. When I ſay unto the wicked, thou ſhalt ſurely dye, and thou giveſt him not warning, nor ſpeaketh to warn the wicked from his way to ſave his life; the ſame wicked man ſhall dye in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at thine hand.

Q. 7. Is all deſtruction of anothers Life, murder in the account of God?

A. No, it is not, if the Life of a Perſon be taken away in the courſe of Juſtice, Gen. 9. 6. Whoſo ſheddeth mans blood, by man ſhall his blood be ſhed. Or in a juſt and neceſſary War, Judges 5. 23. Curſe ye Meroz (ſaid the Angel of the Lord) curſe ye bitterly the inhabitants thereof; becauſe they came not to the help of the Lord, to the help of the Lord againſt the mighty. Or by pure Accident, Deut. 19. 5. As when a man goeth into the wood with his neighbour to hew wood, and his hand fetcheth a ſtroke with the axe to cut down the tree, and the head ſlippeth from the helve, and lighteth upon his neighbour that he dye, he ſhall flee unto one of thoſe cities, and live. Or in ſelf defence, Exod. 22. 2. If a thief be found breaking up and be ſmitten that he dye, there ſhall no blood be ſhed for him.

Q. 8. Is there no other way of breaking this Command?

A. Yes, there is: Innocents may be murdered under the forms and ſolemnities both of Juſtice and Religion. So Naboth was murdered by Jezebel. 1 Kings 21. 12. 13. They proclaimed a faſt, and ſet Naboth on high among the people. And there came in two men children of Belial, and ſat before him: And the men of Belial witneſſed againſt him, even againſt Naboth, in the preſence of the people ſaying, Naboth did blaſpheme God and the King. Then they carried him forth out of the city, and ſtoned him with ſtones that he dyed. And the Martyrs by bloody Papiſts. And this ſtrongly proves a day of Judgment. Eccleſ. 3. 16, 17. And moreover, I ſaw under the ſun the place of Judgment, that wickedneſs was there; and the place of rightouſneſs, that iniquity was there. I ſaid in mine heart, God ſhall judge the righteous and the wicked; for there is a time there for every purpoſe, and for every work.

Q. 9. Are Duels forbidden in this Commandment;

A. Yes, they are, for whatever Point of Honour be touched, or whatever Provocation be given, we are not to he our own avengers; Rom. 12. 19. Dealy beloved, avenge not your ſelves, &c.

Q. 10. What's the firſt Inference hence?

A. That we have great cauſe to bleſs God for his protecting Law, and for Humane Laws grounded upon his Law for the protection of our Lives; Rom. 13. 4. ---For he is the miniſter of God, a revenger to execute wrath, upon him that doth evil.

Q. 11. What's the ſecond Inference hence?

A. That all that are guilty of this Sin, have great cauſe to be humbled and afflicted: For it's a crying Sin, Gen. 4. 10. --- The voice of thy brothers blood cryeth unto me from the ground. Yet not to deſpair of Mercy upon true Repentance. Manaſſeth ſhed innocent blood, and yet was pardoned upon Repentance, 2 Kin. 21. 16. Moreover Manaſſeth ſhed innocent blood very much, till he had filled Jeruſalem from one end to another, &c.

Q. 12. What's the third Inference hence?

A. Let all Men watch againſt Pride, Paſſion, Malice and Revenge, the Sin of the Heart, from which this horrid Sin proceeds, Matth. 15. 18, 19. ---For out of the heart proceed evil thoughts, murders, &c.

Of the ſeventh Commandment.

Queſt. 70. Which is the ſeventh Commandment?

A. The ſeventh Commandment. is, [Thou ſhalt not commit Adultery.]

Queſt. 71. What is required in the ſeventh Commandment?

A. The ſeventh Commandment requireth the preſervation of our own and our Neighbours chaſtity in heart, ſpeech, and behaviour.

Queſt. 72. What is forbidden in the ſeventh Commandment?

A. The ſeventh Commandment forbiddeth all unchaſt thoughts, words and actions.

Q. 1. What is the Duty required in this Comandment?

A. The firſt Duty required in this Commandment is, the preſervation of our own Chaſtity in heart, lip, and life; 1 Theſſ. 4. 3, 4. For this is the will of God, even your ſanctification, that ye ſhould abſtain from fornication. That every one of you ſhould know how to poſſeſs his veſſel in ſanctification and honour. And Eph. 4. 29 Let no corrupt communication proceed out of your mouth, &c.

Q. 2. Why muſt we preſerve our own Chaſtity?

A. Becauſe our Bodies are, or ought to be the Temples of the Holy Ghoſt; 1 Cor. 6. 15, 19. Know ye not that your bodies are the members of Chriſt? Shall I then take the members of Chriſt, and make them the members of an harlot? God forbid. What, know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghoſt, which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own? And it is the expreſs charge of God that they be kept pure and clean, 1 Theſſ. 4. 3, 4. For this is the will of God, even your ſanctification, that ye ſhould abſtain from fornication. That every one of you ſhould know how to poſſeſs his veſſel in ſanctification and honour.

Q. 3. What

Q. 3. What is the ſecond Reaſon ?

A. The ſecond Reaſon is, becauſe of the evil of it to our ſelves : As ( 1 ) It injures the Body, 1 Cor. 6. 18. He that committeth fornication, ſinneth againſt his own body. ( 2. ) It levels us with the Heathen, Eph. 4. 17, 19. This I ſay therefore, and teſtifie in the Lord, that ye henceforth walk not as other Gentiles walk, ——Who being paſt feeling, have given themſelves over unto laciviouſneſs, to work all uncleanneſs with greedineſs. ( 3. ) Diſhonours our Names ; Prov. 6. 32, 33. But whoſo committeth adultery with a woman, —— a wound and diſhonour ſhall he get, &c. ( 4. ) Scatters our Eſtates, Prov. 5. 10. Leſt ſtrangers be filled with thy wealth, and thy labours be in the houſe of ſtrangers. ( 5. ) Deſtroyeth the Soul ; Prov. 6. 32. —— He that doth it, deſtroyeth his own ſoul.

Q. 4. What Age is moſt incident to this Sin ?

A. The Youthful Age is moſt apt to be drawn into this Sin ; Prov. 7. 7. And behold among the ſimple ones, I diſcerned among the youths, a young man void of underſtanding. And 2 Tim. 2. 22. Flee alſo youthful luſts, &c.

Q. 5. How far doth this Command extend it ſelf ?

A. It extends it ſelf to the Heart, Mind and Fancy, as well as to the Body and external Actions, Matth. 5. 28. But I ſay unto you, that whoſoever looketh on a woman, to luſt after her, hath committed adultery with her already in his heart.

Q. 6. What are the uſual inducements to this Sin ?

A. The uſual inducements to this Sin are, ( 1. ) Idleneſs and fulneſs of the Creatures, Ezek. 16. 49, 50. Behold, this was the iniquity of thy ſiſter Sodom ; Pride, fulneſs of bread, and abundance of idleneſs was in her, and in her daughters, &c. ( 2. ) Wanton Geſtures, Iſa. 3. 16. Moreover, the Lord ſaith, becauſe the daughters of Zion are haughty, and walk with ſtretched forth necks, and wanton eyes, walking and mincing as they go, and making a tinkling with their feet. ( 3. ) Filthy Communication, Eph. 5. 4. Neither filthineſs, nor fooliſh talking, nor jeſting, which are not convenient, &c.

Q. 7. What's the firſt Remedy againſt this ſin ;

A. The firſt Remedy, and the moſt effectual is, to get the Spirit of God within us, to ſanctifie and rule us, Gal. 5. 16. ——Walk in the Spirit, and ye ſhall not fulfil the luſts of the fleſh.

Q. 8. What is the ſecond Remedy ?

A. The keeping of a ſtrict watch over the Heart, Prov. 4. 23. Keep thy heart with all diligence, &c. And over the external Senſes, Job. 31. 1. I made a covenant with mine eyes ; why then ſhould I think upon a maid ?

Q. 9. What's the third Remedy againſt it.

A. Deep and ſerious conſideration of the danger of this Sin, and what God threatens againſt Adulterers, Heb. 13. 4 ——Whoremongers and adulterers God will judge. 1 Cor. 6. 9, 10. —— Be not deceived, neither fornicators, nor idolators, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, —— ſhall inherits the Kingdom of God. And how he deſcribes them, Prov. 22. 14. The mouth of a ſtrange woman is a deep pit ; he that is abhorred of the Lord ſhall fall therein.

Q. 10. What's the fourth Remedy againſt it ?

A. Prayer, Pſal. 119. 37. Turn away mine eyes from beholding vanity, &c. And to evidence our ſincerity in Prayer, we muſt ſtudy to ſhun all occaſions of this Sin, Pſal. 18. 23. I was alſo upright before him : and I kept my ſelf from mine iniquity.

Q. 11. What is the firſt Inference from hence ?

A. What cauſe thoſe have to bleſs God, that have been kept from this Sin ; though the beſt ought to be humbled for their pollutions,

Q. 12. What's the ſecond Inference from hence ?

A. Let it warn Parents to do what in them lyes to prevent the ruin of their Children by this Sin, ( 1. ) By filling their heads and hands with lawful buſineſs. ( 2. ) By ſerious Admonitions and Prayers for them. ( 3. ) By keeping them from vain and tempting Company. ( 4. ) By diſpoſing them ſeaſonably in ſuitable Marriage.

Q. 13. What's the third Inference from hence ?

A. Let thoſe that are defiled with this Sin, repent ſeriouſly of it, as David did, Pſal. 51. 8. Make me to hear joy and gladneſs, that the bones which thou haſt broken may rejoyce. And apply the Blood of Chriſt by Faith ; for in ſo doing, it may be pardoned, 1 Cor. 6. 11. And ſuch were ſome of you : but ye are waſhed, but ye are ſanctified, but ye are juſtified in the name of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, and by the ſpirit of our God.

Of the eighth Commandment.

Queſt. 73. Which is the eighth Commandment ?

A. The eighth Commandment is, [ Thou ſhalt not ſteal. ]

Queſt. 74. What is required in the eighth Commandment ?

A. The eighth Commandment requires the lawful procuring and furthering the Wealth, and outward Eſtate of our ſelves and others.

Que

Queſt. 75. What is forbidden in the eighth Commandment ?

A. The eighth Commandment forbiddeth whatſoever doth or may, unjuſtly hinder our own, or our Neighbours Wealth, or outward Eſtate.

Q. 1. What is preſuppoſed in this Commandment.

A. It preſuppoſeth that God hath given every Man a propriety in his Eſtate, and that no Mans Goods are common to others, except by his conſent in times and caſes extraordinary, Acts 2. 44. And all that believed were together, and had all things common.

Q. 2. What is required in this Commandment ?

A. It requires of every Man diligence in a lawful Calling, to get and preſerve an Eſtate for his own and others good, Prov. 13. 11 — He that gathereth by labour, ſhall increaſe. Eph. 4. 28 —— But rather let him labour, working with his hands the thing which is good, that he may have to give to him that needeth.

Q. 3. What elſe is required in this Commandment ?

A. It requires us not only to get and keep the things of the World in a lawful manner, but to to diſtribute and communicate them to thoſe that are in want, and not caſt them into temptations of ſin or inevitable ruin, Iſa. 58. 10. And if thou draw out thy ſoul to the hungry, and ſatisfie the afflicted ſoul: then ſhall thy light riſe in obſcurity, and thy darkneſs be as the noonday. 1 John 3. 17. But whoſo hath this worlds good, and ſeeth his brother hath need and ſhutteth up his bowels of compaſſion from him, how dwelleth the love of God in him ?

Q. 4. What elſe is required is this Commandment ?

A. It requires in every Man a publick Spirit to procure and promote the good and proſperity of others, 1 Cor. 10. 24. Let no man ſeek his own; but every man anothers wealth ?

Q. 5. What elſe is required in this Command ?

A. It requires reſtitution of all Goods unjuſtly gotten, or taken from others, Levit. 6. 4. Then it ſhall be becauſe he hath ſinned and is guilty, that he ſhall reſtore that which he took violently away, or the thing which he hath deceitfully gotten, &c. And the reſtoring of Pawns, and Pledges, when it's due, Ezek. 18. 7. And hath not oppreſſed any, but hath reſtored to the debtor his pledge, &c. Or things loſt, if we can diſcover the true Owners.

Q. 6. What's the firſt Sin forbidden in this Command ?

A. It forbids all couzening and cheating of others in our dealings and civil commerce with them, 1 Theſſ. 4. 6. That no man go beyond and defraud his brother in any matter, &c. Prov. 26. 28. A lying tongue hateth thoſe that are afflicted by it, and a flattering mouth worketh ruin.

Q. 7. What's the ſecond thing forbidden in this Command ?

A. It forbids all exaction and oppreſſion of our Neighbour, by going beyond them, or working on their neceſſities, or detaining their dues; Lev. 25. 14. And if thou ſell ought unto thy neighbour, or buyeſt ought of thy neighbours hand ye ſhall not oppreſs one another. Prov. 24. 28, 29. Be not a witneſs againſt thy neighbour without cauſe: and deceive not with thy lips. Say not, I will do ſo to him, as he hath done to me. I will render to the man according to his work.

Q. 8. What's the third thing forbidden in this Command ?

A. It forbids all unlawful Weights and Meaſures, which is no better than Theft in Gods account, Mic. 6. 10, 11. Are there yet the treaſures of wickedneſs in the houſe of the wicked, and the ſcant meaſure that is abominable ? Shall I count them pure with the wicked ballances, and with the bag of deceitful weights ?

Q. 9. What's the fourth Sin forbidden in this Command ?

A. It forbids all Family frauds by Children, Prov. 28. 24. Whoſo robbeth his father, or his mother, and ſaith, it is no tranſgreſſion, the ſame is the companion of a deſtroyer. Or Servants, Tit. 2. 9, 10. Exhort ſervants to be obedient unto their own Maſters, —— Not purloining, but ſhewing all good fidelity, &c.

Q. 10. What's the fifth thing, forbidden in this Command ?

A. It forbids all tempting of, or encouraging others to defraud thoſe who have any truſt committed to them. Pſal. 50. 18. VVhen thou ſaweſt a thief, then thou conſentedſt with him, Prov. 29. 24. VVhoſo is partner with a thief, hateth his own ſoul, &c.

Q. 11. VVhat's the ſixth thing forbidden in this Command?

A. It forbids the taking away of anothers Goods by open Robbery by Sea or Land, Job 5. 5. —— And the robber ſwalloweth up their ſubſtance. Or clandeſtinely and privately, 1 Pet. 4. 15. But let none of you ſuffer as a murderer, or as a thief, &c.

Q. 12. VVhat is the danger of this Sin?

A. It brings Mens Souls, Bodies and Eſtates under the Curſe of God, Zech. 5. 2, 4. Then ſaid he unto me, This is the curſe that goeth forth over the face of the whole earth: for every one that ſtealeth ſhall be cut off, as on this ſide, according to it: —— I will bring it forth ſaith the Lord of hoſts, and it ſhall enter into the houſe of the thief.

Q. 13. VVhat's the firſt Inſtruction hence?

A. Let all that are guilty of this ſin repent, and reſtore, as they expect Mercy from God, Eph. 4. 28. Let him that ſtole, ſteal no more, &c. Luke 19. 8. And Zacheus ſtood, and ſaid unto the Lord, Behold Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor, and if I have taken away any thing from any man by falſe accuſation I reſtore him four fold.

Q. 14. VVhat's the laſt Inference from hence?

A. To excite all to whom God hath given a competency of the things of the World, that they bleſs God for keeping them from the temptations of this ſin, Prov. 30. 8, 9. —— Give me neither poverty nor riches, feed me with food convenient for me: leſt I be full and deny thee, and ſay, who is the Lord? or leſt I be poor and ſteal, and take the name of my God in vain.

Of the ninth Commandment.

Queſt. 76. Which is the ninth Commandment?

A. The ninth Commandment is, [Thou ſhalt not bear falſe witneſs againſt thy Neighbour.]

Queſt. 77. What is required, in the ninth Commandment?

A. The ninth Commandment requireth, the maintaining and promoting of Truth between man and man, and of our own and our Neighbours good names, eſpecially in witneſs-bearing.

Queſt 78. What is forbidden in the ninth Commandment?

A. The ninth Commandment forbiddeth whatſoever is prejudicial to truth, or injurious to our own, or our Neighbours good name.

Q. 1. VVhat is the general ſcope and aim of the ninth Commandment?

A. The ninth Command aims chiefly at the preſervation and promoting of Truth amongſt Men, Zech. 8. 16. —— Speak ye every man the truth to his neighbour, &c. This being of indiſpenſable neceſſity to the ſubſiſtence and welfare of Humane Society, Eph. 4. 25. VVherefore putting away lying, ſpeak every man truth with his neighbour, for we are members one of another.

Q. 2. VVhat is the firſt thing required particularly in this Command?

A. This Command requires every Man to take care of preſerving his own good Name, by ordering his Converſation in univerſal Integrity. 1 Pet. 3. 15, 16. But ſanctifie the Lord God in your hearts, and be ready always to give an anſwer to every man that asketh you a reaſon of the hope that is in you, with meekneſs and fear; Having a good conſcience, that whereas they ſpeak evil of you as of evil doers, they may be aſhamed that falſly accuſe your good converſation in Chriſt.

Q. 3. VVhat's the ſecond thing required in this Commandment?

A. It requires all due care to preſerve the good Name and Honour of other Men, as well as our own; for Chriſtians are not to be of narrow and private Spirits, which center only in their own intereſts and concernment, Phil. 2. 4. Look not every man on his own things; but every man alſo on the things of others.

Q. 4. How

Q. 4. How are we to preſerve the good Names of others?

A. We are to preſerve the good Names of others by an inward eſteem of all the good that is in them, Phil. 2. 3. ---In lowlineſs of mind let each eſteem other better than themſelves. And manifeſting our inward eſteem of them by a wiſe and ſeaſonable expreſſion thereof for their encouragement in the ways of Godlineſs, Rom. 1. 8. Firſt, I thank my God through Jeſus Chriſt for you all, that your faith is ſpoken of throughout the whole world.

Q. 5. How elſe are we to defend other Mens Names?

A. By our readineſs to receive with joy the reports of that good that is in them, 3 Epiſt. John 3. For I rejoyced greatly when the brethren came and teſtified of the truth that is in thee, even as thou walkeſt in the truth. And diſcountenancing all reproaches maliciouſly vented againſt them, Pſal. 15. 3. ---Not taketh up a reproach againſt his neighbour.

Q. 6. But what if the report be evidently true?

A. In that caſe we are to grieve for their miſcarriages, as the effect and fruit of our love to their Souls, 2 Cor. 2. 4. For out of much affliction and anguiſh of heart, I wrote unto yon with many tears, not that ye ſhould be grieved, but that ye might know the love which I have more abundantly unto you. And to diſcharge our Duties privately and faithfully in order to their recovery, Mat. 18. 15, 16, 17. Moreover, if thy brother ſhall treſpaſs againſt thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone, &c. Winking at and concealing in love their leſſer and common infirmites; 1 Pet. 4 8. And above all things have fervent charity among your ſelves: for charity ſhall cover the multitude of ſins.

Q. 7. What is forbidden in the ninth Commandment.

A. It forbids us to injure others, by raiſing or receiving Lyes and falſe Reports, which are highly injurious to their good Names, Col. 2. 9. Lye not one to another, &c.

Q. 8. What elſe is forbidden in the ninth Commandment?

A. It eſpecially forbids Perjury or falſe Swearing, whereby not only the Names, but Eſtates and Lives of the innocent are injured and ruined, Pſal. 35. 11. Falſe witneſſes did riſe up: they laid to my charge things that I knew not. Prov. 19. 5. A falſe witneſs ſhall not be unpuniſhed: and he that ſpeaketh lies ſhall not eſcape. A ſin which God will puniſh, Mal. 3. 5. And I will come near to you to judgment, and I will be a ſwift witneſs againſt the ſorcerers, and againſt the adulterers, and againſt falſe ſwearers, &c.

Q. 9. What elſe is forbidden in this Commandment.

A. It forbids all whiſpering and back-bitings of others ſecretly, 2 Cor. 12. 20. ---Leſt there be debates, envying, wraths, ſtrifes, back-bitings, whiſperings, &c. And all Tale-carrying from one to another to our Neighbours injury, Levit. 19. 16. Thou ſhalt not go up and down as a tale-bearer among the People, &c. And 1 Tim. 5. 13. --And not only idle, but tatlers alſo and buſie-bodies, ſpeaking things which they ought not.

Q. 10. What elſe doth the ninth Commandment forbid?

A. It forbids all raſh and unwarrantable judging of other Mens Hearts and final Eſtates, which is uſually accompanied with ignorance of our own, Matth. 7. 6, 3. Judge not that ye be not judged. ---And why beholdeſt thou the mote that is in thy brothers eye, but conſidereſt not the beam that is in thine own eye?

Q. 11. What elſe is forbidden in this Commandment.

A It forbids the eclipſing of the true word and honour of others, by a proud exalting of our ſelves, Cor. 13. 4, 5. Charity envieth not, charity vaunteth not ſelf, is not puff up, &c. Or by crying up one to the diſparagement of another good Man, 1 Cor. 3. 4, 5. For while one ſaith, I am of Paul, and another I am of Apollo, are ye not carnal? &c.

Q. 12. What is the firſt Inference from hence?

A. That the beſt Chriſtians have cauſe to be humbled for the ſins of the Tongue, whereby God is diſhonoured, and others are injured, Jam. 3. 2. If any man offend not in word, the ſame is a perfect man, and able alſo to bridle the whole body. And ver. 5. 6 Even ſo the tongue is a little member, and boaſteth great things: behold how great a matter a little fire kindleth. And the tongue is a fire, a world of iniquity: ſo is the tongue amongſt our members, that it defileth the whole body, and ſetteth on fire the courſe of nature, and it is ſet on fire of hell.

Q. 13. What's the ſecond Inference from hence?

A. 'Tis our great concernment to walk with that Piety and Juſtice towards God and Men, as to cut off all juſt occaſions of reproach from our Names, 2 Cor. 11. 12. But what I do, that I will do, that I may cut off occaſion from them which deſire occaſion, &c. 1 Tim. 5. 14. I will therefore that the younger women marry, bear children, guide the houſe, give none occaſion to the adverſary to ſpeak reproachfully.

Q. 14. What's the third Inference from this Commandment?

A. To bleſs God that our Names are kept ſweet and honourable in the World among good Men, 3 Epiſ. John. 12. Demetrius hath a good report of all men, &c. Or if we be reproached, it is by none but wicked Men, and that for our Duty to God, Dan. 6. 5. Then ſaid theſe men, we ſhall not find any occaſion againſt this Daniel, except we find it againſt him concerning the law of his God.

Of the tenth Commandment.

Queſt, 79. Which is the tenth Commandment.

A. The tenth Commandment is, [Thou ſhalt not covet thy Neighbours Houſe, thou ſhalt not covet thy Neighbours Wife, nor his Man-ſervant, nor his Maid-ſervant, nor his Oxe, nor his Aſs, nor any thing that is thy Neighbours.]

Queſt. 80. What is required in the tenth Commandment?

A. The tenth Commandment requireth full contentment with our own condition, with a right and charitable frame of Spirit towards our Neighbour, and all that is his.

Queſt, 81. What is forbidden in the tenth Commandment?

A. The tenth Commandment forbiddeth all diſcontentment with our eſtate, envying or grieving at the good of our Neighbour, and all inordinate motions and affections to any thing that is his.

Q. 1. What is the principal ſcope and aim of the tenth Commandment?

A. It is to prevent all occaſions of tranſgreſſing the other Precepts of the ſecond Table, by reſtraining this ſin of Covetouſneſs in the heart, Pſal. 119. 35, 36. Make me to go in the path of thy Commandments: for therein do I delight. Incline my heart unto thy teſtimonies; and not to covetouſneſs.

Q. 2. What doth this tenth Command require of us in reference to our ſelves?

A. It requires of us perfect contentment and ſatisfaction with that eſtate and condition, wherein God hath placed us in the World, Heb. 13. 5. Let your converſation be without covetouſneſs: and be content with ſuch things as ye have, &c. Reckoning it to be good for us to be in that ſtate we are, though never ſo low or afflicted, Pſal. 119. 67. Before I was afflicted, I went aſtray; but now have I kept thy word. And ver. 71. It is good for me that I have been afflicted, that I might learn thy ſtatutes.

Q. 3. Is contentment with Gods appointments attainable in this life?

A. Some Chriſtians have attained to a very great meaſure and eminent degree of Contentment in the midſt of changeable and afflictive Providences, Phil. 4. 11. --I have learned in whatſoever ſtate I am therewith to be content. Pſal. 16. 5, 6. The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance, and of my cup: thou maintaineſt my lot. The lines are fallen unto me in pleaſant places: yea, I have a good heritage.

Q. 4. Is there no danger of the ſin of diſcontent in a full and proſperous condition?

A. Fulneſs of the World ſecures no Man from the ſin of Diſcontentment with his own, or coveting that which is anothers, becauſe the deſires enlarge as the Eſtate doth, Pſal. 62. 10. --If riches increaſe, ſet not your hearts upon them. An inſtance whereof we have in Ahab, 1 Kings 21. 4. And Ahab came into his houſe heavy and diſpleaſed, becauſe of the word, which Naboth the Jezreelite had ſpoken to him: for he had ſaid, I will not give thee the inheritance of my fathers, and he laid him down upon his bed, and turned away his face, and would eat no bread.

Q. 5. Whence doth Diſcontent with our condition ſpring?

A. It ſprings partly from our ignorance of Gods wiſdom and love in ordering all for our good, Rom. 8. 28. And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, &c. Partly from our inconſiderateneſs of the vanity of the Creature, 1 Tim. 6. 7, 8. For we brought nothing into this world: and it is certain we can carry nothing out. And having food and raiment, let us be therewith content. And partly from our Unbelief, Matth. 6. 31, 32. Therefore take no thought, ſaying, what ſhall we eat? or what ſhall we drink? or where withal ſhall we be cloathed? (for after all theſe things do the Gentiles ſeek) for your heavenly father knoweth that ye have need of all theſe things.

Q. 6. Is contentment with our own eſtate all that this Commandment requires?

A. No, it requires a charitable frame of Spirit towards our Neighbours alſo, Rom. 12. 10, 15. Be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love, in honour preferring one another. Rejoyce with them that do rejoyce, and weep with them that weep?

Q. 7. What's the firſt Sin forbidden in this Commandment?

A. It directly and eſpecially forbids all ſinful and inordinate deſires and motions after other Mens enjoyments, Col. 3. 5. Mortifie therefore your members which are upon the earth, fornication, uncleanneſs, inordinate affection, evil concupiſcence and covetouſneſs, which is idolatry.

Q. 8. What's the ſecond Sin forbidden in this Commandment?

A It forbids all cruelty and incompaſſionateneſs to others in neceſſity, and keeping back from them that relief which is made theirs by Gods command, Prov. 12. 24. There is that with-holdeth more than is meet, but it tendeth to poverty, Lev. 19. 9, 10. And when ye reap the harveſt of your land, thou ſhalt not wholly reap the corners of thy field, neither ſhalt thou gather the gleanings of thy harveſt. And thou ſhalt not glean thy vineyard, neither ſhalt thou gather every grape of thy vineyard: thou ſhalt leave them for the poor and the ſtranger: I am the Lord your God.

Q. 9. What is the third ſin forbidden in this Commandment?

A. It forbids the detaining of the Hirelings Wages, when it is due, Hab. 2. 9, 10, 11. Wo to him that coveteth an evil covetouſneſs to his houſe that he may ſet his neſt on high, that he may be delivered from the power of evil. Thou haſt conſulted ſhame to thy houſe, by cutting off my people, and haſt ſinned againſt thy ſoul. For the ſtone ſhall cry out of the wall, and the beam out of the timber ſhall anſwer it.

Q. 10. What's the fourth Sin forbidden in this Commandment?

A. It forbids all inward grudgings at, and envyings of the enjoyments of others, whether they be inward Goods of the Mind, or outward belonging to the Body; 1 Cor. 13. 14. Charity envieth not, &c.

Q. 11. What's the miſchief of Covetouſneſs.

A. It diſtracts the Heart in Duties, Ezek. 33. 31. And they come unto thee as thy people cometh, and they ſit before thee, as my people, and they hear thy words, but they will not do them; for with their mouth they ſhow much love, but their heart goeth after their covetouſneſs. Provokes the wrath of God, Iſa. 57. 17. For the iniquity of his covetouſneſs was I wroth, and ſmote him, &c. And where it reigns, it becomes Idolatry, Col. 3. 5. And covetouſneſs which is Idolatry.

Q. 12. What's the firſt Inference hence?

A. It calls all men to humiliation for the inordinacy of their Affections towards the World, their diſcontent with their own, and envyings of others conditions.

Q. 13. What's the ſecond Inference hence?

A. As ever we would keep clear from this ſin, let us make God our portion, Pſal. 16. 5, 6. The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance, and of my cup: thou maintaineſt my lot. And labour to get the Soul-ſatisfying comforts of his Spirit, John 4. 14. But whoſoever drinketh of the water that I ſhall give him, ſhall never thirſt, &c. 2 Cor. 6. 10. As having nothing, and yet poſſeſſing all things.

Q. 14. What's the laſt Inference hence?

A. If God have given us a ſufficiency of the things of this life for our neceſſity, let us be ſatisfied, though we want other things for our delight, 1 Tim. 6. 8. And having food and raiment, let us be therewith content. And relieve our ſelves by an expectation of thoſe better things laid up in Heaven for us, if we be believers, Jam. 2. 5. Hath not God choſen the poor of this world, rich in faith, and heirs of the kingdom, which he hath promiſed to them that love him.

Of keeping the Law.

Queſt. 82. IS any man able perfectly to k the Commandments of God?

A. No meer man ſince the fall, is abl this life perfectly to keep the Commandme of God, but doth dayly break them in Thoug Word, and Deed.

Q. 1. Wherein doth the perfect keeping of G Law conſiſt?

A. It conſiſts in the perfect and conſtant confo ty of the internal and external Actions of Heart Life, to every Command of God, Gal. 3. 10. Cu is every one that continueth not in all things, w are written in the book of the law to do them, 22. 37, 38, 39. Jeſus ſaid unto him, thou ſhalt the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with al ſoul, and with all thy mind. This is the firſt great Commandment. And the ſecond is like it, Thou ſhalt love thy neighbour as thy ſelf.

Q. 2. But if a man commit no external act againſt the Law, may he not be ſaid perfectly to keep it, although in mind or thought he ſhould tranſgreſs?

A. No, for an inward motion of ſin in the Heart, that never breaks forth into act, is a violation of the Law, and brings the Soul under the curſe of it, Matth. 5. 21, 22. Ye have heard that it was ſaid by them of old time, Thou ſhalt not kill: and whoſoever ſhall kill, ſhall be in danger of the judgment, But I ſay unto you, that whoſoever is angry with his brother without a cauſe, ſhall be in danger of the judgment, &c. And ver. 27, 28. Ye have heard that it was ſaid by them of old time, Thou ſhalt not commit adultery. But I ſay unto you, that whoſoever looketh after a woman to luſt after her, hath committed adultery with her already in his heart.

Q. 3. May not a man keep the Law, if he keep ſome of its Commands, though he cannot keep every one of them punctually?

A. No he cannot; for the tranſgreſſion of any one Command in the leaſt degree, is a breach of all, and brings the curſe of the whole upon a Mans Soul, Jam. 2. 10. For whoſoever ſhall keep the whole law, and yet offend in one point, he is guilty of all.

Q. 4. Was the Law never kept by any ſince it was made?

A. Yes, Adam in his innocent ſtate kept it, for he was made upright, Eccleſ. 7. 29. God made man upright, &c. And Chriſt perfectly kept it, Matth. 5. 17. Think not that I am come to deſtroy the law or the prophets: I am not come to deſtroy, but to fulfil.

Q. 5. What's the firſt Reaſon why no meer man in this life can fulfil and keep the law of God perfectly?

A. It is becauſe the Law of God is perfect, and the beſt of Men in this life are imperfect, Pſal. 19. 7. The law of the Lord is perfect, &c. Eccleſ. 7. 20. For there is not a juſt man upon earth, that doeth good, and ſinneth not.

Q. 6. But may not Men perfectly keep it, when regenerate, and born of God?

A. No, becauſe even in the regenerate there is a law of Sin which was againſt the Law of God, Gal. 17. For the Fleſh luſteth againſt the Spirit, and the Spirit againſt the fleſh, &c. Rom. 7. 22, 23. For I delight in the law of God after the inward man. But I ſee another law in my members warring againſt the law of my mind, &c. And though they are ſaid not to ſin, 1 John 3. 9. (whoſoever is born of God, doth not commit ſin, &c.) that is not to be taken abſolutely; but comparatively, as they once did, and others ſtill do.

Q. 7. But did not Chriſt command the young man to keep the Law?

A. 'Tis true that Chriſt did put the young man upon this task, Mat. 19. 17. If thou wilt enter into life, keep the commandments: But it was not on a ſuppoſition that he was able to do it, but to convince him of the impoſſibility of Juſtification that way.

Q. 8. But doth not the Apoſtle ſay that the righteouſneſs of the law is fulfilled in Believers?

A. 'Tis true that the Apoſtle doth ſay ſo, Rom. 8. but the meaning is not, that we fulfil it in our own perſons by our compleat obedience to it, but it is fulfilled in us by our union with Chriſt, who perfectly kept it; and the Righteouſneſs of the Law which is in Chriſt, becomes ours by Gods imputation of it to us, Rom. 4. 23, 24. Now it was not written for his ſake alone, that it was imputed to him. But for us alſo to whom it ſhall be imputed, if we believe on him, that raiſed up Jeſus our Lord from the dead.

Q. 9. What is the firſt Inference from hence?

A. That Juſtification by our own Works is utterly impoſſible to the holieſt of Men, Gal. 2. 16. For by the works of the law ſhall no fleſh be juſtified. Pſal. 103. 3. If thou Lord, ſhould mark iniquities: O Lord who ſhall ſtand?

Q. 10. What's the ſecond Inference from hence?

A. Hence we learn what an infinite Mercy it is, that God ſent Jeſus Chriſt made under the Law, Gal. 4. 4, 5. But when the fulneſs of time was come, God ſent forth his ſon made of a woman, under the Law, &c. To do that for us we could never do for our ſelves, Rom. 8. 3, 4. For what the law could not do, in that it was weak through the fleſh, God ſending his own Son in the likeneſs of ſinful fleſh, and for ſin condemned ſin in the fleſh: That the righteouſneſs of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not after the fleſh, but after the ſpirit.

Q. 11. What's the third Inference from hence?

A. That the dreadful Curſe muſt needs lye on all Unbelievers that are out of Chriſt, John 3. 36. He that believeth not the Son, ſhall not ſee life; but the wrath of God abideth on him. And ſeek their Juſtification by the deeds of the Law, Gal. 3. 10. For as many as are of the works of the law, are under the curſe, &c.

Q. 12. What's the fourth Inference from hence?

A. What a deluge of ſin and miſery brake in upon the whole World by the fall of Adam, and all his Poſterity being by him plunged under both, Rom. 5. 12. Wherefore, as by one man ſin entered into the world, and death by ſin: and ſo death paſſed upon all men, for that all have ſinned.

Q. 13. What's the fifth Inference from hence?

A. That the Popiſh Doctrines of Merits, and Works of Supererogation are falſe and groundleſs Doctrines, ſpringing out of the ignorance and pride of mans heart.

Q. 14. What's the laſt Inference from hence?

A. That all Gods people ſhould ſigh under their unhappy neceſſity of ſinning, Rom. 7. 24. O wretched man that I am, who ſhall deliver me from the body of this death! And long to be with Chriſt in the perfect ſtate, Heb. 12. 23. And to the ſpirits of juſt men made perfect.

Of the inequality of Sin.

Queſt. 83. ARe all Tranſgreſſions of the Law equally hainous?

A. Some Sins in themſelves, and by reaſon of ſeveral Aggravations, are more hainous in the ſight of God than others.

Q. 1. Whence ariſeth the firſt difference of ſin?

A: The firſt difference betwixt one ſin and another, ariſeth from the immediate object, againſt which the ſin is committed; on this account ſins immediately commited againſt God, are more heinous than ſins committed immediately againſt Man; 1 Sam. 2. 25. If one man ſin againſt another, the Judge ſhall judge him: but if a man ſin againſt the Lord, who ſhall intreat for him? And all ſins of the Firſt Table are greater than thoſe of the Second; yet there are crying ſins againſt the Second.

Q. 2. What's the firſt ſin noted for an heinous ſin?

A. The ſin of Murder is in Scripture ſet down for an heinous and crying ſin in its own nature, Gen. 4. 10. The voice of thy brothers blood cryeth unto me from the earth.

Q. 3. What other ſin is noted for a crying ſin?

A. The ſin of oppreſſion is noted in Scripture for a crying ſin, Hab. 2. 11. For the ſtone ſhall cry out of the wall, and the beam out of the timber ſhall anſwer it. Eſpecially the oppreſſion of the Widow and Fatherleſs, Exod. 22. 22, 23. Ye ſhall not afflict any widow or fatherleſs child. If thou afflict them in any wiſe, and they cry at all unto me, I will ſurely hear their cry.

Q. 4. What is reckoned in Scripture an heinous ſin againſt the Firſt Table.

A. The ſin of Atheiſm, or denying the being of God, is a ſin of the firſt magnitude, Job. 31. 28. This alſo were an iniquity to be puniſhed by the Judge: for I ſhould have denied the God that is above. This was the ſin of Pharaoh, Exod. 5. 2. And Pharaoh ſaid, who is the Lord, that I ſhould obey his voice, to let Iſrael go? I know not the Lord, neither will I let Iſrael go.

Q. 5. What other ſin is heinous in Gods account?

A. The ſin of Idolatry is a moſt heinous ſin, and goes nearer to the heart of God than other ſins do, Ezek. 6. 9. And they that eſcape of you, ſhall remember me among the nations whither they ſhall be carried captives, becauſe I am broken with their whoriſh heart, which hath departed from me, and with their eyes, which go a whoring after their idols, and they ſhall loath themſelves for the evils which they have committed in all their abominations. Jer. 44. 4. Oh do not this abominable thing that I hate.

Q. 6. What's the moſt heinous of all the ſins in the world?

A. The ſin againſt the Holy Ghoſt is the moſt heinous of all other ſins, and ſhall never be forgiven by Him, Matth. 12. 31. All manner of ſin and blaſphemy ſhall be forgiven unto men: but the blaſphemy againſt the Holy Ghoſt ſhall not be forgiven unto men.

Q. 7. From whence doth this Scripture aggravate ſin?

A. The Spirit of God in Scripture aggravates and eſtimates ſin from the degree of light and knowledge Men ſin againſt, Luke 12. 27. And that ſervant which knew his Lords will, and prepared not himſelf, neither did according to his will, ſhall be beaten with many ſtripes. John 15. 22. If I had not come, and ſpoken unto them, they had not had ſin: but now they have no cloak for their ſin.

Q. 8. What's the ſecond thing that aggravates ſin?

A. The more Mercies any man ſins againſt, the greater is his ſin, Rom. 2. 4. Or deſpiſeſt thou the riches of his goodneſs, and forbearance, and long-ſuffering, not knowing that the goodneſs of God leadeth thee to repentance? And eſpecially when 'tis againſt Spiritual Mercies and Means of Salvation, Heb. 2. 3. How ſhall we eſcape, if we neglect ſo great ſalvation. &c.

Q. 9. Are heinous and crying ſins capable of forgiveneſs?

A. Yes, great and heinous ſins are capable of forgiveneſs upon true Repentance, Iſa. 1. 18. Tho your ſins be as ſcarlet, they ſhall be as white as ſnow; tho' they be red like crimſon, they ſhall be as wooll.

Q. 10. From what fountains doth the pardon of all ſins both great and ſmall flow?

A. They all flow from the Free Grace of God, Luk. 7. 41, 42. And when they had nothing to pay, he frankly forgave them both. And through the Meritorious ſatisfying Blood of Chriſt, Eph. 1. 7. In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveneſs of ſins, according to the riches of his grace.

Q. 11. What's the firſt Inference hence?

A. Though ſome ſins are more heinous than others, yet no Sinner ſhould abſolutely deſpair of Mercy; for the vileſt have been pardoned, 1 Cor. 6. 11. And ſuch were ſome of you: but ye are waſhed, but ye are ſanctified, but ye are juſtified, &c.

Q. 12. What's the ſecond Inference hence?

A. That there are different degrees of torments in hell, proportioned to the different degrees of ſins on earth, Mat. 11. 21, 22. Wo unto thee Chorazin, wo unto thee Bethſaida; for if the mighty works which were done in you, had been done in Tyre and Sidon, they would have repented long ago in ſackcloth and aſhes. But I ſay unto you, it ſhall be no more tollerable for Tyre and Sidon at the day of judgment than for you.

Q. 13. What's the third Inference hence?

A. That great Sinners when pardoned and received to Mercy, ſhould excel all others in love to Chriſt, Luke 7. 42, 43. Which of them will love him moſt? Simon anſwered and ſaid, I ſuppoſe that he to whom he forgave moſt. And he ſaid unto him thou haſt rightly judged.

Q. 14. What's the laſt Inference hence?

A. Let no Man neglect Chriſt, becauſe his Sins are not ſo heinous as others, becauſe the leaſt Sin without Chriſt is damning, Rom. 6. 23. For the wages of ſin is death, &c. And greater Sinners are often called, when leſſer are not, Mat. 21. 31, 32. The publicans and harlots go into the kingdom of God before you.

Of the demerit of Sin.

Queſt. 84. What doth every Sin deſerve?

A. Every Sin deſerveth Gods Wrath and Curſe, both in this Life, and that which is to come.

Q. 1. Wherein doth the evil of Sin principally conſiſt?

A. It conſiſts principally in the offence it gives, and the wrong it doth to God, Pſal. 15. 4. Againſt thee, thee only have I ſinned, and done this evil in thy ſight.

Q. 2. What's the firſt offence and wrong Sin doth to God?

A. It conſiſts in its enmity to God, Rom. 8. 7. Becauſe the carnal mind is enmity againſt God, &c. Expreſt in Scripture by walking contrary to him, Levit. 26. 40. They have alſo walked contrary to me. Fighting againſt God, Acts 5. 39. Leſt haply ye be even found to fight againſt God. And reſiſting his Spirit, Acts 7. 51. Ye do always reſiſt the Holy Ghoſt.

Q. 3. Wherein is its enmity to God further diſcovered in Scripture?

A. It's diſcovered under the names and notions of hatred of God, Rom. 1. 30. Back-biters, haters of God, &c. Rebellion againſt God, 1 Sam. 15. 23. For rebellion is as the ſin of witchcraft, &c. And deſpiſing the Commandment of God, 2 Sam. 12. 9. Wherefore haſt thou deſpiſed the commandment of the Lord?

Q. 4. What are the Attributes of God that Sin wrongs?

A. It wrongs all his Attributes, for it ſlights his Sovereignty, Exod. 5. 2. And Pharaoh ſaid, who is the Lod, that I ſhould obey his voice, to let Iſrael go? Reſiſts his Power, 1 Cor. 10. 22. Are we ſtronger than he? Deſpiſeth his Goodneſs, Rom. 2. 4. Or deſpiſeſt thou the riches of his goodneſs, &c. Taxeth his Juſtice, Ezek. 18. 25. Yet ye ſay the way of the Lord is not equal, &c. And clouds his Holineſs, Jam. 2. 7. Do not they blaſpheme that worthy name, by the which ye are called?

Q. 5. What doth Sin deſerve in the courſe of Juſtice from God?

A. It deſerves all temporal and eternal effects of Gods Wrath, on the Souls and Bodies of Sinners, all which in Scripture go under the name of Death, Rom. 6. 23. For the wages of ſin is death, &.

Q. 6. Can theſe ſufferings ſatisfie God for all this wrong?

A. No, they cannot, and therefore they muſt, and ſhall be eternal on the damned, Matth. 5. 26. Verily I ſay unto thee, Thou ſhalt by no means come out thence till thou haſt paid the uttermoſt farthing. Mark. 9. 44. Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.

Q. 7. Shall all Sinners bear the deſert of their Sins?

A. No, all that are out of Chriſt ſhall, but Chriſt hath freed Believers from it, John 3. 18. He that believeth on him is not condemned, &c.

Q. 8. But is it not hard that Sinners ſhould ſuffer eternally for the ſins of a few years?

A. No, it is not; for the evil of Sin is not to be meaſured by the time in which, but by the object againſt which it is committed, Pſal. 51. 4, 5. Againſt thee, thee only have I ſinned, and done this evil in thy ſight, &c.

Q. 9. What learn we from hence?

A. Hence in the firſt place we learn the impoſſibility of ſatisfying Gods Juſtice for the leaſt Sin that ever we committed, Job 7. 20. I have ſinned, what ſhall I do unto thee, &c. Pſal. 130. 3. If thou Lord ſhouldſt mark iniquity, O Lord, who ſhall ſtand?

Q. 10. What's the ſecond Inſtruction hence ?

A. Hence we ſee the neceſſity of a Mediatour betwixt God and us, Pſal. 40. 6, 7. Sacrifice and offering thou didſt not deſire, &c. Then ſaid I, lo, I come in the volume of the book it is written of me.

Q. 11. What's the third Inſtruction hence ?

A. That the greateſt ſuffering is rather to be choſen than the leaſt ſin, Heb. 11. 25. Chuſing rather to ſuffer affliction with the people of God, than to enjoy the pleaſures of ſin for a ſeaſon.

Q. 12. What's the fourth Inſtruction hence ?

A. It teacheth us what an invaluable Mercy the full, free and final remiſſion of Sin is, Pſal. 32. 1, 2. Bleſſed is he whoſe wickedneſs is forgiven, and whoſe ſins is covered, &c.

Q. 13. What's the fifth Inſtruction hence ?

A. It vindicates God in his ſevereſt ſtrokes on Sinners, Hoſ. 6. 5. Therefore have I hewed them by the prophets: I have ſlain them by the words of my mouth, and thy judgments are as the light that goeth forth.

Q. 14. What's the laſt Inſtruction ?

A. Hence we learn the infinite nature of Chriſts ſuffering, Rom. 8. 32. He that ſpareth not his own ſon, but delivered him up for us all: how ſhall he not with him alſo freely give us all things ?

Of what God requires of us.

Queſt. 85. What doth God require of us that we may eſcape his Wrath and Curſe due to us for Sin?

A. To eſcape the Wrath and Curſe of God due to us for Sin, God requireth of us Faith in Jeſus Chriſt, Repentance unto Life, with the diligent uſe of all the outward means, whereby Chriſt communicateth to us the benefits of Redemption.

Q. 1. What are the things required of us to eſcape Gods Wrath and Curſe due to us for Sin ?

A. The things required of us, are, (1.) Faith in Jeſus Chriſt, Acts 17.31. And they ſaid, believe on the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, and thou ſhalt be ſaved, and thine houſe. (2.) Repentance from Sin, Acts 3.19. Repent ye therefore, and be converted, that your ſins may be blotted out, &c. (3.) Diligent ſtriving in the uſe of all Gods appointed means, Luke 13.24. Strive to enter in at the ſtrait gate: for many, I ſay unto yon, ſhall ſeek to enter in, and ſhall not be able.

Q. 2. Are theſe things in Mans power to perform that God requires of him?

A. Though they are our Duties, yet we have no power in our ſelves by Nature to perform them, but the power is of God, 2 Cor. 3. 5. Not that we are ſufficient of our ſelves to think any thing as of our ſelves, but our ſufficiency is of God.

Q. 3. But if Men be in Chriſt, and juſtified from Eternity, what need of this?

A. Though God from Eternity decreed, and Chriſt long ſince purchaſed the Salvation of the Elect; yet have they no union with Chriſt, till they believe, Epheſ. 3. 17. That Chriſt may dwell in your hearts by faith, that ye being rooted and grounded in love. Nor remiſſion of Sin, Acts 3. 19. That your ſins may be blotted out, when the times of refreſhing ſhall come from the preſence of the Lord; but lye under the wrath as others do, Eph. 2. 3, 12. And were by nature the children of wrath even as others. Ver. 12. That at that time ye were without Chriſt, being aliens from the common wealth of Iſrael, and ſtrangers from the covenants of promiſe, having no hope, and without God in the world.

Q. 4. If it be God that can only work theſe Graces in us, to what purpoſe is our ſtriving ?

A. Gods working doth not exclude Mans ſtriving, but more excites and obliges us to it, Phil. 2. 12, 13. Work out your own ſalvation with fear and trembling: For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do, of his own good pleaſure.

Q. 5. To what purpoſe is it to ſtrive in the uſe of means, except we knew we were elected?

A. The knowledge of our Election is not antecedent to our diligence, but our diligence is required antecedently to that knowledge, 2 Pet. 1. 10. Wherefore the rather, Brethren, give diligence to make your calling and election ſure, &c.

Q. 6. Is it not legal to put Natural Men upon ſtriving in the uſe of means ?

A. No, it is not; for Chriſt himſelf enjoyns it, Luke 13. 24. Strive to enter in at the ſtrait gate, &c. And ſo did the Apoſtles after him, Acts 8. 22. Repent therefore of this thy wickedneſs, and pray God, if perhaps the thought of thy heart may be forgiven thee.

Q. 7. Is there no eſcaping Gods Wrath and Curſe without Faith and Repentance ?

A. No, it is impoſſible to eſcape them, John 3.18. He that believeth not, is condemned already. Heb. 2. 3. How ſhall we eſcape if we neglect ſo great ſalvation.

Q. 8. But if a man reform his life, and live ſoberly and juſtly for time to come, may he not that way eſcape Gods Wrath and Curſe?

A. No, Sobriety and Reformation are Duties, but its Faith and Regeneration that puts Men into Chriſt, and out of danger, Matth. 5. 20. Except your righteouſneſs ſhall exceed the righteouſneſs of the Scribes and Phariſees, ye ſhall in no caſe enter into the kingdom of heaven. Titus. 3. 5. Not by works of righteouſneſs, which we have done, but according to his mercy he ſaved us, by the waſhing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghoſt.

Q. 9. Do all believing and penitent Sinners eſcape Gods Wrath and Curſe?

A. Yes, they do, and ſhall for ever eſcape it, Rom. 8. 1. There is therefore now no condemnation to them, which are in Chriſt Jeſus, &c. Col. 1. 12, 13. Giving thanks unto God the Father, which hath made us meet to be partakers of the inheritance of the ſaints in light; who hath delivered us from the power of darkneſs, and hath tranſlated us into the kingdom of his dear ſon. Joh. 5. 24. He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that ſent me, hath everlaſting life, and ſhall not come into condemnation: but is paſſed from death unto life.

Q. 10. What is the firſt Inference hence?

A. Hence it appears how falſe and dangerous the Antinomian Doctrine is, which teaches that our Sins are pardoned before they are committed, or we either believe or repent, contrary to Acts 26. 18. To open their eyes, and to turn them from darkneſs to light, and from the power of ſatan unto God, that they may receive forgiveneſs of ſins, and inheritance among them, which are ſanctified by faith, that is, in me. James 5. 20. He which converteth the ſinner from the error of his way, ſhall ſave a ſoul from death, &c. Acts 10. 43. To him give all the prophets witneſs, that through his name whoſoever believeth in him ſhall receive remiſſion of ſins.

Q. 11. What's the ſecond Inference from hence ?

A. Hence it follows that it is dangerous on the one ſide not to ſtrive in all the ways of Duty for Chriſt and Salvation, contrary to Luke 13. 24. Strive to enter in at the ſtrait gate, for many I ſay unto you, will ſeek to enter in, and ſhall not be able. And as dangerous on the other ſide to reſt in, and depend on our own Works and Duties. Phil. 3.9. And be found in him, not having mine own righteouſneſs which is of the law; but that which is through the Faith of Chriſt : The Righteouſneſs which is of God by Faith.

Q. 12. What's the third Inference hence ?

A. Hence we learn the miſerable ſtate of all unbelievers, and impenitent Perſons ; the Curſe and Wrath of God lies upon them, Gal. 3. 10. For as many as are of the works of the Law are under the curſe, &c. And their Mittimus for Hell is already made, John 3. 18. He that believeth not, is condemned already.

Q. 13. What's the fourth Inference hence ?

A. Hence we the learn the happy ſtate into which Faith and Repentance brings the Souls of Men, Acts 13.38,39. By him all that believe are juſtified from all things from which ye could not be juſtified by the Law of Moſes.

Of Saving Faith.

Queſt. 86. What is Faith in Jeſus Chriſt?

A. Faith in Jeſus Chriſt is a ſaving Grace, whereby we receive and reſt upon him alone for Salvation, as he is offered to us in the Goſpel.

Q. 1. What's the root or cauſe of Faith ?

A. Not the Power of Mans Will, Eph. 2. 8. For by Grace ye are ſaved through Faith, and that not of your ſelves: It is the Gift of God. But the Spirit of God, Gal. 5. 22. But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, long-ſuffering, gentleneſs, goodneſs, faith. John 1. 12, 13. But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the ſons of God, even to them that believe on his Name ; which were born, not of blood, nor of the Will of the Fleſh, nor of the Will of Man, but of God.

Q. 2. How doth the Spirit of God ordinarily produce Faith?

A. By the Preaching of the Word he ordinarily begets it, Rom. 10.17. Faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the Word of God ; tho' ſometimes he doth it immediately.

Q. 3. Who are the proper Subjects of Faith ?

A. Convinced and ſenſible Sinners are the proper ſubjects of Faith, John 16. 8, 9, 10. And when he is come he will reprove the World of Sin, of Righteouſneſs, and of Judgment. Of Sin, becauſe they believe not on me : Of Righteouſneſs, becauſe I go to my Father, and ye ſee me no more : Of Judgment, becauſe the Prince of this World is judged.

Q. 4. What is the ſeat or habitation of Faith ?

A. Not only the Head or Underſtanding, but principally the Heart and Will, Rom. 10. 10. With the Heart Man believeth unto Righteouſneſs, &c. Acts 8. 37. And Philip ſaid, if thou believeſt with all thine Heart, thou mayeſt.

Q. 5. But is not the aſſent of the Underſtanding true Faith?

A. The meer Aſſent of the Underſtanding to the Truths of Scripture, is not ſuch a Faith as will ſave the Soul, James 2. 19. Thou believeſt that there is one God, thou doeſt well ; the devils alſo believe and tremble.

Q. 6. What's the act of Faith that juſtifies a Sinner ?

A. 'Tis the receiving of Chriſt by the full and hearty Conſent of the Heart that juſtifies us ; John 1.12. But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the Sons of God, even to them that believe on his Name.

Q. 7. What is the object of Faith ?

A. The primary object of Faith is the Perſon of Chriſt, and the ſecondary are his Benefits, Iſa. 45. 22. Look unto me, and be ſaved, all the ends of the earth, &c. Phil. 3. 8, 9. Yea doubtleſs, and I count all things but loſs for the excellency of the Knowledge of Chriſt Jeſus my Lord : For whom I have ſuffered the loſs of all things, and do count them but Dung, that I may win Chriſt, and be found in him, not having mine own Righteouſneſs which is of the Law, but that which is through the Faith of Chriſt : The Righteouſneſs which is of God by Faith.

Q. 8. May not a man look partly to Chriſt, and partly to his own Works and Duties for Righteouſneſs ?

A. No, he muſt eye Chriſt only, and exclude all others, or he cannot be juſtified, Phil. 3. 9. And be found in him, not having mine own Righteouſneſs, which i of the Law, but that which is through the Faith of Chriſt : The Righteouſneſs which is of God by Faith. Rom. 4. 5. But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that juſtifieth the ungodly, his Faith is counted for Righteouſneſs.

Q. 9. Is it enough to eye the Perſon of Chriſt only in believing ?

A. No, we muſt eye the Perſon of Chriſt, as cloathed with all his Offices, Acts 16.31. And they ſaid, believe on the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, and thou ſhalt be ſaved, and thine Houſe. Our ignorance needs him, as a Prophet, our guilt as a Prieſt, our ſins and enmity as a King.

Q. 10. Is true Faith excluſive of all fears and Doubts?

A. No, it is not, but true Believers are troubled with many fears and doubtings, Iſa. 50. 10. Who is he among you that feareth the Lord, that obeyeth the voice of his Servant, that walketh in darkneſs, and hath no light, &c. Mark 9. 24. And ſtraightway the Father of the Child cried out with tears, Lord, I believe, help thou mine unbelief.

Q. 11. Is no Man actually juſtified till he believe?

A. No, he cannot be juſtified actually till he believe actually, Gal. 3. 22. But the Scripture hath concluded all under Sin, that the Promiſe by Faith of Jeſus Chriſt might be given to them that believe. John 3. 18. He that believe on him, is not condemned : But he that believeth not is condemned already, becauſe he hath not believed in the Name of the only begotten Son of God.

Q. 12. Is every Man that believes juſtified immediately and fully upon his believing ?

A. Yes, he is, Rom. 5. 1. Therefore being juſtified by Faith we have Peace with God through our Lord Jeſus Chriſt. John 5.24. He that heareth my Words, and believeth on him that ſent me, hath everlaſting Life, and ſhall not come into Condemnation: But is paſſed from Death unto Life.

Q. 13. What's the true Character or Deſcription of a Believer ?

A. He is one that having been convinced of his Sin and Miſery, and of his own and all other Creatures inability to ſave him, and of the ability and willingneſs of Chriſt to ſave him, lets go all hold, and dependance on Creatures, and his own Righteouſneſs, caſts himſelf entirely upon Chriſt for Righteouſneſs and Life.

Of the Properties, Signs and Means of Faith.

Q. 1. WHat is the firſt Property of Faith?

A. 'Tis a moſt precious Grace, 2 Pet. 1. 1. To them that have obtained like precious Faith with us, &c. And muſt needs be ſo, ſeeing 'tis the bond of our Union with Chriſt, Eph. 3. 17. That Chriſt may dwell in your Hearts by Faith, that ye being rooted and grounded in love. That by which we are juſtified, Rom. 5. 1. Therefore being juſtified by Faith, &c. And that by which our Souls do live, Heb. 2. 4. The juſt ſhall live by his Faith.

Q. 2. What's the ſecond Property of Saving Faith?

A. The ſecond Property of Faith is this, that it is the moſt uſeful Grace in this World to a Believer, it being the Souls Eye, Heb. 11. 27. By Faith he forſook Egypt, not fearing the wrath of the King : for he endured as ſeeing him, who is inviſible, &c. It's hard to apprehend Chriſt, Phil. 3.12. That I may apprehend that for which alſo I am apprehended of Chriſt Jeſus. It's Cordial in a fainting ſeaſon, Pſalm 27. 3. I had fainted unleſs I had believed, &c.

Q. 3. What are the Foundations that ſupport Faith?

A. The firſt foundation or prop of Faith is the power of God, Rom. 40. 20, 21. He ſtaggered not at the promiſe through unbelief : but was ſtrong in faith giving glory to God. And being fully perſwaded that what he had promiſed, he was able alſo to perform. Heb. 7. 25. He is able alſo to ſave them to the uttermoſt that come unto God by him, &c.

Q. 4. What's the ſecond prop of Faith?

A. The truth and faithfulneſs of God in his promiſes, Heb. 10. 23. Let us hold faſt the profeſſion of our faith without wavering, for he is faithful that hath promiſed, Heb. 6. 18. That by two immutable things, in which it was impoſſible for God to lye, we might have a ſtrong conſolation, who have fled for refuge to lay hold upon the hope ſet before us.

Q. 5. What encourages the Faith of the Saints?

A. The manifold ſweet and ſenſible experiences of others, Pſal. 74. 14. Thou breakeſt the heads of Leviathan in pieces, and gaveſt him to be meat for the people inhabiting the wilderneſs. And eſpecially their own experiences, Joſhua 23. 14. Ye know in all your hearts, and in all your ſouls, that not one thing hath failed of all the good things which the Lord your God ſpake concerning you: all are come to paſs unto you, and not one thing hath failed thereof.

Q. 6. What's the firſt ſign of a weak Faith?

A. Staggerings in our aſſent to Divine Truths argue the weakneſs of Faith, Rom. 4. 10. He ſtaggered not at the promiſe of God through unbelief, but was ſtrong in Faith, &c.

Q. 7. What's the ſecond ſign of weak Faith?

A. Inability to truſt God in time of danger, evidenced by ſinful haſte to avoid it, Iſa. 28. 16. He that believeth ſhall not maſte haſte.

Q. 8. What's the third ſign of a weak Faith?

A. When we cannot live purely by Faith, except we have ſome ſenſible encouragement, John 20. 25. Except I ſhall ſee in his hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the print of the nails, and thruſt my hand into his ſide, I will not believe.

Q. What's the fourth ſign of a weak Faith?

A. When a new temptation makes us eaſily let go our former confidence, Luke 24. 21. But we truſted that it had been he which ſhould have redeemed Iſrael: and beſides all this, to day is the third day ſince theſe things were done.

Q. 10. What's the fifth ſign of a weak Faith?

A. The prevalence of carnal fears in time of trouble argues weak Faith, Matth. 8. 26. And he ſaith unto them, why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith? &c.

Q. 11. What's the ſixth ſign of a weak Faith?

A. Too much carefulneſs and anxiety about the things of this Life, Matth. 6. 30. Wherefore if God ſo clothe the graſs of the field, which to day is, and to morrow is caſt into the oven, ſhall he not much more cloath you, O ye of little faith?

Q. 12. What's the firſt benefit of a ſtrong Faith?

A. A ſtrong Faith gives much Glory to God, Rom. 4. 19, 20. And being not weak in faith, he conſidered not his own body now dead, when he was about an hundred years old, neither yet the deadneſs of Sarahs womb: He ſtaggered not at the promiſe of God through unbelief: but was ſtrong in faith, giving glory to God.

Q. 12. What's the ſecond benefit of a ſtrong Faith?

A. It gives the Soul the raviſhing foreſight and foretaſts of Heaven upon Earth, 1 Pet. 1. 8. Whom having not ſeen, ye love; in whom though now ye ſee him not, yet believing ye rejoyce with joy unſpeakable and full of glory.

Q. 14. What's the laſt office Faith doth for a Believer in this World?

A. It ſupports and encourages him at Death by the promiſes, when all other Comforts fail, Heb. 11. 13. Theſe all dyed in faith, not having received the promiſes, but having ſeen them afar off, and were perſwaded of them, and embraced them, and confeſſed that they were ſtrangers and pilgrims on the earth.

Of Saving Repentance.

Queſt. 87. What is Repentance unto Life?

A. Repentance unto Life is a ſaving Grace, whereby a Sinner out of a true ſenſe of his ſin, and apprehenſion of the Mercy of God in Chriſt doth with grief and hatred of his ſin, turn from it unto God with full purpoſe of, and endeavour after new obedience.

Q. 1. Who is the Authour of ſaving Repentance?

A. The Spirit of God is the Author of it; the Heart by Nature is ſo hard, that none but the Spirit can break it, Ezek. 36. 26, 27. A new heart alſo will I give, and a new ſpirit will I put within you; and I will take away the ſtony heart out of your fleſh, and I will give you an heart of fleſh. And I will put my ſpirit within you, &c.

Q. 2. In what act doth all true Repentance begin?

A. It begins in a true ſight and ſenſe of ſin, and the danger and miſery we are in by ſin, Acts 2. 37. Now when they heard this, they were pricked in their hearts, &c.

Q. 3. Why doth God work ſuch a ſenſe of ſin and miſery?

A. He doth it to make Chriſt deſirable in the ſinners eyes, that he may fly to him, Matth. 9. 12, 23. But when Jeſus heard that, he ſaid unto them they that be whole need not a Phyſician, but they that are ſick. But go ye and learn what that meaneth, I will have mercy and not ſacrifice: for I am not come to call the righteous, but ſinners to repentance.

Q. 4. Is the ſight of ſin ſufficient to Repentance?

A. No; there muſt be apprehenſion of Mercy and Forgiveneſs with God, or elſe no man can ſincerely, repent, Rom. 2. 4. Not knowing that the goodneſs of God leadeth thee to repentance. And this Mercy muſt be diſcerned in and through Chriſt, Zech. 12. 10. And they ſhall look upon me whom they have pierced, and they ſhall mourn for him as one mourneth for his only ſon, and ſhall be in bitterneſs for him as one that is in bitterneſs for his firſt-born.

Q. 5. Wherein doth Repentance chiefly conſiſt?

A. It conſiſts in real inward ſorrow for ſin, as committed againſt God, Pſal. 51. 3, 4. For I acknowledge my tranſgreſſions, and my ſin is ever before me. Againſt thee, thee only have I ſinned, and done this evil in thy ſight, &c. A loathing of our ſelves for it, Ezek. 36. 31. And ſhall loath your ſelves in your own ſight for your iniquities, and for your abominations. And of our beſt Duties as ſinful and inſufficient things, Iſa. 64. 5, 6. We are all as an unclean thing; and all our righteouſneſs are as filthy rags, &c.

Q. 6. Wherein elſe doth it conſiſt?

A. In turning from ſin as well as grieving for it, Iſa. 55. 5. Let the wicked forſake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts, &c. Prov. 28. 13. He that covereth his ſins, ſhall not proſper, but whoſo confeſſeth and forſaketh them, ſhall have mercy.

Q. 7. Is turning from ſin ſufficient?

A. No, that is but the negative part of Religion, there muſt be alſo a ſincere turning to God, Pſal. 119. 59. I thought on my ways, and turned my feet unto thy teſtimonies. Acts. 11. 23. And exhorted them all that with purpoſe of heart, they would cleave unto the Lord.

Q. 8. Is all ſorrow for ſin ſaving?

A. No, there is a Repentance that doth no good, Matth. 27. 3. Then Judas, which had betrayed him, when he ſaw that he was condemned, repented himſelf, &c. And a Repentance unto Life, Acts 11. 18. Then hath God alſo to the Gentiles granted repentance unto life.

Q. 9. What are the ſigns of true repentance?

A. Fear of ſin, care to preſerve our ſelves from it, and Zeal to honour God by new obedience, 2 Cor. 7. 11. For behold, this ſelf ſame thing that ye ſorrowed after a godly ſort, what carefulneſs it wrought in you, yea, what clearing of your ſelves, yea, what indignation, yea, what fear, yea, what vehement deſire, yea, what zeal, yea, what revenge? in all things you have approved your ſelves to be clear in this matter.

Q. 10. Is there a neceſſity of Repentance in order to forgiveneſs?

A. Yes, there is, and they are therefore conjoyned in Scripture, Acts 5. 31. For to give repentance to Iſrael, and forgiveneſs of ſins. And deſtruction threatned to the impenitent, Luk. 13. 3. Except ye repent, ye ſhall all likewiſe periſh.

Q. 11. What's the firſt Inference hence?

A. That its a falſe Doctrine, which teaches us that ſins are actually forgiven from Eternity, and therefore no need either of Repentance or Prayer, ſave only for the manifeſtation of Pardon.

Q. 12. What's the ſecond Inference hence?

A. That an hard Heart is a dreadful ſign of a loſt ſtate of Soul, Rom. 2. 5. But after thy hardneſs and impenitent heart, treaſureſt up unto thy ſelf wrath againſt the day of wrath, and revelation of the righteous judgment of God.

Q. 13. What's the laſt Inference hence?

A. That there is no cauſe to deſpair of the vileſt ſinner, ſeeing there is power enough in the Spirit of God to break the hardeſt heart, Ezek. 36. 26. I will take away the ſtony heart out of your fleſh, and I will give you a heart of fleſh.

Of Chriſts Ordinances.

Queſt. 88. What are the outward means whereby Chriſt communicateth to us the benefits of Redemption?

A. The outward and ordinary means whereby Chriſt communicateth to us the benefits of Redemption, are his Ordinances, eſpecially the Word, Sacraments and Prayer, all which are made effectual to the elect for Salvation.

Q. 1. What makes any thing become a Divine Ordinance?

A. The inſtitution or appointment of God, is that alone which makes a Divine Ordinance, Matth. 28. 20. Teaching them to obſerve all things whatſoever I have commanded you, &c.

Q. 2. Are the inſtitutions of all Ordinances alike clear in Scripture.

A. No, ſome are more explicitly and clearly revealed in Scripture than others; as the Lords Supper more clear than Baptiſm, but whatever hath Scripture warrant in the words or conſequence, is of divine appointment.

Q. 3. May not Men inſtitute Ordinances of Divine Worſhip?

A. No, this in Scripture is condemned as Will-worſhip, Col. 2. 20, 22, 23. Wherefore if ye be dead with Chriſt from the rudiments of the world, why, as though living in the world are ye ſubject to ordinances? &c. Which things indeed have a ſhew of wiſdom in will-worſhip, &c.

Q. 4. Why cannot Man inſtitute a Divine Ordinance?

A. He cannot do it, becauſe its the prerogative belonging to Chriſts Kingly Office, Matth. 28. 20. Teaching them to obſerve all things whatſoever I have commanded you.

Q. 5. For what other reaſon cannot man do it?

A. Becauſe he cannot bleſs them, and make them effectual to their ends, but they will be in vain, Matth. 15. 9. But in vain do they worſhip me, teaching for doctrines, the commandments of men.

Q. 6. Why are the Ordinances called means of Salvation?

A. Becauſe by and through them, the Spirit of the Lord conveys Spiritual Graces into Mens Souls, 1 Cor. 1. 21. It pleaſed God by the fooliſhneſs of preaching to ſave them that believe. 1 Cor. 3. 5. Not that we are ſufficient of our ſelves to think any thing as of our ſelves: but our ſufficiency is of God.

Q. 7. Whence is the vertue of Ordinances?

A. 'Tis not in and from themſelves, or the gifts and abilities of him that adminiſters them, but from the Bleſſing and Spirit of the Lord, 1 Cor. 3. 7. Neither is he that planteth any thing, neither he that watereth, but God that giveth the increaſe.

Q. 8. Do all Gods Ordinances attain their end?

A. Yes, there is none of them in vain, but do attain their end, in the Salvation or Damnation of all that come under them, Iſa. 55. 10, 11. For as the rain cometh down, and the ſnow from heaven, and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it bring forth and bud, that it may give ſeed to the ſower and bread to the eater: So ſhall my word be that goeth forth out of my mouth: it ſhall not return unto me void, but it ſhall accompliſh that which I pleaſe, and it ſhall proſper in the thing whereto I ſend it. 2 Cor. 2. 15, 16. For we are unto God a ſweet ſavour of Chriſt, in them that are ſaved, and in them that periſh: To the one we are the ſavour of death unto death, and to the other the ſavour of life unto life, &c.

Q. 9. Are inſtituted Ordinances the only means of Salvation?

A. They are not the only means; for God ca convert Men to Chriſt without them, Acts 9. 4, 5. And he fell to the earth, and heard a voice, ſaying unto him, Saul, Saul, why perſecuteſt thou me? And he ſaid, who art thou, Lord! and the Lord ſaid, I am Jeſus whom thou perſecuteſt: It is hard for thee to kick againſt the pricks. But they are the ordinary ſtanding means, Rom. 10. 14, 15. How then ſhall they call on him in whom they have not believed? and how ſhall they believe in him, of whom they have not heard? and how ſhall they hear without a preacher? and how ſhall they preach except they be ſent? &c.

Q. 10. To whom are the Ordinances made effectual to Salvation?

A. To all Gods elect they are effectual to Salvation, and to them only, Acts 13. 48. As many were ordained to eternal life, believed. John 10. 2 But ye believe not, becauſe ye are not of my ſhee &c.

Q. 11. What's the firſt inſtruction from hence?

A. That great preparation is due to all the Or nances before we engage in them, Job 11. 13, 14 thou prepare thine heart, and ſtretch out thy ha towards him. If iniquity be in thine hand, put far away, and let not wickedneſs dwell in thy tab nacles; 1 Cor. 29. 18. And prepare their heart u thee.

Q. 12. What's the ſecond Inference from hen

A. That great Reverence is due to Gods Or nances, when we are actually engaged in the uſe them, Pſal. 89. 7. God is greatly to be feared in aſſembly of the ſaints: and to be had in reverence all them that are about him.

Q. 13. Wh

Q. 13. What's the third Inference from hence?

A. That thoſe People that want Ordinances, are in a ſad and deplorable Condition, Eph. 2. 11, 12. Wherefore remember that ye being in time paſſed Gentiles in the Fleſh, who are called uncircumciſion by that which is called the Circumciſion in the Fleſh made by Hands; that at that time ye were without Chriſt, being aliens from the Common-wealth of Iſrael, and Strangers from the Covenant of Promiſe, having no hope, and without God in the World.

Q. 14. What's the laſt Inſtruction hence?

A. That thoſe that periſh in the midſt of Ordinances, and means of Salvation, periſh with aggravated Perdition, Matth. 11. 23. And thou Capernaum, which are exalted unto Heaven, ſhalt be brought down to Hell; for if the mighty works, which have been done in thee, had been done in Sodom, it would have remained until this Day.

Of the Word read and heard.

Queſt. 89. HOw is the Word made Effectual to Salvation?

A. The Spirit of God maketh the reading, but eſpecially the Preaching of the Word, an Effectual Means of convincing and converting Sinners; and building them up in Holineſs and Comfort, through Faith unto Salvation.

Q. 1. What mean you by the Word?

A. By the Word is meant the Word of God, conſigned to writing in the Books of the Old and New Teſtament, which though it be miniſtred by Men, yet it is no other than the Word of God, and as ſuch to be received, 1 Theſſ. 2. 13. For this cauſe alſo thank we God without ceaſing, becauſe when ye received the Word of God, which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the Word of Men: But (as it is in Truth) the Word of God, &c.

Q. 2. Whence is the Efficacy of this Word?

A. It is wholly from the Spirit of God that it becomes Effectual to any Mans Salvation, 1 Cor. 3. 6, 7. I have planted, and Apollo watered, but God gave the increaſe. So then neither is he that planteth any thing, neither he that watereth; but God that giveth the increaſe.

Q. 3. Is the reading of the Scripture an Ordinance of God for Mens Salvation?

A. Yes, it is, Deut. 17. 19. And it ſhall be with him, and he ſhall read therein all the Days of his Life, that he may learn to fear the Lord his God, to keep all the Words of this Law, and theſe Statutes to do them. And in reading of it, God ſometimes comes in by his Spirit to Mens Converſion, Acts 8. 27, 28, 29. And he aroſe and went, and behold a Man of Ethiopia, an eunuch of great Authority under Candace Queen of the Ethiopians, who had the Charge of all her Treaſure, and had come to Jeruſalem for to worſhip, was returning, and ſitting in his Chariot, read Iſaias the Prophet. Then the Spirit ſaid to Philip, go near, and join thy ſelf to his Chariot, &c.

Q. 4. Is the hearing of the Word a means of Salvation?

A. Yes, it is, Iſa. 55. 3. Incline your ear, and come unto me; hear, and your Soul ſhall live, &c. Cor. 1. 21. It pleaſed God by the fooliſhneſs of Preaching to ſave them that believe?

Q. 5. To what end is the Word uſeful to Men?

A. The firſt end and uſe of the Word is to convince Men of their Sin and Miſery out of Chriſt, Cor. 14. 24, 25. But if all Propheſie, and there come in one that believeth not, or one unlearned: He is convinced of all, he is judged of all. And thus are the ſecrets of his Heart made manifeſt, &c.

Q. 6. What is it uſeful for beſides Conviction?

A. 'Tis uſeful for Converſion, as well as Conviction, Pſalm 19. 7. The Law of the Lord is perfect, converting the Soul, &c. Acts 26. 18. To turn them from darkneſs to light, and from the Power of Satan unto God, &c.

Q. 7. Doth the Word convince and convert all that hear it?

A. No, but thoſe only that are ordained to Eternal Life, Acts 13. 48. As many as were ordained to Eternal Life believed.

Q. 8. What elſe is the Word uſeful for?

A. To build up the Saints to Perfection in Chriſt, Eph. 4. 11, 12, 13. And he gave ſome Apoſtles, and ſome Prophets, and ſome Evangeliſts, and ſome Paſtors and Teachers; for the perfecting of the Saints, for the Work of the Miniſtry, for the edifying of the Body of Chriſt: Till we all come in the unity of the Faith, and of the Knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect Man; unto the meaſure of the ſtature of the fulneſs in Chriſt. Acts 20. 32. And now Brethren, I commend you to God, and to the Word of his Grace, which is able to build you up, and give you an Inheritance among all them that are ſanctified.

Q. 9. May the common People read the Scriptures?

A. Yes, 'tis a Duty commanded by Chriſt, John 5. 39. Search the Scriptures, &c. and commended by the Apoſtle, Acts 17. 11. Theſe were more noble than thoſe in Theſſalonica, in that they received the Word with all readineſs of mind, and ſearched the Scriptures daily, whether thoſe things were ſo.

Q. 10. Is it their Duty or Liberty alſo to Preach it?

A. No, it is not, for beſides Abilities for that Work, there muſt be a call, Rom. 10. 14, 15. How ſhall they hear without a Preacher, and how ſhall they preach except they be ſent? &c.

Q. 11. What's the firſt Inſtruction from hence?

A. That the enjoyments of the Scripture, and an able faithful Miniſtry to expound and apply them, is a ſpecial Mercy to any People, Pſalm 147. 19, 20. He ſheweth his Word unto Jacob, his Statutes and Judgments unto Iſrael, he hath not dealt ſo with any Nation, and as for his Judgments they have not known them.

Q. 12. What's the ſecond Inſtruction?

A. That Men cannot expect Special and Spiritual Bleſſings from God in the wilful neglect of the Ordinances, Prov. 28. 9. He that turneth away his Ear from hearing the Law, even his Prayer ſhall be Abomination.

Q. 13. What's the third Inference?

A. That ſad is their Condition, who ſit all their Days under the Word to no Purpoſe at all, 2 Cor. 4. 3, 4. If our Goſpel be hid, it is hid to them that are loſt: In whom the God of this World hath blinded the Minds of them which believe not, leſt the Light of the glorious Goſpel of Chriſt, who is the Image of God, ſhould ſhine into them.

Q. 14 What's the laſt Inference?

A. That Chriſts Ordinances and Miniſters ſhould be moſt welcome to the People to whom God ſends them, Iſa. 52. 7. How beautiful upon the Mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publiſheth Peace, that publiſheth Salvation, that ſaith unto Zion, thy God reigneth.

Of the manner of Hearing.

Queſt. 90. How is the Word to be read and heard, that it may become effectual to Salvation?

A. That the Word may become effectual to Salvation, we muſt attend thereunto with Diligence, Preparation and Prayer, receive it with Faith and Love, lay it up in our Hearts, and practiſe it in our Lives.

Q. 1. If the matter we read or hear be good, is not that enough for our ſalvation?

A. No, God requires that the Word be read and heard in a due manner, and the manner of hearing is of ſpecial regard with God, Luke 8. 18. Take heed therefore how ye hear, &c.

Q. 2. How many things belong to the due manner of hearing?

A. Three ſorts of Duties belong to it; ſome antecedent, as, preparation and prayer; ſome concomitant, as due diligence and retention; and ſome ſubſequent, as practiſe.

Q. 3. What is due preparation for hearing?

A. It conſiſts in ſerious conſideration of the greatneſs and holineſs of that God, whom we approach in hearing the Word, Acts 10. 33. Now therefore we are all here preſent before God, to hear all things that are commanded thee of God. And awing the heart even to a degree of holy trembling thereby, Iſa. 66. 2. To him will I look, even to him that is poor and of a contrite ſpirit, and trembleth at my word.

Q. 4. What's the principal conſideration thus to awe the heart?

A. The Word is in its own nature an heart-ſearching Word, Heb. 4. 12. For the word of God is quick and powerful, and ſharper than any two-edged ſword, piercing even to the dividing aſunder of ſoul and ſpirit, and of the joynts and marrow, and is a diſcerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart. And that eventually 'twill be the ſavour of Life or Death to us, 2 Cor. 2. 16. To the one we are the ſavour of death unto death; and to the other the ſavour of life unto life, &c.

Q. 5. What elſe belongs to due preparation to hear?

A. The diſcharging of the heart from worldly cares, Matth. 13. 7. And fell among thorns, and the thorns ſprang up and choaked them. And carnal luſts, Jam. 1. 21. Wherefore lay apart all filthineſs and ſuperfluity of naughtineſs, and receive with meekneſs the ingrafted word, which is able to ſave your ſouls.

Q. 6. What's the third Act of due preparation?

A. Longing after the Word for further communications of Grace by it, 1 Pet 2. 2. As new born babes deſire the ſincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby. Iſa. 2. 3. And many people ſhall go and ſay, come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, to the houſe of the God of Jacob, and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for out of Zion ſhall go forth the law, and the word of the Lord from Jeruſalem.

Q. 7. What's the ſecond antecedent duty of hearing?

A. Prayer is an antecedent duty to hearing the Word, and that both for the aſſiſtance of the Miniſter, 2 Theſſ. 3. 1. Finally, brethren, pray for us, that the word of the Lord may have free courſe, and be glorified, even as it is with you: And our own illumination, Pſal. 119. 18. Open thou mine eyes, that I may behold wondrous things out of thy law.

Q. 8. What elſe ſhould we pray for?

A. That God would pour out his Spirit with the Word according to that promiſe, Prov. 1. 23. I will pour out my ſpirit upon you, I will make known my words unto you.

Q. 9. Doth unpreparedneſs for the Word always hinder its efficacy on the heart?

A. No, God ſometimes is found of them that ſought him not, Iſa. 65. 1. I was found of them that ſought me not, &c. But it is a ſin to neglect it, and needs a pardon of God.

Q. 10. What's the firſt motive to prepare for ſolemn duties?

A. That it argues the ſincerity of the heart, and in that caſe God will be merciful to infirmities, 2 Chron. 30. 18, 19. For a multitude of the people, even a multitude of Ephraim and Manaſſeth, Iſſachar and Zebulun had not cleanſed themſelves, yet did eat the paſſover, but not as it is written: Wherefore Hezekiah prayed for them, ſaying, the good Lord be merciful towards him, that prepareth his whole heart to ſeek the Lord God, the God of his fathers, though he be not cleanſed according to the purification of the ſanctuary.

Q. 11. What's the ſecond motive?

A. 'Tis a ſweet ſign that God will make that duty ſucceſsful for which the heart is prepared, Pſal. 10. 17. Thou prepareſt their heart: thou bendeſt thine ear to them.

Q. 12. What's the third motive to preparation?

A. The majeſty and jealouſie of God, to whom we approach, obliges us to ſolemn preparation, Heb. 12. 28, 29. Whereby we may ſerve God acceptably, with reverence and godly fear; for our God is a conſuming fire.

Q. 13. But muſt a man neglect the duty if his heart be not duly prepared for it?

A. No, for that would be to add a new ſin to a former, and aggravate it the more.

Q. 14. In what manner muſt the prepared heart go to the word?

A. Not in dependance on its own preparations, but upon the Spirit's aſſiſtance, Pſa. 71. 16. I will go forward in the ſt rength of the Lord God, &c.

Q. 15. What's the firſt act of Faith due to the Word?

A. The aſſenting act of Faith is required to the Word read or preached, whereby we acknowledge it to be of Divine Authority, 2 Tim. 3. 16. And without controverſie, great is the myſtery of godlineſs: God was manifeſt in the fleſh, juſtified in the ſpirit, ſeen of angels, preached unto the Gentiles, believed on in the world, received up into glory. 2 Pet. 1. 21. For the propheſie came not in old time by the will of man: but holy men of God ſpake as thy were moved by the Holy Ghoſt.

Q. 16. What's the ſecond act of Faith required us?

A. An applying act of Faith is alſo required us, Rom. 15. 4. For whatſoever things were writt afore-time, were written for our learning, that through patience and comfort of the ſcriptu might have hope.

Q. 17. What's the firſt end in applying the Word?

A. It is firſt to be applyed to our conviction bo of ſin and miſery, Acts 2. 37. Now when th heard this, they were pricked in their hearts, a ſaid unto Peter, and to the reſt of the apoſtl men and brethren, what ſhall we do?

Q. 18. What's the ſecond end, or uſe of applying

A.

A. It muſt be applied for our Guidance and Direction to Chriſt, John 6. 4, 5. Every Man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, cometh unto me.

Q. 19. What's the Third Uſe to which it muſt be applied?

A. We muſt apply it for our Direction through the whole Courſe of Chriſtian Duties, 2 Pet. 1. 19. We have alſo a more ſure word of Propheſie; whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto a Light that ſhineth in a dark Place, until the Day dawn, and the Day Star ariſe in your Hearts.

Q. 20. What other Uſe muſt we apply it to?

A. It muſt be applied for our Comfort in all inward and outward Troubles, Rom. 15. 4. For whatſoever things were written afore time, were written for our Learning, that we through Patience and Comfort of the Scriptures might have hope.

Q. 21. On what Account are we to receive it with Love?

A. We are to Love it for its Authors ſake, becauſe it's the Word of God, Pſalm 119. 159. Conſider how I love thy Precepts, &c.

Q. 22. What's the ſecond Motive of Love to the Word?

A. The Holineſs and Purity of it deſerves and engages our Love to it, Pſalm 119. 140. Thy Word is very pure: Therefore thy Servant loveth it.

Q. 23. What's the Third Motive to engage our Love to it?

A. The great and conſtant uſefulneſs of it to our Souls, as that we cannot ſubſiſt without, Job 23. 12. I have eſteemed the Words of his Mouth more than my neceſſary Food.

Q. 24. How doth this Love to the Word manifeſt it ſelf?

A. Our Love manifeſts it ſelf in our longing after it, Pſalm 119. 20. My Soul breaketh for the longing that it hath unto thy Judgments at all Times. Our diligent Attendance on it, Acts 10. 33. Immediately therefore I ſent unto thee, and thou haſt well done that thou art come. Now therefore are we all here preſent before God, to hear all things that are commanded thee of God.

Q. 25. How is Faith and Love evidenced to the Word after hearing it?

A. By preſerving it carefully in our Hearts and Memories, Pſalm 119. 11. Thy Word have I bid in my Heart: That I might not Sin againſt thee.

Q. 26. What's the beſt Cure for a bad Memory?

A. Labour to get an high eſteem of it, and an experimental feeling of it, and frequently meditate on it, Pſalm 119. 16. I will delight my ſelf in thy Statutes: I will not forget thy Word. Pſalm 119. 93. I will never forget thy Precepts; for with them thou haſt quickened me. Pſalm 119. 99. Thy Teſtimonies are my Meditation.

Q. 26. How is Faith and Love principally manifeſted to the Word after hearing?

A. 'Tis principally manifeſted by bringing forth the Fruits of it in our Lives, Col. 1. 5, 6. For the Hope which is laid up for you in Heaven, whereof ye heard before in the Word of the Truth of the Goſpel, which is come unto you, as it is in all the World, and bringeth forth Fruit, as it doth alſo in you, ſince the day ye heard of it, and knew the Grace of God in Truth.

Q. 28. What's the Uſe of all this?

A. This ſerves to reprove our formal and dead hearing the Word, and excites us all to evidence and exerciſe more Faith, Love and Obedience in hearing it.

Of Sacraments as means of Salvation.

Queſt. 91. HOw do the Sacraments become effectual means of Salvation?

A. The Sacraments become effectual means of Salvation, not from any Vertue in them, or in him that doth adminiſter them, but only by the Bleſſing of Chriſt, and the working of his Spirit in them, that by Faith receive them.

Q. 1. What's the firſt proper Senſe of this Word Sacrament?

A. It primarily ſignifies a ſolemn Oath taken by Souldiers when they Liſt themſelves under a Prince or General; and this Oath was mutual.

Q. 2. Why do we uſe it, ſeeing it is not a Scripture Word?

A. Though the Word be not found in Scripture, yet the thing intended by it is, and that brings the Word in uſe, for in the Sacraments God obliges himſelf to us by confirming his Covenant by it, Rom. 4. 11. And he received the Sign of Circumciſion, a ſeal of the Righteouſneſs of the Faith, which he had yet being uncircumciſed: That he might be the Father of all them that believe, though they be not circumciſed, that Righteouſneſs might be imputed unto them alſo. And we oblige our ſelves to God, Rom. 6. 3, 4. Know ye not that ſo many of us as were baptized into Chriſt, were baptized into his Death? Therefore we are buried with him in Baptiſm into Death, that like as Chriſt was raiſed up from the Dead by the Glory of the Father, even ſo we alſo ſhould walk in newneſs of Life.

Q. 3. What is here meant by Salvation?

A. By Salvation is meant our compleat and final Deliverance from Sin and Miſery, both Temporal and Eternal. From Sin, Math. 1. 21. For he ſhall ſave his People from their Sins. From Miſery, 1 Theſ. 1. 10. Even Jeſus which delivereth us from the wrath to come.

Q. 4. What is a mean of Salvation?

A. A Mean of Salvation ſignifies any Appointment of God, whereby he promotes and accompliſhes his Deſign of ſaving our Souls, ſo the Word is a Mean, Rom. 1. 16. For I am not aſhamed of the Goſpel of Chriſt, for it is the Power of God unto Salvation, to every one that believeth.

Q. 5. How doth the Word and Sacraments differ as means of Salvation?

A. The Word is appointed to be the firſt means of begetting Faith, 1 Cor. 3. 5. Who then is Paul? Or who is Apollo? but Miniſters by whom ye believed, &c. Sacraments are to Seal and Confirm it, Rom. 4. 11. And he received the Sign of Circumciſion, a Seal of the Righteouſneſs of Faith, &c.

Q. 6. What is meant by an Effectual Mean of Salvation?

A. By an Effectual Mean, is meant ſuch a mean as fully obtains and accompliſhes the end it was appointed for, 1 Theſſ. 2. 13. Becauſe when ye received the Word of God, which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the Word of Men; but (as it is in Truth) the Word of God, which effectually worketh alſo in you that believe.

Q. 7. Don't all the means of Salvation prove Effectual to Men?

A. Though the Means of Salvation prove Effectual to Gods Elect, yet they are ſo to no others, Acts 28. 23, 24. And when they had appointed him a day, there came many to him into his Lodging, to whom he expounded and teſtified the Kingdom of God, perſwading them concerning Jeſus, both out of the Law of Moſes, and out of the Prophets from Morning till Evening. And ſome believed the Things which were ſpoken, and ſome believed not.

Q. 8. Do not the Sacraments ſave all that partake of them?

A. No, they do not; Baptiſm may paſs on a caſt-away, Acts 8. 23. For I perceive that thou art in the gall of bitterneſs, and in the bond of Iniquity. And the Lords Supper may be received unworthily, 1 Cor. 11. 27. Wherefore whoſoever ſhall eat this Bread, and drink this Cup of the Lord unworthily, ſhall be guilty of the Body and Blood of the Lord.

Q. 9. What's the Reaſon they prove not Effectual to all?

A. Becauſe their Vertue and Efficacy is not in themſelves, but in God; for we ſee they Work as Gods Spirit concurs, or not concurs with them, as in the Inſtance before given.

Q. 10. But is not that for want of Wiſdom, Holineſs or Zeal in the Miniſter, that they have no more Efficacy?

A. No, it is not principally, or only from thence; for it's not in the Power of the holieſt Miniſter in the World to make them effectual, 1 Cor. 3. 7. Neither is he that planteth any thing, neither he that watereth: But God that giveth the increaſe.

Q. 11. Whence is it that Sacraments become Effectual?

A. 'Tis only from the Spirit of Chriſt working in them, and by them, on the Souls of Men, 1 Cor. 12. 13. For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one Body, —— and have been all made to drink into one Spirit.

Q. 12. What's the firſt Inſtruction hence?

A. That Men enjoying all the Ordinances of the Goſpel, and partaking of the Sacraments annexed to the Covenant of Grace, may yet periſh for ever, 1 Cor. 10. 3, 4, 5. And did all eat the ſame ſpiritual Meat: And did all drink the ſame ſpiritual drink; (for they drank of that ſpiritual rock that followed them: And that Rock was Chriſt) but with many of them God was not well pleaſed: For they were overthrown in the Wilderneſs. Luke 13. 26, 27. Then ſhall ye begin to ſay, we have eaten, and drank in thy preſence, and thou haſt taught in our ſtreets. But he ſhall ſay, I tell you, I know you not whence you are; depart from me all ye Workers of Iniquity.

Q. 13. What's the ſecond Inference?

A. That Men ſhould not idolize ſome Miniſters for the Excellency of their Gifts, and deſpiſe others, ſeeing 'tis not in them to make the Means Effectual.

Q. 14. What's the laſt Inference?

A. That in all our Attendance upon the Means of Salvation, we ſhould be careful to beg the Spirit and Bleſſing of Chriſt, without which they cannot be Effectual to our Salvation.

Of the Nature of Sacraments.

Queſt. 92. What is a Sacrament?

A. A Sacrament is an Holy Ordinance inſtituted by Chriſt; wherein by ſenſible ſigns, Chriſt and the Benefits of the New Covenant are repreſented, ſealed and applied to Believers.

Q. 1. How many ſorts of Sacraments are found in Scripture?

A. Of Sacraments there are two Sorts, ſome extraordinary and tranſient, as the Fiery Pillar, Manna, and Water out of the Rock, 1 Cor. 10. 1, 2, 3, 4. Moreover, Brethren, I would not that ye ſhould be ignorant, how that all our Fathers were under the Cloud, and all paſſed through the Sea: And were all baptized unto Moſes in the Cloud, and in the Sea: And did all eat the ſame ſpiritual Meat: And did all drink the ſame ſpiritual Drink (for they drank of that ſpiritual Rock that followed them; and that Rock was Chriſt). And ſome ordinary and ſtanding, as Circumciſion and the Paſſover, before Chriſt; and Baptiſm and the Lords Supper ſince Chriſts Death.

Q. 2. How many things are to be conſidered in every Sacrament?

A. In every Sacrament five Things muſt be conſidered, (1.) The Author. (2.) The Parts. (3.) The Union of thoſe Parts. (4.) The Subjects. (5.) The Ends and Uſes of it.

Q. 3. Who is the Author of the Sacraments?

A. The Lord Jeſus Chriſt as King of the Church, by whoſe ſole Authority Baptiſm was inſtituted, Matth. 28. 19, 20. Go ye therefore and teach all Nations, baptizing them in the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghoſt: Teaching them to obſerve all things whatſoever I have commanded you, &c. And the Lords Supper, 1 Cor. 11. 23, 24. For I have received of the Lord that which alſo I delivered unto you, that the Lord Jeſus, the ſame Night in which he was betrayed, took Bread, and when he had given thanks, he brake it, and ſaid, Take, eat, this is my Body, which is broken for you: This do in remembrance of me.

Q. 4 Are the old Sacraments yet in being and uſe in the Church?

A. No, they are paſt away, and the new come in their room. Baptiſm takes place of Circumciſion, Col. 2. 11, 12. In whom alſo ye are circumciſed with the Circumciſion made without Hands, in putting off the Body of the Sins of the Fleſh by the Circumciſion of Chriſt: Buried with him in Baptiſm, &c. And the Lords Supper of the Paſſover, 1 Cor. 5. 7. Purge out therefore the old Leaven, that ye may be a new Lump, as ye are unleavened, for even Chriſt our Paſſover is ſacrificed for us.

Q. 5. Of what parts doth every Sacrament conſiſt?

A. Every Sacrament conſiſts of two Parts, one external and earthly; another internal and Heavenly, or Spritual. Bread, Wine and Water, are the external, Chriſts Blood and Spirit the internal Parts, Rom. 6. 3. Know ye not that ſo many of us as were baptized into Jeſus Chriſt were baptized into his Death 1 Cor. 11. 25. This Cup is the New Teſtament in my Blood, &c.

Q. 6. Wherein conſiſts the Sacramental Union of theſe Parts?

A. It conſiſts by Vertue of Chriſts Inſtitution i Three Things, (1.) In apt Signification. (2.) Fir Obſignation. And (3.) Real Exhibition of the Ble ſings ſignified and ſealed.

Q. 7. What are the Bleſſings ſignified by Water Baptiſm?

A. It ſignifies our Implantation into Chriſt, an Communion with him in his Death and Reſurrecti on, Rom. 6. 4. Therefore we are buried with him by ba tiſm into Death, that like as Chriſt was raiſed up fro the Dead by the Glory of the Father; even ſo we al ſhould walk in newneſs of Life. And our ſolemn A miſſion into the viſible Church, Gal. 3 26, 27, 2 29. For ye are all the Children of God by Faith in Chri Jeſus. For as many of you as have been baptized i Chriſt, have put on Chriſt. There is neither Jew, n

Gre

Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither Male nor Female: For ye are all one in Chriſt Jeſus. And if ye be Chriſts, then are ye Abrahams ſeed, and Heirs according to the Promiſe.

Q. 8. What are the Bleſſings ſignified by Bread and Wine?

A. They ſignifie Chriſts Body and Blood, broken and poured out for us, with all the Bleſſings of Remiſſion, Peace and Salvation purchaſed by his Blood, 1 Cor. 10. 16, 17. The Cup of Bleſſing which we bleſs, is it not the Communion of the Blood of Chriſt? The Bread which we break, is it not the Communion of the Body of Chriſt? For we being many, are one Bread, and one Body: For we are all partakers of that one Bread.

Q. 9. Do the Sacraments ſeal, as well as ſignifie theſe Things?

A. Yes, they do, Rom. 4. 11. And he received the ſign of Circumciſion, a ſeal of the Righteouſneſs of the Faith, &c. Their Uſe is to confirm Gods Covenant with Believers.

Q. 10. Who are the proper Subjects of the Sacraments?

A. Believers and their Seed are the Subjects of Baptiſm, but adult Chriſtians only of the Lords Supper, Acts 2. 38, 39. Repent and be baptized every one of you, for the Promiſe is unto you, and to your Children, even as many as the Lord our God ſhall call. 1 Cor. 11. 28. But let a Man examine himſelf, and ſo let him eat of that Bread, and drink of that Cup.

Q. 11. What is the main Uſe and End of Sacraments?

A. It is to ratifie and confirm Gods Covenant with Believers, Rom. 4. 21. And he received the ſign of Circumciſion, a ſeal of the Righteouſneſs of the Faith, that he had yet being uncircumciſed, &c. 1 Cor. 11. 26. For as often as ye eat this Bread, and drink this Cup, ye do ſhew the Lord's Death till he come.

Q. 12. What's the firſt Inſtruction from hence?

A. That the abuſe of ſuch holy and ſolemn Myſteries, is a Sin of dreadful Aggravation, and ſuch as God will puniſh, 1 Cor. 11. 27. Wherefore whoſoever ſhall eat this Bread, and drink this Cup of the Lord unworthily, ſhall be guilty of the Body and Blood of the Lord.

Q. 13. What's the ſecond Inſtruction?

A. Hence we learn the tender care and love of Chriſt over the Church in inſtituting ſuch uſeful and comfortable Ordinances for us.

Of the Number of Sacraments.

Queſt. 93. Which are the Sacraments of the New Teſtament?

A. The Sacraments of the New Teſtament are Baptiſm, and the Lords Supper.

Q. 1. How many Sacraments hath Chriſt appointed in the New Teſtament?

A. Chriſt hath appointed two and no more, theſe being ſufficient for our Initiation and Confirmation.

Q. 2. How many have the Papiſts added to them?

A. They have added Five more, viz. Confirmation, Penance, Ordination, Marriage and Extream Unction.

Q. 3. What is their Sacrament of Confirmation?

A. It is the anointing of the Baptiſed with Chriſm in the Forehead, with this Form of Words, I ſign thee with the ſign of the Croſs, and confirm thee with the Chriſm of Salvation, in the Name of the Father, Son and Holy Ghoſt.

Q. 4, What's their ground for this Practice?

A. The abuſe of that Scripture, Heb. 6. 2. Of the Doctrine of Baptiſms, and laying on of Hands, &c. Which by a figurative Speech, expreſſeth the whole ſtanding Miniſtry in the Church by laying on of Hands.

Q. 5. What's their Sacrament of Penance?

A. It is Repentance manifeſted by outward Signs; to which the word of Abſolution coming, makes it a Sacrament miſgrounded on, John 20. 23. Whoſeſoever Sins ye remit, they are remitted unto them; and whoſeſoever Sins ye retain, they are retained.

Q. 6. What is their Sacrament of Orders or Ordination?

A. It is the laying on of Hands in Ordination of Miniſters, by which they conceive Spiritual Grace is given by miſtake of, 2 Tim. 1. 6. Wherefore I put thee in remembrance that thou ſtir up the Gift of God which is in thee, by the putting on of my Hands.

Q. 7. What's their fourth ſuperadded Sacrament?

A. It is Marriage, grounded upon thoſe Words of the Apoſtle, Eph. 5. 32. This is a great Myſtery; but I ſpeak concerning Chriſt and the Church. Which only ſhews a ſimilitude of our Union with Chriſt, not an inſtituted Sign to that End.

Q. 8. What is their fifth ſuperadded Sacrament?

A. Extream Unction, or anointing the Sick near Death with conſecrated Oyl, grounded on Mark 6. 13. And anointed with oyl many that were ſick and healed them. And James 5. 14. Is any ſick among you? Let him call for the Elders of the Church, and let them pray over him, anointing him with oyl in the Name of the Lord. Which are neither Sacramental Rites, nor of ordinary ſtanding Uſe in the Church, but extraordinary and temporary for that Age.

Q. 9. What learn we hence?

A Hence we learn how apt Men are to corrupt Gods Ordinances by their Superſtitious Additions, Matth. 15. 9. Teaching for Doctrines the Commandments of Men.

Q. 9. What's the ſecond Inſtruction hence?

A. How juſt and neceſſary our Separation from Rome is, who have groſly corrupted Gods Ordinances, and left Men no other Remedy, Rev. 13. 6. And he opened his Mouth in blaſphemy againſt God, to blaſpheme his Name and his Tabernacles, and them that dwelt in Heaven.

Q. 11. What's the Third Inſtruction?

A. That the Reformation of Religion is an invaluable Mercy, a great Deliverance from Spiritual Bondage, Rev. 11. 19. And the Temple of God was opened in Heaven, and there was ſeen in his Temple the Ark of this Teſtament, and there were Lightnings, and Voices, and Thunderings, and an Earthquake, and great Hail.

Q 12. What's the fourth Inſtruction?

A. That Rome ſhall certainly fall, and all her Adherents, for the horrid injury done by them to Chriſt, and the Souls of Men, Rev. 18. 20, 21. Rejoyce over her thou Heaven, and ye holy Apoſtles and Prophets; for God hath avenged you on her. And a mighty Angel took up a Stone like a great Milſtone, and caſt it into the Sea, ſaying, thus with Violence ſhall that great City Babylon be thrown down, and ſhall be found no more at all.

What is Baptiſm?

Queſt. 94. What is Baptiſm?

A. Baptiſm is a Sacrament, wherein the waſhing of Water, in the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghoſt, doth ſignifie and ſeal our ingrafting unto Chriſt, and partaking of the benefits of the Covenant of Grace and our engagement to be the Lords.

Q. 1. What is the external part of Baptiſm?

A. It is pure unmixed Water, Heb. 10. 22. And our bodies waſhed with pure water. And therefore its a vile practice of Papiſts to add Oyl, Salt and Spittle to Water in Baptiſm.

Q. 2. What doth Water in Baptiſm ſignifie?

A. It ſignifies the Blood of Chriſt, Rev. 1. 5. Unto him that loved us, and waſhed us from our ſins in his own blood.

Q. 3. What's the firſt reſemblance it hath to Chriſts Blood?

A. In the freeneſs of it to all, it repreſents the unpurchaſed Blood of Chriſt, Iſa. 55. 1. Ho, every one that thirſteth, come ye to the waters; and he that hath no money, come ye, buy and eat, yea, come, buy wine and milk without money, and without price.

Q. 4. What's the ſecond reſemblance to Chriſts Blood?

A. It reſembles it in its refreſhing quality; Water refreſheth the thirſty; ſo doth Chriſts Blood, John 6. 35. He that believeth on me, ſhall never thirſt.

Q. 5. What's the third reſemblance it hath to Chriſts Blood?

A. The cleanſing property of Water ſhews the purifying vertue of Chriſt Blood, Heb. 9. 14. How much more ſhall the blood of Chriſt, who through the eternal ſpirit, offered himſelf without ſpot to God, purge your conſcience from dead works, to ſerve the living God.

Q. 6. What's the fourth reſemblance it hath to Chriſts Blood?

A. It reſembles it in the neceſſity of it; for as the Body cannot live without Water, ſo neither can the Soul without Chriſts Blood, Heb. 9. 23. It was therefore neceſſary, that the paterns of things in the heavens ſhould be purified with theſe, but the heavenly things themſelves with better ſacrifices than theſe.

Q. 7. What's the fifth reſemblance of Water to the Blood of Chriſt?

A. As Water neither refreſhes, nor purifies the Body without application; ſo neither doth Chriſts Blood refreſh or purifie the Soul till applyed, 1 Cor. 1. 30. But of him are ye in Chriſt Jeſus, who of God is made unto us wiſdom and righteouſneſs, and ſanctification and redemption.

Q. 8. Is it neceſſary to plunge the whole body under water in Baptizing every perſon?

A. The word [Baptize] ſignifying as well to waſh, as to plunge: A perſon may be truly Baptized that is not plunged. And we cannot think by the circumſtances of time and place, that the Jaylor in the night was carryed to a River out of the City, Acts 16. 33. And he took them the ſame hour of the night, and waſhed their ſtripes, and was baptized, he, and all his, ſtraight-way.

Q. 9. But is it not ſaid, John 3. 23. That John was baptizing in Ænon near to Salim, becauſe there was much water there; and they came and were baptized?

A. The word ſignifies many waters (that is) ſprings of waters there, which are known by Travellers to be ſmall, not capable of plunging into.

Q. 10. What are the benefits accruing to us by Baptiſm?

A. The benefits are twofold; ſome external, called the fatneſs of the Olive-tree, (i.e.) Ordinances and viſible Memberſhip, Rom. 11. 17. And thou being a wild olive-tree, wert grafted in among them, and with them, partakeſt of the root and fatneſs of the olive-tree. And ſome ſpiritual and ſaving, 1 Pet. 3. 21. The like figure whereunto, even baptiſm, doth alſo now ſave us (not the putting away the filth of the fleſh, but the anſwer of a good conſcience towards God) by the reſurrection of Jeſus Chriſt.

Q. 11. What engagements are laid on the Baptized?

A. They are engaged to be the Lords people, and walk ſuitable to that engagement, Rom. 6. 4. Therefore we are buried with him by baptiſm into death, that like as Chriſt was raiſed up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even ſo we alſo ſhould walk in newneſs of Life.

Q. 12. Is Baptiſm to be reiterated as the Lords Supper?

A. No, for the Lords Supper is the Sacrament for nouriſhing, but this for implantation, Rom. 6. 4, 5. Therefore we are buried with him by baptiſm into death, that like as Chriſt was raiſed up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even ſo we alſo ſhould walk in newneſs of life. For if we have been planted together in the likeneſs of his death, we ſhall be alſo in the likeneſs of his reſurrection.

Q. 13. Doth Baptiſm regenerate men, and confer ſaving Grace?

A. No, it doth not in its own vertue convey Grace, no more than the Lords Supper; but the Spirt of Go is the Author of Grace, and works it as he pleaſe before, or after Baptiſm.

Of the ſubjects of Baptiſm.

Queſt. 95. TO whom is Baptiſm to be adminiſtred?

A. Baptiſm is not to be adminiſtred to an that are out of the viſible Church, till they profeſs their Faith to Chriſt, and Obedience t him, but the infants of ſuch as are members o the viſible Church are to be Baptized.

Q. 1. Who are to be Baptized?

A. Believers and their infant off-ſpring, Acts 2. 3 For the promiſe is to you, and your children, and t all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord ou God ſhall call.

Q. 2. How doth it appear that the infant ſeed o Believers ought to be Baptized?

A. It appears by this, that they being Abrahan Seed, were taken into Covenant with God, and ordered to have the ſign of the Covenant applied to the and that Grant was never reverſed, Gen. 17. 7, 1 And I will eſtabliſh my covenant between me and the and thy ſeed after thee, in their generations for an verlaſting covenant to be a God unto thee, and thy ſeed after thee. This is my covenant which ſhall keep between me and you, and thy ſeed aft thee, every man-child among you ſhall be circumciſe

Q. 3. But was not that the Covenant of Wor and ſo will not hold to infer their priviledge und the Covenant of Grace?

A. No, it was not; for God never did, nor w become a God by way of ſpecial intereſt to any p ple, by vertue of the Covenant of Works, ſince breach of it by the fall.

Q. 4 But if it were the Covenant of Grace, how doth it appear the right of Believers Infants is ſtill the ſame it was before in Abrahams time?

A. It appears plainly from the Apoſtles own words and arguments, Acts 2. 39. For the promiſe is to you, and to your children, &c.

Q. 5. But though Infants then were members of Gods viſible Church among the Jews, how doth it appear they are ſo now when God hath caſt them off?

A. It appears the memberſhip and priviledges are as ſure and ample to them now, that are the Children of Gentile-believers, as ever they were to the Jewiſh Infants, Rom. 11. 17. And if ſome of the branches be broken off, and thou being a wild olive-tree wert grafted in amongſt them, and with them partakeſt of the root and fatneſs of the olive-tree.

Q. 6. How elſe doth it appear they are within the Covenant?

A. It appears by this, that they are pronounced holy, 1 Cor. 7. 14. Elſe were your children unclean, but now are they holy. Which is a fœderal holineſs; and none out of Covenant can be holy by Covenant.

Q. 7. But may not that place mean only their legitimacy?

A. No, it cannot; for then the Apoſtle muſt pronounce all the Infants in the World Baſtards, that deſcend not at leaſt from one believing Parent.

Q. 8. But Infants are not capable to Covenant with God, or perform Covenant Duties, and therefore why ſhould they be admitted to Covenant Priviledges?

A. A Child now of eight days old is as capable of being admitted into Covenant with God, as Children of the ſame age were in Abrahams days; and then its manifeſt they were admitted.

Q. 9. Though they were admitted by Circumciſion then, will it follow they may be ſo by Baptiſm now, ſeeing that Ordinance is aboliſhed?

A. Yes, it will; for though Circumciſion ceaſe, yet Baptiſm is come into its place, Col. 2. 10. 11, 12. And ye are compleat in him, which is the head of all principality and power. In whom alſo ye are circumciſed with the circumciſion made without hands, in puting off the body of the ſins of the fleſh, by the circumciſion of Chriſt buried with him in baptiſm, &c.

Q. 10. Circumciſion was a Seal of the Covenant of Works, and the argument will not hold from a Seal of the Covenant of Works, to a Seal of the Covenant of Grace?

A. Circumciſion never was, nor was intended to be a Seal of the Covenant of Works, but of the Righteouſneſs of Faith, Rom. 4. 11. And he received the ſign of circumciſion, a ſeal of the righteouſneſs of the faith that he had, yet being uncircumciſed, &c.

Q. 11. But have we no expreſs command in the New Teſtament to baptize Infants?

A. There needed no new command; their privi- dge had been ſetled many ages before upon them, d never reverſed by Chriſt, or his Apoſtles, but eir former right declared to continue ſtill to them, Acts 2. 39. For the promiſe is to you and your chil- ren, &c.

Q. 12. But if they have a right, we might expect find ſome examples of their baptizing?

A. 'Tis manifeſt that Believers houſhoulds were ptized with them, Acts 16. 15, 33. And when ſhe s baptized, and her houſhold, &c. Ver. 33. And took them the ſame hour of the night, and waſhed eir ſtripes, and was baptized, he, and all his ſtraight- y. And if Infants are not named, ſo neither are y of Age, born of Chriſtian Parents.

Q. 13. But many truſt to their Infant-baptiſm, as to their Regeneration, and ſo much miſchief's done?

A. They do ſo; yet the Duty is not therefore to be neglected. The preaching of Chriſt is to ſome a ſtumbling block, yet Chriſt muſt be preached for all that.

Q. 14. But many baptized Infants prove naught?

A. And ſo do many baptized at Age too. Duties are not to be meaſured by events.

What is the Lords Supper?

Queſt. 96. What is the Lords Supper?

A. The Lords Supper is a Sacrament, wherein by giving and receiving Bread and Wine according to Chriſts appointment, his Death is ſhewed forth; and the worthy receivers are, not after a corporal and carnal manner, but by Faith made partakers of his Body and Blood, with all his benefits to their ſpiritual nouriſhment, and growth in Grace.

Q. 1. By whoſe authority is the Lords Supper inſtituted and appointed?

A. By the ſoveraign authority of Chriſt the King of the Church, and not by the pleaſure of man, 1 Cor. 11. 23. For I have received of the Lord that which alſo I delivered unto you, that the Lord Jeſus, the ſame night in which he was betrayed, took bread.

Q. 2. Of what parts doth this Sacrament conſiſt?

A. It conſiſts of two parts, one earthly and viſible, to wit, Bread and Wine, the other ſpiritual and inviſible, the Body and Blood of Chriſt, 1 Cor. 10. 16. The cup of bleſſing which we bleſs, is it not the communion of the blood of Chriſt? the bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Chriſt?

Q. 3. How do theſe earthly and heavenly things become a Sacrament?

A. By the word of inſtitution and bleſſing coming from Chriſt upon them, 1 Cor. 11. 23, 24, 25. For I have received of the Lord that which alſo I delivered unto you, that the Lord Jeſus the ſame night in which he was betrayed, took bread. And when he had given thanks, he brake it, and ſaid, Take, eat, this is my body which is broken for you: this do in remembrance of me. After the ſame manner he took the cup, when he had ſupped, ſaying, This cup is the new teſtament in my blood: this do as oft as ye drink it in remembrance of me.

Q. 4. When did Chriſt ordain and inſtitute this Sacrament?

A. He inſtituted it in the ſame night he was betrayed, 1 Cor. 11. 23. The Lord Jeſus the ſame night in which he was betrayed, took bread. It could not be ſooner, becauſe the Paſſover muſt be firſt celebrated, and by the inſtitution of this abrogated. Nor later, for ſoon after he was apprehended.

Q. 5. What doth the time of its inſtitution teach us?

A. It teaches us how great Chriſts care and love to his people is, that he makes in his Ordinance ſuch proviſion for our comfort, though he knew his own bitter agony was juſt at hand.

Q. 6. What is the general uſe and end of this Sacrament?

A. It is to confirm, ſeal and ratifie the New Covenant to Believers, 1 Cor. 11. 35. This cup is the new teſtament in my blood: this do ye as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me.

Q. 7. What are the particular ends and uſe of it?

A. The firſt particular end and uſe of it is, to bring Chriſt and his Sufferings afreſh to our remembrance, 1 Cor. 11. 24, 25. Thus do in remembrance of me.

Q. 8. What kind of remembrance of Chriſt is here intended?

A. Not a meer ſpeculative, but an effectionate heart-melting remembrance of him, like that of Peter, Math. 26. 75. And Peter remembred the words of Jeſus which ſaid unto him, before the cock ſhall crow, thou ſhalt deny me thrice. And he went out and wept bitterly, Or of Joſeph, Gen. 43. 29, 30. And Joſeph made haſte: for his bowels did yern upon his brother, and he ſought where to weep, and he entered into his chamber, and wept there.

Q. 9. What doth this end of the Sacrament imply?

A. It implies this, that the beſt of Gods people are too apt to forget Chriſt, and what he hath endured and ſuffered for for them.

Q. 10. What elſe doth it imply?

A. It implies this, that none but thoſe that have the ſaving knowledge of Chriſt, and have had former acquaintance with Chriſt, are fit for this Ordinance; for no man can remember what he never knew, 1 Cor. 11. 28. But let a man examine himſelf, and ſo let him eat of that bread, and drink of that cup.

Q. 11. What's the ſecond particular uſe and end of this Sacrament?

A. It is to repreſent Chriſt to Believers, as an apt ſign of him, and of his Death; and that both memorative, ſignificative, and inſtructive.

Q. 12. How is it a memorative ſign of Chriſt?

A. It brings Chriſt to our remembrance, as his Death and bitter Sufferings are therein repreſented to us, by the breaking of Bread, and pouring forth of Wine, 1 Cor. 11. 26. For as often as yea eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do ſhew forth the Lords death till he come.

Q. 13. How is it a ſignificative Ordinance?

A. It is a ſignificative Ordinance, not only as it repreſents Chriſts ſufferings, but the Believers union with him as the head, and with each other as members of his body, 1 Cor. 10. 16, 17. The cup of bleſſing which we bleſs, is it not the communion of the blood of Chriſt? The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Chriſt? For we being many, are one bread, and one body, &c.

Q. 14. In what reſpect is it an inſtructive ſign?

A. It is an inſtructive ſign in divers reſpects; namely, Firſt, As it teaches us that Chriſt is the only nutritive bread by which our Souls live, John 6. 15. I am the living bread which came down from heaven: If any man eat of thisbread, he ſhall live for ever; and the bread that I ſhall give is my fleſh, which I ſhall give for the life of the world. And Secondly, As it inſtructs us that the New Teſtament is now in its full force by the death of Chriſt the Teſtator, Heb. 9. 16, 17. For where a teſtament is, there muſt alſo of neceſſity be the death of the teſtator. For a teſtament is of force after men are dead; otherwiſe it is of no force at all, whilſt the teſtator liveth.

Thus much of the Author, Nature and Ends of the Lords Supper.

Of the Elements, Actions and Subjects of it.

Q. 1. Are not Bread and Wine too ſmall and common things to repreſent the body and blood of Chriſt?

A. Though a bit of Bread, and a draught of Wine, be things of ſmall value in themſelves, yet they are great in reſpect of their uſe and end. A penny-worth of Wax is a ſmall thing in its ſelf; but being applyed to the Label of a Deed, may be advanced to the worth of thouſands of pounds, as it receives the ſeal to a great inheritance.

Q. 2. Is not the bread in the Sacrament turned into the very body of Chriſt it ſelf by Tranſubſtantiation?

A. No, it is not; but the Elements retain ſtill their own proper Nature of Bread and Wine after the Words of Conſecration, and are ſo called, 1 Cor. 11. 26. For as often as ye eat this bread, &c. Matth. 26. 29. But I ſay unto you, I will not henceforth drink of this fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it new with you in my Fathers kingdom.

Q. 13. What is the firſt argument by which Proteſtants confute the Popiſh Doctrine of Tranſubſtantiation?

A. The firſt Argument againſt it, is taken from the end of the Sacrament, which is to bring Chriſts Body and Blood to our remembrance, 1 Cor. 11. 24, 25. This do in remembrance of me. Now ſigns for remembrance are of things abſent, not preſent.

Q. 4. What's the ſecond Argument?

A. Becauſe the language in which our Saviour ſpake, had no other property of expreſſion, there being no other word for ſignifie but is in ſtead thereof, as is manifeſt in both Teſtaments, Gen. 41. 27. And the ſeven ill-favoured kine that came up afte them, are ſeven years of famine. Rev. 1. 20. Th ſeven ſtars are the angels of the ſeven churches; an the ſeven candleſticks which thou ſaweſt are th ſeven churches.

Q. 5. What's the third Argument againſt Tranſubſtantiation?

A. The manifold groſs abſurdities that naturally and neceſſarily follow on this Doctrine, ſhew th falſeneſs of it, and that it is juſtly rejected and abhorred by all ſound Chriſtians.

Q. 6. What's the firſt abſurdity that follow it?

A. This Doctrine allows that to a ſilly Prieſ which is not to be allowed to all the Angels in He ven. It allows him power to make his Maker, a eat his God. And in juſtifying this by the O nipotency of God, they ſay no more than wha Turk may ſay to juſtifie the moſt ridiculous fooler of the Alcoran.

Q. 7. What's the ſecond abſurdity of Tranſu ſtantiation?

A. The ſecond abſurdity is this, that it de the truth of the teſtimony given by the ſe of all men, that it is real Bread and W

Wine after Conſecration, and not Fleſh and Blood. And if the teſtimony of ſenſe be not certain, then the being of God cannot be proved by the things that are made contrary to Rom. 1. 20. For the inviſible things of him, from the creation of the world, are clearly ſeen, being underſtood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and godhead, &c. Nor the truth of Chriſt's Reſurrection, by ſeeing and feeling, contrary to Luke 24. 39. Behold my hands and my feet, that it is I my ſelf; handle me and ſee, &c.

Q. 8. What's the third abſurdity of Tranſubſtantiation?

A. The third abſurdity is this, that in affirming the accidents of Bread and Wine to remain, and their ſubſtance to vaniſh, they affirm that there is length, breadth, thickneſs, moiſture and ſweetneſs, and yet nothing long, broad, thick, moiſt or ſweet, which is a perfect contradiction.

Q. 9. What's the fourth abſurdity of Tranſubſtantiation?

A. It implies, that the entire living Body of Chriſt ſate at the Table, and at the ſame time was dead, and in the Diſciples Mouths and Stomachs in the firſt Sacrament; and that in all after Sacraments it is wholly in Heaven, and wholly in as many thouſand places in the World, as there are Sacraments adminiſtred.

Q. 10. What doth the breaking of this Bread, and pouring out of Wine in the Sacrament ſignifie?

A. It ſignifies the violent painful Death, and bitter Sufferings of Chriſt for us; 1 Cor. 11. 26. For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do ſhew the Lords death till he come.

Q. 11. What doth the giving and taking of the Sacramental Bread and Wine ſignifie?

A. Theſe actions ſignifie God's exhibiting, and the Believers applying of Chriſt and all his benefits to their Souls.

Q. 12. Who are fit Subjects to receive the Lord's Supper?

A. None that are groſly ignorant, ſcandalous, or unbelievers in their natural ſtate, for ſuch cannot examine themſelves as the Word requires; 1 Cor. 11. 28. But let a man examine himſelf, and ſo let him eat of that bread, and drink of that cup. But do eat and drink Judgment to themſelves, 1 Cor. 11. 29. For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh damnation to himſelf, not diſcerning the Lords body.

Q. 13. Are morally honeſt and ſober perſons qualified for this Sacrament?

A. No; Civility and Morality do not qualifie perſons, they are not the Wedding-garment; but regenerating Grace and Faith doth in the ſmalleſt meaſure; Matth. 22. 12. And he ſaith unto him, friend, how cameſt thou in hither, not having a wedding-garment, &c. 1 Cor. 10. 16, 17. The cup of bleſſing which we bleſs, is it not the communion of the blood of Chriſt? The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Chriſt? For we being many, are one bread, and one body: for we are all partakers of that one bread.

Of the Duties of Communicants.

Queſt. 97. What is required to the worthy receiving of the Lords Supper?

A. It is required of them that would worthily partake of the Lord's Supper, that they examine themſelves of their knowledge to diſcern the Lord's Body, of their Faith to feed upon him, of their Repentance, Love, and new Obedience, leſt coming unworthily, they eat and drink Judgment to themſelves.

Q. 1. What are the Duties of worthy receivers?

A. There are three ſorts of Duties incumbent on them, ſome antecedent to it, ſome concomitants of it, and ſome ſubſequent to it.

Q. 2. What are the antecedent Duties to it?

A. They are two, (1.) Examination of their Graces. (2.) Preparation of their Souls. Examination of their Graces, 1 Cor. 11. 28, 29. But let a man examine himſelf, and ſo let him eat of that bread, and drink of that cup. For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh damnation to himſelf, not diſcerning the Lord's body. And Preparation of their Souls, 1. Cor. 5. 8. Therefore let us keep the feaſt, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedneſs, but with the unleavened bread of ſincerity and truth.

Q. 3. What's the firſt Grace to be try'd?

A. Our ſaving knowledge of God in Chriſt, without which we cannot diſcern the Lord's Body, 1 Cor. 11. 29. For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh damnation to himſelf, not diſcerning the Lord's body.

Q. 4. What are we to enquire of touching our knowledge of God in Chriſt?

A. We are to examine whether it be competent for quantity, and ſavingly operative and influential on the Heart and Life for quality; Hoſ. 4. 6. My people are deſtroyed for lack of knowledge, &c. 1 Cor. 13. 1. Though I ſpeak with the tongues of men and of angels, and have not charity, I am become as a ſounding braſs or tinkling cymbal.

Q. 5. When is Knowledge competent and influential?

A. When we truly underſtand by the teachings of the Father, the ſin and miſery of the Fall, the nature and neceſſity of Chriſt, and under theſe convictions come to him in the way of Faith; John 6. 45. —Every man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, cometh unto me. And ſubject our ſelves to him in ſincere obedience, Mat. 11. 28, 29. Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you reſt. Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me: for I am meek and lowly in heart, and ye ſhall find reſt unto your ſouls.

Q. 6. What are we to examine our ſelves about beſides Knowledge?

A. We are obliged to examine our ſelves about our Faith, whether we have it in any ſaving degree; 2 Cor 13. 5. Examine your ſelves, whether ye be in the Faith: prove your ſelves, &c. For without Faith we cannot pleaſe God, Heb. 11. 6. But without faith it is impoſſible to pleaſe God, &c. Nor enjoy Spiritual Communion with Chriſt, Eph. 3. 17. That Chriſt may dwell in your hearts by faith, that ye being rooted and grounded in love.

Q. 7. What other Grace muſt be examin'd and ſought for?

A. We muſt examine our Love to Chriſt and all that are his, becauſe no gifts ſignifie any thing without Love; 1 Cor. 13. 2. And though I have the gift of propheſie, and underſtand all myſteries, and all knowledge, and though I have all faith, ſo that I could remove mountains, and have no charity, I am nothing.

Q. 8. What elſe muſt worthy receivers examine themſelves about?

A. The ſincerity of their Hearts evidenced by their Obedience, without which they cannot worthily approach the Table; 1 Cor. 5. 8. Therefore let us keep the feaſt, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedneſs, but with the unleavened bread of ſincerity and truth.

Q. 9. But if upon examination we are in doubts about our Faith and Sincerity, muſt we forbear?

A. If our doubts ariſe from the weakneſs, and not the total want of Grace, ſuch doubts ſhould not hinder us; Rom. 14. 1. Him that is weak in the faith receive you, &c.

Q. 10. What is the danger of coming to the Lord's Table without theſe Graces?

A. The danger is exceeding great to Soul and Body. (1.) To the Soul, 1 Cor. 11. 29. For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh damnation to himſelf, &c. And to the Body, 1 Cor. 11. 30. For this cauſe many are weak and ſickly among you, and many ſleep.

Q. 11. What are the Duties of worthy receivers at the Lord's Table?

A. Their Duties at the Table are to diſcern Chriſt by the eye of Faith, under thoſe ſigns of his Body and Blood; 1 Cor. 11. 29. For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh damnation to himſelf, not diſcerning the Lords body. On the diſcovery of him to mourn bitterly for Sin; Zech. 12. 10. — And they ſhall look upon me whom they have pierced, and they ſhall mourn for him as one mourneth for his only ſon, and ſhall be in bitterneſs for him, as one that is in bitterneſs for his firſt-born. And to excite all their Graces into vigorous acts for the applying Chriſt to themſelves; Cant. 4 16. Awake, O north wind, and come thou ſouth, blow upon my garden, that the ſpices thereof may flow out, &c.

Q. 12. What is the Duty of worthy receivers after the Sacrament?

A. Their Duty is heartily to bleſs God for Chriſt and the benefits of his Blood; Matth. 26. 30. And when they had ſung an hymn, they went out into the mount of Olives. To double their care and watchfulneſs againſt ſin, Epheſ. 4. 30. And grieve not the holy ſpirit, whereby ye are ſealed to the day of redemption. And to grow more fruitful in all ſpiritual obedience, Col. 1. 10. That ye might walk worthy of the Lord unto all pleaſing, being fruitful in every good work, and encreaſing in the knowledge of God.

Q. 13. What is the firſt Inference from hence?

A. That the abuſe and profanation of this Ordinance, either by coming to it for carnal ends, or being forced upon it by fear of ſufferings, or approaching to it without due qualifications, is a dreadful ſin, which God will terribly avenge; Matth. 22. 11, 12, 13. And when the king came in to ſee the gueſts, he ſaw there a man which had not on a wedding garment. And he ſaith unto him, friend, how cameſt thou in hither, not having on a wedding garment? and he was ſpeechleſs. Then ſaid the king unto the ſervants, bind him hand and foot, and take him away, and caſt him into outer darkneſs; there ſhall be weeping and gnaſhing of teeth.

Q. 14. What's the ſecond Inference from it?

A. That great and manifold are the Bleſſings and Advantages which Chriſtians duly prepared may reap by this Ordinance.

Of Prayer.

Queſt. 98. What is Prayer?

A. Prayer is an offering up of our Deſires unto God for things agreeable to his Will, in the name of Chriſt, with confeſſion of our ſins, and thankful acknowledgment of his mercies.

Q. 1. Who is the proper and only Object of Prayer?

A. God only is the proper Object of Prayer; it is a part of his Natural Worſhip; therefore 'tis peculiarly his Honour and Prerogative, and none elſe can hear and anſwer them, but God; Pſal. 65. 2. O thou that heareſt Prayer, unto thee ſhall all fleſh come.

Q. 2. Through whom, or in whoſe name are our Prayers to be directed to God?

A. Our Prayers are to be directed to God only through Chriſt and his Name, and not by the mediation of Angels or Saints; Col. 2. 18. Let no man beguile you of your reward in a voluntary humility, and worſhipping of angels. For the merit and ſatisfaction of Chriſt alone give ſucceſs and acceptance to our Prayers, Rev. 8. 3, 4. And another angel came and ſtood at the altar, having a golden cenſer, and there was given unto him much incenſe, that he ſhould offer it with the prayers of all the ſaints upon the golden altar which was before the throne. And the ſmoke of the incenſe which came with the prayers of the ſaints aſcended up before God out of the angels hand. 1 Tim. 2. 5. For there is one God, and one mediatour between God and men, the man Chriſt Jeſus.

Q. 3. What's the firſt property or quality of acceptable Prayer?

A. No Prayer can be acceptable to God, except the matter of it be agreeable to his Will, Jam 4. 3. Ye ask and receive not, becauſe ye ask amiſs, that ye may conſume it upon your luſts. 1 John 5. 14, 15. And this is the confidence that we have in him, that if we ask any thing according to his will, he heareth us. And if we know that he hear us, whatſoever we ask, we know that we have the petitions that we deſired of him.

Q. 4. Is it enough to make Prayer acceptable, that the matter is agreeable to God's will?

A. No, it is not; for the manner as well as the matter, muſt be ſo too; Pſal. 66. 18. If I regard iniquity in my heart, the Lord will not hear me.

Q. 5. What's the firſt qualification of an acceptable Prayer, reſpecting the manner of it?

A. That it be ſincere, and flowing from the Heart of a regenerate perſon; Prov. 15. 29. The Lord is far from the wicked, but he heareth the prayer of the righteous. Jer. 29. 13. And ye ſhall ſeek me, and find me, when ye ſhall ſearch for me with all your heart.

Q. 6. What's the ſecond qualification of Prayer, reſpecting the manner?

A. It muſt be perform'd in the Heart of a child of God by the Spirit of Adoption; Gal. 4. 6. And becauſe ye are ſons, God hath ſent forth the ſpirit of his Son in our hearts; crying, Abba Father. Rom. 8. 26. Likewiſe the ſpirit alſo helpeth our infirmities: for we know not what we ſhould pray for as we ought: but the ſpirit it ſelf maketh interceſſion for us with groanings, which cannot be uttered.

Q. 7. What's the third qualification of an acceptable Prayer, reſpecting the manner?

A. It muſt be fervent and importunate, not cold and formal; Jam. 5. 16. — The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much. Matt. 7. 7. Ask, and it ſhall be given you; ſeek, and ye ſhall find: knock, and it ſhall be opened unto you.

Q. 8. Wherein doth true importunity with God in Prayer conſiſt?

A. Not in the multitude of words, Matth. 6. 7. But when ye pray, uſe not vain repetitions as the heathen do: for they think they ſhall be heard for their much ſpeaking. But in an holy earneſtneſs of Spirit to be heard; Pſal. 143. 7. Hear me ſpeedily, O Lord, my ſpirit faileth; hide not thy face from me, leſt I be like unto them that go down into the pit. A prudent choice of prevalent Arguments; Job 23. 4. I would order my cauſe before him, and fill my mouth with arguments. And a reſolute perſiſtance in our requeſts till they be granted; Iſa. 62. 7. And give him no reſt, till he eſtabliſh, and till he make Jeruſalem a praiſe in the earth.

Q. 9. Do not Prayers thus qualified ſometimes miſcarry?

A. God may delay and ſuſpend the anſwer of them for a time; Pſal. 22. 2 O my God, I cry in the day-time, but thou heareſt not, &c. But ſooner or later, God will always anſwer them, either in the very thing we ask, 1 John 5. 15. — We know that we have the petitions that we deſired of him; Or in that which is equivalent or better, Gen. 17. 18, 19. And Abraham ſaid unto God, O that Iſhmael might live before thee. And God ſaid, Sarah thy wife ſhall bear thee a ſon indeed, and thou ſhalt call his name Iſaac: and I will eſtabliſh my covenant with him, for an everlaſting covenant, and with his ſeed after him.

Q. 10. Is there no Prayer but what is ſtated and fixed?

A. Yes, there is ſudden occaſional Prayer, which we call ejaculatory: ſuch was Jacob's, Gen. 49. 18. I have waited for thy ſalvation, O Lord. And this is exceeding uſeful to maintain conſtant communion with God, and keep the Heart in a ſpiritual frame.

Q. 11. Is all ſtated and fixed Prayer publick in the Congregation or Church?

A. No; ſtated Prayer ought to be in our Families with thoſe under our charge; and in our Cloſets betwixt God and us alone; Joſh. 24 15. — But as for me and my houſe, we will ſerve the Lord. And Matth. 6. 6. But when thou prayeſt, enter into thy cloſet, and when thou haſt ſhut thy door, pray to thy father which is in ſecret, and thy father which ſeeth in ſecret ſhall reward thee openly.

Q. 12. What infer you from hence?

A. The reſtraint of Prayer is not only a great ſin, but an ill ſign of a graceleſs Heart, Job 15. 4. Yea, thou caſteſt off fear, and reſtraineſt prayer before God. And that which entails a judgment and curſe upon men, and their Families; Jer. 10. 25. Pour out thy fury upon the heathen that know thee not; and upon the families that call not upon thy name.

Q. 13. What's the ſecond Inference from the Ordinance of Prayer?

A. That the true reaſon why we enjoy not the Mercies we pray for, is not becauſe God is unwilling to grant Mercies, but becauſe we either neglect Prayer, or miſcarry in the manner of Prayer; Jam. 4. 2, 3. Ye luſt, and have not; ye kill and deſire to have, and cannot obtain; ye fight and war, yet ye have not; becauſe ye ask not. Ye ask and receive not, becauſe ye ask amiſs, that ye may conſume it upon your luſts.

Of Direction in Prayer.

Queſt. 99. What Rule hath God given for our direction in the Duty of Prayer?

A. The whole Word of God is of uſe to direct us in Prayer; but the ſpecial Rule of Direction is that form of Prayer which Chriſt taught his Diſciples, commonly called the Lord's Prayer.

Q. 1. Do men need Directions, Rules and Helps in Prayer?

A. They do greatly need them; for in and of our ſelves we know not what to pray for as we ought; Rom. 8. 26. Likewiſe the ſpirit alſo helpeth our infirmities: for we know not what we ſhall pray for as we ought, &c. Nor how to pray in a right manner, and for right ends, and a miſtake in either fruſtrates our Prayer; Jam. 4. 3. Ye ask and receive not, becauſe ye ask amiſs, that ye may conſume it upon your luſts.

Q. 2. When do men miſtake in the matter of their Prayer?

A. They miſtake in the matter of Prayer, when they ask of God things that are not lawful, good and agreeable to his Will. So the Diſciples were ready to do in calling for fire from Heaven on the Samaritans, Luke 9. 54, 55. And when his Diſciples, James and John, ſaw this, they ſaid, Lord, wilt thou that we command fire to come down from heaven, and conſume them, even as Elias did? But he turned and rebuked them, and ſaid, ye know not what manner of ſpirit ye are of.

Q. 3. When do men miſtake in the manner of Prayer?

A. They miſtake in the manner when they ask Mercies of God for carnal ends, to ſatisfie their luſts; Jam. 4. 3. Ye ask and receive not, becauſe ye ask amiſs, that ye may conſume it upon your luſts. Or in a drowſie and careleſs manner, Iſa. 64. 7. And there is none that calleth upon thy name, that ſtirreth up himſelf to take hold of thee, &c.

Q. 4. What helps hath God afforded us to furniſh us to Prayer both in reſpect of the matter and manner?

A. The Scriptures abundantly furniſh us with all ſorts of helps and directions for the matter of Prayer. It directs us both in confeſſion of ſins original and actual; Pſal. 51. 4, 5. Behold, I was ſhapen in iniquity, and in ſin did my mother conceive me. Againſt thee, thee only have I ſinned, and done this evil in thy ſight, &c. Petition and Thankſgiving; Phil. 4. 6. Be careful for nothing, but in every thing by prayer and ſupplication with thankſgiving, let your requeſt be made known unto God.

Q. 5. Doth it afford us any help or direction as to the manner of Prayer alſo?

A. Yes, it doth; and that both as to (1.) our ſincerity in Prayer; Heb. 10. 22. Let us draw near with a true heart in full aſſurance of faith, having our hearts ſprinkled from an evil conſcience, and our bodies waſhed with pure water. (2.) As to our humility in Prayer; Pſal. 10. 17. Lord, thou haſt heard the deſire of the humble, thou wilt prepare their heart, thou wilt cauſe thine ear to hear. (3.) As to our Faith in Prayer; Jam. 1. 6. But let him ask in faith, nothing wavering, &c. (4) As to our fervency in Prayer; Jam. 5. 16. — The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much.

Q. 6. Are theſe external rules and directions ſufficient in themſelves to enable us to pray acceptably ?

A. In reſpect of external direction they are ſufficient, and we need no other outward Rules than what the Scriptures furniſh, but beſides that the internal helps and aſſiſtances of the Spirit are neceſſary to the offering up acceptable Prayer, Rom. 8. 26. Likewiſe the Spirit alſo helpeth our infirmities; for we know not what we ſhould pray for as we ought; but the Spirit it ſelf maketh interceſſion for us, &c.

Q. 7. But doth the Scripture only furniſh us with general rules of direction for Prayer ?

A. No; it furniſhes us alſo with an excellent Pattern and Example of Prayer, compos'd by Chriſt for our direction, Matth. 6. 9. After this manner therefore pray ye: Our Father which art in heaven, &c.

Q. 8. Are Chriſtians tied by a neceſſity to uſe that form of words ? or, was it only intended for a directory to them ?

A. That form of words may be lawfully uſed; but it's plain its intention was to regulate our Petitions by it; and therefore they that uſe it in Spells and Charms, as the Papiſts, or thoſe that think nothing is Prayer, but that form of words, abuſe Chriſt's intention in it.

Q. 9. How doth it appear it was not Chriſt's intention, ſtrictly to bind us to that very form of words in our Prayers ?

A. Divines give us theſe Reaſons againſt it; (1.) Becauſe this Prayer is ſet down diverſly by the Evangeliſts, Matth. 6. 11, 12. Thy kingdom come, thy will be done in earth as it is in heaven. And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors. And Luke 11. 3, 4. Give us day by day our daily bread, and forgive us our ſins; for we alſo forgive every one that is indebted to us: and lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. (2.) Chriſt and his Apoſtles did not always uſe this form of words afterwards, as appears by his Prayer at Lazarus's Grave, John 11. and that for his Apoſtles, John 17. (3.) Becauſe theſe words, Matth. 6. 9. After this manner, &c. plainly ſhew its uſe was intended for a directory to us.

Q. 10. What's the firſt Inference from hence ?

A. Hence we learn the fulneſs and compleatneſs of the Scriptures, not only for the guiding and ſetling of our Faith in things that are to be believed, but alſo of our whole practice in every Duty we are to perform.

Q. 11. What's the ſecond Inference hence ?

A. Hence we are inform'd how neceſſary it is to acquaint our ſelves with the mind of God, revealed in his Word, that we may guide our ſelves in Prayer, both for mattter and manner thereby, and not utter to God words without knowledge.

Q. 12. What's the laſt Inference from hence ?

A. That thoſe who neglect all Prayer, and thoſe that ſatisfie themſelves with a form of Prayer, which they utter without knowledge or affection, do greatly ſin againſt God. And that it is the Duty of all Chriſtians, from a ſenſe of their own Sins, Wants and Mercies, to be often with God in Prayer, guiding themſelves in that ſpiritual Duty, by ſuch inward and outward helps as his Word and Spirit are able to furniſh them with.

Of the Preface to the Lord's Prayer.

Queſt. 100. What doth the Preface of the Lord's Prayer teach us ?

A. The Preface of the Lord's Prayer [which is, Our Father, which art in Heaven] teacheth us to draw near to God with all holy reverence and confidence, as Children to a Father ready to help us, and that we ſhould pray with and for others.

Q. 1. What doth the word Father import in this Preface ?

A. It imports the Spirit of Adoption to be the principal of all acceptable Prayers; Gal. 4. 6. And becauſe ye are ſons, God hath given forth the ſpirit of his ſon into our hearts, crying, Abba, Father.

Q. 2. What's the firſt Benefit or Help we have in Prayer from the Spirit of Adoption ?

A. He excites our Spirits to ſeek God in Prayer, Pſal. 27. 8. When thou ſaidſt, ſeek ye my face, my heart ſaid unto thee, Thy face, Lord, will I ſeek.

Q. 3. What's the ſecond Aſſiſtance he gives us in Prayer ?

A. He indites and ſuggeſts ſuitable and acceptable matter to us in Prayer; Rom. 8. 26. Likewiſe the ſpirit alſo helpeth our infirmities: for we know not what we ſhould pray for as we ought: but the ſpirit it ſelf maketh interceſſion for us, &c.

Q. 4. What's the third Benefit we have by him in Prayer ?

A. He fills our Souls with ſpiritual and holy affections in Prayer, and helps us to act his Graces in our Duties; Rom. 8. 26. Likewiſe the ſpirit alſo helpeth our infirmities: for we know not what we ſhould ask as we ought: but the ſpirit it ſelf maketh interceſſion for us with groanings, which cannot be uttered.

Q. 5. What elſe doth this word Father import ?

A. It imports that holy Confidence which Believers may and ought to draw near to God withal, as Children to a Father; Eph. 3. 12. In whom we have boldneſs and acceſs, with confidence by the faith of him.

Q. 6. Doth it only ſignifie our Relation and Confidence ?

A. No; it alſo ſignifies the reverential fear of God, which ought at all times to be on our hearts, eſpecially in Prayer; Mal. 1. 6. A ſon honoureth his father, and a ſervant his maſter: If then I be a father, where is my honour ? and if I be a maſter, where is my fear ?

Q. 7. What is further imported in this word Father ?

A. It imports God's willingneſs and readineſs to grant the beſt Mercies to his People, that ſeek them duly at his hand; Matth. 7. 11. If ye then being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more ſhall your father which is in heaven give good things to them that ask him.

Q. 8. Why is he here called our Father ?

A. To ſignifie to us, that it is not only our Duty to pray ſecretly by and for our ſelves, but alſo with and for others; Eph. 6. 18. Praying alwaies with all prayer and ſupplication in the ſpirit, and watching thereunto with all perſeverance, and ſupplication for all Saints.

Q. Why is God ſaid here to be in Heaven ?

A. It is to note his ſoveraign power and dominion over all, as a groundwork of Faith in Prayer.

Q 9, 10.

---

Q. 9, 10. What elſe doth it import ?
A. The great diſtance between God an which ſhould fill our Hearts with an holy aw him; Eccleſ. 5. 2. —God is in Heaven, and thou
Earth, therefore let thy words be few.
Q. 11. What's the firſt Inference from hence?
A It ſhews us what a ſad caſe all thoſe a that have no ſpecial intereſt in God as a Fathe
Q. 12. What's the ſecond Inference ?
A. It ſhews us what a glorious Privilege
Lord Jeſus Chriſt hath purchaſed for and ſe on his People; Heb. 4. 15, 16. For we have n
high Prieſt which cannot be touched with the feelin
our infirmities: but was in all points tempted lik
we are, yet without ſin. Let us therefore come b unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain m
and find grace to help in time of need.
Q. 13. What's the laſt Inference from hence ?
A. That ſeeing Believers have a Father in ven, they ſhould never fear wants whilſt they nor be afraid to die, ſince Death brings the Heaven, their Father's Houſe.

Of Sanctifying God's Name.

Queſt. 101. What do we pray for in firſt Petition ?
A. In the firſt Petition [which is hallo be thy Name] we pray that God would e ble us and others, to glorifie him in that, whereby he maketh himſelf kno and that he would diſpoſe all things to own glory.
Q. 1. Is there any word full enough perfectly to preſs what God is ?
A. No, his Name is ſecret; Judg. 13. 18.
the Angel of the Lord ſaid unto him, why askeſt
thus after my name, ſeeing it is ſecret? A N which none can tell; Prov. 30. 4. — what is name, and what is his ſons name, if thou canſt
A Name above every Name; Phil. 2. 9. Where God alſo hath highly exalted him, and given him a which is above every name. But the Name which he more eſpecially manifeſts himſelf, is Name I am; Exod. 3. 14. And God ſaid unto M
I am that I am. And he ſaid, Thus ſhalt thou ſay
to the children of Iſrael, I am hath ſent me unto yo
Q. 2. What doth the Name of God I am ſig to us ?
A. It ſignifies to us, firſt, the reality of his ing in oppoſition to Idols, which are but im nary and fantaſtick things; 1 Cor. 8. 4. —
know that an Idol is nothing in the world, &c. is not only the moſt perfect Being, but the roo
all other Beings.
Q. 3. What elſe doth this Name I am import
A. It imports both the perfection and etern of God's Being: I am implies, he hath not now which he had not formerly; and that he not afterwards have what he hath not now:
that there is neither beginning, end, or ſucceſ with God, whoſe Name is I am.
Q. 4. But what are we here to underſtand by Name of God ?
A. All thoſe things are here intended, by wh
he manifeſts himſelf to the Creature; as his W
Works, and Ordinances, but eſpecially his glori Attributes; Exod. 34. 5, 6. — The Lord, the God, merciful and gracious, long-ſuffering, and a ant in goodneſs and truth.

t ?
n God and us,
an holy awe of
en, and thou upon
v.
from hence?
all thoſe are in od as a Father.
e ?
us Privilege the l for and ſetled
r we have not an
with the feeling of
s tempted like as refore come boldly
nay obtain mercy,

om hence ?
a Father in Hea-
whilſt they live, brings them to

Name.

ay for in the n ? ich is hallowed
od would ena-
fie him in all
imſelf known,
l things to his
gh perfectly to ex-

udg. 13: 18. And
, why askeſt thou
cret ? A Name
4. — what is his
f thou canſt tell?
hil. 2. 9. Wherefore
given him a name
t the Name by eſts himſelf, is the od ſaid unto Moſes,
s ſhalt thou ſay un-
ſent me unto you.
God I am ſignifie

eality of his beh are but imagi
Cor. 8. 4. — We
world, &c. God
g, but the root of

I am import ?
on and eternity hath not that and that he ſhall not now: and d, or ſucceſſion

nderſtand by the

nded, by which e; as his Word,
ally his glorious
Lord, the Lord
ring, and abun-

Q. 5. What is it to hallow or ſanctifie his Name?

A. Not to infuſe any Holineſs into him, which he had not before; ſo he ſanctifies us; but to manifeſt and acknowledge the Holineſs of God; Iſa. 29. 23. But when he ſeeth his children, the work of my hands in the midſt of him, they ſhall ſanctifie my name, and ſanctifie the holy one of Jacob, and ſhall fear the God of Iſrael.

Q. 6. Why Hallowed or Sanctified rather than Glorified? Why that word rather than this?

A. Becauſe his Holineſs is the beauty and luſtre of his other Attributes. His Greatneſs appears in his Holineſs; Iſa. 12. 6. — great is the holy one of Iſrael in the midſt of thee. So doth his Power, Luke 1. 49. For he that is mighty hath done to me great things, and holy is his name. And therefore his Holineſs is that Attribute, which Angels ſingle out eſpecially to celebrate; Iſa. 6. 3. And one cried unto another, and ſaid, Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of hoſts, &c. And ſo do men alſo, as it is the cauſe why they ſhould glorifie him, Exod. 15. 11. —Who is like thee, glorious in holineſs, &c.

Q. 7. What's the firſt thing we are to intend in this Petition?

A. The meaning is, that God would ſo diſpoſe and order all things in the World, as may beſt promote and advance the glory of his Name; on which account we may pray for the defeat of God's Enemies; Pſal. 83. 16, 17, 18. Fill their faces with ſhame, that they may ſeek thy name, O Lord. Let them be confounded and troubled for ever; yea, let them be put to ſhame and periſh: that men may know that thou, whoſe name alone is Jehovah, art the moſt high over all the earth. And the deliverance of his Church and People; Pſal. 79. 9. Help us, O God of our ſalvation, for the glory of thy name: and deliver us, and purge away our ſins for thy names ſake.

Q. 8. What's the ſecond thing we are to intend in it?

A. That God would fit us for, and uſe us in the moſt ſerviceable capacity for the glorifying of his Name; Pſal. 67. 1, 2, 3. God be merciful unto us, and bleſs us, and cauſe his face to ſhine upon us: That thy way may be known upon earth, thy ſaving health among all nations. Let the people praiſe thee, O God, let all the people praiſe thee.

Q. 9. What's the third thing intended in this Petition?

A. That God may not only glorifie his own Name, and uſe us to glorifie it, but that it ſhould be our endeavour and joy to have it glorified by others all the World over; Pſal. 145. 4, 5, 6. One generation ſhall praiſe thy works to another, and ſhall declare thy mighty acts. I will ſpeak of the glorious honour of thy majeſty, and of thy wondrous works. And men ſhall ſpeak of the might of thy terrible acts: and I will declare thy greatneſs.

Q. 10. Why muſt our Hearts be ſo intently ſet upon the Sanctification of God's Name?

A. Becauſe this is the ultimate end of our own and every other being; Rom. 11. 36. For of him, and through him, and to him are all things: to whom be glory for ever, Amen. And the particular end of God in our Effectual Calling, 1 Pet. 2. 9. But ye are a choſen generation, a royal prieſthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people, that ye ſhould ſhew forth the praiſes of him, who hath called you out of darkneſs into his marvelous light.

Q. 11. What's the firſt Inference from hence?

A. That the diſhonour of God's Name muſt needs be a cutting Affliction to a gracious Soul; Pſal. 42. 10. As with a ſword in my bones my enemies reproach me; while they ſay daily unto me, Where is their God?

Q. 12. What's the ſecond Inference from hence?

A. That it is a dreadful Infatuation and ſpiritual Judgment upon thoſe men that think they glorifie God in doing thoſe things which his Soul hateth; Iſa. 66. 5. Hear the word of the Lord, ye that tremble at his word: your brethren that hated you, that caſt you out for my names ſake, ſaid, Let the Lord be glorified: but he ſhall appear to your joy, and they ſhall be aſhamed. And John 16. 2. They ſhall put you out of the Synagogues: yea, the time cometh, that whoſoever killeth you, will think that he doth God ſervice.

Q. 13. What is the third Inference from hence?

A. That it ſhould be indifferent to a Chriſtian what condition God puts him into, ſo that he may but be uſeful to ſanctifie and exalt the name of God therein; Phil. 1. 20. — as always, ſo now alſo Chriſt ſhall be magnified in my body, whether it be by life, or by death.

Q. 14. What's the laſt Inference hence?

A. That it's an high and dreadful provocation of God to prophane and abuſe his Worſhip, whereon his Name is called, and wherein it is to be ſanctified; Levit. 10. 1, 2, 3. And Nadab and Abihu, the ſons of Aaron, took either of them his Cenſer, and put fire therein, and put incenſe thereon, and offered ſtrange fire before the Lord, which he commanded them not. And there went out fire from the Lord, and devoured them, and they died before the Lord. Then Moſes ſaid unto Aaron, This is it that the Lord ſpake, ſaying, I will be ſanctified in them that come nigh me, and before all the people will I be glorified.

Of God's Kingdom.

Queſt. 102. What do we pray for in the ſecond Petition?

A. In the ſecond Petition, which is, [Thy Kingdom come] we pray that Satan's Kingdom may be deſtroy'd, and that the Kingdom of grace may be advanc'd, our ſelves and others brought into it, and kept in it, and that the Kingdom of glory may be haſtened.

Q. 1. What is the firſt thing ſignify'd by the Kingdom of God here?

A. The Goſpel is here intended by the Kingdom of God; Matth. 13. 47. — Again, the Kingdom of Heaven is like unto a net, that was caſt into the ſea, and gathered of every kind.

Q. 2. What's the thing ſignified by the coming of this Kingdom of God?

A. It ſignifies the removal of all Impediments, that hinder its propagation in the World; 2 Theſſ. 3. 1. Finally, brethren, pray for us, that the word of the Lord may have free courſe, and be glorified, even as it is with you.

Q. 3. Who, and what hinders the propagation of it?

A. Antichriſt, that man of Sin, hinders it externally; 2 Theſſ. 2. 4. Who oppoſeth and exalteth himſelf above all that is called God, or that is worſhipped: ſo that he as God ſitteth in the temple of God, ſhewing himſelf that he is God. The Devil and Mens Luſts internally; 1 Theſſ. 2. 18. Wherefore we would have come unto you (even I Paul) once and again, but Satan hindered. Luke 19. 14. But his citizens hated him, and ſent a meſſenger after him, ſaying, We will not have this man to reign over us.

Q. 4. What then is the deſire of all good men, with reſpect to the coming of the Goſpel-kingdom?

A. That all Nations may be brought to Chriſt by the preaching of it, and ſo Chriſt's Kingdom be greatly exalted and enlarged; Iſa. 2. 2. And it ſhall come to paſs in the laſt days, that the mountain of the Lords houſe ſhall be eſtabliſhed in the top of the mountains, and ſhall be exalted above the hills: and all nations ſhall flow unto it.

Q. 5. What's the ſecond thing here meant by the Kingdom of God?

A. It ſignifies and intends the work of Saving Grace wrought in mens Souls; Luke 17. 21.— behold the kingdom of God within you.

Q. 6. Why is this work of Grace called the Kingdom of God?

A. Becauſe wherever ſaving Grace comes, it ſubdues the Soul to Chriſt's Scepter; 2 Cor. 10. 5. Caſting down imaginations, and every high thing that exalteth it ſelf againſt the knowledge of God, and bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Chriſt.

Q. 7. Wherein conſiſts the Kingdom of Grace?

A. It conſiſts not in external Rites and Obſervances, but in Righteouſneſs, and Peace, and Joy in the Holy Ghoſt; Rom. 14. 17. For the kingdom of God is not meat and drink, but righteouſneſs, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghoſt.

Q. 8. What do we ask of God in this Petition with reſpect to this Kingdom of Grace?

A. Herein we deſire not only our own perſonal progreſſive Sanctification, but the Sanctification of others all the World over; Acts 26. 29. And Paul ſaid, I would to God that not only thou, but alſo all that hear me this day, were both almoſt and altogether ſuch as I am, except theſe bonds.

Q. 9. What's the third thing here meant by the Kingdom of God?

A. By it is here meant the future ſtate of Glory and Bleſſedneſs, 1 Cor. 15. 50. Now this I ſay, brethren, that fleſh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God, &c.

Q. 10. Why is the Heavenly ſtate call'd the Kingdom of God?

A. This is call'd the Kingdom of God, becauſe in that ſtate God reigns over his People gloriouſly, there being no rebellion in them in the leaſt degree; Luke 20. 36. — For they are equal unto the angels, and are the children of God, being the children of the reſurrection. And they reign with Chriſt. Rev. 3. 21. To him that overcometh, will I grant to ſit with me in my throne, &c.

Q. 11. What do we deſire in Prayer for the coming of this Kingdom?

A. We deſire not only our preſervation in our paſſage to that ſtate of Glory; 1 Pet. 5. 10. But the God of all grace, who hath called us into his eternal glory by Chriſt Jeſus, after that ye have ſuffered a while, make you perfect, ſtabliſh, ſtrengthen, ſettle you. But the haſtening of it to our ſelves and others, Rev. 22. 20. — Amen, even ſo come Lord Jeſus.

Q. 12. What's the firſt Inſtruction hence?

A. That the Goſpel is an invaluable Mercy, as it is the inſtrument of bringing us into Chriſt's Gracious and Glorious Kingdom; Acts 26. 18. To open their eyes, and to turn them from darkneſs to light, and from the power of ſatan unto God, that they may receive forgiveneſs of ſins, and inheritance among them which are ſanctified by faith, that is in me.

Q. 13. What's the ſecond Inference from hence?

A. That many men really hate and oppoſe the very thing they pray for.

Q. 14. What's the laſt Inſtruction hence?

A. That how firmly ſoever Satan's and Antichriſt's Kingdom ſeem to be founded in the World, they muſt and ſhall fall before the daily Prayers of the Saints.

Concerning the doing of God's Will.

Queſt. 103. What do we pray for in the third Petition?

A. In the third Petition, which is, [Thy Will be done in Earth, as it is in Heaven] we pray, that God by his grace would make us able and willing to know, obey, and ſubmit to his Will in all things, as the Angels do in Heaven.

Q. 1. What Will of God is here intended?

A. Not the Will of his Decree, for that is in himſelf alone; 1 Cor. 2. 11. The things of God knoweth no man but the Spirit of God.

Q. 2. What Will then is here meant?

A. The Will of his Providence may be here meant; Pſal. 125. 6. Whatſoever the Lord pleaſed, that did he in heaven, and in earth, in the ſeas, and all deep places. And Pſal. 119. 89. For ever, O Lord, thy word is ſettled in heaven. Ver. 91. They continue this day according to thine ordinances; for all are thy ſervants.

Q. 3. How are we to underſtand the doing of this Will of Providence in Heaven?

A. (1.) As 'tis done by the Sun, Moon, and Stars; Pſal. 119. 89. Thy word is ſetled in Heaven. Ver. 91. They continue this day according to thine ordinances. Pſal. 19. 6. His going forth is from the end of the heaven, and his circuit unto the ends of it; and there is nothing hid from the heat thereof. (2.) As 'tis done by Angels, Pſal. 104. 4. Who maketh the angels ſpirits: his miniſters a flaming fire. Heb. 1. ult. Are they not all miniſtring ſpirits, ſent forth to miniſter for them who ſhall be heirs of ſalvation?

Q. 4. How do theſe perform the will of God's Providence?

A. (1.) The Heavenly Bodies do it evenly, conſtantly and unweariedly; Pſal. 104. 19. He appointeth the Moon for ſeaſons, the Sun knoweth his going down. (2.) The Angels do ſpeedily, voluntarily, cheerfully, and ſo knowingly; Pſal. 103. 21. Ye miniſters of his, that do his pleaſure.

Q. 5. Muſt we be Agents in this Providential Will?

A. Yes, we muſt; Acts 13 36. For David, after he had ſerved his generation by the will of God, fell on ſleep.

Q. 6. How muſt we do it?

A. By imploying our Abilities, Faculties, and ntereſts in the Duties of our particular Callings, nd by moving conſtantly, prudently and vigoouſly in our own ſphere, and ſo imitate thoſe in Heaven.

Q. 7. Why do we pray that God's Will of Provi nce may be done by us?

A. Becauſe we are his Creatures, and the moſt ble Inſtruments of the inferiour World; and erefore we ſhould be willing to be acted by m, and active for him; and becauſe this Will of Providence is always juſt, good and true, and for his own Glory; Pſal. 145. 17. The Lord is righteous in all his ways, and holy in all his works. Pſal. 119. 89. For ever, O Lord, thy word is ſettled in Heaven. Ver. 91. They continue this day according to thine ordinances; for all are thy ſervants.

Q. 8. What other Will of God is here meant?

A. The Will of his Precepts; and this is chiefly intended.

Q. 9. And how is this will of God done in Heaven?

A. By the Angels 'tis done univerſally, cheerfully, conſtantly, humbly, thankfully, loyally, readily; Pſal. 103. 20. Bleſs the Lord ye his angels that excel in ſtrength, that do his commandments, harkning unto the voice of his word. And ſo 'tis done by the Saints in Heaven; Rev. 7. 15. Therefore are they before the throne of God, and ſerve him day and night in his temple. And 22. 3. And his ſervants ſhall ſerve him.

Q. 10. Do we pray then that we may thus do the will of God?

A. Yes; for tho' we cannot perfectly without Sin do it, yet that is our Duty; Mat. 5. ult. Be ye therefore perfect, even as your father which is in Heaven is perfect. And in all other particulars we may and we muſt imitate them herein; Pſal. 119. 6. Then ſhall I not be aſhamed, when I have reſpect unto all thy commandments. Ver. 14. I have rejoyced in the way of thy teſtimonies, as much as in all riches. Ver. 60. I made haſte, and delayed not to keep thy commandments. Ver. 112, &c. I have inclined my heart to perform thy ſtatutes alway, even unto the end.

Q. 11. How muſt we know God's will?

A. Not notionally and rationally only, but ſpiritually alſo; 1 Cor. 2. 14. They are ſpiritually diſcerned.

Q. 12. Why is knowing God's will placed here before doing it, &c?

A. Becauſe the Underſtanding is the leading Faculty, without which 'tis impoſſible there ſhould be any Obedience; Prov. 19. 2. Alſo that the ſoul be without knowledge it is not good. Jer. 5. 4. Therefore I ſaid, ſurely theſe are poor, they are fooliſh: for they know not the way of the Lord, nor the judgment of their God.

Q. 13. Why pray we to God for this knowledge, can we not know it of our ſelves?

A. No, 'tis the ſpecial Gift and Grace of God, Gal. 1. 15, 16. But when it pleaſed God, who ſeparated me from my mothers womb, and called me by his grace, to reveal his ſon in me, that I might preach him among the heathen, immediately I conferred not with fleſh and blood. Eph. 1. 17, 19. That the God of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, the father of glory may give unto you the ſpirit of wiſdom and revelation in the knowledge of him. —And what is the exceeding greatneſs of his power to us-ward, who believe according to the working of his mighty power. Eph. 5. 8. For ye were ſometimes darkneſs, but now are ye light in the Lord.

Q. 14. Why do we pray that we may obey, can we not do it of our own free will when we know it?

A. No, for our Wills are ſtubborn and rebellious againſt God's Commands, as well as our Minds ignorant of them; Rom. 8. 7. Becauſe the carnal mind is enmity againſt God: for it is not ſubject to the law of God, neither indeed can be. Ezek. 36. 25, 26. Then will I ſprinkle clean water upon you, and ye ſhall be clean: from all your filthineſs, and from all your idols, will I cleanſe you. A new heart alſo will I give you, and a new ſpirit will I put within you: and I will take away the ſtony heart out of your fleſh, and I will give you an heart of fleſh. Phil. 2. 13. For it is God which worketh in you, both to will and to do of his good pleaſure.

Q. 15. What is meant by ſubmitting to God's will?

A. (1.) Either a voluntary ſubjection of Soul, and a preparedneſs actually to do his Will: Or (2.) a voluntary and ſilent ſubmiſſion to his Will of Providence in affliction; but in this particular we cannot imitate thoſe in Heaven, becauſe no croſs ever befals them.

Q. 16. Why is Will added in all things?

A. Becauſe partial Obedience is no Obedience; he that does not obey God in every thing, obeys him in nothing; Jam. 2. 10. For whoſoever ſhall keep the whole law, and yet offend in one point, he is guilty of all.

Q. 17. Why do we pray that God by his Grace would work this will in us and by us?

A. Becauſe 'tis Free-grace that determines it; 2 Tim. 1. 9. Who hath ſaved us, and called us with an holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpoſe and grace, which was given us in Chriſt Jeſus, before the world began. And efficacious Grace that works it in us, and enables us to do it; Eph. 5. 8. For ye were ſometimes darkneſs, but now are ye light in the Lord. Ver. 10. Proving what is acceptable unto the Lord.

Q. 18. What is the firſt Inference from hence?

A. That 'tis Man's Glory and Felicity to be conformed to the Will of God; Prov. 12. 26. The righteous is more excellent than his neighbour. Pſal. 19. 10, 11. More to be deſired are they than gold, yea, than much fine gold; ſweeter alſo than honey and the honey-comb. Moreover by them is thy ſervant warned; and in keeping of them there is great reward.

Q. 19. What is the ſecond Inference?

A. That we muſt mortifie in our ſelves every luſt that contradicts God's Will, and renounce without our ſelves every thing that comes in competition therewith; 1 Cor. 9. ult. But I keep under my body, and bring it into ſubjection; leſt that by any means when I have preached to others, I my ſelf ſhould be a caſt-away. Gal. 6. 14. But God forbid that I ſhould glory, ſave in the croſs of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, by whom the world is crucified unto me, and I unto the world.

Q. 20. What is the third Inference?

A. That it is in vain, yea, a provocation, to pray, if we be not obedient to God's Will; Prov. 2. 8, 9. He keepeth the paths of judgment, and preſerveth the way of his ſaints. Then ſhalt thou underſtand righteouſneſs, and judgment, and equity; yea, every good path.

Q. 21. What is the fourth Inference?

A. That the Law ſtill hath the authority of a Rule to Believers, becauſe it reveals God's Will, which they muſt do.

Concerning our Daily Bread.

Queſt. 14. What do we pray for in the fourth Petition?

A. In the fourth Petition, which is, [Give us this day our daily Bread] we pray, that of God's free gift we may receive a competent portion of the good things of this life, and enjoy his Bleſſing with them.

Q. 1. Why is this Petition placed after the three former?

A. Becauſe thoſe concern immediately and generally God's Glory, in the advancement of his Name, Kingdom and Will, which ought to be preferred to all our perſonal concerns; Pſal 69. 9. For the zeal of thine houſe hath eaten me up. Acts 21. 13. For I am ready not to be bound only, but alſo to die at Jeruſalem for the name of the Lord Jeſus.

Q. 2. Why is it put before the two following Petitions?

A. Not for its worth, but for its order; for we can have no Spiritual Bleſſings unleſs we have a Natural Being in this Life.

Q. 3. What kind of Bread is here meant?

A. Not Spiritual Bread, or our Lord Chriſt, (as ſome) but Corporal and Temporal.

Q. 4. What is included in this word Bread?

A. Not that only which we call ſtrictly Bread, but all the good things of this preſent Life.

Q. 5. Do we hereby beg pure Neceſſities only?

A. No, we pray for Conveniencies for our comfort; as well as Neceſſaries for our life.

Q. 6. Do we herein pray only for perſonal good things for our being?

A. No, we pray for civil good things for our condition, that according to our degree in the World in which God hath placed us, we may have a convenient allowance.

Q. 7. Do we pray here for our ſelves only?

A. No, but alſo for our charge, Children and Family, that under and with us they may have the good things of this Life.

Q. 8. Why do we pray to God for theſe good things, can we not get them our ſelves, or our fellow creatures give them to us?

A. Not without God: Whatever we have of theſe things, they are from God; whoever be the Second Cauſe or Inſtrument; if our ſelves, God gives us ability and ſucceſs to get them; if others, God inclined their hearts, and opened their hands to beſtow them; Deut. 8. 17, 18. And thou ſay in thine heart, my power and the might of my hand hath gotten me this wealth. But thou ſhalt remember the Lord thy God; for it is he that giveth thee power to get wealth.

Q. 9. Why do we pray to God to give us Bread?

A. Becauſe the leaſt crumb of Bread is a free Gift, and never can be merited by all we can do or ſuffer; Luke 17. 10. So likewiſe ye, when ye ſhall have done all theſe things which are commanded you, ſay, we are unprofitable ſervants.

Q. 10. Why are all theſe good things couched under the expreſſion Bread?

A. (1) Becauſe Bread is one of the moſt neceſſary and uſeful things to preſerve Life. (2) Becauſe we muſt not ask Delicacies and Dainties of God.

Q. 11. What is meant by Day in the Petition?

A. Either (1) a natural Day of twenty four hours; or (2) the day of our whole Life.

Q. 12. Why do we pray for Daily Bread?

A. Becauſe God muſt give us the mercies an good things of every day, or elſe we cannot hav them.

Q. 13. Why ſhould we not pray for weekly, or month- ly, or yearly Bread, as well as daily?

A. (1) Becauſe 'tis fit we ſhould be ſtill ſenſibl of our dependance upon God. (2) Becauſe w do frequently pray to God; and ſo exert our Gr co ces, and maintain communion with him, and daily render thanks for daily favour; Pſal. 55.17. Evening and morning, and at noon will I pray, and cry aloud, and he ſhall hear my voice.

Q. 14. What need we to pray for Daily Bread, when we may have ſtores laid up for Years?

A. They that have the good things of this Life need to pray this Petition, as well as they that have them not. Not that they may have Bread, but that it may be Bread to them; for except God give his Bleſſing upon it, Bread would be Aſhes, and not ſuſtaneous; neither could all the comforts of this Life do us any good: Iſa. 3 1. For behold, the Lord, the Lord of hoſts doth take away from Jeruſalem, and from Juda, the whole ſtay of bread, and the whole ſtay of water. Mal. 2. 1, 2. And now, O ye prieſts, this commandment is for you: If you will not hear, and if ye will not lay it to heart, to give glory unto my name, ſaith the Lord of hoſts, I will even ſend a curſe upon you, and I will curſe your bleſſings; yea, I have curſed them already, becauſe you do not lay it to heart.

Q. 15. Why do we pray only for daily Bread, or a competency, may we not pray for abundance and riches?

A. No, becauſe Riches are a great ſnare and temptation; Matth. 19. 23, 24. Then ſaid Jeſus unto his diſciples, Verily, I ſay unto you, that a rich man ſhall hardly enter into the kingdom of heaven. And again I ſay unto you, it is eaſier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God. Prov. 30. 8, 9. Remove far from me vanity and lyes, give me neither poverty nor riches, feed me with food convenient for me; leſt I be full and deny thee, and ſay, who is the Lord? Or leſt I be poor and ſteal, and take the name of my God in vain.

Q. 16. What ſhall we then do with Riches, if Providence caſt them upon us, ſhall we caſt them away?

A. No; for ſome of the beſt of Men, and greateſt of God's Favourites, have liv'd and died rich. But (1.) we muſt wean our Hearts from them; Pſal. 62. 10. Truſt not in oppreſſion, and become not vain in robbery: if riches encreaſe, ſet not your heart upon them. (2.) Be thankful for them, and (3.) Fruitful with them in acts of Piety and Charity: 1 Tim. 6. 17, 19. Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not high-minded, nor truſt in uncertain riches, but in the living God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy: laying up in ſtore for themſelves a good foundation againſt the time to come, that they may lay hold on eternal life.

Q. 17. Wherefore is the Bread call'd our Bread?

A. Not becauſe we are abſolute Lords and Poſſeſſors of it, for ſo 'tis God only; Pſal. 24. 1, 2. The earth is the Lords, and the fulneſs thereof; the world and they that dwell therein. For he hath founded it upon the ſeas, and eſtabliſhed it upon the floods. Pſal. 50. 10, 12. For every beaſt of the foreſt is mine, and the cattle upon a thouſand hills. If I were hungry, I would not tell thee, for the world is mine, and the fulneſs thereof. But (1) becauſe we muſt have a Covenant right to it; and (2.) a civil right; we muſt come lawfully and honeſtly by, and ſo keep the good things of this life. 2 Theſſ. 3. 10. For even when we were with you, this we commanded you, that if any would not work, neither ſhould he eat.

Q. 18. Having pray'd for our daily Bread, need we to labour and endeavour to get it?

A. Yes, we muſt labour in good and honeſt callings, God's Bleſſing and Man's Induſtry muſt concur towards the preſent maintenance of life; Pſal. 128. 1, 2. Bleſſed is every one that feareth the Lord, that walketh in his ways, for thou ſhalt eat the labour of thine hands: happy ſhalt thou be, and it ſhall be well with thee. Prov. 10. 4, 22. He becometh poor that dealeth with a ſlack hand: but the hand of the diligent maketh rich. The bleſſing of the Lord maketh rich, and he addeth no ſorrow with it.

Q. 19. What is the firſt Inference from it?

A. That we muſt not ſeek great matters for our ſelves, neither make them the matter of Prayer to God; nor the end and deſign of our Labours and Callings among Men.

Q. 20. What is a ſecond Inference from hence?

A. That having Food and Raiment, we muſt be therewith content, and therefore thankful; 1 Tim. 6. 8. And having food and raiment let us be therewith content. 1 Theſſ. 5. 18. In every thing give thanks.

Q. 21. What is the third Inference?

A. That we aſcribe not our ſucceſs in the World to our own Skill and Induſtry, for the wiſeſt and moſt induſtrious do ſometimes labour in the Fire, and put their Gain in a bag of holes; but to God's free Donation to us, and to his Bleſſing upon our Endeavours; Gen. 33. 5, 11. And he lift up his eyes, and ſaw the women and the children, and ſaid, who are thoſe with thee? And he ſaid, the children which God hath graciouſly given thy Servant.—Take, I pray thee, my bleſſing that is brought to thee, becauſe God hath dealt graciouſly with me, and becauſe I have enough. Deut. 28. 3. Bleſſed ſhalt thou be in the city, and bleſſed ſhalt thou be in the field. Ver. 6. Bleſſed ſhalt thou be when thou comeſt in, and bleſſed ſhalt thou be when thou goeſt out.

Concerning Forgiveneſs of Sins.

Queſt. 105. What do we pray for in the fifth Petition?

A. In the fifth Petition, which is, [and forgive us our Debts, as we forgive our Debtors] we pray, that God for Chriſt's ſake would freely pardon all our Sins: which we are the rather encourag'd to aſk, becauſe by this Grace we are enabled from the Heart to forgive others.

Q. 1. Why doth this Petition immediately follow the former?

A. To teach that all temporal and corporal good things, without ſpecial and ſpiritual ones, are little worth; Pſal 4. 6. There be many that ſay, who will ſhew us any good? Lord, lift thou up the light of thy countenance upon us. Pſal. 17. 14, 15. From men which are thy hand, O Lord, from men of the world which have their portion in this life, and whoſe belly thou filleſt with thy hid treaſure: they are full of children, and leave the reſt of their ſubſtance to their babes. As for me, I will behold thy face in righteouſneſs; I ſhall be ſatisfied when I awake with thy likeneſs.

Q. 2. Why is it annexed to the former with the Copulative and?

A. To teach, that to be one minute in the confluence of all earthly good things, without the pardon of Sin, is a very dangerous and dreadful condition; Luke 12. 16, 20. And he ſpake a parable unto them, ſaying, the ground of a certain rich man brought forth plentifully, but God ſaid unto him, Thou fool, this night ſhall thy ſoul be required of thee: then whoſe ſhall thoſe things be which thou haſt provided?

Q. 3. Why is forgiveneſs of Sins placed in the front of ſpiritual Bleſſings?

A. Becauſe till Sin be pardon'd we are under Wrath, and can have no ſpecial ſaving Grace applied to us, till we are accepted; till we are in Chriſt, we have no Covenant right to the Bleſſings of Chriſt; Matt. 11. 28. Come unto me all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you reſt; Ver. 30. For my yoke is eaſie, and my burden is light. John 15. 4, 5. Abide in me, and I in you: as the branch cannot bear fruit of it ſelf, except it abide in the Vine, no more can ye, except ye abide in me. I am the Vine, ye are the branches: He that abideth in me, and I in him, the ſame bringeth forth much fruit: for without me ye can do nothing — Ver. 7. If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ye ſhall ask what ye will, and it ſhall be done unto you. John 3. ult. He that believeth on the Son hath everlaſting life: and he that believeth not the Son, ſhall not ſee life; but the wrath of God abideth on him.

Q. 4. Why do we pray for forgiveneſs? cannot we make amends for our ſins, and be freed from their guilt without pardon?

A. No, all that we can ever do or ſuffer can never expiate the guilt of the leaſt Sin; Pſal. 49. 7, 8. None of them can by any means redeem his brother, nor give to God a ranſom for him: (For the redemption of their ſoul is precious, and it ceaſeth for ever.) 1 Sam. 2. 25. If one man ſin againſt another, the judge ſhall judge him: but if a man ſin againſt the Lord, who ſhall entreat for him?

Q. 5. Does God then freely, and out of meer Grace, forgive us?

A. Yes, without any reſpect had to any thing we can do or be; Iſa. 43. 25. I, even I, am he that blotteth out thy tranſgreſſions for my own ſake, and will not remember thy ſins. Rom. 9. 15. I will have mercy on whom I will have mercy, and I will have compaſſion on whom I will have compaſſion. Ver. 18. Therefore hath he mercy on whom he will have mercy, and whom he will he hardneth.

Q. 6. How doth God forgive Sins?

A. (1.) Univerſally, all Sins; Exod. 34. 6, 7. And the Lord paſſed by before him, and proclaimed, the Lord, the Lord God, merciful and gracious, long-ſuffering, and abundant in goodneſs and truth, keeping mercy for thouſands, forgiving iniquity and tranſgreſſion and ſin. Jer. 33. 8. And I will cleanſe them from all their iniquity, whereby they have ſinned againſt me: and I will pardon all their iniquities whereby they have ſinned, and whereby they have tranſgreſſed againſt me. Hoſ. 14. 2. Take away all iniquity, and receive us graciouſly. (2.) Compleatly and perfectly; Iſa. 43. 25. I, even I, am he that blotteth out thy tranſgreſſions for my own ſake, and will not remember thy ſins. Pſal. 103. 12. As far as the eaſt is from the weſt: ſo far hath he removed our tranſgreſſions from us. Mic. 7. 19. He will ſubdue our iniquities, and thou wilt caſt all our ſins into the depths of the ſea. Iſaiah 38. 17. For thou haſt caſt all my ſins behind thy back. (3.) Everlaſtingly; Jer. 31. 34. For I will forgive their iniquity, and I will remember their ſin no more. Heb. 8. 12. And their ſins and their iniquities will I remember no more.

Q. 7. But doth not God puniſh them afterward whom he has juſtified and forgiven?

A. No, not with a proper and vindictive puniſhment; but he brings Evil upon them for their Sins, as a Father chaſtiſes his Child; and other ſorts of Afflictions for their ſpiritual good: He may be angry, as a Father, with thoſe he has pardoned, but never hate them as a condemning Judge; Pſal. 89. 28. My mercy will I keep for him for evermore, and my covenant ſhall ſtand faſt with him. Ver. 34. My covenant will I not break, nor alter the thing that is gone out of my lips.

Q. 8. How can God be ſaid freely to pardon all our ſins, when we pray it may be done for Chriſt's ſake, does not that imply that Chriſt has ſatisfied God for our ſins, and deſerv'd our Remiſſion?

A. Yes, it does ſo; for the Lord Chriſt, by his Life and Death, did ſatisfie Divine Juſtice, and did merit our forgiveneſs; but if he did ſo, we did not ſo: our Sins coſt him dear, but their Pardon coſt us nothing; our Pardon is perfectly free to us, tho' due to Chriſt, for God gave Chriſt freely for us; God accepts of his Merits, and applies them to us freely; Rom. 3. 24. Being juſtified freely by his grace, through the redemption that is in Jeſus Chriſt.

Q. 9. But is there nothing requir'd from us as the Condition of Pardon? and if ſo, how can it be abſolutely free?

A. There are requir'd Repentance from Sin, and Faith in the Lord Chriſt; Luke 13. 3. But except ye repent, ye ſhall all likewiſe periſh. John 3. ult. And he that believeth not the Son, ſhall not ſee life, but the wrath of God abideth on him. This is requir'd from us towards our Pardon, but yet 'tis free, (1.) Becauſe God freely ordains thus to pardon. (2.) Becauſe both theſe are the free Gifts of God, Acts 11. 18. Then hath God alſo to the Gentiles granted repentance unto life. Eph. 2. 8. For by grace are ye ſaved, through Faith; and that not of your ſelves, it is the gift of God.

Q. 10. When then are our ſins forgiven?

A. Juſt upon our cloſure with Chriſt by Faith, in that very moment; Rom. 5. 1. Therefore being juſtified by faith, we have peace with God, through our Lord Jeſus Chriſt. Rom. 8. 1. There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Chriſt Jeſus.

Q. 11. Why do we pray in the Anſwer for the forgiveneſs of all our Sins?

A. Becauſe if the leaſt guilt ſhould remain upon us, 'twould exclude us from God's favour, and lodge us in everlaſting burnings; Rom. 6. ult. For the wages of ſin is death.

Q. 12. What are the Privileges and Bleſſings that accompany Pardon?

A. Juſtification is accompanied with Adoption, John 1. 12. But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the ſons of God, even to them that believe on his name. With the Spirit and Principle of all Grace and Holineſs; 1 Cor. 6. 11. And ſuch were ſome of you: but ye are waſhed, but ye are ſanctified, but ye are juſtified in the name of the Lord Jeſus, and by the ſpirit of our God. With an infallible title to Eternal Glory, John 3. 16. That whoſoever believeth in him ſhould not periſh, but have everlaſting life. Rom. 8. 30. Whom he juſtified, them he alſo glorified.

Q. 13. How may we know that we are pardon'd and juſtified?

A. Ordinarily by our Sanctification, by our loathing of Sin, our contempt of the World, our valuing of Chriſt, our love and thankfulneſs to God, &c. 1 Cor. 6. 11. But ye are ſanctified. Rom. 7. 24. O wretched man that I am, who ſhall deliver me from the body of this death? Gal. 6. 14. By whom the world is crucified unto me, and I unto the world.

1 Pet. 2. 7. Unto you therefore which believe he is precious. Luke 7. 47. Her ſins which are many are forgiven; for ſhe loved much.

Q. 14. What is meant by [Our]? is it only ſuch Sins as we have perſonally and actually committed?

A. No; but alſo Adam's Sin, which is ours by imputation; Rom. 5. 19. By one mans diſobedience many were made ſinners. And original Sin, which is ours by inheſion; Pſal. 51. 5. Behold, I was ſhapen in iniquity, and in ſin did my mother conceive me. And other mens Sins, which we have made ours, by exciting them to them, not hindring of them, ſilence at them, and other ways; 2 Sam. 12. 9. Thou haſt killed Uriah the Hittite with the ſword, and haſt taken his wife to be thy wife, and haſt ſlain him with the ſword of the children of Ammon. 1 Tim. 5. 22. Neither be partaker of other mens ſins.

Q. 15. Wherefore are Sins called Debts?

A. Becauſe they are a non-payment of God's Dues, a non-performance of our Duty, which makes us liable to the arreſt of Death, and to the Priſon of Hell.

Q. 16. Why do we plead our own forgiveneſs of others?

A. Not as any Merit of our own Pardon, but either as an Encouragement to our ſelves to beg Pardon; ſeeing ſuch evil, envious, and malignant perſons are enabled to forgive others, much more may we hope the good and gracious God will forgive us: Or as a condition, without which we can have no Pardon, and with which we ſhall; Mat. 6. 14. For if ye forgive men their treſpaſſes, your heavenly father will alſo forgive you.

Q. 17. How do others treſpaſs againſt us?

A. When they injure us either in our Perſons, or Names, or Families, or Eſtates, or Souls, &c. 1 Sam. 2. 25. If one man ſin againſt another, the judge ſhall judge him; but if a man ſin againſt the Lord, who ſhall entreat for him?

Q. 18. Can we forgive our Neighbours freely, fully and perfectly, as God doth forgive us?

A. We cannot.

Q. 19. What then is the meaning of God's forgiving us as we forgive others?

A. Not as to the quantity and perfection of forgiveneſs, but as to the ſincerity and quality thereof; Mat. 18. ult. So likewiſe ſhall my heavenly father do alſo unto you, if ye from your hearts forgive not every one his brother their treſpaſſes.

Q. 20. Are we always bound to manifeſt outwardly our love and forgiveneſs to all our enemies, and to behave our ſelves towards them as friends?

A. No, if we have experienc'd them to be treacherous and falſe, and ſee no change, we are not bound to truſt them, if they be and remain wicked and profane, we muſt not aſſociate with them; Pſal. 26. 5. I have hated the congregation of evil doers, and will not ſit with the wicked. Ver. 4. I have not ſate with vain perſons, neither will I go in with diſſemblers.

Q. 21. What then muſt we do to ſuch?

A. We muſt heartily forgive them all their Injuries; we muſt love them with the love of benevolence, pray for them, and be ready and willing to do them all good both of Body and Soul; Mat. 5. 44, 45. But I ſay unto you, love your enemies, bleſs them that curſe you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which deſpitefully uſe you and perſecute you. That you may be the children of your father which is in heaven; for he maketh his ſun to riſe on the evil, and on the good, and ſendeth rain on the juſt and on the unjuſt.

Q. 22. If we forgive others, ſhall we be forgiven our ſelves?

A. We ſhall, if out of Obedience to God, and Love to Chriſt, we do it.

Q. 23. What is the firſt Inference from hence?

A. That except our Sins be forgiven, we are loſt and undone Creatures, and therefore we muſt never be contented till we are pardon'd.

Q. 24. What is a ſecond Inference?

A. That God is a God of Love, Goodneſs, and Pardon, ſeeing he will not pardon us if we do not pardon others, but will if we do ſo.

Q. 25. What is a third Inference?

A. That if we live in hatred when we pray the Lord's Prayer, we pray for our own damnation; Mat. 18. 22. Jeſus ſaith unto him, I ſay not unto thee until ſeven times, but until ſeventy times ſeven. Ver. 35. So likewiſe ſhall my heavenly father do alſo unto you, if ye from your hearts forgive not every one his brother their treſpaſſes.

Of God's leading us into Temptation.

Queſt. 106. What do we pray for in the ſixth Petition?

A. In the ſixth Petition, which is, [And lead us not into Temptation, but deliver us from Evil] we pray that God would either keep us from being tempted to Sin, or ſupport and deliver us when we are tempted.

Q. 1. Why is this Petition joyn'd to the former with the Copulative And?

A. Becauſe 'twill be but little advantage to have former Sins pardon'd, and to be left to the power and practice, to the love and trade of Sin for the future; Ezek. 18. 26. When a righteous man turneth away from his righteouſneſs, and committeth iniquity, and dieth in them; for his iniquity that he hath done ſhall he die.

Q. 2. What is meant by Temptation?

A. In general, a tryal or probation of what is in us, or of what we will do.

Q. 3. What is meant by Temptation here?

A. Temptation to Sin and Wickedneſs.

Q. 4. How may we be ſaid to be tempted to ſin?

A. (1.) Effectually by our ſelves and our own hearts; Jam. 1. 14, 15. But every man is tempted when he is drawn away of his own luſt and enticed. Then when luſt hath conceived, it bringeth forth ſin; and ſin, when it is finiſhed, bringeth forth death. (2.) Formally, with an intention to draw into ſin, and ſo we are tempted of the Devil; 1 Chron. 21. 1. And Satan ſtood up againſt Iſrael, and provoked David to number Iſrael. Mat. 4. 1, 3. Then was Jeſus led up of the ſpirit into the wilderneſs, to be tempted of the devil. And when the tempter came to him, he ſaid, If thou be the Son of God, command that theſe ſtones be made bread. (3.) Innocently and blameleſly, and ſo God is ſaid to tempt; 2 Sam. 24. 1. And again the anger of the Lord was kindled againſt Iſrael, and he moved David againſt them to ſay, Go number Iſrael and Judah.

Q. 5. How many ways may God be ſaid to tempt to Evil?

A. (1.) By withdrawing his Grace either common or ſpecial; 2 Chron. 32. 31. Howbeit, in the buſineſs of the embaſſadors of the princes of Babylon, who ſent unto him to enquire of the wonder that was done in the land, God left him to try him, that he might know all that was in his heart. (2.) By permitting Satan and wicked men to tempt; 2 Sam. 24. 1. He moved David againſt them, to ſay, Go and number Iſrael and Judah. With 1 Chron 21. 1. Satan ſtood up againſt Iſrael, and provoked David. Mat. 4. 1. Then was Jeſus led up of the ſpirit into the wilderneſs, to be tempted of the devil. (3.) By preſenting occaſions in his Providence, which he knows will be abuſed to Sin, as in the fall of Adam, the hardning of Pharaoh, &c.

Q. 6. What do we beg in this Petition?

A. We beg that we may not any of theſe, or any other ways, whereby the holy God may be ſaid to lead into Temptation, be led thereinto; Pſal. 141. 4. Incline not my heart to any evil thing, to practice wicked works with men that work iniquity; and let me not eat of their dainties. Pſal. 19. 13. Keep back thy ſervant alſo from preſumptuous ſins, let them not have dominion over me: then ſhall I be upright, and I ſhall be innocent from the great tranſgreſſion.

Q. 7. What is meant by evil?

A. Some underſtand it of the Devil, but the beſt meaning is Sin, which is the evil of evils; and makes the Devil evil, and is the worſt of evils the Devil can bring upon us, and is uſually ſo underſtood in Scripture; Pſal. 97. 10. Ye that love the Lord, hate evil. Iſa. 1. 16. Ceaſe to do evil. Amos 5. 15. Hate the evil, and love the good. Rom. 12. 9. Abhor that which is evil.

Q. 3. What by deliverance from evil is meant?

A. That if God ſees meet to permit us to be tempted by Satan and the wicked without, or by our own Hearts within, to ſin; or occaſionally by his Providence, that he will not leave us, but undertake for us, that we may not be led into Sin thereby, but by his Grace be made more than conquerors; Pſal. 51. 10. Create in me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right ſpirit within me. Pſal. 119. 133. Order my ſtep, in thy word; and let not any iniquity have dominion over me. According to his promiſe, 1 Cor. 10. 13. But God is faithful, who will not ſuffer you to be tempted above that ye are able. 2 Cor. 12. 9. And he ſaid unto me, my grace is ſufficient for thee; for my ſtrength is made perfect in weakneſs.

Q. 9. What is the firſt Inference?

A. That Sin is the worſt of Evils.

Q. 10. What's the ſecond Inference?

A. That without God's Grace we can never withſtand, but ſhall be overcome by every temptation; 2 Cor. 3. 5. Not that we are ſufficient of our ſelves to think any thing as of our ſelves, but our ſufficiency is of God. John 15. 5. For without me ye can do nothing.

Q. 11. What is the third Inference?

A. That we muſt do all we can to keep our ſelves from Temptation, and to engage the Grace of God with us in Temptation by Prayer, by pleaſing the Spirit of God, by looking to Jeſus, &c.

Of the Concluſion.

Queſt. 107. What doth the Concluſion of the Lord's Prayer teach us?

A. The Concluſion of the Lord's Prayer, which is, [For thine is the Kingdom, and the Power and the Glory, for ever and ever, Amen.] teacheth us to take our encouragement in Prayer from God only, and in our Prayers to praiſe him, aſcribing Kingdom, Power, and Glory to him, and in teſtimony of our deſire, and aſſurance to be heard we ſay, Amen.

Q. 1. Why is the Concluſion joyn'd to the Particle For?

A. To teach us that therein are included Arguments or Reaſons to preſs God withal, and to prevail with him for audience.

Q. 2. But is it lawful to argue with God, and to urge him with Reaſons in Prayer?

A. 'Tis not only lawful, but expedient, yea, highly commendable; as is ſeen in the Saints Prayers. In Moſes's, Numb. 14. 13. And Moſes ſaid unto the Lord, then the Egyptians ſhall hear it (for thou broughteſt up this people in thy might from among them.) Ver. 19. Pardon, I beſeech thee, the iniquity of this people, according unto the greatneſs of thy mercy, and as thou haſt forgiven this people, from Egypt, even until now. In Joſhua's, chap. 7. 7. And Joſhua ſaid, Alas, O Lord God, wherefore haſt thou at all brought this people over Jordan, to deliver us into the hand of the Amorites to deſtroy us? would to God we had been content, and dwelt on the other ſide Jordan. Ver. 9. For the Canaanites, and all the inhabitants of the land ſhall hear of it, and ſhall environ us round, and cut off our name from the earth: and what wilt thou do unto thy great name? In Aſa's, 2 Chron. 14. 11. And Aſa cried unto the Lord his God, and ſaid, Lord, it is nothing with thee to help, whether with many, or with them that have no power: Help us, O Lord our God, for we reſt on thee, and in thy name we go againſt this great multitude: O Lord, thou art our God, let not man prevail againſt thee. In Jehoſhaphat's, 2 Chron. 20. 6. And ſaid, O Lord God of our fathers, art not thou God in heaven? and ruleſt not thou over all the kingdoms of the heathen? and in thine hand is there not power and might, ſo that none is able to withſtand thee? And Hezekiah's, 2 Kin. 19. 15. And Hezekiah prayed before the Lord, and ſaid, O Lord God of Iſrael, which dwelleſt between the cherubims, thou art the God, even thou alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth, thou haſt made heaven and earth. Ver. 19. Now therefore, O Lord our God, &c.

Q. 3. But to what purpoſe can we think to prevail with God by our Arguments and Importunity?

A. They are not uſed as tho' we would put God in remembrance of any thing, or would prevail with God to do that for us which he is unwilling to give.

Q. 4. Why then?

A. For our own profit, for the enlarging of our own Hearts, for the exciting of our Fervency, for the exerting of Faith, Hope, Zeal, Charity, &c. in Prayer, and ſo to prepare our ſelves for the mercy, that we may the more gratefully receive it, and the more fruitfully imploy it.

Q. 5. How many Arguments are in this Concluſion?

A. Three.

Q. 6. From whence are they taken?

A. From God's Kingdom, from his Law, and from his Glory.

Q. 7. What Kingdom is here meant?

A. God's univerſal, eſſential, and abſolute Kingdom, wherein may be and is involved his ſpecial Kingdom over the Church.

Q. 8. What are the Arguments from hence?

A. Becauſe all that we can pray for in this

Prayer, is for the advancement and perfecting of this his Kingdom, by the deſtruction of all perſons and things that oppoſe it, and the completion of his dominion over all his Subjects; therefore he would grant all theſe requeſts.

Q. 9. What is another?

(2.) Becauſe he being ſuch an abſolute Lord and Soveraign, has an undeniable Right, and unqueſtionable Authority to give and grant all we ask, and to effect and bring to paſs all we beg; for all perſons and things are his own, and at his diſpoſal; Mat. 20. 15. Is it not lawful for me to do what I will with my own?

Q. 10. What is meant by Power?

A. God's eſſential, infinite, irreſiſtible Power, whereby he can do what he pleaſes; Pſal. 135. 6. Whatſoever the Lord pleaſed, &c.

Q. 11. What is the Argument from hence?

A. That we ask nothing from God but what he can do with infinite eaſe, in deſpite of all the oppoſition that Hell, Earth and Heart can make to the contrary; Phil. 3. ult. According to the working, &c. Eph. 3. 20. Now unto him that is able, &c.

Q. 12. What is meant by Glory?

A. Not his eſſential Glory, which no Man or Angel can ever apprehend.

Q. 13. What Glory then?

A. His declar'd and acknowledg'd Glory, even the accompliſhment of all his Decrees by his Providence; and then the love, the adoration and the praiſes, the ſelf-dedications of Angels and Saints return'd to him for the ſame.

Q. 14. What is the Argument or Motive from hence?

A. That ſeeing the ſubſtance of every Requeſt does directly tend to, and will perfectly end in, this Glory of God, when they are fully anſwer'd, therefore he would gradually anſwer them while we are here, and perfectly at laſt, to the advancement of his Glory now, and the completion of it then; 1 Chron. 29. 11. Thine, O Lord, is the greatneſs, and the power, and the glory, &c. Joſ. 7. 9. And what wilt thou do unto thy great name? Iſa. 42. 8. I am the Lord, that is my name, &c. Iſa. 48. 11. For my own ſake, even for my own ſake will I do it, &c.

Q. 15. Why is Amen added?

A. Becauſe 'tis the uſual Concluſion of Prayers and Praiſes; Pſal. 41. 13. Bleſſed be the Lord God of Iſrael, &c. Pſal. 72. 19. And bleſſed be his glorious name for ever, &c. 2 Cor. 13. ult. The grace of the Lord Jeſus, and the love of God, &c. Rom. 16. 20. The grace of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt be with you. Amen.

Q. 16. But what doth this word here ſignifie?

A. It ſignifies (1.) the reality and ardency of our deſire to be granted in what we pray for; Rev. 22. 20. He which teſtifieth theſe things, ſaith, Surely I come quickly. Amen. Even ſo come, Lord Jeſus.

Q. 17. And what beſides?

A. Our truſt and firm confidence that we ſhall be heard and anſwer'd in all theſe our Requeſts; Rev. 1. 7. Even ſo, Amen. Rev. 7. 12. Saying Amen: bleſſing, and glory, and wiſdom, &c.

Q. 18. What are the Inferences from hence?

A. That we ought to uſe in Prayer all ſuch Arguments as may moſt and beſt affect our Hearts towards God, excite our Graces, and ſucceed with God.

Q. 19. What's another?

A. That all we pray for muſt be in a ſubſerviency to God's Kingdom, and with a deſire of his Glory.

Q. 20. What is the next?

A. That we muſt act according to our Prayers, do all we can for the advancement of God's Kingdom, and the exaltation of his Glory, as Subjects and Votaries thereto; Pſal. 116. 16. 1 Cor. 10. 31.

Q. 21. What may more be gathered hence?

A. That we ought to begin, ſo to continue, and conclude our Prayers in loweſt Adorations of God, and acknowledgments of his Glory and Attributes.

Q. 22. What more doth this Concluſion teach?

A. That in Prayer we muſt be fervent in our deſires, and longing for what we pray, Jam. 5. 16.

Q. 23. Is there any thing beſides?

A. That praying for things agreeable to God's Will, we ought to be confident that we ſhall ſucceed in our Requeſts, praying for the Matter, and after the manner of this Prayer; Jam. 1. 6, 8. Mat. 21. 22.

Vindiciæ Legis & Fœderis:

OR, A

REPLY

TO

Mr. PHILIP CARY's Solemn Call.

Wherein he pretends to Anſwer all the Arguments of

Mr. ALLEN,
Mr. BAXTER,
Mr. SYDENHAM,
Mr. SEDGWICK,
Mr. ROBERTS, and
Dr. BURTHOGGE,

For the Right of Believers Infants to BAPTISM.

By proving the Law at Sinai, and the Covenant of Circumciſion with Abraham, were the very ſame with Adam's Covenant of Works, and that becauſe the Goſpel-Covenant is abſolute.

A Friendly Preface to the Author of the SOLEMN CALL, and the more diſcreet and charitable of the Party concern'd with him in this Controverſie.

Chriſtian Friends,

WHen we open our Bibles, and read that Text, 1 Cor. 1. 10. we have cauſe to deal with it as Origen once did by another Scripture, even cloſe the Book, and weep over it, in conſideration of the weak and feeble influences ſuch melting words, deliver'd with ſuch a Pathos, have upon the Hearts of Profeſſors this day. Now I beſeech you, Brethren, by the name of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, that ye all ſpeak the ſame thing, and that there be no diviſions among you, but that ye be perfectly joyned together in the ſame mind, and in the ſame judgment.

I beſeech you] He dips the Nail in Oyl, that it may drive the eaſier. I beſeech you, Brethren] A Compellation breathing ſweetneſs and affection, and ſhould drop from our Lips into each others Ears, with the ſame effect that Word once did upon the Ears of Benhadad's Servants, my Brother Benhadad. Sirs, (ſaid Moſes to the ſtriving Iſraelites) ye are Brethren. O when ſhall the Church become a true Philadelphia!

I beſeech you Brethren, by the name of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt] or as you love Jeſus Chriſt, ut quantum ipſum amant, tantum ſtudeant concordiæ, ſaith Calvin; Be as ſtudious of Concord, as you are free in profeſſing Love to Chriſt.

That there be no diviſions] or rents among you, a Σχίσμα Schiſm, or rent in the Church is much the ſame, and altogether as dangerous as a Στάσις or Sedition in the Common-wealth, and harder to be cured: For as the Lord Verulam truly obſerves, Differences amongſt perſecuting Enemies and the Church, are like the ſtrivings of the Egyptian with the Iſraelite; which Moſes quickly ended, by knocking down the Egyptian: but Diſſentions in the Church are like the ſtriving of one Iſraelite with another; and all that Moſes can do to quiet and part theſe, is only by fair and gentle words, and reminding them that they are Brethren.

Great is the miſchief of Diviſions among Chriſtians, and the leſs the grounds and cauſes are, the greater always is the ſin and miſchief of them. In the Primitive Church Contentions grew fervent about means lawful and unlawful; which did not profit, the meaning is, it greatly damnified them that were occupied therein, Heb. 13. 9. practical Religion among them grew cold, as Diſputations about theſe Trifles grew fervent.

The readieſt way to cool ſuch Heats is, by diſcovering the trivial nature of the matter contended about; as Demoſthenes appeas'd the tumult among the People rais'd by a ſmall occaſion, by relating to them the Story of a Man that had hir'd an Aſs to carry him a Journey, but the Sun ſhining fervent, he was forced to quit her Back, and betake himſelf to her ſhadow; the owner withſtood him, alledging, that he had hired the Body of the Aſs, but her ſhadow was not in the bargain; and ſo the Contention between them grew as hot as the Sun. Many ſuch Trifles have raiſed great Contentions in the World; witneſs the great Contention betwixt the Eaſtern and Weſtern Church, about keeping of Eaſter.

Other Points there are of greater moment, about which good men contend, and yet theſe oftentimes are magnified much above their true intrinſecal value. So I am ſure it is in the Controverſie before us. Mr. Cary tells us, that Theſe things will be found at length to be of higheſt concernment unto us, and muſt therefore be our moſt ſerious practice; pa. 243. If ſo, then the proper ſubject of Baptiſm muſt be one of thoſe that is of greateſt weight, and the profeſſion thereof, the very Schibboleth to diſtinguiſh one perſon from another in matters of Religion. No wonder therefore the Fires of Contention are blown up to ſuch a vehement heat, even in ſuch an improper ſeaſon; much like the Contentions among the Engliſh Fugitives at Frankfort, when their Brethren were frying in the Flames at Smithfield. Juſt ſo muſt we be ſcuffling, whilſt thouſands of our Brethren are bleeding in Ireland. Had we a true ſenſe of the quality of the Subject, or the unſeaſonableneſs of the Time, it would certainly allay theſe Heats among us. Did we ſee who ſtand by, and look with pleaſure upon our Follies, it would quickly allay our Heats. Tertullian tells the Chriſtians of his time, that they were like the Funambulones, or Men that walk upon Ropes, the leaſt tread awry might be their ruin, ſo narrowly did their Enemies watch them.

Sirs, the Peace, Safety and Honour of the diſſenting Intereſt are things of too great value to be hazarded amongſt the hands of our common Enemies. You may fancy they will neglect the advantage you give them, but if they do, the Devil will call them Fools for it. Mr. Herle tells us of a King's Fool, who wrote down the King himſelf in his Table among his brother Fools, becauſe he had truſted an African Stranger with Four thouſand pounds to buy Barbary Horſes. The King asked him how he would make him amends, if the Stranger ſhould come again? Why then (ſaid he) I'll blot your Name out of my Table of Fools, and write down the African in your ſtead. Think not our Enemies are ſuch Fools to neglect the advantage we caſt into their hands. 'Tis a weighty Note of Livy, Conſilia non dant homines rebus, ſed res hominibus; Men don't counſel Things, but Time and Things counſel Men. Methinks the poſtures of Times and Affairs give us better Counſel than we ſeem to be govern'd by in ſuch work as this. Diviſions of Forty years ſtanding and more, about Infants Baptiſm, have eaten up the Times, waſted the Spirits, and alienated the Hearts of Engliſh Profeſſors, divided them both in Society and Love; by reaſon whereof God's pleaſant Plant in this reſembles the Bramble, which taking root at both ends, by reaſon of the rancounters of the Sap, commonly withers in the middle. Your Brethren, in their Narrative from their general Aſſembly, make a ſad and ſenſible complaint of withering in the power of Godlineſs. And truly we as well as they may complain with the Church, We do all fade as a Leaf: The Lord help us to diſcern the true cauſe, whether it be not the miſplacing of our Zeal, our being cold where we ſhould be fervent, and fervent hot where we ſhould be cool; and whether the eating up of ſo much time and ſtudy about Baptizing of Infants, have not kept us theſe forty years in the Infancy of our Graces?

I well remember that bleſſed time, when Ours and Yours were terms almoſt unknown among Profeſſors in England. When their Affections and Prayers melted and mingled together ſweetly in days of humiliation, and other Duties of edifying and heavenly Communion; and then Churches began to flouriſh, and the Graces of Chriſtians every where flouriſhed, and became fruitful; but no ſooner did the Saints divide in Society and Affection, but theſe pleaſant bloſſoms were nipt by it, as by a froſty morning. The Church form'd it ſelf as it were into two Armies, ſet in Battalia againſt each other. It was now with us much like as it's ſaid of the Amphisbena, that hath an Head at either end, of which neither can well move without the conſent of both; but if each move a contrary way, the Body tears in the middle. I doubt not but many that differ'd from us belong'd to Chriſt, the ſame Head with us; and yet 'tis paſt doubt, that many who ſeem'd to be of us were headed by Satan; and quickly diſcover'd themſelves to be ſo, by running farther than we firſt or you next imagin'd, even into Quakeriſm, Socinianiſm, Ranteriſm, and the fouleſt Puddle and Sink of complicated Errors; of which an impartial Stranger under the name of Honorius Reggius, ἀναγραμματικῶς, Georgius Hornius having heard the report in his own Country, came over on purpoſe into England for his particular and perfect information, and hath given the foreign Churches a full and ſad account thereof in a Latin Narrative, which I have by me; whereby I find, that if the Lord in mercy to us had not let in a third Party with the common Calamity upon us all, we our ſelves muſt in all probability have mutually ruin'd each other. But God ſaw other hands fitter for ſuch dirty Work than ours; and now it was time to reflect upon former Follies, and renew our ancient acquaintance in the common Goals. And through the goodneſs of God this did ſomewhat allay the Heats of good men, and gave us freſh hopes of an hearty and laſting redintegration. We hoped the Furnace might have purged our Droſs, and melted our Hearts into Unity, both by diſcovering the Evils for which the Lord afflicted us, and the Sincerity of the Sufferers Hearts under thoſe Tryals. Chriſtians, (ſaith Mr. Jenkins) if we muſt die, let us die like men, by an unanimous holy Contention againſt the common Enemy, not like Fools, by giving him our Sword, and deſtroying one another by Schiſms in our own bowels.

But alas! alas! no ſooner is the Rod off our Backs, and a reſpite from Sufferings given us, but we are preſently ſounding an Alarm to the Battel again, and, to my ſorrow, my ſelf unavoidably engaged therein.

Friends, I have a Witneſs in many of your Boſoms, how peacefully and reſpectfully I have always carried it towards you, even to ſuch a degree as began to bring me under the ſuſpicion of ſome of your Party, that I was inclining to their Opinion, tho' I did not openly profeſs it. But the true Reaſons of my moderation in this point were, (1.) That I ever did, and ſtill do, look upon many of you as Chriſtians, ſound in the other great Doctrines of the Goſpel. (2.) That there are difficulties in this Controverſie which may puzzle the minds of well-meaning Chriſtians. (3.) I highly valued the Peace of the Church, and durſt do nothing that tended to keep open the breaches upon a Controverſie of this nature, you being for Purity in Doctrine and Worſhip in moſt other controverted points, as well as we. (4.) I obſerv'd how rare a thing it is for engaged Parties to give ground.

Qui velit ingenio cedere, rarus erit.

(5.) My Head, Heart, and Hands have been filled with better employments, from which I am extreamly loth to be diverted. If Bellarmine turn'd with loathing from School-divinity, becauſe it wanted the ſweet juice of Piety, much more may I turn from ſuch perverſe

Diſputes as theſe: Sure I may find as fair Expoſitions of Scripture, and as accurate and legitimate diſtinctions among the School-men, as in Mr. Tombes's Examen and Apology; or (which for the moſt part is but a Tranſcript of both) in Mr. Cary's Solemn Call. But I ſee I muſt not be my own chuſer, I cannot now be both ſilent and innocent; for in this Solemn Call I find the great Doctrines of God's Covenants abuſed by my Neighbour. The Books diſpers'd into many Families related to me in this place, one of them deliver'd to me by the Author's own hand, with a preſſing deſire to give my judgment upon it. Several Objections which I privately and ſeaſonably ſent him, to prevent the ſin and folly of his attempt, pretended to be anſwer'd from p. 164. ad p. 183. Thus am I neceſſarily brought into the Field of Controverſie, whither I come not a Volunteer, but a preſs'd man; not out of choice, but neceſſity. And now I am here, I reſolve to be only Adverſarius litis, non perſonæ, an Adverſary in the Controverſie, not to the Perſon, eſpecially of my friendly Neighbour. Neither would I have appear'd thus publickly againſt him, if Differences could have been accommodated, and the evil prevented in a more private way, in order whereto, I have punctually obſerv'd and kept the rules and meaſures of friendſhip.

'Tis poſſible ſome may judge my Stile againſt him to be too ſharp, but if they pleaſe to read the Concluſion of his Call, and my Anſwer, I preſume they will find enough to make atonement for that fault, if it be a fault. 'Tis from the nature of the matter before me, not from defect of Charity to the Perſon or Party, that I am forced to be ſo plain and pungent as I am.

To conclude, I ſuſpect this very Preface may be alſo cenſur'd for its plainneſs and tediouſneſs. I confeſs, when times are buſie we ſhould be brief; and I am perſwaded a ſufficient Preface may be contracted into four words, ἄνευ προοιμίων, ϗ παθῶν, without Preface or Paſſions. However, I have a little eaſed my own Heart, by diſcharging my Duty to my differing Brethren, and pleas'd my ſelf, if not them.

The God of Peace create Peace in all the borders of Sion, beat our Swords into Plow ſhares, and our Spears into Pruning-hooks; I mean our polemicals into practicals, that Jeruſalem may once more be a City compact, and no more terrible to her ſelf, but only to her Enemies, as an Army with Banners. This, Brethren, is the Prayer, and ſhall ever be the Endeavour of

Your Friend and Servant
in Chriſt,

John Flavell.

PROLEGOMENA.

BEfore we enter into the main Controverſie, it will be neceſſary to acquaint the Reader, why I begin with the middle of the Book; and it is becauſe I there find theſe three Principles or Poſitions, on which the other parts of his Diſcourſe are ſuperſtructed; and theſe being deſtroy'd, his other Diſcourſes are but arenæ, ſine calce. I properly therefore begin with the Foundation.

Next I ſhall ſhew how far we are agreed in the matters here controverted, and where it is in each of theſe that the Controverſie indeed lies betwixt us; and as to

I. Poſition, viz.

That the Sinai Law is the ſame with Adam's Covenant of Works, made in Paradiſe.

The difference betwixt us here is not (1.) Whether both theſe be call'd Covenants in Scripture? nor (2.) Whether there were no Grace at all in both, or either of them; for we are agreed, it is Grace in God to enter into Covenant with Man, whatever that Covenant be: nor (3.) Whether the Sinai Law be not a Covenant of Works to ſome Men, by their own fault and occaſion? nor (4.) Whether the Scriptures do not many times ſpeak of it in that very ſenſe and notion wherein Carnal Juſticiaries apprehend and take it, and by rejecting Chriſt, make it ſo to themſelves? nor (5.) Whether the very matter of the Law of Nature be not reviv'd and repreſented in the Sinai Law? Theſe are not the Points we contend about: but the Queſtion is, Whether the Sinai Law do in its own nature, and according to God's purpoſe and deſign in the promulgation of it, revive the Law of Nature, to the ſame ends and uſes it ſerv'd to in Adam's Covenant; and ſo be properly and truly a Covenant of Works? Or whether God had not gracious and evangelical ends and purpoſes, viz. by ſuch a dreadful repreſentation of the ſevere and impracticable terms of the firſt Covenant, inſtead of obliging them to the perſonal and punctual obſervance of them for Righteouſneſs and Life, he did not rather deſign to convince them of the impoſſibility of legal Righteouſneſs, humble proud Nature, and ſhew them the neceſſity of betaking themſelves to Chriſt, now exhibited in the New Covenant, as the only Refuge to fallen Sinners. The latter I defend according to the Scriptures, the former Mr. Cary ſeems to aſſert and vehemently argue for.

2ly. In this Controverſie about the Sinai Law, I do not find Mr. Cary diſtinguiſhing (as he ought) betwixt the Law conſider'd more largely and complexly, as containing both the Moral and Ceremonial Law, for both which it is often taken in Scripture, and more ſtrictly for the Moral Law only, as it is ſometimes uſed in Scripture. Theſe two he makes one and the ſame Covenant of Works; though there be ſome that doubt whether the meer Moral Law may not be a Covenant of Works; yet I never met with any man before, that durſt affirm the Ceremonial Law, which is ſo full of Chriſt, to be ſo; and to this Law it is that Circumciſion appertains.

3ly. The Moral Law, ſtrictly taken for the Ten Commandments, is not by him diſtinguiſh'd (as it ought to be, and as the Scripture frequently doth) according to God's intention and deſign in the promulgation of it, which was to add it as an Appendix to the Promiſe, Gal. 3. 19. and not to ſet it up as an oppoſite Covenant, Gal. 3. 21. and the carnal Jews miſtaking and perverting the uſe and end of the Law, and making it to themſelves a Covenant of Works, by making it the very Rule and Reaſon of their Juſtification before God, Rom. 9. 32, 33. Rom. 10. 3. theſe things ought carefully to have been diſtinguiſh'd, foraſmuch as the whole Controverſie depends on this double ſenſe and intention of the Law; yea, the very denomination of that Law depends hereon: For I affirm, it ought not to be denominated from the abuſed and miſtaken end of it amongſt carnal men, but from the true ſcope, deſign and end for which God publiſh'd it after the Fall: And tho' we find ſuch expreſſions as theſe in Scripture, The man that doth them ſhall live in them; and Curſed is every one that continueth not in all things, &c. yet theſe reſpecting the Law not according to God's intention, but man's corruption and abuſe of it, the Law is not thereby to be denominated a Covenant of Works. God's End was not to juſtifie them, but to try them by that terrible diſpenſation, Exod. 20. 20. whether they would ſtill hanker after that natural way of ſelf-righteouſneſs: for this end God propounded the Terms of the firſt Covenant to them on Sinai, not to open the way of ſelf-juſtification to them, but to convince them, and ſhut them up to Chriſt; juſt as our Saviour, Matt. 19. 17. puts the young man upon keeping the Commandments, not to drive him from, but neceſſitate him to himſelf in the way of Faith.

The Law in both theſe ſenſes is excellently deſcrib'd, Gal. 4. in that Allegory of Hagar and Sarah, the figures of the two Covenants. Hagar in her firſt and proper ſtation was but a ſerviceable Handmaid to Sarah, as the Law is a Schoolmaſter to Chriſt; but when Hagar the Handmaid is taken into Sarah's Bed, and brings forth Children that aſpire to the Inheritance, then ſaith the Scripture, Caſt out the bond-woman, with her ſon. So it is here; take the Law in its primary uſe, as God deſign'd it, as a Schoolmaſter or Handmaid to Chriſt and the Promiſe, ſo it is conſiſtent with them, and excellently ſubſervient to them; but if we marry this Handmaid, and eſpouſe it as a Covenant of Works, then are we bound to it for life, Rom. 7. and muſt have nothing to do with Chriſt. The Believers of the Old Teſtament had true apprehenſions of the right end and uſe of the Law, which directed them to Chriſt, and ſo they became children of the Free-woman. The carnal Jews truſted to the works of the Law for righteouſneſs, and ſo became the children of the Bond-woman; but neither could be children of both at once, no more than the ſame man can naturally be born of two Mothers. This is the difference betwixt us about the firſt Poſition. And as to the

II Poſition.

That Abraham's Covenant, Gen. 17. is an Adam's Covenant of Works alſo, becauſe Circumciſion was annexed to it, which obliged Men to keep the whole Law.

The Controverſie betwixt us in this point, is not whether Circumciſion were an Ordinance of God, annexed by him to his Covenant with Abraham: nor (2.) Whether Abraham's ordinary and extraordinary Seed ought to be, and actually were ſign'd by it? nor (3.) Whether it were a Seal of the Righteouſneſs of Faith to any individual perſon; for he allows it to be ſo to Abraham? nor (4.) Whether it pertain'd to the Ceremonial Law, and ſo muſt ceaſe at the death of Chriſt? But the difference betwixt us is, Whether (1.) it was a Seal of the Covenant to none but Abraham? and, (2.) Whether in the very nature of the Act, or only from the intention of the Agent, it did oblige men to keep the whole Law, as Adam was obliged to keep it in innocency? (3.) Whether it were utterly aboliſh'd at the death of Chriſt, as a condition of the Covenant of Works; or being a ſign of the ſame Covenant of Grace we are now under, it be not ſucceeded by the new Goſpel-ſign, which is Baptiſm? Mr. Cary affirms, that it was in it ſelf a condition of the Covenant of Works, and being annexed to God's Covenant with Abraham, Gen. 17. it made that a true Adam's Covenant of Works alſo. This I utterly deny, and ſay, Abraham's Covenant was a true Covenant of Grace. (2.) That Circumciſion was a Seal of righteouſneſs of Faith, and therefore could not poſſibly belong to the Covenant of Works. (3.) That as it was applied both to the ordinary and extraordinary Infant-ſeed of Abraham, during that adminiſtration of the Covenant, ſo it is the Will of Chriſt that Baptiſm ſhould take its place under the Goſpel, and be applied now to the Infant-ſeed of all Abraham's Spiritual Children. Theſe are the things wherein we differ about the ſecond Poſition. And laſtly, as to the

III Poſition.

That neither Moſes's Law, Exod. 20. nor God's Covenant with Abraham, Gen. 17. can be any other than an Adam's Covenant of Works, becauſe they have each of them Conditions in them on Man's part; but the Goſpel Covenant hath none at all, but is altogether free and abſolute.

The Controverſie here betwixt us is not (1.) Whether the Goſpel-covenant requires no Duties at all of them that are under it? nor (2.) Whether it requires any ſuch conditions as were in Adam's Covenant, namely, perfect, perſonal, and perpetual Obedience under the ſevereſt Penalty of a curſe, and admitting no place of Repentance? nor (3.) Whether any condition requir'd by it, on our part, have any thing in its own nature meritorious of the Benefits promiſed? nor (4) Whether we be able in our own ſtrength, and by the power of our Free Will, without the preventing as well as the aſſiſting Grace of God, to perform any ſuch Work or Duty as we call a Condition? In theſe things we have no Controverſie, but the only Queſtion betwixt us is,

Whether in the New Covenant ſome act of ours (tho' it have no Merit in it, nor can be done in our own ſingle Strength) be not requir'd to be perform'd by us, antecedently to a Bleſſing or Privilege conſequent by vertue of a Promiſe? and Whether ſuch an Act or Duty, being of a ſuſpending nature to the Bleſſing promis'd, it have not the true and proper nature of a Goſpel Condition? This I affirm, and he poſitively denies.

Theſe three Poſitions being confuted, and the contrary well confirm'd, viz. that the Law at Sinai was not ſet up by God as an Adam's Covenant, to open the old way of Righteouſneſs and Life by works; but was added to the Promiſe, as ſubſervient to Chriſt in its deſign and uſe, and conſequently can never be a pure Adam's Covenant of Works. And ſecondly,

That Abraham's Covenant, Gen. 17. is the very ſame Covenant of Grace we are now under; and (2*ly*) That Circumciſion in the nature of the act did not oblige all men to keep the whole Law for Righteouſneſs. And (3*ly*)

That the New Covenant is not abſolutely and wholly unconditional, though notwithſtanding a moſt free and gracious Covenant; the Pillars on which Mr. Cary ſets his new Structure ſink under it, and the Building falls into ruins.

I have not here taken Mr. Cary's two Syllogiſms, proving Abraham's Covenant to be a Covenant of Works, becauſe I find my ſelf therein prevented by that ingenious and learned man Mr. Whiſton, in his late Anſwer to Mr. Grantham. Neither have I particularly ſpoken to his 23 Arguments to prove the Sinai Law to be a pure Adam's Covenant, becauſe fruſtra fit per plura, quod fieri poteſt per pauciora, I have overthrown them all together at one blow, by evincing every Argument to have four terms in it, and ſo proves nothing: but I have ſpoken to all thoſe Scriptures which concern our four Poſitions, and fully vindicated them from the injurious Senſes to which Mr. Cary (following Mr. Tombes) had wreſted them.

Theſe things premiſed, I ſhall only further add, that if Mr. Cary ſhall attempt a Reply to my Anſwer, and free his own Theſes from the groſs Abſurdities with which I have loaded them, he muſt plainly and ſubſtantially prove againſt me,

(1.) That the Sinai Law, according to its true ſcope and end, was promulged by God for man's Juſtification and Happineſs in the way of perſonal Obedience; and that the Jews, that did accordingly endeavour after Righteouſneſs by the Works of the Law, did not miſtake its true end and meaning; or if they did, and thereby made it what God never intended it to be, a Covenant of Works to themſelves; that the Sinai Law ought rather to be denominated from their miſtake and abuſe of it, than from its primary and proper uſe, and God's deſign in its promulgation.

(2.) He muſt prove againſt me with like evidence of truth, that Circumciſion diſcover'd no more of Man's Native Corruption, nor any more of his Remedy by Chriſt; nor ſealed to any perſon whatſoever the Righteouſneſs of Faith, than Adam's Covenant in Paradiſe did; and that it did in its own nature oblige all upon whom it paſſed, to the ſame terms of Obedience that Adam's Covenant oblig'd him: and,

(3.) That there is not to be found in the New Covenant any ſuch Act or Duty of ours, as hath been deſcrib'd and limited above; which is of a ſuſpending nature to the Benefits therein granted. And,

(4.) That the reſpective Expoſitions he gives of the ſeveral Texts by me explain'd and vindicated, are more congruous to the Scope and Grammar than mine are, and more agreeable to the current ſenſe of Orthodox Expoſitors; and then he ſhall be ſure to receive an anſwerable return from me, elſe 'tis but labour loſt to write again.

---

A # REPLY
TO # Mr. Philip Cary's Solemn Call, &c.

THE Book I have undertaken to animadvert briefly upon, bears the Title of A Solemn Call; but I am not ſo much concern'd with the Solemnity as I am with the Authority of this Call. Not how it is, but whoſe it is. If it be the Call of God, it muſt be obey'd, tho' it be to part not only with the Privileges, but Lives of our deareſt Children; but then we had need to be very well aſſur'd it is the call of God, elſe we are guilty at once of the higheſt Folly and baſeſt Treachery, to part with ſo rich an Inheritance, convey'd by God's Covenant with Abraham, to us believing Gentiles, and our Seed, at Mr. Cary's call.

You direct your Solemn Call to all that would be own'd as Chriſt's faithful Witneſſes.

Here you are too obſcure and general: Do you mean all that would be own'd by you, or by Chriſt? If you mean, that we muſt not expect to be own'd by you till we renounce Infants Baptiſm, you tell us no News, for you have long ſince turn'd your back upon our Miniſtry and Aſſemblies: Yet methinks 'tis ſtrange, that we who were lately own'd as Chriſt's faithful Witneſſes under our late Sufferings, muſt now be diſown'd by you, when we have liberty to amplifie and confirm our Teſtimony in the peaceful improvement of our common Liberty.

But if your meaning be, (as I ſtrongly ſuſpect it is) that we muſt not expect to be own'd by Chriſt, except we give up Infants Baptiſm; then, I ſay, it is the moſt uncharitable, as well as unwarrantable, and dangerous cenſure that ever dropt from the Pen of a ſober Chriſtian. 'Tis certainly your great Evil to lay Salvation it ſelf on ſuch a point as the proper Subject of Baptiſm, and to make it Articulus Stantis, vel cadentis Religionis, the very Baſis on which the whole Chriſtian Religion and its Profeſſors Salvation muſt ſtand. I hope the reſt of your Brethren are more charitable than your ſelf; but however it be, I do openly profeſs, that I ever have, and ſtill do own you, and many more of your Perſwaſion, for my Brethren in Chriſt, and am perſwaded Chriſt will own you too, notwithſtanding your many Errors and Miſtakes about the leſſer and lower matters of Religion. Nor need your Cenſure much to affect us, as long as we are ſatisfied you have neither a Faculty nor Commiſſion thus ſolemnly to pronounce it upon us.

But what's the Condition upon which this dreadful Sentence depends? why, it is our attendance or non-attendance to the primitive Purity of the Goſpel Doctrine.

Sir, I hope we do attend it, and in ſome reſpects better than ſome greater Pretenders to primitive Purity, who have caſt off not only the initiating Sign of God's Covenant, (this did not Abraham) but alſo that moſt comfortable and ancient Ordinance of ſinging Pſalms; and what other primitive Ordinance of God may be caſhier'd next, who can tell?

We have a Witneſs in your Boſom, that the defence of Chriſt's pure Worſhip and Inſtitutions hath coſt us ſomething; and as for me, were I convinced by all that you have here ſaid, or any of your Friends, that in baptizing the Infants of Believers we did really depart from the primitive Purity, I would renounce it, and turn Anabaptiſt the ſame day.

But really, Sir, this Diſcourſe of yours hath very much convinc'd me of the weakneſs and ſickleneſs of your cauſe, which is forc'd to ſeek a new Foundation, and is here laid by you upon ſuch a Foundation as muſt inevitably ruine it, if your Party, as well as your ſelf, have but Reſolution enough to venture it thereupon.

And it appears to me very probable, that they intend to fight us upon the new ground you have here choſen and mark'd out for them, by the high Encomiums they give your Book in their Epiſtles to it, wherein they tell us, Your Notions are of ſo rare a nature, that you are not beholden to any other for them; and it is a wonder if you ſhould, for I think it never enter'd into any ſober Chriſtian's Head before you, that Abraham's Covenant, Gen. 17. was the very ſame with Adam's Covenant made in Paradiſe; or that Moſes, Abraham, and all the Elect of God in thoſe days were abſolutely under the very rigour and tyranny of the Covenant of Works, and at the ſame time under the Covenant of Grace, and all the Bleſſings and Privileges thereof: with many other ſuch rare notions, of which it is pity but you ſhould have the ſole propriety.

I am particularly concern'd to detect your dangerous Miſtakes, both in love to your own Soul, and care of my Peoples, amongſt whom you have diſpers'd them; tho' I foreſee by M. E's Epiſtle to your Book what meaſure I am like to have for my plain and faithful dealing with you: for if that Gentleman, upon a meer ſurmiſe and preſumption that one or other would oppoſe your Book, dare adventure to call your unknown Anſwerer, before ever he put Pen to Paper, a Man-pleaſer, a Quarreller at Reformation, and rank him with the Papiſts, which oppos'd the Faithful for their nonconformity to their Inventions: What muſt I expect from ſuch raſh Cenſurers, for my ſober, plain, and rational confutation of your Errors?

As to the Controverſie betwixt us, you truly ſay in your Title Page, and many parts of your Book, and your Brethren comprobate it in their Epiſtles, that the main Arguments made uſe of by the Pædo-baptiſts, for the ſupport of their practice, are taken from the Covenant of God with Abraham, Gen. 17. You call this the very Hinge of the Controverſie; and therefore if you can but prove this to be the very ſame Covenant of Works with that made with Adam in Paradiſe, we ſhall then ſee what improvements you will quickly make of it.

Ay Sir, you are ſenſible of the Advantage, no leſs than a compleat Victory you ſhall obtain by it; and therefore being a more hardy and adventurous man than others, put deſperately upon it, (which never any before you durſt attempt) to prove Abraham's Covenant, which ſtands ſo much in the way of your cauſe, to be a meer Covenant of Works, and therefore now aboliſh'd.

My proper Province is to diſcover here, that part of the Foundation (I mean Abraham's Covenant) whence our Divines, with great Strength and Evidence, deduce the Right of Believers Infants to Baptiſm now. Next, to evince the Abſurdity of your Aſſertions and Arguments you bring to deſtroy it: And laſtly, To reflect briefly upon the Anſwers you give in the beginning of your Book, to thoſe ſeveral Texts of Scripture pleaded by the learned and judicious Divines you oppoſe, for the juſtification of Infants Baptiſm.

(1.) Thoſe that plead God's Covenant with Abraham, Gen. 17. as a Scripture foundation for baptizing Believers Infants under the Goſpel, proceed generally upon theſe four Grounds or Principles.

(1.) That God's Covenant with Abraham, Gen. 17. was the ſame Covenant for ſubſtance we Gentile Believers are now under, and they ſubſtantially prove it from Luke 1. from the 54th to the 74th Verſe; which place evidently ſhews the ſameneſs of the Covenant of Grace they were and we are now under; and from Matth. 21. 41, 43. the ſame Vineyard and Kingdom the Jews then had, is now let out to us Gentiles; and from Rom. 11. that the Gentile Chriſtians are grafted into the ſame Olive-tree, from which the Jews were broken off for their Unbelief; and that the Bleſſing of Abraham cometh now upon the Gentiles, Gal. 3. 8, 14, 16. And in a word, that the Partition Wall betwixt them and us, is now pulled down; and that we, through Faith, are let into the ſelf-ſame Covenant, and all the Privileges they then enjoy'd, Epheſ. 2. 13.

(2.) They aſſert and prove, That in Abraham's Covenant the Infant-Seed were taken in with their Parents, and that in token thereof, they were to have the Sign of the Covenant applied to them, Gen. 17. 9.

(3.) They affirm and prove, That the Promiſe of God to Abraham and his Seed, with the Privileges thereof to his Children, do, for the ſubſtance of them, deſcend to Believers now, and their Seed, Acts 2. 38, 39. and tho' the external Sign, viz. Circumciſion, be chang'd, yet Baptiſm takes its place under the Goſpel, Col. 2. 11, 12.

(4) They conſtantly affirm, That none of thoſe Grants or Privileges made to the Infant-Seed of Abraham's Family, were ever repeal'd or revok'd by Chriſt or his Apoſtles; and therefore Believers Children now are in the rightful poſſeſſion of them; and that therefore there needed no new Command or Promiſe: In Abraham's Command we find our Duty to ſign our Children with the Sign of the Covenant; and in Abraham's Promiſe we find God's gracious Grant to our Children, as well as his, eſpecially ſince the Apoſtle directs us, in this very reſpect, to the Covenant of God with Abraham, Acts 2. 38, 39.

Theſe, Sir, are the Principles on which we lay (as you ſay) great ſtreſs, and which to this day you have never been able to ſhake down; here therefore you attempt a new method to do it, by proving this Covenant is now aboliſh'd; and this is your method in which you promiſe your ſelf great Succeſs: Three things you pretend to prove;

(1.) That the Sinai Covenant, Exod. 20.
(2.) That Abraham's Covenant, Gen. 17. are no Goſpel-Covenants, and that becauſe,
(3.) The Goſpel-Covenant is Abſolute and Unconditional.

How you come to hook in the Moſaick Covenant into this Controverſie is not very evident, unleſs you think it were eaſie for you to prove that to be a Covenant of Works; and then Abraham's Covenant, Gen. 17. being an Old Teſtament Covenant, were the more eaſily proved to be of the ſame nature. I am oblig'd to examine your three Poſitions above noted, and if I evidence to the World the falſity of them, the Cauſe you manage is ſo far loſt, and the right of Believers Infants to Baptiſm ſtands firm upon its old and ſure Foundation. I begin therefore with your

I. Poſition.

That the Covenant made with Iſrael on Mount Sinai, is the very ſame Covenant of Works made with Adam in Innocency, p. 122. and divers other places of your Book the very ſame.

Now, if I prove that this Aſſertion of yours doth naturally and regularly draw many falſe and abſurd conſequents upon you, which you are and muſt be forced to own, then this your Poſition cannot be true, for from true Premiſſes nothing but Truth can naturally and regularly follow: but I ſhall make it plain to you, that this your Poſition regularly draws many falſe Concluſions and groſs Abſurdities upon you, ſome of which you own expreſly, and others you as good as own, being able to return nothing rational or ſatisfactory in your own defence againſt them.

(1.) From this Aſſertion, That the Sinai Covenant was a pure Covenant of Works, the very ſame with Adam's Covenant, it regularly and neceſſarily follows, that either Moſes and all Iſrael were damn'd, there being no Salvation poſſible to be attain'd by that firſt Covenant; or elſe, that there was a Covenant of Grace at the ſame time running parallel with that Covenant of Works; and ſo the Elect People of God were at one and the ſame time under the firſt, as a Covenant of Death and Condemnation; and under the ſecond, as a Covenant of Grace and Juſtification.

This Dilemma pinches you, to aſſert, that Moſes and all the Elect of God under that Diſpenſation were damn'd, you dare not; and if you had, you muſt have expung'd the Eleventh Chapter to the Hebrews, and a great part of the New Teſtament, together with all your Hopes of ſitting down with Abraham, Iſaac and Jacob, in the Kingdom of Heaven. The latter therefore (ſeeing you cannot avoid) you are forc'd upon, and in plain words yield it, p. 174, 175. That Moſes, and the whole body of the Children of Iſrael, without exception of any, were under, yea, abſolutely under the ſevereſt penalties of a dreadful Curſe; That the Covenant they were under could be no other than a Covenant of Works, a miniſtration of Death and Condemnation; when yet it is alſo evident from the ſame Holy Scriptures of Truth, that at the ſame time both Moſes and all the Elect among that People, were under a pure Covenant of Goſpel-grace; and that theſe two Covenants were juſt oppoſite the one to the other; but to this you have nothing to ſay, but with the Apoſtle in another caſe, O the depth!

Here, Sir, you father a pure and perfect contradiction upon the holy Scriptures, That it ſpeaks things juſt oppoſite and contradictory one to the other, and of neceſſity one part or member of a contradiction muſt be falſe: This all the rational World knows; but ſo it is, ſay you, and fly to the Infinite Wiſdom to reconcile them; for you ſay, You know not what to ſay to it. Juſt ſo the Papiſts ſerve us in the Controverſie about Tranſubſtantiation, when they cannot reconcile one thing with another, they fly to the Omnipotent Power to do it.

But, Sir, I wonder how you hold and hug a Principle that runs naturally into ſuch groſs Abſurdities: Do you ſee what follows from hence by unavoidable conſequence? You muſt, according to this Principle, hold, That Moſes, and all God's peculiar elect People in Iſrael, muſt, during their Life, hang mid-way between Juſtification and Condemnation; and after Death, between Heaven and Hell.

(1.) During Life, they muſt hang mid-way between Juſtification and Condemnation; juſtified they could not be, for Juſtification is the Soul's paſſing from Death to Life, 1 John 3. 14. John 5. 24. This they could not poſſibly do, for the miniſtration of Death and Condemnation hindred. He that is under Condemnation by the Law, cannot, during that ſtate, paſs into Life. And yet to be under Condemnation is as impoſſible on the other ſide; for he that is juſtified, cannot at the ſame time be under Condemnation, Rom. 8. 1. John 5. 24. What remains then, but that during Life they muſt ſtick mid-way betwixt both, neither juſtified nor condemn'd; and yet both ſo and ſo. Juſtification is our Life, and Condemnation our Death in Law: Betwixt theſe two which are privately oppoſ'd, there can be no Medium of participation, and yet ſuch a Medium you here fancy.

(2.) And then after Death they muſt neceſſarily hang betwixt Heaven and Hell; to Heaven none can go that are under the very rigour and tyranny of the Law, a pure Covenant of Works, as you ſay they were. To Hell they could not go, being under the pure Covenant of Grace: What remains then, but ſome third ſtate muſt be aſſign'd them; and ſo at laſt we have found the Limbus Patrum, and your Poſition leads us right to Purgatory; a concluſion which, I believe, you your ſelf abhor as much as I.

(2*ly*) This Hypotheſis pinches you with another Dilemma, viz. Either there was Pardon on Repentance in Moſes's Covenant and the Sinai Diſpenſation of the Law, or there was none; if you ſay none, you directly contradict Lev. 26. 40, 46. if there were, then it cannot be Adam's Covenant of Works.

You anſwer, pag. 179. That God promiſeth Pardon for the Breach of Moſes's Covenant, and of Adam's Covenant too, but neither Adam's Covenant, nor the Jewiſh legal Covenant, promiſed any Pardon upon Repentance, but rather threatens and inflicts the contrary.

Reply. Either this is a direct Anſwer to my Argument, to prove the Law at Sinai cannot be a pure Adam's Covenant, becauſe it had a promiſe of Pardon annexed to it, Lev. 26. 40. but Adam's Covenant had none. If your Anſwer be direct, then 'tis a plain contradiction in ſaying it had and it had not a promiſe of Pardon belonging to it; or elſe it is a meer Evaſion, and an eluding of the Argument; and your only meaning is, that the Relief I ſpeak of is not to be found in any Promiſe belonging to the Sinai Diſpenſation, but in ſome other Goſpel-Covenant or Promiſe. But Sir, this will not ſerve your turn; you ſee I cite the very Promiſe of Grace made to the Iſraelites on Mount Sinai by the hand of Moſes, wherein God promiſeth, upon their humiliation, to remember his Covenant for their good. Now, Sir, you had as good have ſtood to your firſt Anſwer, which is ſelf-contradictory, as to this which is no leſs ſo; as will evidently appear by a nearer and more particular view of the place, and gathering up your own conceſſions about it. That this Text Lev. 26. 40. hath the nature of a gracious Goſpel-promiſe in it, no man can deny, except he that will deny that God's remembring of his Covenant, for the relief of poor broken-hearted Sinners, is no Goſpel-promiſe pertaining to the Covenant of Grace: That it was made to the penitent Iſraelites upon Mount Sinai, and there deliver'd them by the hand of Moſes for their relief, is as viſible and plain as the Words and Syllables of the 46th Verſe are to him that reads them. Let the Promiſe then be conſider'd both ways, (1.) in your Senſe, as a plain direction to the Covenant of Grace made with Abraham for their relief; for ſo you ſay it was, p. 180. or let it be conſider'd abſolutely, as that which contain'd relief in it ſelf for the penitent Iſraelites that ſhould live towards the end of the World, after they ſhould be gather'd from all their Diſperſions and Captivities, as you there ſpeak, and more fully explicate in your accommodation of a parallel Promiſe, p. 111, 112, 113. Firſt let us view it in your ſenſe, as a relative Promiſe to the Covenant of Grace made with Abraham, Gen. 12. to which, ſay you, it plainly directs them; and then this legal Diſpenſation can never be the ſame with Adam's Covenant, for to that Covenant no ſuch Promiſe was ever annexed, which ſhould guide and plainly direct them to Chriſt and Pardon, as that Star which appear'd to the Wiſe Men directed their way to Chriſt. If there be any ſuch relative Promiſe belonging to Adam's Covenant in Paradiſe, as this which I plainly ſhew you was made on Mount Sinai, be pleas'd to produce it, and you end the Controverſie; but if you cannot, (as you know you cannot) then never ſay the legal Diſpenſation at Sinai, and the Covenant of Works with Adam in Paradiſe, are the very ſame Covenant. Secondly, Let us conſider this Promiſe abſolutely in it ſelf, and then I demand, Was there Mercy, Relief and Pardon contain'd in it for any penitent Sinner preſent or to come? Yes, ſay you, it extends Relief to Penitents, after God ſhall gather them from all their Captivities at the end of the World: very good. Then 'tis a very vigorous Promiſe of Grace, which not only reaches 430 years backward, as far as the firſt Promiſe to Abraham, but alſo extends its Reliefs and Comforts many thouſand years forwards, even to the pureſt times of the Goſpel, juſt before Chriſt's coming to Judgment; And can ſuch a Promiſe as this be denied to be in it ſelf a Goſpel-Promiſe? Sure it can neither be denied to be ſuch, nor yet to be made upon Mount Sinai by the hand of Moſes. This Dilemma is as pinching as the former.

Perhaps you will ſay, This Promiſe did not belong to the Moral Law given at Sinai, but to the Ceremonial Law: If ſo, then I ſhould reaſonably conclude, that you take the Ceremonial Law (of which you ſeem to make this a Branch, pag. 181.) to be a Covenant of Grace, ſeeing one of its Branches bears ſuch a gracious Promiſe upon it. No, that muſt not be ſo neither; for ſay you, p. 151. the Ceremonial Covenant is of the ſame nature with the Covenant of Works, or Law written in Tables of Stone: Whither then ſhall we ſend this Promiſe? To the Covenant of Grace we muſt not ſend it, unleſs only as an Index or Finger to point to it, becauſe it was made upon Mount Sinai, and deliver'd to Iſrael by the hand of Moſes: To the Goſpel-Covenant we muſt not therefore annex it; and to the Legal Diſpenſation at Sinai you are as loath to annex it, becauſe it contains ſo much Relief and Grace in it for poor Penitents; and that will prove, that neither the Moral nor Ceremonial Law (place it in which you pleaſe) can be a pure Covenant of Works as Adam's was.

Moreover, in making this the Promiſe which muſt relieve and comfort the diſtreſſed Iſraelites in the pureſt Goſpel-times, towards the end of the World, you as palpably contradict your ſelf in another reſpect; for we ſhall find you by and by ſtoutly denying, that the Goſpel-Promiſes have any Conditions or Qualifications annexed to them; but ſo hath this, which you ſay relates to them that ſhall live at the end of the World. If their uncircumciſed Hearts be humbled, and if they accept the puniſhment of their Iniquities, then will I remember my Covenant, &c. But be this Promiſe conditional or abſolute, two things are undeniably clear: (1.) That it is a Promiſe full of Grace, for the relief of Law-Tranſgreſſors, ver. 40. (2.) That it was a Mount Sinai Promiſe, ver. 46. and ſuch a Promiſe as you can never ſhew in Adam's Covenant.

Beſides, it is to me an unaccountable thing, that a Promiſe which hath a double comfortable Aſpect, 430 years back, and ſome thouſands of years forward; ſhould not caſt one comfortable glance upon the Penitents of the preſent Age when it was made, nor upon any till near the end of the World. What think you, Sir, of the 3000 Jews prick'd at the heart, Acts 2. had they no Relief from it, becauſe their Lot fell not late enough in time? Were the penitent Jews in Moſes and Peter's days all born out of due time for this Promiſe to relieve? O what ſhifting and ſhuffling is here! Who can think a Man that twiſts and winds every way, to avoid the dint of an Argument, ment, can poſſibly have a Moral Aſſurance of the truth of his own Opinion ?

(3.) You ſay, pag. 134. That through Chriſt's ſatisfaction there is no repugnancy or hoſtile contrariety betwixt the Law and Promiſe, but an Agreement betwixt them, and that they differ only in reſpect of Strength and Weakneſs; the Goſpel is able to go through ſtitch with it, which the Law cannot do.

Reply. Well then, the Law conſider'd as a Covenant of Works, whoſe Terms or Condition is, do this and live ; and the Promiſe or Goſpel, whoſe Condition is, Believe and thou ſhalt be ſaved; are not ſpecifically different, but only gradually, in point of ſtrength and weakneſs : and the Reaſon you give is as ſtrange, that this comes to paſs through the ſatisfaction of Chriſt. Good Sir, enlighten us in this rare Notion. Did Chriſt die to purchaſe a Reconciliation betwixt the Covenant of Works as ſuch, and the Covenant of Grace; as if both were now by the Death of Chriſt agreed; and to be juſtified by Works and by Faith, ſhould after Chriſt's death make no odds or difference between them ? If it be ſo, why have you kept ſuch a coil to prove Moſes's and Adam's Covenant, yea, Abraham's too, being a Covenant of Works can never conſiſt or mingle with the Goſpel-Covenant ? And then I ſay, you contradict the Apoſtle, who ſo directly oppoſes the Covenant of Works as Gal. 3. 18. ſuch, to the Covenant of Grace, and tells us they are utterly inconſiſtent and excluſive of each other; and this he ſpake after Chriſt's Death and actual Satisfaction : But (4.) That which more amazes me, is the ſtrange Anſwer you give to Mr. Sedgwick, pag. 132, 133. in your return to his Argument, That if the Law and the Promiſe can conſiſt, then the Law cannot be ſet up as a Covenant of Works. You anſwer, That the Law and the Promiſe having divers ends, it doth not thence follow, that there is an inconſiſtence betwixt them, and that the Law, even as it is a Covenant of Works, inſtead of being againſt the Promiſe, tends to the eſtabliſhment of it. And pag. 133. That by convincing Men of the Impoſſibility of obtaining Reſt and Peace in themſelves, and the neceſſity of betaking themſelves to the Promiſe, &c. the Law is not againſt the Promiſe, having ſo Bleſſed a Subſerviency towards the eſtabliſhment thereof. Here you own a Subſerviency, yea, a Bleſſed Subſerviency of the Law to the Promiſe, which is that Mr. Sedgwick and my ſelf have urg'd to prove it cannot be ſo, as it is a pure Adam's Covenant, but that therefore it muſt come under another conſideration; only here we differ, you ſay it hath a Bleſſed Subſerviency to the Promiſe, as it is the ſame with Adam's Covenant; we ſay it can never be ſo as ſuch, but as it is either a Covenant of Grace, though more obſcure, as he ſpeaks; or though the matter of it ſhould be the ſame with Adam's Covenant, yet it is ſubſerviently a Covenant of Grace, as others ſpeak; and under no other conſideration can it be reconciled to the Promiſe. But will you ſtand to this, that the Law hath no hoſtile contradiction to the Promiſe, but a Bleſſed Subſerviency to it, as you ſpeak, p. 173. where you ſay, That if we preach up the Law as a Covenant of Life, or a Covenant of Faith and Grace, (which are equipolent terms) let us diſtinguiſh as we pleaſe between a Covenant of Grace Abſolutely and Subſerviently ſuch; then we make an ill uſe of the Law, by perverting it to ſuch a Service as God never intended it for, and are guilty of mingling Law and Goſpel, Life and Death together.

Reply. Here, Sir, my Underſtanding is perfectly poſed, and I know not how to make any tolerable Orthodox Senſe out of this Poſition : Is the Law preached up as a pure Covenant of Works (that is, preſſing Men to the perſonal and punctual Obedience of it, in order to their Juſtification by Works) no way repugnant to the Promiſe, but altogether ſo, when preach'd in ſubſerviency to Chriſt and Faith ? This is new Divinity with me, and I believe muſt be ſo to every intelligent Reader. Don't I oppoſe the Promiſe, when I preach up the Law as a pure Covenant of Works, which therefore as ſuch muſt be excluſive of Chriſt and the Promiſe? and do I oppoſe either, when I tell Sinners the Terrors of the Law ſerve only to drive them to Chriſt, their only Remedy, who is the end of the Law for Righteouſneſs, to every one that believeth, Rom. 10. 4 ? Are Works and Grace more conſiſtent than Grace with Grace ? Explain your meaning in this Paradoxical Expreſſion, and leave not your ſelf and others in ſuch a Maze. I read Gal. 3. 19. for what end God publiſh'd the Law 430 Years after the Promiſe was made to Abraham, and find it was added becauſe of Tranſgreſſion, προσετέθη it was put to, not ſet up by it ſelf alone, as a diſtinct Covenant, but added as an Appendix to the Covenant of Grace, whence it is plain, that God added the Sinai Law to the Promiſe with Evangelical ends and purpoſes. If then I preach the Law to the very ſame Evangelical uſes and purpoſes for which God added it to the Promiſe, do I therein make an ill uſe of the Law, and mingle Life and Death together ? But preaching it as a pure Covenant of Works, as it holds forth Juſtification to Sinners by Obedience to its Precepts, do I then make it bleſſedly ſubſervient (as you ſpeak) to the Promiſe or Covenant of Grace ? The Law was added becauſe of Tranſgreſſion, that is, to reſtrain Sin in the World, and to convince Sinners under guilt of the neceſſity of another Righteouſneſs than their own, even that of Chriſt, and for the ſame ends God added it to the Promiſe; I always did, and ſtill ſhall preach it, and, I am perſwaded, without the leaſt danger of mingling Law and Goſpel, Life and Death together, in your ſenſe.

'Tis plain to me, that in the publication of the Law on Sinai God did not in the leaſt intend to give them ſo much as a Direction how to obtain Juſtification by their moſt punctual Obedience to its Precepts, that being to fallen Man utterly impoſſible; and beſide, had he promulged the Law to that end and purpoſe, he had not added it, but directly oppoſed it to the Promiſe; which it's manifeſt he did not, Gal. 3. 21. Is the Law then againſt the Promiſe of God ? God forbid. And ver. 18. makes it appear, that had it been ſet up to that end and purpoſe, it had utterly diſannulled the Promiſe; for if the inheritance be of the law, it is no more by promiſe. What then can be clearer, than that the Law at Sinai was publiſh'd with gracious Goſpel ends and purpoſes, to lead Men to Chriſt, which Adam's Covenant had no reſpect nor reference to ? And therefore it can never be a pure Adam's Covenant, as you falſly call it; neither is it capable of becoming a pure Covenant of Works to any Man, but by his own Fault, in rejecting the Righteouſneſs of Chriſt, and ſeeking Juſtification by the Works of the Law, as the miſtaken carnal Jews did, Rom. 10. 3. and other legal Juſticiaries now do. And upon this account only it is that Paul, who ſo highly praiſes the Law in its ſubſerviency to Chriſt, thunders ſo dreadfully againſt it, as it is thus ſet by ignorant miſtaken Souls in direct oppoſition to Chriſt.

(5*ly*.) And further, to clear this point, the Apoſtle tells us, Rom. 10. 4. That Chriſt is the end of the Law for righteouſneſs to every one that believeth. Whence I argue, That if Adam's Covenant had one End, namely, the Juſtification of Men by their own perſonal Obedience; and the Law at Sinai had a quite contrary End, namely, to bring Sinners to Chriſt by Faith for their Righteouſneſs; the one to keep him within himſelf, the other to take him quite out of himſelf, and bring him for his Juſtification to the Righteouſneſs of another, even that of Chriſt; then the Sinai Law cannot poſſibly be the ſame thing with Adam's Covenant of Works; but the Antecedent is true and plain in the forecited Text, therefore ſo is the Conſequent.

Chriſt is the end of the Law for Righteouſneſs. Take the Law here either more ſtrictly for the Moral Law, or more largely, as it comprehends the Ceremonial Law, ſtill Chriſt is the end of the Law. The Moral Law ſhuts up every Man to Chriſt for Righteouſneſs, by convincing him (according to God's deſign in the publication of it) of the impoſſibility of obtaining Juſtification in the way of Works.

And the Ceremonial Law many ways prefigur'd Chriſt, his Death and Satiſfaction by Blood, in our room, and ſo led Men to Chriſt, their true Propitiation; and all its Types were fulfilled and ended in Chriſt. Was there any ſuch thing in Adam's Covenant? You muſt prove there was, elſe you will never be able to make them one and the ſame Covenant.

(6*ly*.) It ſeems exceeding probable from Acts 7. 37, 38. That the Sinai Covenant was deliver'd to Moſes by Jeſus Chriſt, there called the Angel. This is he that was in the Church in the Wilderneſs, with the Angel that ſpake to him in the Mount Sinai, and with our Fathers, who received the lively Oracles to give unto us. Now if Chriſt himſelf were the Angel, and the Precepts of the Law deliver'd by him to Moſes were the lively Oracles of God, as they are expreſly affirm'd to be, then the Law deliver'd on Mount Sinai cannot be a pure Adam's Covenant of Works; for it is never to be imagined that Jeſus Chriſt himſelf ſhould deliver to Moſes ſuch a Covenant, directly oppoſite to all the ends of his future Incarnation; and that thoſe Precepts (which if they were of the ſame nature, and reviv'd to the ſame end, at which Adam's Covenant directly aim'd) ſhould be called the lively Oracles of God: When contrariwiſe, upon your Suppoſition, they could be no other than a Miniſtration of Condemnation and Death: But that they were lively Oracles, viz. in their deſign and intention, is plain in the Text; and that they were deliver'd to Moſes by Jeſus Chriſt the Angel of the Covenant, ſeems more than probable, by comparing it with the former Verſes.

(7*ly*.) Neither is it eaſie to imagine how ſuch a Covenant, which by the Fall of Adam had utterly loſt all its Promiſes, Privileges and Bleſſings, and could retain nothing but the Curſes and Puniſhments annexed to it, in caſe of the leaſt failure, could poſſibly be numbred among the chief Privileges in which God's Iſrael gloried; as it apparently was, Rom. 9. 4. Who are Iſraelites, to whom pertaineth the adoption, and the glory, and the covenants, and the giving of the law, and the ſervice of God, and the promiſes.

Theſe things conſider'd, with many more, (which the intended brevity of this Diſcourſe will not now admit) I am fully ſatisfied of the falſity of your Poſition, and ſo may you too, when you ſhall review the many groſs and palpable Abſurdities with which I have clogg'd and loaded it, with many more regularly and fairly deducible from it, which I could eaſily produce, did I not ſuſpect theſe I have produced have already preſt your Patience a little too far: but if ever I ſhall ſee (which I never expect) a fair and Scriptural Solution of theſe weighty Objections, you may expect from me more Arguments againſt your unſound Poſition, which at the preſent I judge needleſs to add.

To conclude, Thoſe Premiſes (as before I noted) can never be true, from whence ſuch, and ſo many groſs and notorious Abſurdities are regularly and unavoidably deducible. For ex veris nil niſi verum, from true Premiſes nothing but Truth can regularly follow.

Had you minded thoſe things which I ſeaſonably ſent you, you had avoided all thoſe Boggs into which you are now ſunk, and been able fairly to reconcile all thoſe ſeeming contradictions in Paul's Epiſtles, with reſpect to the Law at Sinai: But however, by what hath been ſaid, your firſt Poſition, That the Sinai Covenant is the ſame Covenant of Works with Adam's in Paradiſe, vaniſhes before the Evidence of Scripture Truth and ſound Reaſon.

But yet, though what I have ſaid deſtroys your falſe Poſition, I am not willing to leave you or the Reader ignorant wherein the Truth lies in this controverted point betwixt us; and that will appear by a due conſideration of the following particulars.

(1.) 'Tis plain and uncontroverted, that Adam's Covenant in Paradiſe contained in it a perfect Law and Rule of natural Righteouſneſs, founded both in God's Nature, and in Man's, which in its perfect ſtate of Innocency was every way enabled perfectly to comply therewith: for the Scripture tells us, Eccleſ. 7. 29. That God made man upright, and his punctual complying therewith was the Righteouſneſs by which he ſtood.

(2.) This Covenant of Works being once broken, can never more be available to the Juſtification and Salvation of any fallen man: There was not now a Law found that could give Righteouſneſs; the broken Covenant of Works loſt immediately all the Bleſſings and Privileges which before it contain'd, and retain'd only the Curſe and Puniſhment, in token whereof Cherubims with flaming Swords turning every way, were ſet to keep the way of the Tree of Life, Gen. 3. 24.

(3.) Soon after the violation of the Covenant of Works, God was graciouſly pleaſed to publiſh for the relief of Mankind, now miſerable and hopeleſs, the Second Covenant, which we call the Covenant of Grace, Gen. 3. 15. which is the firſt opening of the Grace of God in Chriſt to fallen Man; and though this firſt Promiſe of Chriſt was but ſhort and obſcure, yet it was in every Age to be opened clearer and clearer, until the promiſed Seed ſhould come. After the firſt opening of this new Covenant in the firſt Promiſe of Chriſt, the firſt Covenant is ſhut up for ever, as a Covenant of Life and Salvation; and all the World are ſhut up to the only way of Salvation by Chriſt, Gal. 3. 23. it being contrary to the Will of God, that two ways of Salvation ſhould ſtand open to Man at once, and they ſo oppoſite one to another, as the way of Works and the way of Faith are, Acts 4. 12. John 14. 6. Gal. 2. 21.

(4.) 'Tis evident however, that after the firſt opening of the Promiſe of Chriſt, Gen. 3. 15. God foreſeeing the Pride of fallen Man, who naturally inclines to a Righteouſneſs of his own in the way of doing, was pleaſed to revive the Law of Nature, as to its matter, in the Sinai Diſpenſation, which was 430 years after the firſt Promiſe had been renew'd and further open'd unto Abraham, of whoſe Seed Chriſt ſhould come; and this he did not in oppoſition to the Promiſe, but in ſubſerviency thereto, Gal. 3. 21. And though the matter and ſubſtance of the Law of Nature be found in the Sinai Covenant, ſtrictly taken for the Ten Commandments, yet the Ends and Intentions of God in that terrible Sinai Diſpenſation were two-fold: (1.) To convince fallen Man of the ſinfulneſs and impotency of his Nature, and the impoſſibility of obtaining Righteouſneſs by the Law, and ſo by a bleſſed neceſſity to ſhut him up to Chriſt, his only Remedy. And (2.) to be a ſtanding Rule of Duty both towards God and Man, to the end of the World. But if we take the Sinai Covenant more largely, as incluſive of the Ceremonial with the Moral Law, (as it is often taken, and is ſo by you, in the New Teſtament) then it did not only ſerve for a conviction of Impotency, and a rule of Duty, but exhibited and taught much of Chriſt and the Myſteries of the New Covenant in thoſe its Ceremonies, wherein he was prefigured to them.

(5.) Whence it evidently appears that the Sinai Covenant was neither repugnant to the New Covenant in its ſcope and aim. The law is not againſt the promiſe, Gal. 3. 21. nor yet ſet up as co-ordinate with it, with a deſign to open two different ways of Salvation to fallen Man, but was added to the Promiſe, in reſpect of its Evangelical purpoſes and deſigns; on which account it is call'd by ſome a Covenant of Faith or Grace, in reſpect of its ſubſerviency unto Chriſt, who is the end of the Law for Righteouſneſs, Rom. 10. 4. and by others a ſubſervient Covenant, according to Gal. 3. 23, 24. and accordingly we find both Tables of the Law put into the Ark, Heb. 9. 4. which ſhews their conſiſtency and ſubordination with, and to the method of Salvation by Chriſt in the New Covenant.

(6.) This Deſign and Intention of God was fatally miſtaken by the Jews, ever ſince God promulg'd that Law at Sinai, and was by them notoriouſly perverted to a quite contrary end to that which God promulg'd it for, even to give Righteouſneſs and Life in the way of perſonal and perfect Obedience, Rom. 10. 3. For they being ignorant of God's righteouſneſs, and going about to eſtabliſh their own righteouſneſs, have not ſubmitted themſelves unto the righteouſneſs of God. Hence Chriſt came to be ſlighted by them, and his Righteouſneſs rejected; for they reſted in the Law, Rom. 2. 17. were married to the Law as an Husband, Rom. 7. 2, 3. and ſo might have no conjugal communion with Chriſt. However Moſes, Abraham, and all the Elect, diſcerned Chriſt as the end of the Law for Righteouſneſs, and were led to him thereby.

(7ly.) This fatal Miſtake of the Uſe and Intent of the Law, is the ground of thoſe ſeeming Contradictions in Paul's Epiſtles. Sometimes he magnifies the Law, when he ſpeaks of it according to God's end and purpoſe in its promulgation, Rom. 7. 12, 14, 16. but as it was fatally miſtaken by the Jews, and ſet in oppoſition to Chriſt, ſo he thunders againſt it, calls it a miniſtration of Death and Condemnation, and all its appendent Ceremonies, weak and beggarly elements; and by this diſtinction whatſoever ſeems repugnant in Paul's Epiſtles, may be ſweetly reconciled: and 'tis a diſtinction of his own making, 1 Tim. 1. 8. We know that the Law is good, if we uſe it lawfully. There is a good and an evil uſe of the Law. Had you attended theſe things, you had not ſo confidently and inconſiderately pronounced it a pure Covenant of Works.

Rom. 10. 3.
Rom. 2. 17.

II. Poſition.

Secondly, you affirm with like confidence, That the Covenant of Circumciſion is alſo the ſame, viz. the Covenant of Works made with Adam in Paradiſe.

This I utterly deny, and will try whether you have any better Succeſs in the proof of your ſecond, than you had in your firſt Poſition; and to convince you of your miſtake, let us conſider what the general nature of this Ordinance of Circumciſion was, what its ends were, and then prove, that it cannot be what you affirm it to be, the very ſame Covenant God made with Adam before the Fall, but muſt needs be a Covenant of Grace.

(1.) Circumciſion in its general nature was (1.) an Ordinance of God's own inſtitution in the 99th year of Abraham's age, at which time of its inſtitution God renew'd the Covenant with him, Gen. 17. 9, 10. (2.) That it conſiſted (as all Sacraments do) of an external Sign, and a ſpiritual Myſtery ſignified thereby. The external part of it (which we call the Sign) was the cutting o the fore-skin of the Genital part of the Hebrew Males, on the eighth day from their Birth. Th ſpiritual Myſtery thereby ſignified and repreſented, was the cutting off the Filth and Guilt of Sin from their Souls by Regeneration and Juſtification, ca led, the circumciſion of the heart, Deut. 10. 16. An though this was laid upon them by the Com mand, as their Duty, yet a gracious Promiſe o Power from God to perform that Duty was adde to the Command, Deut. 30. 6. The Lord thy G will circumciſe thy heart to love him, &c. juſt as Pr miſes of Grace in the New Teſtament are added Commands of Duty. (3.) Betwixt this outwa viſible Sign, and ſpiritual Myſtery, there was Sacramental Relation, from which Relation it called the Token of the Covenant, Gen. 17. 12. T Sign and Seal of the Covenant, Rom. 4. 11. yea, Covenant it ſelf, Acts 7. 8.

(2.) Next let us conſider the Ends for whi Circumciſion was inſtituted and ordained of G of which theſe were the principal.

(1.)

(1.) It was inſtituted to be a convictive Sign of their natural Corruption, propagated by the way of natural Generation; for which reaſon this natural Corruption goes in Scripture under the name of the Uncircumciſion of the heart, Jer. 9. 26.

(2.) It alſo ſignified the putting off of this Body of Sin, in the vertue of Chriſt's Death, Col. 2. 11.

(3.) It was appointed to be the initiating Sign of the Covenant, or a Token of their Matriculation and Admiſſion into the Church and Covenant of God, Gen. 17. 9, 10, 11.

(4.) It was ordain'd to be a diſcriminating Mark betwixt God's Covenanted People and the Pagan World, who were Strangers to the Covenant, and without God in the World: And accordingly both Parties were from this Ordinance denominated the Circumciſion and the Uncircumciſion, Col. 3. 11.

(5.) It was alſo an obliging Sign to Abraham and his Seed, to walk with God in the uprightneſs and ſincerity of their Hearts, in the performance of all covenanted Duties, in which Duties Abraham and the Faithful walked obedientially with God, looking to Chriſt for Righteouſneſs; but the carnal Jews reſting in, and truſting to thoſe Duties and Ordinances for Righteouſneſs and Juſtification, made it a Covenant of Works to themſelves; and Circumciſion it ſelf a Bond of that Covenant.

(6.) Now foraſmuch as Circumciſion prefigured Chriſt, who was to come of this holy circumcis'd Seed of Abraham, and his Death alſo was pointed at therein, Heb. 2. 16. Col. 2. 11. of neceſſity this Ordinance muſt vaniſh at the Death of Chriſt, and accordingly did ſo.

Theſe things duly ponder'd, how irrational is it to imagine this Covenant of Circumciſion to be the very ſame with the Paradiſical Covenant! Did that Covenant diſcover native Corruption, and direct to its remedy in Chriſt as this did? Surely it gave not the leaſt glimps of any ſuch thing. Did that Covenant ſeparate and diſtinguiſh one perſon from another as this did? No, no, it left all under equal and common Miſery, Eph. 2. 3.

Had Adam's Covenant a Seal of the Righteouſneſs of Faith annexed to it as this had? Rom. 4. 11. He received Circumciſion a Seal of the Righteouſneſs of Faith. The Righteouſneſs of Faith is Evangelical Righteouſneſs, and this Circumciſion ſeal'd. Say not it was to Abraham only that it ſealed it, for 'tis an injurious Reſtriction put upon the Seal of a Covenant which extended to the Fathers as well as to Abraham, Luke 1. 72. But you admit however, that it ſeal'd Evangelical Righteouſneſs to Abraham; but I hope you will not ſay, that a Seal of the Covenant of Works ever did or could ſeal Evangelical Righteouſneſs to any individual Perſon in the World. So then turn which way you will, this Truth ſtill follows you, and will faſten upon you, That the Covenant of Circumciſion was not a pure Covenant of Works, but a Goſpel-Covenant, which I thus prove.

Argument I.

If Circumciſion be a part of the Ceremonial Law, and the Ceremonial Law was dedicated by Blood; and whatſoever is ſo dedicated, is by you confeſs'd to be no part of the Covenant of Works; then Circumciſion is no part of the Covenant of Works, even by your own confeſſion. But it is ſo, Ergo.

That it is a part of the Ceremonial Law, was never doubted or denied by any Man: That it was dedicated by Blood, and therefore no part of the Moral Law, you your ſelf not only acknowledge, but vehemently plead for it, pag. 148, where you blame Mr. Sedgwick with ſome Sharpneſs and unbecoming Reflection, for making no diſtinction betwixt the Ceremonial Covenant which was dedicated by Blood, and the Law written in Tables of Stone; which was not ſo dedicated, and therefore could not be the ſame with the Moral Law, which you make the Covenant of Works; telling him, that this Dedication by Blood ought to diſtinguiſh it from the Moral Law or Sinai Covenant of Works, as you ſay it doth and ought to do; how then can Circumciſion be the ſame with, and yet quite another thing from the Sinai Covenant? Was the Ceremonial Law dedicated by Blood? Yes, the Apoſtle plainly aſſerts it from Heb. 9. 18, 19. Exod. 24. 7, 8. Moſes took the Book of the Covenant, and read it in the audience of the people, and took the blood, and ſprinkled it upon the people, and ſaid, Behold the blood of the covenant, which the Lord hath made with you concerning theſe things. But what kind of Covenant then was this Covenant that was ſprinkled with Blood? You tell us, pag. 147. it could not poſſibly be the Law written in Stones (which you make the Covenant of Works) but was indeed another Covenant deliver'd at a diſtinct ſeaſon, and in a diſtinct method. What Covenant then muſt this be, ſeeing it could not poſſibly (as you ſay) be the Sinai Covenant written in Stones? It muſt either be the Covenant of Grace, or none. No, ſay you, that it was not neither, for it was of the ſame nature with, and is no other than a Covenant of Works, pag. 151. it was the ſame, and yet could not poſſibly be the ſame. Mr. Sedgwick, that Learned grave Divine, is check'd pag. 148. for confounding the Ceremonial Law that was ſprinkled with Blood, with the Moral Law (which you call the Covenant of Works) that was not ſprinkled with Blood; and ſay you, pag. 147. It could not poſſibly be the ſame: And then, p. 151. you ſay, It's clear theſe two, viz. the Moral and Ceremonial Law were both of the ſame nature, that is, no other than a Covenant of Works. How doth this hang together? Pray reconcile it if you can. You ſay, It is an ungrounded Suppoſition of Mr. Sedgwick's, that that Covenant which was ſo confirm'd by Blood, muſt of neceſſity be confirm'd by the Blood of Chriſt *alſo, p.*148. But, Sir, the truth you oppoſe, viz. that the Book of the Ceremonial Law was ſprinkled by Typical Blood, and therefore confirm'd by the Blood of Chriſt for the time it was to continue, ſhines like a bright Sun-beam in your Eyes, from Heb. 9. 14, 23. Was not the Blood that ſprinkled this Law the Figure or Type of Chriſt's own Blood? Whoſe Blood was it then, if not Chriſt's? How dare you call this an ungrounded Suppoſition? Was not that Blood typical Blood? And what, I pray you, was the Antitype but Chriſt's Blood? And did not the Holy Ghoſt ſignifie the one by the other? Heb. 9. 8. I ſtand amaz'd at theſe things: You diſtinguiſh and confound all again. You ſay, it could not poſſibly be the ſame with the Law written in Stone; and you ſay, it's clear both were of the ſame nature, no other than a Covenant of Works. At this rate you may ſay what you pleaſe, for I ſee Contradiction is no Crime in your Book.

Argument II.

If Circumciſion was the Seal of the Righteouſneſs of Faith, it did not pertain to the Covenant of Works, for the Righteouſneſs of Faith and Works are Oppoſites, and belong to two contrary Covenants.

But Circumciſion was the Seal of the Righteouſneſs of Faith, Rom. 4. 11. He (i. e. Abraham) received the ſign of Circumciſion, a ſeal of the righteouſneſs of Faith. Therefore it pertains not to the Covenant of Works, but Grace.

A Man would think it impoſſible to evade ſo clear and Scripture an Argument as this is. The Major Propoſition is even ſelf-evident and undeniable; the Minor, the plain words of the Apoſtle.

And what is your Reply to this? certainly as ſtrange a one as ever I met with, Page 205. you ſay, 'Tis true, Circumciſion was a Seal of the Righteouſneſs of Faith to Abraham, but it was ſo to him only, in his extraordinary circumſtances, but it was not ſo to any of his natural Seed in its ordinary uſe.

I cannot deny but I have met with ſuch an Aſſertion before in Mr. Tombes; and I can tell you too, that Bellarmine invented it before Mr. Tombes was born, and that Dr. Ames fully confuted it in his third Tome, pag. 27. proving, that there was no extraordinary cauſe on Abraham's account why God ſhould juſtifie or ſeal him more than any other Believer; and that Abraham had nothing to glory in before God. But to reſtrain, as you do, the publick Seal of a Covenant, that comprehended and equally concern'd the whole Church and People of God, to one ſingle Perſon, ſo that neither Iſaac nor Jacob, who were by name enrolled in that great Charter, ſhould have any right to the Seal of it; is ſuch a Conceit as amazes an intelligent Reader. We know Abraham was the firſt that receiv'd it, but utterly deny that he receiv'd only for himſelf, but he receiv'd it as the Father of all them that believe, whether Jews or Gentiles, as the very next words tell us, He received it that he might be the Father of all them that believe, that is, for himſelf and all his Spiritual Children. One half of this Sacrament of Circumciſion you allow, *p.*205. to the reſt that were under it, viz. to be a ſign of the Covenant; but the other half you cut off, and ſay it was only a Seal to him. What good Vouchers have you for this Expoſition of the Text? Have you the concurrence of Orthodox Expoſitors? Or is it the raſh and bold Adventure of your own Head? I am ſure it no ways agrees with the drift and ſcope of the Apoſtle's Argument, which evidently is to prove, that both Jews and Gentiles are juſtified by Faith, as Abraham was; and that the Ground of Juſtification and Bleſſedneſs is common both to the uncircumciſed Gentiles and uncircumciſed Jews; and that Abraham and all other Believers, have but one way of Juſtification and Salvation; and that how great ſoever Abraham was, in this caſe he hath found nothing whereof to glory, ver. 1, 2. And is not your Expoſition a notable one, to prove the community of the Privilege of Juſtification, becauſe the Seal of it was peculiar to Abraham alone? Rectifie it, and better conſider it.

Argument III.

In the Covenant of Circumciſion, Gen. 17. God makes over himſelf to Abraham and his Seed to be their God, or give them a ſpecial Intereſt in himſelf.

But in the Covenant of Works God doth not, ſince the Fall, make over himſelf to any to be their God by way of ſpecial Intereſt.

Therefore the Covenant of Circumciſion cannot be the Covenant of Works.

This is ſo plain and clear, that none can doubt or deny it, that underſtands the nature of the two Covenants. And now, Sir, what courſe do you take to avoid this Argument? ſuch a one ſure as no Man that ever I met with took before you, and that's this; you boldly cut Abraham's Covenant, Gen. 17, into two parts. and make the firſt to be the pure Covenant of Grace; which is the promiſſory part, to the ninth Verſe, and the Reſtipulation (as you call it) pag. 205. to be as pure a Covenant of Works. What hard ſhift will ſome Men make to maintain their Opinion! You ſay truly, pag. 205. that at the ſeventh and eighth Verſes was their Reſtipulation; why then do you ſay, pag. 224. that at Verſe the ſeventh he proceeds to ſpeak of another Covenant than what he had been ſpeaking of before? Does the Promiſe and the Reſtipulation make two Covenants, or are they juſt and neceſſary parts of one and the ſame Covenant? You alſo tell us, that the Covenant Gen. 17 1, 2, 3, 4. was a plain Tranſcript of ſeveral free Promiſes of the Goſpel, under the denomination of a Covenant. But why then don't you take the Reſtipulation, ver. 7, 8, 9, 10. to be a part of it? Oh, no, there is ſomething requir'd on Abraham's and his Poſterities part, they muſt be circumcis'd, and that ſpoils all. Why, but Sir, if the requiring of Circumciſion alters the caſe ſo greatly, as to make it a quite contrary Covenant, how comes it to paſs that in the Covenant to Abraham he himſelf was firſt requir'd to be circumcis'd? Why this is the reaſon, here is ſomewhat requir'd on their part as a Condition, and a Condition quite alters the nature of the Covenant. Very well; but tell me then why you ſay, pag. 223. and in many other places, that the Covenant made with Abraham in Gen. 12. was a Goſpel-covenant, and yet there Abraham is obliged to walk before God, and be perfect? Does not that alſo there alter the nature of the Covenant, as well as here in the ſeventh Chapter? You alſo grant, the Covenant made with Abraham, Gen. 22. was a pure Goſpel-Covenant; or if you deny it, the Apoſtle proves it, Heb. 6. 13. and yet there is more appearance of reſpect to Abraham's Obedience in that Covenant, than is in ſubmitting to Circumciſion; ſee Gen. 22. 16, 17. By my ſelf have I ſworn, ſaith the Lord, for becauſe thou haſt done this thing, &c. That in bleſſing I will bleſs thee, and in multiplying I will multiply thee.

I will trouble you on this Head but with one Query more: If the four firſt Verſes of the Seventeenth of Geneſis contain a pure Goſpel-covenant, as you ſay, and the Reſtipulation in the following Verſes make a Covenant of Works, becauſe it thereby becomes conditional; then tell me, if you pleaſe, whether what God graciouſly granted to

Abraham in the former Verſes be not all null'd, and made void again by their Reſtipulation? Does not this ſeem harſh? Here you have brought Abraham, Iſaac, and Jacob, and all the Believers of Abraham's Race, juſt into the ſame caſe you brought Moſes and all the Iſraelites before, under two oppoſite Covenants, where one cuts off all that the other granted.

But there is a ſtronger reaſon urg'd than the conditionality of the Covenant, to prove it a Covenant of Works, and that is, Circumciſion is made the condition of Abraham's Covenant; and that's the worſt of all conditions, for it obliges a man to keep the whole Law, Gal. 5. 3. 'tis the yoke of bondage, and to whatſoever Covenant it be ſo annexed, it makes it become a bondage Legal Covenant. If we be circumciſed, Chriſt ſhall profit us nothing. Thus it was in the Covenant, Gen. 17.

Great uſe is made of this in many parts of your Diſcourſe; but Sir, you are greatly miſtaken in applying theſe Texts to the purpoſes you do; for the Apoſtle all along in that Epiſtle to the Galatians argues againſt the falſe Teachers, who taught and preſſed the neceſſity of Circumciſion, as a Bond obliging them to the ſtrict and perfect Obedience of the Law, in order to their Juſtification thereby, or at leaſt to joyn it with the Righteouſneſs of Chriſt, as a Con cauſe of Juſtification; ſee Gal. 2. 4, 5. and the 3. 1. Now againſt this Abuſe of Circumciſion it is that the Apoſtle argues thus, and tells them, that in ſubmitting to it on that account, they made the Death of Chriſt of no effect, and obliged themſelves by it to the whole Law; for Circumciſion did not ſimply and abſolutely, in the nature of the work or action, oblige Men to the whole Law in the way of juſtification by it, but it did ſo from the Intention of the worker, and the ſuppoſition of ſuch an Opinion of it, and deſign in it; for in it ſelf, and with reſpect to God's deſign in the inſtitution of it, it was to be a Seal of the Righteouſneſs of Faith, Rom. 4. 11. and ſo it was an excellent, uſeful, inſtructive Ordinance to all Believers, as long as the Ceremonial Law ſtood; and even when it was expiring, as the Goſpel began to open more and more clearly, there was yet ſome kind of toleration of it to ſuch as were born of Jewiſh Parents: Thus Paul himſelf circumcis'd Timothy, his Mother being a Jeweſs, Acts 16. 1, 3. but Titus being a Greek, was not circumcis'd, and that becauſe of theſe falſe Teachers, that would make an ill uſe of that their Liberty, Gal. 2. 3, 4. this Paul could never have done, in caſe Circumciſion, in the nature of the act, had bound Timothy to keep the Law for Juſtification. By which it appears that the action in its own nature did not oblige to the keeping of the whole Law, but from the Intention of the Agent; and therefore, as the Apoſtle rightly argues, if a Man be circumcis'd with this deſign to be juſtified by it, he would thereby bind himſelf to the whole Law, and fruſtrate the Death of Chriſt to himſelf; but it was now to have its Funeral with all other parts of the Ceremonial Law which vaniſh'd, and were accompliſh'd in the Death of Chriſt; and it falling out that ſuch a vile uſe was made of it at that time, the Apoſtle thus thunders againſt it. Had this been obſerv'd, as alſo the like abuſe of the Moral Law, you would have known how to have reconcil'd the Apoſtle's Encomiums of them both, with his ſharp Invectives againſt the one and the other. But being ignorant of theſe two great and neceſſary Diſtinctions of the Law, according to God's Intention in the promulgation of it at Sinai, and the carnal Jews Senſe of it, as a pure Covenant of Works, againſt which the Apoſtle ſo ſharply inveighs in the places by you cited, all your 23 Arguments from Page 183, to Page 187. fall to the Ground at one ſtroke, your Medius Terminus having one ſenſe in your Major Propoſition, and another in your Minor; and ſo every Argument hath four Terms in it; as will eaſily be evinc'd by the particular conſideration of the reſpective places from whence you draw them.

So in like manner in your arguing here againſt Circumciſion, as a Bond to keep the whole Law; and as ſuch vacating the Death of Chriſt is a ſtumble at the ſame Stone, not diſtinguiſhing as you ought to have done, betwixt an Obligation ariſing out of the nature of the Work, and out of the end and intention of the Workers; and this every learned and judicious Eye will eaſily diſcern. But we proceed to

Argument IV.

That which in its direct and primary end teacheth Man the corruption of his Nature by Sin, and the mortification of Sin by the Spirit of Chriſt, cannot be a condition of the Covenant of Works; but ſo did Circumciſion in the very direct and primary end of it.

This Ordinance ſuppoſeth the Fall of Man, points to the Means and Inſtruments of his Sin and Miſery, and alſo to the Remedy thereof by Chriſt: (1.) It ſingles out that Genital part by which Original Sin was propagated, Gen. 17. 11. Pſal. 51. 5. to this the Sign of the Covenant is applied in Circumciſion, for the remiſſion of Sins paſt, and the extirpation of Sin for the future. (2.) Therefore it was inſtituted of God, that Men might ſee both the neceſſity and true way of mortifying their Luſts, in the vertue of Chriſt's Death and Reſurrection, whereof Baptiſm, that ſucceeds it, is a Sign now as Circumciſion was then; as is plain from Col. 2. 11, 12. In whom alſo ye are circumciſed with the circumciſion made without hands, in putting off the body of the ſins of the fleſh by the circumciſion of Chriſt, buried with him in Baptiſm, wherein alſo ye are riſen with him, through the Faith of the operation of God, who raiſed him from the dead. 'Tis clear then that Circumciſion directed Men to the Death and Reſurrection of Chriſt, as the true and only means of mortifying their Luſts; and if it did ſo, ſure it was not the Covenant of Works, for that gives fallen Man no hint of a remedy. (3.) It was alſo a diſcriminating Sign or Token, betwixt the Church and the World. God's People, and the Heathens, who were accordingly denominated from it, the Circumciſion and the Uncircumciſion, the Holy Seed and the Gentiles. And now under the New Teſtament, the Children of Abraham by Faith, and the Children of the Fleſh. This alſo ſhews it cannot be the Covenant of Works; for in that Covenant all are equally and alike concluded under Sin and Miſery, Epheſ. 2. 3. and there is no difference made by that Covenant betwixt Perſon and Perſon, State and State.

If this be not enough to evince, that the Covenant of Circumciſion is a Covenant of Grace, I promiſe you many more Arguments to prove it, as ſoon as I ſhall find theſe refuted, and your contrary Aſſertion well diſcharg'd from the groſs Abſurdities with which it is clogg'd and loaded. You ſee how genuine, natural and congruous to Scripture the notion of it as a Covenant of Grace is, and all the World may ſee how harſh, alien, and repugnant to Scripture your Notion of Circumciſion, as a Covenant of Works, is. You ſee into what Boggs you are again driven in defence of your Opinion. Exemp. gra.

That Circumciſion is a part of the Ceremonial Law, which was dedicated with Blood, and therefore could be no part of the Moral Law or Ten Commandments, which was (ſay you) the Covenant of Works; and yet that it is of the ſame nature; and that it's clear it is no other than a Covenant of Works. Don't you there diſtinguiſh and confound all again, blame and check Mr. Sedgwick without cauſe, and commit a greater Abſurdity preſently than you charg'd him with? Don't you queſtion whether that Covenant that was typically ſeal'd by Blood, was ſeal'd by Chriſt's Blood? Pray, Sir, conſider where-ever God commands typical Blood to be applied, it relates to Chriſt's Blood ſpiritually applied, or to nothing.

Are not you forced, in defence of your erroneous Theſis, to ſay with Bellarmine, That Circumciſion was extraordinary in its inſtitution, and applied as a Seal to none but Abraham himſelf? It excluded even Iſaac the Type of Chriſt, and Jacob a Prince with God. O what will not men venture upon in defence of their darling Opinions!

Are you not forced, for your ſecurity from the danger of the Third Argument, to cut one of the ſame Covenants made with Abraham juſt in two, and of the pure promiſſory part to make a Covenant of Grace; and of the other part, which you your ſelf call a Reſtipulation, to make another quite oppoſite Covenant? Don't you magnifie the Bounty and Grace of God to Abraham in the firſt four Verſes, and then deſtroy it all, by putting him at once under a contrary Covenant, and ſo cut off all capacity to enjoy one of thoſe Mercies?

Don't you make Circumciſion, in its own nature, without reſpect to the intention of the Perſon, an Obligation to the whole Law, and that which fruſtrates the Death of Chriſt, and yet muſt grant, that Paul himſelf took Timothy and circumciſed him, and yet thereby brought him under no ſuch dangerous obligation to the Law? In a word,

You reject all thoſe Covenants as legal, that have any conditions in them, or reſpect to any thing that is to be done by us, and allow Gen. 12. and Gen. 22. to be pure Goſpel-Covenants of Grace; and yet in the firſt Abraham is bound to walk before God and be perfect; and in the other God ſaith, For becauſe thou haſt done this thing, ſurely bleſſing I will bleſs thee.

And ſo much for Abraham's Covenant.

III. Of the Conditionality of the New Covenant.

Come we next to conſider that Opinion of yours, which led you into theſe other groſs Miſtakes and Abſurdities, and that is this, That the Covenant of Grace is abſolute, and whatever Covenant is not ſo, but hath any condition upon our part, muſt needs for that reaſon be a Covenant of Works. See Page 229. It is obſervable (ſay you) that as the Covenants mention'd Gen. 2. Exod. 20, &c. were all conditional, and therefore legal Covenants, requiring ſtrict and perfect Obedience, as the condition propounded, in order to the enjoyment of the mercies contain'd in them, which are all therefore done away in Chriſt; ſo on the other hand we ſee, that the Covenant God made with Abraham, Gen. 12. 2, 3. and Gen. 17. 2, 3. and Gen. 22. 16, 17, 18. was wholly free and abſolute, and therefore purely Evangeli*cal*, &c. We will review theſe things anon, and ſee if you truly repreſent the matter, but in order to it let me firſt tell you,

(1.) What we mean by a Goſpel-condition.
(2.) Prove that there are ſuch in the Goſpel-Covenant.
(3.) Shew you the abſurdity of your Opinion againſt it.

(1.) What we mean by a Condition in the Goſpel-Covenant. By a Condition of the Covenant, we do not mean in the ſtricteſt rigid ſenſe of the word, ſuch a Reſtipulation to God from Man of perfect Obedience in his own Perſon, at all times, ſo as the leaſt failure therein forfeits all the Mercies of the Covenant: That's rather the condition of Adam's Covenant of Works, than of the Evangelical Covenant: Nor do we aſſert any meritorious Condition, that in the nature of an impulſive cauſe ſhall bring Man into the Covenant and its Privileges, or continue him in when brought in. This we renounce as well as you; but our Queſtion is about ſuch a Condition as is neither in the nature of it an Act perfect in every degree, nor meritorious in the leaſt of the Benefit conferr'd, nor yet done in our own ſtrength. But plainly and briefly, our Queſtion is, Whether there be not ſomething as an Act requir'd of us in point of Duty, to a Bleſſing conſequent by vertue of a Promiſe? Such a thing, whatever it be, hath the nature of a Condition, inaſmuch as it is antecedent to the Benefit of the Promiſe, and the Mercy or Benefit granted is ſuſpended until it be perform'd. The Queſtion is not, Whether there be any intrinſecal worth or value in the thing ſo requir'd, to oblige the diſpoſer to make or perform the Grant or Promiſe, but meerly that it be antecedent to the enjoyment of the Benefit; and that the diſpoſer of the Benefit do ſuſpend the Benefit until it be perform'd. Thus an Act or Duty of ours, which hath nothing at all of Merit in it, or anſwerable value to the benefit it relates to, may be in a proper ſenſe a Condition of the ſaid benefit. For what is a Condition in the true notion of it, but * the ſuſpenſion of a Grant until ſomething future be done? or † as others to the ſame purpoſe, the adding of Words to a Grant, for the future, of a ſuſpending quality, according to which the Diſpoſer will have the Benefit he diſpoſeth to be regulated. This properly is a Condition, tho' there be nothing of equivalent value or merit in the thing requir'd. And ſuch your Brethren, in their Narrative,

* Conditio eſt ſuſpenſio alicujus diſpoſitionis, tantiſper dum aliquid futurum fiat. Navarr. Enchirid. 482.

† Eſt verborum adjectio in futurum ſuſpendentium, ſecundum quam diſponens vult diſpoſitum regulari.

pag. 14. do acknowledge Faith to be, when they aſſert none can be actually reconcil'd, juſtified, or adopted, till they are really implanted into Jeſus Chriſt by Faith, and ſo by vertue of this their Union with him, have theſe fundamental benefits actually convey'd unto them; which contains the proper Notion of the Condition we contend for.

And ſuch a Condition of Salvation we aſſert Faith to be in the New Covenant Grant; that is to ſay, the Grant of Salvation by God in the Goſpel-Covenant is ſuſpended from all men, till they believe, and is due by Promiſe (not Merit) to them as ſoon as they do truly believe. The Notes or Signs of a Condition given by Civilians or Moraliſts are ſuch as theſe, If, if not, unleſs, but if, except only, and the like. When theſe are added in the Promiſe of a Bleſſing or Benefit for the future, they make that Promiſe conditional; and your Grammar (according to which you muſt ſpeak, if you ſpeak properly and ſtrictly) will tell you, that Si, ſin, modo, dum, dummodo, are all conditional Particles; and it is evident, that theſe conditional Particles are frequently inſerted in the Grants of the Bleſſings and Privileges of the New Teſtament. As for example, Mark 9. 23. εἰ δύνασαι πιστεῦσαι, If thou canſt believe. Acts 8. 37. εἰ πιστεύεις ἐξ ὅλης τῆς καρδίας, If thou believeſt with thy whole heart, thou mayeſt, &c. Rom. 10. 9. ὅτι ἐὰν, That if thou ſhalt confeſs with thy mouth, and believe with thy heart, &c. thou ſhalt be ſaved. Matth. 18. 3. ἐὰν μὴ, Except ye be converted, and become as little children, you ſhall not enter into the kingdom of Heaven. Mark 5. 36. μόνον, Only believe. Mark 11. 26. εἰ δὲ οὐκ, But if ye forgive not, &c. With multitudes more, which are all conditional Particles inſerted in the Grants of Benefits.

(2.) Having ſhewn you what the nature of a Condition is, I ſhall, I hope, make it plain to you, That Faith is ſuch a Condition in the Goſpel-grant of our Salvation; for we find the Benefit ſuſpended till this Act of Faith be perform'd, John 3. 36. He that believeth on the Son hath everlaſting life; and he that believeth not the Son ſhall not ſee life, but the wrath of God abideth on him. And moſt plainly, Rom. 10. 9. having ſhewn before what the Condition of Legal Righteouſneſs was, he tells us there what the Goſpel-condition of Salvation is, The Righteouſneſs which is of Faith ſpeaketh on this wiſe; that if thou ſhalt confeſs with thy mouth the Lord Je-ſu, and ſhalt believe in thy heart, that God raiſed him rom the dead, thou ſhalt be ſaved. I ask you, Sir, whether it be poſſible to put words into a frame ore lively expreſſive of a Condition than theſe re? Do but compare Mark 16. 16. He that be-eveth, and is baptiſed, ſhall be ſaved; but he that be-eveth not, ſhall be damned. Do but compare, I y, that Scripture-phraſe with the words of Ja-'s Sons, which all allow to be conditional, Gen. 3. 4, 5. If thou wilt ſend our brother with us, we will down: but if thou wilt not ſend him, we will not down; and judge whether the one be not as nditional as the other: More particularly,

Argument I.

f we cannot be juſtified or ſav'd till we believe, n Faith is the Condition on which thoſe conſe-nt Benefits are ſuſpended.

But we cannot be juſtified or ſaved till we believe. Ergo,

The Sequel of the Major is evident; for as was ſaid before, a Condition is the ſuſpenſion of a Grant till ſomething future be done. The Minor is plain in Scripture, Rom. 4. 24. Now it was not written for his ſake alone, that righteouſneſs was imputed to him, but for our ſakes alſo, to whom it ſhall be imputed if we believe. οἷς μέλλει λογίζεσθαι, Quibus futurum eſt ut imputetur, to whom it ſhall come to paſs, that it ſhall be imputed, if we believe: And Acts 10. 43. Whoſoever believeth on him, ſhall receive remiſſion of ſins. John 3. 36. He that believeth not, ſhall not ſee life, but the wrath of God remaineth on him; with multitudes more. Now, Sir, lay ſeriouſly before your Eyes ſuch Scriptures as theſe, that promiſe Salvation to Believers, and threaten Damnation to all Unbelievers, as Mark 16. 16. doth, and then give a plain and clear Anſwer to this Queſtion; either the poſitive part of that Text promiſes Salvation abſolutely to Men, whether they believe or believe not, and conſequently Unbelievers ſhall be ſav'd as well as Believers: and the negative part threatens Damnation abſolutely to Sinners, as Sinners; and conſequently all Sinners ſhall be damned, whether they believe or believe not; or elſe if you allow neither to be abſolute, but that none can be ſav'd till they believe, nor any damn'd when they do believe; is not that a conditional Promiſe and Threatning?

Argument II.

If God's Covenant with Abraham, Gen. 12. 2, 3. and that Gen. 17. 2, 3. were (as you ſay) pure Goſpel-covenants of Grace, and yet in both ſome things are requir'd as Duties on Abraham's part, to make him partaker of the Benefits of the Promiſes, then the Covenant of Grace is not abſolute, but conditional.

But ſo it was in both theſe Covenants. Ergo,

The Minor only requires proof, for which let us have recourſe to the places, and ſee whether it be ſo or not.

(1.) For the firſt you inſtance in as pure a Goſpel-covenant made with Abraham, Gen. 12. 2, 3. I muſt confeſs, as you diſmember the Text, p. 229. by chuſing out the ſecond and third Verſes, and leaving out the firſt, which was the tryal of Abraham's Obedience in forſaking his native Country, and his Father's Houſe; I ſay, give me but this liberty to ſeparate and disjoyn one part of a Covenant from the other, and it's eaſie to make any conditional Covenant in the World to become abſolute: for take but the Duty requir'd, from the Promiſe that is made, and that which was a conditional, preſently becomes an abſolute Grant. Suppoſe, Sir, that Abraham had refus'd to leave his dear native Country and neareſt Relations, as many do, think you that the promis'd Mercies had been his? I muſt plainly tell you, you aſſume a ſtrange liberty in this matter, and make a great deal bolder with the Scriptures than you ought: And the very ſame uſage the other Scriptures hath.

(2.) For when you cite your Second Covenant with Abraham, you only cite Gen. 17. 2, 3. and then call it an abſolute Goſpel-covenant; when indeed you made it ſo, by leaving out the firſt Verſe, which contains the Condition or Duty requir'd on Abraham's part; for thus run the three firſt Verſes, And when Abraham was ninety nine years old, the Lord appeared to Abraham, and ſaid unto him, I am the Almighty God, walk thou before me, and be thou perfect, and I will make my Covenant between me and thee, &c. Here an upright Converſation before God is requir'd of him, at God's entrance into this Covenant with him; but that is, and muſt be omitted, and cut off, to make the Covenant look abſolute. I am really griev'd to ſee the Scriptures thus dealt with to ſerve a deſign.

Argument III.

If all the Promiſes of the Goſpel be abſolute and unconditional, requiring no Reſtipulation from Man, then they cannot properly and truly belong to the New Covenant.

But they do properly and truly belong to the New Covenant; therefore they are not all abſolute and unconditional.

The Sequel of the Major is only liable to doubt or denial, namely, That the Abſoluteneſs of all the Promiſes of the New Teſtament cuts off their relation to a Covenant; but that it doth ſo, no Man can deny, that underſtands the difference between a Covenant and an abſolute Promiſe. A Covenant is a mutual Compact or Agreement betwixt Parties, in which they bind each other to the performance of what they reſpectively promiſe; ſo that there can be no proper Covenant where there is not a Reſtipulation or Re-obligation of one part, as well as a Promiſe on the other: But an abſolute Promiſe binds only one Party, and leaves the other wholly free and unoblig'd to any thing in order to the enjoyment of the good promis'd. So then if all the New Teſtament Promiſes be unconditional and abſolute, they are not part of a Covenant, nor muſt that word be applied to them; they are abſolute Promiſes, binding no man to whom they are made to any Duty, in order to the enjoyment of the Mercies promis'd: But thoſe perſons that are under theſe abſolute Promiſes, muſt and ſhall enjoy the Mercies of Pardon and Salvation, whether they repent or repent not, believe or believe not, obey or obey not. Now, to what Licentiouſneſs this Doctrine leads Men, is obvious to every Eye. Yet this abſoluteneſs of the Covenant (as you improperly call it) is by you aſſerted, p. 229, 230. there is (ſay you) no Condition at all, 'tis wholly free and abſolute, as the Covenant with Abraham, Gen. 12. 2, 3. Gen. 17. 2, 3. Thank you, Sir, for making them ſo; for by cutting off the firſt Verſes, where the Duty requir'd on Abraham's part is contain'd, you make them what God never intended them to be. And the ſame foul play is in Deut. 30. where you ſeparate the plain Condition contain'd in verſ. 1, 2. from the Promiſe, verſ. 6. Or if the Condition, verſ. 1, 2. be not plain enough, but you will make it part of the Promiſe, I hope that after in verſ. 10. is too plain to be denied. As to the other Texts, more anon; mean time ſee how you deſtroy the Nature of a Covenant.

Object. But ſay you, pag. 233. To impoſe new Conditions, though never ſo mild, is a new Covenant of Works with ſome Mercy, but not a Covenant of Grace, properly ſo call'd.

Sol. 'Tis true, if thoſe Works or Acts of ours, which God requires, be underſtood of meritorious Works in our own Strength and Power to perform, it deſtroys the Free Grace of the Covenant; but this we utterly reject, and ſpeak only of Faith wrought in us by the Spirit of God, which receives all from God, and gives the entire Glory to God; Epheſ. 2. 5, 8.

Obj. But you will ſay, If Faith be the Condition, and that Faith be not of our ſelves, then both the Promiſe and the Condition are on God's part, (if you will call Faith a Condition) and ſo ſtill on our part the Covenant is abſolute.

Sol. This is a miſtake, and the miſtake in this leads you into all the reſt; tho' Faith (which we call the Condition on our part) be the Gift of God, and the power of believing be deriv'd from God, yet the act of believing is properly our act, tho' the power by which we believe be of God; elſe it would follow when we act any Grace, as Faith, Repentance or Obedience, that God believes, repents, and obeys in us, and it is not we, but God that doth all theſe. This, I hope, you will not dare to aſſert; they are truly our Works, tho' wrought in God's ſtrength; Iſa. 26. 12. Lord, thou haſt wrought all our works in us, (i. e.) though they be our Works, yet they are wrought in us by thy Grace or Strength.

As for Dr. Owen, 'tis plain from the place you cite in the Doctrine of Juſtification, pag. 156. he only excludes Conditions as we do, in reſpect of the dignity of the Act, and is more plain in his Treatiſe of Redemption, pag. 103, 104. in which he allows Conditions in both the Covenants, and makes this the difference, That the Old requir'd them, but the New effects them in all the Federates.

I know no Orthodox Divine in the World that preſumes to thruſt in any Work of Man's into the Covenant of Grace, as a Condition, which in the Arminian ſenſe he may or may not perform, according to the power and pleaſure of his own Free-will, without the preventing or determining Grace of God; which preventing Grace is contain'd in thoſe Promiſes, Ezek. 36. 25, 26, 27, &c. Nor yet that there is any meritorious worth, either of Condignity or Congruity in the Popiſh ſenſe, in the very juſtifying Act of Faith, for the which God juſtifies and ſaves us. But we ſay, That tho' God in the way of preventing Grace works Faith in us, and when it is ſo wrought, we need his aſſiſting Grace to act it, yet neither this aſſiſting nor preventing Grace makes the Act of Faith no more to be our Act: 'Tis we that believe ſtill, though in God's Strength, and that upon our believing or not believing, we have or have not the Benefits of God's Promiſes; which is the very proper Notion of a Condition.

Argument IV.

If all the Promiſes of the New Covenant be abſolute and unconditional, having no reſpect nor relation to any Grace wrought in us, nor Duty done by us, then the tryal of our Intereſt in Chriſt by Marks and Signs of Grace is not our Duty, nor can we take comfort in Sanctification, as an Evidence of Juſtification.

But it is a Chriſtian's Duty to try his Intereſt in Chriſt by Marks and Signs, and he may take comfort in Sanctification, as an Evidence of Juſtification. Ergo, The Sequel of the Major is undeniably clear, for that can never be a Sign or Evidence of an Intereſt in Chriſt, which that Intereſt may be without; yea, and as Dr. Criſpe aſſerts, according to his Antinomian Principles, Chriſt is ours (ſaith he) before we have gracious Qualifications. Every true Mark and Sign muſt be inſeparable from that it ſignifies. Now, if the Works of the Spirit in us be not ſo, but an Intereſt in Chriſt may be where theſe are not; then they are no proper Marks or Signs; and if they are not, it cannot be our Duty to make uſe of them as ſuch; and conſequently if we ſhould, they can yield us no Comfort.

Dr. Criſpe 2d Vol. of Chriſt exalted. Serm. 14.

The Minor is plain in Scripture, 1 John 2. 3. Hereby we do know that we know him, if we keep his Commandments. The meaning is, we perceive and diſcern our ſelves to be ſincere Believers, and conſequently that Chriſt is our Propitiation, when Obedience to his Commands is become habitual and eaſie to us: So 1 John 3. 19. Hereby we know that we are are of the truth, and ſhall aſſure our Hearts before him, (i. e.) by our ſincere cordial Love to Chriſt and his Members, as v. 18. this ſhall demonſtrate to us, that we are the Children of Truth; and again, 1 John 3. 14. We know that we are paſſed from death to life; becauſe we love the Brethren. With multitudes more to the ſame purpoſe, which plainly teach Chriſtians to fetch the Evidences of their Juſtification out of their Sanctification, and to prove their Intereſt in Chriſt, by the Works of his Spirit found in their own Hearts.

And this is not only a Chriſtian's Liberty, but his commanded Duty; to bring his Intereſt in Chriſt to this Touchſtone and Teſt, 2 Cor. 13. 5. Examine your ſelves, prove your ſelves, &c. 2 Pet. 1. 10. Give all diligence to make your calling and election ſure, (i. e.) your Election by your Calling. No Man can make his Election ſure à priori, nor can any Man make it ſurer than it is in ſe, therefore it is only capable of being made ſure to us à poſteriori, arguing from the work of Sanctification in us, to God's eternal choice of us.

And as the Saints in all Ages have taken this Courſe, ſo they have taken great and lawful Comfort in the uſe of theſe Marks and Signs of Grace, 2 Kings 20. 3. 2 Cor. 1. 12.

I am ſenſible how vehemently the Antinomian Party, Dr. Criſpe, Mr. Eyre, and ſome others do oppugn this Truth, repreſenting it as legal and impracticable (for they are for the abſolute and unconditional Nature of the New Covenant, as well as you), but by your eſpouſing their Principle, you have even run Anabaptiſm into Antinomianiſm, and muſt by this Principle of yours, renounce all Marks and Trials of an Intereſt in Chriſt, by any Work of the Spirit wrought in us. You muſt only ſtick to the immediate Sealings of the Spirit, which if ſuch a thing be at all, it is but rare and extraordinary.

I will not deny but there may be an immediate Teſtimony of the Spirit, but ſure I am his mediate Teſtimony by his Graces in us, is his uſual way of ſealing Believers. We do not affirm any of theſe his Works to be meritorious Cauſes of our Juſtification, or that conſidered abſtractedly from the Spirit, they can of themſelves ſeal or evidence our Intereſt in Chriſt. Neither do we affirm, that any of them are compleat and perfect Works; but this we ſay, that they being true and ſincere, tho' imperfect Graces, they are our uſual and ſtanding Evidences, to make out our Intereſt in Chriſt by. And I hope you, and the whole Antinomian Party will find it hard, yea, and impoſſible, to remove the Saints, from that comfortable and ſcriptural way of examining their Intereſt in Chriſt, by the Graces of his Spirit in them; as the Saints who are gone to Heaven before them, have done in all Generations.

Argument V.

If the Covenant of Grace be altogether Abſolute and Unconditional, requiring nothing to be done on our part, to entitle us to its Benefits; then it cannot be Man's Duty in entring Covenant with God, to deliberate the Terms, count the Coſt, or give his Conſent by word or writing, explicitly to the Terms of this Covenant.

But it is Man's Duty, in entring Covenant with God, to deliberate the Terms, and count the Coſt, Luke 14. 26. to 34. and explicitly to give his conſent thereto, either by word or writing; Ergo,

The Sequel of the Major is ſelf-evident; for where there are no Terms or Conditions required on our part, there can be none to deliberate or give our conſent to; and ſo a Man may be in a Covenant without his own Conſent.

The Minor is undeniable in the Text cited. If you ſay theſe are Duties, but not Conditions; I reply, they are ſuch Duties, without the performance of which, we can have no Benefit by Chriſt and the new Covenant, Luke 14. 33. and ſuch Duties have the true ſuſpending Nature of Conditions in them. If you ſay they are only ſubſequent Duties, but not antecedent or concomitant Acts; the 28th Verſe directly oppoſes you, Let him firſt ſit down and count the coſt: And for thoſe Overt-acts whereby we explicitly declare our conſent to the Terms of the Covenant, at our firſt entring into the Bond of it, I hope you will not ſay that's a legal Covenant too, Iſa. 44. 3, 4. I will pour water upon him that is thirſty, and floods upon the dry ground; I will pour my Spirit upon thy Seed, and my Bleſſing upon thine Off-ſpring, and they ſhall ſpring up as among the graſs, as willows by the Water-courſes. One ſhall ſay I am the Lords, and another ſhall call himſelf by the name of Jacob; and another ſhall ſubſcribe with his hand unto the Lord, &c. A plain alluſion to Soldiers, when they liſt themſelves under a Captain or General. What remains now, to reply to theſe Arguments? But either that the places by me cited and argued upon, do not intend the new Covenant under which we are, or that this new Covenant hath its Conditions, and is not altogether abſolute, as you have aſſerted it to be.

And thus, Sir, you are fairly beaten off (if I miſtake not) from the new Ground you had choſen and marked out to raiſe your Battery upon, to demoliſh that ſtrong Fort which ſecures the Right of Believers Infants to Baptiſm, and you muſt return again to the old Anſwers of Mr. Tombes, and others, to our ſolid and ſubſtantial Arguments from Abraham's Covenant, Gen. 17. which have been baffled over and over by Baxter, Blake, Sydenham, denham, and many other ſtout Champions for Infants Baptiſm.

All that I am further concerned about, is to examine ſo many of thoſe Scriptures as you have ſpoken to, which are by us produced in defence of thoſe four Grounds or Principles mentioned in the beginning of this Diſcourſe, whereon we eſtabliſh the Right of Infants Baptiſm; and to vindicate thoſe Scriptures from your ſtrained and injurious Interpretations of them. Which being done, they will each of them ſtand in thoſe eminent places of Service, where they have been ſo long uſeful to the Cauſe we defend.

As for your pretended Solutions of the incomparable Mr. Baxter's, and the learned and acute Dr. Burthogg's Arguments; I admire at your Confidence therein; and let me tell you, without breach of Charity, 'tis an high piece of Confidence in you, to throw the Gantlet, and bid Defiance to two ſuch Worthies yet alive, and eaſily able to detect your Folly in the Weakneſs and Impertinency of your Anſwers. Alas! my Friend, you little know what it is to have ſuch weak and inartificial Diſcourſes as yours, brought under the ſtrict Examen of ſuch acute and judicious Eyes. But,

————————Sic Dama leonem
Inſequitur, audetque viro concurrere Virgo.

Nor will I preſume to anticipate either of their Anſwers to your Diſcourſe, (if they ſhall think it worthy of an Anſwer) but rather briefly reflect upon what you return to the Arguments of thoſe eminent Divines that are gone to Glory, in the Faith of that Truth you oppoſe; and are not capable of defending their ſolid and regular Interpretations of Scriptures, againſt the Notions you force upon them, contrary both to the Grammar and Scope of ſeveral of them.

And here, Sir, in the beginning, let me mind you what a Learned and Judicious Perſon ſaith, about all Interpretations of Scriptures. Four things (ſaith he) commend an Interpretation, and eſtabliſh it as a King upon the Throne, againſt whom there is no riſing up.

(1.) If the Letter and Grammar of the Text will fairly bear it.
(2.) If the Scope and Argument of the place will cloſe directly with it.
(3.) If the Interpretation ſet up againſt it, cannot ſtand before both, or either of the former.
(4.) If the Judgment of Learned, Wiſe, and Impartial Men, be found generally agreeable to it.

According to theſe Rules (whereat you can have no juſt Exception), I ſhall briefly, yet I hope clearly and ſufficiently, anſwer ſome of the Replies you make to the Arguments of thoſe deceaſed Worthies: And,

(1.) In Page 1. you produce Mr. William Allen's Argument ad hominem, againſt your Practice. He tells you your own Principle condemns you, for you reject the Baptizing of Infants, becauſe there is no Example in the New Teſtament for it; and yet baptize Perſons at Age, whoſe Parents were Chriſtians, which is as much without a Goſpel preſident or Example as the former. The Sum of your Reply is, That tho' it ſhould be granted, that there is no expreſs Example for the Baptizing of ſuch in Scripture, yet there are Examples enough concerning the Baptiſm of Believers.

Reply. Here you grant all that Mr. Allen objects, viz. That you are altogether without Example or Preſident for your Practice: And object to him and us, what he nor we ever ſcrupled or denied, viz. The Baptizing of ſome adult Perſons, upon the perſonal Profeſſion of their Faith. I have done it my ſelf, and in like Circumſtances am ready to do it again. Once you clearly yield it, that you have no Preſident nor Example for your Practice in the Goſpel. That's all that he ſeeks, and what he ſeeks you plainly grant. As to the Precept and Examples of Baptizing adult Believers, whoſe Parents were Unbelievers, and themſelves never baptized in Infancy; that's not the Point you are now to ſpeak to: Nor have we any Controverſie about it. Certainly you are none of the fitteſt Perſons in the World, to clamour ſo loudly againſt us, for want of expreſs Preſidents for Infant Baptiſm, whilſt your ſelf confeſſes, you want even one Preſident in the New Teſtament, to legitimate your own Practice; and in the mean time are found in the ſinful neglect of a ſweet and heavenly Goſpel-Ordinance, viz. the ſinging of Pſalms, for which you have both Precept and Preſident in the Goſpel, Col. 3. 16. James 5. 13. 1 Cor. 14. 26.

(2.) It is objected againſt you, Page 2. That if the Commiſſion, Mat. 28. excludes none from Baptiſm, but ſuch as are to be excluded by the Order therein to be obſerved; and if Baptizing and Teaching are to precede or follow one the other, as there named by Chriſt, then theſe two Concluſions will follow: (1.) That Infants are not there excluded from Baptiſm. (2.) That a Perſon may be baptized before he be taught; for there we have, Firſt, Μαθητεύσατε πάντα τὰ ἔθνη. Diſciple all Nations, make them Diſciples, or Chriſtians. Secondly, We have Βαπτίζοντες, ϗ διδάσκοντες; which literally to tranſlate, is Baptizing-teaching. Now then Diſcipling being a general word, that contains in it the two others that follow, viz. Baptizing and Teaching; and being the Imperative Mood, whereas the other two are Participles; it is manifeſt, that the whole Command, or Commiſſion, is given in that, and the Mode of Execution in theſe; and if the Mode of Executing that general Commiſſion be expreſſed in theſe, where Baptizing is firſt, and Teaching comes after; what is become of the Order the Antipœdobaptiſts have ſo long talk'd of?

The Summ of your Anſwer is, That if Baptizing be firſt, and Teaching comes after; then it will follow, that the Apoſtles underſtood not their Commiſſion aright, for they firſt preached, and then baptized them that by their preaching believed, Acts 8. Acts 10. Acts 2. with many other places you heap up to the ſame purpoſe; and therefore Infants muſt be excluded by that Commiſſion, becauſe uncapable of being taught. And therefore let us Criticize as we pleaſe, upon Imperative Moods and Participles, the Caſe is clear, Teaching muſt go before Baptizing.

Reply. It had been more modeſt to ſuſpect, that you underſtood not the Text aright, than that the Apoſtles underſtood not their Commiſſion aright. The Order of the Words (as this well fortified Objection declares, and you cannot deny) puts Teaching after Baptizing; and tho' we ſhould allow you, that they Diſcipled adult Perſons by Teaching, and taught others Baptized in Infancy, after their Baptizing them; in both they followed their Order and Commiſſion, in Diſcipling the Parents by Preaching, and Teaching their Children baptized by virtue of the Promiſe to them, after their Baptiſm: For he declares, Acts 2. the Promiſe is to them, and to their Children, which gives a Right of both unto Baptiſm; and ſo Teaching, according to the Order of this Commiſſion, may be an antecedent Duty to the Parent, and a ſubſequent Duty to him and his baptized Children: For if Μαθητεύσατε, includes Teaching before Baptizing, why ſhould not Διδάσκοντες, which is put after Baptizing, reſpect the ſubſequent Duty of Teaching both the one and other?

(3.) Mr. Allen's next Argument, mentioned by you, page 5. is taken from Mat. 19. 14. Suffer little Children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of ſuch is the Kingdom of Heaven. Whence he argues againſt your Objection of the Incapacity of Infants for Baptiſm, That if they are capable of Intereſt or Memberſhip in the Kingdom of Heaven, or Church, they are equally capable of the Sign or Cognizance, which is Baptiſm.

To this you reply three things: (1.) That it remains to be prov'd, that theſe little Children were Infants, and not grown Boys or Girls, capable of making an actual Profeſſion of their Faith in Chriſt. (2.) 'Tis doubtful whether they were for preſent in the Kingdom of God, or were only elected, and ſo in time ſhould be of his Kingdom. And (3.) Whatever they were, they were, they were brought unto Chriſt, who himſelf baptized not; not to his Diſciples, who did baptize.

Reply. Your firſt Exception is vain and groundleſs; that they were very young and little ones, appears not only by Chriſt's taking them in his Arms, but from the very Notation of the Word Παιδία, a Dimunitive Word, ſignifying a little Child or Infant. So John was call'd when New-born, Luke 1. 76. And Chriſt when he lay in the Manger, and Moſes when among the Flaggs. And if this be not enough, St. Luke gives them another Name, Luke 18. 15. Τὰ βρέφη, Infants, a word given to a Child in the Womb, Luke 1. 41. And for what you object out of Piſcator, that the ſame word is us'd of Timothy, who knew the Scriptures from a Child: 'Tis an evident miſtake, or ſhift, for the Word is ἀπὸ βρέφους, he knew them not being an Infant, but from his Childhood or Infancy; that is, when he had paſt his Infant State, in which State theſe were that were brought unto Chriſt. And, (2.) Whereas you queſtion their preſent Right in the Kingdom of God, or whether it were not future by virtue of their Election? The Text will not allow your Interpretation, Τῶν γὰρ τοιούτων ἐστὶν, Of ſuch is; not ἔσεται, Shall be the Kingdom of God. Their preſent Church-Memberſhip aſſerted by Chriſt, is alſo a known Rule to regulate for the future, the Diſciples Carriage towards them, which was too ſevere, harſh, and therefore highly diſpleaſing to Chriſt; but by telling them they were Members of the Church, or Kingdom of Heaven (they being very probably the Infants of believing Parents, as their bringing them unto Chriſt with ſuch Affection, through the Frowns and Repulſes of the Diſciples, ſhews) he gives them a known and plain Rule how to diſtinguiſh Infants, and regulate their Carriage towards them, which God's Election can never be, that being an unrevealed Secret. And, (3.) Whereas you ſay Chriſt did not baptize them, I reply, We never urged this Scripture to prove he did ſo, but only to prove their Church-Memberſhip; which methinks Chriſt aſſerts as plainly as Words can aſſert it, when he ſaith, Of ſuch is the Kingdom of Heaven; and tho' you uſe to quibble at the word Τοιούτων, of ſuch, as tho' it reſpected not the preſent Infants, but grown Perſons, reſembling them in humble and innocent Qualities; Mr. Sydenham hath ſufficiently baffled that Interpretation, by ſhewing its Inconſiſtence with the Scope and Argument of that place, and how ridiculous this Sence would be, when reduced to a formal Argument.

(4) The fourth Argument you pretend to anſwer, page 8. is drawn from 1 Cor. 7. 14. Elſe were your Children unclean, but now are they holy. To this you anſwer two things: (1.) That the Holineſs here ſpoken of, is not a Federal, but a Matrimonial Holineſs, namely, Legitimacy, and is as much as to ſay, your Children are no Baſtards, ſeeing one of you is a Believer.

Reply. If this be true, and the genuine Sence of this Text, then all the Children in the World, not immediately deſcended from one, or both believing Parents, muſt of neceſſity be all Baſtards, their Parents, how ſolemnly ſoever married, muſt live in Uncleanneſs; and what mad Work (think you) will this Aſſertion make in the World? And how many Millions of Perſons will it nearly touch, both in point of Honour, and Inheritance?

(2.) You ſay, Tho' the Holineſs here ſpoken of ſhould be allow'd to be a Federal or Covenant Holineſs, yet for want of an expreſs Inſtitution, it will not warrant our Practice.

Reply. The Holineſs of the Children being granted to be a Covenant Holineſs, none can deny them to be within the Covenant; how elſe come they to be holy by Covenant? And if within the Covenant, who can deny them the initiating Sign, which is Baptiſm? Or how ſhall they ordinarily be viſibly admitted into the Viſible Church without it? The Connection betwixt their Federal Holineſs and Right to Baptiſm, will appear plain enough from Acts 2. 38. which you come next to ſpeak to.

(5.) You attempt to anſwer Mr. Allen's Argument from Acts 2. 38. Be baptized, for the Promiſe is unto you, and to your Children, and unto all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God ſhall call.

On this Text you know we lay very great ſtreſs, for the Proof of Infants Baptiſm; and it deſerves a Remark, that you wholly ſuppreſs our Arguments drawn from that Text; but however return an Anſwer to them all, ſuch as it is. You firſt tell us, The Promiſe here ſpoken of, is not a Promiſe of any external Priviledges, but the Promiſe of the Goſpel, or the Grace of God in Chriſt Jeſus.

Secondly, That the Promiſe was not to their Children as Believers Seed, nor to them, or any other uncall'd by the Lord, but only a Promiſe of Remiſſion of Sins, and receiving the Holy Ghoſt, upon their actual Repentance, which Infants cannot perform, and there- fore cannot here be intended. This is the true and whole Sence of your Anſwer.

Reply. Now becauſe you have wholly omitted our Argument from this Text, (for which doubtleſs there was ſome Reaſon) I think my ſelf oblig'd to let the World know how we expound it, and what we duly infer from that Expoſition of it: And then let the Reader judge, whether by the forementioned Rules of a juſt Interpretation, you or we are in the right.

(1.) We obſerve this famous Text to contain the firſt Argument uſed by the Apoſtle, after Chriſt's Aſcenſion, to perſwade the Jews to embrace Chriſtianity, by repenting, and ſubmitting themſelves to Baptiſm, the initiating Sign of it; and therefore here we juſtly expect much Light about this controverted Point; nor doth the Apoſtle, in this Text, deceive our Expectation.

(2.) We take it for granted, that the direct and proper Scope of this place, is to perſwade the Jews (to whom St. Peter preach'd) to repent and be baptized. This you allow, when you ſay, page 10. He uſes it as a Motive, why they and theirs ſhould actually repent and be baptized. In theſe two then there is no Controverſie.

(3.) We take it for certain, that the Promiſe here referr'd to by Peter, is that gracious Promiſe, Gen. 17. 7. I will be a God to thee and thy Seed; the adjoyning of their Children to them (ſaith Calvin (and with him runs the general Current of Expoſitors) depends on the Words of that Promiſe, Gen. 17. 7. If you be not ſatisfied with this, but rather will refer it to Joel 2. 28. you are then oblig'd to anſwer Mr. Sydenham's Arguments à fortiori, from that reference. But you make no Exception at all to this Accommodation of it: And then the Sence muſt be this; the Promiſe ſhall run as before, to you and to your Children.

(4.) We ſay, that except it had had relation to the Covenant with Abraham, there had been no occaſion or reaſon at all here to have mentioned Children, as well as Parents; The Promiſe is to you, and to your Children: It had been enough, if he had only intended the believing Parents, excluſive of their Infant Seed, to have ſaid, The Promiſe is made to as many as the Lord our God ſhall call. What reaſon or occaſion was there to bring in their Children at all?

(5.) We find here the Children both of believing Jews and Gentiles, mentioned in the Promiſe, accompanying the Precept of Baptiſm, and the Precept to them built upon the Promiſe, as that which gave them their Title to Baptiſm, Ὑμιν γὰρ ἐπαγγελία; for the Promiſe is to you, and to your Children. In the ſame Line that he mentions Baptiſm, he alſo mentions the Promiſe, upon which their Right is founded; and in the ſame Breath with which he mentions their Children, he alſo mentions the Promiſe; which he would never have done, had his deſign been to have excluded their Children from both, or either of them; eſpecially ſeeing their Children had been ſo long in the poſſeſſion of both. Theſe things are obvious, natural, and every way agreeable, both to the Grammar and Scope of the Text; whence we argue,

Arg. If the Promiſe be the ſame to Believers under the Goſpel, that ever it was to Abraham, and his natural Seed, then the Children of Believers by virtue thereof, have as good a Title to Baptiſm, as Abraham's Children had to Circumciſion. But the Promiſe is the ſame, Ergo, &c.

Next, let us conſider your Anſwers.

(1.) You ſay, The Promiſe here ſpoken of, is not a Promiſe of any external Priviledges, but the Promiſe of the Goſpel.

Reply. Your Diſtinction is vain and groundleſs, for it oppoſeth Promiſes that contain external Priviledges, to Goſpel Promiſes, contrary to 1 Tim. 4. 8. Godlineſs hath promiſe of the Life that now is, and of that which is to come. Secondly, Circumciſion then, and Baptiſm now, which have both their Foundation in that Promiſe, contain Priviledges in them of both ſorts. This no Man can deny, but he that thinks it no Priviledge to be admitted into the viſible Church, by the external initiating Sign, and to be thereby diſtinguiſhed from the Pagan World. You have no Warrant therefore, to divide thoſe things which God hath united.

(2.) You ſay, the Promiſe was not to them as Believers Seed, nor to any uncalled by the Lord.

Reply. Your meaning is, that theſe Words [as many as the Lord ſhall call], are a Limitation of the Promiſe to them only, whether Parents or Children, that are actually called; let this your Interpretation be compared with, and examin'd by the Scope of the Text, which you confeſſed before to be a Motive to perſwade them and theirs to Repentance and Baptiſm, and ſee if it can ſtand before it, as ours doth: For if this be the meaning, then the Apoſtle's Argument muſt run thus: I exhort you, convinced Jews, to Repentance and Chriſtian Baptiſm; for whereas you and your Children have hitherto been an holy Seed, and the Promiſe formerly was to them as well as you; but now the Caſe is alter'd; if you your ſelves repent and be baptiz'd, you ſhall have the benefit of the Promiſe; but as for your Children, they ſhall be in the ſelf-ſame Caſe, and State, with the Children of Pagans and Infidels: Indeed, if any of your Children ſhall hereafter believe, they ſhall have benefit by the Promiſe, but no more than the Children of Pagans and Infidels, which upon Repentance ſhall be equal with them. Repent ye therefore. and be baptized, for the Promiſe is unto you, and to your Children. This, and no other, muſt the Apoſtle's Motive be, according to your Interpretation and Limitation of his Words.

We make the Motive or Argument to run thus: God hath now remembred his Covenant to Abraham, in ſending that bleſſed Seed, in whom he promiſed to be the God of him and his Seed; yea, and of all believing Gentiles, as well as Jews and their Children: Don't you therefore by your Unbelief, deprive both your ſelves, and your dear Children, of the Mercies and Priviledges of ſo great a Promiſe? Repent therefore, and be baptized, for the Promiſe is unto you, and to your Children, &c. Let the impartial Reader judge both, and the acknowledged Scope of the place determine the matter: And as it cannot ſtand with the Scope of the place, ſo neither (as Mr. Sydenham hath plainly evinc'd) with the Grammar of the Text, nor Rules of Logick, by which (according to your Expoſition) the Word [Children] muſt be redundant and ſuperfluous, as being neither comprehended under Jews or Gentiles, thoſe that are near, or far off; into which which two Claſſes or Ranks the Text diſtributes the whole World, but muſt ſtand out of the Text, as a Party by themſelves, tho' expreſly mention'd in it, as thoſe to whom the Promiſe belongs. But enough of this.

Infant-Baptiſm, page 44. 45.

(6.) Having vindicated Acts 2. 38, 39. which confirms our fourth Aſſertion, viz. the Identity of the Promiſe the Jews were, and we are under; we proceed next to vindicate 2 Col. 8. 9, 10, 11, 12. whereby we prove the ſucceſſion of Baptiſm to Circumciſion, and vindicate it from that foreign ſenſe you force upon it, to the great injury of the Text, as well as of our Infants, whom you exclude from any concernment therein.

Without any repreſentation at all of the grounds on which we proceed, to prove the ſucceſſion of this Ordinance to that, you as raſhly as confidently call it a groundleſs Inference; which, whether it be or no, let the Impartial judge, when they ſhall ſee the grounds on which we build that Aſſertion.

(1) 'Tis out of controverſie, that the ſcope of this place is to take off the Coloſſians from Circumciſion, and other Jewiſh Rites and Ceremonies, which the Falſe Teachers at that time earneſtly endeavour'd to reduce them to, as appears verſ. 4. to be his plain deſign, And this I ſay, leſt any man ſhould beguile you with enticing words; and he ſaith it with great concernment of mind, as appears verſ. 1.

(2.) 'Tis as plain that the Argument by which he eſtabliſhes them in the truth of the Goſpel, and ſecures them againſt the danger of returning to thoſe Jewiſh Rites, eſpecially Circumciſion, is drawn from their compleatneſs in Chriſt without it, verſ. 9, & 10. and that whatſoever they had under Circumciſion, they now enjoy in as compleat and full a meaſure and manner as ever Abraham and his Seed did. And ye are compleat in him, i. e. in Chriſt.

(3.) To evince this, he inſtanceth in the very caſe then under debate, viz. Circumciſion, verſe 11, 12. and firſt diſtinguiſhing of a twofold Circumciſion, one made with, and the other without Hands, which he calls the Circumciſion of Chriſt: He tells them, as to both of theſe, namely, inward Circumciſion of the Heart, and the external Sign thereof too, both are fully anſwer'd in Baptiſm, in whom alſo ye are circumciſed with the circumciſion made without hands, in putting off the body of the ſins of the fleſh, by the circumciſion of Chriſt, buried with him in Baptiſm, Verſ. 11, 12. that is, look as before inward Circumciſion of the Heart was ſignified by outward Circumciſion of the Fleſh, as the proper, direct and appointed Sign of it: So now he ſame inward Circumciſion or Regeneration of he Soul is as really and fully ſignified to you by he new Goſpel-ſign of it, which is Baptiſm: And herefore you are as compleat, in reſpect both of utward and inward Privileges now, as ever Abra- am and his Seed were. Do but convert the Pro- ſition, and ſuppoſe the Apoſtle's Deſign had been take them off from Baptiſm, and bring them ick to Circumciſion, and in order to it had ſaid, whom ye are alſo baptiſed with the baptiſm of Chriſt, ing circumciſed with him; Would not the ſubſti- tion of Circumciſion in the place of Baptiſm ve been clear? And why is not this as clear as at would have been?

(4.) We further ſay, that except he had intended in theſe words to have placed Baptiſm as an external Ordinance, in place and ſtead of outward Circumciſion, he could never have pitch'd upon a worſe Inſtance than that of Circumciſion, which was ſo much valued by them: yea, from the very Inſtance he brings, he had put a ſtrong Objection into their Mouths againſt his Aſſertion verſ. 10. That we are every way as compleat without it, as the Jews were with it; for then their Children enjoy'd an Ordinance of great value, which ours are depriv'd of, having none under the Goſpel in lieu of it. Hence we argue,

Argument. If the Ordinance of Baptiſm now be appointed to anſwer the ſame ends that Circumciſion did to the Jews, and to make us every way as compleat in Privileges as Circumciſion did them, then it comes in the place and room of it; and our Children have the ſame right to this as theirs had to that.

But the Antecedent is plain from the Scope and Argument of the Apoſtle in this Text and Context.

Ergo, So is the Conſequent.

The ſum of your Anſwer is, (1.) That Circumciſion in the Fleſh is neither expreſs'd nor meant here, but that of Chriſt in his own Perſon. (2.) That if Baptiſm had been intended to have come in the place of Circumciſion, then it would follow that Females muſt be excluded from Baptiſm.

Reply. Your firſt Anſwer is manifeſtly falſe; for if the Apoſtle diſtinguiſhes of a twofold Circumciſion, one made with Hands, the other made without Hands, then 'tis manifeſt he means Circumciſion in the Fleſh, which is now aboliſh'd, and all its ends and uſes anſwer'd in Goſpel-Baptiſm. And whereas you ſay, the Circumciſion here ſpoken of is no other but the Circumciſion of Chriſt in his own Perſon; I would gladly know how the Coloſſians are ſaid to be circumcis'd in Chriſt's perſonal Circumciſion only: And whether the Baptiſm here ſpoken of, wherewith they are ſaid to be buried with him, be not meant of Chriſt's perſonal Baptiſm too: and conſequently there is no need of the outward Ordinance to paſs upon them or us. But eſpecially 'tis worth while for you to explain the Reaſon why he calls the Coloſſians Circumciſion a Circumciſion of Chriſt made without hands, if he only intends Chriſt's perſonal Circumciſion; when we all know that Chriſt's perſonal Circumciſion was a Circumciſion made with hands; and could not poſſibly be ſuch a Circumciſion as theirs was, conſiſting in the putting off the body of the Sins of the Fleſh, or mortification of their corruptions. Chriſt had no Sin by propagation to put off or mortifie in his own Perſon.

(2.) Your Second Anſwer is no leſs abſurd; That if Baptiſm, according to our Argument, ſucceeds in the place of Circumciſion, then Females muſt be excluded from Baptiſm. You had as good have ſaid, That the enlargement of the Privilege under the Goſpel is no good Medium to prove we are as compleat now under Baptiſm, as they were under Circumciſion: Cannot Baptiſm ſtand in the place of Circumciſion, becauſe it anſwers all its ends with an advantage? This to me is a very ſtrange Anſwer; however it muſt ſtand in the place of a better, rather than Baptiſm ſhall ſtand in the place of Circumciſion.

Obj. But if Baptiſm ſucceed in the room of Circumciſion, and there be ſuch an Analogy betwixt them as you pretend, then it will follow, that you are oblig'd to baptiſe your children the Eighth Day, as they circumcis'd theirs.

Sol. The Objection is frivolous and vain; no Man that I know doubts but the Lord's Supper ſucceeds in the room and place of the Paſſover. Chriſt was the ſubſtance of that as well as this, and that was abrogated by his inſtitution of this, the very ſame Night, as ſoon as he and his Diſciples had celebrated the one, the other was inſtituted, and immediately ſucceeded it; and yet Chriſtians are not oblig'd to the ſame Month, Day or Hour for the celebration of the Lord's Supper: The Analogy is betwixt the ſubſtantial parts of both, amongſt which the Spiritual Myſtery, Principal Ends, and proper Subjects are of principal conſideration; not the minuter circumſtances of time and place. In the Paſſover and the Lord's Supper there is a correſpondence betwixt the proper Subjects of both: No uncircumcis'd Perſon, or Stranger to the Covenant might eat of that, Exod. 12. 43, 48. No unbelieving Perſon, uncircumcis'd in Heart, hath a right to this, 1 Cor. 11. 27, 28. So in the other, The Infants of God's covenanted People were the proper Subjects of Circumciſion then, and ſo they are (ſay we) of Baptiſm now; for the ſame Promiſe is ſtill to Believers and their Children, Acts 2. 38, 39. Here lies the Analogy, and not in the variable circumſtances of Time.

Whereas you ſay, pag. 12. Baptiſm cannot ſucceed Circumciſion, becauſe it leaves no character or mark upon the Body, as that did. This very Objection of yours is borrow'd in expreſs words from Socinus, that Enemy of Chriſt, in Diſp. de Bapt. pag. 113. and fully anſwer'd by Maccovius, Loc. Com. pag. 830, 831.

Object. But it will be further ſaid, That according to our Opinion there can be no Analogy or Correſpondency betwixt the very Subjects of both Ordinances; for Infants, at eight days old, were the proper Subjects of Circumciſion, but the Subjects of Baptiſm were adult Believers, from the time of its firſt inſtitution. And ſo the Analogy fails in the very Subjects.

Sol. This Objection is grounded upon a great Miſtake; 'tis your Opinion, not ours, that deſtroys it: for with us it lies fairly in theſe three reſpects of it. (1.) We find that at the firſt inſtitution of Circumciſion, Abraham the Father, at ninety years old, and all the Men of his Houſe, were firſt circumcis'd, Gen. 17. 25, 26, 27. Anſwerably, at the firſt inſtitution of Baptiſm, Parents, Maſters of Families, &c. being adult Believers, were firſt baptiz'd. (2.) After the circumciſion of Abraham and the Men of his Houſe, their Infant-ſeed were alſo circumcis'd, the Promiſe belonging to them as well as their Parents. Anſwerably, under the Goſpel the whole Families of Believers were baptiz'd, and the Promiſe runs to their Infants under the Goſpel, as it did before, Acts 2. 39. (3.) As in the days of Circumciſion, if any ſtranger, that had not been circumcis'd in his Infancy, ſhould afterwards become a Proſelyte, and joyn himſelf to the Lord, he was to be circumcis'd, of whatever age he was: So now, if any Infidel ſhall be converted, he is to be baptiz'd upon his Perſonal Profeſſion of Faith. And ſo much for the Analogy. As for your correſpondency of Identity, I cannot underſtand it.

I meet with little more in your firſt Part wherein I have any concernment, only there I find four Arguments in Mood and Figure againſt the Innovation of Symbolical Rites by humane authority, into the Worſhip of God; which is certainly the beſt Page in your Book. And of them I have nothing to ſay, but that they are good Ware; and I very well know the Mark and Number of that Parcel of Goods, and to whom they properly belong.

But yet before I diſmiſs your Book, I think my ſelf concern'd to vindicate one place of Scripture more, viz. Rom. 11. 16, 17. which I alledg'd in the beginning, for the confirmation of our firſt Propoſition, viz. That God's Covenant with Abraham, Gen. 17. is the ſame Covenant for ſubſtance we Gentile Believers are now under. If the firſt-fruits be holy, the lump is alſo holy. And if the root be holy, ſo are the branches; and if ſome of the branches be broken off, and thou being a wild Olive, were'ſt grafted in among them, and with them partakeſt of the root and fatneſs of the Olive-tree, boaſt not againſt the branches, &c. This place is deſervedly of great value with us, to prove that we Gentile Believers, with our Infant-ſeed, are inveſted under the Goſpel with the ſame ſubſtantial Privileges that the Jews and their Infants formerly enjoy'd. Here, without opening one term, you proceed in your wonted manner confidently to deny the Arguments of our learned Divines from this place. I ſhall therefore open this famous Text, and regularly deduce the right of Gentile Believers Infants to Baptiſm from it; and here, keeping to the Rules above,

(1.) I note that ver. 13, 14, 15. give us the true level and ſcope of the Apoſtle's Argument, which is to prove the calling in again of the Jews, tho' for the preſent broken off; and on this ground to excite himſelf to all diligence for their converſion, and ſuppreſs all glorying and boaſting in the Gentile Believers, as if they were more worthy than thoſe, becauſe they fill their rooms and places.

(2.) To prove the calling again of the Jews, he argues ſtrongly, ver. 16. from the Federal Holineſs deriv'd to the Branches from their Root or Anceſtors, namely, Abraham, Iſaac, and Jacob, with whom the Covenant was made, Gen. 17. For if the firſt-fruit be holy, the lump is alſo holy. And if the root be holy, ſo are the branches, (i. e.) Abraham, Iſaac and Jacob being in Covenant with God. A Federal Holineſs is from them deriv'd to the branches. And this can be no other than a Federal Holineſs, becauſe thoſe their Anceſtors were utterly uncapable to tranſmit any inherent Holineſs to them, that being the incommunicable Prerogative of God. This Federal Holineſs lying ſtill in the Root, (the Covenant with Abraham) will recover the branches again to life, tho' at preſent many of them be broken off; as Job ſpeaks in another caſe, Job 14. 7, 8, 9. There is hope of a tree though it be cut down, that it will ſprout again, and that the tender branch thereof will not ceaſe, though the root thereof wax old in the earth, and the ſtock thereof dry in the ground; yet through the ſcent of water it will bud, and bring forth boughs like a plant.

(3.) We affirm by the authority of this Text, that all the Jewiſh Nation was not broken off, but only a part of it: So the 17th Verſe plainly declares, And if ſome of the branches be broken off, &c. Not all, but ſome; for many of them were converted to Chriſt. We read of Three thouſand at one Sermon, Acts 2. and multitudes more at other times: All theſe converted Jews ſtood in the Apoſtles time as branches in the true Olive, ſtill enjoying all their Privileges; and that which brake off them that were broken off, was nothing elſe but their own unbelief, ver. 20. Well then, becauſe of unbelief, they were broken off. For at the promulgation of the Goſpel, a new Article was added to their Creed, namely, That this ſame Jeſus whom they had crucified, is the promiſed and true Meſſiah. This ſome believ'd, and ſo ſtood by Faith, ſtill enjoying all their ancient Privileges of the Covenant: Others believed not, and their Unbelief broke them off.

(4.) We find in this place two ſorts of Branches growing upon this Root Abraham; ſome natural Branches, namely, Jews by Nature, embracing Chriſt by Faith; others wild and foreign Branches, viz. Gentiles by Nature, but ingrafted by Faith, and by their ingrafture growing among the natural Branches, and with them partaking of the Root and Fatneſs of the Olive tree, verſ. 17. that is the rich Privileges of the Covenant and Promiſe to Abraham, Gen. 17. I will be a God to thee, and to thy Seed. This is the ſweet Juice or Fatneſs of the Olive-tree, which both ſorts of branches live upon, verſ. 17. ſome on the external, others on the internal, ſome on both.

(5.) Theſe naturally wild, but now ingrafted branches, viz. the Believing Gentiles, being grafted by Faith amongſt the natural branches, and with them ſucking the fatneſs of the ſame Root and Olive, that is to ſay, the Privileges, Ordinances and Franchiſes of the Church, we cannot but judge it to be a natural, clear and neceſſary Conſequent, that the ſame Privileges the natural branches once had, and the remaining branches, amongſt whom the Gentile Believers were ingrafted, then had; the very ſame the Gentile Believers and their Children do now enjoy by vertue of their intereſt in the ſame Root; elſe we cannot underſtand how we ſhould be ſaid to partake with them of the root and fatneſs of the Olive. Certainly the Sap is the ſame which the Root ſends into all the Branches, whether they be natural or ingrafted ones; and is as plentifully communicated to the ingrafted as to the natural branches; for the watering of this Olive with the more rich and plentiful Grace of the Goſpel, muſt make the Olive-tree as fat and flouriſhing as ever it was to ſupply all its branches, and more than ever before.

Seeing then we Gentiles have (1.) the ſame grafting into the true Olive; and (2.) that our preſent grafting in is anſwerable to their preſent caſting out; and (3.) that their re-ingrafting in the end of the World ſhall be the ſame for ſubſtance that ours now is, and their own firſt was: For when they were firſt taken in, they and their Children were taken in together; when they were broken off, they and their Children were broken off together; and when they ſhall be taken in again, they and their Children ſhall be taken in again; and (4.) Seeing all theſe their expected Mercies are ſecur'd to them by the Covenant with Abraham, Iſaac and Jacob, which will extend again to them when their Unbelief ſhall be taken away: Methinks (as was ſaid before) nothing can be clearer than this Concluſion, That we Gentile Believers are now inveſted with the ſame Privileges they once enjoy'd, and our Children have the ſame Federal Holineſs or relation to the Covenants theirs had, by being grafted amongſt them, and living on the ſame Sap they did, and that by the ſame Promiſe, Acts 2. 39.

But you will ſay, There's no mention here made of the grafting in of our Children with us. We reply, Neither is there any mention here made of the breaking off of their Children with them, which yet was ſo. Nor was there need to ſay it, ſeeing both their Infants and ours are comprehended in the Parents, as Twigs are comprehended in the Branch, or Buds in the Graft; and the one being holy, ſo is the other: And this Federal Holineſs of the Children is not only mention'd in this Chapter, verſ. 16. but alſo in 1 Cor. 7. 14. Now are your children holy. And the very ſame Promiſe which convey'd the fatneſs of the Olive to Abraham's natural Seed manifeſtly extends it ſelf to the Gentile Believer's Seed, Acts 2. 38, 39. And if Men will not ſhut their Eyes, and ſtudy Evaſions, what can be plainer from Scripture in this Explication and Application of this place! We have with us the conſent of the generality of Orthodox Expoſitors; the Senſe it ſelf is genuine, eaſie and unconſtrain'd, agreeable with the letter and ſcope of the Text; whether the Senſe you ſet up againſt it be as probable as this, we come next to examine. And truly, Sir, your Anſwer is as ambiguous as a Delphick Oracle; for (1.) you tell us, pag. 8. That the ingrafting ſpoken of in this place is into the inviſible Church by election. We ſay it is into the viſible Church by profeſſion of Faith, for we know not how to underſtand any breaking off from the inviſible Church, nor falling from Election; but 'tis like you better conſider'd the Conſequents of that Opinion drawn upon you by Mr. Sydenham in his 85th Page; and therefore nauſeating thoſe Dregs of Arminianiſm, you ſpeak more orthodoxly to the point, pag. 27. where you honeſtly acknowledge, That the Church of the Jews and Gentiles, as to the true Eſſence and inward Subſtance of either, is one and the ſame; in which reſpect the believing Gentiles (according to the Apoſtle's Metaphor) are here ſaid to be grafted in amongſt them, and with them to be made partakers of the Root and Fatneſs of the Olive-tree; and in reference hereunto it's rightly added by the Apoſtle, that the gifts and callings of God are without repentance. The inward Subſtance of the Church and Covenant of Grace whereon it is founded, being invariable, and which ſhall for ever remain immovable, though the outward Form and Adminiſtration be not ſo. Well then, from hence we have gain'd two things: (1.) That the Church of the Jews and Gentiles are eſſentially and ſubſtantially the ſame Church. (2.) That the Jews were not broken off from the inviſible Church, or from Faith and Election, for theſe you truly ſay are invariable and immovable; and if you had denied it, the Apoſtle aſſures us, that the foundation of God ſtands ſure, and that the gifts and callings of God are without repentance.

tance. But what then was their breaking off, and the Gentiles grafting in, which made this great alteration in the Church? Can it be any thing elſe but our ingrafting into the viſible Church by the profeſſion of our Faith, from whence the Jews were broken off from their Unbelief? For certainly from the Inviſible Church they were not broken off, and into the Inviſible Church multitudes of profeſſing Chriſtians are not ingrafted. 'Tis evident therefore, by grafting us into the Olive-tree, he means the viſible Church; and by the Fatneſs thereof, the Ordinances and Privileges of that Church: Though we deny not but all ſincere Profeſſors are Members of the inviſible Church alſo, and do belong to the Election of Grace; but that's not the breaking off or grafting in here ſpoken of. And now having given up Mr. Tombes's Notion of the Inviſible Church and Election, you are again put to your ſhifts, and muſt either ſhuffle and ſeek to hide your ſelf in an heap of ſtrange and unintelligible Diſtinctions, or (which had been much fairer) honeſtly have yielded the Cauſe; and where ever you met with them, I find a whole Troop of Diſtinctions rallied together for this purpoſe, pag. 23, 24.

This grafting in (ſay you) may be either into the viſible or inviſible Church; either by Faith or profeſſion of Faith; or by ſome outward Ordinance. Children may be either grown Men or Infants. The ingrafting in, may be either certain or probable. Certain, either by reaſon of Election or their natural Birth, being Children of Believers. Probable, as being likely; either becauſe frequently or for the moſt part it happens ſo: Though neceſſary, and ſo not certain; the thing to be prov'd is, That the Children of Believers are in the Covenant of Free Grace in Chriſt, and by vertue thereof to be baptiz'd into the Communion of the viſible Church.

Reply. Words enough, and Diſtinctions enough to reduce the Text to an indiviſible point. But whither doth all this tend? I will ask you two or three plain Queſtions, and then make what uſe you pleaſe of your Diſtinctions. (1.) Whether the breaking off of the Jews, and the ingrafting of the Gentiles, here ſpoken of, have relation to the inviſible Church by Election, or to the viſible Church by Profeſſion of Faith and ſome outward Ordinance? (2.) Whether if it were into the viſible Church by profeſſion of Faith that the Gentile Believers were grafted in, as doubtleſs it was, (and by relinquiſhing the former ſenſe you here ſeem to yield it, ſaying this Ingrafture may be certain upon the account of natural Birth, being Children of Believers) then I would fain know why you ſo ſtate the Queſtion, as to make the certainty of Believers Childrens Intereſt in Chriſt, to be the only ground of their admiſſion into the Communion of the viſible Church? This (ſay you) muſt firſt be prov'd, or no Baptiſm for them.

Alas poor Infants, to what hard Terms are they here tied up! very much harder than the Terms any of your own Society are tied to; and if Baptiſm muſt be ſuſpended till this point can be clear'd, that the Perſon to be baptiz'd be firſt in Chriſt, and in the Covenant of Free-grace, as to the ſaving Benefits thereof, then farewell to all Baptiſm, both of Infants and adult Profeſſors too: For how can you prove that the Perſons you baptiſe are all or any of them really in Chriſt? May they not deceive you as Simon Magus did Peter? I did not think you had proceeded in this matter upon a Certainty, but a Probability; and if you proceed with yours upon the grounds of Probability, how come you to tie up the Children of Believers to a certainty of their Intereſt in Chriſt, as the antecedent ſuſpending Condition of their Baptiſm? We need diſpute no more about the proper Subjects of Baptiſm, for by this account we have loſt the Ordinance of Baptiſm it ſelf.

We thought, Sir, that our Childrens Title to Baptiſm was derived to them from their believing Parents, as the Children of the Jews was to Circumciſion, from their circumcis'd and profeſſing Parents; and that the ſame Promiſe which convey'd their Children's Privilege to them, Gen. 17. had convey'd the Right of Believers Children to Baptiſm unto them alſo, Acts 2. 38, 39. and that the root being holy, the branches are holy alſo, that is, federally holy, Rom. 11. 16. but to this you make ſuch an Anſwer as aſtoniſhes me to read, pag. 26. where allowing Abraham to be the Root, you ſay, The Holineſs here ſpoken of, is firſt in reſpect of God's Election; Holineſs perſonal, and inherent in God's intention; Epheſ. 1. 4. He hath choſen us in him, that we ſhould be holy. (2.) 'Tis alſo Holineſs derivative, but not from any Anceſtors, but from Abraham only; and that not as a natural, but a ſpiritual Father, wherein he is a lively Image or Figure of Chriſt, and is derived from the Covenant of Grace, which paſſed in his Name to him and his Seed. And laſtly, It ſhall be inherent, being actually communicated by the Spirit of God, when they ſhall be actually call'd.

Reply. Here we ſee into what Brakes and Pits Men run themſelves, when they depart from the plain and ſafe Path in Explications of Scripture. Here is ſuch a tripartite Diſtinction of Holineſs as I never met with before. (1.) Here is perſonal Holineſs inherent in God's Intention. By this you muſt either mean Sanctification decreed for them, and to be beſtow'd on them at the time of their calling; and then it is coincident with the third Member of your Diſtinction: Or elſe you mean, That it is Holineſs inherent in the Intention of God, as an Accident in its Subject; and then the Simplicity of God's Nature reſiſts your incongruous Notion. But it would be a leſs crime to confound the firſt with the laſt Member of your vain and ſelf-created Diſtinction, than to ſpeak things ſo repugnant to the ſimple and uncompounded Nature of God.

Or if your meaning be, That this Holineſs is in God by way of Intention, but in them by way of Inheſion, that will not deliver you out of your confuſion neither, but run you into greater; for then you confound the immanent with the tranſient Acts of God, and make the ſame thing at the ſame time to be purely in Intention, and in Execution; or to be only in God's Purpoſe to beſtow hereafter, and yet at the preſent inherent in the Perſons he intends it for; ſo that I muſt leave your ſtrange Notion of Perſonal Holineſs inherent in God's Intention, to be clear'd by a more Metaphyſical Head than mine; or elſe to ſtand among other rare and unintelligible Notions, to be admired and applauded by the ignorant Reader.

But then, when we come to the Second Member of your Diſtinction, I am as much at a loſs to find your Sence as before: For there you tell us, The Holineſs here ſpoken of, is a Derivative Holineſs alſo, and that from Abraham only, and from him not as a natural, but a ſpiritual Father, reſembling Chriſt herein.

Reply. This word derivative is an equivocal word, and may ſignifie either inherent perſonal Holineſs, or federal Holineſs, for both of them are derived. If you ſay as the former, it looks too black and horrid for me to believe you mean it, tho' you ſhould ſay you mean it; for then you make Abraham not only the Figure and Image of Chriſt (as you ſpeak) but Chriſt himſelf, by attributing to Abraham Chriſt's incommunicable Property and Prerogative. Then Abraham may ſay to all his Children, as Chriſt doth, John 15. 4, 5. I am the Vine, ye are the Branches, &c. I am he that ſanctifies you. But if you mean the laſt, (as neceſſarily you muſt, if you mean any thing that hath Orthodox Sence in it), then this derivative Holineſs you ſpeak of, is not perſonal Holineſs, or internal Sanctification, but federal Holineſs, derived from Covenanted Anceſtors, or Parents to their Children; and therein you come over to us, and to the true Sence of the Text. But why muſt this be ſqueezed from you with ſo much difficulty? And why did you hide this federal Holineſs under an equivocal Term, leſt you ſhould ſeem to yield the Controverſie with a Word? this is not fair.

Object. If you ſay we are too haſty, and triumph before the Victory; for tho' you do yield it to be a federal Holineſs, yet it is ſuch as can be derived from no other Father or Progenitor, but Abraham only.

Sol. Yes, Sir, I hope you will allow Iſaac and Jacob, at leaſt, to be the Root and Firſt-fruit, as well as Abraham, ſeeing the Covenant was jointly and expreſly made with them all three; and thereby they became the Root and Firſt-fruit of that holy Nation: And if that People be called the Seed of Abraham, they are alſo called the Seed of Jacob; and if Fatherhood be aſcribed to Abraham, it is aſcribed to Jacob too, Iſa. 58. 14. And if Abraham be firſt named in the Covenant, ſo is Jacob; ſee Lev. 26. 42. But if you allow theſe three Patriarchs, belike that's all you will allow; for you ſeem to ſay, that no federal Holineſs can be derived from any other Progenitors. Good Sir, whatever your own private Opinion be in this matter, allow us to believe otherwiſe, as long as thoſe Scriptures, 1 Cor. 7. 14. and Acts 2. 39. ſtand in our Bibles; for we cannot think but the federal Holineſs of Children reſults from the immediate Parent's Faith, or Covenant Intereſt, as well as from the remoter Progenitors; elſe we cannot underſtand how the Corinthians Children ſhould be holy, or how the Promiſe ſhould belong to the Children of them that are afar off, viz. the Gentiles, who could derive no ſuch thing to their Children by a Lineal Deſcent from Abraham, but only as they became ingrafted Branches by Faith; and ſo ſuck the Fatneſs of the Olive to themſelves, and to their Buds, or Children, as the natural Branches did. I deſire you to conſider alſo, how this Covenant paſſed, as you ſay it did, to Abraham and his Seed in Chriſt's Name, if it be the ſame with Adam's Covenant? Did that paſs to Adam in Chriſt's Name too?

I have now diſpatched what I at firſt promiſed and intended, viz. the Confutation of my Friends Miſtakes about the Covenants, and the Vindication of thoſe Scriptures, by which our Arguments deduced from one of them, are confirmed. And now I have no further Concernment with Mr. Cary's Solemn Call, ſave only to note his high Confidence, raſh and moſt Unchriſtian Cenſures, of all his differing Friends and Brethren, with which he concludes his Diſcourſe, wherein he calls Infants Baptiſm.

(1.) A great abuſe in the Divine Worſhip, Page 242, 243. And yet he that ſo calls it, never looked half way into the Controverſie, nor is able without manifeſt ſhuffling, and contradiction, both to the Words of God, and his own Words, to anſwer our Arguments, as is here made too evident.

(2.) That it is no other, than a change of a Divine Inſtitution, and making void the Commandment of Chriſt, the horrid Sin charged by Chriſt upon thoſe Hypocrites, the Scribes and Phariſees, Mat. 15. 6. With no better than theſe doth he rank and aſſociate the many thouſands of God's choice and dear People, who differ in this circumſtantial Point from him.

(3.) He compares it with the Sin of Nadab and Abihu. And with that of Iſrael, with reſpect to the Ark, 1 Chron. 15. 13. a Sin which provoked the Lord to execute Judgment, by an immediate Stroke in Fire from Heaven upon them. Thus Mr. Cary is ready to call for Fire from Heaven upon his Brethren. Alas! Poor Man, he knows not what Spirit he is of, as Chriſt told the Diſciples in a like caſe. 'Tis well we are not in his Hands to execute the Wrath, as well as charge the Guilt upon us. But I hope all this is but Raſhneſs in him.

(4.) He affirms it to be no leſs than a tranſgreſſing of the Law, a changing of the Ordinances; and a breaking of the everlaſting Covenant. If it be a tranſgreſſing of the Law, he ſhould have ſhewn us in what Scripture that Law that forbids it is, or where God hath repealed his former Grant to the Children of his Covenant People: And for the changing of the Ordinances, I am of Opinion, 'tis he that is guilty of that Sin, and not we; for we have proved God ſetled this Priviledge upon the Infant Seed of his People, that the Promiſe under the Goſpel continues ſtill to them, and if he exclude them from Baptiſm, he changes the Ordinance of God. And for breaking the everlaſting Covenant, for which he cites Iſa. 24. 5, 6. the Lord make him ſenſible of the Danger he hath put himſelf under, from that very Text he produces againſt us; for it's manifeſt, that the Covenant there ſpoken of, is God's Covenant with Abraham, renewed with the Iſraelites at Sinai, which in that Text is truly called an everlaſting Covenant; when mean time Mr. Cary hath pronounced it to be an Adam's Covenant, and now utterly aboliſhed. Who is it, Sir, that fights againſt, and changes this everlaſting Covenant, you or we, that are for its continuance to us and our Children?

(5.) He affirms theſe things to be of higheſt Concernment to us. If ſo, then ſure it muſt follow, that Repentance from dead Works, and Faith towards our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, muſt be inferior things to them; for nothing can be higher than the higheſt, or equal with it. And then by making them the chief Fundamentals in Religion, as that Expreſſion doth, (if it be not a vain and ſinful Hyperbole) the Salvation or Damnation of Men depends upon compliance, or non-compliance with them. And then whither muſt you ſend all God's People in the World, that differ from you? Sir, I find your Brethren in the Appendix to their Confeſſion of Faith, page 110. placing one of theſe which you make of higheſt Concernment, among the other Circumſtances of Religion: And doubtleſs that is in its proper place. Nor do I ſee how they can free themſelves from participation in your Sin, 'till they have admoniſhed you for it, and cauſed you to expugn it out of your Book.

(6.) That it is a ſetling of your Threſholds by Gods's Threſhold. The Words you recite from Ezek. 43. 8 which ſpeaks of the Idolatrous Kings of Judah and Iſrael, building Temples and Altars for their Idols, in, or near the Courts of the Temple of God: As the Engliſh Annotations on the Text will inform you, an Abomination that defiled God's Holy Name, a Wickedneſs not to be named, and for which the Lord conſumed them; and calls it Whoredom in the next words. Here, Sir, you have exceeded all the Bounds of Society and Chriſtian Charity; and made this circumſtantial Difference about the proper Subject of Baptiſm, the groſſeſt Heatheniſh Idolatry in the World: And conſequently diſſolved the Bonds of Chriſtian Charity, and broken off all Communion with us; for with ſuch Idolaters you ought not to have any Communion.

Your more wiſe and moderate Brethren in the place above cited, tell us, They are loath hereby to alienate their Affections or Converſations from any that fear the Lord, and are willing to participate of the Labours of thoſe whom God hath endued with Abilities above themſelves; qualified and called to the Miniſtry of the Word; deſirous of Peace, and not of renewed Conteſts hereabout. This is a Language of another Air. And if they be (as I dare not ſuſpect but they are) ſincere in that Profeſſion, they dare not comprobate ſuch a Deſperate and Unchriſtian Cenſure as yours is: If they do, then we may eaſily gueſs what our Lot and Treatment ſhall be, whenever Anabaptiſm get the Aſcendent in England. We may expect as Civil Uſage as is due to groſs Idolaters, and no better. But I hope better things.

(7.) You ſay, that as theſe things are of higheſt concernment, ſo they ought to be our moſt ſerious practice and endeavour, page 243. ult. Good Lord, whither hath Zeal for an Opinion tranſported you! Our moſt ſerious practice and endeavour, Sir! I thought the moſt ſerious practice of a Miniſter had been to preach Chriſt, and Salvation to the Souls of Men; and not to baptize. I am ſure St. Paul reckoned ſo, Chriſt ſent me not to baptize, but to preach. That is, Baptiſm is not my principal Work, or main Buſineſs. And Verſe 14th he thanks God he had baptized none of them, but Criſpus and Gaius. I believe he never utter'd ſuch an Expreſſion about his other Work of preaching Chriſt. And for all Chriſtians, I thought the ſecuring of their Intereſt in Chriſt, living in the Duties of Communion with him, watching their Hearts, and mortifying their Corruptions, had been the Object Matter of their moſt ſerious practice, and faithful endeavour; and not the Litigations about Baptiſm. But I hope theſe were only inconſiderate Expreſſions, falling from your Pen, whilſt you were in a Paroxiſm of Zeal, or a Tranſport in the height of a conceited Triumph. But whatever was the cauſe, I am ſure you ought to revoke and repent ſuch Words.

(8.) You wiſh, your Teſtimony riſe not up at laſt as a Witneſs againſt us. Sir, we do not apprehend any Cauſe we have to fear your Teſtimony againſt us, or ſevereſt Cenſures of us, whilſt we are ſatisfy'd, that as you neither have a Faculty or Commiſſion to be our Judge, ſo neither is there any convincing Evidence in your Reply to our Arguments. But I think you have much more cauſe to fear, leſt thoſe Arguments ſhould come in at laſt as a Witneſs againſt you, who deny and contemn them; when mean time you are put to moſt lamentable Shifts, even Contradictions, and ſomewhat worſe, to eſcape the Point and Edge of them.

(9.) To conclude, You tell us, we muſt not expect the ſpecial Preſence of Chriſt to be afforded to us, without our compliance in theſe Points with you.

Sir, We never yet deſerted the Judgment or Practice of Infants Baptiſm, and yet have had (bleſſed be Jeſus Chriſt for it) great and manifold, ſweet and ſignal Proofs and Evidences of his Preſence with us: He hath owned and bleſſed our Miniſtry to the Converſion of many; and there are ſome, and thoſe not mean or few, of our Spiritual Children, now in your Societies in England, who have acknowledged us to be the Inſtruments of their Converſion: The Lord lay it not to their Charge, who now deſert that Miniſtry in which they firſt received Chriſt. But as for the Departure of his Preſence, I aſſure you, Friend, I am more afraid of the Rents and Diviſions you now renew ſo unſeaſonably among the Churches of Chriſt, than of any one thing amongſt us beſide. It grieved my Soul to ſee you, Quieta movere, awake a ſleeping Controverſie, eſpecially in ſuch a Seaſon, when we are little more than half delivered from our Enemies and Dangers you take us by the heel, as Jacob did his Brother, whilſt but yet in the Birth. Sir, except you return to a more quiet and Chriſtian Temper, than you ſeem here to be in, I am out of hope that ever you and I ſhall ſee thoſe bleſſed Days, we have ſo often, with pleaſure, comforted our ſelves with the hopes of. However extend your Charity (if you have any left) ſo far, as to believe that I am one, notwithſtanding all this), that am ſtudiou of the Churches Peace, and inquiſitive into th Rules of Duty, not daring to hold any Truth God in Unrighteouſneſs; and yet well ſatisfy'd am, in the Path of my Duty, wherein, tho' w cannot walk together, yet I hope to meet you the end of our way, in our Father's Houſe, whe perfect Light and Peace dwells.

And here I had put an end to this Debate, h I not received your Return to ſome of theſe Shee whilſt the laſt of them was under my Hand wherein I only find Four Things in which I a concerned. In general, you tell me, You are convinced of any Error, by what I have ſaid. I ſorry to hear it: But conſidering the Nature Error on one ſide, and the Difficulty of Self-den on the other, you have not much deceiv'd Expectation. More particularly, (1.) You ſay, As to your hooking the Sinai Covenant into this Controverſie, I gave you the firſt occaſion of it; for when you ſhew'd me your Papers about God's Covenant with Abraham, I told you, that you were beſt firſt to try, if you could prove the Covenant at Sinai, to be a Covenant of Works; foraſmuch as our Divines are ſo far from conceiting the Covenant with Abraham to be a Covenant of Works, that they will not allow the Sinai Law it ſelf to be ſo; and to convince you of it, I lent you Mr. Roberts, and Mr. Sedgewick, on the Covenant, to enlighten and ſatisfie you about it: But little did I think, you had Confidence enough to enter the Liſts, with two ſuch learned and eminent Divines, and make them to follow your triumphant Chariot, ſhackled with the incomparable Baxter and Allen, Sydenham and Burthogg, like three Pair of Noble Priſoners of War. But whatever was the occaſion, (ſetting aſide your Sin) I am not ſorry you have given a fit Opportunity to enlighten the World in that Point alſo.

(2.) You ſeem to fancy in your Letter, that I was once of your Opinion about the Moral Law, becauſe you find theſe Paſſages in a Sermon of mine, upon John 8. 36. If the Son therefore ſhall make you free, then are you free indeed, viz.

That the Law required perfect working, under pain of that Curſe; accepted no ſhort Endeavours, admitted no Repentance, and gave no Strength. But finding me here pleading for the Law, you think you find me in a Contradiction to that Doctrine.

The Words I own, the Contradiction I poſitively deny; for I ſpeak not there, and here, ad idem: For in that Sermon, and in thoſe very Words you cite, I ſpeak againſt the Law, not as God intended it, when he added it to the Promiſe; but as the Ignorance and Infidelity of unregenerate Men, make it to themſelves a Covenant of Works, by looking upon it as the very Rule and Reaſon of their Juſtification before God. This was the Stumbling-ſtone, at which all Legal Juſticiaries then did, and ſtill no ſtumble, Rom. 9. 31, 32, 33. In this Sence the Apoſtle in his Epiſtles to the Romans and Galatians, argues againſt the Law, and ſo do I in the Words you cite; but vindicate the Law in the very ſame Sermon you mention, as conſiſtent with, and ſubſervient to Chriſt, in the former Sence; and there tell you, The Law ſends us to Chriſt to be juſtified, and Chriſt ſends us back to the Law to be regulated. The very ſame double Sence of the Law you will find in this Diſcourſe, and from the miſtaken end and abuſe of the Law, which the Apoſtle ſo vehemently oppoſeth, I here prove againſt you, that the Law in this Sence cannot conſiſt with, or be added to the Promiſe, and therefore make it my Medium to prove againſt you, That the true Nature and Denomination of the Sinai Law, can never be found in this Sence of it, but it muſt be eſtimated and denominated from the Purpoſe and Intention of God, which I have proved to be Evangelical. Try your Skill to faſten a Contradiction betwixt my Words in that Sermon, and this Diſcourſe. I know you would be glad to find the ſhadow of one, to make ſome ſmall Excuſe, or Attonement, for the many Faults, of that Nature, you have here committed.

(3.) Your Letter alſo informs me, that you hear you are anſwered by one Hand already, and for ought you know, many more may be employed againſt you, and I for one; and ſo we ſhall compaſs you about like Bees.

Reply. I have only ſeen Mr. Whiſton's little Book againſt your Brother Grantham, wherein he hath baffled two of your principal Arguments; but you only come in collaterally there, and muſt not look upon it as a full Anſwer to your Book, but only as a Laſh for your Folly, en paſſant. And for our compaſſing you about like Bees, methinks you ſeem to be greatned in your own Fancy, by the ſuppoſition, or expectation, of a multitude of Opponents. You know as well as I, who it is that glories in this Motto, Unus contra omnes. Sir, I think your Mind may be much at reſt in that matter. Of all the ſix famous Adverſaries mentioned in your Title-Page, there are but two living: And you know, Mortui non mordent; and of the remaining two, one of them, viz. Mr. Baxter is almoſt in Heaven, living in the daily Views, and chearful Expectations of the Saints Everlaſting Reſt with GOD; and is left for a little while among us, as a great Example of the Life of Faith: And it is queſtionable with me, whether ſuch a great and heavenly Soul can find any leiſure or diſpoſition to attend ſuch a weak and trivial Diſcourſe as this.

And as for my ſelf, you need not much fear me; I have not, neither do I intend to vibrate my Sting againſt you, unleſs I find you infecting or diſturbing that Hive to which I belong, and to which I am daily gathering and carrying Honey; and then, who but a Drone would not ſting?

(4.) To conclude, in the Cloſe of your Letter you fall into the former Strain of Love, aſſuring me, That the ancient Friendſhip of ſo many Years, ſhall ſtill continue on your part.

Reply. All that I ſhall return to this, is only to relate a ſhort Story out of Plutarch, in the Life of Alexander; where he tells us, That whilſt he was warring in the Indies, one Taxiles, an Indian King, came with his Company to meet him, and ſaluting Alexander, ſaid, What need you and I to fight and war one upon another? If thou comeſt not to take away our Water, and the Neceſſaries of Life from us, for which we muſt needs fight: As for other Goods, if I am richer than thee, I am ready to give thee of mine; and if I have leſs, I will not think ſcorn to thank thee for thine. Alexander highly pleaſed with his Words, made him this Reply, Thinkeſt thou, that this Meeting of ours can be without Fighting? No, no; thou haſt won nothing by all thy fair Words; for I will fight and contend with thee in Honeſty and Courteſie, and thou ſhalt not exceed me in Bounty and Liberality.

I ſay with Taxiles, I had never armed againſt you, had you not come to take away our Water, and the Neceſſaries of Life; I mean, the Covenant of God with Abraham, which contains the rich Charter of the Gentile Believers Children, and make it an aboliſhed Adam's Covenant, and told us, that we muſt come up to the Primitive Purity in theſe things; that is, in renouncing it as a Covenant of Grace, and relinquiſhing Infants Baptiſm, as grounded thereon.

Sir, Were my own Father alive, I muſt and would oppoſe him, ſhould he attempt what here you do. Infant-Baptiſm with you, is not Singing of Pſalms, that plain and heavenly Goſpel Ordinance with you is not, and will you take away our Benjamin alſo? What! the Covenant of God, with Abraham and his Children in their Generations? All theſe things are againſt us. No, Sir, we cannot part with that Covenant, as an aboliſh'd Adam's Covenant; nor will I give it up for all the Friendſhip in the World.

And yet I will ſay with Alexander, I will contend with you in Friendſhip and Courteſie, even whilſt I earneſtly contend againſt you for the Truths of GOD, which you have here oppoſed, and I have endeavoured to vindicate.

One Word more before I part with you; I do aſſure you, and the whole World, that in this Controverſie with you, I have not knowingly or adviſedly miſrepreſented your Sence: If you ſhall ſay I did ſo in my Second Argument, from the Words, p. 179. I aſſure you, both my ſelf, and others could underſtand you no otherwiſe than I did in the Papers I ſent you; and when you told me, you meant there was no Pardon in either of thoſe Covenants, but that it plainly directed to Abraham's Covenant, you will find I have given you as fair a Choice as you can deſire, either to ſtand to your Words in the firſt Sence, wherein I underſtood them, (or which will be the ſame to me) to your own Sence, in which you afterwards explained it to me. And whereas I blame you over and over in my Epiſtle and Concluſion, for putting the proper Subject of Baptiſm, amongſt the higheſt Things in Religion: Let the Reader view your Concluſion, and ſee whether you do, or not. If you ſay, you ſpeak of the Covenant there, as well as of Baptiſm: I allow that you do ſo; yet I hope 'tis equally as bad; nay, indeed and truth, a great Aggravation of your Fault, to make this Article, viz. God's Covenant with Abraham, Gen. 17. is an aboliſhed Adam's Covenant, one of the higheſt Concernments of a Chriſtian; the Baptiſm only of Adult Believers another. My Conſequences from your Words are juſt and regular, how ſtarting ſoever they ſeem to you.

If you think fit to rejoin to this my Anſwer, I deſire you will avoid as much as you can, a tedious Harangue of Words, and ſpeak ſtrictly and regularly to my Arguments, by limiting, diſtinguiſhing, or denying, as a Diſputant ought to do: If ſo, I promiſe you a Reply; but if I find no ſuch thing, it ſhall paſs with me but for waſte Paper; nor will I waſte Time about it. The Lord give us Unity in Things neceſſary, Liberty in Things indifferent, and Charity in all Things.

Sacramental Meditations

Upon divers Select Places of

SCRIPTURE.

WHEREIN

Believers are aſſiſted in preparing their Hearts, and exciting their Affections and Graces, when they draw nigh to GOD in that moſt Awful and Solemn Ordinance of

The Lord's Supper.

---

TO THE # READER.

Christian Reader,

CHRIST may be ſaid to be crucified three ways; by the Jews actually, in the Sacrament declaratively, and by Unbelievers at his Table interpretatively. Among Sins, Blood-guiltineſs is reckon'd one of the moſt hainous; and of all Blood-guiltineſs, to be guilty of the Blood of Chriſt, is a Sin of the deepeſt guilt, and will be aveng'd with the moſt dreadful Puniſhment, 1 Cor. 11. 17, 29. If Vengeance be taken ſevenfold on him that ſlew Cain, what Vengeance ſhall be taken on him that crucifies afreſh the Lord of Glory?

The heavieſt blow of Divine Juſtice is ſtill ready to avenge the abuſe of the beſt Mercy: What can the Heart of Man conceive more ſolemn, more ſacred, or more deeply affective, than the repreſentation of the moſt gracious love of the Father, and the moſt grievous paſſion of the Son? What Sin can be more provoking to God, than the ſlight and contempt of thoſe moſt awful Myſteries? And what Puniſhment can be more terrible, than for ſuch a wretched Soul to eat and drink Damnation to it ſelf? Melancthon records a very dreadful Example of God's righteous Judgment upon a company of prophane wretches, who in a Tragedy intended to act the Death of Chriſt upon the Croſs. He that acted the Souldier's Part, inſtead of piercing with his Spear a Bladder full of Blood hid under his Garment, wounded him to death that was upon the Croſs, who falling down, kill'd him who (in a diſguiſe) acted the Part of the Woman that ſtood wailing under the Croſs. His Brother who was firſt ſlain, ſlew the Murderer who acted the Souldier's Part, and for ſlaying him was hang'd by order of Juſtice. Thus did the Vengeance of God ſpeedily overtake them, and hang'd them up in Chains, for a Warning to all that ſhould ever dare to dally with the great and jealous God.

Theſe are terrible Strokes, and yet not ſo terrible as thoſe which are more ordinarily, but leſs ſenſibly, inflicted on the inner man for the abuſe of this Ordinance.

To prevent theſe Judgments, and obtain thoſe Bleſſings which come through this Ordinance, great regard muſt be had to two things, viz. 1. The Inbeing. 2. The Activity of true Grace.

Firſt, Examine thy ſelf, Reader, whether there be any gracious Principle planted in thy Soul, whereby thou art alive indeed unto God. It was an ancient abuſe of the Sacrament, (condemn'd and caſt out by the Carthaginian Council) to give it unto dead Men. Dead Souls can have no Communion with the living God, no more benefit from this Table, than the Emperor's Gueſts had from his Table, where Loaves of Gold were ſet before them to eat. There is more than a ſhew of Grace in the Sacrament; it hath not only the Viſible Sign, but the Spiritual Grace alſo, which it repreſents. See that there be more than a Shew and Viſible Sign of Grace alſo in thy Soul, when thou comeſt nigh to the Lord in that Ordinance. See to the exerciſe and activity, as well as to the truth and ſincerity of thy Grace. Even a Believer himſelf doth not eat and drink worthily, unleſs the Grace that is in him be excited and exercis'd as this Ordinance.

Counſil. Carthag. Can. 6. Placuit defunctorum corporibus non detur Euchariſtia, &c.

It is not Faith inhering, but Faith realizing, applying and powerfully working. It is not a diſpoſition to humiliation of the Heart for Sin, but the actual thaw- ing and melting of the Heart for Sin, whilſt thou lookeſt on him whom thou haſt pierced, and mourneſt for him as one that mourneth for his only Son, for his firſt born. Nor is it a diſpoſition or principle of love to Chriſt that is only requir'd, but the ſtirring up of that Fire of love, the exciting of it into a vehement flame.

I know the Excitations and Exerciſes of Grace are attended with great difficulties. They are not things within our command, and at our beck. O! 'tis hard, 'tis hard indeed Reader, even after God hath taken the Heart of Stone out of thee, and given thee an Heart of Fleſh, to mourn actually for Sin, even when ſo great an occaſion and call is given thee to that work at the Lord's Table; for the ſame power is requiſite to excite the act that was required to plant the Habit. Gratia gratiam poſtulat.

However, the Duty is thine, though the Power be Gods; why elſe are his People blamed, becauſe they ſtirred not up themſelves to take hold of him? Iſa. 64. 7.

To aſſiſt thee in this work, ſome help is offered in the following Meditations: 'Tis true, it is not the reading of the beſt Meditations another can prepare for thee that will alter the temper of thy Heart, except the Spirit of God concur with theſe Truths, and bleſs them to thy Soul; but yet theſe Helps muſt not be ſlighted, becauſe they are not ſelf ſufficient. Man lives not by Bread alone, but by every Word that proceedeth out of the Mouth of God; yet it were fond Vanity and Sin for any Man upon that ground to caſt away Bread, and expect to live by a Miracle without it; we muſt lift up our Hearts to God for a Bleſſing, and then eat; do the ſame here, firſt pray, then read, and the Lord quicken thee by it for Duty. There are two things of ſpecial concernment to the Reader, when thou art to addreſs thy ſelf to any ſolemn Duty, eſpecially ſuch as this,

1. Prepare for thy Duty diligently.
2. Rely not upon thy Preparations.

1. Prepare with all diligence for thy Duty; take pains with thy dull Heart; cleanſe thy polluted Heart, compoſe thy vain Heart; remember how great a preſence thou art approaching. If Auguſtus thus reproved one that entertain'd him without ſuitable preparation, ſaying, I did not think we had been ſo familiar; Much more may thy God reprove thee for thy careleſs neglect of due Preparation for him.

Non putabam me tibi tam familiarem.

2. But yet take heed, on the other ſide, that thou rely not upon thy beſt Preparations. It is an ingenious and true Note of Luther, ſpeaking to this very point of Preparation for the Sacrament, 'Never are Men more unfit, than when they think themſelves moſt fit, and beſt prepared for their Duty; never more fit, than when moſt humbled and aſhamed in a ſenſe of their own unfitneſs.'

Tunc peſſime diſpoſitus quando aptiſſime.

That the Bleſſing of God, and the Breathings of his good Spirit, may accompany theſe poor Labours to thy Soul, is the Hearts deſire of

Thy Servant in Chriſt,

JOHN FLAVEL.

---

The Firſt MEDITATION,

UPON

PSAL. LXXXIX. 7.

God is greatly to be feared in the Aſſembly of his Saints, and to be had in reverence of all that are about him.

THERE are ſpecial Seaſons wherein the Saints approach near unto God in this Life, wherein the Lord comes near unto them.

It pleaſeth the Majeſty of Heaven ſometimes to admit poor Worms of the Earth to ſuch ſenſible and ſweet perceptions of himſelf, as are found above all expreſſion, and ſeem to be a tranſient glance upon that Glory which glorified Eyes more ſteadily behold above: Believing, we rejoyce with joy unſpeakable, and full of glory, or glorified joy; as it is, 1 Pet. 1. 8. And yet how ſweet and excellent ſoever theſe foretaſts of Heaven are, Heaven it ſelf will be an unſpeakable ſurpriſe to the Saints when they ſhall come thither.

Innerrabili, & glorificato. Montanus.

Now among all thoſe Ordinances wherein the bleſſed God manifeſts himſelf to the Children of Men, none are found to ſet forth more of the Joy of his Preſence than that of the Lord's Supper: At that bleſſed Table are ſuch ſenſible Embraces betwixt Chriſt and Believers, as do afford Delight and Solace beyond the Joy of the whole Earth.

And where ſuch ſpecial manifeſtations of God are, ſuitable diſpoſitions and preparations ſhould be found on our part to meet the Lord.

And certainly we ſhall find reaſon enough for it, if we will conſider the importance of this Scripture before us; God is greatly to be feared in the aſſembly of his Saints, and to be had in reverence of all that are round about him. Wherein we have, 1. the Object; 2. the Subject; 3. the Mode of Divine Worſhip.

Firſt, The Object of Worſhip, God: God is to be fear'd; in all Divine Worſhip, Men and Angels have to do with God: All things (ſaith the Apoſtle)

Apoſtle) are open and naked to the eyes of him with whom we have to do, Heb. 4. 13. with whom we have ſpeech or buſineſs. So it may be ſenſed: when we worſhip, we draw nigh to God, and that about the greateſt concerns and weightieſt buſineſs in the World.

Secondly, The Subject, or the Perſons that approach unto God in his Worſhip, his Saints, and all that are about him. By Saints many Interpreters do in this place underſtand the Angels, call'd Saints from the Purity and Holineſs of their Nature, and ſo make the next clauſe exegetical of this. Thoſe that before were call'd Saints in reſpect of their Nature, are in the next words ſaid to be ſuch as are round about him; his Satellites, Attendants, or thoſe that ſtand as Servants about him, to do his pleaſure, where they are deſcrib'd by their Office; both theſe ſeem to be grounded upon the precedent Verſes: Who in the Heaven can be compared to the Lord? Who among the Sons of the mighty (or of God, ſo the Angels are call'd, Job 1. 6.) can be likened to the Lord? And tho' it be true, that the Angels worſhip and ſerve the Lord with the greateſt Reverence and Dread, (for theſe are his nigh ones, or ſuch as are round about him) yet there is no neceſſity to limit this Scripture ſo narrowly, by excluding the People of God on Earth; they alſo are his Saints, and more frequently ſo ſtiled, tho' they be Saints of a lower Claſs and Order; and they alſo are round about him as well as the Angels, and when they worſhip him, he is in the midſt of them, St. Matth. 18. 20. and the place where they aſſemble to worſhip is call'd the place of his Feet, Iſa. 60. 13. But if we find not the Saints on Earth in the direct and immediate ſenſe of this Text, yet we muſt needs meet them in the rebound and conſequence: for if Creatures ſo much above us as the Angels, do perform their Service, and pay their Homage to the higheſt Majeſty with ſo much fear and reverence, ſhall not inferiour Creatures, the poor Worms of the Earth, tremble at his preſence? And this brings us to the third thing, namely,

Thirdly, The Mode or Manner in which the Worſhip of God is to be perform'd, viz. with great fear and reverence, God is greatly to be feared. Piſcator tranſlates it, Vehementer formidandus, to be vehemently fear'd; and oppoſes it to that formal, careleſs, trifling, vain Spirit, which too often is found in thoſe that approach the Lord in the Duties of his Worſhip. The Obſervation hence will be this:

Obſ. That the greateſt compoſedneſs and ſeriouſneſs of Spirit is due to God, from all thoſe that draw nigh unto him in his Worſhip.

And this is no more than what the Lord expreſly requires at our hands, Lev. 10. 3. I will be ſanctified in them that come nigh unto me: So Heb. 12. 28. Let us have grace, whereby we may ſerve God acceptably, with reverence and godly fear, for our God is a conſuming Fire.

And as this diſpoſition and temper of ſpirit is due to every act and part of God's Worſhip, ſo (to accommodate this general to our particular occaſion) it is eſpecially due to this great and ſolemn Ordinance of the Lord's Supper.

It is the Obſervation of the Caſuiſts, that Sacramentum & mortis articulus æquiparantur; The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper, and the very point of Death, require equal ſeriouſneſs. A Man's Spirit ſhould be as deeply ſolemn and compos'd at the Lord's Table, as upon a Death-bed: We ſhould go to that Ordinance, as if we were then going into another World.

The Primitive Chriſtians us'd to ſit up whole Nights in Meditation and Prayer, before their participation of the Lord's Supper; and theſe Nights were call'd Vigiliæ, their Watches. Such was the Reverence the Saints had for this Ordinance (which they uſually call'd Myſterium tremendum, a tremendous Myſtery) that they would not give Sleep to their Eyes, or Slumber to their Eye-lids, when ſo great and ſolemn a Day drew near. Chryſoſt. lib. 3. de Sacerdot.

And that all this ſolemn Preparation is no more than needs will convincingly appear to us upon the following Grounds and Reaſons.

Reaſon 1. From the ſolemn Nature and Ends of this Ordinance; for what is the expreſs deſign and uſe of it, but a lively repreſentation of the Lord's Death? 1 Cor. 11. 26. As often as ye eat this Bread, and drink this Cup, ye do ſhew the Lord's death till he come. Jeſus Chriſt is therein ſet forth crucified before us, and not to make a bare repreſentation of it to us, as a thing wherein we have no perſonal intereſt or concernment, but to repreſent his Death lively, and ſeal our Title to it firmly; This is my body, which is broken for you, ver. 24.

Now, which of theſe is to be attended with a dead, careleſs and ſlight Spirit? Is't the repreſentation of Chriſt's Death? God forbid. O! if there be any Subject of Meditation in the World able to drink up the very Spirit of a Man, this is it.

The Sun fainted, the Heavens mourn'd in black, the very Rocks rent in pieces when this Tragedy was acted, and ſhall our Hearts be more ſenſleſs and obdurate than they at the repreſentation of it? But lo, here is more than a Repreſentation; Chriſt is ſet forth in this Ordinance as crucified for you, as ſuffering and enduring all this in your room and ſtead. Now

Suppoſe, Reader, thy ſelf to be juſtly condemn'd to the torture of the Rack or Strappado; and that thy Father, Brother, or deareſt Friend preferring thy Life to his own, would become Ranſomer, by undergoing the Torment for thee, and all that is left for thee to ſuffer were only by way of ſimpathy with him. Suppoſe now thy ſelf ſtanding by that Engine of Torture, and beholding the Members of thy dear Friend diſtorted, and all out of joint, hearing his doleful Groans extorted by the extremity of Anguiſh, and under all theſe Torments ſtill maintaining a conſtant Love to thee; couldſt thou ſtand there with dry Eyes? Could thy Heart be unaffected and ſtupid at ſuch a ſight? Write him rather a Beaſt, a Stone, than a Man, that could do ſo.

But this is not all: The Believer's Intereſt in Chriſt is ſeal'd, as well as the Sufferings of Chriſt repreſented in this Ordinance.

And is a ſeal'd Intereſt in Chriſt ſo cheap or common a thing, as that it ſhould not engage, yea, ſwallow up all the powers of thy Soul? O, what is this! what is this!

The Seal of God ſet to the Soul of a poor Sinner, to confirm and ratifie its Title to the Perſon of Chriſt, and the ineſtimable Treaſures of his Blood! Surely, as the ſealing up of a Man to Damnation is the ſum of all Miſery, and that poor Creature that is ſo ſeal'd hath cauſe enough to mourn and wail to Eternity, ſo the ſealing up of a Soul to Salvation is the ſum of all Mercy and Happineſs, and the Soul that is ſo ſeal'd hath cauſe enough to lie at the Feet of God, overwhelm'd with the ſenſe of ſo invaluable a Mercy.

Reaſon 2. As the Nature and Ends of this Ordinance call for the greateſt compoſedneſs of Spirit, ſo the danger of unworthy receiving ſhould work our Hearts to the moſt ſerious frame; for if a man be here without his Wedding-garment, if he eat and drink unworthily, it is at the greateſt peril of his Soul that he doth ſo; 1 Cor. 11. 37. Wherefore whoſoever ſhall eat this Bread, and drink this Cup of the Lord unworthily, ſhall be guilty of the Body and Blood of the Lord.

To prophane and undervalue that Body and Blood of the Lord, is a Sin above meaſure ſinful, and the Puniſhments of ſuch Sins will be moſt dreadful; for ſtill the more excellent the Bleſſings are that come by any Ordinance, the more dreadful the Curſes are that avenge the abuſe of ſuch Mercies. How ſoon may a man draw fearful Guilt upon his Body, by an heedleſs management of ſuch ſacred Myſteries! For this cauſe many are weak and ſickly among you, and many ſleep, Ver. 30.

Mr. Tho. Goodwin's Epiſtle to Mr. Fenner's Sermons.

It is a moſt weighty Note that a worthy Pen ſets upon this Scripture; 'They diſcern'd not the Body of his Son Jeſus Chriſt in his Ordinances, but inſtead of that holy, reverend, and deep-dy'd behaviour which was due to it, both from their inner and outward man, as being a Creature of the higheſt and deepeſt Sanctification that ever God ſanctified; ſanctified not only to a more excellent and glorious Condition, but alſo to many Ends and Purpoſes of far higher and dearer concernment, both for the glory of God, and benefit of men themſelves, than all other Creatures whatſoever, whether in Heaven or Earth: They handl'd and dealt by it in both kinds as if it had been a common unſanctified thing: Thus they diſcern'd not the Lord's Body.

And as they diſcern'd not his Body, ſo neither did God (in ſome ſenſe) diſcern theirs, but in thoſe ſore Strokes and heavy Judgments which he inflicted on them, had no other regard or conſideration, than as if they had been the Bodies of his Enemies, the Bodies of wicked and ſinful Men; thus drawing the Model and Platform of their Puniſhment (as uſually he doth) from the ſtructure and proportion of their Sin.

Thus the Juſt and Righteous God builds up the Breaches that we make upon the Honour belonging to the Body of his Son, with the ruins of that Honour which he had given unto ours, in Health, Strength, Life, and many other outward comforts and ſupports.

O then what need is there of a moſt awful and compos'd Spirit, when we approach the Lord in this Ordinance?

Reaſon 3. As the danger of unworthy receiving ſhould compoſe us to the greateſt Seriouſneſs, ſo the remembrance of that frame and temper Chriſt's Spirit was in when he actually ſuffer'd thoſe things for us, ſhould compoſe our Spirits into a frame more ſuitable and agreeable to his: When we ſee his Death, as it were, acted over again before our Eyes, was his Heart roving and wandering in that day? Did he not with Senſe and Mind the work he was going about? Was his Heart, like thine, ſtupid and unaffected with theſe things? Look but upon that Text, Luke 22. 44. and you ſhall ſee whether it were ſo or no. It's ſaid, (when this Tragedy drew nigh, and his Enemies were ready to ſeize him in the Garden) That being in an agony, he prayed more earneſtly, and his ſweat was as it were great drops of blood falling to the ground: And Mat. 26. 38. he ſaith, My ſoul is exceeding ſorrowful, even unto death. His Soul was full of ſorrow, and is thine full of ſtupidity? God forbid.

If thy Heart be cold, Chriſt's was hot: if thou canſt not ſhed a Tear, he poured out clods of Blood from every part. Oh, how unſuitable is a dry Eye and hard Heart to ſuch an Ordinance as this!

Reaſon 4. As the frame Chriſt's Spirit was in at his Death ſhould command the moſt ſolemn frame upon our Spirits, at the recognizing of it, ſo the things here repreſented require and call for the higheſt exerciſe of every Grace of the Spirit in our Souls; for we come not thither as idle Spectators, but as active Inſtruments, to glorifie God by exerciſing every Grace upon Chriſt, as crucified for us. Behold, here are among the reſt,

1. The proper Object of Faith.
2. The flowing Spring of Repentance.
3. The powerful Attractive of Love.

Firſt, The proper Object of Faith is here. This Ordinance, as a Glaſs, repreſents to thine Eye that glorious Perſon whom the Father ſaid, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleaſed, Mat. 17. 5. of whom he ſaid, I have laid help upon one that is mighty. This was he that was made ſin for us, who had no ſin, that we might be made the righteouſneſs of God in him, 2 Cor. 5. 21. who trod the Winepreſs alone, and is here to be ſeen in his red Garments: Every drop of his precious Blood hath a Tongue calling for Faith to behold it, pour'd forth as a Sacrifice to God for Sin. This (ſaith he) is the Cup of the New Teſtament in my blood, which was ſhed for many, for the remiſſion of ſins.

And what footing could thy Faith find for Pardon and Salvation any where elſe? 'Tis Chriſt crucified that Faith claſps, as the laſt and only hope and refuge of a poor Sinner; here all Believers drop Anchor. This is that bleſſed Object on whom they take the dead gripe or laſt graſp, when their Eye-ſtrings and Heart-ſtrings are breaking. When you ſee the Blood of Chriſt flowing forth, how can Faith be ſilent in thy Soul? When he bids thee, as it were, to put thy Finger into his ſide, ſhews thee his Hands and his Feet there, it will cry out in thy Soul, My Lord, and my God.

Secondly, The flowing Spring of Repentance is here. If there be any Fire that can melt, or Hammer that can break a hard Heart, here it is, Zech. 12. 10. They ſhall look upon me whom they have pierced, and mourn. Nothing lays a gracious Soul lower in it ſelf, than to ſee how low Chriſt was laid in his Humiliation for it.

Here the evil of Sin is alſo repreſented in the cleareſt Glaſs that ever the Eye of Man ſaw it in. The Sufferings of the Son of God, diſcover the evil of Sin more than the everlaſting Torments of the Damned can do. So that if there be but one Drop of ſpiritual Sorrow in the Heart of a Chriſtian, here, methinks, it ſhould be ſeen dropping from the Eye of Faith.

Thirdly, The moſt attractive Object of Love is here: Put all created Beauties, Excellencies, and Perfections together, and what are they but blackneſs and deformity, compared with the lovely Jeſus? My Beloved (ſaith the enamour'd Spouſe) is white and ruddy, Cant. 5. 10. Behold him at the Table in his perfect Innocency, and unparallell'd Sufferings. This is he who was rich, but for our ſakes became poor, that we through his poverty might be rich, 2 Cor. 8. 9. This is he that parted with his Honour in his Inclinations, that he might be capable to part with his Life for our Redemption.

Behold here the degrees of his Sufferings, and by them meaſure the degrees of his Love. Behold in his Death, as in the Deluge, all the Fountains beneath, and the Windows of Heaven above opened; the Wrath of God, the Cruelty of Men, the Fury of Hell, breaking in together upon him: And how can this be repreſented, and thy Soul not aſtoniſhed at this amazing matchleſs Love of Chriſt? Surely one Flame doth not more naturally produce another, than the Love of Chriſt thus repreſented to a gracious Soul, doth produce Love to Chriſt, and that in the moſt intenſe degree.

Uſe 1. How naturally doth this Doctrine ſhame and humble the beſt Hearts for their ſinful Diſcompoſures, Vanity and Deadneſs? For the Roving and Wanderings of their Hearts, even when they come near the Lord in ſuch a ſolemn Ordinance as this is?

The holieſt Man upon Earth, may lay his Hand upon his Breaſt, and ſay, Lord, how unſuitable is this Heart of mine, to ſuch an Object of Faith as is here preſented to me? Doth ſuch a Temper of Spirit ſuit thine awful Preſence? Should the repreſented Agonies and Sufferings of Chriſt for me, be beheld with a Spirit no more concerned, pierced, and wounded for Sin? O how can I look upon him whom I have pierced, and not mourn, and be in bitterneſs for him as for an only Son, a Firſt-born! O the ſtupifying and benumbing power of Sin! O the efficacy of Unbelief!

It was charged upon the Iſraelites, as the great aggravation of their Sin, that they provoked God at the Sea, even at the Red Sea, Pſal. 106. 7. The place where their miraculous Salvation was wrought. But Lord Jeſus, my hard Heart provokes thee in an higher degree, even at the Red Sea of thy precious invaluable Blood, by which my eternal Salvation was wrought. O my God, what a Heart have I! Did the Blood of Chriſt run out ſo freely and abundantly for me, and cannot I ſhed one Tear for my Sins that pierced him? O let me never be Friends with my own Heart, 'till it love Chriſt better, and hate Sin more.

Uſe 2. This Scripture hath alſo an awakening Voice to all that come nigh to God in any of his Ordinances, eſpecially in this Ordinance. O Chriſtians! bethink your ſelves where you are, and what you are doing: Know you not that the King comes in to ſee the Gueſts? Yea, you do know, that God is in this place; an awful Majeſty beholds you. All the Churches ſhall know, that I am he that ſearcheth the Heart and the Reins, and will give to every one as his Work ſhall be, Rev. 2. 23.

Thy Buſineſs, Chriſtian, is not with Men, but with God, and the ſolemneſt Buſineſs that ever thy Thoughts were converſant about. Thou art here to recognize the Sufferings of thy Redeemer, to take the Seals and Pledges of thy Salvation from the hand of his Spirit; imagine the ſame thing which is now to be done ſpiritually, and by the Miniſtry of Faith, were but to be performed viſibly and audibly by the Miniſtry of thy Senſes.

Suppoſe Jeſus Chriſt did perſonally ſhew himſelf at this Table, and were pleas'd to make himſelf known in breaking of Bread, as once he did to the Diſciples. Suppoſe thou ſaweſt him appear in Heaven, as a Lamb that had been ſlain: Imagine thou heardeſt him ſay, Believer, this precious Blood of mine was ſhed for thee; there be Millions of Men and Women in the World naturally as good as thee, that ſhall have no Intereſt in it, or Benefit by it: But for thee it was ſhed for the Remiſſion of thy Sins, and it hath made full Satisfaction to God for them all: Thy Sins which are many, are therefore forgiven thee; my Blood hath purchaſed the eternal Inheritance of Glory for thee, and this Day I am come to deliver the Seals and Pledges thereof into thine hand, Take then the Seals of eternal Salvation this Day; Take then thine own Chriſt with all that he is, and hath, in thine Arms: Whatever I have ſuffered, done, or procured for any of my Saints, I have ſuffered, done, and procured the ſame for thee. Why, all this is here to be done as really and truly, tho' in a more ſpiritual way, at this Table; and ſhall not ſuch Buſineſs as this is fully fix and engage thy Heart? What then ſhall do it.

Awake Faith; awake Repentance; awake Love; yea, let all the Powers of my Soul be throughly awakened this Day to attend the Lord.

The

The Second MEDITATION,

UPON

Jeremy 12. 2. Thou art near in their Mouth, and far from their Reins.

THIS Scripture gives us the Character and Deſcription of an Hypocrite; and he is here deſcribed two ways, viz.

1. By what he hath.
2. By what he hath not.

Firſt, The Hypocrite is deſcribed by what he hath, he hath God in his Mouth: Thou art near in their Mouth, (i. e.) they profeſs with a full Mouth, that they are thy People, ſaith Piſcat; or they ſpeak much about the Law (as another ſenſes it) God and his Temple, Religion with its Rites are much talked of among them; they have him in their Prayers and Duties; and this is all that the Hypocrite hath of God. Religion only ſanctifies his Tongue, that ſeems to be dedicated to God, but it penetrates no farther, and therefore,

Secondly, He is deſcribed by that he hath not, or by what he wants: And, or but thou art fat from their Reins, (i. e.) they feel not the Power and Influences of that Name which they ſo often invocate and talk of, going down to their very Reins, and affecting their very Hearts; ſo we muſt underſtand this Metaphorical Expreſſion here, as the oppoſition directs: For the Reins, having ſo great and ſenſible a Sympathy with the Heart, which is the Seat of the Affections and Paſſions, upon that account it is uſual in Scripture, to put the Reins for thoſe intimate and ſecret Affections, Thoughts, and Paſſions of the Heart, with which they have ſo near Cognation, and ſo ſenſible a Sympathy. When the Heart is under great Conſternation, the Loins or Reins are ſeiz'd alſo, as Dan. 5. 6. Then the King's Countenance was changed, and his Thoughts troubled him, and the Joints of his Loins were looſed. On the contrary, when the Heart is fill'd with Delight and Gladneſs, the Reins are ſaid to rejoyce, Prov. 23. 16. Yea, my Reins ſhall rejoice, when thy Lips ſpeak right things, Totus lætitia diſſiliam. I ſhall even leap for Joy. So then, when the Prophet ſaith, God is far from the Reins of the Hypocrite; the meaning is, he feels not the Heart-affecting Influence and Power of Religion upon his Heart and Affections, as God's People do. And hence the Note will be.

Doct. That God comes nearer to the Hearts and Reins of his People in their Duties, than he doth to any hypocritical, or formal Profeſſor.

By God's nearneſs, we underſtand not his Omnipreſence, that neither comes nor goes; nor his Love to his People, that abides but the ſenſible ſweet Manifeſtations and Ourlets of it to their Souls. So in Pſal. 145. 18. The Lord is nigh unto all that call upon him, and unto all that call upon him in truth.

Note the Reſtriction and Limitation of this glorious Priviledge; 'tis the peculiar Enjoyment of ſincere and upright-hearted Worſhippers. Others may have Communion with Duties, but not with God in them.

But that God comes nigh, very nigh, to upright Hearts in their Duties, is a truth as ſenſibly manifeſt to Spiritual Perſons, as that they are nigh the Fire, when they feel the comfortable heat of it refreſhing them in a cold Seaſon, when they are almoſt ſtarved and benumbed with Cold. Three things make this evident.

Firſt, Sincere Souls are ſenſible of God's Acceſſes to them in their Duties, they feel his Approaches to their Spirits. Lam. 3. 57. Thou dreweſt near in the day that I called upon thee; thou ſaidſt, Fear not. And what a Surprize was that to the Church? Cant. 2. 8. It is the Voice of my Beloved, behold he cometh, &c. Certainly there is a felt Preſence of God, which no Words can make another to underſtand; they feel that Fountain flowing abundantly into the dry Pits, the Heart fills apace, the empty Thoughts ſwell with a fulneſs of Spiritual Things which ſtrive for vent.

Secondly, They are ſenſible of God's Receſſes, and Withdrawments from their Spirits, they feel how the Ebb follows the Flood, and how the Waters abate. So you find it in Cant. 5. 6. I opened to my Beloved, but my Beloved had withdrawn himſelf, and was gone, my Soul failed when he ſpake: I ſought him, but I could not find him; I called, but he gave me no Anſwer. The Hebrew is very pathetical; He was gone, he was gone. A ſad change of the Frame of her Heart quickly followed.

Thirdly, The Lord's nearneſs to the Hearts and Reins of his People in their Duties, is evident to them from the Effects that it leaves upon their Spirits. For look, as it is with the Earth and Plants, with reſpect to the approach or remove of the Sun, in the Spring and Autumn: So it here as Chriſt ſpeaks, Luke 21. 29. When ye ſee the Fig-tree, and all the Trees ſhoot forth, we know that Summer is nigh at hand. An approaching Sun renews the Face of the Earth, and makes Nature ſmile. The Trees bud and bloſſom, the Fiſhes riſe, the Birds ſing; it's a kind of Reſurrection to Nature from the Dead. So is it when the Lord comes near the Hearts and Reins of Men in Duty: For then they find that.

Firſt, A real Taſte of the Joy of the Lord is here given to Men, the Fulneſs whereof is in Heaven; hence call'd, 2 Cor. 1. 22. The earneſt of his Spirit. And 1 Pet. 1. 8. Glorified Joy; or a ſhort Salvation. O what is this! What is this! Certainly it is ſomething that hath no Affinity with Fleſh, or groſs Corporeal Pleaſures; but is of another Nature, ſomething which tranſcends all that ever was felt or taſted in this World, ſince we were firſt converſant among ſenſible Objects.

Dr. Preſton when dying ſaid, I ſhall change my Place, not my Company.

Secondly, A mighty ſtrength and power coming into their Souls, and actuating all its Faculties and Graces. When God comes near, new Powers enter the Soul; the feeble is as David, Pſal. 138. 3. In the day that I cried, thou anſweredſt me, and ſtrengthenedeſt me with ſtrength in my Soul. Cant. 1. 12. Whilſt the King ſitteth at his Table, my Spikenard, &c. Hope was now, and Faith was weak, little ſtrength in any Grace, except Deſires; but when the Lord comes, ſtrength comes with him. Then as it is, Neh. 8. 10. The Joy of the Lord is your ſtrength. O the vigorous Sallies of the Heart to God! Pſal. 63. 8. O the ſtrength of Love, Cant. 8. 6. Duties are other manner of things than they were wont to be. Did not our Hearts burn within us, Luke 24. 32.

Thirdly, A remarkable Transformation and Change of Spirit follows it.

Theſe things are found to be marvellouſly aſſimilating. The ſights of God, the felt preſence of God, is as Fire, which quickly aſſimilates what is put into it to its own likeneſs. So 2 Cor. 3. 18. They are ſaid to be changed from Glory to Glory. It always leaves the Mind more refined and abſtracted from groſs material things, and changed into the ſame Image. They have a Similitude of God upon them, who have God near unto their Hearts and Reins.

Fourthly, A vigorous working of the Heart Heaven-ward; a mounting of the Soul upwards. Now the Soul ſhews that it hath not forgot its way home again. It is with ſuch a Soul as ſenſibly embraces Chriſt in the Arms of Faith, as it was with Simeon, when he took him Bodily into his Arms. Now (ſaith he) let thy Servant depart in peace, for mine Eyes have ſeen thy Salvation. O! it would have the Wings of a Dove, to fly away from this polluted World, this unquiet World, and be at reſt.

1. Infer. Then certainly there is an Heaven, and a State of Glory for the Saints. Heaven is no Dream or Viſion. It is ſenſibly taſted and felt by Thouſands of Witneſſes in this World; they are ſure it is no miſtake. God is with them of a truth, in the way of their Duties They do not only read of a glorified Eye, but they have ſomething of it, or like it in this World. The pure in heart do here ſee God, Mat. 5. 8. The Saints have not only a Witneſs without them in the Word, that there is a State of Glory prepared for Believers, but they have a Witneſs in themſelves. Theſe are not the Teſtimonies of craz'd Brains, but of the wiſeſt and moſt ſerious of Men; not conjecturally delivered, but upon taſte, feeling, and trial. O bleſſed be God for ſuch ſenſible Confirmations, ſuch ſweet Prælibations.

2. Infer. But, O, what is Heaven! And what that State of Glory reſerved for the Saints! Doth a Glimps of God's Preſence in a Duty, go down to the Heart and Reins? O how unutterable then muſt that be which is ſeen and felt above, where God comes as near to Men as can be? Rev. 22. 3, 4. The Throne of God and the Lamb ſhall be in it, and his Servants ſhall ſerve him; and they ſhall ſee his Face. And 1 Theſ. 4. 17. And ſo ſhall we be ever with the Lord. O, what is that! Ever with the Lord? Chriſtians, what you feel and taſte here by Faith, is part of Heaven's Glory; but yet Heaven will be an unſpeakable Surprizal to you, when you come thither for all that: It doth not yet appear what we ſhall be, 1 John 3. 1, 2.

3. Infer. See hence the neceſſity of caſting theſe very Bodies into a new Mold by their Reſurrection from the Dead, according to that, 1 Cor. 15. 41. It is ſown in weakneſs, but raiſed in power. How elſe could it be a Co-partner with the Soul in the ineffable Joys of that Preſence above?

Certainly, my Friends, that which is to be a Veſſel to contain ſuch ſtrong Liquor as this, had need be ſtrongly hooped, leſt it flies to pieces, as old Bottles do when fill'd with new Wine. The State of this Mortality cannot bear the fulneſs of that Joy. Hold, Lord, ſtay thy Hand (ſaid a choice Chriſtian once), thy Creature is but a Clay-Veſſel, and can hold no more. If a tranſient Glimps of God here, be felt in the very Reins, if it ſo work upon the very Body by Simpathy with the Soul, O what vigorous Spiritual Bodies, doth the State of Glory require! And ſuch they ſhall be, Phil. 3. 21. Like unto Chriſt's glorious Body.

4. Infer. Is God ſo near to his People above all others in the World? How good is it to be near them that are ſo near to God? O, it would do a Man's Heart good to be near that Perſon who hath lately had God near to his Soul. Well might David ſay, Pſal. 16. 3. All my delight is in the excellent of the Earth. And again, Pſalm 119. 63. I am a Companion of all ſuch as fear thee. O, this is the Glory of that Society; not the communication of their Gifts, but the ſavour of God on their Spirits. If any thing be alluring in this World, this is, 1 Joh. 1. 3. That ye may have fellowſhip with us, and truly our fellowſhip is with the Father, and with his Son Chriſt Jeſus. It's ſaid, Zech. 8. 23. of the Jews, the time ſhall come, when there ſhall be ſuch a Preſence of God among that People, that ten Men out of all Languages ſhall take hold of the Skirts of him that is a Jew; ſaying, We will go with you, for we have heard that God is with you.

Chriſtians, if there were more of God upon you, and in you, others would not be tempted to leave your Society, and fall in with the Men of the World; they would ſay, we will go with you, for God is with you.

5. Infer. If God be ſo near to the Heart and Reins of his People in their Duties, O, how aſſiduous ſhould they be in their Duties? It's good for me to draw nigh to God, Pſalm 73. 28. Good indeed; the World cannot reward the expence of time at this rate, with all its Glory, James 4. 8. Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you: Thou meeteſt him that rejoiceth and worketh Righteouſneſs; thoſe that remember thee in thy ways, Iſai. 64. 5.

Obj. It would be an Encouragement indeed, if I might thus meet God in the way of Duty, but that's but ſeldom I can ſo meet God there, in ſenſible powerful Outlets of his Grace and Love. I am moſt dead and cold there. I feel not Communion with God, going down to my Heart and Reins.

Sol. Firſt, you draw nigh to God; but is it in truth, or in meer formality? God is only nigh to ſuch as call in truth upon him, Pſalm 145. 18.

Secondly, If your Hearts be ſincere, yet are they not ſluggiſh? Do you ſtir up your ſelves to take hold of God? Many there be that do not, Iſa. 64. 7. and Cant. 5. 3, 5.

Thirdly, Have you not grieved the Spirit of God, and cauſed him to withdraw from you, O remember what Pride and Vanity hath been in you after former manifeſtations, Eph. 4. 33.

Fourthly, Nevertheleſs wait for God in his ways; his coming upon our Souls is oftentimes, yea, moſtly, a ſurprizal to us, Cant. 6. 12. Or ever I was aware, my Soul made me as the Chariots of Aminadab.

6. Infer. What ſteddy Chriſtians ſhould all real Chriſtians be? For lo, what a Seal and Witneſs hath Religion in the Breaſt of every ſincere Profeſſor of it? True Chriſtians do not only hear by Report, or learn by Books the reality of it, but feel by Experience, and have a ſenſible proof of it in their very Hearts and Reins, their Reins inſtruct them as it is, Pſal. 16. 7. They learn by ſpiritual ſenſe and feeling, than which nothing can give greater confirmation in the ways of God.

There are two ſorts of Knowledge among Men, one Traditional, the other Experimental: This laſt, the Apoſtle calls a knowing in our ſelves, Heb. 10. 34. and oppoſes it to that Traditional Knowledge which may be ſaid to be without our ſelves, becauſe borrowed from other Men.

Now this experience we have of the Power of Religion in our Souls, is that only which fixes a Man's Spirit in the ways of Godlineſs. It made the Hebrews take joyfully the ſpoiling of their Goods; no Arguments or Temptations can wreſt Truth out of the hand of Experience, Non eſt diſputandum de guſta. For want of this, many Profeſſors turn aſide from Truth in the Hour of Trial. O, Brethren, labour to feel the Influences of Religion upon your very Hearts and Reins; this will ſettle you better than all Arguments in the World can do: By this the ways of God are more endeared to Men, than by any other way in the World. When your Hearts have once felt it, you will never forſake it.

The Third MEDITATION,

UPON

Rom. 7. 28. I find then a Law, that when I would do good, evil is preſent with me.

THis Chapter is the very Anatomy of a Chriſtians Heart, and gives an Account of the moſt ſecret Frames, and inward Workings of it, both as to Graces and Corruptions; and this Verſe is a Compendium of both; for the Words are a mournful Complaint, uttered with a deep ſence of an inward preſſure, by reaſon of Sin; wherein we are to conſider Three Things:

1. The Perſon complaining.
2. The Matter of Complaint.
3. The Diſcovery of that Matter.

Firſt, The Perſon complaining, I find: I Paul, tho' I come not behind the chiefeſt of all the Apoſtles, tho' I have been wrapt into the Third Heaven, and heard things unutterable; yet I for all that, find in me a Law. Never was any meer Man more deeply ſanctified; never was any lived at an higher rate of Communion with God; never any did Chriſt more Service in this World; and yet he found a Law of Sin in himſelf.

Secondly, The Matter of the Complaint, which conſiſts in a double Evil he groaned under, viz. 1. The preſence of Sin at all times. 2. The Operation of Sin, eſpecially at ſome times.

Firſt, The preſence of Sin at all times: Evil (ſaith he) is preſent with me, it follows me as my Shadow doth. By Evil we muſt underſtand no other Evil but Sin, the Evil of Evils; which in reſpect of Power and Efficacy, he alſo calls a Law, becauſe as Laws by reaſon of their annexed Rewards and Puniſhments, have a mighty power and efficacy upon the Minds of Men; ſo Sin, in dwelling Sin, that Root of all our Trouble and Sorrow, hath a mighty efficacy upon us.

And this is the mournful Matter of his Complaint: 'Tis not for outward Afflictions, tho' he had many; nor for what he ſuffered from the Hands of Men, tho' he ſuffered many grievons things; but 'tis Sin dwelling and working in him, that ſwallows up all other Troubles, as Rivers are loſt in the Sea; this Evil was always with him, the conſtant Reſidence of Sin was in his Heart and Nature.

Secondly, And what further adds to his Burden, as it dwelt in him at all times, ſo it exerted its efficacy more eſpecially at ſome times, and thoſe the ſpecial Times, and principal Seaſons in his whole Life: When I would do good (ſaith he) any ſpiritual good, and among the reſt, when I addreſs my ſelf to any ſpiritual Duty, or heavenly Employment; when I deſign to draw near to God, and promiſe my ſelf Comfort and Redreſs, in Communion with him, then is Evil preſent. O, if I were but rid of it in thoſe Hours, what a Mercy ſhould I eſteem it, tho' I were troubled with it at other times! Could I but enjoy my Freedom from it in the Seaſons of Duty, and Times of Communion with God, what a Comfort would that be? But then is the ſpecial Seaſon of its Operation. Never is Sin more active and buſie, than at ſuch a time; and this, O, this is my Miſery and Burden.

Cum ad optima quæque contendo, experior aliam legem, tunc maxime inſurgit & præcipitur lex carnis. Tolletus.

Thirdly, The next thing to be heeded here, is the diſcovery of this Evil to him, over which he ſo mourns and laments. I find then a Law, ſaith he, I find it (i. e.) by inward Senſe, Feeling, and ſad Experience. He knew there was ſuch a thing as Original Sin in the Natures of Men, when he was an Unregenerated Phariſee; but tho' he had then the notion of it, he had not the ſence and ſeeling of it as now he had; he now feels, what before he traditionally underſtood and talk'd of. I find a Law, q. d. what or how others find, I know not: Some may boaſt of their Gifts, and ſome may talk more than becomes them of their Graces; they may find Excellencies in themſelves, and admire themſelves too much for them; but for my part, I find a Law, that when I would do good, evil is preſent. I am ſure I find a bad Heart in the beſt ſeaſon, a proud, dead, wandring, hard Heart. I find it wofully out of order, God knows, and this is my miſery. Hence note,

Doct. That the beſt Chriſtians do ſenſibly feel, and ſadly bewail the workings of their Corruptions, and that in the very ſeaſons and opportunities of their communion with God.

Bring thy Thoughts, Reader, cloſe to this point, and ſadly ponder theſe three things in it:

Firſt, In what ſpecial acts Chriſtians uſe to feel the working of their Corruption in the ſeaſon of their communion.

Secondly, Why is it that Corruption ſtirs and troubles them more at ſuch a time than at others.

Thirdly, Upon what account this is ſo great a burden to every gracious Heart.

Firſt, As to the firſt of theſe, namely, the ſpecial actings of Corruption in the ſeaſons of communion, they are ſuch as have a natural aptitude and deſign to deſtroy all communion betwixt God and the Soul, Gal. 5. 17. The fleſh luſteth againſt the ſpirit. It's contrary to the Spirit, and by reaſon of that contrariety, a poor Chriſtian cannot do the things that he would.

How many times have ſome Chriſtians lamented this upon their Knees, with bleeding Heart and weeping Eyes? Lord, I came hither to enjoy thee, I hop'd for ſome light, ſtrength, and refreſhment in this Duty. I promis'd my ſelf a good hour, my Heart began to warm and melt in Duty, I was nigh to the expectation and deſire of my Soul, but the unbelief, deadneſs, and vanity of my Heart hath ſeparated betwixt me and my God, and withheld good things from me.

Three things are requiſite to communion with God in Duties:

Firſt, Compoſedneſs of Thoughts.

Secondly, Activity of Faith.

Thirdly, Excitation of Affections. And all theſe are ſenſibly obſtructed by innate Corruption; for by in-dwelling Sin,

Firſt, The order of the Soul is diſturb'd by ſending forth multitudes of vain and impertinent Thoughts, to infeſt and diſtract the Soul in its approaches to God: The ſenſe of this evil gave occaſion to that Prayer, Pſal. 86. 11. Unite my heart to fear thy name. How much have we to do with our own Hearts upon this account every day? Abundance of Rules are given to cure this Evil, but the corruption of the Heart makes them all neceſſary.

Secondly, The activity of Faith is clogg'd by natural Unbelief: O, what difficulties is every Work of Faith carried through! Lord, I believe, help thou my unbelief, Mark 9. 24. It cramps the hand of Faith in every part of its work; the Soul ſenſibly feels it ſelf bound and fetter'd by its own Unbelief, ſo that it cannot aſſent with that fulneſs, clearneſs, and determinateneſs that it would, it cannot apply with that ſtrength, certainty and comfort it deſires; and thus are the Wings of Faith pinion'd, that when we ſhould ſoar aloft in the higheſt acts of ſweet communion with God, we can but flutter upon the Earth, and make ſome weak eſſays and offers Heaven-ward, which oft-times are fruſtrated and put by, through the Unbelief that is in us.

Thirdly, The excitation of the Affections is rendred difficult, by reaſon of that natural deadneſs and hardneſs that is in the Heart. Alas, it's naturally an Heart of Stone, and as eaſie it is to diſſolve or melt the Rocks into a ſweet Syrup, as the Heart into Spiritual and Heavenly Affections towards God. There is ſcarce any one thing in this World that Chriſtians more paſſionately bewail, and are more ſenſibly afflicted for, than the deadneſs and hardneſs of their own Hearts. Nothing is found ſufficient ſometimes to affect and raiſe them; and yet if they be not excited out of their Torpor and Stupidity, they cannot have communion with God in Duties.

Secondly, And if we enquire into the reaſons why poor Chriſtians find themſelves more infeſted by natural Corruption in the ſeaſons of Duty than at other times, the reaſons are obvious to him that conſiders, 1. that Duty irritates it; 2. Satan excites it; 3. God permits it to be ſo.

1. Corruption is irritated by Duty, it's provok'd by that which bridles and purges it: Nothing is found more deſtructive to Sin than Communion with God is, and therefore nothing makes a fiercer oppoſition to all Fellowſhip and Communion betwixt the Soul and its God than Sin doth. As Waters ſwell and rage when they are obſtructed by a Dam, ſo do our Corruptions when obſtructed and check'd by Duty. Sin would fain make Men leave praying, and Prayer would fain make Men leave ſinning.

2. As Duty irritates it, ſo Satan excites it, eſpecially in ſuch ſeaſons. When Joſhua the High-Prieſt ſtood before the Lord, Satan was ſeen ſtanding at his right hand to reſiſt him, Zech. 3. 1. How hard is it for a Chriſtian then to be dexterous, apt, and ready for Spiritual Works, whilſt Satan ſtands at his right hand, the working hand, to make reſiſtance!

The Devil is aware that one hour of cloſe, ſpiritual, and hearty converſe with God in Prayer is able to pull down what he hath been contriving and building many a Year. Now this envious Spirit having an eaſie acceſs to the Fancy, that buſie and unruly power of the Soul, will not be wanting to create ſuch Figments and Notions in it as, like a rapid Stream, ſhall carry away the Soul and its thoughts from God in Duty. Oh, what ado have moſt Chriſtians to prevent the Sallies and Excurſions of their Hearts from God at ſuch times!

3. As Satan exerciſes it, ſo the Wiſe and Holy God, for good ends to his People, permits it to be ſo.

This Thorn in the Fleſh keeps them humble; theſe lamented Diſtractions and Corruptions in their Duties deſtroys their dependance upon them. For if we be ſo prone to Pride and Confidence in our Duties, amidſt ſuch ſenſible workings and minglings of Corruption with them, what would we be if they were more pure and excellent? Theſe things alſo make the Saints weary of this World, and to groan within themſelves after the more perfect ſtate wherein God ſhall be enjoy'd and ſeen in more perfection and ſatisfaction. But,

Thirdly, This in the mean time cannot but be a very grievous affliction and preſſure to the gracious Soul, to be thus clogg'd and infeſted by its own Corruptions in the very ſeaſon of its communion with God. For,

Firſt, By this the Soul is render'd very unſuitable to that holy preſence it approaches, Hab. 1.13. Thou art of purer eyes than to behold evil, and canſt not look upon iniquity. Muſt the great and bleſſed God wait upon a poor Worm till it be at leiſure to attend him? Muſt he be forſaken for every trifle that comes in the way of its Fancy? Oh, how provoking an Evil is this! Surely God heareth not vanity, neither will the Almighty regard it, Job 35.13. This unſuitableneſs of our Spirits to the Lord cannot do leſs than cover our Faces with Shame; Ezra 9. 6. O my God, I am aſhamed, and even bluſh to look up unto thee.

Secondly, By this thoſe Benefits and Comforts are intercepted, which are better than Life; there is a ſenſible preſence of God; there are manifeſtations of Pardon, Peace and Love; there are reviving influences and freſh anointings of the Spirit, there are a thouſand Mercies of this kind, that in their ſeaſon are communicated to Men in the way of Duty; and would it not grieve a man to the very Heart and Soul, to be defeated of thoſe ineſtimable Treaſures, by the breaking forth of the Unbelief, Pride, or Vanity of his own Heart, when ſuch Mercies are almoſt in his hand? Your iniquities (ſaith the Prophet) have ſeparated betwixt you and your God, and your ſins have hid his face from you, that he will not hear, Iſa. 59.2. O cruel Covering! O diſmal Cloud! that hides the Face of God from his People, that they cannot behold it. Wherefore am I come from Geſhur (ſaith Abſalom) if I may not ſee the King's face?

What do I here upon my Knees, ſaith a Chriſtian, if I may not ſee God? Duties are nothing to me without God; the World and all its comforts are dry and taſteleſs things to me without God; His manifeſted Favour and ſealed Love are the very Life of my Life, and from this the Corruptions of my own Heart have cut me off.

Thirdly, By theſe things the beauty and excellency of Duties are defaced. Theſe dead Flys ſpoil that excellent Ointment; for wherein conſiſts the beauty and true excellency of Duties, but in that ſpirituality and heavenly temper of Soul with which they are perform'd? This makes them ſuitable to their Object, John 4.24. Take away Spirituality from Duties, and then you may number them among your Sins, and the matters of your ſhame and ſorrow. Take away the Heart from Duty, and what remains but a dead Carcaſs without life or beauty?

Fourthly, By theſe things gracious Souls are greatly puzzled and perplexed about their eſtate and condition; this is the Fountain of their fears and doubtings. O, when a man ſees ſuch deadneſs in his Heart towards God, ſuch ſtiffneſs in his Will to the Will of God, ſuch a liſtleſs careleſs temper to all that is ſpiritual, how (thinks he) can this conſiſt with a renew'd ſtate and temper? Sure no Chriſtian is troubled with ſuch an Heart as mine is, eſpecially when it ſhall be found in its ordinary courſe, ſo free, nimble, and indefatigable in its purſuits and entertainments of things ſenſual and earthly. There it is as the Chariots of Aminadab, but here, like Pharaoh's Chariots; there it as much needs the Curb, as it doth the Spar here. Lord, ſaith the poor Soul, I know not what to do: if I do not look into my heart, I cannot be ſincere; and if I do, I can have no comfort. This is a ſad Perplexity indeed.

Fifthly, and Laſtly, By theſe things the Spirit of God is griev'd, and that which grieves him cannot but be a grief and burden to us: His motions are quench'd by theſe Corruptions, his ſanctifying deſigns (as much as lies in us) obſtructed by them, ſurely then there is cauſe enough why a Chriſtian ſhould follow every vain thought with a deep ſigh, and every ſtirring of unbelief with a ſad tear.

The uſefulneſs of this point is great and exceeding ſeaſonable, when we are to draw nigh to God, and addreſs our ſelves to Spiritual Duties; it may to great purpoſe be improv'd by ways,

1. Of Information.
2. Direction.
3. Conſolation.

We may greatly improve it for our information in the following particulars.

Hence we may take our meaſures of the wonderful and aſtoniſhing grace and condeſcenſion of God to his People, who notwithſtanding all that Evil which is preſent with them in the good they do, will not reject their Perſons or Duties for all that.

How doth Free Grace make its own way thro' ſwarms of Vanity! how doth it break thro' all the deadneſs, infidelity and hardneſs of our Hearts to do us good! Though Evil be preſent with us, our gracious God will not be abſent from us notwithſtanding that.

How greatly was the Spouſe amaz'd at the unexpected Condeſcenſion and Grace of Chriſt in this matter? Cant. 2. 8. It is the voice of my beloved, behold, he cometh leaping over the mountains, skipping over the hills. It is the voice of my beloved; That abrupt broken expreſſion ſhews a perfect Surprize: She ſaw Mountains of Guilt and Unworthineſs betwixt Chriſt and her Soul, and yet, behold, he comes ſkipping over all thoſe Mountains and Hills: O free Grace, rich and admirable Grace, which with ſo many notwithſtandings and nevertheleſſes will ſave and comfort the poor unworthy Soul!

2. How little reaſon have any of us to be proud of our beſt performances! There is not a juſt man upon earth, that doth good, and ſinneth not, ſaith Solomon, Eccleſ. 7. 20. If there be ſomething ſupernaturally good in our Duties, yet there is abundance of natural evil commixed with that good; the evil is wholly ours, the good wholly God's: we have no reaſon then to glory in our beſt Performances.

It hath been a Queſtion with ſome, Whether ſome ſhort tranſient act of a regenerate Soul may not be free from Sin; but it was never queſtion'd, whether any continued act, much leſs a courſe of actions could be without Sin. Evil will be preſent with us in all we do; 'twill be with us in our Cloſets, preſent even in the awful preſence of the holy God, in the moſt high and ſolemn Duties of Religion, in the moſt pure and ſpiritual actions that paſs from us: Ceaſe then, as from Dependance, ſo from Pride and Conceitedneſs in all you do. Whilſt our Natures are ſanctified but in part, and our Principles mixt, our Duties and Performances can never be pure. Who can bring a clean thing out of an unclean? not one; Job 14. 4.

3. How are we all oblig'd to bleſs God for Jeſus the Mediator, to make us and our ſinful Duties acceptable to God? Sad were our caſe if this High-Prieſt did not bear the iniquity of our holy things, as it is Exod. 28. 38. 'Tis his Oblation and Interceſſion that obtains and continues our Pardon for our Prayer-ſins, our hearing ſins, our Sacrament-ſins; theſe alone would eternally damn us, if we had no other, did not Free-grace make us accepted in the beloved, Eph. 1. 6. When Evil is preſent with us, then is Chriſt our Advocate preſent with the Father for us; and thence it is that we are not deſtroy'd upon our Knees, and that the Jealouſie of God breaks not forth as Fire, to devour us in our very Duties.

4. If Evil be preſent with us, yea, inherent in us, in our beſt Duties, what need had Chriſtians then to watch againſt the external occaſions of Sin, and to keep a cloſe guard upon their Senſes, eſpecially when they have to do with God?

There's danger enough from within, you need not open another Door from without. This natural Corruption is too active in it ſelf, if there be no irritation by any external occaſion; how much more when the Eye and Ear are open'd and unguarded, and occaſions are offer'd it from without. Watching is half the Work of a Chriſtian, whilſt he is praying, Eph. 6. 18. The Arabian Proverb is as inſtructive as it is myſtical, Shut the Windows, that the Houſe may be light.

5. If Evil be preſent when we would do Good, if it infeſt us in our beſt Duties, then certainly there is no Reſt to be expected for any of God's People in this World. Where ſhall we go to be free from Sin? If any where, let us go to our Cloſets, to our Knees, to the Ordinances of God; yea, but even there Evil is and will be preſent with us; if we cannot be free from Evil there, it's vain to expect it elſewhere in this World. Only in Heaven Believers reſt from Sin, when once they are abſent from the Body, and preſent with the Lord. Sin ſhall no more be preſent with them; which ſhould make all that hate Sin long for Heaven, and be willing to be diſſolved, and be with Chriſt.

2. For Direction. Let all that experimentally ſee and feel what the Apoſtle here mourns over, carefully attend ſuch Directions, as may prevent the ſpoil of their Duties by the working of their Corruptions in them.

Tho' no Rules are found ſufficient to prevent wholly the influence of our Corruptions upon Duties, yet own it as a Special Mercy, if it may in any meaſure be prevented or reſtrain'd: In order whereunto I ſhall hint briefly theſe following Rules, which the Experience of many Chriſtians hath recommended, as exceeding uſeful in this caſe.

Rule 1. Be more diligent in preparation for your Duties, if you would meet with leſs interruption in your Duties. The very Light of Nature teacheth ſolemn Preparation to all important and weighty buſineſs; And is there more weighty and concerning buſineſs in all the World than that which thou tranſacteſt with God in Duties? Angels approach not this God with whom thou haſt to do, without profound Reſpects to his immenſe Greatneſs and awful Holineſs, Iſa. 6. 3. When you ſtretch forth your Hands, it is requir'd that you firſt prepare your Hearts, Job 11. 13.

Rule 2. Realize the preſence of God in all your Duties, and awe your Hearts all that you are able by that conſideration. O, think what a piercing holy Eye beholds thy Heart, and trys thy Reins. Wouldſt thou not be really aſham'd, if thy thoughts were but vocal to Men, and the workings and wandrings of thy Heart viſible to thoſe that joyn with thee in the ſame Duty? O, if the Preſence of God were more realiz'd, certainly your Hearts would be better ſecur'd againſt the Incurſions of your Corruptions.

Rule 3. Labour for a deeper meaſure and degree of Sanctification; many other Rules are but Spiritual Anodynes, to give preſent eaſe, but this is the way to a real Cure. A thouſand things may be found helpful to put by a vain Thought for the preſent, but then it returns again, and it may be with more ſtrength: This is the proper method to dry the Spring, when others are but attempts to divert the Stream: If Habits of Grace were more deeply radicated, Acts of Grace would be more eaſie to us, and flow more freely from us.

Rule 4. Laſtly, Conſider what an aggravation it is to your Evil, to vent it ſelf in the ſpecial preſence of God in his Duties. See how Paul mourns over it in the Text. It is not only a Sin, but an affronting of God to his Face: This grieving of his Spirit is the ſpoil of thy Duty; it is (as one aptly calls it) obex infernalis, and helliſh Bar or Remora to all ſweet and free intercourſe of the Soul with God.

3. Conſolation. But whilſt I am repreſenting the evil of it to ſome, it may be there are others overwhelm'd with the ſorrowful ſenſe of it, even to diſcouragement and deſpondency: Poor Chriſtian, is this thy caſe? Are all the Afflictions in the World nothing to thee, in compariſon with this Evil which is preſent with thee when thou wouldſt do good? Well, tho' thou canſt not do the good thou wouldſt, nor free thy ſelf yet from the Evil thou wouldſt, rather than live, be freed from, there are four things that may give much relief to thy penſive Soul.

1. Tho' the preſence of Evil, even in thy beſt Duties, be ſad, yet thy grief and affliction for it is ſweet. That is a ſad Sin, but this is a ſweet Sign. It is not heart-evils, heart-wandrings in Duties, hardneſs and unbelief that Hypocrites mourn for, but more groſs and external Evils. Let this trouble for Sin comfort thee when the preſence of Sin grieves thee.

2. God accepts through Jeſus Chriſt what you do ſincerely, tho' you can do nothing purely and perfectly, Cant. 5. 1. Your Sincerity is your Evangelical Perfection; the Evil that is preſent is not imputed; the Good that is preſent is (notwithſtanding that commix'd Evil) accepted, which is ſtrong Conſolation.

3. You find your Caſe was the Caſe of bleſſed Paul, a man of eminent Sanctity. And if you conſult all the Saints, one by one, you will find them all ſick of this Diſeaſe; ſo that your Caſe is not ſingular.

4. Your Juſtification is perfect, and without ſpot, tho' your Sanctification be not ſo; and the time is coming, when your Sanctification ſhall be as your Juſtification is, and after that no more complaints.

The Fourth MEDITATION,

UPON

Epheſians, 1. 13. In whom alſo, after that ye believed, ye were ſealed with the holy Spirit of Promiſe.

FROM his Doxology and ſolemn Thankſgiving, ver. 3. the Apoſtle enumerates the principal Chriſtian Privileges that gave the occaſion of that Thankſgiving, among which this Text is not the leaſt, tho' laſt nam'd.

In this one Verſe we have the two noble acts of Faith diſplay'd, its direct act call'd Truſting, and its reflex act, which in order of Nature and Time follows it, and is implied in the word Sealing.

In the latter Clauſe (to which I ſhall confine my Meditations) four things muſt be remark'd, viz. 1. The Subject, 2. Nature, 3. Author, and 4. Quality of Aſſurance.

1. The Subject of Aſſurance, which is and can be no other than a Soul that hath clos'd with Chriſt by Faith: reflex acts neceſſarily preſuppoſe direct ones. Never was any Unbeliever ſeal'd, except to Damnation: Aſſurance is peculiarly the Prerogative of Believers.

2. The Nature of Aſſurance; he calls it Sealing, an apt Metaphor to expreſs the nature of it; for Aſſurance, like a Seal, both confirms, declares and diſtinguiſhes; it confirms the grant of God, declares the purpoſe of God, and diſtinguiſhes the perſon ſo privileg'd from other men.

3. The Author of Aſſurance, which is the Spirit, he is the Keeper of the Great Seal of Heaven, Rom 8. 16.

4. Laſtly, the Quality of this Spirit of Aſſurance, or the Sealing Spirit: He ſeals in the quality of an holy Spirit, and of the Spirit of Promiſe, as an holy Spirit, relating to his previous ſanctifying work upon the ſealed Soul. As the Spirit of Promiſe, reſpecting the Medium or Inſtrument made uſe of by him in his Sealing Work, for he ſeals by opening and applying the Promiſes to Believers from the Spirit's order. The Note will be this:

Doct. That the Privilege of Sealing follows the Duty of Believing.

There is no Seaſon more proper to treat of the Sealing of the Spirit, than at a Sealing Ordinance; nor can I handle the Spirit's Sealing-work in a more profitable method, than in ſatisfying theſe five Queries particularly, and then applying the whole.

1. What is the Spirit's Sealing, and how perform'd.
2. Why none are ſeal'd till they believe.
3. Whether all Believers are ſeal'd.
4. What is the Privilege of being ſeal'd.
5. What are the Effects of the Spirit's ſealing.

1 Query. What is the Spirit's Sealing-work? and how is it performed?

Anſw. The Sealing of the Spirit is, his giving a ſure and certain Teſtimony to the reality of that Work of Grace he hath wrought in our Souls, and to our intereſt in Chriſt and the Promiſes, thereby ſatisfying our Fears and Doubts about our eſtate and condition.

Every matter of weight and concernment is to be prov'd by two ſufficient Witneſſes, Deut. 19. 15. Our Sincerity and Intereſt in Chriſt are matters of the deepeſt concernment to us in all the World, and therefore need a farther Witneſs to confirm and clear them, than that of our own ſpirits, Rom. 8. 16. Three things concur to the Spirit's ſealing-work.

He ſanctifies the Soul; he irradiates and clears that Work of Sanctification; he enables it thereby to apply Promiſes.

The firſt is his material or objective Seal, the latter his formal Sealing. None but the Spirit of God can clear and confirm our Title to Chriſt, for he only ſearcheth the deep things of God, 1 Cor. 2. 10. and it's his Office, Rom. 8. 16, to witneſs with our Spirits.

This Seal or Witneſs of the Spirit muſt needs be true and certain, becauſe Omniſcience and Truth are his eſſential Properties: He is Omniſcient, 1 Cor. 2. 10. and therefore cannot be deceiv'd himſelf. He is the Spirit of Truth, John 14. 17. and therefore cannot deceive us; ſo that his Teſtimony is more infallible and ſatisfactory than a Voice from Heaven, 2 Pet. 1. 19.

If an Angel ſhould appear, and tell us, Chriſt had ſaid to him, Go and tell ſuch a man, that I love him, that I ſhed my Blood for him, and will ſave him; it could never give that repoſe and ſatisfaction to the Mind as the internal Witneſs or Seal of the Spirit doth; for that may be a deluſion, but this cannot. The witneſs of our own heart may amount to a ſtrong probability, but the witneſs of the Spirit is demonſtration, 1 John 4. 24.

So that as it is the deſign and work of Satan to caſt in Doubts and Fears into gracious Hearts, to perplex and entangle them, ſo oppoſitely it is the work of the Spirit to clear and ſettle the ſanctified Soul, and fill it with Peace and Joy in believing, John 16. 7. Rom. 14. 17.

In ſealing he both atteſts the fidem quæ creditur, the Doctrin or Object of Faith, and the fidem qua creditur, the infuſed Habit or Grace of Faith: Of the former he ſaith, This is my Word; of the latter, This is my Work; and his Seal or Teſtimony is evermore agreeable to the written word, Iſa. 8. 20. So that what he ſpeaks in our Hearts, and what he ſaith in the Scripture, are evermore concordant and harmonious Teſtimonies.

To conclude; In ſealing the Believer he doth not make uſe of an audible Voice, nor the Miniſtry of Angels, nor immediate and extraordinary Revelations, but he makes uſe of his own Graces, implanted in our hearts, and his own Promiſes written in the Scriptures; and in this method he uſually brings the doubting trembling heart of a Believer to reſt and comfort.

2 Query. Why are none ſealed till after Believing?

Anſw. It cannot be denied, but that many perſons in the ſtate of Nature and Unbelief, may have grounded Confidences, and falſe Comforts built thereupon. This is evident from Matth. 7. 22. Many will ſay unto me in that day, Lord, Lord, have not we propheſied in thy name? And John 8. 54, 55. Of whom ye ſay that he is your God, and yet ye have not known him. And beyond all is that ſtartling Scripture, Heb. 6. 4, 5. —— Who were once enlightned, and have taſted of the heavenly gift, and were made partakers of the Holy Ghoſt, and have taſted the good Word of God, and the powers of the world to come if they fall away, &c.

But for any, except real Believers, to have thoſe Witneſſes and Sealings of the Spirit deſcrib'd above, is utterly impoſſible, and will evidently appear to be ſo, whether we conſider the Author, Nature, Object, Mediums, End and Deſign of this Work.

Firſt, Conſider the Author of this Work, the Spirit of God, who is an holy Spirit, as the Text calls him, and the Spirit of Truth, as Chriſt calls him, John 14. 17. and it cannot be that ever he ſhould give Teſtimony to a Lye, or give a falſe Witneſs, quite croſs to the very tenour of the written Word, as he muſt do, ſhould he ſeal an Unbeliever. What though they be Elect? yet whilſt unregenerate, they have no actual Intereſt in Chriſt and the Promiſes, and therefore can have none ſeal'd by the Spirit. Prius eſt predicare de eſſe quam de cognoſci; We muſt be Saints before we can be known to be ſo.

Secondly, Conſider but the Nature of this Work, and it cannot be that ever an Unbeliever ſhould be ſeal'd by the Spirit; for Aſſurance is produc'd in our Souls by the reflexive acts of our Faith: The Spirit helps us to reflect upon what hath been done by him formerly upon our Hearts; Hereby we know that we know him, 1 John 2. 3. To know that we know, is a reflex act; now it's impoſſible there ſhould be a reflex before there hath been a direct act. No man can have the evidence of his Faith, before the Habit be infus'd, and the Vital Act firſt perform'd.

Thirdly, Conſider the Object-matter, to which he ſeals, and it will be found to be his own ſanctifying Operations upon our Hearts, and conſequently to our Privileges in Chriſt, Rom. 8. 16. 1 Joh. 3. 24. The thing or matter atteſted is, that Chriſt abideth in us, and that we are the Children of God; but no ſuch thing can be ſeal'd till we believe, for neither our Adoption nor Sanctification can be before Faith.

Fourthly, Conſider the Mediums or Inſtruments uſed by the Spirit in his Sealing-work: The Promiſes are his ſealing Inſtruments, and on that account he is call'd the Spirit of Promiſe in the Text; not only becauſe he is the Spirit promiſed, but as the Promiſes contain the Spirit, ſo the Spirit uſes the Promiſes, (i. e.) clears them to our Underſtandings, and helps us to apply them to our Souls. But this he never doth, nor can do, till the Soul by Faith have Union with Chriſt; for till then it hath no right in the Promiſes.

Fifthly, and laſtly, Conſider the End and Deſign of this Work of the Spirit, which is to ſecure to the Soul its peace, pardon, and ſalvation in Chriſt, he ſeals Believers to the day of Redemption, Eph. 4. 30. (i. e.) to their compleat Salvation: ſo then it muſt be equally impoſſible for an Unbeliever to be ſeal'd as to be ſav'd.

3 Query. The next enquiry is, Whether all Believers are ſeal'd by the Spirit?

Anſw. The reſolution of this Query will depend upon ſeveral Diſtinctions that muſt be made upon this matter.

1 Diſtinction. We muſt diſtinguiſh the different Kinds of the Spirit's ſealing; all his Sealing-work is not of one kind, nor to one and the ſame uſe and end.

There is an Objective Seal which diſtinguiſhes the Perſon, and a Formal Seal which clears and ratifies his Intereſt in Chriſt and Salvation. The firſt he doth in Sanctifying us, the ſecond in Aſſuring us.

When he ſeals us Objectively, that is, when he ſanctifies us really by the infuſion of Grace, he ſeals us by way of diſtinction from other men, which is one end of ſealing; for tho' in reſpect of God's decree and purpoſe there was a difference betwixt us and others before time, 2 Tim. 2. 19. and altho' in regard of Chriſt's Intention in his Death there was a difference betwixt us and others, John 17. 9. yet all this while there is no perſonal, actual difference betwixt us and others, till Sanctification do make one, Eph. 2. 3. and 1 Cor. 6. 11. but the Sanctification of the Spirit makes a real difference in the ſtate and temper of the Perſon; 2 Cor. 5. 17. and manifeſts that difference which Election put betwixt us and others before time, 1 Theſſ. 1. 4, 5. And yet all this while a man may not be formally ſeal'd, (i. e.) his Sanctification may be very doubtful to himſelf, and he may labour under great fears about it.

2 Diſtinction. The Seaſons of the Spirit's ſealing muſt be diſtinguiſh'd, and theſe are to ſome,

1*ſt,* Immediately upon the Soul's firſt cloſing with Chriſt at Converſion, eſpecially when Converſion is wrought at riper age, and is uſher'd in by a greater degree of the Spirit of Bondage, and deep inward Terrors. Thus the Prodigal (the Emblem of a Convert ſo brought home to God) was entertain'd with the fatted Calf and Muſick, but all find not this preſently, as ſome do.

2*ly,* Times of eminent Communion with God are ſealing times. There are extraordinary outlets of Peace, Joy, and Comfort, at ſome ſeaſons, in Duty, which makes the ſtate of the Soul very clear, and baniſhes all Scruples and Fears from the Heart.

3*ly,* Others are ſeal'd upon ſome eminent hazard they have been expos'd to for Chriſt, or ſome extraordinary Sufferings they have undergone for Chriſt, wherein they have carried it with eminent meekneſs, patience, and ſelf-denial, 2 Cor. 1. 4, 5. Thus the Martyrs were many times ſeal'd in the depth of their Sufferings.

4*ly,* It's uſually found that a ſealing-time follows a dark day of deſertion and ſore combats with Temptation; poſt nubila Phœbus. So that Text, Rev. 2. 17. is expounded by ſome, To him that overcometh will I give the white ſtone, and the new name.

5ly, Dying-times prove Sealing-times to many Souls, if their whole Life hath been like that Day deſcrib'd by the Prophet, Zech. 14. 17. neither dark nor light, a Life betwixt Hopes and Fears, yet at Evening time it hath been light.

3 Diſtinction. Laſtly, We muſt diſtinguiſh the ſeveral ways and manners of ſealing: Some are extraordinary and immediate, vouchſafed only to ſome perſons, at ſome ſpecial times and ſeaſons. Thus Zacheus was in an extraordinary and immediate way aſcertain'd of his Salvation, Luke 19. 9. This day is Salvation come to this houſe. And ſo the Palſie-man, Mark 2, 5. Son, (ſaith Chriſt) thy ſins be forgiven thee. But theſe immediate ways are ceaſed, no man may now expect by any new Revelation or Sign from Heaven, by any Voice or extraordinary Inſpiration, to have his Salvation ſeal'd, but muſt expect that Mercy in God's ordinary way and method, ſearching the Scriptures, examining our own Hearts, and waiting on the Lord in Prayer.

The Learned Gerſon gives an inſtance of one that had been long upon the Borders of Deſpair, and at laſt ſweetly aſſur'd and ſetled; and being ask'd how he attain'd that Aſſurance, he anſwer'd, Non ex nova aliqua revelatione,&c. Not by any new Revelation, but by ſubjecting my Underſtanding to, and comparing my Heart with the written Word.

And Mr. Roberts, in his Treatiſe of the Covenants, ſpeaks of another that ſo vehemently panted after the Sealings and Aſſurance of the Love of God to his Soul, that for a long time he earneſtly deſir'd ſome Voice from Heaven; and ſometimes walking in the ſolitary Fields, earneſtly deſir'd ſome miraculous Voice from the Trees or Stones there: This was denied him, but in time a better was afforded in a Scriptural way.

Now to reſolve the Query out of theſe Diſtinctions.

Firſt, Tho' all Believers have not the formal Sealings of the Spirit, they have the objective or material Seal; that is, the Spirit is in them as a ſanctifying Spirit, putting a real difference betwixt them and others, when he is not with them by way of Evidence and Aſſurance of Sanctification.

Secondly, Tho' all Believers are not ſeal'd at one and the ſame time, yet there are few, if any Believers, but do meet with one ſeaſon or other in this life, wherein the Lord doth ſeal them, if not at their firſt cloſe with Chriſt, as many have been ſealed, yet in ſome choice and eminent ſeaſon of communion with God: ſuch precious ſeaſons moſt Chriſtians can ſpeak of; tho', as Bernard ſpeaks, it be rara hora, brevis mora, ſeldom, but ſweet: Or if not in the courſe of their active Obedience, 'tis a thouſand to one but they ſhall meet it in the way of their paſſive Obedience, if God exerciſe them eminently under the Croſs, or after a dark cloud of deſertion, or in a dying hour.

Thirdly, and laſtly, Though God now ſeals not men in an extraordinary and immediate way by Revelation, immediate Inſpiration, or Voices from Heaven, yet moſt Chriſtians are ſealed in the ordinary way of the Spirit, under one Ordinance or other, in one Duty or other.

4 Query. What is the Privilege of being ſealed by the Spirit?

Anſw. Much every way; words cannot expreſs the Riches of this Mercy: for let us but conſider the four following particulars, and you will admire the Mercy.

Firſt, Conſider whoſe act and proper work Sealing is. God doth not ſend Angels upon this Errand; though, if he did, that would be a great honour to poor Duſt and Aſhes, but he ſends his Spirit to do it. Oh, the Condeſcention of the great God to men! this is a greater honour than if millions of Angels were imploy'd about it.

And then, as to certainty and ſatisfaction, it is beyond all other ways and methods in the World; for in miraculous Voices and Inſpirations it's poſſible there may, ſubeſſe fallum, be found ſome Cheats or Impoſture of the Devil; but the Spirit's Witneſs in the Heart, ſuitable to his Revelation in the Scripture, cannot deceive us.

Secondly, The Concluſion or Truth ſeal'd is raviſhing and tranſporting. All Chriſtians vehemently pant for it, ſew have the enjoyment of it for any long continuance; but whilſt they do enjoy it, they enjoy Heaven upon Earth, a Joy beyond all the Joys of this World. To have this Concluſion ſurely ſealed, Chriſt is mine, my Sin is pardon'd, I ſhall be ſaved from Wrath thro' him; O, what is this! what is this!

Thirdly, Conſider the Subject or Perſon ſealed, a poor ſinful wretch, that haſt ten thouſand times over-grieved the good Spirit of God, by whom notwithſtanding thou art ſealed to the Day of Redemption: Thou haſt by every Sin deſerved to be ſealed up to Damnation: Thou haſt reaſon to account and eſteem thy ſelf much inferior in Graces and Duties to many thouſands of the Saints that are panting after this Privilege, and cannot obtain it: O the Riches of the Goodneſs of God!

Fourthly, and laſtly, Conſider the Deſigns and Aims of the Spirit in his ſealing thy Soul, which are;

1. To ſecure Heaven to thee for ever.

2. As intermediate thereunto, to bring very much of Heaven into thy Soul, in the way to it; indeed to give thee two Heavens, whilſt many others muſt ſuffer two Hells.

5 Query. Laſtly, we will enquire, What are the effects of the Spirits ſealing upon our Souls, by which we may diſtinguiſh and clearly diſcern it from all deluſions of Satan, and all Impoſtures whatſoever?

Anſw. The genuine and proper effects and fruits of ſealing are, 1. Inflamed Love. 2. Renewed Care. 3. Deep Abaſements. 4. Encreaſe of Strength. 5. A deſire to be with the Lord. 6. Improved Mortification to the World.

Whereſoever theſe are found conſequent to our Communion with God, and his maniſeſtations of himſelf to us therein, they put it beyond all doubt that it was the Seal of his own bleſſed Spirit, and no Deluſion.

1. The Sealings of the Spirit cannot but inflame the Love of the Soul in a very intenſe degree towards God; one Flame doth not more naturally beget another, than the Love of God doth kindle the love of a gracious Soul to him: We have known and believed the love that God hath to us, 1 John 4. 16, 19. When Chriſt had forgiven much to that poor Woman that had ſin'd much, and maniſeſted pardoning Mercy to her Soul; O, how much was her Love to Chriſt inflamed thereby? Luke 7. 47.

Renewed Care and Diligence follows the Sealings of the Spirit. Now is the Soul at the Foot of Chriſt, as Mary was at the Sepulchre, with Fear and great Joy. He that travels the Road with a rich Treaſure about him, is afraid of a Thief in every Buſh. This is exemplified in the Spouſe, who had endured many a ſad Day and Night in Chriſts abſence, and ſought him ſorrowing: But when ſhe had regained his felt and ſenſible Preſence, it's ſaid, Cant. 3. 4. I found him whom my Soul loveth; I held him, and would not let him go.

She doth not (as Mr. Durham ſpeaks) lay by Diligence, as if all were done; but is of new taken up, with as great care to retain and improve this Mercy, as before ſhe was ſollicitous to obtain it. Whether a Believer want or have, whether he be ſeeking or enjoying, there is ſtill matter of Exerciſe for him in his Condition.

Deep Abaſement, and great Humblings, uſe to follow the eminent Appearances of God to the Souls of Men. Lord (ſaith that Diſciple) how is it that thou wilt manifeſt thy ſelf to us, and not unto the World? John 14. 22. When God ſealed the Covenant to Abraham, to be a God to him, at this Abraham fell upon his Face, Gen 17. 1, 2, 3. Never doth a Soul lie lower in the Duſt, and abhor it ſelf, than when the Lord makes the moſt ſignal Manifeſtations of his Grace and Love to it.

Increaſed ſtrength follows the Sealings of the Spirit. New Powers enter into the Soul, and a ſenſible Improvement of its Abilities for Duty: Or ever I was aware (ſaith the Spouſe), my Soul made me as the Chariots of Aminadab, Cant. 6.12.

Now the Wheels of the Soul being oiled with the Joy and Comfort of the Spirit, run nimbly in the Ways of Obedience. The Joy of the Lord is your ſtrength.

Fifthly, Sealings of the Spirit, inflame the Deſires of the Soul after Heaven, and make it long to go home. Nothing makes Death ſo undeſirable to the Saints, as the Doubts and Fears that hang upon their Spirits, about their Condition. Were their Evidences for Heaven clear, and their Doubts reſolved, they would, as the Apoſtle ſpeaks, Deſire to be diſſolved, and to be with Chriſt, Phil. 1. 23. If once the great Queſtion of our Intereſt in Chriſt be throughly decided, and all be clear, betwixt us and our God, we ſhall find Life the Matter of Patience, and Death the Object of Deſire.

Sixthly, and Laſtly, Improved Mortification to the World, flows naturally from the Sealings and Aſſurances of the Love of God to our Souls. It is with our Souls after ſuch a view of Heaven, and a ſealed Intereſt therein, as it is with him that hath been gazing upon that glorious Creature the Sun, when he comes to caſt his Eye again upon the Earth, all things ſeem dark and cloudy to him. He ſees no Beauty in any of thoſe things, becauſe of that excellent Luſtre which he lately beheld. We know (ſaith the Apoſtle) that if our earthly houſe of this Tabernacle were diſſolv'd, we have a building of God, an houſe not made with hands, eternal in the Heavens; there's Aſſurance or Sealing: For in this we groan earneſtly, deſiring to be cloathed upon with our houſe which is from Heaven. There's the natural effect of it, 2 Cor. 5. 1, 2.

Uſes. The Point ſpeaks to three ſorts of Perſons, viz. 1. To thoſe that have not yet been ſealed. 2. To thoſe that once had, but now want this Comfort. 3. To thoſe that enjoy the Comforts of it.

Firſt, To thoſe that yet want this Mercy, who have not been formerly ſealed by any aſſurance of their Title to Chriſt, but all their Days have been clogg'd with Fears and Doubts of their Condition. To ſuch my Counſel is,

Firſt, That you be not quiet under theſe Uncertainties, but pant after the Aſſurance of Peace and Pardon. Say unto Chriſt as the Spouſe did, Cant. 8. 6. Set me as a Seal upon thy Heart, as a Seal upon thine Arm: Pant after it as David did, Pſalm 35. 3. Say unto my Soul, I am thy Salvation.

How can you look upon ſuch precious Promiſes, and not dare to taſte them? How can you hear others ſpeak of their Satisfaction, Peace, and Aſſurance, and be quiet until you alſo have attain'd it? What is it that hinders this Mercy that it cannot come home to your Souls? Is it your neglect of Duty? O ſtir up your ſelves to take hold of God! Is it want of a thorough Search and Examination of your State? O let not thine Eyes find reſt, 'till that be fully done: Is it ſome ſpecial Guilt upon thy Soul that grieves the Spirit of God? Be reſtleſs 'till it be removed. I know this Mercy is not at your Command, do what you can do; but yet I alſo know when God beſtows it, he uſually doth it in theſe ways of our Duty.

Secondly, To thoſe that once had, but now want this Bleſſing, who ſay as Job 29. 2, 3. O that it were with me as in days paſt! The Darkneſs is the greater to you, becauſe you have walked in the Light of the Lord. The Sum of Chriſt's Counſel in this Caſe is given in three words, Rev. 2. 5. Remember, Repent, Reform.

Firſt, Remember, (i. e.) ponder, conſider, compare time with time, and ſtate with ſtate, how well it once was, how ſad it now is.

Secondly, Repent, mourn over theſe your ſinful Relapſes; ſure you may challenge the firſt place among all the Mourners in the World. Your loſs is great. O better to have loſt the Light of your Eyes, than this ſweet Light of God's Countenance; your Sin hath ſeparated betwixt you and your God, O mourn over it.

Thirdly, Reform, Do your firſt Works again. O Chriſtian! conſider thy Heart is ſunk deeper into the World than it was wont to be. Thy Duties are fewer, and thy Zeal and Affection to God much abated. Return, return, O backſliding Soul, and labour to recover thy firſt Love to Chriſt, whatever Pains it coſt thee.

Laſtly, To thoſe that do enjoy theſe choice and invaluable Mercies, the Sealings of the Spirit.

Firſt, Take heed that you grieve not the good Spirit of God, By whom you are ſealed to the Day of Redemption, Eph. 4. 30. He hath comforted you, don't you grieve him: The Spirit is a tender and delicate thing, you may quickly deprive your ſelves of his Joy and Peace.

Secondly, Be humble under this Advancement and Dignity. If your Hearts once begin to ſwell, look out for humbling Diſpenſations quickly, 2 Cor. 12. 7. This Treaſure is always kept in the Veſſel of a contrite and humble Heart.

Thirdly, Keep cloſe to Duty; yea, tack one Duty to another by intermediate Ejaculations. If care of Duty be once remitted, you are not far from a ſad change of your Condition.

Fourthly, Improve all Ordinances, eſpecially this great Sealing Ordinance for your farther confirmation and eſtabliſhment. Act your Faith to the uttermoſt of its ability, upon Chriſt crucified, Comfort will flow in: The more the direct Acts of Faith are exerciſed, the more powerful and ſweet its reflex Acts are like to be.

The Fifth MEDITATION,

UPON

John 1. 29. Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the Sins of the World.

THE Scope of this Chapter, is to prove the Divinity and Eternal Godhead of Jeſus Chriſt. One of thoſe Arguments by which this great Article of Faith is confirmed and proved, is the Teſtimony of John. This Teſtimony of John is the more remarkable, becauſe it was before propheſied of him, that when the Meſſiah ſhould come, this Meſſenger ſhould go before his face to prepare the way for him, Mal. 3. 1.

Now among all the Teſtimonies that ever John gave of Chriſt, none ever was, or could be more full and clear than this in the Text.

Behold the Lamb of God which taketh away the Sins of the World.

In which Words are remarkable, 1. The Preface to his Teſtimony. 2. The Teſtimony it ſelf.

Firſt, The Preface, or Introduction to John's Teſtimony, Behold. There is a double uſe in Scripture of this Word. Sometimes its us'd by way of Indication, and ſometimes by way of Excitation. In the firſt it points out the Perſon; in the laſt it raiſes our Affections to him. In this place it hath both theſe Uſes.

Behold the Lamb of God, q. d. This is the great expectation and hope of all Ages. This Perſon whom you behold, is the Deſire of all Nations. Lo, this is God manifeſt in Fleſh. This is the great Sacrifice, the Lamb of God. Never did humane Eyes behold ſuch an Object before.

Secondly, The Teſtimony it ſelf, which muſt be conſidered two ways, as it reſpects, 1. The Truth and Reality. 2. The Vertue and Dignity of Chriſt its Object.

Firſt, John's Teſtimony reſpects the Truth and Reality of the Object; this is the Lamb of God, the very Anti-type, to which all legal Sacrifices had reſpect, and from which they derived all their Value and Vertue; Grace and Truth came by Chriſt, as he had ſaid before, ver. 17. The Paſchal Lamb for daily Sacrifice, were but the Types and Shadows of this Lamb of God.

Secondly, His Teſtimony reſpects the Vertue and Dignity of Chriſt and his Blood. He taketh away the Sin of the World. The Greek word, αἴρειν, (as De Dieu, a learned Critick obſerves) anſwers both the Hebrew words, נשׂא סבל and Iſa. 53. and ſignifie not only to bear, but to bear away: Portando expiat, expiando aufert, efficitque ut remittatur. By bearing Sin, he expiates it; by expiating, takes it away, or procures the remiſſion of it. The Expreſſion ſeems to allude to the ſcape Goat, mentioned Lev. 16. 22. Thus Chriſt really and wholly takes away the Sin of the World, (i. e.) the Sin of all Believers in the World, for whom he was ſacrificed, as Druſius well expounds it, concurrent with the Stream of ſound Expoſitors.

So that this is a very full Teſtimony, which John gives to Chriſt, and it is given with great affection and admiration of him: Behold, yea, admire in beholding the Lamb of God, which taketh away the Sin of the World; behold him with Affections ſuitable to ſuch an Object. Ecce perſona a Deo ordinata in victimam ad expiandum peccata, Grotius. Behold the Perſon appointed by God, for a Sacrifice to expiate Sin. Now tho' this Scripture be very fruitful in Practical Obſervations, yet it is not my purpoſe at this time to note or proſecute any of them, except this one, which riſes from the Præfatory Particle, or that Note of Admiration with which John's Teſtimony of Chriſt is uſher'd in; Behold the Lamb of God. And the Note thence will be this:

Doct. That Jeſus Chriſt the Lamb of God, is to be beheld with admiration and affection ſuitable to ſuch an Object.

Firſt, Carnally, with an Eye of Fleſh. So Men ſaw him in the days of his fleſh, and deſpiſed him, Iſa. 53. 2. Carnal Eyes ſaw no Beauty in him that he ſhould be deſired.

Secondly, Fiducially, by the Eye of Faith; believing is ſeeing Chriſt, John 6. 40. Faith is to the Saints inſtead of Eyes; by it they make Chriſt preſent, tho' the Heavens have received him out of our carnal ſight.

Thirdly, Beatifically, by the glorified Eye. So the Spirits of juſt Men made perfect, do by their mental Eye ſee him in Glory, and all the Saints, after the Reſurrection, ſhall with theſe Corporeal Eyes, ſee their Redeemer, according to Job 19. 26, 27.

The ſight of Chriſt by Faith (which is all the ſight of him that any Man now hath, or can have in this World) as it is much more excellent than the firſt, for bleſſed are they that have not ſeen, and yet believe, John 20. 29. So it is much inferiour to the laſt, 1 Cor. 13. 12. For now we ſee darkly through a glaſs, but then face to face. But tho' it be an inferiour Viſion, in reſpect of that which is immediate and perfect, yet the Eye of Faith is a precious Eye, and the Viſions of Chriſt by Faith, are raviſhing Viſions; and he that beholds Chriſt, the Lamb of God, by a ſteddy fixed Eye of Faith, cannot but admire, and be deeply affected with ſuch a ſight of him. The Views of Chriſt by Faith are raviſhing and tranſporting Views, 1 Pet. 1. 8. Whom having not ſeen ye love, in whom, tho' now ye ſee him not, yet believing, ye rejoyce with joy unſpeakable, and full of Glory.

It is a diſparagement to ſo glorious an Object as Chriſt, to behold him, and not wonder; to ſee, and not love him. Certainly the admiration, love, delight, and joy of our hearts, are all at the Command of Faith: For let us but conſider what raviſhing Excellencies are in Chriſt, for the Eye of a Believer to behold and admire.

Firſt, God is in Chriſt, 2 Cor. 5. 19. He is God manifeſt in the Fleſh. 1 Tim. 3. 16. A God Incarnate is the World's Wonder: Here is Finite and Infinite join'd in one, Eternity matcht with Time, the Creator and Creature making but one Perſon. The Lord hath created a new thing in the Earth, a Woman ſhall compaſs a Man, Jer. 31. 22. 'Tis an Argument of weakneſs to admire little things, and of ſtupidity not to admire great things. Many Miracles (ſaith one) were wrought by Chriſt in the Fleſh; but the greateſt of all Miracles was his aſſumption of Fleſh.

Secondly, The Wiſdom of God is in Chriſt; yea, in him are hid all the Treaſures of Wiſdom and Knowledge, Col. 2. 3. Never did the Divine Wiſdom diſplay its glorious Beams in the Eyes of Men and Angels in any Work of God, ſince the beginning of time, as it hath done in the deſignation of Chriſt to be the Lamb of God, a Sacrifice for Sin. Behold the Lamb of God; and in him, behold the unſearchable Wiſdom of God, in recovering the Elect perfectly from all the danger of Sin, and yet making Sin more dreadful to them, by the way of their recovery from it, than ever it could be made by any other Conſideration.

Infinite Wiſdom, in ſuiting the Sinners Remedy to the Cauſe of his Diſeaſe. The Diſeaſe was the Pride of Man; the Remedy was the Humiliation of the Son of God. Man affected to be as God, that ruin'd him, God comes down, aſſumes Fleſh, and will be found in faſhion as a Man, that ſaved him.

O profound Wiſdom! which from the loſs and ruine of our Primitive Glory, which was the undoing of us Soul and Body, takes the occaſion of raiſing us to a far better ſtate, and ſettles us in it, with a much better ſecurity than the former.

Who but Jeſus Chriſt, the Wiſdom of God (as he is call'd, 1 Cor. 1. 24) could ever have ordered and over-ruled the worſt of Evils, ſo as by occaſion of the breach of the Law to raiſe more Glory to God, than ever could have been given to him, by the moſt punctual Obſervation of its Commands, or by the moſt rigorous Execution of its Penalties. O the aſtoniſhing depth of Wiſdom!

Thirdly, The Love of God is in Chriſt. Behold the Love of God in the higheſt and moſt triumphant diſcovery that ever was, or can be made of it in this World, 1 Joh. 4. 10. Herein is Love, not that we loved him, but that he loved us, and ſent his Son to be the propitiation for our Sins. O here, here is the Love of God to Sinners; he manifeſts Love to us in our daily Proviſions, Protections, Deliverances, and Comforts. That we have Health to eat, when others groan under pains, therein is Love. That we have Bread to eat, when others are ready to periſh, therein is Love. O! but to have Chriſt to be a Propitiation for us, when the Angels that fell were left deſperate, therein was Love indeed. All the Love that breaks out in the variety of Providences for us in this World, in our Health and Eſtates, in our Relations and Comforts, is nothing compar'd with this Love. Herein is Love indeed.

Fourthly, The tender Mercies of God over poor Sinners are in Chriſt: As Chriſt is the Mercy promiſed, Luke 1. 72. the Capital Mercy, ſo he is the Channel through which all the ſtreams of God's Mercy flow freely to the Sons of Men, Jude 21. The Mercy of God to Eternal Life, or his ſaving Mercies, are only diſpenſed to us through Jeſus Chriſt. Behold the Lamb of God! A Lamb prepared by the aſtoniſhing Mercy of God, a Sacrifice for us, when no Sacrifice laid out for fallen Angels. Mercy alone hath made this difference; Mercy opened its tender Eye, and looked through Chriſt upon us in the depth of our Miſery: In Chriſt it is, that the milder Attribute of Mercy is exerciſed upon us, whilſt ſevere Juſtice puniſhes them.

Fifthly, All the hopes of poor Sinners are in Chriſt, Col. 1. 27. 'Tis by the Blood of the Lamb then we have hope towards God: In his Oblation, and no where elſe, our hope of Salvation finds footing. On him it is the Anchor of Hope is fixed, and the Soul ſtayed, when the ſtorms of fear and inward trouble do ariſe, and beat violently upon it.

Sixthly, The Salvation of our Souls to Eternity is in Chriſt, Acts 4. 12. Neither is there any other Name given under Heaven, by which we muſt be ſaved. He is the Ark in whom we are preſerved, Jude v. 1. Look as the ſprinkling of the Blood of the Paſchal Lamb, upon the Door-poſts of the Iſraelites, was that which preſerved them from the deſtroying Angel; ſo the Blood of Chriſt the Lamb of God, typified by that Blood, ſaves Believers from the Wrath to come.

But who can open the unſearchable Riches, or recount the raviſhing Excellencies found in Chriſt? Angels, and the Spirits of Juſt Men made perfect, behold and admire for evermore the incomparable Excellencies of Chriſt! Heaven would be no Heaven to them, if they could not behold Chriſt there, Pſalm 73. 25.

But my buſineſs rather lies in improving this Point, than endeavouring farther to unfold it; for new Wonders will appear in Chriſt, if we behold him to Eternity.

Uſe. And all the improvement I ſhall make of it, ſhall be in one Uſe of Exhortation, beſpeaking every one of you, whatever your preſent Condition and Eſtate be, to behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the ſin of the World. And,

Firſt, If there be found among you any that are ſenſible of a ſtony hard Heart, which cannot relent and mourn for all the wrong done to Jeſus Chriſt by ſin, whoſe affections are benumb'd and ſtupified by ſin; ſo that no Conſiderations they can urge upon their own Hearts, are able to thaw them, and cauſe a relenting pang for ſin. To ſuch I would direct the Words of this Text, as the moſt effectual means to melt ſuch Hearts. Look hither hard Heart, Behold the Lamb of God. Conſider, believe and apply what is here ſenſibly repreſented, and thy Heart is hard indeed, if it relent not upon ſuch a view of Chriſt. It's ſaid, Zech. 12. 10. They ſhall look upon me whom they have pierced, and mourn. Behold the Son of God brought as a Lamb to the ſlaughter, for thee a vile polluted Sinner: Behold the invaluable Blood of this ſacrifice ſhed for thee: Bring thy thoughts cloſe to this ſubject; think who it is that was made a Lamb for ſacrifice, for whom he endured all his unſpeakable ſufferings, how meekly and willingly he endured all the Wrath of God and Men; ſtanding in his perfect innocency to be ſlain for thee: Behold, he was made ſin for thee, who had no ſin, that thou who hadſt no Righteouſneſs, mighteſt be made the Righteouſneſs of God in him. O, whoever loved thee at that rate Chriſt hath done? Who would endure that Miſery that Chriſt did endure for thy ſake? Would thy Father, or the Wife of thy Boſom, or thy Friend, that is as thy own ſoul, be content to feel that for thee (tho' but one hour) which Chriſt felt, when his ſweat was as it had been great drops of Blood falling down to the ground? Nay, thou wouldſt never take ſuch a Cup for the ſaving of thine own Child, as Chriſt drank off, when he cried, My God, my God, why haſt thou forſaken me? Behold how he loved thee!

Surely if the Rocks rent aſunder at his Paſſion, thy Heart is harder than a Rock, if it thaw not at ſuch a ſight as this. Fix thine Eyes a while here, and thine Eye will affect thy Heart.

Secondly, Is there any among us that make too light of ſin, and are eaſily overcome by every Temptation to the commiſſion of it? O come hither, and behold the Lamb of God, and you cannot poſſibly have ſlight thoughts of ſin, after ſuch a ſight of Chriſt. See here the price of ſin, behold what it coſt the Lord Jeſus Chriſt to expiate it. Did he come into the World as a Lamb, bound with the Bands of an irreverſible Decree to die for ſin: Did he come from the Boſom of the Father to be our Ranſomer, and that at the price of his own Life? Did the hand of ſevere Juſtice ſhed the Heart-blood of this immaculate Lamb, to ſatisfie for the wrongs thy ſins have done to God? And yet canſt thou look upon ſin as a light matter? God forbid.

I remember when the Worthies of Iſrael brake through the Hoſt of the Philiſtins, and brought unto David the Waters of the Well of Bethlem: It's ſaid, 2 Sam. 23. 17. He would not drink thereof, but poured it out before the Lord, and ſaid, Be it far from me, that I ſhould do this: Is not this the Blood of the Men that went in jeopardy of their Lives?

He longed for it, and yet would not taſte it, how pleaſant ſoever it would have been to him, conſidering what hazard was run to obtain it.

Ah Chriſtian, it was but the hazard of their Blood, that gave check to David's Appetite to the Water; and if the Water had coſt an equal quantity of their Blood, yet it had been but a low Argument to diſſwade him from drinking it, to this Conſideration that now lies before thee. Thy ſin actually coſt the Blood of Chriſt, one drop whereof is more valuable than all humane Blood, and yet wilt thou not deny thy Luſts, nor reſiſt a Temptation for his ſake? Behold the Lamb of God ſlain for thy ſin; and thou canſt never have ſlight Thoughts of it any more.

Thirdly, Is there any among you that droop, and are diſcouraged in their Spirits, becauſe of their manifold aggravated Iniquities? who being overweighed with the burdenſome ſenſe of ſin, deſpond and ſink in their Minds; to ſuch I would apply the Words of my Text as a Sovereign Cordial to revive their Hearts and Hopes: Behold the Lamb of God, that taketh away the ſin of the World.

If the Blood of the Lamb can take away the Sin of the World, it can take away thy Sin, tho' there be a World of Sin in thee: For do but conſider Chriſt as deſigned from Eternity to be our Propitiation, John 6. 27. Him hath God the Father ſealed, as ſacrificed in our room in the fulneſs of time, 1 Cor, 5. 7. Chriſt our Paſſover is ſacrificed for us, as accepted by the Father with the greateſt content and pleaſure; even as a ſweet-ſmelling ſavour, Eph. 5. 2. as publickly juſtified and diſcharged by God the Creditor at his Reſurrection, 1 Tim. 3. 16. and John 16. 9. And laſtly, Conſider him as now in Heaven, where he appears before God for us, as a Lamb that had been ſlain, Rev. 5. 6. bearing the very Marks of his death, and preſenting them before God, as the moſt effectual and moving Plea to procure pardon and mercy for his People. Let theſe things, I ſay, be duly pondred, and nothing will be found more effectual to relieve the deſpondent Minds of poor Believers, againſt the ſinking ſence of their ſin.

He that repreſents himſelf in the Sacrament as wounded for you, ſhews at the ſame time, to the Father in Heaven, the real Body that was wounded; than which, nothing more effectually moves mercy, or ſtays the ſliding feet of a poor Believers hope: And that whether we conſider, Firſt, The Dignity of the Body which was wounded, the moſt hallowed and deeply ſanctified thing that ever was created, Luke 1. 35. That holy thing.

Secondly, Or his Vicegerency in ſuffering. He was wounded for our tranſgreſſions, Iſa. 53. 5. It was for that hard, proud, vain, dead Heart, that thou complaineſt of: Or,

Thirdly, The End and Deſign of thoſe Wounds, which was to repair the Honour of God, and the violated Law; the Language of that Blood (which is ſaid to ſpeak better things than the Blood of Abel, Heb. 12. 24.) is this.

Father, have theſe poor Souls wounded thy Name, thine Honour, thy Law? Behold the Wounds thy Juſtice hath inflicted on me for reparation of all that wrong they have done thee! Oh how ſweetly doth the Blood of the Lamb ſettle the Conſcience of a poor drooping Believer.

Fourthly, Is there any among you, that are faint-hearted and ready to ſhrink away from any Sufferings for Chriſt, as unable to bear and endure any thing for his ſake? To ſuch I would ſay in the words of this Text, Behold the Lamb of God. Did Chriſt ſuffer ſuch grievous things for you, and cannot you ſuffer ſmall matters for him? Alas, what is the Wrath of Man, to the Wrath of the great and terrible God. Beſides, he was an innocent Lamb, and deſerved! not to ſuffer the leaſt degree of Penal Evil upon his own account, but thou haſt deſerved Hell, and yet ſhrinkeſt under the ſuffering of a moment. Did he ſuffer ſo much for you, and can you ſuffer nothing for him? Surely he in ſuffering for you, hath left you an Example that you ſhould ſhould follow his ſteps, 1 Pet. 2. 21. What! is our Blood compar'd in dignity to the Blood of Chriſt? What! are our Sufferings compar'd in kind or degree to the Sufferings of Chriſt? Nothing is found to fortifie a man's ſpirit for ſufferings, as the meditation of Chriſt's ſufferings for us doth.

Fifthly, Is there any among you that are impatient under your own perſonal tryals and troubles, apt to howl under common afflictions from the hand of God, or ſwell with revenge under injuries from the hands of men? To ſuch I would ſay, Behold the Lamb of God. Was Chriſt a Lamb for meekneſs, and art thou a Lion for fierceneſs? Was he ſilent, not once opening his Mouth when he ſuffer'd moſt vile things from the hands of Sinners, and can you bear nothing? he ſuffer'd patiently, and deſerved it not; you ſuffer impatiently, and have deſerved infinitely more.

O that you would learn to be more Chriſt-like in all your tryals and afflictions. Let it not be ſaid that Chriſt carried it as a Lamb when he was tried, and we like Swine, grumbling or howling when we are tried. O get a Chriſt-like Temper.

Sixthly, Is there any among you that ſtagger at the Promiſes through Unbelief; that cannot rely upon a Word of promiſe, becauſe their own unbelieving hearts fill them with unworthy ſuſpicions of the power, faithfulneſs, or willingneſs of God to perform them to them? O that ſuch would behold the Lamb of God, as repreſented in this Ordinance! Are not all the Promiſes of God ſealed to Believers in the Blood of this Lamb? Heb. 9. 17, 18, 19, 20. Are not all the Promiſes of God in Chriſt, Yea and Amen, to all that are in him? 2 Cor. 1. 20. Or is there any thing put into any Promiſe of greater value than the Blood of the Lamb, that was ſhed to purchaſe it? Or is not the giving of Chriſt to die for us the accompliſhment of the greateſt Promiſe that ever God made to us? And after the fulfilling thereof, what ground remains for any to doubt the fulfilling of leſſer Promiſes?

Laſtly, Is there any among you that deſire to get up your Affections at this Table, to have your hearts in a melting temper, to awaken and rouze up all the powers of your Souls in ſo great an occaſion for it as this? Behold the Lamb of God, and this will do it.

Chriſt calls off your Eyes and Thoughts from all other Objects to himſelf, Iſa. 65. 11. I ſaid, behold me, behold me. Fix the Eye of Faith here, and you will feel a pang quickly coming upon your hearts like that, Cant. 2. 5. Stay me with the Flaggons, comfort me with Apples, I am ſick with love. Your eye will affect your hearts; whilſt you behold, your hearts will melt within you.

The Sixth MEDITATION,

UPON

Romans 8. 32. He that ſpared not his own Son, but delivered him up for us all, how ſhall he not with him alſo freely give us all things?

THIS Scripture contains a moſt weighty Argument to encourage and confirm the Faith of Chriſtians in the expectation of all ſpiritual and temporal Mercies. It proceeds from the greater to the leſſer affirmatively. He that deliver'd his Son for us, what can he deny us after ſuch a gift? Every word hath its weight.

Did not God ſpare (i. e. abate) any thing which his Juſtice could inflict upon his Son, his own Son, oppoſed here to his adopted Sons, as being infinitely more excellent than they, and moſt dear to him above and beyond all others? but on the contrary deliver'd him up, how dear ſoever he was unto him, to humiliation, contradiction of Sinners, to all ſorrows and temptations, yea, to death, and that of the Croſs, and all this for us, for us ſinners, for us enemies to God, for us unlovely wretches? How ſhall he not with him alſo freely give us all things? How is it imaginable that God ſhould with-hold, after this, Spirituals or Temporals from his People? how ſhall he not call them effectually, juſtifie them freely, ſanctifie them throughly, and glorifie them eternally? how ſhall he not cloath them, feed them, protect and deliver them?

Surely if he would not ſpare or abate to his own Son one ſtroke, one tear, one groan, one ſigh, one circumſtance of miſery, it can never be imagin'd that ever he ſhould after this deny or withhold from his People, for whoſe ſakes all this was ſuffer'd, any Mercies, any Comforts, any Privilege, ſpiritual or temporal, which is good for them and needful to them. So that in the words we find, 1. a Propoſition, 2. an Inference from it.

The Propoſition opens the ſeverity of God's Juſtice to Chriſt; the Inference declares the Riches of his Mercy to us in Chriſt.

1. We have here before us a Propoſition, containing the ſeverity of Divine Juſtice towards Chriſt; and this is expreſſed two ways, viz.

1*ſt*, Negatively; he ſpared him not.

2*dly*, Affirmatively; he delivered him up for us.

1*ſt*, Negatively; He ſpared not his own Son. There is a threefold Mercy of God, viz. Preventing Mercy, which ſteps between us and trouble: Delivering Mercy, which takes us out of the hand of trouble: and Sparing Mercy, which tho' it do not prevent nor deliver, yet it mitigates, allays, and graciouſly moderates our Troubles; and tho' ſparing Mercy be deſirable and ſweet, yet it is the leaſt and loweſt ſort of Mercy that God exerciſes towards any. Tho' it be Mercy to have the time of Sufferings ſhortned, or one degree of Suffering abated, yet theſe are the loweſt and leaſt effects of Mercy, and yet were denied to Jeſus Chriſt, when he ſtood in our room to ſatiſfie for us. God ſpared not one drop, he abated not one degree of that Wrath which Chriſt was to ſuffer for us.

2dly, Affirmatively; but on the contrary, He delivered him up for us all.

He delivered him, as a Judge by Sentence of Law delivers up the Priſoner to be executed. 'Tis true, Pilate deliver'd him to be crucified, and he alſo gave himſelf for us; but betwixt God's delivering, Pilate's delivering, and his own, there is this difference to be obſerv'd: In God it was an act of higheſt Juſtice; in Pilate an act of greateſt Wickedneſs; in himſelf, an act of wonderful Obedience.

God, as by an act of higheſt Juſtice, delivered him up for us. For us, notes the Vicegerency of his Sufferings, not only for our good, as the final cauſe, nor only for our ſins as the meritorious cauſe, but for us, (i. e.) in our room, place or ſtead, according to 1 Pet. 3 18. & 2 Cor. 5. 14.

Secondly, We have alſo here before us a moſt ſweet and comfortable Inference and Concluſion, from this Propoſition. If God have ſo delivered him, how ſhall he not with him freely give us all things? For Chriſt comprehends all other Mercies in himſelf; therefore in giving him for us, all other Mercies are neceſſarily with him given to us.

And theſe Mercies the pooreſt, weakeſt Believer in the World may warrantably expect from God; for as God delivered him for us, all ſpiritual and temporal Mercies are thereby freely opened to us all, to the weak as well as to the ſtrong.

He ſaith not, Chriſt was delivered for all abſolutely, but for us all, (i. e.) all that believe, all that are elected and called; in whoſe Perſon it is manifeſt the Apoſtle here ſpeaks, as Pareus on the place well obſerves: hence theſe two Doctrinal Concluſions fairly offer themſelves.

Doct. 1. That the rigor and ſeverity of Divine Juſtice was executed upon Jeſus Chriſt, when he ſuffered for us.

Doct. 2. That Believers may ſtrongly infer the greateſt of Mercies to themſelves, from the ſeverity of God's Juſtice to Jeſus Chriſt.

I would willingly ſpeak to both theſe points at this time, each affording ſuch proper matter of meditation to us in ſuch a ſeaſon as this. To begin therefore with the firſt Obſervation.

Doct. 1. That the rigor and ſeverity of Divine Juſtice was executed upon Jeſus Chriſt, when he ſuffered for us; God did not ſpare him.

In Zech. 13. 7. you have God's Commiſſion given to the Sword of Juſtice, to ſmite his own Son, and that without pity; Awake, O Sword, againſt the man that is my fellow, ſmite the Shepherd, &c. When this Commiſſion came to be executed upon Chriſt, the Text tells us, God did not ſpare him. All the Vials of his Wrath were poured out to the laſt drop.

Two things require our attention in this point, 1. Wherein the ſeverity of Juſtice to Chriſt appeared; 2. Why muſt Juſtice be executed on him in ſuch rigor and ſeverity; why there could be no abatement, mitigation, or ſparing mercy ſhewn him in that day.

1. Wherein the ſeverity of Divine Juſtice to Chriſt appeared. And this manifeſts it ſelf in the conſideration of the following particulars.

Firſt, Let us conſider what Jeſus Chriſt ſuffered, and we ſhall ſee the ſeverity of Juſtice in his Sufferings, for he ſuffered all kinds of Miſeries, and that in the moſt intenſe degrees of them: his Sufferings were from all hands, from Heaven, Earth, and Hell; from his Enemies, who condemned him, buffeted him, reviled, ſcourged, and crucified him; from his own Diſciples and Followers, one of whom perfidiouſly betray'd him, another openly denied him, and all in the hour of his greateſt trouble forſook and abandon'd him.

He ſuffer'd in his Body the moſt exquiſite Torments; the Croſs was a cruel Engine of Torment, and more ſo to him than any other, by reaſon of the excellent Craſis and temperament of his Body, and his moſt acute and delicate ſenſe; for as the Schoolmen truly ſay, he was optime complexionatus, of the moſt exact and exquiſite complexion; and his Senſes remain'd acute and vigorous, no way blunted, during the whole time of his ſufferings, but full of life and ſenſe to the laſt gaſp, as may be gather'd from Mark 15. 39. When the Centurion which ſtood over againſt him ſaw that he ſo cried out, and gave up the ghoſt, he ſaid, Truly this was the Son of God.

He ſuffer'd in his Soul; yea, the ſufferings of his Soul were the very ſoul of his ſufferings; he felt in his inner man the exquiſite torments and inexpreſſible anguiſh of the Wrath of God. Hence was that preternatural bloody Sweat in the Garden; and hence that heart-rending outcry upon the Croſs, My God, my God, why haſt thou forſaken me?

In all which Sufferings from Heaven, from Earth, from Hell, from Friends, from Enemies, there was no allay, no abatement of the leaſt degree of miſery. God ſpared not his own Son, (ſaith the Text) but delivered him up. Wherein the ſeverity of Divine Juſtice to Jeſus Chriſt is diſplay'd in theſe five remarkable Conſiderations following.

Firſt, God ſpared not. If mercy, pity, and forbearance might be expected from any hand, ſurely it might be God; he is the Fountain of mercy, The Lord is very pitiful, and of tender mercy, ſaith the Apoſtle, Jam. 5. 11. The moſt melting and tender Compaſſions of a Mother to her ſucking Child are but Cruelty in compariſon with Divine Tenderneſs and Mercy, Iſa. 49. 15. Can a Woman forget her ſucking Child, that ſhe ſhould not have compaſſion upon the ſon of her womb? Yea, they may forget, yet will I not forget thee.

Can a Woman, the more affectionate Sex, forget her ſucking Child, her own Child, and not a nurſe-child? only her own Child, whilſt it hangs on her Breaſt, and with the Milk from her Breaſt draws Love from her Heart; can ſuch a thing as this be in Nature? Poſſibly it may, ſome ſuch cruel Mothers may be found, but yet I will not forget thee, ſaith God. Tho' humane corrupt Nature may be ſo vitiated, yet from the divine Nature Compaſſion and Mercy are inſeparable; it flows as Waters flow from their Fountain, only here it reſtrain'd it ſelf, and let not out one drop to Jeſus Chriſt, in the day of his ſufferings. God, the God of Mercy, ſpared not.

Secondly, God ſpared not, ſaith the Text, (i e.) he abated not any thing which Juſtice could inflict: Chriſt was not ſpared one ſtroke, one tear, one groan, one drop, one ſigh, one ſhame, one circumſtance, no, not the leaſt, which Juſtice could demand as ſatisfaction for Man's Sin.

There be divers kinds of Mercy in God; there is in him preventing mercy, delivering mercy, and ſparing mercy. Now ſparing mercy (as Mr. Caryl on Job well obſerves) is the loweſt mercy of all the three; 'tis leſs mercy to be ſpar'd or abated ſome degree or circumſtance of miſery, than to have miſeries prevented by mercies ſtepping in betwixt us and it; it's leſs alſo than to be wholly deliver'd out of the hand of miſery. Either of theſe are greater acts of mercy than to abate a degree, or ſhorten an hour of our trouble; the leaſt abatement of any one circumſtance of miſery had been ſparing mercy, tho' it had been but the leaſt and loweſt act of mercy; and yet even this was denied to Chriſt, he was not abated one minute of time, or the leaſt degree of ſorrow, God ſpared not.

Thirdly, He ſpared not his own Son, τ̃ ὑιὸν ἴδιον: So ſtiled Signanter his own or his proper Son, in a ſpecial and peculiar manner nearer and dearer to him than Angels, who are his Sons by Creation, Job 1. 6. or any of the Saints, who are his Sons by Grace, in the way of Regeneration and Adoption, John 1. 12, 13. This was his own Son by Nature, a Son of an higher rank and order, Pſal. 2. 7. begotten in an ineffable manner, from all Eternity, in his own Divine Eſſence; and ſo is his Son by Nature, having the ſame Eſſence and Nature with the Father, being co equal, co-eſſential and co-eternal with the Father.

No Relation in Nature is ſo intimate, ſtrict and dear as this; our Children are not ſo much our own Children, are not ſo much our own Bodies as Chriſt was God's own Son; and yet tho' he were ſo dear to him, his other Self, his expreſs Image, his own dear Son, he ſpared him not. God ſpared not his own Son.

Fourthly, And that which makes a farther diſcovery of divine ſeverity towards Jeſus Chriſt is this, that God ſpared not his own Son in the day of his greateſt diſtreſs, when he cried to his Father in an Agony, that if it were poſſible the Cup might paſs from him: for of that day this Scripture is mainly to be underſtood, the day when he fell to the ground and pray'd, That if it were poſſible the hour might paſs. When he ſaid, Abba Father, all things are poſſible to thee, take away this cup from me, Mark 14. 35, 36. He beheld his own dear Son ſweltering great drops of Blood, crying, If it be poſſible, let this hour this cup paſs, and yet it could not be granted. O the Severity of God! he heard the cry of Ahab, and ſpared him; he heard the Ninevites cry, and ſpared them; he heard the crys of Hagar and Iſhmael, and ſpared them: yea, he hears the young Ravens when they cry, and feeds them; but when his own Son cried with the moſt vehement cry, that the Cup might paſs, he cannot be excus'd, he muſt drink it up, even the very dregs of the Cup of trembling, and that to the laſt drop. O, the Juſtice and Severity of God!

Fifthly, and laſtly, Conſider what the Father of Mercies did inſtead of ſparing the Son of his love, and the Text will inform you, that he delivered him up for us all. So 'tis noted in Acts 2. 23. Him being delivered by the determinate counſel and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken, and with wicked hands have crucified and ſlain.

There was a Conceſſion or Permiſſion to thoſe wicked Inſtruments that ſhed his Blood, a looſing of the Chain to thoſe Bandogs that compaſſed him about. Such a Conceſſion as was never given them before, for ſtill they were tied up from perpetrating their wickedneſs, but now the reſtraints of Providence are taken away, and he is deliver'd unto their will, his own Father delivers him into the hands of Cruelty. And thus you ſee wherein the Severity of Divine Juſtice to Chriſt was manifeſt.

In the laſt place, let us ſee the ground and reaſon of this Rigor and Severity to Chriſt: Now there are, among others, Three ſpecial Reaſons why Chriſt could not be ſpared.

The Honour of Divine Juſtice requir'd, that he ſhould ſuffer the utmoſt degree of puniſhment. It was meet that the Rights of Heaven ſhould be vindicated to the full, and that the Juſtice of God ſhould have the laſt Mite it could demand for ſatisfaction. And this was the ſpecial deſign and aim of God in the Sufferings of Chriſt, as the Apoſtle ſpeaks, Rom. 3. 25, 26. It was to declare his righteouſneſs; and leſt we ſhould loſe the emphatical word, it is doubled and repeated, to declare, I ſay, at this time his righteouſneſs. And indeed herein God fully obtain'd his deſign; for never was Juſtice ſo honour'd before, to have ſuch a perſon as the Son of God at its Bar, and ſuch a Sum as his Blood paid down at once for our diſcharge. So that Juſtice triumphs as well as Mercy, and one Attribute is not robb'd to pay another.

As it was neceſſary to God's ſatisfaction, ſo it was neceſſary to ours alſo. If the Lord Jeſus had not made full payment to the utmoſt mite, we could never have had full ſatisfaction in our Conſciences, about that deep and dear concernment of our Souls, the remiſſion of Sin. Man is a guilty and a ſuſpicious Creature, and hard to be brought to an entire confidence in the Pardoning Mercy of God. Yea, it is impoſſible to perſwade a convinced Conſcience of the poſſibility of Remiſſion, except you can alſo prove the fulneſs of divine ſatisfaction; for Conſcience requires as much to ſatisfie it, as God doth to ſatisfie him. If God be ſatisfied, then Conſcience can be ſatisfied too, and ſecurely reſt upon that ground; but if there be any doubt of that, there is no appeaſing of an anxious and jealous Conſcience. Greatly therefore hath God conſulted our Peace in the ſeverity of his Juſtice to Jeſus Chriſt. Now the God of peace, who brought again from the dead our Lord Jeſus, that great ſhepherd of the Sheep, through the blood of the everlaſting covenant, Heb. 13. 20. Let the words be weigh'd; he is ſtiled the God of Peace when he brought back Chriſt from the dead. It was incenſed Juſtice that brought him back from the dead; and that which pacifies God, is the only thing in the World that is able to ſatisfie the Conſcience of a Sinner.

3. Therefore did God proceed with ſuch rigor and ſeverity with Jeſus Chriſt, that thereby the demerit and evil of Sin might be fully diſcovered to the World, and an everlaſting Caution left upon all Hearts to beware of contracting new Guilt.

If Juſtice had deſcended in a viſible form, and hang'd up millions of Sinners in Chains, it had not been ſuch a Warning as this againſt Sin. Nay, let me ſay, the grievous and external Torments that the Damn'd ſuffer in Hell, is not ſuch a demonſtration of the Evil of Sin as this is; for thoſe Torments are much unknown to Men till they feel them, and when they begin to feel them, it is too late to be convinc'd or caution'd againſt Sin then. But to ſee ſuch a Perſon as Chriſt expos'd to the utmoſt ſeverity of God's Wrath for our Sin, to ſee ſuch things done in the green Tree, may well make us cry out, Lord, what will be done to the dry Tree? O, the infinite Evil of Sin! O, the inflexible Severity of Divine Juſtice! It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.

In a word; hereby Jeſus Chriſt is endear'd the more to his People, by ſuffering ſuch great and hard things in their place, and for their ſakes. The extremity of his Sufferings for us, commends the ſtrength of his Affection to us.

And thus you ſee the Reaſons of all this Severity to Jeſus Chriſt. God intended the ſweeteſt Mercies for you, and therefore prepar'd the bittereſt Sufferings for Chriſt: from his deep Sufferings you may confidently conclude the beſt of Mercies are deſign'd for you; as you will hear in the ſecond Doctrine, which for diſpatch I purpoſe to handle, as one Uſe of this point now before me.

O, the admirable and aſtoniſhing love of God to us poor Worms of the Earth, to deliver up his own Son into the hands of his Enemies, that thirſted for his Blood! Long had they been reſtrain'd from ſatisfying their Wickedneſs, and executing their Malice, till now; and this was the hour which he often ſpake of, My hour is not yet come. But, O, what a diſmal hour was it when it did come, when Providence let looſe both Devils and Men upon Chriſt, deliver'd him over to the will of his Enemies! And this was not all; Chriſt was not only deliver'd up into the hands of the worſt of Men, but, which was much more terrible, into the ſevere hands of Divine Juſtice, to grapple with the pure, unmix'd, and unallay'd wrath of the great and terrible God.

Laſtly, We will improve this point by a double Uſe, of Information and Exhortation.

Uſe 1. Of Information.

The Severity of God's Juſtice to Jeſus Chriſt informs us what a dreadful evil Sin is, which ſo incenſes the Wrath of God even againſt his own Son, when he bare our Sins, and ſtood before the Bar of God as our Surety.

Come hither, hard Hearts, (hard indeed if this cannot break them) you complain you cannot ſee the evil of Sin, ſo as to be deeply humbled for it; fix your Eyes a while here, and intently conſider the point in hand: Suppoſe you ſaw a tender and pitiful Father come into open Court with Fury in his Face, to charge his own, his only, and his moſt beloved Son, and proſecute him to Death, and nothing able to ſatisfie him but his Blood, and be well pleas'd when he ſees it ſhed, would you not ſay, O, what horrid Evil hath he done? it muſt be ſome deep Wrong, ſome heinous Crime that he is guilty of, elſe it could never be that his own Father could forget his bowels of Pity and Mercy. Yet thus did the Wrath of God break forth againſt his dear Son, when he ſtood before the Bar charg'd, as our Surety, with the guilt of our Sins.

Secondly, Learn hence what a fearful thing it is to fall into the hands of the living God. Well might Luther cry out, Nolo Deum abſolutum, Let me have nothing to do with an abſolute God. Woe to them that ſtand before God in their own perſons, without Chriſt; how will Juſtice handle them! For if theſe things were done in the green tree, what ſhall be done in the dry tree? Luke 23. 31. Did the Son of God fear, tremble, ſweat clods of Blood? Did he ſtand amaz'd, and fall into ſuch an Agony of Soul when he drank that Cup, which he knew in a few hours he ſhould drink up, and then never taſte the bitterneſs of it more? How ſad is their caſe that muſt drink of that Cup for ever, a Cup that hath Eternity to the bottom!

Thirdly, How incomprehenſible and raviſhing is the love of God to Men, that would rather be ſo ſevere to Jeſus Chriſt, the Darling of his Soul, than make us the Objects of Wrath for ever? Which of you (though there be infinitely leſs Tenderneſs in your Hearts than God's) would lay your Hands upon a Child, the worſt Child you have, and put him to death, for the ſake of the beſt Friend you have in the World? But God with his own hand deliver'd his Son, his only Son, that from everlaſting was the delight of his Soul, who never offended him, to Death, the moſt curſed and cruel Death, and all this for Enemies: how unſpeakable is this Love, and paſt finding out!

Fourthly, Did not God ſpare his own Son? then let none of us ſpare our own Sins. Sin was that Sword which pierced Chriſt; O let ſorrow for Sin pierce your Hearts: If you ſpare Sin, God will not ſpare you, Deut. 29. 20. We ſpare Sin when we faintly oppoſe it, when we excuſe, cover and defend it, when we are impatient under juſt Rebukes and Reproofs for it; but all Kindneſs to Sin is Cruelty to our own Souls.

Fifthly, and laſtly, If God did not ſpare Chriſt, certainly he intends to ſpare Believers for his ſake.

The Surety could not be ſpar'd, that the Principal might be ſpar'd for ever. If God had ſpar'd him, he could not have ſpar'd us; if he afflicts his People, it is not for ſatisfaction to himſelf, but profit to us, Heb. 12. 10. Should God ſpare the Rod of Affliction, it would not be for our advantage; ſo many ſanctified Afflictions as are ſpared or abated, ſo many Mercies and ſpiritual Advantages are with-held from us. But as for thoſe Strokes of Juſtice that are the effects of God's vindictive Wrath, they ſhall never be felt by Believers for ever. All the Wrath, all the Curſe, all the Gall and Wormwood was ſqueez'd into Chriſt's Cup, and not one drop left to imbitter ours.

Uſe 2. Of Exhortation.

Did not God ſpare his own Son, but give him up to Death for us all? Then poſſeſs your Hearts fully in the aſſurance of this great Truth, That the greateſt and beſt of Mercies ſhall not be denied or with-held from you, if you be in Chriſt; lay it down as a ſure Concluſion of Faith, and build up your Hope and Comfort upon it. This takes in the ſecond Obſervation, and ſurely never was any Truth better fortified, never any Inference more ſtrongly inferr'd. Henceforth ye may infer Temporal, Spiritual, and Eternal Mercies; all muſt be yours if you be Chriſt's, 1 Cor. 3. 21, 22, 23. Oh, make ſure that Chriſt is yours, and never heſitate at any other Mercy; for,

Firſt, God hath certainly a value and eſteem for his own Son infinitely above all other things; he is his own Son, his dear Son, Col. 1. 13. the Beloved, Eph. 1. 6. The delight of his Soul, Iſa. 42. 1. Nothing is valued by God at that rate that Chriſt is valued. If therefore he ſpare not the moſt excellent Mercy, but parts with the very Darling of his Soul for us, how ſhall he deny or with-hold any leſſer inferiour Mercy? it is not to be imagin'd, for he is the Mercy, emphatically ſo call'd Luke 1. 72.

Secondly, Jeſus Chriſt is a Comprehenſive Mercy, including all other Mercies in himſelf; he is the Tree of Life, all other Mercies are but the Fruits growing on him; he is the Sun of Righteouſneſs, and whatever Comfort, ſpiritual or natural, refreſhes your Souls or Bodies, is but a Beam from that Sun, a Stream from that Fountain. If then God part with Chriſt to you, and for you, he will not with-hold other Mercies; he will not give the whole Tree, and deny an Apple; beſtow the Fountain it ſelf, and deny you the Streams. All ſpiritual Mercies are in him, and given with him, Epheſ. 1. 3. Bleſſed be the God and Father of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, who hath bleſſed us with all ſpiritual bleſſings, in heavenly places in Chriſt Jeſus. All Temporals are in him, and given with him, Matth. 6. 33. they are Additionals to that great Mercy.

Thirdly, If God ſpar'd not Chriſt, the beſt Mercy, but deliver'd him up for us all when we were his Enemies, then certainly he will not deny leſſer Mercies when we are reconciled and made Friends to him. And this is the forcible Reaſon of the Apoſtle, which even compels aſſent, Rom. 5. 9. Much more being now juſtified by his blood, we ſhall be ſaved from wrath through him. In a word, Fourthly, and laſtly, If it were the very deſign and intention of God in not ſparing his own Son, to open thereby a Door for all Mercies to be let in upon us, then 'tis not imaginable he ſhould with-hold them. He will not loſe his deſign, nor lay ſo many Stripes upon Chriſt in vain; ſome ſhall ſurely have the benefit of it, and none ſo capable as Believers.

When God ſpared not his own Son, this was the deſign of it, and could you know the thoughts of his Heart, they would appear to be ſuch as theſe.

I will now manifeſt the fierceneſs of my Wrath to Chriſt, and the fulneſs of my Love to Believers. The Pain ſhall be his, that the Eaſe and Reſt may be theirs; the Stripes his, and the healing Balm iſſuing from them theirs; the Condemnation his, and the Juſtification theirs; the Reproach and Shame his, and the Honour and Glory theirs; the Curſe his, and the Bleſſing theirs; the Death his, and the Life theirs; the Vinegar and Gall his, the ſweet of it theirs. He ſhall groan, and they ſhall triumph; he ſhall mourn, that they may rejoyce; his Heart ſhall be heavy for a time, that theirs may be light and glad for ever; he ſhall be forſaken, that they may never be forſaken; out of the worſt of Miſeries to him, ſhall ſpring the ſweeteſt of Mercies to them. O Grace! Grace beyond conception of the largeſt Mind, or the expreſſion of the Tongues of Angels!

---

The Seventh MEDITATION,

UPON

Mark 9. 24. And ſtraightway the Father of the Child cried, and ſaid with tears, Lord, I believe, help my unbelief.

THE occaſion of theſe words is to be gather'd from the Context, and briefly it was this: A tender Father brings a poſſeſs'd Child to Chriſt to be cur'd with ſi potes, a doubting Queſtion, If thou canſt do any thing, have compaſſion upon us, and help us. Words importing much natural affection and tender love to his Child. Have Compaſſion [upon us] and [help us.] If the Child be ſick, the Parent is not well; what touches the Child, is felt by his Father.

And as they import his natural affection to his Child, ſo alſo his own ſpiritual Diſeaſe, or the weakneſs of his Faith. His Child was poſſeſt with a dumb Devil, and himſelf with unbelieving doubts and ſuſpicions of Chriſt's ability to cure his Child: The Child had a ſick Body, and the Father an infirm Soul; Satan afflicted one by a Poſſeſſion, and the other by Temptation, Ver. 22.

Chriſt returns his doubting Language upon himſelf, ver. 23. If thou canſt believe, all things are poſſible to him that believeth; q. d. Doſt thou doubt of my ability to heal thy Child? Queſtion rather thy own ability to believe for his cure: If he be not heal'd, the cauſe will not be in my inability, but in thine own infidelity. Which he ſpeaks not to inſinuate, that Faith was in his own power, but to convince him of his weakneſs, and drive him to God for aſſiſtance, which effect it obtain'd; for immediately he cried out, and ſaid with tears, Lord, I believe, help thou mine unbelief.

O how good is it for men to be brought into the ſtreights of Affliction ſometimes! had not this man fallen into this diſtreſs, it's not like that he had (at leaſt not ſo ſoon) arrived either to the ſenſe of his Grace, or the weakneſs of it.

In the words we may note theſe three parts.

Firſt, A profeſſion of his Faith, Lord, I believe.

Secondly, A ſenſe of the weakneſs of his Faith, Help thou my unbelief.

Thirdly, The Affection with which both were uttered, He cried out, and ſaid with tears. If theſe Tears proceeded from the ſenſe and feeling of divine power enabling him to believe, as ſome think, then they were Tears of Joy, and would inform us of this great Truth.

Doct. 1. That the leaſt and loweſt meaſure of true Faith is matter of joy unſpeakable to the poſſeſſor of it.

If they proceeded from the ſenſe of the weakneſs of his Faith, then they give us this note.

Doct. 2. That the remainders of Unbelief in the People of God do coſt them many Tears, they are the Burdens and Sorrows of gracious Souls.

Doct. 1. That the leaſt and loweſt meaſure of Faith is matter of Joy unſpeakable to the poſſeſſor of it.

The Apoſtle, in 2 Pet. 1. 1. calls it precious Faith, and it well deſerves that Epithet, for the leaſt and loweſt degree of Saving Faith is of invaluable excellency; as will appear in theſe particulars.

Firſt, The leaſt degree of Saving Faith truly unites the Soul to Jeſus Chriſt, and makes it as really a Branch or Member of him, as Moſes, Abraham, or Paul were.

All Saving Faith receives Chriſt, John 1. 12. Indeed the ſtrong Believer receives him with a ſtronger and ſteadier hand than the weak one doth, who ſtaggers, doubts, and trembles, but yet receives him, and conſequently is as much intereſſed in the Bleſſed Privileges flowing from Heaven, as the greateſt Believer in the World. Such is Chriſt's complacency in our Perſons and Duties; his ſimpathy with us in our Troubles and Afflictions, and our intereſt in his Perſon and Purchaſe. And is not this matter of exceeding Joy? Is it not enough to melt, yea, overwhelm the Heart of a poor Sinner, to diſcover and feel that in his own Heart which entitles him to ſuch Mercies.

Secondly, From the leaſt degree of Saving Faith we may infer as plenary a remiſſion of Sin as from the ſtrongeſt. The weakeſt Believer is as compleatly pardoned as the ſtrongeſt, Acts 10. 43. By him all that believe are juſtified from all things. All that believe without difference of ſizes, ſtrength, or degrees, the leaſt as well as the greateſt, the Believer of a Day old, as well as the Fathers and Worthies of greateſt name and longeſt ſtanding.

Lo then, the leaſt meaſure of Faith entitles thee as really to the greateſt Bleſſing as the higheſt acts of Faith can do. 'Tis true, the ſtronger the acting of Faith is, the clearer the Evidence uſually is; but Intereſt in the Privilege is the ſame in both. If then thou canſt diſcern but the weakeſt act and ſmalleſt meaſure of Faith in thy Soul, haſt thou not reaſon, with him in the Text, to cry out, and ſay with tears, Lord, I believe? Canſt thou receive and read this Pardon of ſuch and ſo many Sins, and not wet it with thy Tears? O, it's matter of Joy unſpeakable.

Thirdly, The leaſt degree of Saving Faith inferſ thy Election of God; and if that be not matter of melting and tranſporting conſideration, nothing is. O, it's matter of more Joy, that our Names are written in the Book of Life, than that the Devils are ſubject to us, Luke 10. 20. From hence it may be inferred, that we are choſen of God, Acts 13. 48. As many as were ordained to eternal life believed.

Fourthly, The leaſt meaſure of Saving Faith is a Mercy greater than moſt Men ever partake of.

'Tis true, God is rich and bountiful in the Gifts of Providence to others, they have the good things of this Life, many of them more than their hearts can wiſh, Pſal. 73. 7. he enricheth many of them alſo with Endowments of the Mind, natural and moral Knowledge and Wiſdom, yea, and adorns them with Homilitical Virtues, that render them very deſirable and lovely in their converſes with Men; but there are but few to whom he gives ſaving Faith, Iſa. 53. 1. Believers are but a ſmall remnant among Men.

Fifthly, and laſtly, He that hath any, the leaſt degree of ſaving Faith, hath that which will never be taken from him, all other Excellencies go away at death, Job 4. 21. but this is a Spring that never fails, it ſprings up into everlaſting life, John 4. 14. A man may outlive his Friends and Familiars, his Eſtate and Health, his Gifts and natural Parts, but not his Faith: how great matter of Joy and Comfort is wrapt up in the leaſt degree of Faith!

Uſe 1. Of Tryal.

It concerns us then to examine our ſelves, whether our Faith be true, be it more or leſs, ſtronger or weaker, and till we diſcern its truth, it will yield us but little Comfort.

I confeſs, weak Believers are under great diſadvantages to Comfort, ſmall and weak things being uſually very inevident and undiſcernable; but yet in this Example before us we find weak Faith was made evident, though much Unbelief was mixed with it. Lord, I believe, help thou my unbelief; in which words many very uſeful ſigns of true, though weak Faith, did appear, and they are very relieving to weak Believers to conſider them; O, that we might find the like in us!

Firſt, His Faith gave him a tender melting Heart; He cried out, and ſaid with tears. Doth your Faith melt your Hearts, either in ſenſe of your own Vileneſs, or the Riches of Free Grace to ſuch vile Creatures?

Secondly, His Faith gave him a deep ſenſe of his remaining Unbelief, and burdened his Heart with it, Help my unbelief; and ſure ſo will yours, if it be but as a grain of Muſtard-ſeed in you.

Thirdly, His weak Faith carried him to Chriſt in fervent Prayers and Cries for his help to ſubdue Unbelief in him, and ſo will yours if your Faith be right. Oh, how often do the People of God go to the Throne of Grace upon that Errand? Help, Lord, my Heart is dead, vain, and very unbelieving; there's no dealing with it in my own ſtrength; Father, help me.

Fourthly, His weak Faith made him hunger and thirſt after greater meaſures of it; Help my unbelief, i.e. Lord, cure it, that I may believe with more ſtrong and ſteddy Acts of Faith; that I may not queſtion thy power any more, or ſay, If thou canſt do any thing. Why thus it will be with you, if you be true Believers, Luke 17. 5. Lord, (ſaid the Diſciples) increaſe our Faith.

Fifthly, There was a Conflict in his Soul betwixt Faith and Infidelity, Grace and Corruption, and this very ſenſible to him. Faith inclining him one way, and Unbelief carrying him another; and hence he ſpeaks like a Man greatly diſtreſſed betwixt the working of contrary Principles in his own Soul; and ſo you will alſo find it in your ſelves, Gal. 5. 17. The Fleſh luſteth againſt the Spirit, ſo that ye cannot do the things that ye would.

Uſe 2. Of Conſolation. Well then, bleſs the Lord for the leaſt degree of ſaving Faith, and be not ſo diſcouraged at its Imperfections, as to over-look and ſlight the ſmalleſt working of Faith in your Souls. This poor Man was deeply ſenſible of his Unbelief, and yet at the ſame inſtant truly thankful for a ſmall meaſure of Faith, and ſo ſhould you. For,

Firſt, The leaſt meaſure of ſaving Faith, is more than all Creatures power could produce: 'Tis the Faith of the Operation of God, Col. 2. 12. 'Tis the Work of God that ye believe, John 6.29. Yea, 'tis the exceeding greatneſs of his Power, Eph. 1. 19. 20. No Miniſters of Chriſt, how excellent ſoever their Gifts are, no Duties or Ordinances, no Labour or Diligence of your own, without this mighty Power of God, can ever bring you to Faith.

Secondly, 'Tis juſt matter of Wonder and Aſtoniſhment, that ever one Spark of Faith was kindled in ſuch an Heart as thine is; an Heart which had no prediſpoſition or inclination, in the leaſt to believe; yea, it was not Raſa Tabula, like clean Paper, void of any Impreſſion of Faith, but fill'd with contrary Impreſſions to it; ſo that 'tis marvellous that ever your Hearts received the Stamp, or Impreſſion of Faith, on them.

It was wonderful that Fire ſhould fall from Heaven, and burn upon the Altar, when Elijah had laid the Wood in order upon it; but much more when he poured ſo much Water upon it, as not only wet all the Wood, but fill'd the Trenches, 1 Kings 18. 33. Juſt ſo was the Caſe of thy Soul, Reader, when God came to kindle Faith there. Thy Heart was dark and ignorant, neither acquainted with God, or thy own Condition; yea, thy Heart was a proud Heart, full of Self righteouſneſs, and Self-conceitedneſs, Rom. 3. 17. Rom. 10. 3. A Heart that would rather venture Eternal Damnation, than deny ſelf, and ſubmit to Chriſt; and yet the Light of the Lord muſt ſhine into this darkneſs, and the pride and ſtiffneſs of thy Heart muſt be broken and brought to yield, or there is no believing.

Beſide: How many and mighty Enemies did oppoſe the Work of Faith in thy Soul? Among which Satan, and thy own carnal Reaſonings were the principal, 2 Cor. 10. 4. By them what Strong-holds and Fortifications were raiſed to ſecure thee from the Strokes of Conviction, that make way for Faith. Let but the State of thine own Heart, as it was by Nature, be conſidered, and thou wilt ſay, it was the wonderful Work of God, that ever thou waſt brought in any degree to believe.

Thirdly, Tho' thy Faith be weak, yet it is growing, if it be ſaving Faith. The largeſt Tree was once but a Kernel or Acorn: The moſt famous Believer at firſt, but a weak and doubting one. Be not diſcouraged therefore, God will fulfil all the good pleaſure of his Goodneſs in you, and the Work of Faith with Power. It were certainly much better for you to be bleſſing God for a little Faith, praying for the increaſe of Faith, and diligently attending thoſe means by which it may be improved and made flouriſhing in your Souls, than by a ſinful, ungrateful, and prejudicial deſpondency, at once to diſhonour God, and thus wrong your ſelves.

Doct. 2. That the remain of Unbelief in gracious Hearts, do coſt them many Tears and Sorrows.

There are many things that afflict and grieve the People of God from without, but all their outward Troubles are nothing to theſe Troubles that come from within.

There are many inward Troubles that make them groan, but none more than this, the Unbelief they find in their own Hearts. This Sin juſtly coſts them more trouble than other Sins; becauſe it is the Root from which other Sins do ſpring; a Root of Bitterneſs bearing Wormwood and Gall to the imbittering of their Souls. For,

Firſt, The Remains of Unbelief in the Saints, greatly diſhonour God; and what is a great diſhonour to God, cannot but be a great grief and burden to them: For look as Faith gives God ſpecial Honour above all other Graces, ſo Unbelief in a ſpecial manner, both wrongs and grieves him above all other Sins. Unbelief in Dominion makes God a Liar, 1 John 5. 10. and even the Relicks thereof in Believers, do ſhake their Aſſent to his Truths and Promiſes, and nouriſhes a vile Suſpicion of them in the Heart; And how do thoſe baſe Jealouſies reflect upon his Honour? Certainly it cannot but be a Grief to a gracious Heart, to ſee God diſhonoured by others, Pſalm 119. 36. and a much greater to diſhonour him our ſelves, Hinc illæ lachrymæ. Upon this ground we may juſtly cry out and ſay with Tears, Lord, help our Unbelief.

Secondly, The Remains of Unbelief in the Saints, doth not only diſhonour God, but defaces and ſpoils their beſt Duties, in which they at any time approach unto God. Is the Face of God clouded from us in Prayer, hearing, or receiving? Examine the Cauſe and Reaſon, and you will find that Cloud rais'd from your own unbelieving Hearts. Are your Affections cold, flat, and dead in Duty? Dig but to the Root, and you will find this Sin to lie there. If the Word do not work upon you as you deſire, and pray it might, 'tis becauſe it is not mingled with Faith, Heb. 4. 2. No Duties, nor Ordinances, no Promiſes, can give down their ſweet Influences upon your Souls, becauſe of this Sin. Now Communion with the Lord in Duties, is the Life of our Life: Theſe things are dearer to the Saints than their Eyes. Juſtly therefore do they bewail and mourn over that that Sin, which obſtructs and intercepts their ſweeteſt Enjoyments in this World.

Thirdly, The Remains of Unbelief give advantage and ſucceſs to Satan's Temptations upon us. Doth he at any time afright and ſcare us from our Duty, or draw and entice us to the commiſſions of Sin, or darken and cloud our Condition, and fill us with inward Fears and Horror, without cauſe? All this he doth by the Mediation of our own Unbelief. The Apoſtle in Epheſ. 6. 16. calls Faith the Souls Shield againſt Temptation: And 1 John 5. 4. 'tis call'd the Victory by which we overcome, (i. e.) the Sword, or Weapon, by which we atchieve our Victories: And if ſo, then Unbelief diſarms us both of Sword and Shield, and leave us naked of Defence in the Day of Battle, a Prey to the next Temptation that befals us.

Fourthly, The Remains of Unbelief hinder the thriving of all Graces, it's a Worm at their Root, a Plant of ſuch a malignant quality, that nothing which is ſpiritual can thrive under the Droppings and Shadow of it. It's ſaid, Heb. 4. 2. That the Goſpel was preached to the Iſraelites, but it did not profit them, not being mixed with Faith in them that heard it. No Ordinances nor Duties, be they never ſo excellent, will make that Soul to thrive, where Unbelief prevails: You pray, you hear, you faſt, you meditate, and yet you do not thrive, your Spiritual Food doth no good: You come from Ordinances as dead, careleſs, and vain as you went to them; And why is it thus, becauſe of remaining Unbelief?

USE I.

Let all the People of God bewail, and tenderly mourn over the Remainders of Infidelity in their own Hearts. There, there is the Root of the Diſeaſe; and ſurely, Reader, thy Heart is not free of ſuch Symptoms of it as appear in other Mens Hearts. For do but conſider,

Sympt. 1. What is our Impatiency to wait for Mercy, and Deſpondency of Spirit, if Deliverance come not quickly in the outward, or inward Streights of Soul or Body, but a plain Symptom of Unbelief in our Hearts? He that believes, will not make haſte, Iſa. 28. 16. He that can believe, can alſo wait God's time, Pſal. 27. 14.

Sympt. 2. And what means our Readineſs to uſe ſinful Mediums to prevent, or extricate our ſelves out of trouble, but a great deal of Infidelity lurking ſtill in our Hearts? Might but Faith be heard to ſpeak, it would ſay in thy Heart, let me rather die ten Deaths, than commit one Sin. It's ſweeter and eaſie to die in my Integrity, than to live with a defiled or wounded Conſcience. 'Tis nothing but our Unbelief, that makes us ſo ready to put forth our Hands to Iniquity, when the Rod of the Wicked reſts long upon us, or any eminent Danger threatens us, Pſal. 125. 3.

Sympt. 3. Doth not the Unbelief of your Hearts ſhew it ſelf in your deeper Thoughtfulneſs, and great Anxieties, about earthly Things, Matth. 6. 30. We pretend we have truſted God with our Souls to all Eternity, and yet cannot truſt him for our daily Bread. We bring the Evils of to Morrow upon us to Day; and all becauſe we cannot believe more.

O Reader! How much better were it to hear ſuch Queſtions as theſe from thee? How ſhall I get an Heart ſuitable to the Mercies I do enjoy? How ſhall I duly improve them for God? What ſhall I render to the Lord for all his Goodneſs? This would better become thee, than to afflict thy ſelf with, What ſhall I eat, what ſhall I drink, or wherewithal ſhall I be cloathed?

Sympt. 4. What doth the ſlaviſh Fear of Death ſpeak, but Remains of Unbelief ſtill in our Hearts? Are there not many Faintings, Tremblings, Deſpondencies of Mind, under the Thoughts of Death. O! if Faith were high, thy Spirit could not be ſo low, 2 Cor. 1. 2, 3. The more Bondage of Fear, the more Infidelity.

Sympt. 5. To conclude: What is the Voice of all thoſe Diſtractions of thy Heart in Religious Duties, but want of Faith, weakneſs in Faith, and the actual prevalence of Unbelief? You come to God in Prayer, and there a thouſand Vanities beſet you; your Heart is carried away, it roves, it wanders to the Ends of the Earth: Conſcience ſmites for this, and ſaith, Thou doſt but mock God, thy Soul will ſmart for this; thou feeleſt neither ſtrength nor ſweetneſs ariſing out of ſuch Duties. You enquire for Remedies, and fill the Ears of Friends with your Complaints, and it may be, ſee not the Root of all this to be in your own Unbelief: But there it is; and 'till that be cured, it will not be better with you.

USE II.

Yet let not poor Chriſtians ſo mourn, as thoſe that have no hope or ground of Comfort even in this Caſe: For,

Firſt, Tho' there be remains of Unbelief in you, yet you have infinite cauſe to bleſs God that they are but remains. You once were in Unbelief, 1 Tim. 1. 13. (i. e.) under the full Power and Dominion of it. Had God cut you off in that ſtate, you muſt certainly have periſhed. This is the Diſeaſe, but that was the Death of your Souls.

Secondly, Tho' Unbelief be in you, yet it is not in you per modum quietis, by way of reſt, as it is in all Unbelievers, but by way of daily Conflict, and as a Burden too heavy to be born. Now tho' the Sin be ſad, yet the Sorrow for it is ſweet; and your Conflicts with it, bring you under a very comfortable Sign of Grace, Rom. 7. 21.

Thirdly, This is a Diſeaſe under which all Chriſtians do labour more or leſs. There is not a Heart ſo holy in all the World, but is in ſome degree tainted and infected with this Diſeaſe. And this hath been evident, not only in all Chriſtians of all ſizes, but in all the Acts of their Faith. Job's Faith triumphed in Chap. 13. 15. yet had its Eclipſe and Fainting-fit, in Chap. 19. 20. Abraham was a moſt renowned Believer, a great Pattern and Example of Faith: Oh! how high a pitch did his Faith mount to, in Gen. 22. 3.

and yet there was a time when it fainted, and failed him, as at Gerar, Gen. 20. 2, 10, 11. David in Pſal. 27. 1, 23. was not like David in 1 Sam. 27. 1. The Faith of Peter ſhone out like the Sun in a glorious Confeſſion, Mat. 16. 16. and yet was not only beclouded, but ſeemed to be gone down, and quite ſet in Mat. 26. 69. tho' it afterwards recovered it ſelf.

Fourthly, 'Tis not this or that degree of Unbelief that damns a Man, but the power and dominion of it that damns him. Indeed your Comfort much depends upon the ſtrength of your Faith; but your Salvation depends upon the truth of it. Moſt Chriſtians come to Heaven with a weak and doubting Faith, but few with their Sails fill'd with a direct and freſh Wind of Aſſurance.

Fifthly, There is enough in Chriſt to help Unbelief; Lord, ſaid this poor Man, help my Unbelief. He is an excellent Phyſitian, and knows how to relieve and cure thee: Go to him, and groan out thy Complaint, tell him, thy Heart is pained and troubled with this Diſeaſe; thou ſhalt find him a faithful, skilful, and merciful Saviour.

Sixthly, It's but a little while before this, with all other Diſeaſes bred by it in thy Soul, ſhall be perfectly healed; Sanctification is a Cure begun, Glorification is the Cure performed and compleated: The former hath deſtroy'd the Dominion, the latter will deſtroy the Exiſtence of it in thy Soul: When you come to Heaven, and never 'till then, will you find your ſelves well, and at eaſe in every part.

And thus much of the Second Point.

There are ſome general Obſervations ariſing from both parts of my Text conſidered together, viz. the thankful Acknowledgment of his Faith; and the ſorrowful Sence of his Unbelief. It ſhall ſuffice for a Concluſion to this Meditation only to note them; and they are theſe:

Firſt, That the deepeſt Sence of Sin muſt not exclude an humble and thankful Acknowledgment of the Grace of God in his People. 'Tis the fault of moſt to hide their Sins, and the fault of ſome to hide their Graces.

Secondly, Acceptance of our Perſons and Duties, is a pure Act of Grace. There's no Duty performed in a perfect Act of Faith; all is mix'd with Unbelief in ſome degree, the Honey and the Comb are mix'd together, Cant. 2. 8. No Duty as it comes from us is pure.

Thirdly, Juſtly may we ſuſpect that Faith for a falſe Faith, which boaſts of its own Strength, but never mourns in the Sence of Unbelief. Where there are no Conflicts with Sin, there can be no ſound Evidence of Sincerity.

Fourthly, Believers muſt not wonder to find ſtrange Viciſſitudes and Alterations in the State of their Souls. Sometimes a clear, and ſometimes a cloudy Day. Sometimes they have their Songs in the Night, and ſometimes their bitter Lamentations. If you ask, Why is it thus? the Anſwer is, there are Twins within you, contrary Principles ſtrugling in your Souls, and it is no wonder at all to find Peace and Trouble, Hope and Fear, Light and Darkneſs taking their Turns, and ſharing your Time betwixt them.

The Eighth MEDITATION,

UPON

Pſalm 40. 8. I delight to do thy will, O my God; yea, thy Law is within my heart.

CAſting my Eye upon this precious Text, I find it perplex'd and darkned with variety, yea, contrariety of Expoſitions: The Jews and Socinians generally refer all to David, denying Chriſt to be the Perſon here ſpoken of. Others refer the whole Pſalm to Chriſt, but the beſt Expoſitors refer it partly to David, and partly to Chriſt. That this Paragraph, in which my Text lies, refers to Chriſt, is plain from the Apoſtle's allegation of it in Heb. 10. 5, 6, 7. In this and the two former Verſes there lie three great points of Truth, which you may take up in this order.

Firſt, The inſufficiency and rejection of all legal Sacrifices, as things of no vertue in themſelves to ſatisfie God or ſave men, verſ. 6. Theſe thou wouldſt not, (i. e.) thou never didſt appoint them to be the means of Salvation farther than they ſignified and pointed at me, and now muſt vaniſh when I come in a Body of Fleſh, according to that, Col. 2. 17.

Secondly, The introduction of a compleat and ſufficient means of Redemption, verſ. 7. Lo, I come.

Thirdly, The ſuitableneſs and agreeableneſs of this Work of Redemption to the Heart and Will of Jeſus Chriſt, verſ. 8. I delight to do thy Will, O my God; yea, thy Law is within my Heart; or as it is in the Hebrew, in the midſt of my bowels.

In the words we are to note two things, viz. 1*ſt*, The Riſe and Spring of Man's Redemption. 2*dly*, The acceptableneſs and ſuitableneſs of it to the Heart of Chriſt.

1*ſt*, The Riſe and firſt Spring of man's Redemption, the Will and Pleaſure of God. So it pleaſed the Lord to appoint and order it, that a remnant of poor loſt Sinners ſhould be ſaved.

The execution and accompliſhment of this good pleaſure of God, was that part which by agreement and conſent was committed to the Son, and is here call'd a Law, or Command laid upon him. And anſwerably to the Death of Chriſt is repreſented as an act of Obedience, Phil. 2. 8. and reſpected God's Command for it, John 10. 18. This commandment have I received from my Father; referring to the Covenant of Redemption which was betwixt them from everlaſting: and this was the riſe and firſt ſpring of our Redemption by Chriſt.

2*dly*, You have here the gratefulneſs and ſuitableneſs of this Work to the Heart of Chriſt; I delight to do it, it is in my heart. Lo, I come.

The Hebrew words note not ſimple conſent or willingneſs, but the higheſt pleaſure and complacency that can be; a Work which raviſhes his Soul with the delights of it. I delight to do thy will, and that other expreſſion, Thy law is within my heart, or bowels, hath as deep a ſenſe and ſignification as the former. It notes the greateſt care, ſollicitude and intention of mind, in keeping the moſt precious Treaſure that was committed to him, for ſo the Phraſe is us'd in Prov. 4. 21. and ſo did our Redeemer eſteem and reckon this Work, which was by the Father demandated and committed to him. Hence the Note is,

Doct. That the Will of God to redeem Sinners by the Incarnation and Death of Jeſus Chriſt, was moſt grateful and pleaſing to the very Heart of Chriſt.

It is ſaid, Prov. 8. 31. When he was ſolacing himſelf in the ſweeteſt enjoyment of his Father, whilſt he lay in that bleſſed Boſom of Delights, yet the very proſpect of this work gave him pleaſure, Then were his delights with the Sons of men. And when he was come into the World, and had endur'd many Abuſes and Injuries, and was even now come to the moſt difficult part of the work; yet, how am I ſtraightned or pained (ſaith he) till it be accompliſhed, Luke 12. 50.

Two things call our Thoughts to ſtay upon them in this point.

Firſt, The Decency of it, why it ought to be ſo.

Secondly, The Reaſons of it, whence it came to be ſo.

Firſt, Why it ought to be a pleaſant and grateful thing to Chriſt, to take a Body of Fleſh, and lay it down by Death again for the Redemption of Sinners.

1. It became Chriſt to go about this Work with cheerfulneſs and delight, that thereby he might give his Death the nature and formality of a Sacrifice.

In all Sacrifices you ſhall find that God had ſtill a regard, a ſpecial reſpect, to the Will of the Offerer. See Exod. 35. 5, 21. and Levit. 1. 3. the voluntarineſs and cheerfulneſs with which it is given is of great regard with God.

2. It ought to be ſo, in regard of the Unity of Chriſt's Will with the Fathers. The Work of our Redemption is call'd, the pleaſure of the Lord, Iſa. 53. 10. and what was the Father's pleaſure, could not be diſpleaſing to him who is one with the Father. It's impoſſible their Wills can claſh, whoſe Nature is one.

3. This was neceſſary to magnifie and commend the Love of Jeſus Chriſt to us, for whom he gave himſelf. That he came into the World to die for us, is a Mercy of the firſt magnitude; but that he came in love to our Souls, and underwent all his Sufferings with ſuch willingneſs for our ſakes, this heightens it above all apprehenſion.

O, this is the moſt taking, the moſt raviſhing, the moſt aſtoniſhing Conſideration of all: He loved me, and gave himſelf for me, Galat. 2. 20. He loved us, and waſhed us from our ſins in his own Blood, Rev. 1. 5. Here Love is in its higheſt exaltation.

4 It was neceſſary to be ſo, for the regulating of all our Obedience to God according to this Pattern, that ſeeing and ſetting this great Example of Obedience before us, we might never grudge nor grumble at any Duty or Suffering that God ſhould call us to, You know the grace of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt; how that, though he was rich, yet for your ſakes he became poor, ſaith the Apoſtle, when he would preſs the Corinthians to their Duty, 2 Cor. 8. 9. And when he would effectually urge the Philippians to their Duty, this is the Argument, Let this mind be in you, which alſo was in Chriſt Jeſus, Phil. 2. 5. So that it became and behov'd Chriſt thus to undertake this great Service.

Secondly, Next let us conſider and examine whence it came to be ſo pleaſant and acceptable to Jeſus Chriſt to come into the World and die for poor Sinners.

And we ſhall find, that although the Sufferings of Chriſt were exceeding ſharp, and the Cup of God's Wrath unſpeakably bitter, yet that which made it pleaſant and deſirable to Jeſus Chriſt, was the proſpect he had of the ſweet reſults and iſſues of his Sufferings, Iſa. 53. 10, 11. He ſhall ſee of the travail of his ſoul, and ſhall be ſatisfied, (i. e.) he ſhall have great content and pleaſure from the iſſues and fruits of his Sufferings; as Pſal. 128. 2. Thou ſhalt eat the labour of thy hands, (i. e.) the fruit of thy Labours. So here, He ſhall ſee the travail of his ſoul, (i. e.) the fruit and effects of his travail; and to ſee this, ſhall be to him the reward and recompence of all his Sufferings. Now, among the ſweet Reſults of the Sufferings of Chriſt, there are eſpecially theſe three, which he foreſaw with ſingular content and delectation.

Firſt, That in his Sufferings there would be made a glorious diſplay and manifeſtation of the Divine Attributes; yea, ſuch a glorious diſplay of them, as never was made before to Angels or to Men, nor ever ſhall be any more in this World. For though,

1. The Wiſdom of God had made it ſelf viſible to men in the creation of the World, yet there it ſhone but in a faint and languiſhing Beam, compar'd with this. Here Divine Wiſdom put it ſelf as it were into a viſible form, and repreſented it ſelf to the life. See 1 Cor. 1. 24. and Eph. 3. 10. Behold in the Death of Chriſt the Wiſdom of God in its higheſt exaltation and glory: O the manifold Wiſdom of God! O the depth of his unſearchable Wiſdom! which I touched in ſome particulars before.

Behold here the Wiſdom of God, raiſing more Glory to himſelf by occaſion of the breach of the Law, than could ever have riſen to him from the moſt punctual obſervation of its Commands, or the moſt rigorous execution of its Threatnings, from the occaſion of the Fall (which was our undoing) raiſing us to a far better eſtate, and with a much better ſecurity to enjoy it, than that from which we fell. Yea, behold and wonder, God by the Death of Chriſt recovering his Elect from all the danger and miſchief of Sin, and yet making the way and manner of their recovery the faireſt Glaſs to repreſent the Horror and Evil of Sin to them that ever was ſhewn them in this World. Oh, the Triumph of Divine Wiſdom!

2. Though the Love of God had appear'd before in our Creation, Protection, and Proviſion, yet nothing to what it doth in our Redemption by the Death of Chriſt. Lo, here is the Love of God in its ſtrength and glory, 1 John 4. 10. Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and ſent his Son to be the propitiation for our ſins. Herein is love, (i. e.) here is the higheſt expreſſion of God's Love to the Creature; not only that ever was, but that ever can be made; for in Love only God acteth to the uttermoſt: Whatever his Power hath done, it can do no more; but for his Love, it can go no higher, he hath no greater thing to give than his Chriſt. 'Tis true, in giving us a Being, and that in the nobleſt rank and order of Creatures on Earth, herein was Love. In feeding us all our life long by his aſſiduous tender Providence, herein is Love. In protecting us under his Wings from innumerable dangers and miſchiefs, herein is Love, much Love; and yet ſet all this by his Redeeming Love in Chriſt, and it ſeems nothing. When we have ſaid all, herein is the love of God, that he ſent his Son, &c. this was free Love to undeſerving, to ill-deſerving Sinners: Preventing Love; not that we lov'd him, but that he lov'd us. Juſt as an Image in the Glaſs, (ſaith Ficinus) that is imprinted there by the FACE looking into it; the IMAGE does not look back upon the Face, except the Face look forward upon the Image; and in that the Image does ſeem to ſee the Face, it's nothing elſe but that the Face does ſee the Image. O, the unexpreſſible Glory of the Love of God in Chriſt!

3. Though God had given ſeveral ſad marks of his Juſtice before, both upon the Angels that fell, clapping upon them the Chains of Darkneſs, in the overthrow of Sodom and the neighbouring Cities, turning them to Aſhes, as you may read in Jud. Verſ. 6, 7. yet never was the exactneſs and ſeverity of Juſtice ſo manifeſted before, nor ever ſhall be any more, as it was at the death of Chriſt. Chriſt did not only ſatisfie it fully, but he alſo honour'd it highly, making that Attribute which was once a bar, now to be a bottom of our Peace, Rom. 3. 25. Never did ſuch a Perſon as Chriſt ſtand at the Bar of Juſtice before: The Blood of God was pour'd out to appeaſe and ſatisfie it. When Chriſt ſuffer'd, he did both give and take Satisfaction; he gave it to the Juſtice of God in dying; he took it in ſeeing Juſtice ſo honour'd in his Death.

Secondly, Another delightful proſpect Chriſt had of the fruit of his Sufferings, was the recovery and ſalvation of all the Elect by his Death; and tho' his Sufferings were exceeding bitter, yet ſuch fruit of them as this was exceeding ſweet: Upon this account he aſſum'd his Name Jeſus, Matth. 1. 21. yea, and his humane Nature alſo, Gal. 4. 4, 5. Souls are of great value in his Eyes; one Soul is of more worth in his account than all the World, Mark 8. 36. What a Pleaſure then muſt it be to him, to ſave ſo many Souls from the everlaſting wrath of the great and terrible God! Add to this, Thirdly, The Glory which would redound to him from his redeemed ones to all Eternity; for it will be the everlaſting pleaſant employment of the Saints in Heaven to be aſcribing Glory, Praiſe, and Honour to the Redeemer: For him that loved us, and waſhed us from our ſins in his own blood, and hath made us Kings and Prieſts to God and his Father; to him be glory and dominion for ever and ever, Rev. 1. 5, 6. The improvement of all this will be in a word or two.

Uſe 1. for Conviction.

This Truth then, in the firſt place, may convince, ſhame, and humble the very beſt of Chriſtians, who find ſo little delight in the moſt eaſie, ſweet, and ſpiritual Duties of Obedience, when Chriſt undertook and went through the moſt difficult Task for them with ſuch cheerfulneſs and readineſs, Lo, I come, thy law is in my heart, I delight to do thy will; and yet the Work he ſo applied himſelf to, was a Work full of difficulty, attended with reproach and ſhame, as well as anguiſh and pain.

Did Chriſt find pleaſure in abaſement and torment, in ſuffering and dying for me, and can I find no pleaſure in praying, hearing, meditating and enjoying the ſweet Duties of Communion with him? Did he come ſo cheerfully to die for me, and do I go ſo dead-heartedly to Prayers and Sacraments to enjoy Fellowſhip with him? Was it a Pleaſure to him to ſhed his Blood, and is it none to me to apply it, and reap the benefits of it? Oh, Lord, what an Heart have I! How unſuitable is this frame of Heart to the Nature of God, whoſe eſſential Excellencies make him the ſupream Delight, the ſweet Repoſe, Solace, and Reſt of Souls! Pſal. 16. 11.

How unſuitable to the Principles of Regeneration and Holineſs, purpoſely planted in the Soul, to make ſpiritual performances a Pleaſure to it!

How unſuitable to the future expected ſtate of Glory, which brings the ſanctified Soul to a ſweet complacential Reſt and Satisfaction in God! In a word, how unſuitable is this temper of Spirit to the Heart of Jeſus Chriſt! O, methinks I hear Chriſt thus expoſtulating with me this day:

Is this thy Zeal and thy Delight in the Duties of Obedience? Is it rather the awe of Conſcience than the pleaſure of Communion that brings thee to this Duty? Doth thy hard Heart need ſo many Arguments to perſwade it, even to the ſweeteſt, eaſieſt, and moſt pleaſant Duties in Religion? Well, I did not love thee at that rate; my Heart readily eccho'd to the Father's Call, to die for thee, to drink the Dregs of the Cup of Trembling for thee: I come, I come, I delight to do thy will, thy law is in the midſt of my bowels.

2 Uſe, of Exhortation.

If it be ſo, how great a Motive have the People of God before them, to make them apply themſelves with all cheerfulneſs and readineſs of mind to all the Duties of active and paſſive Obedience? O, let there be no more grumblings, lazy excuſes, ſhiftings of duty, or dead-hearted and liſtleſs performances of them, after ſuch an Example as this. Be ready to do the Will of God; yea, be you alſo ready to ſuffer it. Let the ſame mind be in you which alſo was in Chriſt Jeſus. The more pleaſure and delight you find in doing or ſuffering the Will of God, the more of Chriſt's Spirit is in you, and the more of his Image is upon you. Are not all holy Duties expreſſed in Scripture by the Saints walking with God? Gen. 17. 1. And is not this an Angelical Life? Can it be a burden to the Ear to hear ſweet raviſhing Strains of Melody; or to the Eye, to behold variety of pleaſant and lively Colours; or to the Palate, to reliſh the delicious ſweetneſs of Meats and Drinks?

Oh, Reader, were thy Heart more ſpiritual, more deeply ſanctified, and Heavenly, it would be no more pain to thee to pray, hear, or meditate on the things of God, than it is to a Bird to carry and uſe his own Wings; or to a Man, to eat the moſt pleaſant Food when he is an hungry. I have rejoyced (ſaith David) in the way of thy Commandments, as much as in all riches, Pſalm 119. 14.

And as to Sufferings for Chriſt, they ſhould not be grievous to Chriſtians, that know how cheerfully Chriſt came from the Boſom of the Father to die for them. What have we to leave or loſe, in compariſon with him? What are our Sufferings to Chriſt's? Alas, there is no compare; there was more bitterneſs in one drop of his Sufferings, than in a Sea of ours.

To conclude, Your delight and readineſs in the Paths of Obedience, is the very meaſure of your Sanctification.

The Ninth MEDITATION, UPON

Zechariah 12. part of Verſe 10. And they ſhall look upon me whom they have pierced, and they ſhall mourn for him, as one mourneth for his only Son, and ſhall be in bitterneſs for him, as one that is in bitterneſs for his firſt-born.

THIS Promiſe is confeſſed to have a ſpecial reſpect to the Jews Converſion to Chriſt: It was in part accompliſh'd in the Apoſtles days, Acts 2. 37. yet that was but a Specimen or Handſel of what ſhall be, when the Body of that Nation ſhall be call'd.

But yet it cannot be denied, that all Chriſtians find the ſame piercing Sorrows and wounding Senſe of Sin, when God awakens them by Convictions, and brings them to ſee the Evil of Sin, and the Grace of Chriſt, that is here expreſt concerning them at their converſion.

The words preſent us with three very remarkable particulars in Evangelical Repentance, viz.

Firſt, The Spring and Principle of it.
Secondly, The Effects and Fruits of it.
Thirdly, The Depth and Meaſure of it.

Firſt, The Spring and Principle of Repentance, expreſs'd in theſe words, They ſhall look upon me whom they have pierced. This looking upon Chriſt is an act of Faith, for ſo it is deſcrib'd in Scripture, John 6. 40. Iſa. 45: 22. and it reſpects Chriſt crucified as its proper Object; yea, and that by them, not only as their Progenitors involv'd them in that guilt, by entailing it on them, but as their own Sins were the meritorious cauſe of his Death and Sufferings; They ſhall look upon me whom they have pierced.

Secondly, The Effects and Fruits of ſuch an Aſpect of Faith upon Chriſt is here alſo noted, They ſhall mourn and be in bitterneſs, (i. e.) it ſhall melt and thaw them into godly ſorrow, it ſhall break their hard and ſtony Hearts to pieces; The Eye of Faith ſhall affect their Hearts; for indeed Evangelical Sorrows are hearty and undiſſembled Tears, dropping out of the Eye of Faith.

Thirdly, and laſtly, The Depth and Meaſure of their Sorrow is here likewiſe noted. And it is compar'd with the greateſt and moſt piercing ſorrows Men are acquainted with in this World, even the ſorrow of a tender-hearted Father mourning over a dead Son, yea, an only Son, and his firſt-born, than which no earthly ſorrow is more penetrating and ſharp, Jer. 6. 26. Hence the note will be,

Doct. That the Sufferings of Chriſt are exceeding powerful, to melt Believers Hearts into godly Sorrow.

The Eye of Faith is a precious Eye, and according to its various aſpects upon Chriſt, it produceth various effects upon the Hearts of Men. Eying Chriſt as our compleat Righteouſneſs, ſo it pacifies and quiets the Heart; eying him as our Pattern, ſo it directs and regulates our Actions; eying him as a Sacrifice offer'd up to Divine Juſtice for our Sins, ſo it powerfully thaws the Heart, and melts the Affections.

By meltings, I do not only underſtand Tears, as if they only were expreſſive of all ſpiritual ſorrow, for it is poſſible the waters of ſorrow may run deep in the Heart, when the Eye cannot yield a drop.

There be two things in Repentance, Trouble and Tears. The firſt is Eſſential, the laſt Contingent. The firſt flows from the influence of Faith upon the Soul, the laſt much depends upon the Temper and Conſtitution of the Body. It is a mercy when our Tears can flow from an Heart fill'd with ſorrow for Sin, and love to Chriſt; yet it often falls out that there is an heavy Heart where the Eyes are dry. But that there is efficacy in Faith to melt the Heart, by looking upon the Sufferings of Chriſt for Sin, is undoubted; and how it becomes ſo powerful an Inſtrument to this end, I will ſhew you in the following Particulars.

Firſt, Faith eyes the Dignity of the Perſon of Chriſt who was pierced for us; how excellent and glorious a Perſon he is. In the Captivity it was for a Lamentation that Princes were hanged up by the hands, and the faces of Elders were not reverenced, Lam. 5. 2. We read alſo the Lamentation of David, 2 Sam. 3. 38. as he follow'd Abner's Herſe: A Prince and a great man is fallen in Iſrael to day.

But what was Abner, and what were the Princes of Iſrael to the Son of God? Lo, here by Faith the Believer ſees the Prince of the Kings of the Earth, the only begotten of the Father, equal to God in Nature and Dignity, he whom all the Angels worſhip, hanging dead upon the curſed Tree. Faith ſees Royal Blood, the Blood of God poured out by the Sword of Juſtice for ſatisfaction and reconciliation; and this cannot but deeply affect the believing Soul.

Secondly, Faith repreſents the ſeverity of Divine Juſtice to Jeſus Chriſt, and the extremity of his Sufferings; and this ſight is a melting ſight.

The Apoſtle tells us, Gal. 3. 13. he was made Κατάρα, a Curſe and Execration for us: It relates to the kind and manner of his Death upon the Croſs, which was the death of a Slave, ſervile ſupplicium; a Free-man was privileg'd from that puniſhment. It looks upon and well conſiders the ſad plight and condition Chriſt was in, in the days of his Humiliation for us. It's ſaid of him, Matth. 26. 38. he was Περίλυπος, undequaque triſtis, ſurrounded with Griefs exactly anſwerable to his Name, Iſa. 53. 3. a man of ſorrow. Let him look which way he would, outward or inward, upward or downward, to Friends or Enemies, he could behold nothing but Sorrow, and what might encreaſe his Miſery. Another Evangeliſt ſaith, he was ſore amazed, Mark 14. 33. Ἐκθαμβεῖσθαι. It notes ſuch a conſternation as makes the Hair of the Head ſtand upright, horripilatio. A third tells us his Soul was troubled, John 12. 27. ἡ ψυχή μου τετάρακται, Unde Tartarus, a word from whence Hell is deriv'd, and denoting the Anguiſh and Troubles of them that are in that place of Torments.

And the fourth tells us he was in an Agony, Luke 23. 44. all expreſſing in ſeveral emphatical Notions and Metaphors, the extremity of Chriſt's Anguiſh and Torment. This cannot but greatly affect and break the Believer's Heart.

Thirdly, But then that which moſt affects the Heart, is Chriſt's undergoing all this, not only in love to us, but in our room and ſtead. He ſuffer'd not for any evil he had done, for there was no Guile found in his mouth, Iſa. 53. 4, 5. 1 Pet. 3. 18. It was for me, a vile, wretched, worthleſs Sinner. It was my Pride, my Earthlineſs, the hardneſs of my Heart, the corruption of my Nature, the innumerable evils of my Life, that brought him down to the Duſt of Death: He was made ſin for us, who knew no ſin, 2 Cor. 5. 21.

Who can believingly eye Chriſt, as ſuffering ſuch Pains, ſuch Wrath, ſuch a Curſe, in the room of ſuch a Sinner, ſuch a Rebel, ſo undeſerving, and ſo ill-deſerving a Creature, and not mourn as for an only Son, and be in bitterneſs as for a firſt-born?

Fourthly, Faith melts the Heart by conſidering the effects and fruits of the Sufferings of Chriſt, what great things he hath purchas'd by his Stripes and Blood for poor Sinners; a full and final Pardon of Sin, a well ſettled Peace with God, a ſure Title and Right to the Eternal Inheritance; and all this for thee, a Law-condemn'd, a Self condemn'd Sinner. Lord, what am I, that ſuch Mercies as theſe ſhould be purchas'd by ſuch a Price for me? for me, when Thouſands and Ten thouſands of ſweeter Diſpoſitions muſt burn in Hell for ever! Oh, what manner of Love is this!

Fifthly, Faith melts the Heart by exerting a threefold act upon Chriſt crucified.

1*ſt*, A realizing Act, repreſenting all this in the greateſt certainty and evidence that can be. Theſe are no deviſ'd Fables, but the ſure and infallible Reports of the Goſpel.

2*dly*, An applying Act; he lov'd me, and gave himſelf for me, Gal. 2. 20. He lov'd us, and waſh'd us from our Sins in his own Blood, Rev. 1. 5.

3*dly*, and laſtly, By an inferring or reaſoning Act. If Chriſt died for me, then I ſhall never die: if his Blood were paid down for me, then my Sins, which are many, are forgiven me: if he was condemn'd in my room, I am acquitted, and ſhall be ſav'd from Wrath to come, through him. O how weighty do theſe Thoughts prove to believing Souls!

1 Uſe, for Information.

Then ſure there is but little Faith, becauſe there is ſo much deadneſs and unaffectedneſs among Profeſſors. A believing ſight of Chriſt will work upon a gracious Heart, as a dead Son, a beloved and only Son, uſes to do upon a tender Father's Heart.

Reader, was it ever thy ſad Lot to look upon ſuch an heart-rending Object? Didſt thou ever feel the pangs and commotions in thy Bowels that ſome have felt upon ſuch a ſight? Why ſo will thy Heart work towards Chriſt, if ever thou believingly look'ſt on him whom thou haſt pierced.

Infer. 2. Then the acting and exerciſing of Faith is the beſt Expedient to get a tender Heart, and raiſe the dead Affections.

We are generally full of Complaints how hard, how dead and ſtupid our Hearts are; we are often putting ſuch caſes as theſe, How ſhall I get a broken Heart for Sin? how ſhall I raiſe my dead Heart in Duty? Why this is the way, no Expedient in all the World like this; Look upon him whom thou haſt pierced; 'tis the melting Argument.

2 Uſe, of Examination.

But that which I eſpecially aim at in this point, is for the trial and examination of thy Heart, Reader, in the point of true Evangelical Repentance, which is thy proper buſineſs at this time; and I will go no further than the Text for Rules to examine and try it by.

Rule 1. All Evangelical Repentance hath a ſupernatural Spring, I will pour out the ſpirit of grace, and they ſhall mourn. Till the Spirit be poured out upon us, it is as eaſie to preſs Water out of a Rock, as to make our Hearts relent and mourn. There are indeed natural meltings, the effects of an ingenuous Temper, but theſe differ in kind and nature from godly Sorrow.

Rule 2. Godly Sorrows are real, ſincere, and undiſſembled; They ſhall mourn, as for an only Son. Parents need not any natural helps to draw Tears on ſuch accounts; O! their very hearts are pierced, they could even die with them; ſighs, groans, and tears are not hang'd out as falſe ſighs of what is not to be found in their hearts.

Rule 3. Evangelical Sorrow is very deep; ſo much the mourning for an only Son, a firſt-born, muſt import. Theſe Waters, how ſtill ſoever they be, run deep, very deep, in the bottom channel of the Soul. See Acts 2. 27. They were cut to the heart.

Rule 4. Faith is the Inſtrument imploy'd in breaking the heart; They ſhall look and mourn. This is the Burning-glaſs that contracts the Beams, and fires the Affections.

Rule 5. Laſtly, the wrong Sin hath done to God, and the Sufferings it hath brought Chriſt under, are the piercing and heart-wounding Conſiderations, They ſhall look upon me whom they have pierced, and mourn. The piercing of Chriſt by our Sin, is that muſt pierce thy Soul with Sorrow.

The Tenth MEDITATION,

UPON

John 6. verſe 55. For my fleſh is meat indeed, and my blood is drink indeed.

IN the Context our Lord Jeſus Chriſt makes a moſt ſpiritual and excellent Diſcourſe to the Jews, about the Nature and Neceſſity of Faith in him, taking the occaſion thereof from the Bread, which a little before he had ſo miraculouſly multiplied, and fed them with, raiſing up their Minds to more ſublime and ſpiritual Things, and letting them know that Bread, how ſweet ſoever it was, was but a Shadow of himſelf, infinitely more ſweet and neceſſary.

Theſe Words are a Propoſition, in which are theſe three Things obſervable.

Firſt, The Subject, my Fleſh and my Blood.
Secondly, The Predicate, it is Meat and Drink.
Thirdly, The manner of Predication, it's Meat indeed, and Drink indeed.

Firſt, The Subject, my Fleſh, and my Blood, (i.e.) my Humanity; this is Meat and Drink, true Spiritual Food. If it be demanded, Why he had not ſaid, I am Meat and Drink indeed; but rather chuſes to ſay, My Fleſh and Blood is ſo? The Reaſon is evident, ſaith learned Camero, becauſe if you take away Fleſh and Blood from Chriſt, he cannot be Food or Life to us: For in order to his being ſo, he muſt ſatisfie God for us, and obtain the Remiſſion of our Sins; but without ſhedding of Blood, there is no Remiſſion. Now foraſmuch as by the offering up of his Body, and ſhedding of his Blood, he hath obtained Pardon and Life for us; therefore his Fleſh and Blood, is call'd our Meat and our Drink, that by which our Souls live. Which brings us to the ſecond thing.

Secondly, The Predicate, it is Meat and Drink, (i. e.) it is to our Souls of the ſame uſe and neceſſity, that Meat and Drink is to our Natural Life, which cannot be ſuſtained or continued without them.

The Life of our Souls as neceſſarily depends upon the Fleſh and Blood of Chriſt, as our Natural Life doth upon Meat and Drink. Yet beware of a miſtake here; the Fleſh and Blood, or the Humanity of Chriſt, is not the Fountain of our Spiritual Life, but the Channel rather through which it flows to us from his Divinity. By reaſon of his Incarnation and Death, Righteouſneſs and Life comes to us.

Thirdly, The manner of Predication is very emphatical, it is Meat indeed, and Drink indeed; which notes two Things.

Firſt, Reality, in oppoſition to all legal Shadows and Types.

Secondly, Tranſcendent Excellency, far ſurpaſſing all other Food, even Manna it ſelf, which for its excellency is ſtiled Angels Food. My Fleſh is Meat indeed, (i. e.) true, ſubſtantial, and real Food to Souls, and choice excellent and incomparable Food. Hence obſerve, Doct. That what Meat and Drink is to our Bodies, that, and much more than that, the Fleſh and Blood of Chriſt is to believing Souls.

Two Things require Explication in this Point. Firſt, Wherein the reſemblance or agreement lies betwixt the Fleſh and Blood of Chriſt, and Meat and Drink. Secondly, Wherein the former tranſcends and excels the latter.

1. Query. Wherein lies the reſemblance and agreement between the Fleſh and Blood of Chriſt, and material Meat and Drink?

Sol. The agreement is manifeſt in the following Particulars.

Firſt, Meat and Drink is neceſſary to ſupport Natural Life, we cannot live without it. Upon this account Bread is call'd the Staff and Stay, (i.e.) the Support of the Natural Spirits, which do as much lean and depend upon it, as a feeble Man doth upon his Staff, Iſai. 3. 1. But yet how neceſſary ſoever it be, the Fleſh and Blood of Chriſt is more indiſpenſible neceſſary for the Life of our Souls, John 6. 53. Except ye eat the Fleſh of the Son of Man, and drink his Blood, ye have no Life in you. Our Souls have more abſolute need of Peace and Pardon by Chriſt, than our Bodies have of Meat and Drink. Better our Bodies were ſtarved and famiſhed, than our Souls damned and loſt for ever.

Secondly, Meat and Drink are ever moſt ſweet and deſirable to thoſe that are hungry and thirſty. It is Hunger and Thirſt, that gives value and eſtimation to Meat and Drink, Prov. 27. 7. To the hungry Soul every bitter thing is ſweet; and ſo it is in our eſteem of Chriſt, Job 7. 37. If any Man thirſt, let him come to me and drink. When God by Illumination and Conviction makes Men deeply ſenſible of their miſerable loſt, and periſhing Condition, then ten thouſand Worlds for a Chriſt. All is but Dung and Droſs, in compariſon of the excellency of Chriſt Jeſus.

Thirdly, Meat and Drink muſt undergo an alteration, and loſe its own Form, before it actually nouriſhes the Body. The Corn is ground to pieces in the Mill, before it be made Bread to nouriſh us. And Chriſt muſt be ground betwixt the upper and nether Milſtone of the Wrath of God, and Malice of Men, to be made Bread for our Souls. The Prophet ſaith, Iſa. 52. 14. His Viſage is marred more than any Man's. He did not look like himſelf, the Beauty and Glory of Heaven, but the Reproach of Men, and Deſpiſed of the People. Oh what an alteration, did his Incarnation and Sufferings make upon him! Phil. 2. 6, 7. Quantum mutatus ab illo?

Fourthly, Natural Food muſt be received into our Bodies, and have a Natural Union with them; and Chriſt muſt be received into our Souls, and have a Spiritual Union with them by Faith, or elſe we can have no nouriſhment or benefit by him. An empty Profeſſion, a meer talkative Religion nouriſhes the inner Man, juſt as much as the ſight of Meat, and our commending of it, doth our outward Man. It's Chriſt's dwelling in our Hearts by Faith, Eph. 3. 17. our receiving of him, John 1. 12. our eating his Fleſh, and drinking his Blood, John 6. 53. (i. e.) the effectual application of Chriſt to our Souls by Faith, that makes us Partakers of his Benefits.

Fifthly, Meat and Drink muſt be taken every Day, or elſe Natural Life will languiſh; and Spiritual Life will never be comfortably maintain'd in us, without daily Communion with Jeſus Chriſt: If a gracious Soul neglect, or be interrupted in its Courſe of Duties, and ſtated Times of Prayer, it will be quickly diſcernable by the Chriſtian himſelf, in the deadneſs of his own Heart; and by others alſo, in the barrenneſs of his Diſcourſes. And in theſe things ſtands the analogy and agreement of the Fleſh and Blood of Chriſt, with Meat and Drink.

2. Query. The next thing is to open the tranſcendent Excellency of Chriſt's Fleſh and Blood, above all other Food in the World; and this appears in four Particulars.

Firſt, This Fleſh and Blood was aſſumed into the neareſt Union with the ſecond Perſon in the bleſſed Trinity, and ſo is not only dignified above all other created Beings, but becomes the firſt Receptacle of all Grace intended to be communicated through it to the Children of Men, John 1. 14.

Secondly, This Fleſh and Blood of Chriſt was offered up to God, as the great Sacrifice for our Sins, and Purchaſe of our Peace, Col. 1. 20. Eph. 5. 2. and ſo it is of ineſtimable Price and Value to Believers. The Human Nature was the Altar on which it was offered up, and by which it was dignified and ſanctified, and made an Offering of a Sweet-ſmelling Savour to God, Eph. 5. 2.

Thirdly, This Fleſh and Blood of Chriſt, is the great Medium of Conveyance of all Bleſſings and Mercies to the Souls and Bodies of Believers. It lies as a vaſt Pipe at the Fountain-head of Bleſſings, receiving and conveying them from God to Men, Col. 1. 14, 19.

So then, it being united to the Second Perſon, and ſo become the Fleſh and Blood of God, it being the Sacrifice offered up to God for Atonement and Remiſſion of Sins, and the Medium of conveying all Grace and Mercy from God; the Fountain to the Souls and Bodies of Believers; How ſweet a reliſh muſt it have upon the Palate of Faith? Here Faith may taſte the Sweetneſs of a Pardon, a full, free, and final Pardon of Sin, than which nothing in this World can be ſweeter to a Sin-burdened Conſcience.

Here it taſtes the incomparable Sweetneſs of Peace with God, a Peace which paſſeth underſtanding; the Breach Sin made, is by this Sacrifice made up for ever, Col. 1. 20.

Here it taſtes the unexpreſſable Sweetneſs of Acceptation with God, and an Intereſt in his Favour, a Mercy which a poor convinced Soul would give Ten Thouſand Worlds for, were it to be purchaſed. Yea, here it reliſheth all the ſweet Promiſes in the Covenant of Grace, as Confirmed and Ratified by this Sacrifice, Hebrews 9. 5. So that well might he ſay, My Fleſh is Meat indeed, and my Blood is Drink indeed; the moſt excellent New Teſtament Food for Believers.

I. Uſe of Information.

Firſt, See here the Love of a Saviour, that heavenly Pelican, who feeds us with his own Fleſh and Blood. You read Lam. 4. 10. of pitiful Women, who eat the Fleſh of their own Children; but where have you read of Men or Women that gave their own Fleſh and Blood for Meat and Drink to their Children? Think on this, you that are ſo loth to deny your Fleſh for Chriſt; he ſuffered his Fleſh to be rent, and his Blood ſet abroach for you: What Love like the Love of Chriſt?

Secondly, Learn hence a ground of Content in the loweſt and pooreſt Condition allotted to any Believer in this World. It may be ſome of you live low in the World, you have hard Fare, and are abridg'd of many of thoſe ſweet Comforts in the Creature, which the Enemies of God abound in; but ſtill remember, you have no cauſe to envy their Dainties, and be diſſatisfied with your own Lot and Portion, when not many Nobles, or Mighty in the World, feed as your Souls do feed. O what a Feaſt have you! What Dainties do your Souls taſte by Faith, whilſt others do but feed upon Aſhes and Husks! What is the Fleſh of Lambs and Calves out of the Stall, to the Fleſh of Chriſt? Amos 6. 4, 5, 6. What is Wine in Bowls, and the chief Ointment, to the Blood of Chriſt, and the Anointings of his Spirit? O be ſatisfied with your outward Lot, however God hath caſt it, whilſt he hath dealt ſo bountifully with your Souls.

Thirdly, Learn hence the neceſſity of Faith, in order to the Livelihood and Subſiſtance of our Souls. What is a Feaſt to him that cannot taſte it? And what is Chriſt to him that cannot believe? that cannot by Faith eat his Fleſh and drink his Blood?

'Tis not the Preparation made for Souls in Chriſt, but the Application of him by Faith, that gives us the ſweetneſs and benefit of him. Faith is the Souls Mouth or Palate; the Unbeliever taſtes no Sweetneſs in Chriſt, he can reliſh more Sweetneſs in Money, Meat, Drink, carnal Mirth, or any ſenſual Enjoyment than in Chriſt.

Fourthly, How excellent are Goſpel-Ordinances? What ſweetneſs is there to be found in them by true Believers? For there Chriſt is prepar'd, and as it were ſerv'd in for them to feed upon. It is your Miniſter's Work to cook and prepare for you all the Week long, and to furniſh for you a Feaſt of Fat Things. Lo, here's a Table ſpread and furniſhed this Day, with the coſtlieſt Dainties that Heaven affords. O prize theſe Mercies, ſit not here with flat or wanton Appetites, leſt God call to your Enemies, and bid them take away.

II. Uſe of Exhortation.

Is the Fleſh and Blood of Chriſt's, Meat and Drink indeed? Then let me exhort you, Brethren.

Firſt, To come to this Table with ſharp and hungry Appetites. Have you ever taſted that the Lord is gracious ? And do you not hunger and thirſt to taſte it again ? Surely where the Carcaſs is, thither will the Eagles be gather'd, Matth. 24. 28. There is a two fold Appetite, a dainty, and an hungry Appetite; beware of a nice and dainty Appetite, that can reliſh nothing in the moſt ſolid and ſpiritual Duties, except the Diſh be garniſh'd with Flowers of Rhetorick, or the Matter ſerv'd in with Art and Elegancy. This hath been the great Sin of the Profeſſors of this Generation. O Chriſtians, no more of that I pray you. Were you really an hungred and a-thirſt for Chriſt, you would come to his Ordinances, as famiſhing Men to a Feaſt.

Secondly, To feed heartily upon Chriſt in every Ordinance, and in every Sacrament eſpecially. O that your Souls might hear and anſwer that Invitation this Day ! Cant. 5. 1. Eat, O Friends ; drink, yea, drink abundantly, O Beloved.

For Motives I will only hint theſe Three following.

Firſt, Chriſt is the Matter of the Feaſt. God hath prepar'd him for your Souls. Is any thing in Heaven or Earth ſo ſweet as Chriſt ſacrificed is ? Do not the Angels and Saints in Heaven feaſt upon him ? Surely one Drop of Chriſt's Blood hath more Sweetneſs and Excellency in it, than the whole Ocean of all Creature Comforts.

Secondly, Don't your Graces need it ? Have you not a languiſhing Love, a ſtaggering Faith, dull and ſluggiſh Deſires ? Look into your hearts, and ſee what need there is of ſtrengthning the things that are in you, which are ready to die. O feed upon Chriſt, that your Graces may be revived and ſtrengthned.

Thirdly, Do you know how many Days you are to go in the ſtrength of this Meal ? How long it may be e're you ſit again at the Lord's Table ? Surely even theſe, as well as your inferior temporal Comforts ſtand upon Terms of greateſt Uncertainty. Ah Chriſtians ! Conſider well the Times you live in, the Enemy that ſtands ready to take away the Cloth, and remove your Spiritual Food from you. It's ſaid of Peter Martyr, that being in Oxford, when Queen Mary came, and hearing the firſt Maſs-bell ring, he was ſtruck to the heart, and ſaid, Hæc una notula omnem meam doctrinam evertit. This one tinkling Bell overthrows all the Labours of my Miniſtry at once. God grant we may hear none of that Muſick in England any more ; but it's like to be according to your eſtimation and improvement of Chriſt's precious Ordinances.

Thirdly, Commend the experienced Sweetneſs of Chriſt to others. Don't conceal his lovelineſs and excellency. Thus the fair and enamoured Spouſe charges or adjures others, Cant. 5. 9. Be not content to feaſt upon Chriſt alone, whilſt other Souls are ſtarving, and perhaps the Souls of your dear natural Relations. Say to them as David, Pſal. 34. 8. O taſte and ſee how good the Lord is.

Fourthly and Laſtly, See that your Appetite to Chriſt be right, and truly ſpiritual. Such an hunger and thirſt, upon which Bleſſedneſs is entailed by Promiſe ; and you may conclude it ſo, when,

Firſt, It is a ſharp and ſtrong Appetite, Pſal. 42. 1. Let your thoughts run upon Chriſt night and day, [redacted]

Secondly, When 'tis a univerſal Appetite, after every thing in Chriſt, his Holineſs as well as his Righteouſneſs ; his Commands as well as his Promiſes, for he is altogether lovely, Cant. 5. 16.

Thirdly, When 'tis a continued Appetite ; I mean not, that the Pulſe of your Deſires ſhould keep an even ſtroke at all times, but that there be real and ſincere workings of heart after him always, Pſal. 119. 23.

Fourthly, When 'tis an induſtrious Appetite, awakening the Soul to the uſe of all means and practice of all Duties in order to ſatisfaction, Pſal. 27. 4. One thing have I deſired of the Lord, and that will I ſeek after.

Fifthly and Laſtly, It's then aright, when 'tis an inſatiable Appetite, never to be allay'd with any thing beſide Chriſt, Pſal. 73. 29. No, nor with Chriſt himſelf, 'till thou comeſt to the full enjoyment of him in Heaven. The Believer knows, how ſweet ſoever his Communion, he ſhall have with Chriſt is in this World, yet that Communion he ſhall have with Chriſt in Heaven, far excels it ; there it will be more intimate and immediate, 1 Cor. 19. 12. more full and perfect, even to ſatisfaction, Pſal. 17. 15. more conſtant and continued, not ſuffering ſuch Interruptions as it doth here, Rev. 21. 25. more pure and unmixed. Here our Corruptions work with our Graces, Rom. 7. 21. but there Grace ſhall work alone. In a word, more durable and perpetual : We ſhall be ever with the Lord, 1 Theſ. 4. 7. Long therefore to drink that new Wine in the Father's Kingdom : The Spirit and the Bride ſay, Come ; and let him that heareth ſay, Come ; even ſo come Lord Jeſus, come quickly.

The Eleventh MEDITATION,

UPON

Canticles 8. 6. Set me as a Seal upon thy Heart, as a Seal upon thine Arm; for Love is ſtrong as Death, Jealouſie is cruel as the Grave; the Coals thereof are Coals of Fire, which hath a moſt vehement Flame.

THis Book is a ſacred Allegory, the Sence thereof is deep and ſpiritual. Our unacquaintedneſs with ſuch Schemes and Figures of Speech, together with the want of Spiritual Light and Experience, makes it difficult to be underſtood; but the Allegory being once unfolded by reaſon of its affinity with the Fancy, Truth is more eaſily and affectingly tranſmitted both to the mind and heart.

St. Auguſtine aſſigns this Reaſon why we are ſo much delighted with Metaphors and Allegories, becauſe they are ſo much proportioned to our Senſes, with which our Reaſon hath contracted an intimacy and familiarity: And therefore God to accommodate his Truth to our Capacity, doth as it were embody it in earthly Expreſſions, according to that of the ancient Cabaliſts, Lumen ſupremum nunquam deſcendit ſine indumento: Heavenly Truth never deſcendeth to us without its Veil and Covering.

The Words before us are the Requeſt of the Spouſe to Jeſus Chriſt, and conſiſt of two Parts, viz.

1. Her Suit, which is earneſt.
2. Her Argument, which is weighty.

1. Her earneſt Suit, or Requeſt, to Jeſus Chriſt, Set me as a Seal upon thy Heart, as a Seal upon thine Arm. The Heart of Chriſt notes his moſt dear, inward, tender Affection; his Arm notes his protecting and preſerving Care and Power: The laſt naturally follows the firſt; what Men dearly affect, they tenderly and carefully protect. And by ſetting her as a Seal upon his Heart and Arm, ſhe means a ſure and a well-confirmed Intereſt, both in his Love and Power; this ſhe would have firmly ſealed and ratified; and that this is her meaning, will plainly appear from

The Argument with which ſhe enforces her Requeſt: For Love is ſtrong as Death, Jealouſie is cruel as the Grave, &c.

By Jealouſie, we muſt underſtand her fears and ſuſpicions of coming ſhort of Chriſt and his Love? q. d. What if after all I ſhould be deceived? What if Jeſus Chriſt do not love me with a ſpecial Love? O theſe fears and ſuſpicions are intolerable torments to her, ſhe cannot bear them; they are cruel as the Grave, inſufferable as Coals of Fire, which have a moſt vehement flame, q. d. Lord, if thou leave me in the midſt of theſe Jealouſies of thy Love, I ſhall be but a torment to my ſelf: I ſhall live as one upon the Rack, or in the Flames. Hence the Note is.

Doct. That there is nothing in this World, which true Chriſtians more earneſtly deſire, than to be well aſſured and ſatisfied of the Love of Jeſus Chriſt to their Souls.

In the Meditations of this Point, two things muſt be enquired into.

1. Why this Aſſurance is ſo deſirable.
2. How it may be obtained.

1. Why the aſſurance of the Love of Chriſt is ſo deſirable in the Eyes of true Chriſtians. And among others, there are two things that eſpecially make it ſo, viz.

1. The ſweetneſs of its enjoyment.
2. The difficulty of its attainment.

The ſweetneſs of its enjoyment, which is unexpreſſable and inconceivable; for it is a Mercy above all eſtimation. It is,

1. The Riches of Faith.
2. The Reſt and Eaſe of the Heart.
3. The Pleaſure of Life.
4. A Cordial at Death.
5. A ſweet Support in all Troubles.

1. It is the very Riches of Faith, the moſt pleaſant Fruit which grows upon the top Branches of Faith. The Scripture tells us of an Aſſurance of Underſtanding, Hope, and Faith: All theſe Graces are precious in themſelves, but the aſſurance of each of them is the moſt ſweet and pleaſant part. Knowledge above Knowledge, is the full aſſurance of Knowledge. Hope above Hope is the full aſſurance of Hope. And Faith above Faith, is the full aſſurance of Faith. The leaſt and loweſt Act of ſaving Faith is precious, and above all value; What then muſt be the higheſt and moſt excellent Acts of Faith be? Certainly, there is a ſweetneſs in the aſſurance of Faith, that few Men have the Privilege to taſte; and they that do, can find no Words able to expreſs it to another's Underſtanding. The weakeſt Chriſtian is exalted above other Men, but the aſſured Chriſtian hath a preference before all other Chriſtians.

2. It is Hearts Eaſe, the very Sabbath and ſweet Repoſe of the Soul. Thouſands of poor Chriſtians would part with all they poſſeſs in this World, to enjoy it, but it flies from them. The Life that moſt of them live, is a Life betwixt hopes and fears; their Intereſt in Chriſt is very doubtful to them. Sometimes they are encouraged from ſenſible Workings of Grace, then all is daſhed again, by the contrary ſtirrings and workings of their own Corruptions. Now the Sun ſhines out clear, by and by the Heavens are overcaſt and clouded again; but the aſſured Chriſtian is at reſt from thoſe tormenting fears and jealouſies which my Text ſpeaks of, that are as cruel as the Grave, and as inſufferable as Coals of Fire in a Man's Boſom; he can take Chriſt into the Arms of Faith, and ſay, My Beloved is mine, and I am his. Return to thy reſt, O my Soul, for the Lord hath dealt bountifully with thee.

3. It is the Pleaſure of Life; yea, the moſt rational, pure, and tranſporting pleaſure. What is life without pleaſure? And what pleaſure is there in the World comparable to this pleaſure? For let the ſealed and aſſured Believer conſider and compare, and he muſt needs find a joy and pleaſure beyond the joy of the whole Earth. If he conſider well what he is aſſur'd of, it is no common Mercy, but Chriſt himſelf, and his Love; a Mercy incomprehenſible by Men or Angels, Epheſ. 3. 19. Put Chriſt into the ſenſible poſſeſſion of a Believer, and joy is no more under his command for that time; he can no more refuſe to rejoyce [redacted], and eſpecially when his Thoughts are exercis'd in comparing ſtates and conditions, either his own with other mens, or his own now with what it was, and what it ſhall be. To think with thy ſelf thus, I am aſſur'd of Chriſt and his Love, my intereſt in him is ſealed, but this is a Mercy few enjoy beſides me. There be millions of Souls of equal value with mine by nature, that ſhall never enjoy ſuch a Mercy as this. Yea, the time was when I my ſelf was far from it, in my unregenerate ſtate. Lord, how is it I had not then been ſeal'd to Damnation? O, 'tis well with me for the preſent, that I can call Chriſt my own; and yet it will be better and better. My condition will mend every day. I am now in Chriſt, and it is but a little while before I ſhall be with Chriſt, and arrive at the full ſatisfaction of my very Heart. O, what pleaſure doth every glance backward or forward give to the ſealed Soul!

4. It is a Cordial in Death, and there is none like it. This will make the Soul triumph over the Grave, take Death cheerfully by the cold hand, welcome its grim Meſſengers, and long to be gone, and be with Chriſt. Dark and doubting Chriſtians may indeed ſhrink back from it, and be afraid of the exchange, but the aſſured Soul longs to be gone, and needs Patience to live, as other men do to die. When one was ask'd if he were willing to die, his Anſwer was, Illius eſt nolle mori, qui nolit ire ad Chriſtum, Let him be loth to die, that is loth to go to Chriſt. The Sugar of Aſſurance ſweetens the bitter Cup of Death, and makes it delectable to a Believer's reliſh.

5. In a word, it is a ſweet ſupport in all the Troubles and Afflictions on this ſide the Grave: Let the aſſured Soul be caſt into what condition the Lord pleaſes, be it upon a Bed of Sickneſs, yet this gives his Soul ſuch ſupport and comfort, that he ſhall not ſay, I am ſick; Sin being forgiven, the Soul is well when the Body is in pain, Iſaiah 33. 24. Let him be caſt into a Priſon, here's that will turn a Priſon into a Paradiſe, Acts 5. 41. Let him be pinch'd with outward want, this will ſupply all, As having nothing, and yet poſſeſſing all things, 2 Cor. 6. 10. Thus you ſee how deſirable it is for its own excellency.

2. And as it is deſirable for the ſweetneſs of its own enjoyment, ſo alſo from the difficulty of its attainment; all Excellencies are lock'd up under many difficulties, but none like this: It is indeed eaſie to preſume an Intereſt in Chriſt, and cheat a man's own Soul with a Dream and Fancy of our own Creation; but ſure it's hard to get a ſealed clear Title to Chriſt and his Benefits; and there be, among others, three things that make it difficult.

(1.) The Corruptions that remain, and daily work in the beſt Hearts; theſe are evermore puzzling and ſcaring the poor Soul with Fears and Doubts about its condition. Grace teacheth men due ſeverity to themſelves, and fear of their own deceitfulneſs makes them think no Hearts are like their Hearts, eſpecially whilſt they compare other mens outſide with their own inſide, as generally they do. O, how do our own Corruptions every moment raiſe Miſts and Clouds, that it is a wonder we ever ſhould have one clear Beam of Aſſurance ſhining into ſuch Hearts, as our Hearts are.

(2.) The multitudes of miſtakes and cheats that are frequently committed and found in this matter, makes upright Hearts the more ſuſpicious and doubtful of their own conditions. O, when they read Matth. 7. 22. that many will ſay to Chriſt in that day, Lord, we have propheſied in thy name, &c. it ſcares them, leſt they alſo be deceiv'd.

(3.) The grand importance of the matter makes poor Souls fearful of concluding certainly about it. O, when a man conſiders that the whole weight of his eternal happineſs or miſery depends upon the reſolution of theſe Queſtions, Am I in Chriſt? or am I not? it will make him tremble to determine. In a word, Aſſurance is not in our power, or at our command. There be many holy, humble, diligent, and longing Souls to whom 'tis denied; it is arbitrarily diſpens'd by the pleaſure of the Spirit, to whom he will, and ſuch Favours are rare even among true Believers, the more therefore is it to be valued and deſir'd by all, as the Spouſe doth in this place. And ſo much to the firſt thing, Upon what account the Aſſurance of Chriſt's Love is ſo deſirable in the Eyes of Chriſtians.

2. In the laſt place let us conſider how this Mercy, which is ſo deſirable, may be obtain'd; and this is our proper Work and Buſineſs at this time.

You are now come to a Sealing Ordinance, inſtituted on purpoſe for this Noble End and Uſe. O that we could pray and plead for it as the Spouſe here doth, Set me as a Seal upon thine heart, a ſeal upon thine arm, for love is ſtrong as death, jealouſie is cruel as the grave, &c. Now in order to the attainment of this moſt deſirable Mercy, take a few neceſſary hints of your preſent Work and Duty in the following Directions.

Direction

Direction I.

Would you be well ſecur'd of Chriſt's Love to you, and that you are ſet as a Seal upon his heart? Then exerciſe and manifeſt more love to Chriſt, and let him be much upon your hearts. If it be clear to you, that you have true Love to Jeſus Chriſt, you need not at all to doubt, but you are in his Heart and in his Love; I love them that love me, Prov. 1. 17. And ſurely you have now before you the greateſt Motive in the World to inflame your Love to Jeſus Chriſt. Behold him as he is here repreſented to you, wounded for your Iniquities, yea, ſacrific'd to the Wrath of God for your Peace, Pardon, and Salvation. O, what manner of Love is this? Behold how he loved thee! If Chriſt's Love draw forth thine, it will ſo far clear thy Intereſt in his Love, as it ſhall engage thy heart in love to him.

Direction II.

But ſeeing the activity of your Love will be according to the activity of your Faith, therefore in the next place I adviſe you to make it the main work and buſineſs of this hour to exerciſe your Faith upon Jeſus Chriſt: ſet your ſelves this day to believe; the more ſtrong the direct acts of your Faith ſhall be, the more clear and comfortable its reflex acts are like to be.

There are three diſtinct Offices or Imployments for your Faith at this Table, viz.

1. To realize.
2. To apply.
3. To infer from the Sufferings of Jeſus Chriſt.

1. Realize the Sufferings of Chriſt for you, and behold them here repreſented in a true Glaſs to the Eye of Faith: See you that Bread broken, and that Wine pour'd out? As ſure as this is ſo, Jeſus Chriſt endur'd the Croſs, ſuffer'd the Wrath of the great and terrible God in his Soul, and in his Body upon the curſed Tree, for and in the room of poor condemn'd Sinners. Your Faith for the one hath as much, yea, more certainty, than your Senſe hath for the other. This is a faithful Saying, and worthy of all acceptation, that Jeſus Chriſt came into the world to ſave ſinners, 1 Tim. 1. 15. And without controverſie, great is the myſtery of godlineſs, God was manifeſt in the fleſh, &c. 1 Tim. 3. 16.

2. Apply the Sufferings of Chriſt this day to thine own Soul: Believe all this to be done and ſuffer'd in thy room, and for thy ſake: he offer'd not this Sacrifice for his own Sins, but ours, Iſa. 53. 9. Heb. 7. 27. He was incarnate for you, Iſaiah 9. 6. For us a child is born, to us a Son is given. His Death was for you, and in your ſtead, Gal. 3. 13. He was made a curſe for us; and when he roſe from the dead, he roſe for our juſtification, Rom. 4. 25. and now he is in Glory at the right hand of God, he is there for us, Heb. 7. 25. He ever lives to make interceſſion for us: It was the pride, paſſion, earthlineſs, and unbelief of thy heart which Jeſus Chriſt groan'd, bled, and died to procure a Pardon for.

3. Infer from the Sufferings of Chriſt thoſe concluſions of Faith that tend to Aſſurance. As thus: Did Chriſt die for me when I was an Enemy? Then ſurely, being reconcil'd, I ſhall be ſav'd by his Life, Rom. 5. 10. Again, Is Chriſt dead for me? Then I ſhall never die eternally: Nothing ſhall ſeparate me from the Love of God, it is Chriſt that died, Rom. 8. 34.

Direction III.

Mourn over all thoſe Sins that cauſe the Lord to hide his Face from your Souls: have you grieved the Spirit by your Sin? O, be griev'd for it this day at your very hearts, cover the Table of the Lord with Tears; Look upon him whom you have pierced, and mourn, as for an only Son. Tho' there be no Merit, yet there is much Mercy in a broken heart for Sin; and there is no ſuch Advantage to get your hearts broken as this is which is now before you. When the ſhowre of Repentance is fallen, the Heavens over thee may be clear, and the Sun ſhine out in its brightneſs upon thy Soul.

Direction IV.

In a word, pour out thy Soul to God in hearty deſires for a ſeal'd and clear Intereſt in his Love this day; tell him it is a Mercy thou valueſt above Life; Thy favour is better than life, Pſalm 63. 3. Tell him, thou art not able to live with the Jealouſies and Suſpicions of his Love; thou art but a Torment to thy ſelf, whilſt thy Intereſt in his Love abides under a cloud. Beſeech him to pity thy poor afflicted Soul, which hath lain down and riſen ſo long with theſe Fears and Tremblings, and been a ſtranger to Comfort for ſo many days. Tell him how weak thy hands have been, and ſtill are, in Duties of Obedience, for want of this ſtrength and encouragement. Engage thy Soul to him this day to be more active, cheerful, and fruitful in his ſervice, if it will pleaſe him now to free thee from thoſe fears and doubts that have clogg'd thee in all thy former Duties. O, cry unto him in the words, and with the deep ſenſe of the Spouſe in this Text, Set me as a Seal upon thy heart, which hath a moſt vehement heat, as a Seal upon thine arm; for love is ſtrong as death, jealouſie is cruel as the grave, the coals thereof are coals of fire, &c.

The Twelfth MEDITATION,

UPON

Epheſians 3. 19. —— And to know the love of Chriſt, which paſſeth knowledge.

THE knowledge of Chriſt, and of his love, is deſervedly in this place ſet down among the deſiderata Chriſtianorum, the moſt deſirable enjoyments of Believers in this World. This Love of Chriſt had center'd the Apoſtle's heart; he was ſwallow'd up in the meditation and admiration of it, and would have all hearts inflamed and affected with it, as his was.

Some think the Apoſtle ſpeaks extatically in this place, and knows not how to make the parts of his Diſcourſe conſiſtent with each other, when he puts them upon Endeavours to know that Love of Chriſt which himſelf confeſſes to paſs knowledge.

But though his Heart was raviſh'd with the Love of Chriſt, yet there is no contradiction or inconſiſtency in his Diſcourſe. He doth earneſtly deſire for the Epheſians, that they may know the love of Chriſt, i. e. that they might experimentally know his love, which paſſeth knowledge; that is, as ſome expound it, all other kinds of knowledge; yea, and all knowledge of Chriſt which is not practical and experimental. Or thus: Labour to get the cleareſt and fulleſt apprehenſive knowledge of Chriſt and his Love, that is attainable in this World, though you cannot arrive to a perfect comprehenſive knowledge of either. Mens humana hoc & capit, & non capit; atque in eo capit, quod rapitur in admirationem, as others reconcile it. The Note from it is,

Doct. That the love of Chriſt ſurpaſſes and tranſcends the knowledge of the moſt illuminated Believers.

The Love of Chriſt is too deep for any created Underſtanding to fathom; 'tis unſearchable Love, and it is ſo in divers reſpects.

1. It is unſearchable in reſpect of its antiquity. No Underſtanding of Man can trace it back to its firſt Spring; it flows from one Eternity to another: We receive the fruits and effects of it now; but, O how ancient is that Root that bears them! He loved us before this World was made, and will continue ſo to do when it ſhall be reduced into aſhes. It is ſaid, Prov. 8. 30, 31. When he gave the Sea his decree, when he appointed the foundations of the Earth, then was I by him, as one brought up with him, and I was daily his delight, rejoycing always before him, rejoycing in the habitable parts of his Earth, and my delights were with the Sons of men.

2. The freeneſs of the love of Chriſt paſſes knowledge. No man knows, nor can any words expreſs how free the love of Chriſt to his People : It is ſaid, Iſa. 55. 8. My thoughts are not your thoughts. The meaning is, My Grace, Mercy, and Love to you is one thing, as it is in my thoughts, and quite another thing when it comes into your thoughts. In my thoughts it is like it ſelf, free, rich, and unchangable; but in your thoughts it is limited and narrowed, pinch'd in within your ſtreight and narrow conceptions; that it is not like it ſelf, but alter'd according to the model and platform of Creatures, according to which you draw it in your minds. Alas, we do but alter and ſpoil his Love, when we think there is any thing in us, or done by us, that can be a motive, inducement, or recompence to it: His Love is ſo free, that it pitch'd it ſelf upon us, before we had any lovelineſs in us at all: When we were in our Blood, he ſaid unto us, Live; and that was the time of love, it did not ſtay till we had our Ornaments upon us, but embraced us in our Blood, in our moſt loathſome ſtate; and of ſeaſons, that is, the ſeaſon of love, the choſen time of love, Ezek. 16. 7, 8. Chriſt loved us not upon the account of any foreſeen excellency in us, or upon any expectation of recompence from us: Nay, he lov'd us not only without, but againſt our deſerts. Nothing in Nature is found ſo free as the Love of Chriſt is; our Thoughts therefore of this Love going beyond all Examples and Inſtances that are found among men, quickly loſe themſelves in an immenſe Ocean of Free Grace, where they can find neither bank nor bottom.

The bounty and liberality of the love of Chriſt to his People paſſeth knowledge. Who can number or value the Fruits of his Love? They are more than the Sands upon the Sea-ſhore. It would weary the Arm of an Angel to write down the thouſandth part of the effects of his Love, which come to the ſhare of any particular Chriſtian in this World. Who can tell how many Sins it pardons? The free gift is of many offences unto juſtification, Rom. 5. 16. How many dangers it prevents, or how many wants it ſupplies! This we know, that of his fulneſs we all receive grace for grace, John 1. 6. But how full of Grace Chriſt is, and how many Mercies have and ſhall flow to us out of that Fountain of Love, this is unknown to men, to the beſt, wiſeſt, and moſt obſervant men. O, if the Records of the Mercies of our Lives were or could be gather'd and kept, what vaſt Volumes would they ſwell to! 'Tis true indeed, you have the total Sum given you in 1 Cor. 3. 22. All are yours, but it is ſuch a Number as no man can number.

The Conſtancy of Chriſt's love to his People paſſeth knowledge: No length of time, no diſtance of place, no change of condition, either with him or us, can poſſibly make any alteration of his Affections towards us; He is the ſame yeſterday, to day, and for ever, Heb. 13. 8. It is noted alſo by the Evangeliſt, John 13. 1. That having loved his own which were in the world, he loved them to the end. 'Tis true, his condition is alter'd, he is no more in this World converſing with his People, as he did once in the days of his Fleſh; he is now at the right hand of God in the higheſt Glory, but yet his Heart is the ſame that ever it was, for love and tenderneſs to his People. Our Conditions alſo are often alter'd in this World, but his Love ſuffers no alteration. Yea, which is much more admirable, we do many things daily that grieve him and offend him, yet he takes not away his loving kindneſs from us, nor ſuffers his Faithfulneſs to fail. We pour out ſo much cold Water of unkindneſs and provocation, as is enough to cool and quench any Love in the World, except his Love; but notwithſtanding all, he continues unchangable in love to us. This Peter found, notwithſtanding that great Offence of his: No ſooner was the Lord riſen from the dead, but he greets him in the ſtyle of his former love and ancient reſpect, Go tell the Diſciples, and tell Peter.

So then, the love of Chriſt is a love tranſcending all Creature-love and Humane Underſtanding. We read in Rom. 5. 7, 8. that peradventure for a good man, ſome would even dare to die; but we never find where any beſide Jeſus Chriſt would lay down his Life for Enemies. It is recorded as an unparallel'd Inſtance of Love in Damon and Pithias, the two Sicilian Philoſophers, that each had courage enough to die for his Friend; one of them being condemn'd to die by the Tyrant, and deſiring to give the laſt farewel to his Family, his Friend went into Priſon for him, as his Surety to die for him, if he return'd not at the appointed time; but he did not die; yea, he had ſuch a confidence in his Friend, that he would not ſuffer him by default to die for him; and if he had, yet he had died for his Friend. But ſuch was the love of Chriſt, that it did not only put him under a danger of Death, but put him actually unto death, yea, the worſt of Deaths, and that for his Enemies. O, what manner of Love is this! We read of the love that Jacob had for Rachel, and how he endur'd both the cold of Winter and heat of Summer for her ſake: But what is this to the love of Jeſus, who for us endured the heat of God's Wrath? Beſide, he was beautiful, but we unlovely. David wiſh'd for Abſalom his Son, Would God I had died for thee. But it was but a wiſh, and had it come to the proof, David would have ſhrinkt from death, for all the affection he bare his beautiful Son. But Chriſt actually gave his life for us, and did not only wiſh he had done it. O love tranſcending the love of Creatures, yea, and ſurmounting all Creature-knowledge! The Uſes follow.

1. Uſe.

If the love of Chriſt paſs knowledge, O! then admire it; yea, live and die in the wonder and admiration of the love of Chriſt. As it is a ſign of great weakneſs to admire ſmall and common things, ſo it ſpeaks great ſtupidity not to be affected with great and unuſual things. O Chriſtian, if thou be one that converſeſt with the thoughts of this love, thou canſt not but admire it; and the more thou ſtudieſt, the more ſtill wilt thou be aſtoniſh'd at it. And among the many Wonders that will appear in the love of Chriſt, theſe two will moſt of all affect thee, viz.

1. That ever it pitch'd at firſt on thee.
2. That it is not by ſo many Sins quench'd towards thee.

(1.) 'Tis admirable that ever the love of Chriſt pitch'd at firſt upon thee; for are there not millions in the World of ſweeter tempers, and better conſtitutions than thy ſelf, whom it hath paſt by, and yet imbraced thee? Lord, (ſaid the Diſciples) how is it that thou wilt manifeſt thy ſelf unto us, and not unto the world? John 14. 22. Surely he did not ſet his love upon thee, nor chuſe thee, becauſe thou waſt better than others, but becauſe he lov'd thee.

(2.) It is admirable that his love to thee is not extinguiſh'd by ſo many Sins as thou haſt committed againſt him. Lay thy hand, Chriſtian, this day upon thy heart, and bethink thy ſelf how many have been the provocations, wrongs, and diſhonours thou haſt been guilty of againſt thy God, and that ſince he call'd thee by his Grace, and ſet his love upon thee: What, and yet love thee ſtill! yea, notwithſtanding all, he is ſtill thy God, and loves thee with an unchangable love. O, with how many Notwithſtandings is his love continued to thy Soul? All this is juſt matter of admiration and wonder for ever.

3. Is the love of Chriſt paſt knowledge? an unſearchable love? Then learn whence and why it is that the Souls of Believers never are, nor can be, tir'd in beholding and enjoying Jeſus Chriſt. We uſe to ſay, one thing is tireſome; and it is very true, if it be an earthly thing, it will be ſo, how ſweet or excellent ſoever it ſeems at firſt; and the reaſon is, becauſe the beſt Creature-enjoyment is but a ſhallow thing, and a few thoughts will ſound it to the bottom; and there being no ſupply of new matter to feed the hungry Soul upon, it is quickly ſated and cloy'd with the repetition of the ſame thing over and over; but it is far otherwiſe in Chriſt; for tho' he be but one, yet in that one thing all things are virtually and eminently contain'd, ſo that every day he ſeems a new Chriſt for ſweetneſs, and yet is the ſame Chriſt ſtill. And in Heaven the Redeem'd ſhall view him with as much wonder, and love him with as much ardour after millions of years, as they did at their firſt ſight of him. O, there is no bottom in the love of Chriſt, it paſſeth knowledge.

4. In a word, beſtow your beſt and chiefeſt love upon Chriſt, whoſe love to you paſſeth all knowledge: Let no Creature be loved equally with Chriſt, but as his love to you paſſeth all Creature-love, ſo let yours to him be a matchleſs love.

Believer, Chriſt loves thee with an unſearchable love, he loves thee more than the deareſt Friend that is, as thine own Soul loves thee. He loves thee more than thou loveſt thy Child, or the Wife of thy Boſom; more than thy Soul loves thy Body, with which it is ſo intimately united; and wilt thou content thy ſelf with ſuch poor, narrow, remiſs affections to Jeſus Chriſt? O, look upon him this day in his red Garments, behold him in the ſtrength of his Love, breaking through the Curſe of the Law, the Wrath of God, the Agonies of Death, to bring home the fruits of his eternal Love to thy Soul; and whilſt thou art beholding and muſing upon it, let thy Heart melt thy Eyes drop, and thy very Soul cry out, Behold how he lov'd me! Bleſſed be God for Jeſus Chriſt.

A FAMILIAR CONFERENCE, BETWEEN A Miniſter and a Doubting Chriſtian, CONCERNING THE Sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

Chriſtian.

SIR, If it may be no interruption to your Studies, I would be glad to be reſolved of ſeveral Doubts that ariſe in my Mind, about receving the Bleſſed Sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

Miniſter.

‘I ſhall be very glad to contribute any thing for removing thoſe Scruples, which may diſturb you upon that account; therefore, pray go on.

Chriſtian.

Sir, I have heard many Sermons, and read ſeveral Diſcourſes, which do much urge, and declare the neceſſity of communicating in his bleſſed Ordinance, and yet I durſt never preſume to joyn therein.

Miniſter.

‘Have you then lived hitherto in the neglect of this important Duty.

Chriſtian.

To ſpeak freely, Sir, I never yet did communicate therein all my Life; becauſe I have much queſtioned whether I were worthy to receive that bleſſed and holy Seal, to the Glory of God, and my own Edification and Comfort; ſince I never truly underſtood the Inſtitution, Nature, Adminiſtration, and Ends of it, nor the Qualifications of thoſe who are to be Partakers thereof, according to the appointment of Jeſus Chriſt.

Miniſter.

‘Well then, I hope, if theſe things be plainly opened to you, it may much conduce to ſatisfie your Scruples.

Chriſtian.

Sir, I ſhall receive your Inſtructions with thankfulneſs, and if my heart deceive me not, ſhall rejoyce in the Light and Knowledge that I may gain thereby.

Miniſter.

‘Let us then, firſt enquire into the Qualifications of a ſincere Chriſtian in general. And ſecondly, of the Qualifications of ſuch Chriſtians, as are meet to partake of the Lord's Supper, for they are diſtinct, and ſometimes ſeparate.

Chriſtian.

I hope in doing this, you will much help me to judge of my preſent State and Condition Godward. And now in the firſt place, pray inform me, how I may know if I am a ſincere Chriſtian.

Miniſter.

‘All true Believers, among other Graces, have ſuch a knowledge of God in Chriſt, as works by Love, and ſtirs up in them an earneſt ſtudy of the Will of God, and a ſincere endeavour to live in the Faith, Knowledge, and Practice of it.

Chriſtian.

Sir, I cannot boaſt of my Knowledge, yet by the Grace of God ſhewed to me, thoſe Conceptions which I have of God in Chriſt, have, I hope, ſo far prevailed upon me, that to live in the Knowledge, Love, and Enjoyment of him, and to have my All devoted to his Will and Praiſe, is all the Heaven that I deſire in this World, and a great part of that which I hope for in the World to come.

Miniſter.

‘Theſe are good Signs of a real and renewed Change in your Soul, and ſo doubtleſs have wrought good Diſpoſitions in you, of which you have had Evidence in your Heart, and have made it appear in your Life and Actions.

Chriſtian.

I would be loth to flatter my ſelf, but yet I hope that I find ſome delight in the Word of God, both read and preached; and do ſeriouſly meditate thereon, that I may grow in Grace, and in the Knowledge of Jeſus Chriſt our Lord. And tho' I am ſometimes tempted with vile and vain Thoughts, yet I endeavour to ſtifle them, and my Heart riſes againſt them. I thank God I ſtrive to reſiſt the firſt motions to ſin, and avoid all occaſions of evil, and am never more uneaſie then when I happen into the Company of profane and ill People; having an hatred to Lying, obſcene and filthy Diſcourſes, Swearing, Curſing, and all diſhonourable Reflections upon God and Godlineſs. I make Conſcience of taking up a Slander againſt my Neighbour; and to be juſt, and to do good to all, according to my ability, and to walk in all the Commandments of the Lord blameleſs.

Miniſter.

‘If theſe be the Fruits and Effects of your Faith, it is not a dead Faith; yet we muſt not reſt upon our own Works, or Righteouſneſs, for Juſtification, Merit, or Satisfaction, becauſe it will be derogatory to the Merits and Righteouſneſs of Jeſus Chriſt, and dangerous to our own Souls.

Chriſtian.

Sir, I know right well, that there is no Juſtification, but by the Blood of Jeſus, neither dare I truſt to my own Righteouſneſs, but to his only, for the Pardon and Remiſſion of my Sins. And if by Grace I am enabled to bring forth any Fruit meet for a Goſpel Faith, Repentance, and Love, theſe I bleſs God for, as a part of my Duty and Happineſs, and deſire to look on them as Proofs of Faith (if they are worthy to be ſuch), and no otherwiſe.

Miniſter.

‘This is well. But do you find your Soul always in a good frame and temper without haltings, ſlips, or excurſions.

Chriſtian.

Sir, I dare not ſay I do; for I muſt with Sorrow acknowledge, that at ſome times my Thoughts are polluted, my Words are unſavoury without edification, my Actions not adorning the Doctrine of the Goſpel, and God my Saviour; but ſuch as I may fear may prove a grief and ſnare to others. My ſpiritual reliſh of God's Word is very inſipid, and its Authority not ſo ſenſibly powerful, ſo that I am unready to any thing that is good, even like a dead Man, as if my Religion had no Life nor Soul in it.

Miniſter.

‘Well, but when you thus fall into Sin, or fail in your Duty, what do you think of your ſelf and ways? How are you affected therewith.

Chriſtian.

When I am in this deplorable Condition, my Soul is much diſturbed, my Joy and Peace of Conſcience are gone; but when I am a little rouſed out of this ſinful Lethargy, my Heart is then melted with Sorrow for my Folly and Miſcarriages, and I addreſs my ſelf to God with the greateſt fear and ſhame, humbly imploring him to renew a right Spirit within me.

Miniſter.

‘Well Friend, if your Conſcience confirms what your Tongue has utter'd, you have expreſs'd enough to evidence the Sincerity of your Obedience to God, and that you are a ſound Believer, and a ſincere Convert. And I hope you have Faith alſo in Jeſus Chriſt the Mediator, without a due reſpect to whom, our Faith and good Affections, will not deſerve the name of being truly Evangelical and ſaving.

Chriſtian.

Through Grace, I deſire to acknowledge and embrace the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, upon the Terms on which he is offered in the Goſpel, to believe all his Doctrines as my Teacher and Guide, to truſt and depend upon him as the High Prieſt of our Profeſſion, who makes atonement by his Sacrifice and Interceſſion. And I deſire to ſubmit to his Government, as Lord and King of his Church.

Miniſter.

‘Theſe are very conſiderable Attainments, and include the Subſtance of ſaving Faith. But are you ſenſible how you arrived to this good diſpoſition and frame of Mind? Do you imagine it was natural to you, or the Reſult of the Improvement of your natural Reaſon, Powers, or Faculties?

Chriſtian.

Oh Sir, I dare by no means aſcribe that to Nature, which is only the Effect of Divine Grace. If I have any meaſure of Sanctification, it is only by the Gift and Grace of God; for I have had too much Experience, that by Nature I am alive to Vanity and Sin, but dead and lifeleſs to God, and to all real Goodneſs, that I am darkneſs; Folly poſſeſſeth my Soul; I am at enmity with God; and altogether unable to will, or to do what is pleaſing in his Eyes; having a great contrariety in my Heart to the way of Salvation propoſed in the Goſpel of Chriſt.

Miniſter.

‘And have you taken up ſtrong Reſolutions, that by the help of God, and the aſſiſtance of his bleſſed Spirit, you will endeavour to perſevere in the Faith and Practice which you have now declared, to your Lives end.

Chriſtian.

Sir, there is nothing that I more dread than Apoſtatizing, or relaxing in my Duty and Profeſſion, and that I ſhould have a backſliding Heart from the Lord; and I earneſtly watch and pray againſt every Symptom and Degree thereof.

Miniſter.

‘Do you think that by your own ſtrength and ability, you have power to perſevere and continue in the Faith and Obedience of the Goſpel, againſt the many Temptations and Corruptions that aſſault us, and the lamentable Miſcarriages of thoſe who ſeem'd Pillars in the Houſe of God.

Chriſtian.

I have no Confidence in my own Ability, Sir, I aſſure you; but do wholly rely on the Rock that is higher than I, even upon him who hath promiſed, That he will perfect a good Work begun to the Day of Chriſt. I reſt upon him who is the Author and Finiſher of our Faith, I beg his Holy Spirit to inſtruct, guide, aſſiſt, and comfort me. And I earneſtly deſire and purpoſe, (by the Grace of God) to expect thoſe Aids in a conſtant and univerſal Attendance upon God in his Ordinances, with an honeſt, humble, and believing Heart.

Miniſter.

‘Theſe are all plain Evidences of the ſaving Grace of God, which I beſeech the Lord may always continue and grow in your Heart; that ſo you may have a full aſſurance of his Love, who hath dealt ſo graciouſly with you.

Chriſtian.

The Lord grant, that in the Sence of his Love to my Soul, I may walk worthy of his Grace. And now, Sir, by what has been ſaid, do you think I may preſume to feed on Jeſus Chriſt at his Table, and receive that bleſſed Seal of my Redeemer's Love.

Miniſter.

‘You know I told you, that a Man may be a true Chriſtian, and yet may not be fit to partake of this Holy Ordinance: Becauſe he may believe unto Salvation, and yet be ſo ignorant of this Myſtery, as not to be able to make a due Application of it to his own Soul.

Chriſtian.

Ah, Sir, I would willingly be informed what is neceſſary to be done by a ſound Believer, in order to the partaking of this bleſſed Ordinance.

Miniſter.

‘Firſt, he muſt conſider, that the Elements and Matter of this Ordinance, are not common Bread and Wine after Conſecration, but ſet apart to Holy Uſe, and ſo to be received with an Holy Underſtanding and Fear. And therefore the Corinthians were blamed by the Apoſtle for their Ignorance and Irreverence, 1 Cor. 11. Again, That theſe Elements ſo bleſſed and ſet apart by Chriſt's Appointment, do repreſent a Crucified Redeemer, and we are to partake of them with Love, as a Memorial of his Death; and with Faith, as the Seal of the Promiſe, and the Means appointed by God, to convey the Benefits of Chriſt crucified to the Soul.

Chriſtian.

Sir, Theſe Conſiderations raiſe up my Deſires to come to the Lord's Table, which I hope to be a Partaker of with the ſame Sentiments that you have now laid before me, and that I ſhall feaſt mine Eyes on that lovely Object, which is ſo full of Love, and that my Eye will ſo deeply affect my Heart toward my holy Redeemer, that I may meet with my bleſſed Lord in all the ways of his appointment.

Miniſter.

‘Again, you ought to ſet your Soul upon Self-examination, that ſo you may be ſenſible of your Wants and Defects; and come to Chriſt for a ſupply of the Graces of his Holy Spirit; that you may exerciſe Faith, Love, Repentance, and all other Graces, with ſuch warmth and vigor, that Jeſus Chriſt may delight in you, and you in him, and there may be a mutual and joyful renewing of your Covenant of Love and Obedience to your bleſſed Saviour.

Chriſtian.

Sir, we cannot ſuppoſe that there ſhould be the Actings and Exerciſes of Grace, where the Habits are wanting, no more than their can be Motion without Life: But it is uſually ſaid, that the Holy Sacrament is a quickning, cheriſhing, comforting, and confirming Ordinance.

Miniſter.

‘No doubt but the worthy prepared Receivers of this bleſſed Banquet, have by a due participation, found their Love inflamed, their Faith ſtrengthned, their Obedience confirmed, their Humility increaſed, ſo that they have appeared vile in their own ſight, and have had an utter deteſtation of all Sin, and an earneſt expectation and deſire, after the glorious appearance of their bleſſed Lord and Redeemer.

Chriſtian.

Sir, ſince the Benefits and Bleſſings are ſo great, it makes me the more earneſtly long to be a Communicant in theſe ſacred Myſteries.

Miniſter.

‘It is the Duty of all Chriſt's Miniſters, to give the Sacramental Bread of Life, and the Cup of Conſolation, to thoſe who hunger and thirſt after Jeſus Chriſt, and his Righteouſneſs and Kingdom. And now I have told you your Duty, I ſhall be willing to declare to you the Nature and the Circumſtances of this bleſſed Ordinance.

Chriſtian.

Sir, I muſt confeſs I am not ſo well inſtructed herein; and if I may not be too troubleſome, would be very glad to underſtand what this Holy Ordinance is, and why it is called a Sacrament.

Miniſter.

‘It is a Seal of the Covenant of God in Chriſt, wherein by certain outward Signs inſtituted by our Saviour, Chriſt with all his Benefits are ſignified, conveyed, and ſealed to the worthy Receiver. The word Sacrament hath been anciently uſed, both to ſignifie Baptiſm and the Supper of the Lord, and was taken up by the ancient Fathers, from the Oath by which the Roman Soldiers were ſworn to their Duty, and were not admitted to be Soldiers, 'till they had ſolemnly taken that Oath or Sacrament. It is called by ſeveral other Names in Scripture, namely, breaking of Bread, Acts 2. 42. The Lord's Table, 1 Cor. 10. 21. The Communion, 1 Cor. 10. 16.

Chriſtian.

Pray, Sir, how many Sacraments were inſtituted under the New Teſtament, and by whoſe Authority were they appointed.

Miniſter.

‘There are only two, Baptiſm and the Lord's Supper; and they were ordained by the ſole and immediate Authority of Jeſus Chriſt; and thoſe other five which the Papiſts have added, and called by that Name; as Order, or Ordaining of Prieſts, Pennance, Marriage, Conformation, and Extream Unction, or Anointing at the Hour of Death, all theſe were neither immediately inſtituted by Chriſt, nor have the proper Ends of a Sacrament.

Chriſtian.

What are the Elements to be uſed in the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

Miniſter.

‘Bread and Wine, and no other, Luke 22. 19, 20. And all Communicants are to receive both of them, notwithſtanding the bold and ſacrilegious Practice of the Papiſts, who give the People, the Bread, or Wafer only, none but the Prieſt receiving both the Bread and Wine. And this without any ſound Reaſon, or Scripture-warrant; and they may as well corrupt, totally aboliſh, or add to any of the Ordinances and Inſtitutions of Chriſt Jeſus, as preſume to do this.

Chriſtian.

What reſemblance or congruity is there between Bread and Wine, the Signs, and what is ſignified by them in the Lord's Supper.

Miniſter.

'Bread is ſo neceſſary, that it is often put for all kind of Food, and Neceſſaries; and the leaſt Morſel of it, is compleatly Bread. Thus Chriſt is Food and all Neceſſaries to the Soul, and every worthy Communicant receives whole and compleat Chriſt. And as Corn is not Bread 'till it be bruiſed or ground, ſo Jeſus Chriſt had not been Food for us, if he had not been bruiſed with Wounds, and Sorrow. And as Bread is the common Food of all People, ſo is is Jeſus Chriſt of all real Chriſtians. Again, as Bread being a ſolid Body, may properly denote the Body of Chriſt, ſo Wine being liquid may repreſent his Blood. And as Wine is preſſed from the Grape, ſo the Blood of Jeſus was forced out by his Agony, and the Wounds of the Croſs.

Chriſtian.

May not the Bread and Wine at our common Tables, ſignifie the ſame thing?

Miniſter.

'No, becauſe this is ſolemnly ſet apart, and conſecrated to Sacramental Uſe, by Prayer and Bleſſing, and by applying the Words our dear Redeemer uſed in the Inſtitution of this Ordinance.

Chriſtian.

Is not the Bread and Wine after Conſecration tranſubſtantiated, or transformed from the Subſtance of Bread and Wine, into the real Subſtance and Eſſence of the Body and Blood of our Saviour; ſince Chriſt's own Words are, This is my Body, &c. This is my Blood, &c.

Miniſter.

'No, by no means, this being a Popiſh Error, attended with many Abſurdities and idolatrous Practices. But it is the Body and Blood of Chriſt in the ſence that Chriſt ſpake it, but he did not ſay, This is no longer Bread in ſubſtance, but the very ſubſtance of my Body. And ſuch Phraſes are often uſed in Scripture, and yet not always to be taken in a ſtrict Sence, no more than that Rock was Chriſt, and, I am the true Vine, the Door, the Shepherd, &c. Moreover Chriſt intended it for a Sacrament, that is a Sign of what it repreſents; now it cannot be the real Body of Chriſt, and the Sign of it alſo. Again, our Senſes of Seeing, Smelling, and Taſting, aſſure us that it is Bread and Wine, and no way ſubſtantially changed after the Words of Conſecration. And if we muſt deny our Senſes in this, we may as well doubt whether theſe Words, This is my Body, &c. be recorded in Holy Scripture, tho' we ſee them there.

Chriſtian.

If the Bread and Wine be not the Body and Blood of Chriſt really and ſubſtantially, how then doth the true Believer in receiving, eating, and drinking them, receive, eat, and drink the Body and Blood of Chriſt.

Miniſter.

'By receiving thoſe Elements ſo conſecrated as Signs, Seals, and Conveyances of Chriſt and his Benefits to the Soul; and a true Chriſtian hath them conveyed to him thereby, as really as a Writing under Hand, Seal, and Witneſſes, can convey Lands, or other Benefits, which are not really in the Writings themſelves.

Chriſtian.

What are the Actions of the Miniſter in adminiſtring this Ordinance.

Miniſter.

'After bleſſing the Bread, he breaks it, and delivers it to the Communicants in the Words of Jeſus Chriſt, ſignifying thereby a crucified Jeſus, who was wounded for our Tranſgreſſions. He then pours out the Wine in the ſight of the Congregation, and delivers that to them alſo, after Bleſſing it in the Words of Chriſt. And hereby is repreſented to us, our dear Redeemer ſhedding his Blood for us, which is the Sacrifice of Atonement, whereby we obtain Remiſſion of Sins. In which Action the Miniſter ſtanding in Chriſt's ſtead as his Miniſter, (wherein Chriſt is preſent, and by his Spirit Authority) doth as really tender and beſtow Himſelf and Benefits, as if he had ſpoken the ſame Words in his own viſible Perſon.

Chriſtian.

But ſay ſome, ſince our Saviour reſtrained this Ordinance to the time of his coming, he being come in the Spirit, it is now at an end, and aboliſhed.

Miniſter.

'If theſe Enthuſiaſts mean the coming of the Spirit in its ſanctifying Operations, then it ſeems that it was appointed only for Unbelievers; and that the Diſciples, who communicated with Chriſt at the Inſtitution thereof, had not the Spirits but were Unbelievers, which is falſe and abſurd. If they mean the extraordinary are Gifts of the Spirit, or the pouring it forth in an extraordinary meaſure, the Practice of the Apoſtles and the Church of God, both at that time, and long after will abundantly contradict that Aſſertion, Acts 2. 42. 1 Cor. 10. 16.

Chriſtian.

What are the Benefits that Chriſt gives, and we receive in this Ordinance.

Miniſter.

'The exerciſe and increaſe of every Grace, the cleanſing our Souls from the guilt of Sin; healing the Wounds which Sin hath made in our Conſciences; a Confirmation of the Truth and Promiſes of God; an humble and holy delight in Chriſt, and our Fellow Chriſtians, and a more earneſt longing for, and expectation of the Bleſſedneſs of the Life to come. And is an Ordinance chiefly intended for Confirmation of our Faith, Love, and increaſe in Grace, ſo that no Perſon ought to come thereunto but in Faith.

Chriſtian.

What are the neceſſary Preparation for this ſolemn Ordinance.

Miniſter.

'1. That a Man have the Habit of Faith. 2. That he have an hearty diſpoſition and willingneſs to receive Chriſt as his Lord and Redeemer. 3. That he be in Charity with all Men. John 1. 7. Matthew 15. 26. We muſt ‘alſo exerciſe renew'd Acts of Repentance, and clear up our Intereſt in Chriſt, and have our Souls full of Faith and Love toward him.

Chriſtian.

Sir, there is one Scripture that, I believe, diſcourages many from partaking of the Lord's Table; neither do I indeed well underſtand it; 1 Cor. 11. 27, 28, 29. Whoſoever ſhall eat this Bread and drink this Cup of the Lord unworthily, ſhall be guilty of the Body and Blood of the Lord. But let a man examine himſelf, and ſo let him eat of that Bread and drink of that Cup. For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh Damnation (or Judgment) to himſelf, not diſcerning the Lord's Body.

Miniſter.

‘I am indeed of the Opinion, that the want of right underſtanding this Scripture has been a Stumbling-block to many, and ſo I ſhall endeavour briefly to explain it. The Apoſtle here truly repreſents and very much aggravates the danger of unworthy receiving this holy Sacrament, but he does not deter the Corinthians from it, becauſe they had ſometimes come to it without due Reverence, but exhorts them to amend what had been amiſs, and to come better prepar'd and diſpos'd for the future; and therefore after that terrible Declaration, that Whoſoever ſhall eat this Bread, and drink this Cup of the Lord, &c. he does not add, therefore let Chriſtians take heed of coming to the Lord's Table, but let them come prepar'd, and with due reverence, not as to a common Meal, but to a ſolemn Participation of the Body and Blood of Chriſt; But let him examine himſelf, and ſo let him eat of that Bread and drink of that Cup. For if this be a good reaſon to abſtain from this Ordinance, for fear of performing it in an undue manner, then a wicked man may as well lay aſide all other holy Duties, as Prayer, hearing and reading the Word of God, for fear of the unworthy uſe of them; ſince, The Prayer of the wicked (that is, one that reſolves to continue ſo) is an abomination to the Lord; and Chriſt ſays, Take heed how you hear. And the Apoſtle ſays, that thoſe who will not believe the Goſpel, it is the ſavour of Death to them; that is, it is deadly and damnable to ſuch Perſons; now there is as much reaſon for men to give over praying or attending on the Word of God, as not to receive the Sacrament, ſince he that prays unworthily, that is, without ſpiritual benefit and advantage, is guilty of great contempt of God and Jeſus Chriſt, and aggravates his own Damnation, as well as he who by partaking of the Lord's Supper unworthily, eats and drinks his own Judgment. And when the Apoſtle adds, But let a man examine himſelf, and ſo let him eat of that Bread and drink of that Cup. It ſeems clear by the occaſion and circumſtances of his Diſcourſe, that he does not intend we ſhould examine our State of Grace, whether we are true Believers or no, and ſincerely reſolved to continue ſo, but he ſpeaks of the actual fitneſs and worthineſs of the Corinthians at that time, when they came to receive the Lord's Supper. And therefore, verſ. 20. he ſharply reproves their irreverent and unſuitable carriage at the Lord's Table, they coming thereunto diſorderly one before another. It was the cuſtom of Chriſtians then to meet at the Feaſt of Charity, in which they did communicate with great ſobriety and temperance; and when that was ended they celebrated the Lord's Supper. Now among the Corinthians this Order was broken; the Rich met, and excluded the Poor from this common Feaſt; and after an irregular Feaſt, (one after another eating his own Supper as he came) they went to the Sacrament in great diſorder; one was hungry, having eaten nothing at all; others had drank and eat intemperately, and the Poor were deſpiſ'd and neglected: This the Apoſtle condemns as a great prophanation of that ſolemn Inſtitution, for behaving themſelves with as little reverence as if it were a common Supper or Feaſt; and this he calls, not diſcerning the Lord's Body, making no difference between the Sacrament and a common Meal, which contemptuous carriage he calls eating and drinking unworthily, for which he pronounceth them guilty of the Body and Blood of Chriſt, by which, he tells them, they did incur the Judgment of God, which he calls eating and drinking their own Judgment, for ſo the word ſignifies in the Greek, and not eternal Condemnation; it is meant of ſome temporal Judgment and Chaſtiſement, in order to the preventing of eternal Damnation; which is evident from what follows, He that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh judgment to himſelf. And then he ſays, For this cauſe many are weak and ſick among you, and many ſleep. That is, for this irreverence of theirs God ſent among them ſeveral Diſeaſes, of which many had died. And then he adds, For if we would judge our ſelves, we ſhould not be judged. That is, if we would cenſure and examine our ſelves, ſo as to be more careful for the future, we ſhould eſcape the Judgment of God in theſe temporal Puniſhments. But when we are judged we are chaſtened of the Lord, that we ſhould not be condemned with the world. That is, when by neglecting thus to judge our ſelves, we provoke God to judge us, he inflicts theſe Temporal Judgments upon us to prevent our eternal Damnation.

Chriſtian.

Sir, I am much oblig'd to you for the ſatisfaction you have given me in theſe weighty points, referring to the Lord's Supper; and now, though in a deep ſenſe of my great unworthineſs, yet with humble confidence in my dear Redeemer, who graciouſly invites all that are heavy laden to come unto him, I do intend, by the bleſſing of God, to addreſs my ſelf to the Lord's Table the next Lord's Day, humbly beſeeching the aſſiſtance of your Prayers, that I may not come without the Wedding-garment, but may be ſo qualified as to obtain thoſe glorious Privileges and Bleſſings which are there repreſented and ſealed to every worthy Communicant.

A HYMN,

UPON

ROMANS 5. Verſ. 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11.

Verſ. 6.

When we were deſtitute of ſtrength
Our ſelves to help or ſave,
Chriſt for Ungodlineſs at length
His Life a Ranſom gave.

7.

For one that's righteous, we would grudge
To lay our Life to ſtake;
And for a good man it were much
Such an exchange to make.

8.

But God his matchleſs Love commends,
In that Chriſt Jeſus dies
For us, when we were not his Friends,
But wretched Enemies.

9.

Much more being juſtified and free
Through his own Blood from Sin,
From Wrath to come we ſav'd ſhall be,
Even by the Life of him:

10.

For if, when Enemies, for us
Chriſt's Death did end the ſtrife,
Much more, when reconciled thus,
He'll ſave us by his Life.

11.

Yea, more than ſo, we triumph now
In God with one accord,
Having receiv'd Atonement through
Chriſt Jeſus our own Lord.

Wherefore to him, who is the firſt
Begotten of the Dead,
Who over Earthly Princes muſt
Be ſupream Lord and Head.
Even unto him who lov'd us ſo
To waſh us in his Blood,
And make us Kings and Prieſts unto
His Father and his God:
To him Dominion therefore
By us be given, when
This preſent World ſhall be no more;
To which we ſay, Amen.

THE REASONABLENESS OF Perſonal Reformation, AND The Neceſſity of Converſion;

THE True METHODS of Making all Men Happy in this World, and in the World to come.

Seaſonably Diſcourſed, and Earneſtly Preſſed upon this Licentious Age.

---

To all ſuch as are moſt Immediately and Particularly Concerned in the following Treatiſe, of what Rank or Quality ſoever they be.

GENTLEMEN,

T*WO of the greateſt, faithfulleſt, and moſt intimate Friends in the World, Reaſon and Conſcience, command me here in their Names, courteouſly to ſalute and invite you in.*

They earneſtly deſire three or four Hours ſerious and private Conference with you about ſome very important Perſonal Concerns of yours, which cannot admit of denial, or long delay. And if you make any trifling Excuſes, they have commanded and inſtructed me here to anſwer them.

In caſe of abſolute and obſtinate Refuſal to hear them, they order me to tell you: If you will not talk with them now, they'll talk with you ſhortly, whether you will or no. If you ſay, you are not now at leiſure, having other Buſineſs to do; they both deſire you to conſider, Firſt, You can have no Buſineſs in the World of equal Importance with theirs. Secondly, That whatever other lawful Affairs you are purſuing, their Buſineſs with you will no way obſtruct, but greatly promote it. And Laſtly, That a greater Perſon than any of you, loſt his Life, by Pocketing up a Letter at Night, ſaying, To Morrow is a new Day: And it proved to him indeed, Dies noviſſima, his laſt Day, he loſing by that Neglect, the only Opportunity of living longer.

If you demand how your Reaſon came to be bound up in this little Book, and ſay, That which is Reaſon to this Author, may be Folly and Nonſence to you; I am bid to tell you, You are obliged firſt to read and compare, elſe your own Reaſon will preſently call it your own Folly and Nonſence ſo to pronounce. Sound Reaſon is uniform, and like it ſelf all the World over. It's true, Laws and Dictates equally oblige one, as another, in like Caſes and Circumſtances.

If you ſay, there have been ſome Jars and Diſguſts betwixt you, and your Reaſons and Conſciences; you and they have fallen out ſo oft, that you have no great Fancy to come near them in private, for you expect nothing but harſh and chiding Language from them; and therefore are fain by continual Diverſions, and quick Succeſſions of Buſineſs, to maintain your Peace, by keeping at as great a diſtance from them as you can.

'Tis their deſire you ſhould here know, Firſt, That their Debates with you will be as calm and friendly, as they are ſeaſonable and neceſſary. Secondly, That they both profeſs (and you may believe them) they neither do, nor can deſign any thing but your good. Thirdly, That that Perſon is certainly in a very bad Caſe, that cannot endure to converſe with himſelf. Fourthly, That you herein deny a Civility to your own Reaſons and Conſciences, which you daily pay to Strangers and Inferiors. And in a word, that they deſire a Reconciliation with you, upon as fair and honourable Terms as can well be deſired. And that this being done, they will both ſtick faithfully by you in all the Troubles and Dangers of your Lives, and follow you as your inſeperable Friends, into any thing but Sin.

If you ſay, This is but a Wheedle to draw you into a Book, that will make you melancholy, and perhaps mad.

'Tis their Senſe and Judgment, that of all Men living, you have leaſt Reaſon to pretend the one or the other in this Caſe: For they are very confident you are now in the moſt melancholy Circumſtances Men can ordinarily be in on this ſide Hell. And for Madneſs, they deſire to know, what you your ſelves would call that Man, that is running with ſuch Poſt-haſte to Hell (as will not admit of two or three Hours ſtop upon the Road), to prove himſelf to be no Mad-man, but in his right Mind and Wits?

Moreover, they command me to inform you; It is their deſire, that ſeeing their Debates with you will neither be tireſome nor impertinent, you will pleaſe to hear them out what they have to ſay to you; and then if you ſhall find cauſe to complain, that your Pleas and Excuſes are not fairly drawn, or that you have new Matter to furniſh a better Apology, they are both content you ſhall have your Liberty to amend, or add what you pleaſe; and if they be not able to refute them, they'll give you no further Trouble or Interruption in your Courſe.

This Gentlemen, is what I have in charge to ſay to you in the Porch; and now, if you pleaſe, the Door is open, you may be as private as you will: They'll attend you to your Bed-Chamber, or Cloſet; and I heartily wiſh an Happy Iſſue to this Friendly Debate.

J. F.

CHAP. I.

The Introduction, and State of the Caſe.

§ 1. REaſon exalts Man above all earthly Beings: 'Tis his Dignity and Priviledge, that God hath furniſhed him with Abilities of Mind to recollect, animadvert, compare, infer, ponder, and judge his own Actions. Hereby he becomes not only capable of Moral Government by Humane Laws, which no Creature beſide him is; but alſo of Spiritual Government by Divine Laws, and the bleſſed Fruitions of God in Glory, which no other Species of Creatures (Angels only excepted) have a ſubjective Capacity for.

Right Reaſon, by the Law of Nature (as an home-born Judge) arbitrates and determines all things within its proper Province, which Province is extended far and wide. All Actions Natural, Moral, and Civil, are weighed at this Beam and Standard: None are exempted but Matters of ſupernatural Revelation; and yet even theſe are not wholly and in every reſpect exempt from Right Reaſon: For though there be ſome Myſteries in Religion above the Sphere and Flight of Reaſon, yet nothing can be found in Religion that is unreaſonable.

And tho' theſe Myſteries be not of Natural Inveſtigation, but of Supernatural Revelation; yet Reaſon is convinced, nothing can be more reaſonable, than that it take its place at the Feet of Faith, which is but to ſuffer it ſelf to become Pupil to an Omniſcient and Infallible Inſtructor. The reſolution of our Reaſon into Faith, and of Faith into God's Veracity, are Acts highly becoming Reaſonable Beings, in ſuch Caſes as theſe.

It may not pry too nicely into unrevealed Myſteries, demand the Reaſons, or examine the Cauſes of them (as bold and daring Socinians do), but it feels its ſelf obliged to receive all thoſe things both as poſſible and true, which God hath revealed, counting his Revelation alone to be Reaſon ſufficient. For the Veracity of God takes out of Reaſons Mouth all Objections againſt the Truth of them; and his Almighty Power ſilences all its Scruples againſt the Poſſibility of them.

But in all Matters properly under the Juriſdiction of Reaſon, every Man is obliged to account with himſelf, as well as others, for the reaſonableneſs of his own Actions; and that Act which will not endure the Teſt of ſound Reaſon, it judges not fit for the entertainment of a Man. If Reaſon cannot juſtifie it, 'tis beneath the Rank and Dignity of a Man to do it.

§ 2. The Light of Reaſon was at firſt the bright Lamp or Candle of the Lord, 'till Sin, like a Thief, melted it down to a Snuff; whereby (comparatively ſpeaking) it is become a poor glimmering Light in the beſt of Men, and almoſt quite extinguiſhed in ſome Men. Fallen Man is become leſs than himſelf, and will never act like himſelf, 'till he be fully reſtored to himſelf.

Sanctification indeed ſnuffs and trims the Lamp of Reaſon; but there being few ſanctified Perſons among Men, a double Miſery conſequently befalls a very great part of Mankind; whoſe Converſation ſpeaks them not only deſtitute of Religion, which bereaves them of the Bleſſedneſs of the World to come; but Men almoſt entirely deſpoiled of the Benefits and Bleſſings of their own Reaſon, which makes them unhappy and miſerable in this World: Beaſts, rather than Men, as the Sacred Scripture ſtiles them: Unreaſonable Men, Men fallen out with their own Faculties, who after many a ſharp Battel with their Reaſon, are now dragging it like a conquered Captive, at the Chariot-wheels of their victorious and triumphant Luſts.

§ 3. 'Tis ſcarce imaginable, that ever Sin ſhould prevail ſo far as it doth, to the very Unmanning of Men, did they not firſt delude and bribe their own Reaſon by cloſe and cunning Applications to their bewitched Affections; whereby, tho' they cannot make it a Party, yet they make it ſtand by as a ſilent Spectator, or Neuter, whilſt they act the Beaſt; yea, the Devil, rather than the Man.

We little know how far unſanctified Reaſon may this way be prevail'd upon to quit its Throne, and reſign its Scepter into the Hands of Luſt and Appetite; yea, to engage in the defence of their moſt abſurd Laws and Dictates. It only ſerves in ſome Men to invent Excuſes, Pleas, and ſpecious Pretences, to juſtifie or extenuate their Beaſt-like Actions; the baſeſt Servitude it can be condemned to.

If this will not do, ſenſual Luſts have another way to obtain their Satisfaction in deſpite of Reaſon and Conſcience, even by ſtopping their Ears to the Voices of both, and puſhing on with a Brutiſh Impetus, they ſuffer neither to enjoy the Opportunity of a calm Debate of theſe Matters with them.

§ 4. But let Men do what they will, 'tis next to an impoſſibility they ſhould ſo far ſubdue and deſtroy thoſe inbred Principles of Reaſon and Conſcience, but that they will at one time or other, give them ſome Checks and Oppoſitions in their profane Courſes, eſpecially when they ſhall get the advantage of ſome eminent Diſtreſs, or ſpecial Danger; which diſpoſes them to lend an Ear to their Voices; and there be few Men in the World, but are ſometimes providentially caſt into ſuch Caſes and Conditions.

So that Appeals to the Reaſon of the moſt profligate Wretches, are not altogether vain and uſeleſs: For if the Caſe cannot be tried and decided at the Bar of Reaſon and Conſcience one time, it may with more advantage at another; and haply, Appeals to Reaſon may produce Reformation in ſome Men, ſooner than Appeals to the Scriptures, or Principles of Faith; eſpecially when the World is ſo notoriouſly drenched in Practical Atheiſm, that ſerious Religion becomes the common Subject of Drollery amongſt multitudes of Men.

Yet it were hard and uncharitable to imagine any Man ſunk ſo deep into the Mire of Beſtiality and Profaneneſs, as not ſtill to retain ſome Value and Veneration for his own Reaſon, and as much as he abuſes it, yet to refuſe the whole World in exchange for it; and to account it a greater Miſery to be utterly deprived of it, than to have the Hoofs of an Horſe given him in exchange for his Hands and Feet.

§ 5. The Scriptures therefore do in many Caſes appeal to the Reaſon of Sinners, and deſign their Reformation by ſuch Appeals: For it being a moſt ſhameful thing for a Man to be convicted at the Bar of his own Reaſon, of acting like a Beaſt rather than a Man, every Man is preſumed to be afraid and aſhamed of ſuch an Indictment. Such Miſcreants are the Shame and Reproach of Humanity it ſelf. They are branded for Bruits throughout the ſober World. Their Company declined and ſhunn'd by all wiſe and good Men. He that hath no Reaſon to juſtifie his Actions, may yet be ſuppoſed to be Owner of ſome Stock of Natural Shame, which cannot but afford a Bluſh upon ſuch a plain Conviction. This therefore was the Courſe which the Prophet Iſaiah took by Divine Direction, to reform the idolatrous Iſraelites, Iſa. 46. 8. he ſtates the Caſe at the Bar of their own Reaſon, and calls for a Verdict upon it. The Caſe was this: Whether Idols having not Power enough to ſhew themſelves Gods, thoſe that worſhip them muſt not want Wiſdom enough to ſhew themſelves Men? Remember this, and ſhew your ſelves Men, and bring it again to mind, O ye Tranſgreſſors! q. d. For ſhame let not Men act like Bruits, which have no Animadverſion.

§ 6. When things therefore are brought to ſuch an Exigence, that Ruin or Reformation is the only Choice Men have to make, and all Religious Impreſſions ſo obliterated and worn out, that Men pay no Reverence to them; an Appeal to the Reaſon of Men, ſeems then to be an hopeful Method of prevailing with them, to ſuffer a Reformation rather than a Ruin. Not that I imagine the Topicks of Reaſon able to afford more powerful Arguments than thoſe of Religion do; but that they who by their Ignorance, and ſtrong Prejudices againſt Religion, have made themſelves more uncapable of Conviction that way, may haply feel the force of Reaſon prevailing ſo far, at leaſt, as to put their outragious Luſts under ſome Reſtraint.

As for the Scriptures, and ſerious Religion begotten by them in the Souls of Men, they are perfect Strangers to all, but the Names of theſe things: And even their very Names are grown almoſt ridiculous with them too. But Reaſon may convince and ſhame them. What force the Reaſon of Man hath, even without ſaving Grace, to produce Civility, Sobriety, and other Moral Vertues, is abundantly evident in the very Heathens, who by the only Light of Reaſon diſcovered ſo much Odiouſneſs in Vice and Immorality, and ſuch amiable Beauty in Juſtice, Temperance, and the other Moral Vertues, that their Praiſes for them are ſounded throughout the World.

Now whatever unthinking Men dream, to me it is evident, that when Kingdoms and Commonwealths are overflowed with unreſtrained Vices and Immoralities; when Curſing and Swearing becomes the common Language; Drunkenneſs and Adultery the common Practices of the Inhabitants; God will either ſweep away the Filth of thoſe Nations, by the Beſom of a general Reformation, or he will ſweep away their Inhabitants out of them with the Beſom of Deſtruction. For if we have not excuſſed the Notion and Belief of a God, and that he animadverts the Wickedneſs of Men (which the very Heathens by the Light of Nature, ſaw and acknowledged) we may thereby eaſily be led to this Concluſion, that ſuch Overflowings of Abomination do, and muſt certainly preſage our Deſolation, except ſpeedy and general Reformation do prevent it.

§ 7. Now the Perſons whoſe Reformation I particularly deſign by this Method, being Men that exerciſe more Reaſon than Religion, might (methinks) be prevailed with to take up at laſt, and reform their unreaſonable, as well as ungodly Courſes, could they be once prevailed with to debate theſe Matters with cool, conſiderative Minds, becoming Men governed by Reaſon, not wholly ſwayed like Bruit-Beaſts, by Luſt and Appetite.

And is it not highly reaſonable, that Men ſhould weigh their own Actions at the ſame Beam and Standard where they weigh other Mens Actions, and renounce all that with ſhame and deteſtation, which they themſelves muſt cenſure as utterly beneath, and unworthy of a Man? Wherefore hath God planted a Principle of Reaſon and Conſcience within us? Is it rational to think it was planted there for no other end or uſe, but to ſcan and cenſure other Mens Words and Actions by, but not our own? Or to be wholly uſeful to other Mens Intereſts, without any benefit to our ſelves? Ask thine own Reaſon, ſilly Man, why God placed it in thy Soul, and for what uſe it was intended, and it will tell thee, it was particularly deſigned and appointed to regulate and order thine own Life and Actions; and next, for the benefit and good of the Community. It will tell thee, there is not a ſingle Act thou doſt of any weight or moment, but thou oughteſt to conſult with it, and have its Paſs or Licenſe before thou do it. But when thou entreſt into a Series and Courſe of Actions, thy Conſultations with it ought to be very frequent and ſolemn, becauſe theſe things are of great Importance to thee.

Thy Reaſon will tell thee, Sinner, that it is a vile Affront to it, to be thruſt by thee from the Council-Table, unworthily diſmiſſed from its Office, and diſcharged from any further Attendance upon thy Life, and the Concerns thereof, and Bruitiſh Luſt and Appetite conſulted in its room; and that it needed not at all to have been implanted into thy Soul, if the ſame Principles that govern the Beaſts of the Field, muſt alſo be thy governing Principles. It ſtands ready to offer its Service to thee, to ſave thee from, or to receive thee out of thoſe Miſchiefs thou haſt, or mayeſt run thy ſelf into; if thou wilt but hear and obey its Advice. It tells thee, it is thy Privy-Counſellor by God's Appointment; and if thou wilt not find leiſure among the Heats and Hurries of thy Luſts, to conſult it, and hearken to its Counſels now; if thou wilt forſake the Conduct of thine own Reaſon and Conſcience, which have a Right and Authority to Govern thy Words and Actions, and follow thy blind and head-ſtrong Luſts and Paſſions, thou ſhalt hear other Language from them, when thy Luſts have precipitated thee into thine own Ruin and Deſtruction, as they ſpeedily and inevitably muſt and will do, according to the Courſe they now ſteer for thee.

§ 8. And there is yet more ground to hope, that Reaſon may prevail with Men living under the Goſpel, to return to Sobriety and Temperance, when we conſider their Reaſon is aſſiſted by ſome Illuminations from the Chriſtian Religion. They live in a Land of Bibles and Miniſters, where they cannot avoid the Light ; an Advantage far beyond whatever the Heathens enjoyed, who yet by their ſingle unaſſiſted Reaſon arrived to an Eminency in Moral Vertues.

Our Reaſons and Conſciences do not only convince us (as theirs alſo did them) that there is a God, and a future Life of Retribution, wherein every Man ſhall be judged according to his Works ; but alſo, that the Scriptures are the very Word of God, and Rule of Faith and Manners. And if there be any among the debauched Crew, that queſtion or deny it, we may be confident none of them are able, by plain and ſound Reaſon, to overthrow thoſe mighty Arguments pleaded for the Confirmation of that Truth. At leaſt they find in themſelves a ſtrong ſuſpicion and fear, that they may prove to be true ; which jealouſie and ſuſpicion working together with their own Reaſon and Conſciences, are no contemptible helps towards their recovery.

For if what Reaſon, Conſcience, and Scripture with one Mouth pronounce, be true and certain, (as undoubtedly it will be found to be) then it muſt be plain and obvious to them alſo, that their Brutiſh Luſts have put them into the direct and ready way, both to ruin themſelves, and alſo greatly to hazard the Community to which they belong.

§ 9. As for themſelves, if they will make a Judgment upon their own Condition in the Light of Reaſon, Conſcience, or Scripture (and they very well know they take their Meaſures in perfect Darkneſs, if they take them not by this Direction), then continuing the ſame Courſe they now do, they are a loſt Generation.

All their lawful and faithful Guides tell them with one Mouth, they are certainly in the Broad Way to Damnation. And that how irkſom and terrible ſoever the Thoughts and Apprehenſions of Hell are to them, yet thither they muſt certainly come, if they purſue this Courſe. Their Reaſon plainly tells them, he that chuſeth the Means, and engageth in the Way leading to Hell, muſt, and ought to make account, that Hell is the place he is preparing for.

Conſcience is as plain and poſitive with them, that they muſt either return or periſh. The Scripture confirms the Teſtimonies of both, by telling them plainly, That the end of theſe things is death, Rom. 6. 21.

'Tis down-right Folly and Madneſs, by the Vote of the whole Rational and Sober World, for any Man to conclude, or hope he ſhall be happy in the World to come, whoſe Life is drawn through, and finiſhed in all manner of Obſcenity, Filthineſs, and Profaneneſs, in the preſent World.

For let the Caſe be brought into the Light of your own Reaſon, as dim as it is, and let it freely judge, when you are belching out your black and horrid Blaſphemies againſt God, imprecating Damnation from him upon your own Souls, wallowing in Beaſtly Luſts, Vomiting and Roaring in Taverns and Alehouſes : Ask, I ſay, your own Reaſon, Conſcience, or the Scripture, whether all or either of them will allow you to ſay or think, Now we are in the right way to eternal Bleſſedneſs? This is the very Courſe that will bring us to Happineſs in the World to come : This pleaſeth God better, and is a ſurer Path to Glory, than Repentance or Faith, Mortification, Prayer, or Reformation. No, no ; as blind as your Reaſon is, and as ſeared as your Conſciences are, you will never bring them to comprobate or ſubſcribe ſuch abſurd and horrid Concluſion as theſe.

But on the contrary, they will tell you, That if you will have the Pleaſure, you muſt have the Pain and Torment of Sin. That 'tis Madneſs to ſay you are afraid to burn, but not afraid to ſin : That you are loath to be damned, and yet challenge the Almighty God to his Face to damn you ; as much a Folly as to drink a baneful Doſe of known Poiſon, and think to feel no painful Gripes afterwards.

As for the Scriptures, they appeal to the Reaſon of Men in this Caſe, as a moſt known and allowed thing, ſcarce imaginable to lie hid from any Man, 1 Cor. 6. 9. Know ye not, that the Unrighteous ſhall not inherit the Kingdom of God? Be not deceived, neither Fornicators, nor Idolaters, nor Adulterers, nor Effeminate, nor Abuſers of themſelves with Mankind, nor Thieves, nor Covetous, nor Drunkards, nor Revilers, nor Extortioners, ſhall inherit the Kingdom of God.

It would make the Bowels of a compaſſionate Chriſtian to rowl and yearn within him, to behold multitudes of Souls of invaluable worth, running greedily on to their eternal Ruin, wilfully ſtopping their Ears all the way, to the Voices of their own Reaſon and Conſcience, as well as to the Voice of God in his Word, not once making a Pauſe, 'till they fall into that Gulf of eternal and intolerable Miſery, into which with great precipitation they are caſting themſelves.

§ 10. And then for the Community to which they belong, how dangerous, yea, how deſtructive ſuch Perſons are to it, cannot poſſibly be hid from any wiſe and ſerious Obſerver : For if one Sinner deſtroys much good, if one Achan trouble the whole Camp of Iſrael, how much more will whole Swarms and Droves of Drunkards, Blaſphemers, and Adulterers, as now fill every place, pull down the Judgments of God, upon thoſe States and Kingdoms wherein they breathe? If our Fears and Dangers were greater than they are, yet Reformation might ſave us : Jer. 5. 1. Run ye to and fro through the Streets of Jeruſalem, and ſee now and know, and ſeek in the broad places thereof, if ye can find a Man, (i. e. a Publick Man, a Man in Authority), if there be any that executeth Judgment, that ſeeketh the Truth, and I will pardon it. And if our Hopes and Confidences were much higher than they are, yet unreſtrained Sin would undo us. Kingdoms and Commonwealths are not ſo much endangered by the Powers and Policies of their Enemies without them, as they are by the Unreformedneſs of profligate Wretches within, and amongſt them. Reformation quickly recovers the ancient Glory of Kingdoms, and makes them the Terror of their Enemies.

For tho' there will be ſtill too much Sin privately committed under the beſt Laws, and moſt vigorous and impartial Execution of them; yet abundance of ſin would thereby be prevented, and the Sins that are committed would not become National, but Perſonal only, and theſe would not ſo much concern and hazard the Publick Weal and Tranquility of the State.

Moreover, States and Kingdoms are in no ſmall hazard by the Publick Debauchery, and Common Profaneneſs of their Subjects; foraſmuch as in this very Sink and Puddle of their Luſts, the Manly Wiſdom, Sprightly Courage, and True Gallantry, of their Subjects, are quenched and drowned, their Spirits ſoftned and effeminated. 'Tis hard to imagine thoſe Men will engage far in the Cauſe of Reformation, when Reformation it ſelf is the only thing they hate and fear.

Nor need we wonder to find Men intimidated, and low ſpirited, in Times and Places of imminent Danger, who not only carry about them ſo much Guilt (which is the Fountain of Fear), but are wholly addicted to Senſual Pleaſures, which they are loth to hazard upon Publick Accounts and Conſiderations, theſe being the only Heaven they have, or hope for: Whoredom and Wine, and new Wine, take away the Heart, Hoſ. 4. 11. 'Tis in the very Nature of theſe Sins to make Men ſottiſh, and in the very Nature of Guilt to make them puſillanimous.

Seneca obſerves (and his Obſervation is true), That the Conſcience of a wicked Man is a terrible Scourge and Torment to him, perpetually laſhing him with ſollicitous Thoughts and Fears, ſo that he diſtruſts all Securities, and knows not where to be ſafe. Hence it comes to paſs, that many Men of good Extraction, liberal Education, and excellent Natural Endowments, become ſo uſeleſs, yea, ſo pernicious as they are; who, could they be recovered but to Temperance and Sobriety, would become both excellently uſeful and ornamental to the Nation where they had their Birth, and to the Safety and Honour whereof they owe their Service.

Seneca, Epiſt 97.

§ 11. This moſt deſirable Recovery and Reformation of profane debauched Perſons, is not ſimply and abſolutely impoſſible: And if Magiſtrates and Miniſters were every-where exemplary themſelves, for Sobriety and Piety, zealous and impartial in the Diſcharge of their reſpective Duties, a general Reformation would not be difficult. But when thoſe, whoſe Office it is to ſuppreſs Wickedneſs, ſhall aſſociate themſelves with lewd and profligate Perſons, and vye with them in their profane Courſes, or diſcourage more Conſciencious Perſons in the Diſcharge of their Duties: This makes Reformation morally impoſſible.

If Profaneneſs were once found the General Odium of the People, and a Bar to all Preferments, it might be hoped things would quickly alter for the better. 'Twas an ancient Cuſtom among the Heathens (as Learned and Excellent Mr. Hale of Eaton, out of Chryſoſtom obſerves), that if a Man offered himſelf to contend in the Olympick Games, he was not permitted ſo to do, 'till Proclamation had been firſt made, Whether any Man knew him to be either a Servant, or a Man of infamous Life? And if any ſuch Imputation were proved againſt him, it was ſufficient to keep him back, let his Skill be what it would.

What care was here taken, that their Vanities ſhould not be diſcredited! And will neither Reaſon nor Religion convince us, that not only equal, but far greater care ought to be taken to diſcourage Profaneneſs among Chriſtians, than the blind Heathens ever took to preſerve the Reputation of their vain Exerciſes? Let all ſubordinate Miniſters of State, and Officers in the Church, conſider how great a part of this bleſſed Reformation is demanded to their Hands.

§ 12. Were Kingdoms and Common-wealths once purged from that Spirit of Profaneneſs and Debauchery, which thus defiles and overflows them, and the People generally reduced but to Civility, Sobriety, and Temperance, Experience would quickly ſhew them the comfortable Effects and happy Fruits thereof.

For tho' this be much ſhort of what Chriſtianity exacts from all its Profeſſors, and inſufficient to obtain the Happineſs of the World to come; yet it is greatly conducent to the Civil Happineſs and Flouriſhing of the Kingdoms of this World; and therefore richly worth the Studies and Endeavours of all Men to promote and obtain it.

There is no Kingdom or Common-wealth in the Chriſtian World, which would not by this means breed and ſend forth multitudes more than they do, with excellent Abilities and Qualifications fitting them to ſit at the Helm of Government, and ſteer a more proſperous Courſe than they do at preſent. A wiſe and ſteddy Direction of the arduous and important Affairs of Kingdoms, can only be expected from thoſe that are able to govern themſelves, and their own Affairs, with Sobriety and Diſcretion.

If the Laws of Nations take care for the Preſervation and Growth of Timber fit for the Building of Houſes and Ships, and every one ſees the uſefulneſs and neceſſity of ſuch Acts; much more ought they to take care for ſuch an Education of Men, as may render them ſerviceable Members to the State, both in Camp and Council.

Magiſtrates are (in a Sence) the Foundation of Kingdoms, the ſtrong Shoulders that bear the Burthen of Government; and Reaſon will tell, that ſo great a Weight and Streſs, as the Affairs and Concerns of Kingdoms, ought not to be laid on their Shoulders, whoſe Legs through Debauchery are too weak to bear their own reeling and ſtaggering Bodies.

Sea-men, and Soldiers, are the Walls of Kingdoms, and under God their Prudence and Courage are the Peoples Defence and Safeguard. Plutarch tells us, there were two Vertues in Hannibal which made him proſperous and ſucceſsful: There was in him, Plurimum audaciæ ad capienda pericula, & plurimum conſilii inter ipſa pericula. He was bold in attempting, and prudent in managing the moſt difficult Services; the former had ſignified little without the latter. Courage may throw Men into the midſt of Difficulties, but Counſel and Wiſdom helps them to emerge thoſe Difficulties; and I'm ſure that cannot be rationally expected from Men, that daily dethrone their own Reaſon by Debauchery.

But when Men not only ſober, juſt, and temperate, but religiouſly good, are employed in Publick Truſts and Services, we cannot but think the Security and Proſperity of ſuch a State are abundantly provided for. And our Confidence hereof is not only ſounded upon the Maxims of Human Reaſon, but of Scripture, Wiſdom, and Authority alſo.

What a renowned, proſperous, and ſucceſsful Captain of the Armies of Iſrael was good Joſhua! No Man was able to ſtand before him all the Days of his Life, Joſh. 1. 5. But what bred thoſe brave, gallant, and undaunted Spirits in the Breaſt of this Heroe, and crowned his noble Deſigns with ſuch admirable Succeſs? If we look into ver. 8. we ſhall find, it was Religion that gave both the Edge and Point to his natural Courage. This Book of the Law ſhall not depart out of thy mouth, but thou ſhalt meditate therein day and night, that thou mayeſt obſerve to do all that is written therein: for then thou ſhalt make thy way proſperous, and then thou ſhalt have good ſucceſs.

Hezekiah this way became a None-ſuch among the Kings of Judah; for he clave to the Lord, and the Lord was with him, and he proſpered whitherſoever he went forth, 2 Kings 18. 5, 6, 7. And dying David, from an whole Life of Experience, recommended this as the only Method of Proſperity unto Solomon his Son, Keep the charge of the Lord thy God, to walk in his ways, that thou mayeſt proſper in all that thou doſt, and whitherſoever thou turneſt thy ſelf, 1 Kings 2. 3, 4.

How great a Luſtre therefore doth this Truth caſt about it, that the Reſtraint and Reformation of Vice, and the due Encouragement of Vertue and Piety, becomes the very Civil Intereſt of Kingdoms and Nations, by the Joint Votes and Suffrages both of Human and Divine Wiſdom? Let any Kingdom or State make Tryal of this Method, and from that very time they ſhall date their Proſperity. This will make them become the Terrors of their Enemies round about them; Peace and Proſperity ſhall flouriſh in the midſt of them, which is the true Level and Deſign of this moſt neceſſary and ſeaſonable Attempt.

---

CHAP. II.

Producing one Dictate, or Rule of Right Reaſon, reſpecting Morality, allowed by Mankind; and paſſing current through the World without one Negative Voice, except only from thoſe Men, whoſe Reaſons are utterly captivated by their Luſts.

§ 1. SUch is the Degeneracy and deep Corruption of ſome Mens Natures, by ill Education, baſe Company, and long Cuſtom in Sin; that abandoning and caſting away the Bonds and Reſtraints of right Reaſon, as well as Religion, they give the full Scope and Liberty to their Luſts and Paſſions, reckoning their chief Happineſs to conſiſt in the Gratification and Satisfaction of their Senſitive Appetites. They affect a ſoft, delicate, Senſe-pleaſing Life, reckoning it the only real Heaven to be deſired and ſought by them; and any other Heaven beſide that, to be meerly notional and fantaſtick. This is the Element they deſire to live and ſport in, fitly deſcribed, Tit. 3. 3. by ſerving divers Luſts and Pleaſures. Hence it comes to paſs, that their Bodies ſerve only to be Strainers for Meats and Drinks, and Channels for filthy Luſts to ſtream through. In this Stream their Maſculine Agility melts away, and all Publick Hopes and Expectations from them are totally defeated and diſappointed. Appetite is the Maſter, and Reaſon the Slave.

Theſe Men (if it be fit to call them Men) have bid defiance to their own Reaſon, and denounced a War againſt their own Faculties, as if Reaſon had Licenſed and Priviledged (which it never did, nor can do) their worſe than bruitiſh Luſts, to act to the uttermoſt of their Abilities, without any Maſter of Reſtraint over them.

§ 2. But notwithſtanding the preſent Captivity of Reaſon under uſurping and domineering Luſts, ſo long as it hath a permanent and fixed Root and Principle in their Nature, 'tis poſſible it may recover its Throne and Empire over them again, as many an impriſoned King hath done, and probably would do it in a very ſhort ſpace, if thoſe Prejudices they have conceived againſt its Government, were but once fairly confuted and removed; which certainly is not hard to do.

They are of Opinion, that the Laws of Reaſon are too ſevere, ſtrict, and rigorous: That they too much abridge them of their Pleaſures and Delights, and that the Government of Senſuality being more eaſie, favourable and indulgent, is for that Reaſon much more eligible and deſirable.

Whereas right Reaſon deſigns not the abandoning of all Pleaſures, but only the exchange of them, and that exchange every way to our great advantage. The only hurt or loſs (if this muſt be accounted ſo) any Man can ſuſtain by the exchange of Pleaſures made by Reaſon and Religion, is this, that they deſign for you the rational, ordinate and congruous Delights, both of a Man, and of a Chriſtian, in lieu of the lower, baſer, and filthy Pleaſures of a Beaſt, or a Devil.

They propoſe to you Rules about Pleaſures, far more ſafe and grateful, without any culpable Severity, or Auſterity, in them. Reaſon would only regulate and legitimate your Delights, and Religion ſanctifie them, that you might much more purely and ſweetly enjoy them, without either Shame ariſing from their turpitude, or fear from their guilt. The Rules of both are large and indulgent enough, and keeping within their Lines and Limits, Men ſhall find ſuch Generous, Manly, and Agreeable Delights, as are no where to be enjoyed without them.

§ 3.

§ 3. To make this evident, I ſhall poſtulate and preſume but one thing, and that a thing ſo immediately true and ſelf-evident, that in the firſt naked propoſal of it, it naturally and eaſily lets it ſelf into every Mans Underſtanding, and no ſooner asks, but gains the Approbation of right Reaſon. And that ſelf-evident Principle which I take for granted, no Man of ſound Intellectuals will quarrel or diſpute, is this:

That Good which compriſeth and involveth the true Honour, Profit, and Pleaſure of the whole Man, which is more congruous to Humane Nature, and preſervative of it, is to be preferred in our Eſtimation and Choice, to that which only yields a lower degree of Pleaſure, without Profit or Honour to the baſeſt part of Man; and that low and tranſient Pleaſure it doth yield, attended and followed with many preſent and future Miſeries, deſtructive to the whole Man.

The ſeveral parts of this complex Propoſition, caſt ſuch a Light and Glory round about them, that I cannot imagine, but as ſoon as it ſhall be propounded to the Judgment and Cenſure of ſound Reaſon, it muſt immediately gain both its Approbation and Applauſe.

But becauſe Reaſon in many Men is ſo beclouded, and diſturbed by Luſts and Paſſions, that it can neither receive things orderly, nor judge of them truly and impartially: I conceive it needful to demand the Cenſure and Judgment of their Reaſon upon the Particulars compriſed in this general complex Propoſition, that ſo weighing and examining them one by one, we may try whether ſound Reaſon hath any valuable Exception againſt any Part or Member thereof.

§ 4. And Firſt, I take it for granted, that no Man's Reaſon will deny or demur to this Propoſition, That Good is to be choſen, and Evil to be avoided. For the will is naturally carried to that which is good, as to its proper Object, and ſhuns that which is evil. And that is naturally good, which is convenient and agreeable to Nature; and that naturally Evil which is diſconvenient and hurtful to Nature. So that the choice of Good rather than Evil, is the natural choice of the Will; and this choice of the Will is founded upon the Law of Self-preſervation, without which the Creation would quickly diſband, and no particular Being could be long preſerved.

And not only the Will of Rational Creatures chuſeth the Good, and refuſeth the Evil; but every ſenſitive Creature is endowed with a natural Faculty to diſcern the one from the other in order to the preſervation of their Beings. You find it in the ſmalleſt and moſt deſpicable Animals, and therefore cannot deny it unto Man, the nobleſt and moſt excellent Being on Earth, except only in his Non age, before he hath lived to the Years of Diſcretion. Children indeed in their Infancy have no knowledge to diſcern between Good and Evil, Deut. 1. 39. But Men not diſcerning Good from Evil, or chuſing Evil rather than Good, are many degrees beneath Babes.

Secondly, Nor will Reaſon heſitate at all upon this Particular, That there are degrees of Goodneſs found among Pleaſures and Delights; ſome are better than others. Every Life is not alike pleaſant and happy. To deny this, is to make the moſt deſpicable Worm, or Fly, equally happy with the moſt excellent Creature upon Earth. And beſide, for the Conviction of ſuch debauched Perſons, as I am here arguing with, it will follow clearly from the denial of that Truth, that they really gain nothing to themſelves, by all their extravagant and licentious Courſes; there being altogether as much Pleaſure and Felicity, in a temperate, chaſt, and ſober Life, as there is in that beaſtly Life they live. And their very departure from the way of Sobriety, to embrace the ways of Debauchery, moſt clearly evinceth to the World, that they do not think all Pleaſures equal; but that they do confidently expect to find more Pleaſure and Satisfaction in the way that they chuſe, than they did in the way of Sobriety, which they have left and abandoned.

Thirdly, I cannot be ſo uncharitable to think, but the Relicks of Reaſon in the moſt profligate Perſon, will readily admit and grant, That whereever the Good of Pleaſure, Profit, and Honour, meet together, and joyntly conſpire to make the Life of a Man more comfortable, and more durable upon Earth, that is much rather to be choſen, than a meer tranſient touch of ſenſitive Pleaſure, accompanied with preſent regret, and followed with the Ruin of Eſtate, Name, Honour, Soul, and Body. He that thinks otherwiſe, is more fit for a Bedlam, than a rational and ſober Confutation. Theſe things therefore I take for granted, they being innate and ſelf-evident Notions and Principles in all Men.

§ 5. The Wiſdom and Goodneſs of God are clearly diſcernable, in leaving ſuch Principles of Reaſon, and common Notices of Conſcience in Men after the Fall, as prompt them naturally unto Juſtice, Chaſtity, Temperance, and Sobriety, and do ſtruggle within them to reſtrain them from, or recover them out of their Immoralities, from which many Advantages do reſult.

For hereby God is acknowledged all the World over, Men every-where ſhewing by theſe things the Work of the Law written in their Hearts, Rom. 2. 15.

Hereby Kingdoms and Common-wealths are preſerved, this being the common Bridle which reſtrains the outragious Luſts of Millions of Men, which elſe would turn the World into Confuſion, tho' here and there ſome have ſlipt Bridle, and run into all Exceſs of Riot. We juſtly admire the Providence of God in butting, bounding, and reſtraining the boiſterous Ocean by Mountains, Rocks, and Sands; and as much is he to be admired in curbing the inſatiable Luſts of Men, by theſe innate Principles of Reaſon and Conſcience.

Hereby the way to Sin is in ſome meaſure barr'd and ſhut up, and the further progreſs of Sinners, already entred into it, ſtop'd and denied: For Actions done with regret, cannot be ſuppoſed to be done ſo frequently and furiouſly, as if they were done without any regret; or that the way to Sin were ſmoothed to them with a full Conſent and Approbation of their whole ſelf. For moſt Sinners find in themſelves what Medea did,

> ——Video meliora proboque,
> Deteriora ſequor——

They both ſee and approve that which is better, tho' they follow that which is worſe.

In a word, theſe Relicks of Reaſon and Conſcience in Men, are fit Handles to catch hold on, for the turning them about from Satan unto God. When Paul reaſoned with Fœlix, about Temperance, Righteouſneſs, and Judgment to come, his Words laid hold upon theſe Handles, and gave him ſuch a ſhake, that the Text ſaith, Fœlix trembled. And oh! that this Diſcourſe might take hold of the Reaſon and Conſcience of every profane Reader, and produce ſome more excellent and laſting Effect upon his Soul.

§ 6. Theſe Notices and Dictates of Reaſon and Conſcience in Men, being ſo neceſſary, and many ways beneficial to themſelves, as well as to the whole Community; it muſt therefore be an horrid Villany to war againſt them, and by Violence to ſuppreſs and enſlave them to our own Luſt.

This is as if a Company of deſperate Ruffians ſhould aſſault Innocent and Noble Travellers upon the lawful Road, bind and gag their Guides, whilſt they rob and proſtitute them. Thus deal bruitiſh Luſts, headed by the Devil, with the Affections of Men, travelling along the lawful Road of Duty, under the Conduct of Reaſon and Conſcience. For this Villany it was, that the Apoſtle tells us, The Wrath of God was revealed from Heaven againſt the Heathens, who held the truth in Unrighteouſneſs, Rom. 1. 18. They had the Light of Natural Reaſon and Conſcience in them, the inbred Notions of Good and Evil, which raiſed their Hopes or Fears, according to the Nature and Quality of their Actions.

Conſcia mens ut cuique ſua eſt, ita concipit intra
Pectora pro facto ſpemque metumque ſuo. Ovid.

But their head-ſtrong boiſterous Luſts rudely and violently brake in upon Reaſon and Conſcience, impriſoned and bound them as Zedekiah did the faithful Prophet Jeremiah for the diſcharge of his Duty to him. For this the Wrath of God was revealed from Heaven againſt them. And indeed we cannot wonder it ſhould be incenſed againſt them, as it will againſt all that act like them: For into ſuch a Sin as this, many direful Aggravations fall in together, to make it a monſtrous and prodigious Sin.

Here we find an high and cauſeleſs Abuſe of the Nobleſt Natural Faculties and Powers of a Man's own Soul. What harm have thy Reaſon and Conſcience done thee, by ſtimulating and perſwading to Temperance, Chaſtity, and Sobriety, or by ſtruggling and ſtriving with thee to prevent both thy preſent and future Ruin? Do they lay their faithful and loving Hands of Reſtraint upon thee, when they ſee thee running headlong into Deſtruction? And do they deſerve for this, and no worſe than this, to be thus trampled under Foot and abuſed? Ask thy ſelf, Man, Whether thou thinkeſt thy very Dog deſerves to be hanged for Opening at Midnight, and taking that Thief by the Throat, who came to cut thine? And dareſt thou uſe thoſe Noble Powers within thee, worſe than thou wouldſt uſe a Dog? Humanity would bluſh at ſuch an Action.

Theſe vile Abuſes of thy Reaſon and Conſcience carry alſo in them an horrid Contempt of God, whoſe Patent, Officers, and Delegates, thy Reaſon and Conſcience are. Thoſe certainly ſin with an high Hand againſt the Lord, who make nothing to controul, kick, and lay in Irons his Commiſſion-Officers, appointed for no other end, by their preſent and future Felicity. Nay,

Such Men as theſe are found in a plain Confederacy with the Devil, and that in a moſt unnatural and horrid Plot againſt their own Souls and Bodies. Their Light and their Luſts are ſtruggling together. Sin and Conſcience are combating one with another; the one to deſtroy, the other to ſave the Man. Dareſt thou joyn with thy Luſts againſt thy Light, and think not to be brought in as a Party, and Confederate with the Devil? The ſtopping of the Mouth of thy Conſcience, fully proves both thy Conſent and Concealment. And if proved Conſent and Concealment, make thee not a Party and Acceſſary, it will be very ſtrange.

Plutarch in his Book de Amicitiâ, relates a Story of a Perſian, who ſcuffling in the dark with a Magician, againſt whom he had a Grudge, and not being able to conquer him himſelf, called upon his Friend, who ſtood by him with a naked Sword ready to ſtrike, but durſt not, for fear of killing his Friend: The Perſian cries out, Strike, ſtrike, however thy Stroke fall; thruſt at an adventure; I care not, ſo thou kill the Magician, tho' thou kill him through my own Body.

Much ſo ſtands the Caſe here, with a little Variation. Thou art furiouſly ſet upon the Enjoyment of thy Luſts, nothing will quiet thee but their Satisfaction. Thy Reaſon and Conſcience will oppoſe it, and ſtruggle hard with thee, to with-hold thee from them. But thou careſt not in the Rage of thine inſatiable Appetite, tho' thy Reaſon and Conſcience both fall in the Combate, rather than thy Luſts ſhould not be ſatisfied. Oh, what Bruits! yea, what Monſters can Sin turn Men into!

§ 7. If Men have not quite extinguiſhed both Reaſon and Conſcience by Debauchery, and diveſted themſelves of Humanity, one would think no Motion or Addreſs can poſſibly be made to them more fair, rational, and inoffenſive than this, that they would be pleaſed but to conſult themſelves, and hearken to the native and unconſtrained Voice of their own Reaſon and Conſcience, before they engage themſelves in Matters of great Concernment, upon which both their preſent and eternal Welfare do depend; or if they are already engaged, yet at leaſt to lend an Ear to what they have to offer for their recovery, before it be too late.

You are not here urged and preſſed to hearken to the Voices of your Enemies that hate you, or to the Counſel and Advice of meer Strangers, who know not your Affairs; but to hearken to your ſelves, to be your own Arbitrators and Judges, to draw up the Award with your own Hand. 'Tis a ſtrange and an hard Caſe indeed, and ſcarce to be ſuppoſed, that Men ſhould fall out with themſelves at ſuch a rate, that they had rather hear the Voice of their mortal Enemy the Devil, and liſten to his Advice and Counſel, than to the Voice of their own Reaſon and Conſcience.

We all account it Madneſs in Balaam, to beat his innocent Aſs, and threaten to kill her for ſhunning the Sword of the Angel that oppoſed his paſſage in a ſinful and dangerous Expedition. But how many uſe both their Reaſon and Conſcience worſe than Aſſes, becauſe they dare not go forward, and deſperately carry them into the very midſt of Dangers and Miſeries, which they plainly foreſee and warn them of?

What Injuries have thy Reaſon or Conſcience done thee, Man? What Affronts have they given thee? That thou wilt not ſuffer them to ſpeak or offer one word, tho' never ſo pertinent, ſeaſonable, and neceſſary? There is a Civility due from us to meer Strangers, yea, to Strangers of an inferiour Rank and Quality. The leaſt we can do, is to give them a patient hearing, and not interrupt them whilſt they ſpeak nothing but what is rational, pertinent, and neceſſary, eſpecially if it be to their own good and advantage. 'Tis ſtrange Men ſhould not think themſelves as much obliged to pay Civility and Reſpect to their own Reaſons and Conſciences, as they daily pay to meer Strangers and Inferiours. Give them but a patient hearing, and they will both tell thee:

We are thine appointed Guardians, and have our Commiſſion from God to adviſe, direct, and counſel thee. We are thy faithful and inward Friends; yea, we are thine own ſelf, and the beſt and nobleſt part of thy ſelf too. At our hands God will require thy Blood, ſhouldſt thou periſh by our Silence or Treachery. We cannot be both Silent and Innocent, are both in ſuch hazard. Don't abuſe us, and ſtop our Mouths for crying out, Stop, ſtop, when we ſee thee departing from the Paths of Honeſty, Honour, and Safety, and taking the direct Road to that Gulf of Miſery, in which few, if any Footſteps are found of ſuch as return again, that are far engaged therein.

Suffer us but fairly and friendly to expoſtulate the matter with thee. What Deſign can we have againſt thy true Intereſt, whilſt thine, and ours, cannot poſſibly be oppoſite or disjunct, but one and the ſame Intereſt.

Well then, that which thy Reaſon and Conſcience offers, being ſo weighty, fair, and juſt, and what thine own Intereſt plainly lies in, I will not be ſo uncharitable, as to ſuppoſe thou wilt either refuſe to hear, or reject what they have to ſay in the following Caſes and Debates.

---

CHAP. III.

Wherein the true Cenſure and Judgment of Right Reaſon and Conſcience, are given upon profane Swearing and Blaſpheming the Name of GOD: As alſo their Replies to ſeveral Pleas offered in Defence or Excuſe thereof.

§ 1. GOD beſtowed on Man the Noble Faculty of Speech (a peculiar Favour and Priviledge) for two Ends and Uſes. (1.) That by the uſe of his Tongue he may glorifie his Maker, and ſound forth the Praiſes of his Redeemer. (2.) That we might thereby be able to communicate our Minds one to another, in all our neceſſary and convenient Intereſts and Concernments, whether Civil or Religious. This Member, the Tongue, tho' ſmall in quantity, is found to be mighty in efficacy; and whilſt it is kept under the Rule and Government of Grace, the Words that drop from it, are as Apples of Gold in Pictures of Silver. Gracious Words are Bread to feed, and Water to refreſh the Souls of others. A ſanctified Tongue is as a Tree of Life. Converſion, Edification, and Conſolation, are the delicious Fruits of the Lips.

But the Tongues of ſome Men break looſe from under all the Laws and Rules both of Reaſon and Religion, and ſerve only to vent the Froth and Filth which abounds in the Heart, as in a Fountain of Pollution: For out of the abundance of the Heart, the Mouth ſpeaketh. The Tongue moves lightly, but falls heavily; it ſtrikes ſoft, but wounds deep. It would not ſpare Men of the higheſt Rank and Eminence, did not the fear of Capital Puniſhments teach them ſo much Wit to keep their Tongues in Priſon, that they may keep their Bodies out of Priſon. And tho' for this Reaſon they are afraid of making too bold with the Names of Men; yet having no fear of God at all, they fall upon his great and dreadful Name, toſſing it to and fro without any Reſpect or Reverence.

Auguſtus prohibited the common uſe of his Name, leſt it ſhould grow too cheap and vile, by the common and needleſs uſing of it. The Name of Mercurius Triſmegiſtus was very ſparingly uſed, becauſe of the great Reverence the People had for him. The very Heathens were afraid to pronounce the Name of their great God, Demogorgon, as fearing the Earth would tremble when his Name was mentioned. How doth the Reverence of Heathens to their falſe Gods, expoſe and aggravate the Impudence of profeſſed Chriſtians in their vile Indignities and Abuſes of the Great and Terrible Name of the True God! Yea, they not only take up his Name vainly and raſhly into their Lips, but audaciouſly inſert it by a profane Oath into their common Talk, as that which gives the Grace, Lepor, and Ornament to their Diſcourſes. Some have not been aſhamed to ſay, What pity is it that Swearing ſhould be a Sin, which gives ſo great a Grace and Ornament to Language?

§ 2. Swearing by the Name of God in a righteous Cauſe, when called thereto by due Authority, is not only a Lawful, but a Religious Act, founded upon, and directed to the Honour of God's Omniſcience, whereunto there is a ſolemn Appeal made, in every aſſertory, and promiſſory Oath, and a Religious Acknowledgment made him of his infallible Knowledge of the Truth or Falſhood of our Hearts, and all the Secrets of them, be they never ſo involved and inward things.

The lawful Uſe and End of Swearing, is to put an End to all Strife, and to maintain both Equity and Charity among Men, the two Bonds and Ligaments of Humane Society. Now it being the Sovereign Right and Property of God alone, infallibly to ſearch and try the Hearts and Reins of Men, he thereby becomes the infallible Witneſs to the Truth or Falſhood of what they ſpeak; ſo that in every ſuch lawful Oath, there is not only a ſolemn Appeal, and in that Appeal an Aſcription of Glory to his Sovereign Omniſcience; but therein (implicitly at leaſt), they put themſelves under his Wrath and Curſe, in caſe they Swear falſly; which makes this Action moſt ſacred and ſolemn.

The deep Corruption of Humane Nature by the Fall, makes theſe Appeals to God under a Curſe neceſſary. For it is ſuppoſed, tho' Men be falſe and deceitful, yet there is ſome Reverence of a Deity, and fear of his Wrath and Curſe, left unextinguiſhed in their fallen Nature. So that Men will rather ſpeak the Truth, (tho' to their own ſhame and loſs) than by invocating ſo glorious a Name in vain, put both Soul and Body under his Wrath and Curſe. By which it appears what an awful and ſolemn thing an Oath is; and that every good Man not only takes a lawful Oath with holy fear and trembling, becauſe of the Solemnity of the Action; but rather ought to chuſe Death, than to Swear profanely, becauſe of the horrid Malignity of the Action.

§ 3. The Contumely and Malignity found in profane Oaths, appears in that terrible threatning, The Lord will not hold him guiltleſs, that taketh his Name in vain: A Threatning altogether as juſt and righteous, as it is ſevere and terrible. This Sin admits of degrees of Guilt. 'Tis highly ſinful to Swear by the Name of God lightly and vainly in our common Diſcourſes, tho' the Oath be clipp'd, and half ſuppreſs'd, or diſguiſed in the Pronunciation of it, which argues ſome remains of fear and ſhame in the Sinner.

'Tis yet worſe (and indeed not a jot below Blaſphemy) to ſwear by any other Name, than the Name of God. For in ſo doing, they attribute to a Creature the Sovereign and Incommunicable Property of God, ſet that Creature in the very Throne of God, and inveſt it with the Regalities of his Omniſcience, to know our Hearts, and Almighty Power to avenge the Wrong upon us done to himſelf, as well as to Men by falſe Swearing.

But to break in rudely and blaſphemouſly upon the Sacred and Tremendous Name of God, with bold and full-mouth'd Oaths, ſtriking through his Sacred Name, with direct Contumelious Blaſphemies; this argues an Heart from which all Fear of God, is utterly expelled and baniſhed.

Yet ſome there are grown up to that prodigious heighth of Impiety, that they dare aſſault the very Heavens, and diſcharge whole Vollies of Blaſphemies againſt that Glorious Majeſty which dwells there. They are not afraid to bid defiance to him, and challenge the God that made them, to do his worſt. They deck and adorn (as they account it) their common Diſcourſes with bloody Oaths, and horrid Imprecations, not reckoning them Genteel and Modiſh without them. It conſiſts not with the Greatneſs of their Spirits, to be wicked at the common rate. They are willing to let the World know, that they are none of thoſe puny, ſilly Fellows, that are afraid of inviſible Powers, or ſo much Cowards as to clip a full-mouth'd Oath, by ſuppreſſing, or whiſpering the Emphatical ſounding Syllable; but think an horrid Blaſphemy makes the moſt ſweet and graceful Cadency, in their Helliſh Rhetorick.

They glory that they have fully conquered all thoſe troubleſome Notions of Good and Evil, Vertue and Vice, Heaven and Hell, to that degree, that they can now affront the Divine Majeſty to his very Face, and not fear the worſt he threatens in his Word againſt their Wickedneſs.

If there be a God (which they ſcarce believe) they are reſolved audaciouſly to provoke him to give them a convincing Evidence of his Being. And if he be (as they are told he is) rich in Patience and Forbearance, they are reſolved to try how far his Patience will extend, and what Load of Wickedneſs it is capable to bear.

If their Damnation be not yet ſure enough, they will do their utmoſt to make it ſure, by breaking down the only Bridge whereby they can eſcape Damnation; I mean, by trampling under their Feet the precious Blood and Wounds of the Son of God, and imprecating the Damnation of Hell upon their own Souls, as if it ſlumbred too long, and were too ſlow-pac'd in its Motions towards them. I am of Opinion, there are few Chriſtians to be found on Earth, crying ſo often, Lord, pardon, Lord, ſave me; as ſome Wretches among us cry, (Horreſco referens!) God dam me, the Devil take me.

Herein they ſeem to envy the Happineſs of the Devils, and damned Wretches in Hell, and endeavour (as one ſpeaks) to ſnatch Damnation out of Gods hands before the time, as if they could not be ſoon enough among their roaring and howling Companions in the midſt of the everlaſting Burnings. But, why ſuch haſte to be perfectly miſerable? The very Devils themſelves deprecate Torments before their time, tho' you imprecate them. Your Miſery makes haſte enough towards you; you need not quicken it, or thus run to meet it.

I am perſwaded, that if the Bars of the bottomleſs Pit were broken up, and Devils ſhould aſcend in Humane Shapes, none among them would be found haſtning upon themſelves the fulneſs and compleatneſs of their Miſery as you do. 'Tis a Truth, tho' a ſtrange one, That it is much eaſier to find, than imagine Men upon Earth profeſſing Chriſtian Religion, yet in ſome reſpect ſunk below the Wickedneſs of the Diabolical Nature, by making Damnation both the Subject of their Drollery, and the Object of their very Wiſhes and Deſires. Some greater Maſters of our Language, may more lively and emphatically expreſs the horrid Nature of this Sin; but excuſe me, Reader, if I believe no Words or Thoughts can meaſure the heighth or depth of this monſtrous Abomination.

§ 4. Such contumelious Language as this (eſpecially when grown modiſh or common) cannot but be a moſt high and dreadful Provocation of God, and ſuch an one as will certainly bring down his deſolating Vengeance, not only upon the Heads of Blaſphemers themſelves, but upon the States and Kingdoms that connive at, or tolerate them. We read, Zech. 5. 2, 3, 4. of a flying Roll full of Curſes, the length thereof twenty Cubits, and the breadth thereof ten Cubits, which ſhall enter into the Houſe of the Swearer, remain in the midſt of his Houſe, and conſume it with the Timber and Stones thereof. Blaſphemy and profane Swearing, are like Barrels of Gunpowder laid under the Foundation of many Great and Noble Families, many of which are already blown up, and laid in Ruins by this Sin, and many more ready to follow, as ſoon as the Juſtice of God ſhall give Fire to it.

And (comparatively ſpeaking) it were happy if the Miſchief ended here; but alas! it cauſes God to commence a Quarrel with the whole Land, Hoſ. 4. 2, 3. And becauſe of Oaths the Land mourneth. You find in Iſa. 38. what it was that brought that unparalell'd Deſolation upon that famous and flouriſhing City Jeruſalem, and the whole Land of Judah: For Jeruſalem is ruined, and Judah is fallen, becauſe their Tongues and their Doings are againſt the Lord, to provoke the Eyes of his Glory.

But alas! Scripture-threatnings ſignifie ſcarce ſo much with theſe Men, as the Predictions of the Weather in an Almanack; and which is ſtrange to conſider, the very execution of Scripture-threatnings before their Eyes, will not terrifie them from this inhumane Wickedneſs: Even theſe alſo are laughed to ſcorn, or eaſily forgotten.

Oh! that God would ſet it home with Power upon the Spirits of all that are in Power, to take ſome ſpeedy and effectual courſe to remove this accurſed thing, this Iniquity to be puniſhed by the Judge; one (and a chief one too) of thoſe direful Provocations of Heaven, to which we owe a ſpecial part of our National Infelicity at this Day. We all acknowledge, that all Proſperity and Succeſs depends upon God: If ſo, Reaſon will ſubſume, that it muſt be therefore the Intereſt of Kingdoms and Commonwealths to prevent and reſtrain thoſe Impieties, which ſo audaciouſly provoke and incenſe his Wrath. As much is this their Duty and Intereſt, as it is the Intereſt of a Courtier to avoid Offences of his Royal Maſter, the King, upon whoſe Favour his Honour and Preferment depends. Or as it is the Duty of the Owner, to keep in that Ox which is uſed to goring; or cover that Pit into which ſome have, and others of his Family are like to fall; or carefully and ſpeedily to remove that Gunpowder which his Enemies have placed under the Foundation of his Houſe to blow it up. Both Reaſon and Experience will inform the Rulers of this World, That profeſſed Rebels to the God of Heaven, are never like to make uſeful Subjects in the Kingdoms of Men.

§ 5. 'Till Publick Juſtice lay hold upon ſuch Offenders, let us try what cloſe Reaſoning may effect for their Reformation. 'Tis hard to imagine, that Men of Sence ſhould ſo generally, and ſo far engage themſelves in this Courſe of profane Swearing, and have nothing at all to ſay for themſelves.

If they have no Reaſon at all to offer in juſtification, or excuſe of what they do, they act the Bruits, not the Men, and are ſelf-condemned already.

'Tis a queſtion with me, Whether the Soul of Man on this ſide Hell, can ſink ſo far into the Nature of a Devil, as to ſin becauſe he will ſin, or to engage himſelf in a Courſe of Sin, without any reſpect at all to ſome carnal Intereſt, either of Profit, Pleaſure, or Honour.

The Thief hath a viſible Temptation of Gain to allure him, or pinching Neceſſity to induce him. The Lyar is drawn in to commit that ſecond Sin, to cover the ſhame and turpitude of a former. The Adulterer promiſeth himſelf Pleaſure in the ſatisfaction of his Luſts. And tho' Men generally ſtand amazed to think what that Temptation ſhould be which prevails upon the Swearer, yet doubtleſs ſomething there is he hath to plead in excuſe and extenuation of his Fault. Whatſoever it be, let it be produced and weighed in the Ballance of right Reaſon; valeat quantum valere poteſt, let it have its due value and conſideration. And could I imagine any thing more likely to be their Inducements, than what I ſhall here mention, I would not conceal them. There are only four things that can fall within the compaſs of my Imagination pleadable by them, when ſeriouſly charged with the Evil of the Fact.

1. Some of them will haply tell us, that they would not ſwear as they do, if they could gain Credit to what they ſay without it; but the Incredulity of others, provokes them to add ſo many Oaths to their ſingle Affirmations.

2. Others of them will tell us, they only ſwear in their Paſſion, when provoked by Injuries received from others; and if Men did not wrong them, they would not wrong God as they do.

3. Some will plead, that Swearing is become modiſh, the Badge and Character of a Gentleman, that it gives them Reputation among Men of their own Rank and Quality, and that they ſhall be looked upon as ſneaking Fools, unfit for the Company of Gentlemen, if they could not Diſcourſe with them in this Dialect.

4. And ſome will confeſs the Practice is evil, but that they have gotten ſuch an ill Habit, and the Sin is become ſo cuſtomary with them, that many times they know not whether they ſwear or no.

I cannot imagine, nor (I think) they themſelves, what elſe is pleadable in excuſe or extenuation of this horrid Sin: Let theſe that are produced have a fair Trial at the Bar of Reaſon, and carry your ſelves towards this Sin for ever hereafter, according to that righteous Verdict your ſelves ſhall not be forced to paſs upon it.

§ 6. To begin with the firſt Plea: You ſay, you would not ſwear as you do, could you gain Credit to your Words without it. Weigh this Queſtion in the upright Ballance of thine own Reaſon, whether any wiſe or ſober Man in the World, will find himſelf ever the more obliged to believe what you ſay, by the addition of blaſphemous Oaths and Imprecations, to your plain and ſimple Affirmations and Negations. I cannot think that you your ſelves would give the more Credit to any Man that ſhould profeſs his ſincerity to you, by finding him, in that his very Profeſſion, falſe and treacherous to his God. Say, Reaſon, doſt not thou take this for a ſure Truth, That he who makes no Conſcience of being true to God, will never make much Conſcience of being falſe to Men? For what is that which gives any Man's Words Reputation among wiſe and ſober Men, but the ſuppoſition of his Integrity and Conſcientious Fear of his Deceit and Guile? Take away that, and with it you take away the Credibility of all his Reports and Affirmations.

If I look upon the Perſon that ſpeaks, as a Man of Integrity and Conſcientious Tenderneſs, I have a ſufficient ordinary Security of the truth of what he ſaith. But if I look upon him as a Man of a proſtitute and ſeared Conſcience, that dares venture upon any Sin; a Man in whom there is no Awe of God, to produce Veracity in his Words; then my Reaſon preſently concludes, that where there is no Truth, there ought to be no Truſt: For Truth is the very Ground-work and Foundation of Truſt. Now what Truth can we ſuppoſe to be left in that Man, that ſticks not upon any trivial occaſion to break aſunder all the Obligations of a Creature to his Creator; together with all the Bonds of Kindneſs his great and beſt Benefactor hath bound him withal, and without any the leaſt Injury he can pretend his God hath done him, to fly in his very Face with the moſt contumelious Language? Can we ſuppoſe any Truth to be in, or any Truſt to be due to ſuch a Man as this?

Good Men and bad are thus contradiſtinguiſhed, Eccl. 9. 2. Him that ſweareth, and he that feareth an Oath. A Conſcientious Man is ſo afraid of an Oath, that he would rather chuſe to die than ſwear ſome kind of Oaths: And tho' he be ſatisfied of the Lawfulneſs of an Oath in general, and of the Matter of that Oath he ſweareth in particular; yet an holy Awe and Fear of God fills his Heart, when he ſwears lawfully and neceſſarily, leſt he ſhould fail in the manner of it, by not giving that due Reverence to the Name of God, which ſo Sacred and Solemn an Action requires.

But from profane Swearing and Blaſpheming the Name of God, every Man's Reaſon may juſtly and plainly infer this Concluſion; that the fear of God is not in that Man's Heart: And where there is no fear of God, what Truth can be ſuppoſed in him, or what Truſt can be due to his Words or Oaths? But the more he ſwears, ſtill the leſs reaſon all wiſe Men have to believe him. And I am ſure the Credulity of Fools adds little Reputation to him. This Plea therefore for profane Swearing, is altogether ſham'd, baffled, and caſhiered by the common Reaſon of Mankind.

§ 7. Call therefore to the Bar of Reaſon, the Second Plea, or Apology, for profane Swearing.

You ſay you ſwear not, unleſs provoked by Injuries Men have done you.

This is ſo weak a Plea for ſo great a Sin, that I wonder Men are not aſhamed to bring it into the Court of Reaſon. This is the true ſence and ſtrength of it. My Enemy hath abuſed me, therefore I'll avenge the Wrong my Enemy hath done me, upon my beſt Friend and Benefactor. I challenge you to give but the colour or the ſhadow of a ſound Reaſon, why upon any abuſe you have received from Men, you ſhould fall ſo injuriouſly upon the Name of God, who never abuſed or injured you, ſince he gave you a Being, but hath always done you good. Tell me, Man, (if thou have the Reaſon of a Man in thee) what Wrong hath God done thee? Wherein hath he injured thee, that thou thus wreakeſt thy Revenge upon him? If an Enemy have affronted you, Reaſon would tell you, you ought not to take Revenge for it, upon your Friend, and beſt Benefactor. Have you none but God to abuſe, when Men abuſe and injure you? Can your Reaſon comprobate and allow ſuch an Action as this? Satan inſtigates the Corruptions of Men to injure you, and you fly in the Face of God for it, whoſe Laws ſeverely prohibit ſuch Actions, and will avenge the Injuries done unto him. Speak no more therefore for ever in the way of excuſing the horrid ſinfulneſs of this Fact againſt God, upon the account of Injuries done thee by thy Fellow-Creature. The Caſe is plainly determined, and caſt over the Bar of Reaſon with contempt and abhorrence.

§ 8. Come we next to your third Excuſe or Plea: That Swearing is become modiſh, and gives you a Reputation among Men of your own Rank and Quality; and that you ſhall be looked upon as ſneaking Fellows, unfit for the Society of Gentlemen, if you did not diſcourſe with them in their own Dialect.

This Apology for Sin is of no late date: Salvian mentions it as far back as his own Time profane Perſons then * thus pleaded for themſelves, That they were compelled to be evil, leſt they ſhould be accounted vile.

Whether there be any weight in this Apology for Swearing, will quickly appear, now it is to be laid in the Ballance of true Reaſon.

1. And firſt of all, let us conſider what makes a true Gentleman, and whether profane Swearing have any place in his true Character and Deſcription. A Gentleman is one that ſprings from famous and renowned Anceſtors, and degenerates not from their Probity and Honour. †

This is the Man whom the Latins call Generoſus, and we a Gentleman. Becauſe we ſuppoſe a Man of ſuch an Extraction and Education, more gentle, affable, and condeſcending to Inferiours, and to keep a ſtricter Government over his Tongue and Paſſions, than rude Plebeans are wont to do. Upon this account the Poet rightly obſerves:

Quo major eſt quiſquis, magis eſt placabilis ira,
Et Faciles motus mens generoſa capit.

Men of Genteel Extraction and Education, are Perſons whoſe Paſſions are ſuppoſed to move more gently than other Mens: And if at any time they be moved diſorderly, yet are they more placable, and ſooner reduced, than thoſe of ſordid and baſer Spirits are.

'Tis Vertue which raiſes and ennobles Families at firſt; for Omnis ſanguis concolor, all Humane Blood is derived from, and equally tainted by Adam. Nobler and Baſer Blood is an after Difference, made by Vertue and Vice among Men. And as Vertue firſt ennobled and raiſed ſome Families above others, ſo it will ſtill continue the Line of Honour in their Poſterity: And as their Vertues ſhall increaſe, ſo will their Honour proportionably do.

The Caſe truly and plainly ſtanding thus, 'tis morally impoſſible to make Debauchery the proper Badge and Character of Gentility. For Men of Eminency above the Vulgar, are more obliged than they, to ſhun all baſe and ſordid Actions: And as their Honour increaſeth, ſo do their Obligations to Temperance and Sobriety, increaſe and ſtrengthen upon them proportionably.

---

* Mali eſſe coguntur, ne viles habeantur.

† Generoſus, nobilis, ex præclaro genere ortus, qui à genere non deflectit.

'Twas therefore a right and rational Obſervation of Hierome, I ſee nothing deſirable in Nobility, (ſaith he) but this, that ſuch Men are bound by a certain kind of neceſſity, not to degenerate from, or ſtain the Glory and Honour of their Renowned Anceſtors. And the Reaſon is ſtrong and evident: For Vertue being that which firſt differenced their Blood from others, they are obliged by all the value they have for the Honour of their Blood and Families, to ſhun thoſe Vices which ſtain that Honour and Dignity. And what Vice can diſhonour and debaſe them more, than profane Swearing? For if the Arms of many Noble Families have been reverſed for Treaſon againſt the King; 'tis irrational to imagine, that Treaſon againſt the King of Kings, ſhould add a new Mark of Honour: And what is Blaſphemy but Treaſon againſt God? 'Tis plain then from the true Riſe and Character of a Gentleman, profane Swearing neither firſt raiſed, nor can preſerve and continue, but rather blots and expoſes their Reputation and Honour.

2. Tho' I am moſt willing to pay a becoming deference to all Perſons of Noble and Genteel Extraction, yet in Faithfulneſs to their true Honour, I am here obliged to ſay, (and in ſaying it, I can offend no Man that hath a true Sence of Honour) that their natural Deſcent can never give them ſo much Honour, as the Vices I am here cenſuring will reflect Ignominy and Diſhonour upon them. To be a Slave of Satan, and your own Luſts, is ſuch a Mark of Infamy, as all the Honourable and Illuſtrious Titles in the World can never cover. It is better to riſe by Vertue to Honour, from contemptible Parents, than by Vice and Profaneneſs to grow contemptible from honourable Parents. 'Tis your honour to have many Servants at your Command, obſequiouſly attending a Nod of your Head, or a Beck of your Finger: But ask your own Reaſon, Gentlemen, whether it be not a greater Diſhonour for you to attend as obſequiouſly your ſelves, upon every Beck and Nod of Satan, and your own Luſts.

Were your Natural Birth once ennobled by the New Birth, you would be more than thrice honourable: Grace would make you more illuſtrious, than your natural Extraction doth or can do. Or if Morality (which is far inferiour to that Honour, and for which, Heathens themſelves have been renowned in the Pagan World) did but adorn and beautifie your Converſations, though it cannot entitle you to Heaven, or ſecure to you the Glory of the World to come, yet it would make you ſhine in the Eyes of Men in this World, and taking its advantage from your honourable Extraction, make you differ from Perſons of an inferior Rank, as Stars of a greater magnitude and luſtre. I hope, Gentlemen valuing themſelves upon their Honour, will not be offended at a ſharper Invective than this, againſt thoſe Vices that darken and eclipſe their Honour, both in the Eyes of God, as well as in the Judgment of all wiſe and good Men.

3. Suppoſe what you ſay to be true, that ſome profane Gentlemen ſhould ſcoff and deride you for your ſober Carriage, and decorous Language, (things which ought to be inſeperable from true Gentility) I would in this caſe appeal to your own Reaſon, why you ſhould not enjoy your own Pleaſure in as full latitude and liberty, as they do theirs? They delight in the Dialect of Devils; you in pure and inoffenſive Language. If they will drink the puddled Waters, and you refuſe them from the pure Criſtal Streams, you have to be ſure as much Reaſon (and a thouſand times more) to aſſert your Liberty to be vertuous, than they have (or can pretend to have) a Priviledge to be vicious.

And if they will be offended with you for this, their Offence is groundleſs in themſelves, and will be greatly advantagious to you. For you need not doubt but you may find better Company than theirs any where on this ſide Hell. I remember that rational and excellent Apology, which Tertullian made for the Chriſtians in his time againſt the Gentiles: ‘Wherein (ſaith he) do we offend ‘you, if we will not partake with you in your ‘Delights? If we ſuſtain any damage by ſuch ‘our refuſal, the Injury can be only our own. We ‘reject your Pleaſures, and you are not delighted ‘with ours.

You will ſhew your ſelves true and worthy Gentlemen in abandoning and rejecting (upon ſo noble an account as this) all further unneceſſary Society with ſuch Gentiel-men; for ſo they deſerve to be called, rather than Gentlemen. They boaſt indeed the Honour of their Blood, whilſt they trample the precious and invaluable Blood of Chriſt under their feet: They boaſt their Eminency above the Vulgar, whilſt mean time they labour vilely to debaſe him that ſet them there.

I am ſure there's not a Devil in Hell, but is by nature of a more honourable and illuſtrious Houſe, than the proudeſt of Blaſphemers. They are Angels by Nature, tho' Devils bry Practice. They have little reaſon to boaſt of their Original Excellency, which now aggravates their Miſery. Sin darkened their Luſtre, degraded them from their Natural Dignity; and ſo it will do theirs alſo, that imitate Devils in their Blaſphemy and Malignity againſt God.

4. It may as eaſily be proved as aſſerted, That to make Curſing, Swearing, and Blaſpheming, the Badges and Characteriſtical Marks of a true Gentleman, is the fouleſt Blot and Mark of Infamy, which the Malice of their Enemies can deviſe to put into their Eſcutcheons; and ſuch an Affront, as ought to be highly reſented by all true Gentlemen.

Should the moſt malicious Enemy you have in the World, ſee an Herald to deviſe a Mark of Infamy for your Coats of Arms, to make you ridiculous, and a By-word among the People, he could never diſhonour you at that rate, you, this way, diſhonour your ſelves.

For if Debauchery be both aſſerted and allowed to be the true Badge of Gentility, then your own Reaſon will infer, that all the ancient Epithets of Gentility ought thereupon to be altered. And would thoſe Gentlemen, think you, take it well, to have the Titles and Epithets of Ingenuous, Worthy, Honourable, and Noble, changed into Curſing, Swearing, Damning, Blaſpheming Gentlemen? You cannot but ſee the inconſiſtency of both: If therefore you will adopt and wear the latter, you muſt either caſhier and renounce the former, or try to make the former conſiſtent with the latter, which I'm ſure the moſt Ingenious among you will find an hard Task to do.

5. I humbly beg leave to propound one plain blunt Queſtion to you, Gentlemen. The matter of it is too rational to be rejected, and let that make Atonement for the blunt manner of its Propoſal. And the Queſtion is this:

Qu. Whether your Reaſon and Conſcience be fully ſatisfied, that when you die (as you know you ſhortly muſt) you ſhall then appear before the Judgment-ſeat of God, in the Quality and Character of Gentlemen? Do you verily think you ſhall find the more Favour there, for the ſake of your Noble Deſcent, and Honourable Extraction, or that your Gentility ſhall make an Atonement for all your Impiety?

I am perſwaded, Gentlemen, you do not, you cannot think ſo. You know you muſt appear before that God, with whom there is no reſpect of Perſons; a God that will certainly damn the impenitent Blaſphemer. The Man muſt aſſuredly go to Hell, 1 Cor. 6. 9, 10. And if the Man be damned, certainly the Gentleman is in a bad Caſe.

6. In a word, I am paſt all doubt, and ſo may you too, that this genteel Mode of Swearing, Drinking, and Whoring, which hath ſpread ſo far in this preſent infamous Age, into Proteſtant States and Kingdoms, is the very Spirit and Strength of a Popiſh Plot, ſubtilly projected, and induſtriouſly managed, for their effectual Reduction to Popery.

For nothing in the World can reconcile Men to Popery; yea, and even endear them to it, like Debauchery. Under Popery, Gentlemen may come up to the Rates of coſtly Pardons and Indulgences, for their greateſt Sins. They may give themſelves liberty to wallow in Profaneneſs all the Days of their Life. They may give their Luſts the utmoſt ſcope and liberty, and yet have a plenary Pardon when they die. So that they need not abridge themſelves of any ſinful Liberty, or boggle at the loudeſt Blaſphemy, whilſt they have that in their Pocket to ſtill and quiet ſomething that grumbles in their Boſom. Do you not ſee, Gentlemen, the natural Tendencies of theſe things? Does not Debauchery look like a Shooing-Horn to Popery.

Beſides, Gentlemen, the Devil and the Pope are Confederates in a farther Deſign upon you; and if their Deſign hit, they hope to win by Power, what they may miſs by Policy; and that by the very ſame Method of corrupting and debauching Perſons of eminent Rank and Quality, in Proteſtant Kingdoms and Common-wealths. For (as a * Learned Man in Queen Elizabeth's Days rightly obſerved): Theſe are the Men eſpecially intereſted in the Publick Affairs of Kingdoms. Theſe repreſent the People in Parliaments. Theſe make their Laws, adminiſter the Government in Peace and War. To their Hands are committed the great Concerns of Nations. Theſe are they that fill the Seats of Publick Judicature.

If Gentlemen therefore by this means be generally corrupted and infected by Debauchery, their Influence and Example is likely to infect the greateſt part of the Body Politick, and either make the People eaſily pliable to the Charms and Courtſhips of Popery, for the Reaſon before mentioned, or ſo beſot their excellent Parts, and enervate their Maſculine Courage, that they ſhall fall an eaſie Prey, to their (otherwiſe) weak and deſpicable Enemies.

And certainly, Gentlemen, we have all cauſe to reckon this Plot very far advanced, when we ſhall ſee Debauchery every-where made the Badge of Gentility; and Chaſtity, Temperance, and Sobriety, become the Marks and Notes of Infamy. When Civility it ſelf ſhall be hiſs'd with deriſion out of ſome Gentlemens Company; and the more temperate and ſober any Man is, by ſo much the leſs fit to be a Gentleman's Companion.

By this time I hope you are convinced, that true Gentility is no Enemy to Sobriety, nor Debauchery the Character of Gentility; and will at laſt pardon, if not thank me, for endeavouring this way to ſecure the true Honour of ſome, whilſt I rationally argue down the Vices and Follies of others. This Plea for Debauchery, you ſee hath the ſame Fate the former had, and deſerves never to be mentioned more.

§ 9. There is but one Plea more, and that as ſilly and irrational as any of the former: And that is,

The Cuſtom and Habit of Swearing, which you ſay is hard to be broken. This Sin is become ſo cuſtomary to you, that now you ſcarce note or obſerve it in your ſelves.

That there may be Truth in the Matter of this Plea, I neither deny nor doubt; but that it is a rational and allowable Plea, will never be granted by your own Reaſon. The thing you ſay may be true; for we ſometimes find, that when you are taxed for Swearing, you will preſently ſwear that you did not ſwear; and curſe him to his Face, that accuſes you for Curſing.

But pray, Gentlemen, make your own Reaſon judge, whether Cuſtom be a valid and allowed Plea for profane Swearing and Curſing. Say, Reaſon, wilt thou allow that one of the higheſt Aggravations of Sin, is pleadable in thy Court for the excuſe or extenuation of it? Wilt thou give it under thy Hand, that the Man is the leſs guilty, becauſe the more wicked? Dareſt thou to warrant it, that God will take the leſs Notice of the Wrongs Men do him, becauſe they are uſed and accuſtomed ſo to wrong and abuſe him every Hour in the Day? If your Reaſon can allow and warrant this, I muſt ſay it is different, yea, and oppoſite to the common Reaſon of Mankind.

Say not, I make my own Reaſon the Rule and Standard of yours, or other Mens. For I argue here (as I have done all along before) upon the common Topicks and Maxims of Reaſon, generally allowed all the World over by Mankind. If a Practice be evil, the oftner it is repeated, the more ſtill it is aggravated.

To be plain and faithful with you, Gentlemen, if it be your Cuſtom to blaſpheme, 'tis God's Cuſtom to damn Blaſphemers. If you uſe to be drunk and unclean, God uſes to puniſh Drunkards and Adulterers (if impenitent and unreformed) with his everlaſting Wrath.

---

* Lauren. Humphredus de Nobilitate, p. 64.

Qui publicis rebus interſunt & præſunt, niſi viri ſummi ac nobiles? Quis in Senatu præit, in foro præſidet? Principes ſanè viri & nobiles. Quis jubet, vetat, agit, ſatagit? Quis verſat & volvit omnia? Quis leges fingit & refingit? Quis in pace Rempublicam, contra hoſtes bella adminiſtrat, præterquam viri nobiles? &c.

And when you are cited (as ſhortly you muſt be) before the awful Tribunal of the great, the juſt, and the terrible God, ask but your ſelves, whether ſuch a Plea as this, be like to excuſe you in whole, or in part, and take off the heinouſneſs of theſe horrid Impieties? Will your profane Oaths, and direful Execrations and Imprecations, be excuſed in the leaſt degree, by telling him, Lord, I was ſo accuſtomed to blaſpheme thy Name, Curſing, Swearing, and Damning, were ſo familiar Language in my Lips from day to day, that I had quite loſt the ſenſe of the Action, as well as of the evil thereof; and therefore, Lord, pity, ſpare, and have mercy on me: O damn not my Soul to thine everlaſting Wrath. For tho' I have imprecated it upon my ſelf, yet frequent Cuſtom at length extinguiſhed all my Senſe and Conſcience of the Evil thereof, 'till at length I could play with a direful Imprecation as an harmleſs thing; nay, thought it an Ornament and Grace to my Speech, a gallant Expreſſion, alamode the Times and Places I lived in.

Is not this as good a Plea, and not a jot better than that of a Malefactor upon his Tryal for Life and Death, when Theft or Robbery have been evidently and ſubſtantially proved upon him, and the Judge demandeth, What he hath to ſay for himſelf, why Sentence of Death ſhould not paſs upon him? Mercy, my Lord, Mercy, cries he; for I have been ſo uſed and accuſtomed to filching and thieving from my Youth up, that for ſome Years before I was apprehended, every ones Goods and Cattel ſeemed to me to look like my own; ſo that I ſcarce knew when I ſtole, and when I did not.

And thus, Gentlemen, you have heard a fair Tryal of the Sin of profane Swearing, and Imprecations of Damnation, and you have heard the Verdict of your own Reaſon and Conſcience upon the Caſe. The Lord help you to break off and reform that Sin, for which there is not one Word of Apology, or Excuſe, now left in your Mouths.

Let me cloſe all I have to ſay upon this Head, with one plain Queſtion: Do you think you muſt die, or live here for ever, as you now do? If you are convinced (as all the Living are ſuppoſed to be) that you muſt die, do you deſire an eaſie and comfortable, or a painful and terrible Death? I preſume there is no Man living that is convinced he muſt die, but deſires naturally and rationally an ’Ευθανασίαν, as eaſie and comfortable a Diſſolution as may be. If ſo, I appeal to your Reaſon, whether profane Swearing and Blaſpheming the Name of God, be a proper rational way to obtain Peace and Comfort at Death? With what hope or encouragement can thoſe Tongues of yours cry at Death, Lord have Mercy upon me, which have profaned that Name, and imprecated Damnation from him, 'till you came into your laſt Extremities, which convinced you, you could live no longer.

'Tis a ſerious Queſtion, and well worth a cool and ſolemn Debate in your own Reaſons and Conſciences. Some of you are more immediately expoſed to the Dangers of Death than others, ready to be diſbanded by a Bullet. If you fall, you muſt either fall conſiderately, or inconſiderately. If inconſiderately, and without any Senſe or Conſcience of this horrid Guilt, you die impenitently, and conſequently deſperately and miſerably. If conſiderately, and with awakened Conſciences, I demand, Whether ſuch Guilt as this will not roar louder than the Peals and Vollies of thoſe great and ſmall Guns do, which breathe Deſtruction upon you, and round about you? I have done my Meſſage plainly and faithfully to the very Face of your Reaſon and Conſcience; and if for my Faithfulneſs and Zeal both for God's Honour and yours, I am rewarded with your Curſes; yet if you would forbear to blaſpheme and rend in pieces the Name of God, I ſhall not much regard the Obloquy and Reproach my Name ſhall undergo and ſuffer upon that account. But I expect from you better Fruit than this.

CHAP. IV.

Wherein Reaſon and Conſcience are again conſulted, about the Practice of Drunkenneſs; and their Righteous and Impartial Cenſure given upon that Caſe.

§ 1. Though our Souls and Bodies be of vaſtly different Natures and Originals, yet they do claſp and embrace each other with moſt dear and tender Affection. 'Tis marvellous to behold ſuch a Spiritual and Heavenly Creature as the Soul in all Men, fervently loving, and in moſt Men fondly doting upon a Lump of Clay, a Clod of Earth: It ſimpathizeth tenderly with it. If the meaneſt Member of the Body be in pain, the Soul is preſently concerned for it, and evidences it ſelf to be ſo, by commanding the Eyes both to watch and weep; the Tongue to complain and moan; the Hands to bind up its Wounds with all imaginable Tenderneſs, and carefully defend it from the leaſt injurious Touch. But if the whole be in danger, how do its Nobler Faculties of Underſtanding, Memory, and Invention, awaken and beſtir themſelves to the uttermoſt for its deliverance and ſafety.

Whilſt the Soul lives in Union with the Body, 'tis filled with aſſiduous (and too often with exorbitant and diſtracting) Cares, for its neceſſary Support and Comfort. And when it muſt be ſeparated from it by Death, what ſtrong Averſations to Death doth it ordinarily diſcover? The ſtrong Ties and Bonds betwixt it and the Body, cannot be looſed without much conflict and ſtruggling, evidenced by theſe Emphatical Groans it ſends forth; Groans which other Men underſtand not, nor can be ſuppoſed to underſtand, 'till they themſelves come to feel the Parting-Pull.

The Reaſon of all which, lies in the intimate relation which is betwixt theſe different Natures, which God hath married together in the Womb, from which time they have been Companions and Partners in all the Comforts and Troubles of Life. The Body is the Soul's Houſe in which it dwells, and ſtill ſhall dwell, 'till Death diſſolve it. 'Tis the Soul's Garment, that clothes and covers it. It hath worn this Garment of Fleſh from the beginning, and is to wear it ſtill, 'till Sickneſs hath brought it to Rags, and Death ſtript it from the Soul.

'Tis the Tool and Inſtrument by which it doth all its Works, whilſt it is in this State of Compoſition; and therefore the Soul cannot but love it fervently. No Man ever yet hated his own Fleſh, but nouriſheth and cheriſheth it.

§ 2. The Caſe ſo ſtanding betwixt the Soul and Body, the Wiſdom or Folly of the Soul is plainly diſcovered in its way and manner of governing the Body, as the Love and Prudence of an Huſband is in the Government of his Wife; or the Maſter in ordering the Affairs of his Houſe; or the neat Breeding of a Man, in the comely wearing of his Garments; or the skill and Care of an Artificer, in the brightneſs, keenneſs, and ſharpneſs of his Tools.

Some Husbands give Evidence to the World of their Governing-prudence and Ability, in ſuch an allowance of Liberty to their Wives, as the Laws of Conjugal Love require, and their Eſtates and Incomes will conveniently bear, and no more; and in reſtraining their Extravagancies, as well as by encouraging their vertuous Courſes, in keeping back no due Encouragement to Vertue, nor giving the leaſt Encouragement unto Vice.

A well-bred Man, that carries with him a becoming-ſenſe of his Quality, and the Decorum he ought accordingly to obſerve, will wear his Garments decently, and becoming his Rank: They ſhall be ſure to be neat and clean, and ſit fit and comely upon his Body. He abhors to wear a Garment tumbled in the Mire, and go like a Beaſt, without regard to his Reputation.

No prudent Owner and Governour of an Houſe, will let the Rain drop through the Roof, nor choak up the Paſſage to his Door with a naſty Dung-hill. His Houſe within ſhall be neat, and not naſty: The Rooms clean and comely: And yet abhors to ſuffer ſuperfluous Ornaments, and coſtly Vanities, to ſwallow up his Eſtate that ſhould maintain it, and bring Bailiffs (more odious than a Dunghill) to his very Doors.

The curious Artificer neither grinds away the Subſtance of his Inſtruments to make them bright and glittering, and ſet an Edge too fine to hold one Minute's uſe; nor yet ſuffers them to be thrown aſide in ſome neglected Corner, where Ruſt and Flaws ſhall render them utterly uſeleſs, or make him bluſh at the Botches ſuch Inſtruments will cauſe in his Work.

The prudent Husbandman will neither break the Heart of his Ground for want of Reſt and Compoſt, nor yet overload it with Dreſſing, which brings forth nothing but rank and uſeleſs Weeds; he will in a fit Seaſon turn in a Stream of Water to his Meadows, like a Cordial-draught to fainting Spirits; but will not drown it, and rot the very Roots of his Graſs, by letting in too much, or by ſuffering it to lie under Water too long. He will feed his Horſe high enough to perform his Journey, and carry him through the Mire; but will not feed him to ſuch an heighth, that the Rider ſhall neither be able to ſit, nor command him.

In all theſe Caſes, the common Prudence of every Man, directs him to that juſt Mediocrity, wherein both his Honour and Profit do apparently lie. And what we ſay in ſuch common Caſes and Concerns as theſe, is as true, and much more excellent in the Soul's prudent Government of its own Body, unto which it was eſpouſed in the Womb, and is its dear and conſtant Partner, both in preſent and future Good or Evil. 'Tis the Garment it wears, the Inſtrument it uſeth, and the Field it cultivates. It muſt neither deny the Body thoſe neceſſary Supports and Comforts which God and Nature allow it, nor yet ſurfeit and overcharge it with more than it is able to bear. In either of theſe Extreams, the extream Folly of the Soul is diſcovered.

§ 3. Now the dethroning of Reaſon, and frequent Oppreſſions of Nature, by the practice of Drunkenneſs, is the higheſt Exaltation of Folly in the Soul of Man; plainly manifeſting its Ignorance and Inability to order and govern the Body, to which it is married by a vital Union.

Here's a fooliſh Soul by Miſgovernment, diſhonouring, and deſtroying its vigorous and comely Body, under a pretence of Love and Kindneſs to it. We account it one of the greateſt outward Infelicities in this World, incident to a diſcreet and vertuous Woman, to be headed and governed by a ſottiſh Fool, neither able to govern himſelf, or her, nor give a Reaſon of his own Actions or Commands. A Man whoſe Folly ſhall make her bluſh in all ſober Companies he comes into, and forces her upon ſuch a Courſe of Life, as ſhe perfectly abhors, and will bring ſpeedy Ruin upon her; all Men pity ſuch a Caſe as this. And this is the very Caſe of many a comely, vigorous Body.

Only ſuch a Woman hath two Reliefs under her Bondage, which the Body of a Drunkard wants. She can ſometimes withdraw and retire from his Company, and enjoy the Relief of her Solitude, which the wretched Body of a Drunkard cannot do 'till Death, but is tied Day and Night to the Company of its fooliſh Soul, which is frequently abuſing it, and impoſing upon it.

Beſides, ſuch a Woman may haply over-live her vicious, abuſive Husband, and ſpend many a comfortable Year in the World with a more diſcreet, ſober, and religious Partner of her Life, whoſe Sobriety, Diſcretion, Piety, and Love, ſhall make full Compenſation for all thoſe Years of Miſery and Slavery ſhe endured before. But the Caſe before us, admits no ſuch Relief: For as long as ever the Body lives and breathes, the Soul is, and muſt be with it, and in it. And tho' Death will for a time ſeparate and divorce them, yet the Bodies ſecond Marriage at the Reſurrection, can be with no other but the ſame Soul which oppreſſed and ruined it in this World. And this ſecond Marriage will be far worſe than the firſt: For tho' it were the ſottiſh Souls Slave and Drudge in this World, and ſuffered many a Sickneſs, Shame, and Loſs by its Folly; yet in the World to come, it muſt be its Partner and Companion in Hell-torments for evermore, inaſmuch as it was the Inſtrument the Soul uſed in moſt of thoſe Sins committed by it in this World. And this is the Caſe of all Bodies married to, and governed by Souls that have neither Reaſon, nor Religion enough prudently and ſoberly to order and govern their own Bodies.

§ 4. Sad and doleful therefore are the Laments and Complaints of the Bodies of Drunkards, againſt the Folly and Tyranny of their Souls; and as juſt as ſad. Let me therefore here act the part of an Advocate for your Bodies, which is a part of your ſelves, and to which by the Law of Nature you owe Love, Care, and Honour; or rather by a Proſopopœa, let me bring in the Body ſighing out its own Complaints in the Ears of its own Soul, and thus bemoaning it ſelf to it.

‘Oh, my Soul! I have cauſe to lament the Day, that ever I was married to ſuch a ſottiſh Fool as thou art, who art deſtitute both of Wiſdom and Love to Rule and Govern me. I may juſtly reſume Job's Lamentation upon thy Account, and ſay with him: Let the Day periſh wherein I was born, and the Night wherein it was ſaid, there is a Manchild conceived. Why died I not from the Womb? Why did not I give up the Ghoſt when I came out of the Belly? For now ſhould I have lien ſtill and been quiet; I ſhould have ſlept; then I had been at reſt.

‘I have been a perfect Slave and Drudge to thy unreaſonable Luſts and Impoſitions. I was once an active, vigorous, comely Body, and hadſt thou been wiſe and ſober, I had been happy. But thou haſt been a cruel Tyrant to me, oppreſſing and loading me with more than I was able to ſtand under. Thou haſt plunged me many times into thoſe Puddles of Exceſs, wherein thou haſt drowned thy own Reaſon, and my Health. My well mixed Beauty is now turned into the Colour of flaming Fire; my Hands and Legs ſhake, my Tongue falters, my natural Craſis and Temperament is deſtroyed. Thou haſt made me miſerable in this World, and intendeſt to make me more wretched in the World to come.

‘Sober Nature gave me my ſtint and meaſure. I knew when it was enough, and gave thee ſufficient Items and Intimations (amidſt thy fooliſh Frolicks) that I could neither with Honour or Safety bear one Glaſs more. But thou waſt deaf to all my Moans, and ſhewedſt more Mercy to thy Horſe than me. Sick or well, able or unable, live or die, I muſt take in the full Number of Cups and Bottles thou enjoynedſt me to take. Like another Pharaoh, thou haſt required of me the full Tale, whether I had ſtrength to perform it or no. Yea, like another Devil, thou haſt ſometimes caſt me into fiery Fevers, and watry Dropſies; and will next caſt me, if thou continue this Courſe, into Hell-fire itſelf.

‘Other Souls have ſet thee a better Pattern in their more ſober and prudent Government of their Bodies. They give their Bodies the true Pleaſure of the Creature, by keeping them to that happy Mediocrity in which it conſiſts. They devote their Bodies to the Service of God; thou haſt devoted me to the immediate Service of the Devil. A Majeſtick Beauty ſits upon their Faces; Sottiſhneſs and Folly upon mine. Their Knees are daily bowed in Prayer to God; mine ſhake and tremble in the Service of the Devil. They enjoy pure and ſanctified Pleaſures every Day; but I am denied the ſober Pleaſures of a Beaſt. Their Bodies will be happy with their Souls in the World to come; but I muſt ſuffer eternally with thee, and for thee. Thou haſt both conſumed me, and thy Eſtate given to ſupport me; and now I am like to ſuffer as much by want, as I have done by Exceſs; and all this through thy Miſgovernment. Theſe Feet (if thou hadſt pleaſed to command them) would as readily have carried thee to thy Cloſet, or the Aſſemblies of God's People, as to an Ale-houſe, or Tavern. Theſe Fingers would have ſerved to open and turn the bleſſed Pages, which contain the Oracles of God, as to Cog a Die, or have Shuffled and Dealt a Pack of Cards. This Tongue might have been melodiouſly employed in ſinging the Praiſes of God among his People, as well as in Swearing, Roaring, and Singing among drunken Sots and Fools, if thou hadſt been endued with governing Wiſdom.

‘Thou knoweſt I could do nothing without thee. Thou haſt a deſpotical Power over all my Members. They are at thy Beck, and thou at the Devil's. Better had it been for me, had I been the Body of a contemptible Worm or Fly, than a Body animated and governed by ſuch a ſottiſh Soul as thou art.

‘And now, my Soul, what haſt thou to ſay for thy ſelf? What tolerable Account canſt thou give to God or me, of theſe thy vile Abuſes of both?

§ 5. Now let us hear what the Soul of the Drunkard hath to plead in its own Excuſe and Defence for all his Wrongs againſt God, miſchiefs to it ſelf, ruin to his Health, Name, and Eſtate. They have various Excuſes, tho' not one ſound or rational one among them all. Such as they are, let them be tried by the Rule of Reaſon, if any Reaſon be yet left in them, who daily dethrone it by this worſe than bruitiſh Practice?

That which they have to ſay for themſelves, is this:

1. That their Bodies are ſtrongly conſtituted, more capacious to receive, and able to bear greater Quantities of Wine and Strong-drink, than others are; and therefore, why ſhould they not drink down, and glory over thoſe that vye with them.

2. Others ſay, They would not take that Courſe they do, but that when they are ſober and ſolitary, they are ſo preſs'd with the Thoughts of their Debts and Incumbrances in the World, that they are upon a perfect Rack, and they find nothing like Goodfellowſhip in a Tavern or Ale-houſe, ſo effectually relieving againſt the Cares and Anxieties of their Minds.

3. Some will tell us, they are drawn into it by the Snare of Pleaſure, nothing being ſo grateful to their Palate, as their full Load of generous Wine or Strong drink. And ſeeing it is ſo pleaſant and delightſome to them, why ſhould they deny and abridge themſelves of their Pleaſures?

4. Others will profeſs they had never taken this Courſe, which they find upon many Accounts pernicious to them, but that they are not able in Civility to deny their intimate Friends and Companions, eſpecially ſuch with whom they have Concerns in Trade and Buſineſs, and they muſt drink as they do, or ſuffer Loſs in their Trade; and beſide that, be ſtigmatized for Fanaticks.

5. They will alſo ſay, they are obliged in point of Loyalty, to pledge him that Conſecrates (as they Catachreſtically call it) the firſt Glaſs to the King, or Perſons of Quality and Honour.

6. And Laſtly, Some will tell us, They have plentiful Eſtates that will bear ſuch Expences; and ſince their Pockets are full, why ſhould not their Heads and Stomachs be ſo too?

Beſide theſe ſix Apologies for Drunkenneſs, nothing falls into my Imagination pleadable for this Sin. We will weigh theſe that are pleaded, in the common Ballance of the Reaſon of Mankind, and try the Validity of them one by one. And for the

Excuſe I.

And Firſt, to what you ſay of the Capacity of your Bodies, Strength, and Ability of your Conſtitutions, to receive and bear greater Quantities of Wine and Strong-drink, than others can; and therefore, why ſhould you not give a proof of it when challeng'd, and get Reputation to your ſelves by drinking down, and glorying over ſuch as vye with you?

To this I reply three Things, which muſt be laid in the Counter-ballance, and let the Ballance be held in the upright Hand of your own Reaſon.

1. A ſtrong and vigorous Conſtitution will be readily acknowledged to be ſo great an external Bleſſing and Mercy, that no Man of ſound Intellectuals ought to do any thing to deſtroy it; but is obliged to uſe all proper Methods for the Preſervation of it. If therefore Temperance ſhall be found to preſerve it, and Exceſs to impair and deſtroy it; let your own Reaſon judge which of theſe two Courſes you are obliged to take. Conſult either the beſt Phyſicians, or your own, and other Mens Experience, and they will tell you, that Appoplexies, Palſies, Gout, and innumerable other Diſeaſes, are bred by ſuch Exceſſes in the ſoundeſt and ſtrongeſt Conſtitutions, and Death it ſelf haſtned by ſuch intemperate Courſes; whereas Temperance and Sobriety might have made your Lives more comfortable and durable. As ſtrong as you are, frequent Drunkenneſs will bring Cain's Curſe upon your vigorous Bodies, and make you go ſhaking and trembling (as he did) about the World.

2. Let it be demanded of your own Reaſon, Whether it do really judge that God beſtowed more Strength and Vigour upon your Bodies, than he hath upon others, to Arm a ſtronger Enemy than others are, to fight more vigorouſly againſt him than others do, or can do? Or whether it were not deſigned by him for greater Uſe and Service to his Glory in the World, than others of his People (how willing ſoever they be) can do for want of that ſtrength you have? I am confident no Man of ſound Intellectuals will dare to aſſert the former, or deny the latter.

3. And Laſtly, For your glorying in Drinking down, and conquering others, you will certainly put your own Reaſon to a bluſh, by offering ſuch a Plea as this to it. You are not yet arrived to Impudence enough to deny Drunkenneſs to be a Sin, and your Reaſon is yet ſound enough, eaſily and naturally to infer, That by how much the more any Man exceeds and goes beyond others in Sin, by ſo much the greater Sinner that Man is.

And as for the Honour and Glory you talk of, in exceeding others in your Abilities to drink, your Reaſon will quickly make you aſhamed of that Glory; and prove, as well as aſſert it to be a Mark of baſeſt Infamy.

Do you think that Lombard was really honoured, or ſtigmatized, whom Tiberius Cæſar dub'd a Knight, for drinking off three Gallons of Wine at one Draught, and Sir-named him Tricongius; that is to ſay, the Three Gallon Knight; which Story Pliny in his Natural Hiſtory, relates to the perpetual Infamy of them both? Or think you, it added to the Glory of Tiberius himſelf, who Knighted this Three Gallon (not thrice Gallant) Knight, to have his Name changed among the People, from Tiberius into Biberius, as afterwards they did the Name of that Monſter Nero into Mero?

Pliny Nat. Hiſt. lib. 14. cap. 22.

Gentlemen, I appeal to your own Reaſon, if the vaſt Continent you have within you for Wine and Strong-drink, be really your Honour; whether the Butt or Hogſhead whence you have it, be not for the ſame Reaſon much more honourable than you? Your Reaſon will plainly give the Concluſion.

But, oh! conſider not only what Reaſon ſaith, but what God the Fountain of that Reaſon ſaith in Iſa. 5. 22. Wo to them that are mighty to drink Wine, and Men of Strength to mingle Strong-drink. Methinks it ſhould make you ſit in as little Eaſe upon the Tavern, or Ale-houſe Bench, as that Court-Paraſite ſat at a rich Banquet, furniſhed with variety of Dainties, and all ſorts of generous Wine, over whoſe Head Dionyſius cauſed an heavy Sword to be hanged with the Point downward by a ſingle Hair, every moment ready to drop perpendicularly upon it.

Excuſe II.

As for thoſe that throw themſelves into theſe Exceſſes, on purpoſe to delude thoſe anxious Cares and Thoughts, which cruciate and oppreſs them, whenever they are ſober and ſolitary: I ſhall only propound three plain Queſtions to the ſmall Remainders of Reaſon in them, which yet I preſume ſufficient to determine rightly upon them.

Queſt. I.

Whether they think that which greatly increaſeth Want and Poverty, be a rational Cure, and proper Remedy of it? And whether a Jar of Oyl be not as fit to quench a Flame, as Tavern and Ale-houſe Scores and Reckonings are to buoy up a ſinking Trade, and keep Bailiffs from Mens Doors? Certainly none but a ſottiſh Fool can think it to be otherwiſe. Your own Improvidence, or God's afflictive Providence have brought you into other Mens Books; and certainly you cannot think, if you be in your Wits, that Chamberlains Bills for ſo many Bottles of Wine, and Flaggons of Beer, will be accepted by your Creditors for good Bills, to quit your Scores with them. Were you ſober, frugal, and induſtrious, you would put your ſelves thereby into a better way to obtain a Bleſſing from God, and Reſpects, and Forbearance from Men, than in the Courſe you now take.

Queſt. 2.

Nor can you without manifeſt Impudence propound ſuch a Queſtion as this to your own Reaſon, Whether the addition of Injuſtice to Profaneneſs, be a rational Plea or excuſe for it? And is not that the very Caſe here? Whoſe Money is that you ſo laviſhly and prodigally waſte, out of your conſuming Eſtates? 'Tis either your Creditors, or the ſmall Remains of your own. Whether the one or the other, methinks that Wine and Drink ſhould not go down very pleaſantly, which muſt be mingled with manifeſt Injuſtice, or with the Tears, and (in a ſenſe) the Blood of your Wives and Children. If your Reaſons can allow theſe things for lawful Excuſes, then you are excuſed, elſe ſelf-condemned.

Queſt. 3.

I ſhall trouble your Reaſon with the Deciſion but of one Queſtion more, and 'tis briefly and plainly this.

Whether the addition of far greater Troubles, or Cauſes of Troubles to the Inner Man, be a proper expedient to alleviate and eaſe the Loads and Burdens of your outward Troubles, already grown almoſt too heavy for you to bear.

I dare venture all that I am worth, upon ſound Reaſon's ſide, that it will never allow or comprobate ſuch an abſurdity, as the affirmative part of this Queſtion draws along with it.

Believe it, Sirs, all the outward Neceſſities, Cares and Fears, which now oppreſs you upon the ſcore of worldly Affairs (which frame not to your Minds) are much more tolerable, and comparatively light and eaſie, to the Stings, Wounds, and Laſhes of a guilty Conſcience: But when all theſe inward Troubles, ſhall be ſuperadded to your outward Troubles, they will in conjunction make a Burthen too heavy for Man to bear.

Whatever Cares or Troubles Providence involves any good Man in, in the honeſt and painful purſuit of his civil Calling, he may in a great meaſure relieve his burthened Spirit under them, by the comfortable Teſtimony of his own Conſcience, and his free Addreſſes to God in Prayer. Theſe will ſweetly ſupport him under his other Intanglements and Perplexities in the World. But the Courſe you take, does not only ſtrike away theſe Props from under your Minds; but doubles and trebles the Burthen upon them. Were Men but once acquainted with that Relief and Chearineſs of Spirit which a good Conſcience, and a Spiritual Addreſs to God in Prayer, afford in the midſt of Troubles, they would run to their Cloſets, rather than to Taverns and Ale-houſes, to divert and cure their Troubles. I leave it therefore before your own Reaſon to conſider, what Weight or Validity there is in this Second Excuſe for Drunkenneſs.

Excuſe III.

Others plead they are drawn into this Sin by Pleaſure and Delight, whoſe Charms are too ſtrong for them to reſiſt.

In this, as in all the former, I reſolve to make you your own Judges. Give me leave but to ſtate the Queſtions right, and let your own Reaſon freely determine them. And what fairer dealing can Men that exerciſe Reaſon expect? And let the firſt Queſtion be this:

Queſt. 1.

Whether the Pleaſures of Temperance do not far excel thoſe of Intemperance? If they do, then this your Plea is vain and irrational. For you fooliſhly chooſe a leſſer Pleaſure, and refuſe a greater and ſweeter one. And that you do ſo in this Caſe, no wiſe Man can deny or doubt.

For temperate Drinking refreſhes the Body, and no way burthens it, as exceſſive Drinking doth. And that which burthens Nature, can never be equally pleaſant with that, which yields nothing but due refreſhment. Temperance doth not vitiate, but raiſeth the pure and ordinate Appetite of Nature to its juſt pitch and height; in which temper, and at which height, it is moſt capable of the ſweeteſt Pleaſure from the Creature. As the Strings of a Lute give us the ſweeteſt and moſt delicious Notes, when they are not let down too low, but are all fixed at their due height.

Temperance gives us the moſt pleaſing Enjoyment of the Good Things of this Life, ſtill leaving the Mind free and fit for the more ſpiritual and ſweet Enjoyments of a better and more excellent Life; which Exceſs never did, nor can do.

Moreover, Temperance maintains the Manly Grace and Majeſty of the Countenance, but Exceſs totally diſguiſes it. It draws the Lines of Drunkards Faces into a Form much like thoſe ridiculous Dutch Pictures, which ſome ſet upon their Chimney-pieces, to move Laughter in thoſe that behold them.

Now by the Vote of univerſal Reaſon, that Pleaſure which refreſhes the Body, but no way burthens it, which raiſes the ordinate and unvitiated Appetites of Nature, to its juſt pitch and due height, which gives Nature the ſweeteſt Refreſhment, leaving it always fitter and freer for higher and better Pleaſures, which maintains the Manly Grace and Majeſty of the Countenance, and makes not a wiſe Man look like a Fool or an Antick, muſt needs be better than the lower and flatter Pleaſures of a burthened Body, and vitiated Palate, which draw after them ſo great a Train of preſent Miſchiefs (which Temperance avoids), beſides far heavier and more durable ones in the Life to come.

Queſt. 2.

But if the preſent Pleaſures of Temperance were in ſome reſpect inferiour to thoſe of Exceſs (which I have proved they neither are, nor can be), I demand in the ſecond place, whether the loſs of your Honour and Health, your Time and Eſtate, your preſent Peace, and future Hopes, do not make ſuch ſenſitive Pleaſures baſe and inferiour, compared with thoſe of Temperance and Sobriety? Do you in good earneſt think a Glaſs or two above what ſatisfies and refreſhes Nature, can recompence for all that Shame, Sickneſs, Poverty, and Guilt that follows it? If you think ſo, Sin hath turned you into Brutes, and made you utterly uncapable of all Arguments and Manly Conſiderations, to reduce and recover you.

Excuſe IV.

You ſay you would not haunt Taverns and Ale-houſes as you do, but that you are drawn in by Company and Buſineſs, which you cannot well reſiſt or avoid, and ſhould you do ſo, it would be to your loſs; and beſides that, you ſhould be branded for Fanaticks.

I deny not but there is a Snare in vain Company; yet give me leave to propound a few plain and eaſie Queſtions to your Reaſon.

Queſt. 1.

Why muſt the Importunity of Good Fellows (as you call them) be an irreſiſtible Temptation to you, and deprive you of all Power to deny them, whilſt you diſcern the Snares and Miſchiefs they draw you into? This ſeems to be a thing unaccountable to Reaſon. Suppoſe you were allowed to ſpend the longeſt Summer's Day in the higheſt Gratifications of all your Senſes together, or ſucceſſively one after another, upon Condition that you would endure the Torments of the Rack 'till that Day Twelvemonth came about again; do you think, the Importunity of all your Intimates in the World, would prevail with you to accept the Pleaſures of a Day under ſuch a Condition as this? And yet what are the Torments of a Year upon the Rack, to the Torments of Hell for ever and ever? Or to come lower: Suppoſe one of thoſe leud Companions, not worth a Groat, if every Man had his own, ſhould requeſt you to lend him an Hundred Pound upon his own Security, could you find no Power (think you) to deny him, eſpecially if the loſs of that Hundred Pound would certainly ruin you? If you would deny him (as I doubt not but in ſuch a Caſe you would), tell me then, why you ſhould not find power to deny him when he asks a far greater Matter than an Hundred Pound, even the Peace, Purity, and Safety of your Souls, as well as the Health of your Bodies, and Honour of your Names? Why then ſhould you be ſo eaſie and flexible when they ask the latter, and ſo ſtiff and unperſwadable to the former?

Queſt. 2.

You ſay you have Buſineſs and Concerns in Trade, to diſpatch in ſuch Places and Companies, and this draws you into the Snares of Exceſs. I will not deny but Men may lawfully tranſact their Buſineſs in ſuch Places, and there may be a conveniency, and ſometimes a neceſſity for it: But that's not the Caſe. The Queſtion referred to the determination of your Reaſon, is this, Why Drunkenneſs muſt accompany Buſineſs? And whether a Man be not more fit to tranſact his Buſineſs, and drive Bargains of the greateſt Value, whilſt his Body and Mind are cool, ſober, and temperate, than when his Reaſon is beclouded and depoſed by Drunkenneſs? How many Men have undone themſelves, their Wives and Children, by Drunken-Bargains!

Beſides, I muſt tell you, that in all ſuch Drunken Meetings, the Devil comes to drive his Bargain with you, as well as your other Cuſtomers. He bids for your Souls, and offers you ſuch Pleaſures as you there find in exchange for them, and is content to make your Dying-day the time of your delivering them into his poſſeſſion. How do you like ſuch Trading as this, Gentlemen?

Queſt. 3.

You ſay, Should you refuſe to accompany them, and do as they do, you ſhould be branded for Fanaticks. I would fain know, whether ſuch a Plea for Drunkenneſs as this, doth not juſtly caſt the greateſt Reproach of Fanaticiſm upon your ſelves, and ſet a Mark of true Honour upon thoſe Men whom the World unjuſtly ſtigmatizes with that Title? Gentlemen, I do aſſure you, the Fanaticks (as you call them) have Reaſon to thank you for the Honour and Juſtice you have done them, in acknowledging them to be none of the Members of your helliſh Society, but Perſons of a more ſober and honourable Character. And I appeal to your Reaſon, whether it would not be more for your Honour, to wear the unjuſt Title of a Fanatick, than the juſt Cenſure of a Drunken Sot.

Excuſe 5.

You ſay you are obliged in point of Loyalty to pledge him that conſecrates the firſt Glaſs to the Health of the King, or any Perſon of Eminency. I leave it ſtill to your Reaſon to be Judge,

1. Whether the King have cauſe to account the manifeſt breach of the Laws by which he governs, to be a ſignal Expreſſion of his Subjects Loyalty to him? Is not his Royal Authority his Honour and Safety in his Laws? And is he not finely honoured, think you, by ſuch drunken Loyalty as this? Gentlemen, you have a King over you of ſounder Intellectuals, and more exemplary Temperance and Sobriety, than to be thus impoſed upon.

2. Can you think he reckons his Health in the leaſt degree advanced or ſecured by the ruin and ſubverſion of his Subjects Health? No, no; did the genteeleſt Drunkards in England enquire, they would quickly find, it would more pleaſe him, if they would conſult their own Health better, and pray for his more ſincerely and fervently than they do.

Excuſe 6.

Your laſt Excuſe is, That you have plentiful Eſtates that will bear it; and ſince your Pockets are full, why ſhould your Heads or Stomachs be empty?

Queſtion.

The only Queſtion I would here ſtate, and leave your own Reaſon to determine, is this, Whether you think the Expence of the Redundancy and Over-plus of your Eſtates in Exceſs and Drunkenneſs, be the very End and Deſign God aimed at, in beſtowing thoſe things with ſuch a bountiful Hand upon you? And whether the Expence of it in this way, will pleaſe him as well, as if you clothed the Naked, and fed the Hungry with it, and brought the Bleſſings of them that are ready to periſh, upon you and your Families? Ah, Gentlemen, you muſt come to a Day of Reckoning. Your Reaſons and Conſciences can never tell you, you can make up as comfortable an Account with God, by ſetting down ſo many Hundred Pound in Wine and Strong-drink, more than was neceſſary or beneficial; Item, ſo many Thouſand Pounds loſt in Play: So much upon Whores; as if you ſet down ſo much to feed and cloath the Naked and Hungry. So that all your Excuſes for this Sin, are baffled by your own Reaſon; and it was eaſie to conclude, that ſuch a Traytor to Reaſon as Drunkenneſs is, which hath ſo often dethroned it, could not poſſibly receive a more favourable Judgment and Sentence than this now given upon it.

Let all Drunkards henceforth conſider, what a voluntary Madneſs the Sin of Drunkenneſs is, how it Unmans them, and ſets them below the very Bruits. A Grave Father calls it rightly.

Turbatio capitis, ſubverſio ſenſus, tempeſtas linguæ procella corporis, naufragium virtutis, amiſſio temporis, inſania voluntaria, blande Dæmon, dulce venenum, ſuave peccatum, quam qui habet, ſeipſum non habet, quam qui facit, peccatum non tantùm facit, ſed ipſe totus eſt peccatum.

A Diſtemper of the Head, a Subverſion of the Senſes, a Tempeſt in the Tongue, the Storm of the Body, the Shipwrack of Vertue, the Loſs of Time, a wilful Madneſs, a pleaſant Devil, a ſugar'd Poyſon, a ſweet Sin, which he that hath, hath not himſelf; and he that commits it, doth not only commit Sin, but himſelf is altogether Sin. 'Tis a Sin at which the moſt ſober Heathens bluſhed. The Policy of the Spartans was more commendable than their Piety, in making Men drunk, that their Children might gaze upon them as a Monſter, and be ſcared for ever from ſuch an horrid Practice. He that is maſtered by Drunkenneſs, can never be Maſter of his own Counſels. Both Reaſon and Religion condemn this Courſe. Make a Pauſe therefore where you are, and rather throw that Wine or Beer upon the Ground, which elſe will caſt thy Body upon the Ground, and thy Soul and Body into Hell.

CHAP. V.

Containing the Reſult and Iſſue of the Third Conſultation with Reaſon, upon the Caſe of Uncleanneſs; and the true Report of the Determination of every Man's Reaſon, with reſpect thereunto.

§ I.

THE Bountiful and Indulgent God hath made more abundant Proviſion for the Pleaſure and Delight of Rational, than of Brutal Beings: And his wiſe and righteous Laws order and limit their Pleaſures to their great advantage; his Allowance under thoſe Reſtrictions being large and full enough. Both Reaſon and Experience aſſure us, that the trueſt Pleaſures are moſt freely and honourably to be enjoyed within the Pale and Boundary of his Laws; and that there are none fit for the enjoyment of a Man or Chriſtian, to be found without, or beyond them.

That prudent Owner provides beſt for his Cattel, who puts them into incloſed fragrant Fields, where they have plenty of proper and pleaſant Food, ſweet and pure Springs of Water, the pleaſant Covert of ſhady Trees, and all that is either neceſſary or convenient for them; altho' thoſe Fields be ſo incloſed within Pales or Walls, that they cannot ſtray without thoſe Boundaries into other Mens Grounds, to be by them impounded, and brought back lank, tired, and dirty, to their Owner, or by ſtraying into Waſts and Wilderneſſes, fall a Prey (as Stragglers uſe to do) to Wolves and Lyons.

God envies not any true, rational, and proper Pleaſure to Men or Women; when he bounds them in by his Command, within the allowance whereof, ſufficient Proviſion is made for the benefit and delight of Propagation. And tho' it be all Mens Duty, to tremble at the awful Solemnity, yet it would be any Man's Sin to repine and murmur at the ſtrictneſs and ſeverity of his Command, delivered with Thunder and Lightning from Mount Sinai, Thou ſhalt not commit Adultery. Man's honourable Liberty, and God's wiſe and juſt Reſtraint and Limitation thereof, are both ſet together before our Eyes, in that one Scripture, Heb. 13. 4. Marriage is honourable in all, and the Bed undefiled; but Whoremongers and Adulterers God will judge. Here's a liberal Allowance granted, and a ſevere Puniſhment threatned for the Inordinancies and Exorbitancies of boundleſs and ungovernable Luſts. God will judge with temporal Judgments in this World; and upon impenitent Perſiſtents, with eternal Judgments in the World to come.

§ II.

Such is the Corruption of Man's Nature by the Fall, that it hates Incloſures, Reſtraints, and Limitations. Theſe things which were intended to regulate, ſerve only to ſharpen and enrage their ſenſual Appetite. No Fruit ſo ſweet to corrupt Nature, as forbidden Fruit. Nitimur in vetitum ſemper, cupimuſque negata. The very reſtraint of Evil, makes it look like a pleaſant and deſirable Good. Sons of Belial can endure no Yoke of Reſtraint. There's a great Truth in that Obſervation of the Divine Herbert, That if God had laid all common, Man himſelf would have been the Incloſer. For his Reaſon and Experience would have plainly informed him of the great and manifold Advantages of Diſtinction and Propriety. How many Quarrels and barbarous Murders have been occaſioned by Whores! which by keeping within God's Bounds and Rules, had been both honeſtly and honourably prevented.

Were Men left to that Liberty Bruits are, to ſcatter their Luſts promiſcuouſly, Fathers would not know their own Children, nor Children their Fathers; whereby both their Duties and Comforts would be preſcinded together. Such Miſchiefs as theſe, would make Men glad of that Incloſure, which the Laws of God have made for them. But behold with admiration the perverſe Wickedneſs of corrupt Nature, manifeſted in this, that becauſe God hath encloſed and ſecured their Relations to them by his Laws (which Incloſure is every way to their advantage), yet this makes their Luſts the more head-ſtrong and outragious, and they cannot take that Comfort in their own, becauſe their own, that they think to find in another's, becauſe another's.

Real Chriſtian, page 60.

Remarkable to this purpoſe is that Relation of Mr. Firmin's, which he received from his near Relation, who was Miniſter to the Company of Engliſh Merchants in Pruſſia. The Conſul, or Governour of that Company being a Married Man, and that to a very proper and comely Woman, was yet enſlaved to others, not to be compared with his own Wife for Comelineſs. This Miniſter dealt with him about it. One Argument he urged was this: That of all Men he had the leaſt Temptation, having a Wife ſo comely, that few Women were like her. He anſwered, Yea, were ſhe not my Wife, I could love her. Had ſhe been his Whore, he could have loved her; he thought none like her; but becauſe ſhe was his Wife, hedged in by God, he cared not for her. Oh! what Hearts have Men, that they ſhould ever think that to be beſt for them, which is moſt croſs to God! Why ſhould ſtolen Waters be ſweeter than thoſe of our own Fountains?

§ III.

God's Choice muſt needs be far better for us than our own. Ordinate and lawful Pleaſures and Enjoyments, far better and ſweeter than exorbitant and forbidden ones. And the Reaſon is evident and undeniable: For amongſt all the Operations of the Mind, its reflex Acts are the Acts that beſt reliſh Pleaſure. And indeed without Self-reflection, a Man cannot tell whether he delights or no. All Senſe of Pleaſure implies ſome Reflection of the Mind: And thoſe Pleaſures of a Man muſt needs be the ſweeteſt, which afford the ſweeteſt Reflections upon them afterward: And thoſe the baſeſt Pleaſures, which are accompanied and followed with preſent regret, or the ſtinging and cutting Reflections of the Conſcience upon them afterwards.

Lawful and ordinate Enjoyments are as Honey without the Sting. Forbidden Pleaſures are imbitter'd and extinguiſhed by theſe Regrets and Reflections of the Conſcience. They are like that pleaſant Fruit which the Spaniards found in the Indies, which were ſweet to the Taſte, but ſo environed and armed on every ſide with dangerous Briers and Thorns, that they tore not only their Cloaths off their Backs, but the Skin off their Fleſh to come at them: And therefore they called them Comfits in Hell. And ſuch are all forbidden and unlawful Pleaſures.

A Merchant (ſaith the forenamed Author) Dining with the Friars at Dantzick, his
Page 63. Entertainment was very Noble. After he had dined and ſeen all, the Merchant fell to commending their pleaſant Life. Yea, (ſaid one of the Friars to him) we live gallantly indeed, if we had any Body to go to Hell for us when we die. You ſee what mingles with Mens ſenſual and ſinful Luſts.

2. Your Honour is ſecured by keeping within God's Bounds and Limits. Marriage is honourable in all. Here Guilt can neither wrong your Conſciences, nor Infamy your Reputations. Fornicators and Adulterers go up and down the World, as Men burnt in the Hand: Their Conſcience laſhes them within, and Men point at them abroad. They are a Terror to themſelves, and a Scorn to Men.

3. The Health of the Body is ſecured by chaſt and regular Enjoyments; but expoſed to Deſtruction the other way. God hath plagued the Inordinacy of Mens Luſts with moſt ſtrange and horrid Diſeaſes. That Morbus Gallicus, Sudor Anglicus, and Plica Polonica, were Judgments ſent immediately by God's own Hand, as the Witneſſes of his high Diſpleaſure, againſt the bold and daring Contemners of his ſacred and awful Command. Thus as Prov. 5. 11. They mourn at laſt, when their Fleſh and Body are conſumed. Other Sins are committed in the Body, but this againſt it, as well as in it.

4. The Blaſt and Waſte of our Eſtates (which is the uſual Conſequent of Uncleanneſs) is prevented and avoided, by keeping within God's Rules. The truth of what the Scripture tells us, Prov. 10. 5. is often exemplified before our Eyes; That by reaſon of a Whoriſh Woman, a Man is brought to a Morſel of Bread. Adultery gives a Man Rags for his Livery; it lodgeth his Subſtance in the Houſe of Strangers, and entails Wants and Curſes on him and his.

5. In a word, Continence, or lawful Marriage, expoſes not the Soul to the eternal Wrath of God, as Uncleanneſs doth, 1 Cor. 6. 9, 10. This Sin does not only ſhut a Man out of his own Houſe, and the Hearts of good Men, but out of Heaven it ſelf, without thorough Repentance and Reformation.

§ IV.

The Caſe ſtanding thus, 'tis matter of juſt Admiration how the Sin of Uncleanneſs ſhould grow ſo Epidemical and Common as it doth, ſeeing ſuch as live in this filthy Courſe, muſt needs counter-act and oppoſe their own Reaſon and Intereſt together. For they forſake God's way, which gives them as much Liberty as can be reaſonably deſired, and caſt themſelves into a Courſe of Life, clogg'd with all manner of Temporal and Eternal Miſeries of Soul and Body, Honour and Eſtate.

The plain Rule and Dictate of common Reaſon, which I laid down before, being applied to this particular Caſe, manifeſtly condemns it. For ſeeing Honeſty and Chaſtity comprizes the true Pleaſure, Profit, and Honour of the whole Man, is more congruous to Humane Nature, and Preſervative of it, it ought therefore to be preferred in the Eſtimation and Choice of all Men to unlawful adulterous Pleaſures, which (for the Reaſons above) are inferiour in themſelves to chaſt, conjugal Enjoyments; and beſides that, are attended and followed with ſuch a Train of preſent and future Miſeries, deſtructive to the whole Man.

And yet for all this, to the Amazement of all ſerious Obſervers, never was any Age more infamous for this Sin, than the preſent Age is, and that under the clear ſhining Light of the Goſpel.

What the ſpecial Cauſes and Inducements to the overflowing and abounding of this Sin, are in the preſent Age, will be well worth the enquiring and ſifting at this time.

§ V. Inducement 1.

'Tis highly probable the influencing Examples of Great Men, have had no ſmall Hand in the ſpreading of this abominable and crying Sin amongſt all inferiour Ranks and Orders of Men.

Great Mens ill Examples, like a Bag of Poyſon in the Fountain, corrupt and infect Multitudes.

The Vulgar think they are priviledged, or at the leaſt very much excuſed, when they do but follow the Preſidents and Examples of Great and Eminent Perſons.

But this will be found a weak and fooliſh Plea for Uncleanneſs, which will never be able to endure the Teſt of your own Reaſon: For the inbred Notions of a God, and of a future Life of Retribution, being ſo firmly ſealed and engraven upon humane Nature, they can never be utterly eradicated; your own Reaſon will argue from thoſe inbred Notions in this manner, and how you will be able to refel the Argument, and eſcape Conviction and Self-condemnation, quite ſurmounts my Imagination, whatever it do yours. And thus it will diſpute, and Dilemma you, do what you can.

That God, before whom greater and leſſer, honourable and baſer Sinners ſhall appear in Judgment, will be either partial or impartial in his Judgments upon them. There is, or there is not Reſpect of Perſons with him. If there be (which both his Nature and Word utterly deny) then thoſe great and honourable Adulterers or Fornicators, whoſe Examples you follow, may haply be excuſed for their Eminency and Honours ſake; but you that have no ſuch Eminency and Honour in the World, as they have, muſt be condemned, tho' you thought to eſcape as well as they.

But if there be no Partiality, or Reſpect of Perſons with God (as moſt aſſuredly there is none) then both greater and leſſer, honourable and baſer Adulterers, muſt be condemned together to the ſame common and intolerable Miſery.

So that to take any (tho' the leaſt) Encouragement to Sin from the Preſidents and Examples of Great Ones, is a moſt ſenceleſs and irrational thing, utterly unworthy of one that believes there is a juſt and impartial God; and he is worſe than a Devil that believes it not: For the Devils themſelves believe and tremble.

§ VI. Inducement 2.

But others would perſwade us they are drawn into this Sin by a kind of inevitable neceſſity, they being neither able to contain, nor marry.

They are not yet arrived to Eſtate ſufficient to maintain a Family with Reputation: But when they have gotten enough by Trade, or by the fall of their Paternal Eſtates, to live in equal Reputation with their Neighbours, then they deſign to alter their Courſe of Life, and abandon theſe Follies.

But, Reader, if this be thy Plea for Uncleanneſs, thou ſhalt have as fair a Tryal for a foul Fact, as thine own Heart can deſire; be ſtill thine own Judge, and let thine own Reaſon give a fair Anſwer to theſe three pertinent Queſtions.

Queſt. 1.

Whether Whoredom be as likely and promiſing a way to engage God's Bleſſing upon your Trades and Employments, as Continence or Conjugal Chaſtity are? That is to ſay plainly, Whether Obedience and Diſobedience to the Law of God, be all one, and pleaſe him alike? You know your Succeſs of Buſineſs is not in your own hand; 'tis God that giveth thee Power to get Wealth. His Bleſſing maketh Rich. And is Sin as likely a way to engage his Bleſſing, as Duty and Obedience is? I am confident your own Reaſon will never give it.

Object. If you ſay ſuch Perſons proſper in the World, as well as others for ought you can ſee.

Sol. The contrary is evident in the common Obſervation of Mankind; by reaſon of Whoredom, Multitudes are brought to a piece of Bread. And tho' God ſuffer ſome unclean Perſons to proſper in the World, yet Chaſtity with Poverty, is infinitely preferable to ſuch accurſed Proſperity.

Queſt. 2.

Whether the Courſe of Sin you are now driving and accuſtoming your ſelves to, will not in all probability ſo infatuate and bewitch you, that when you come into a married Eſtate, you ſhall ſtill be under the Power of this Sin, and ſo ruin the Perſon you marry, as well as your ſelf? If the Word of God ſignifie any thing with you, it ſignifieth this, that there is a Witchcraft in Whoredom; and comparatively ſpeaking, None that go to her return again, neither take they hold of the Paths of Life, Prov. 2. 18, 19.

Object. If to invalidate this Teſtimony you ſhall ſay, That he that ſpake this, did himſelf go after ſtrange Women.

Sol. 'Tis true, he did ſo: But then withal, you muſt remember, that he hath warned you by his own ſad Experience, that you never follow him in thoſe his Footſteps, Eccleſ. 7. 26. I find (ſaith he) more bittter than Death, the Woman whoſe Heart is Snares and Nets, and her Hands as Bands. Whoſo pleaſeth God, ſhall eſcape from her; but the Sinner ſhall be taken by her.

Queſt. 3.

And laſtly, I demand of your Reaſon, Whether it can, or will allow any place to this Plea of neceſſity, before you have uſed and tried all God's appointed Remedies, which are ſufficient to prevent that neceſſity you plead.

There are lawful Remedies enough, ſufficient with God's Bleſſing to keep you from ſuch a neceſſity to Sin; ſuch as Temperance, and more abſtemiouſneſs in Meats and Drinks; avoiding laſcivious Books, Play-Houſes, and filthy Company; laborious Diligence in your lawful Callings, and fervent Prayer for mortifying and preventing Grace; and if Temptations ſtill ſtir amidſt all theſe Preventives, then caſting your ſelves upon the Directions and Supply of Providence, in the honourable Eſtate of Marriage. Never plead neceſſity, whilſt all theſe Preventives might, but have not been uſed.

§ VII. Inducement 3.

Others plead the abſence of their lawful Remedies, and preſence of tempting Objects. This is the Caſe of our Soldiers and Sea-men. But tho' this be the moſt colourable Pretence of all the reſt, yet your own Reaſon and Conſciences will even in this Caſe ſo Dilemma and Non-plus you, that if you will adventure upon the Sin, you ſhall never have their leave or conſent with you: For they have a ſpecial and peculiar conſideration of you, as Perſons more eminently and immediately expoſed to the Dangers of Death than other Men. And thus (would you but give them a fair hearing) they will expoſtulate and reaſon out the matter with you.

Either thou ſhalt eſcape, or not eſcape the hazard of this Voyage or Battel. If thou fall (as to be ſure many will) will this be an honourable, ſafe, and comfortable cloſe, and winding up of thy Life! What, from a Whore to thy Grave! God forbid. From burning Luſts to everlaſting Burnings! Better thou hadſt never been born.

Or if thou do eſcape and return again to thy Family; how canſt thou look her in the Face, with whom thou haſt ſo baſely broken thy Marriage-Vow and Covenant? Whatever elſe thou bring home with thee, to be ſure thou ſhalt bring home Guilt with thee, and a Blot never to be wiped away.

Object. If you ſay, you are not ſuch Fools to publiſh your own Shame, you'll follow Cæſar's Advice to the young Adulterer, Si non caſtè, tamen cautè: If I act not chaſtly, I'll act cautelouſly.

Sol. Your Reaſon and Conſcience will both deride the Weakneſs and Folly of this Pretence: For they both very well know, no Man ſins ſo ſecretly, but he ſins before two infallible Witneſſes, viz. God, and his own Conſcience, and that the laſt and leaſt of theſe, is more than a Thouſand Witneſſes. That God uſually detects it in this World, carry it as cloſely as you will; but to be ſure, it ſhall be publiſhed as upon the Houſe-top, before Men and Angels in the Great Day.

§ VIII. Inducement 4.

Another Inducement to this Sin, (and the laſt I ſhall mention) is the Commonneſs of it, which abates the Shame of it.

What need they trouble themſelves ſo much, or be ſo ſhy of that which is practiſed by Thouſands, which is ſo frequently acted in every place, and little made of it?

But if either your Reaſon or Conſcience will admit this Plea for good and lawful, the Devil hath utterly blinded or infatuated the one or other, as will evidently appear by the following Reaſons. For,

Reaſon I.

If the thing be Evil, (as you cannot deny but it is) then by how much the commoner, by ſo much the worſe it muſt needs be. Indeed, if a thing be good, by how much the commoner, ſo much the better; but to attribute this eſſential Property of Good unto Evil, is to confound and deſtroy the difference between them, and make Good and Evil both alike.

Reaſon II.

If the commonneſs of Uncleanneſs will excuſe you, it will more excuſe all others that ſhall commit this Sin after you; and ſtill by how much more the Numbers of Adulterers and Fornicators are increaſed, ſtill the leſs ſcruple Men need make to commit it; and ſo the whole Community ſhall in a little time be ſo infected and defiled, that Chriſtian Kingdoms ſhall quickly become like Sodom, and God provoked to deal with them, as he did by that wretched City.

Reaſon III.

If the commonneſs of Sin be an Excuſe and Plea for it, ſuppoſe the Roads ſhould be more infeſted than they are with Highway-men, ſo that every Month you ſhould ſee whole Cart-loads of them drawn to Tyburn; would your Reaſon infer from thence, that becauſe Hanging is grown ſo common, you need not ſcruple ſo much as you were wont to do, to take a Purſe, or Piſtol an honeſt innocent Traveller upon the Road?

Object. If you ſhall ſay, Uncleanneſs is not ſo coſtly a Sin as Robbery is, there's a great deal of difference between Tyburn, and a Whore houſe Puniſhment.

Sol. There is a great difference indeed, even as much as is betwixt Tyburn and Hell, or a ſmall Mulct in the Court of Men, and the Eternal Wrath of a Sin-revenging God. So great will the difference betwixt the Puniſhments of all Sins by God, and by Men be found.

Thus you ſee, Gentlemen, the common Pleas for Uncleanneſs over-ruled by your own Reaſons and Conſciences.

We live in a plentiful Land, abounding with all the Comforts of this Life, and with Thouſands of full-fed Wantons, of whom the Lord complains this Day, as he did of the Jews, whom that Flowing-land vomited out, Jer. 5. 7. When I had fed them to the full, they committed Adultery, and aſſembled themſelves by Troops in the Harlots Houſes; they were as fed Horſes in the Morning, every one neighed after his Neighbours Wife. How many ſuch Stallions are thus neighing in the fat Paſtures of this good Land!

Nor do I wonder at all to ſee the Growth of Atheiſm, in a Land ſwarmed and over-run with ſo many thouſands of Blaſphemers, Drunkards, and Adulterers. It was a great Obſervation of that gallant Moraliſt, Plutarch: If Epicurus (ſaith he) ſhould but grant a God in his full Perfections, he muſt change his Life preſently, he muſt be a Swine no longer.

The Lord purge out this crying Abomination alſo, with Atheiſm and Drunkenneſs, the Inlets of it, which darken our Glory, and threaten to make us deſolate.

CHAP. VI.

Wherein Reaſon and Conſcience are once more conſulted about that bitter and implacable Enmity, found in Thouſands this Day, againſt all ſerious Piety, and the ſtrict Profeſſors thereof, who differ from them in ſome External Modes and Rites of Worſhip; and their Determination upon that Caſe, impartially reported.

§ I.

MAN is naturally a ſociable Creature, delighting in Company and Converſe. He that affects to live by, and to himſelf, muſt be (ſaith the Philoſopher), Ἢ θηρίον, ἢ θεὸς, either a God that is ſelf-ſufficient, and ſtands in need of none; or a wild Beaſt ſo ſavage and fierce, that it can endure nothing but it ſelf.

This natural Quality of Sociableneſs is diverſly improved. Sometimes ſinfully in wicked Combinations to do miſchief, like the herding together of Wolves and Tigers. Such was the Confederation of Simeon and Levi, Brethren in Iniquity, Gen. 49. 56. Sometimes 'tis improved Civilly for the more orderly and proſperous Management of Humane Affairs. Thus all civilized Countries have improved it for common Security and Benefit. And ſometimes Religiouſly, for the better promoting of each others ſpiritual and eternal Good.

Now the more firmly any Civil or Religious Societies are knit together by Love, and coaleſce in Unity, by ſo much the better they are ſecured againſt their common Enemies and Dangers, and become ſtill the more proſperous and flouriſhing within and among themſelves. For when every Man finds his particular Intereſt involved in the Publick Safety and Security, (as every private Cabbin and Paſſenger is in the ſafety of the Ship) every particular Perſon will then ſtand ready to contribute his uttermoſt Aſſiſtance for the Publick Intereſt both in Peace and War. United Force, we all know, is more than ſingle; and in this Senſe we ſay, Unus homo, nullus homo; one Man is no Man, that is, conſidered disjunctively and alone; when yet that ſingle Perſon ſtanding in a proper place of Service in the Body, may by his Prudence and Courage, ſignifie very much to the Publick Weal of his Country; as Fabius did to the Roman State, of whom the Poet truly obſerved, > Unus homo nobis cunctando reſtituit rem.

That one Man by his prudent Delay and Conduct, hath ſaved the whole Common-wealth.

§ II.

'Tis therefore the undoubted Intereſt of Chriſtian States and Churches, to make every individual Perſon as uſeful as may be to the whole, and to enjoy the Services of all their Subjects and Members, one way or other, according to their different Capacities, that it may be ſaid of them (as the Hiſtorian ſpeaks of the Land of Canaan) that there was in it, Nihil infructuoſum, nihil ſterile; not a Shrub but bare ſome Fruit.

No prudent Kingdom or Church, will deprive themſelves of the Benefits they may enjoy by the Services of any conſiderable Number of Men (eſpecially if they be able and good Men) without a plain inevitable neceſſity. No Man without ſuch a neceſſity will part with the Uſe and Service of the leaſt Finger or Toe, much leſs with a Leg or Arm; but would reckon himſelf half undone, if a Paralytick Diſeaſe ſhould ſtrike one half of the Body, and render it utterly uſeleſs to defend and ſuccour the other part in time of danger.

§ III.

Much ſo ſtands the Caſe with Churches and Kingdoms, when the cauſleſs and cruel Enmity of one part, prevails ſo far againſt the other, as to deprive that State or Church of the Uſe and Service of Multitudes of good and faithful Members.

It is Folly in its higheſt Exaltation, for one part of a Nation, out of bitter Enmity to the other, not only to ſeek all ways and means to ſuppreſs and ruin it, whilſt a common Danger hangs over the whole; but to rejoyce in the Miſeries of their Brethren, as the principal thing which they fancy would contribute to the great advantage of their Cauſe. What but a general Puniſhment (if that will do it) can work Mens Hearts into a more general Compaſſion?

The Hiſtories of thoſe Times ſufficiently inform us, That the great Feuds and Factions in the Weſtern Church, not only immediately preceded, but opened the way to the terrible Inundations of the Goths and Vandals. Whilſt the ſuffering part cries out, Cruelty, Cruelty; thoſe that inflict it cry as loud, Juſtice, Juſtice. Whatever rational Apologies, or Methods of Peace, come from the oppreſſed Party, are cenſured by the other as Murmur and Mutiny. All Men commend Unity, and aſſert it to be the Intereſt of Kingdoms and Churches. They wiſh all Men were of one Mind, but what Mind muſt that be? To be ſure, none but their own.

The more cool, prudent, and moderate Spirits of each Party, may ſtrive to the uttermoſt to allay theſe unnatural Feuds and Animoſities. The Wiſdom of the Governing part may take the Inſtruments of Cruelty out of their hand; but 'tis God alone that can pluck up the Roots of Enmity out of their Hearts.

And what is the matter, when all is ſifted and examined? Why, the matter is this: Some will be more ſerious, ſtrict, and conſcientious, than others think or neceſſary for them to be. They dare not Curſe, Swear, Whore, and be Drunk, as others do. They ſcruple to comply with what God hath not commanded, and the very Impoſers confeſs to be indifferent antecedently to their Command. They reverently mention the Name of God without an Oath, and the ſolemn Matters of Religion, without a Jeſt in their Company. They will aſſume as much Liberty to reprove Sin, as others do to commit it. They take more pleaſure in heavenly Duties, and holy Conferences, than in Ranting and Roaring in Taverns and Ale-houſes. That is, in a word, they live up to the Principles of Religion, which all pretend to; and this is their unpardonable Crime, a Fault never to be expiated by any leſs Puniſhment than their Deſtruction.

And are not People (think you) come to a fine paſs, when the ſtricteſt Obedience to the Laws of God ſhall be accounted more criminal, than the moſt open and profane Violation of them? Nay, tho' they reprove the other Parties Sins no other way, but by their more ſerious and religious Lives; yet this alone ſhall be ſufficient to make them culpable and obnoxious.

§ IV. If the Party thus generally hated and maligned, be (for the generality of them) ſerious and godly Chriſtians; or if the ſtrictneſs and holineſs of their Lives, and tenderneſs of their Conſciences be the true Ground and Reaſon of our hatred of them; ſuch an hatred, when it becomes general, is a direful preſage of ſome common Calamity and Miſery haſtning upon ſuch a People, Hoſ. 9. 7. The Days of Viſitation are come, the Days of Recompence are come, Iſrael ſhall know it; the Prophet is a Fool, the Spiritual Man is mad; for the Multitude of thine Iniquity, and the great Hatred.

And our own Reaſon will give us this Concluſion, as well as Scripture: For whatſoever brings Sin to its full maturity, muſt needs haſten Judgments. And what can heighten and accent the Sins of a People, more than ſuch a cruel hatred of good Men, upon the ſcore and account before given? All hatred of Godlineſs, hath a tang of Deviliſhneſs. 'Tis a deſperate flying in the very Face of God, whoſe Image Holineſs is. Sin can ſcarce be graduated a Peg higher.

Reaſon tells the Husbandman, 'tis time to mow and reap his Corn, when it is full ripe. And it may convince you, that God's time of reaping down a ſinful People is near, when their Sins are grown to ſuch full maturity as this: Put ye in the Sickle, for the harveſt is ripe; come, get ye down, for the Preſs is full, the Fats overflow, for their Wickedneſs is great, Joel 3. 13.

§ V. The true Cauſe and Riſe of this great and fixed Hatred amongſt profeſſed Chriſtians (whatever may be pretended to ſalve Reputation) is the Contrariety and Repugnancy of the Natures, and Principles, by which the Godly and Ungodly are governed. There is an Enmity betwixt the two Seeds, Gen. 3. 15. And this Enmity runs down in a Blood, more or leſs in all Ages and Places, Gal. 4. 29. As then, he that was born after the Fleſh, perſecuted him that was born after the Spirit, even ſo it is now. So it was, and ſo it is, and ſo it will be, 'till Converſion changeth the Heart and Principle. This Enmity cannot die, whilſt Satan lives, and rules in the Hearts of Children of Diſobedience.

And the Enmity is mutual. An unjuſt Man is an abomination to the juſt; and he that is upright in the way, is an abomination to the wicked, Prov. 29. 27. Only with this difference; the good Man hates, Non virum, ſed vitium; not the Perſon, but his Sin. The wicked Man hates both the Perſon of the Godly, and his Godlineſs too; yea, the Perſon for his Godlineſs ſake.

This hatred of the Godly, ſecretly and habitually lurks in the Nature of a wicked Man, as Rapaciouſneſs doth in a young Wolf that never ſaw a Lamb. It extends it ſelf univerſally to the whole Kind, and reaches thoſe, whoſe Lives are moſt obligingly ſweet; yea, thoſe that are bound to them in the ſtricteſt Bonds of Nature. As we may ſee in that moſt unnatural Inſtance of Cain's murthering his own Brother Abel. It diſcovers it ſelf in ſeeking the Deſtruction of them they hate upon a Religious account, and in rejoycing at any Evil that befals them. Nothing is more grateful to them, than any occaſion to diſgrace and expoſe them with contempt to the World.

§ VI. But tho' the ſtrictneſs and holineſs of good Men, cauſing the Conſciences of wicked Men privately to condemn, and inwardly to gaul and grate them for their Looſeneſs and Profaneneſs, be the true and real Ground and Cauſe of the Grudge and Hatred; yet they think it fit for Reputation-ſake, that this be wholly ſuppreſſed and ſilenced, and ſomething elſe pretended for the Cauſe and Reaſon of it, elſe it would look too like the Devil himſelf. And therefore, amongſt other plauſible Pretenſions for their Malignity to thoſe that are better than themſelves, theſe Three are principally inſiſted on, and pleaded.

1. That it is not their Piety, but their Hypocriſie which they hate. Not becauſe they have indeed more Piety than others, but becauſe they make more vain Shew and Oſtentation of it, than themſelves do; who, ſetting aſide their ridiculous Grimaces, and affected fantaſtick Words and Actions, are every whit as good as themſelves.

2. Becauſe under a pretence of greater ſtrictneſs in Religion, they do but hatch and carry on Sedition and Rebellion; and that the World will never be quiet, whilſt ſuch Vipers are ſuffered in the Bowels of it.

3. That both the former have been made ſufficiently evident and apparent, in ſeveral former, and more recent Inſtances of the Hypocriſie and ſeditious Deſigns of as high Pretenders to Religion and Reformation, as thoſe are, whom they truly hate, and would not ſuffer them to live, if their Power were anſwerable to their Hatred.

As to this firſt Plea, viz. their Hypocriſie, 'twill quickly be found to be too thin and weak, to endure the Teſt of your own Reaſon and Conſciences. For how will you anſwer them, when they ſhall thus argue and expoſtulate the matter with you?

You that thus cenſure, and thoſe that are cenſured for Hypocriſie by you, do both profeſs one and the ſame Religion. Your profane Lives are notoriouſly contrary to all the Principles of this Religion. You Swear, Drink, Whore, Revile, and Perſecute the others, only becauſe you fancy their Tones, Geſtures, &c. to be ſome way or other indecent. You cannot deny, but they live ſoberly and godly. They attend upon all the Duties of Religion ſtrictly and conſcientiouſly. Your Malice againſt them can find nothing to carp at, but ſome little Trifles, with which the Eſſence of Religion is not concerned. Did they run into the ſame Exceſs of Riot with you, greater Matters than theſe would be over-looked, yea, and applauded too.

Now let Reaſon and Conſcience ſay, who is moſt likely to be the Hypocrite, the Man that calls himſelf a Chriſtian, and under that Profeſſion wallows in all Profaneneſs, not once cenſuring himſelf for it; or he that lives Soberly and Godly, againſt whom Malice it ſelf can produce nothing but ſuch inconſiderable Trifles as theſe? Is not this the very Caſe which Chriſt hath determined to our hands, and made ſuch Cenſurers the Hypocrites, Matth. 7. 3. And why beholdeſt thou the Mote that is in thy Brother's Eye, but conſidereſt not the Beam that is in thine own Eye? It was but one Blemiſh, and that a very ſmall one too, but a Mote; however this you can quickly ſpy, and as raſhly cenſure. But mean while there's a Beam, an horrid flagitious Wickedneſs in your ſelves; but 'tis too near your own Eyes to be diſcerned by you. Which of theſe two (think you) is the Hypocrite?

2. But what if this Mote that you diſcern, be but a Fancy, a meer Imagination of your own, how will that aggravate your Sin, and evince both your Malice and Hypocriſie together? You ſay their Tones and Geſtures in Religious Duties are Ridiculous and Scenical. This you take up lightly againſt ſome few of them, and as unjuſtly apply unto the aſperſing of the whole Party, which your own Reaſon muſt and will immediately condemn. For there are multitudes of that Party, whoſe Countenances, Tones, and Geſtures, are as decorous, grave, and becoming the preſence of that God with whom they have to do, as any Men in the World.

3. And as for thoſe few whom you thus blemiſh for their indecent Tones or Geſtures; what if thoſe Tones you ſpeak of, amount to no more, but natural Defects, and unavoidable Infirmities, which they would, but cannot help? Do they for this, and no worſe than this, deſerve to be cenſured and condemned for Hypocrites? Or, what if they be inſenſible Actions, occaſioned by the greater Intention of their Spirits in the Service of God? May not thoſe very things which you profanely flout, cenſure, and ſcoff at, either not all be noted as Blemiſhes to their Devotion by the Eye of God, or noted with Approbation and Delight, as the Effects of Spiritual Fervency in his Service? Certainly, Gentlemen, you are no good Marks-men, that neither draw the right Arrow, nor level at the true Mark.

4. And were not this a vain and empty Pretence to cover your own Malice againſt Godlineſs; how comes it to paſs, that more Scenical Habits, Words, and Geſtures, ſhould paſs as Ornaments in others, whom you affect? Whether this be not Partiality unworthy of a Man, let Reaſon and Conſcience freely judge.

In a word, What Commiſſion or Authority, can you produce, thus to aſcend the Throne of God, and draw your bittereſt Cenſures through the very Hearts of God's People, for ſuch pitiful Trifles as theſe; firſt condemning them as Hypocrites, which is a moſt unwarrantable Preſumption; and then perſecute them as far as you can for their preſumed Hypocriſie? Have a care what you do; be not Mockers, leſt your Bonds be made ſtrong. This is a Sin which haſtens National Deſolation, 2 Chron. 36. 16, 17. They mocked the Meſſengers of God, and deſpiſed his Word, and miſuſed his Prophets, until the Wrath of the Lord aroſe againſt his People, 'till there was no remedy. Therefore he brought upon them the King of the Chaldees, who ſlew their young Men with the Sword, &c.

Plea 2. You ſay, 'Tis not Godlineſs you hate, and would perſecute; but they are a ſort of Perſons, who under a pretence of Zeal for Religion and Reformation, deſign nothing elſe but Sedition and Rebellion, that the Nation will never be quiet, whilſt ſuch Vipers are ſuffered to live in it; and to fortiſie this Plea, you add, that both their Hypocriſie and Sedition have been made ſufficiently evident to the World in many Inſtances.

Zeal for the Laws, and Security of the Government, if rightly tempered and qualified, is highly commendable; and where-ever Sincerity animates, and Prudence governs it, it ought by no means to be diſcouraged. But there are too many Grounds and Cauſes of Suſpition, that both theſe will be found wholly wanting, or extreamly defective, in many high Pretenders to it, when it comes to be ſifted to its bottom Principles, and weighed in the juſt Ballance of ſound Reaſon.

For if you be inflamed with a pure Zeal for the Laws and Government you live under, then you will find your ſelves obliged for your own Vindication, to ſatisfie the juſt Expectation of your own, and other Mens Reaſons and Conſciences in the following Particulars.

Expectation 1. Firſt, Reaſon and Conſcience in your ſelves and others, will expect it from you, that you of all Men living ſhould be moſt preciſely and punctually Obedient to all thoſe juſt and good Laws you live under, ſince your Zeal burns ſo hot againſt thoſe that comply not punctually with them. For thoſe that make ſo much Conſcience (as you ſeem to do) of other Mens Offences againſt the Laws, muſt be preſumed (if your Profeſſion be ſincere) to make at leaſt as much Conſcience of breaking any of them in your own Perſons; elſe neither Reaſon nor Conſcience will ever admit this Plea of yours for ſound and good.

Now the Laws ſometimes appoint Puniſhments for Non-conformity to the Rites and Ceremonies, affixed to the publick National Worſhip; and ſo they do always for convicted Swearing, Drunkenneſs, and Adultery. All theſe Laws have the very ſame Sanction by the Authority we live under. They forbid, and puniſh the one as well as the other. And if there be any difference, it lies in this, that theſe latter are expreſly forbidden and threatned by God, antecedently to the Magiſtrate's Prohibition of them, which hath no ſmall weight in the matter under conſideration.

Now if any Man ſhall pretend Zeal and Conſcience againſt diſſent in Judgment or Practice from the Church, but makes no Conſcience at all to Curſe and Swear, be Drunk or Unclean; he will find it a difficult Task to perſwade his own, or other Mens Reaſons or Conſciences, that this his Zeal for the Laws and Government, is ſincere and pure. For were it ſo, it could never allow him to live in the notorious Violation of the Laws himſelf, which he is ſo fierce and bitter againſt others for.

Expectation 2. Secondly, If your Zeal be ſincere, it will contain it ſelf within the Bounds and Limits of the Offence, and not lay hold upon the Innocent, as well as upon the Guilty, and make you hate and perſecute them that were never turbulent and ſeditious, equally with the greateſt Criminals. If you will hug this Principle, as things ſtand now, Reaſon will tell you, 'tis as juſt at all other times, as it is at this.

Would you not think it an unreaſonable and moſt injurious thing, to be plucked out of your Shops, or Houſes, and hurried away to the Goal, becauſe two or three diſſolute Fellows in the City or Town where you live, have been riotous or ſeditious, tho' you poſſibly know not the Men, nor can be ſo much as juſtly ſuſpected of any Confederacy with them? True Zeal for the Laws and Government, is content to wait, and ſuſpend its Revenges, 'till a fair Conviction have paſſed upon the Guilty. And when it falls upon them, 'tis careful that it touch none beſides them; but ſuffers a Man to retain in the very height of it, due Love and Honour for all that are innocent.

If Chriſtians be firſt denominated by general Titles and Terms of Diſtinction, which they cannot help, and then the Crimes of any particular Perſon, that the World pleaſes to denominate as one of the ſame Party, muſt be charged and imputed to the whole; what muſt the conſequence of this be, but that the whole Community become obnoxious to Puniſhment, and the very Government it ſelf thereupon be diſſolved?

For I take it to be paſt denial or doubt, that ſome of each Denomination have been, are, or may be guilty of ſeditious Practices. Some Hypocrites will lurk among thoſe vaſt Bodies of People, under the moſt ſtrict and watchful Government; but God forbid their Guilt ſhould affect the whole Body, under whoſe Name they ſhelter themſelves. God, Reaſon, and Conſcience, do all command the hotteſt Zeal to make its Pauſe and juſt Diſtinction here. Let the Guilty be brought to condign Puniſhment, upon fair Trial and Conviction. This Diſcourſe deſigns no Favour for ſuch. But let not thoſe who abhor their Wickedneſs, and are as pure from their Crimes as your ſelves, ſuffer with them, or from them. For then your Reaſon will tell you, your ſelves are as liable to Sufferings as they, and that your Zeal is not kindled by love to Juſtice, but the hatred of a Party.

It is not in the Body Politick, as in the Body Natural. If the Hand ſteal, the Feet are juſtly laid in Irons, and the Neck put into an Halter; becauſe all the Members of the Body Natural are animated and governed but by one Soul. But in the Body Politick every Individual hath a diſtinct Soul of his own, and therefore that Member only that offends, ought to be puniſhed, and all the reſt to enjoy their full Liberty and Honour as before. Away therefore for ever with this Church and State-deſtroying Synecdoche.

Expectation 3. Thirdly, If there be a change made upon the Laws, and they ſhall at any time tolerate and protect that Party and Practice which once they made Criminal; then your Reaſon, and every Man's elſe, will expect from you (if your Zeal for the Laws and Government be ſincere and unfeigned) that your Countenance and Carriage to that People be changed and altered, according to the different Aſpect of the Laws and Government upon them: That your Envy and Hatred ceaſe with the Offence, and that you be as ready to aſſiſt and encourage them, when they act according to Law, as you formerly were to afflict and proſecute them for acting contrary to Law; elſe, pretend what you will, 'tis plain enough, that it was not Zeal for the Laws and Government, but ſomewhat elſe (which every Body may gueſs at) that inflamed your Rage againſt them.

For whenſoever the Wiſdom of the Government finds it neceſſary by Toleration to take away the Crime and Offence, it muſt neceſſarily take away this very Plea for Hatred and Perſecution with it. Otherwiſe it would be all one to act for Law, and againſt Law; to puniſh them that are Offenders, and them that offend no more than your ſelves; to turn the Edge of your Rage and Fury, againſt thoſe that undermine the Government, and thoſe that are as Zealous as your ſelves, to ſupport and defend it, by their Perſons and Purſes.

Expectation 4. Fourthly, Your Reaſon will juſtly expect it from you, that when or whereſoever you ſhall ſee eminent Piety meeting with punctual Conformity in one Man, that Man ſhall be your very Darling, and that both theſe Qualifications ſhould recommend him to your deareſt Affection. The more ſtrictly godly he is, the more conformable he is to the Laws of God; as well as by his punctual Compliance with enjoyned Rules and Rites of Worſhip, to the Laws of Men. If he be a Man of Catholick Charity to all of every Perſwaſion, whom he judges to fear God, and be truly conſcientious; if he boldly and impartially reprove Sin where-ever he finds it, tho' it be in his own Patron, or Men of his own Profeſſion; you will ſtill love him the more for that. For if Sincerity and Conformity (as you pretend) be the very things which you make ſuch a Noiſe and Buſſle for in the World, here you have them both in conjunction. This is the Man you ſeem to ſeek (by theſe Pleas of yours) for a Pattern and Standard to reduce other Men to.

And is it really ſo, Gentlemen, with you? Do you heartily affect and prize a ſtrict and ſerious Conformiſt, that fears not to expoſe the odious Shamefulneſs and Wickedneſs of profane Swearing, Curſing, Drunkenneſs, and Uncleanneſs, without reſpect of Perſons, both in his Pulpit and private Converſes? Do you love him the better for his plain dealing with your Conſciences, in detecting the grand Cheat of Formality in Religion; for his cloſe cutting Convictions of the Inſufficiency of meer Civility to your Salvation; and the indiſpenſable neceſſity of Regeneration? Do you heartily love and honour him, for thundering you out of Ale-houſes and Taverns, unto your Family and Cloſet-Duties? ‘For telling you plainly, your Love muſt not be confined to your own Party, but extended to all that fear God, however they be externally diſtinguiſhed among Men? Nay, for convincing you plainly, that Religion lies not in external Modes and Rites, in Standing, Kneeling, or Reſponſes? That the Name and Cry of the Church, the Church, will as little avail to your Salvation, as the Cry of the ſuperſtitious and profane Jews, The Temple of the Lord, the Temple of the Lord are theſe? That true Religion is an inward, ſerious, ſpiritual thing, conſiſting in an evidencing it ſelf by the ‘ Mortification of your Sins, and real Devotedneſs of your Hearts to the Lord?

If ſuch a Man as this will pleaſe, and delight your very Hearts; then my Reaſon is bound to conclude, there may be reality in what you pretend. But if you ſhall hate and loath ſuch a Man as this, equally with a profeſſed Diſſenter, you muſt excuſe me, and all the Rational World with me, if we ſhall conclude, that it is not true Zeal for the Laws, for the Church, or for the Sincerity and peaceable Lives of its Profeſſors, but an inward, rooted Enmity at Religion it ſelf, that ſets you on work under the feigned Pretences of other things.

Expectation 5. Fifthly, Your Reaſon will expect and exact it from you, that whenſoever you ſhall be convinced, that all theſe Stirs and Buſtles that have been in the World, all this Fining, Impriſoning, and Impoveriſhing your Proteſtant Brethren and Neighbours for their Conſcience-ſake, hath done the Church no good, but given a great and real Advantage to our common Enemy, to ruin us together; that we may diſtinguiſh our ſelves how we pleaſe in our Folly, but they will never diſtinguiſh us in their Fury; for we are all known to them by one common Name of Hereticks.

In this Caſe, your Reaſon exacts it from you, and ſo doth the common Reaſon of Mankind, that a Sence of common Intereſt, and common Danger, now quiet thoſe Feuds, and extinguiſh thoſe Fires, which our own Luſts firſt kindled, and the Devil and our common Enemies have incenſed, to the great Damage and Hazard of the whole Proteſtant Cauſe.

Such a ſeaſonable and becoming Sence as this, were in it ſelf ſufficient to cool a wiſe Man's Heats, if Penal Laws were left ſtanding in their full force and vigour; but when the Wiſdom and Reaſon of the State ſhall plainly diſcern both the Uſefulneſs and Neceſſity of Liberty, and thereupon take away (as they have now moſt prudently and ſeaſonably done) the further Occaſions of Miſchiefs to the whole, by relaxing the Yoke that bound ſome (and thoſe a very great Body of truly Loyal and Uſeful Subjects) leaving the reſt in the quiet Poſſeſſion of their own Liberties and Properties; what ſhall we call that Fire, which ſtill continues burning and increaſing, not only after, but by all this, but an unquenchable Hell-fire?

If Chimera's, and ſelf-created Jealouſies, that ſome carnal Intereſts of ours are not ſo well ſecured to us under Liberty, as they were under Perſecution and Tyranny; this were the right way to perpetuate Diſſentions and Perſecutions to the end of the World.

And now, Gentlemen, I hope I may ſay, without being vain or opinionative, that your own Reaſon hath fairly diſarmed you of theſe Pleas and Excuſes, by which you have hitherto defended your ſelves in your moſt ſinful Practices of profane Curſing, and Swearing, Drunkenneſs, Uncleanneſs, and bitter Enmity againſt your Proteſtant Brethren for things that touch not the Eſſence of Chriſtianity.

And believe it, Sirs, it is truly Genteel and Glorious, to ſuffer your ſelves to be ſubdued and conquered by the plain Convictions of your own Reaſon and Conſcience. 'Tis ten thouſand times more Honourable and Glorious to lay down your Arms at the Feet of theſe, than to lay down both Reaſon and Conſcience at the Feet of Satan and your Luſts, and continue fighting obſtinately againſt God, your own Souls, Bodies, Eſtates, Reputations; yea, your very Reaſons and Conſciences, your innocent Brethren, and the Peace of Church and State, under Satan's Banner.

In all this Diſcourſe I have not deſigned to exaſperate, but aſſwage and reſtrain your Luſts and Paſſions, by laying the loving and gentle Hands of your own Reaſons and Conſciences upon them. I have not given the leaſt injurious Touch to your Honour, but all along pleaded for the Recovery, or Security of it. I have expoſed no Man by any particular Mark or Indigitation.

But now I have done with you; if your own Conſciences ſhall begin to make a rounder and more particular Application of theſe general Reaſonings and Arguments, and ſay to you, as Nathan to David, Thou art the Man; I am not accountable for that. But be confident of it, you are accountable to God for all thoſe plain Convictions and faithful Endeavours uſed with you, and tried upon you, to ſave you from all thoſe Miſeries your head-ſtrong Luſts with furious Precipitation are manifeſtly running you into.

If you can ſubſtantially and ſolidly refel thoſe Arguments againſt; and vindicate thoſe Pleas for Sin, which Reaſon and Conſcience have urged and cenſured above; and can produce ſtronger and clearer Arguments to defend and juſtifie the Courſes here cenſured and condemned: Or if you can obtain a Writ of Error to remove theſe Cauſes to another lawful Court of Judicature, where you ſhall obtain a more favourable Verdict, your Complaint of ſevere Dealing with you here, will not want ſome ground or colour: But if you cannot (as you know you cannot) then never blame your own Reaſons, nor mine, for dealing rigorouſly or injuriouſly with you.

I am willing to hope, and perſwade my ſelf, that I ſhall at leaſt obtain a Reformation of Life from many of you. I have tugg'd hard for it with you here. I will tug harder with God in Prayer to obtain it for you. But yet, Gentlemen, I muſt tell you in the cloſe, That tho' an external Reformation of theſe evil Courſes may make your Lives more healthy, happy, and durable in this World, and will greatly conduce to the publick, as well as your perſonal and private Intereſt; yet if you expect compleat and perfect Happineſs in the World to come, you muſt advance one ſtep further beyond Reformation, unto ſound Converſion. The firſt makes you comparatively happy here; but the ſecond will make you perfectly happy and bleſſed for ever hereafter. The firſt frees you from many temporal Miſeries upon Earth; but the ſecond from eternal Miſeries in Hell. And this brings you to the other bleſſed Step, by Converſion; which is the Second Part.

THE # SECOND PART:
EVINCING THE
Poſſibility, Neceſſity, & Excellency,
OF # Converſion to GOD;
THE
Only Thing that makes Men truly Happy, and perfectly Bleſſed, in the World to come.

---

§ I. Conviction ſuppoſed, and Grace admired.

Reaſon and Conſcience having been ſhaming Men out of their Profaneneſs, in the former Part of this Diſcourſe. Free Grace invites them to the Life of Holineſs, and thereby to the Life of Bleſſedneſs, in this Second Part.

There you ſee what it is to live like Beaſts: Here you may ſee what it is to live like Chriſtians.

My Charity commands me to ſuppoſe, that ſome Readers ſtand by this time Convicted in their own Conſciences, both of the extream Wickedneſs, and the immediate Danger of that profane Courſe they have hitherto purſued, and perſiſted in. And that by this time they begin to interrogate them in the Apoſtle's cloſe and cutting Language, Rom. 6. 21. What fruit had ye then in thoſe things, whereof ye are now aſhamed? For the end of theſe things is death. 'Tis hard to imagine, that ſo many cloſe Debates, and Reaſonings, as you have heard in the former Part, ſhould not leave many of you under Conviction and Trouble of Spirit. You ſee your own Reaſons and Conſciences have condemned you: And if our Heart condemn us, (ſaith the Apoſtle) God is greater than our Heart, and knoweth all things, 1 John 3. 20. 'Tis Folly to imagine, you ſhall be acquitted at God's immediate Bar, who are already caſt and condemned at your own Privy Seſſions.

If this be the happy effect (as I hope it is) of all the former cloſe and ſolemn Debates with your Conſciences, it will naturally and immediately caſt thy Soul, Reader, into great admiration of, and aſtoniſhment at the Patience and Long-ſuffering of God, that hath born with thee, under a Life of prodigious and reiterated Provocations until this Day. And his Goodneſs will be as admirable to thee, as his Patience; in that he hath not only ſuffered thee to live 'till this Day, but made it the Day of thy Conviction, the firſt neceſſary Step towards thy Converſion; and the very firſt Things he entertains thy convinced and troubled Soul with, to be the poſſibility and probability of thy Converſion to God.

The Greatneſs of his Patience ſhews his Almighty Power, Rom. 9. 22. Nahum 1. 3. But his willingneſs to paſs by all the Wrongs you have done him, and to be at Peace with you, diſcovers the immenſe Riches of his Grace, Tit. 3. 3, 4.

That God ſhould be ſo quick in the Executions of his Wrath upon your Companions in Sin, and ſo patient and long-ſuffering towards you, that have out-ſinned them all, is ſuch a comparative Conſideration of his Bounty, as ſhould even overwhelm the Man that beholds it, Rom. 11. 22. Behold the goodneſs and ſeverity of God! on them that fell, ſeverity; but towards thee goodneſs.

If thou be that very Man, who in the paſt Courſe of thy Life, haſt been a profane Swearer, a beaſtly Drunkard, a laſcivious Perſon, an Hater and Perſecutor of Good Men; and after all this, the Lord hath brought an Offer of Mercy to thy Soul, and ſhall convince thee it is not come too late, but that the Door of Hope ſtands yet open to thee; my Advice to thee is, That thou caſt thy ſelf down at the Feet of Mercy, and after this manner pour forth thy Laments and Deſires before the Lord.

'And is there yet a poſſibility of Mercy, O Lord God, for ſuch a vile Wretch as I have been! Can the Arms of Free Grace yet open themſelves to embrace ſuch a Monſter of Wickedneſs as I am! Who then is a God like unto thee! And what Patience, Mercy, and Goodneſs is like thine! I have far exceeded others in Sin; I have lived the Life of a Beaſt, yea, of a Devil. I have darted thy dreadful and glorious Name, with thouſands of horrid Blaſphemies, trampled all thy glorious Attributes under my Feet; challenged thee to thy very Face to do thy worſt, even to damn me to the Pit of Hell; I have yielded up this Soul, with all its Noble Faculties and Powers, as Inſtruments of Sin unto the Devil; and made this Body, which ſhould have been the hallowed Temple of thy Spirit, to be the noyſom Sink or Common-Shore for all unclean and abominable Luſts, to run and ſettle in. I have hated, reviled, and perſecuted thoſe that were more ſtrictly, ſoberly, and godly than my ſelf, becauſe their Convincing-Examples diſquieted, checked and convicted my Conſcience in the eager Purſuit of my Luſts and Pleaſures.

‘I have lived in the profane neglect of Prayer, Meditation, Self-reflection, and all other ſpiritual Chriſtian Duties, thinking to make an Atonement for all, by a few hypocritical external Formalities.

‘To accommodate my carnal Intereſt in the World, I have come reeking hot out of an Ale Houſe, or Whore-Houſe, to the Table of the Lord, where with unhallowed Hands, and a more unhallowed Heart, I have crucified again the Lord of Glory; and given the vileſt affront and deſpight to that moſt ſacred and precious Blood, which now muſt ſave me, or I am loſt for ever. Thus have I done; and becauſe thou kepſt ſilent, I thought thee to be altogether ſuch an one as my ſelf. But this Day haſt thou reproved me, and ſet mine Abominations in order before me.

‘I have tempted and induced many others into the ſame Impieties with me, of whom ſome are already gone down to the Dead; and others ſo fixed, and fully engaged in the purſuit of their Luſts, that there appear no Signs of Repentance or Recovery in them.

‘Thy Wrath, Lord, ſoon brake forth againſt the Angels that ſinned in Heaven; yet hitherto haſt thou forborn and ſpared me, who have been highly provoking thee, ever ſince I was born, by a Life of unparallell'd Wickedneſs upon Earth. Vile Wretch that I am! I have deſpiſed the Riches of thy Goodneſs, Forbearance, and Long-ſuffering, not knowing that the Goodneſs of God leadeth me to Repentance. And after all, here I am told, that there is yet a poſſibility of Pardon, Mercy, and Salvation for me. The News is ſo great and ſo good, that I am zealouſly concerned to examine the Grounds and Evidences of it. And if it ſhall appear to be as true, as it is aſtoniſhingly ſtrange and raviſhingly ſweet, I hope it ſhall effectually lead me to Repentance, and diſſolve for ever the ſtrongeſt Ties betwixt me and my Luſts.

§ II. Converſion of the vileſt Sinner poſſible.

THat it is poſſible for the greateſt and moſt infamous Sinner to be recovered by Repentance and Converſion, and thereupon to find Mercy and Forgiveneſs with God, is a Truth as ſure and firm, as it is ſweet and comfortable. Three things will give full Evidence of it.

1. That their Sins do not exceed the Power and Sufficiency of the Cauſes of Remiſſion.
2. That ſuch Sinners are within the Calls and Invitations of the Goſpel.
3. That ſuch Sinners are found among the Inſtances and Examples of Pardoning Mercy, recorded in the Scriptures.

And if the Cauſes of Pardon be ſufficient, and able to produce it; if the Goſpel Invitations do take them in; and ſuch Sinners as theſe, every way as vile and wicked, have not been ſhut out, but received to Mercy; then 'tis beyond all doubt that there is (at leaſt) a poſſibility of Mercy for ſuch Sinners as you are.

I. 'Tis paſt all rational doubt, that the Cauſes of Remiſſion are every way ſufficient and able to produce the Forgiveneſs of ſuch Sins as yours are. For conſider with your ſelves,

The Power of { 1. The Impulſive Cauſe.
2. The Meritorious Cauſe.
3. The Applying Cauſe.

1. The Sufficiency and Ability of the Impulſive Cauſe of Pardon, which is none other but the Free Grace of God, the immenſe Riches and Treaſures whereof, do infinitely exceed the Accompts and Computations both of Angels and Men, Exod. 34. 6,7. And the Lord paſſed by before him, and proclaimed, The Lord, the Lord God, merciful and gracious, long-ſuffering, and abundant in goodneſs and truth, keeping mercy for thouſands, forgiving iniquity, and tranſgreſſion, and ſin. Mic. 7. 18, 19. Who is a God like unto thee, that pardoneth iniquity, and paſſeth by the tranſgreſſions of the remnant of his heritage? He retaineth not his anger for ever, becauſe he delighteth in mercy: He will turn again, he will have compaſſion upon us, he will ſubdue our iniquities, and thou wilt caſt all our ſins into the depths of the Sea. Once more, Rom. 5. 20. Where Sin abounaed, Grace did much more abound. So that whatever thy Sins have been, they do not, they cannot exceed the ability and power of the Grace of God, the all-ſufficient Impulſive Cauſe of Remiſſion. That infinite Abyſs, or Sea of Mercy can ſwallow up and cover ſuch Mountains of Guilt as thine have been.

2. Nor do thy Sins exceed the Power and Ability of the Meritorious Cauſe of Remiſſion, namely, the Blod of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt; for that Blood is the Blood of God, Acts 20. 28. He is the Lamb of God, whoſe Blood is ſufficient to take away the Sins of the World, John 1. 29. There is but one Sin in the World exempt from Remiſſion by this Blood; and if thy Heart be now wounded with the Senſe of Sin (as I here ſuppoſe it to be) that's none of thy Sin, how heinous ſoever thy other Sins be.

3. Nor do thy Sins exceed the Ability and Power of the Applying Cauſe of Pardon, namely, the Spirit of God. For tho' I ſhould ſuppoſe thy Mind to be clouded and overſhadowed with groſſeſt Ignorance, thy Heart to be as hard as an Adamant, or Nether Mil-ſtone, thy Will ſtiff and obſtinate, thy Affections enchanted and bewitched with the Pleaſures of Sin; yet this Spirit of God, in a moment, can make a convincing Beam of Light to dart into thy dark Mind, make thy hard Heart relent, thy ſtubborn Will to bow, and all the Affections of thy Soul to comply, and open obedientially to Chriſt, John 16. 9, 10. The Spirit, when he cometh, he ſhall convince the World of Sin, &c.

Thus you ſee whatever your Guilt be, it does not exceed the Abilities of the Cauſes of Remiſſion. Oh what an Encouragement is this?

II. And there is yet further Encouragement in this, that if you will open your Bibles, you may find your ſelves within the Calls and Invitations of the Goſpel. And no Man can ſay, that Man is without hope, that is within a Goſpel-Invitation. Conſider Iſa. 55. 7, 8. Let the wicked forſake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts, and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him, and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon: For my Thoughts are not your Thoughts, &c. Here you have the Nature of Converſion deſcribed Negatively and Poſitively, by forſaking your Ways and Thoughts, and turning to the Lord. The Way notes the external Courſe of the Converſation; the Thoughts denote the internal Frame and Temper of the Mind; both theſe muſt be forſaken. And turning to the Lord, denotes the ſincere Delicacy of the whole Man to God; all which is poſſible and eaſie for the Spirit of God to do; and this being once done, abundant Pardon is aſſured. If you ſay you cannot think it; God tells you in the very next Words, That his Thoughts are not your Thoughts, but as far above them as the Heavens are higher than the Earth. Read to the ſame purpoſe, Iſaiah 1. 18. Rev. 3. 20. John 7. 37.

III. And to make the poſſibility of Remiſſion yet clearer, know for your encouragement, that as vile, infamous, and prodigious Sinners as your ſelves, are recorded and found amongſt the Inſtances and Examples of forgiven Sinners in Scripture. Paul was once a fierce and cruel Perſecutor and Blaſphemer, yet he obtained Mercy, 1 Tim. 1. 13, 14. That ſinful Woman recorded Luke 7. 37, 38. was an infamous and a notorious Sinner, yet her Sins, which were many, were forgiven her, v. 47. Manaſſeh was a Monſter of Wickedneſs, as you may read, 2 Chron. 33. yet found Mercy. And if you view that Catalogue of Sinners given in 1 Cor. 6. 9, 10. you will ſeem to find among them the very Forlorn-hope of deſperate Sinners, advanced neareſt to Hell of any Men upon Earth; yet ſee ver. 11. what is ſaid of ſome of them: And ſuch were ſome of you; but ye are waſhed, but ye are juſtified.

All theſe things plainly ſhew (I ſay not the Certainty that you ſhall be, but) the Poſſivility that you may be pardoned; which is a Mercy and Encouragement unſpeakable.

§ III. The Converſion of Profane Ones highly probable.

AND becauſe Satan labours to diſcourage them that are gone in Sin ſo far as you are, by cutting off all Hopes of Mercy from them, and bringing them to this deſperate Concluſion, Damned we know we ſhall and muſt be; and therefore as good be damned for more, as leſs. If we had lived ſober and civil Lives, we might have had ſome hope; but becauſe we have no hope, 'tis as good for us to take our full Swinge in Sin, as to think of returning by Repentance and Converſion, ſo late in the Day as this is.

To obviate this deadly Snare of Satan, I ſhall here further add, That there is not only a Poſſibility of your recovery, but in ſome reſpect a ſtronger Poſſibility, that ſuch as you may be converted and ſaved, than there is for thoſe that have led a ſmoother and more civil Life in the World, and wholly truſt to their own Civility for their Salvation, inſtead of the imputed Righteouſneſs of Chriſt.

This plainly appears by that convictive Expreſſion of Chriſt to the Scribes and Phariſees, Mat. 21. 31. Verily I ſay unto you, That the Pulicans and Harlots go into the Kingdom of Heaven before you. Publicans, the moſt infamous among Men; and Harlots, the worſt of Women; yet theſe are ſooner wrought over to Chriſt by Faith and Repentance, than the more civil and ſelf-righteous Scribes and Phariſees.

And indeed, 'tis far eaſier to come at the Conſciences of ſuch Sinners by Conviction, than at the others. They having nothing to ward off the Stroke of Conviction: It muſt fall directly and immediately upon their Conſciences. The moſt ſmooth and civil part of the World truſt to their own Righteouſneſs, and this Self-confidence, like Armour of Proof, reſiſts all Attempts to bring them to Chriſt for Righteouſneſs. Nothing fixes Men in a ſtate of Evil more, than a ſtrong Conceit that their Condition is good.

But ſuch as you are, whoſe whole Lives have been polluted with Profaneneſs and all Impiety, your Conſciences will more eaſily receive Convictions of your preſent danger, and of the neceſſity of a ſpeedy and thorough change. You cannot think as others do, that you need no Repentance or Reformation. In this reſpect, therefore, you lie nearer the Door of Hope and Mercy, than other Sinners do.

If therefore it ſhall pleaſe the Lord (whoſe Grace is rich and free to the vileſt of Sinners) to pluck out ſuch as you, as Brands out of the burning, by thorough Converſion to Chriſt, you will not only become real Chriſtians (as all true Converts are) but the moſt excellent, uſeful, and zealous amongſt all Chriſtians. As you will be moſt eminent Inſtances of his Grace, ſo will you be the moſt eminent Inſtruments for his Glory. As you have gone beyond other Sinners in Wickedneſs, ſo you will ſtrive to exceed them all in your Love to Chriſt, Luke 7. 47. She loved much, for much was forgiven her. You'll never think you can do enough for him, who hath done ſuch great things for you.

Who more fierce and vile before Converſion, than Paul, who was a Blaſphemer, a Perſecutor, and Injurious, 1 Tim. 1. 13? And who among all the Servants of Chriſt loved or laboured for him more than he? How did he rather fly, than travel up and down the World, in a Flame of Zeal for Chriſt? As you have been Ring-leaders in Sin, ſo you will not endure to come behind any in Zeal and Love to the Lord Jeſus: Yet not thinking this way to make him a Requital for the Injuries you have done him (that would be the moſt injurious Act of all the reſt): But to teſtifie this way the deep ſence you have of the Riches and Tranſcendency of his Goodneſs and Mercy to you above others.

§ IV. Converſion frequently and fatally miſtaken.

BUT here I muſt warn you of ſome common, but moſt dangerous Miſtakes committed in the World with reſpect to Converſion unto God. Except theſe be ſeaſonably prevented or removed, none of you will ever ſtir or move further than you are towards Chriſt. Amongſt others, beware eſpecially of theſe three following fatal Miſtakes; that of,

1. Baptiſmal Regeneration.
2. Common Profeſſion of Chriſtianity.
3. Formality in Religious Duties.

1. There is a Notion ſpread among Men, and almoſt every-where obtaining, That the Scriptures mean nothing elſe by Converſion, but to be baptized in our Infancy into the viſible Church; and that this Ordinance having paſt upon them long ago, they are ſufficiently converted already; and that Men make but a needleſs Stir and Buſtle in the World about any other, or further Converſion.

But, Sirs, I beſeech you conſider how dangerous a thing it is, to take your own Shadow for a Bridge; and venturing upon it, drown your ſelves. If Baptiſm be Converſion enough, why doth Chriſt ſay, Mark 16. 16. He that believeth and is baptized, ſhall be ſaved; but he that believeth not, ſhall be damned? Baptiſm without Faith, ſignifies nothing to Salvation; but Faith without Baptiſm (where it cannot be had) ſecures Salvation. And why doth the Apoſtle ſay, Gal. 6. 15. Neither Circumciſion, nor Uncircumciſion availeth any thing, but a new Creature? Or what needed Chriſt to have preſſed and inculcated the indiſpenſible neceſſity of Regeneration upon Nicodemus, as he doth, Joh. 3. 3, 5, 7. who had been many Years a circumciſed Jew? This your dangerous dependance upon your Baptiſmal Regeneration, is what hath given ſuch deep offence and prejudice to many (tho' without juſt cauſe) againſt that Ordinance. I lament it as much as they, that Men ſhould turn it into ſuch a deadly Snare to their own Souls, yet will ſtill honour Chriſt's abuſed Ordinance.

2. Some think the common Profeſſion of Chriſtianity, makes them Chriſtians enough. They are no Heathens, Mahometans, or idolatrous Papiſts, but Proteſtants, within the Pale of the True Church; that is, profeſſed Reformed Chriſtians.

But Friends, I beg you to conſider, that convictive Text, 1 Cor. 4. 20. The Kingdom of God is not in word, but in power. Many there be, that in Words confeſs Chriſt, but in Works they deny him. And why were the fooliſh Virgins (that is, profeſſed Reformed Chriſtians) ſhut out of the Kingdom of God; if the Lamps of verbal Profeſſion, without the Oyl of internal Godlineſs, were enough for our Salvation? Mat. 25. 3, 12. Believe it, Sirs, many will claim Acquaintance with Chriſt upon this account, and expect Favour from him in the Great Day, of whom he will profeſs he never knew them, Mat. 7. 22. Chriſt need not have put Men upon ſtriving as in an Agony to enter in at the ſtrait Gate, if Baptiſm in our Infancy, or Verbal Profeſſion of Chriſtianity were all the Difficulties Men had to encounter in the Way to Heaven.

3. Formality in external Duties of Religion, is another fatal Miſtake of Converſion. Have not theſe been the inward Thoughts of your Hearts: As bad as we are, tho' we take liberty to Swear, be Drunk, and Unclean ſometimes; yet we ſay our Prayers, keep our Church, and hope for Heaven and Salvation, as well as thoſe that are more preciſe?

But tell me, Gentlemen, ſeriouſly, What do you ſay or plead for your ſelves more in all this, than thoſe convicted Hypocrites did, Iſa. 58. 2. Yet they ſeek me daily, and delight to know my ways, as a Nation that did Righteouſneſs, and forſook not the Ordinances of their God: They ask of me the Ordinances of Juſtice; they take delight in approaching to God. Or to come nearer yet to your Caſe, and cut off at one ſtroke for ever this vain Plea of yours, read and ponder God's own Cenſure of it, in Jer. 7. 8, 9, 10, 11, 12. Behold, ye truſt in lying words, that cannot profit: Will ye Steal, Murder, commit Adultery, and ſwear falſly, &c. and come and ſtand before me in this Houſe, which is called by my Name, and ſay we are delivered to do all theſe Abominations? Is this Houſe which is called by my Name, become a Den of Robbers in your Eyes? Behold, even I have ſeen it, ſaith the Lord; but go ye now to my place, which was in Shilo, where I ſet my Name at the firſt, and ſee what I did to it, for the Wickedneſs of my People Iſrael.

§ V. Of the Nature of true Converſion.

YOU have heard that Converſion does not conſiſt in theſe external things; at your eternal peril be it, if you truſt in them. But true Converſion is the turning of the whole Man to God, Acts 26. 18. 'Tis nothing leſs than the total change of the inward Temper and Frame of the Heart, and the external Courſe of the Life, Iſa. 55. 8. 'Tis not the cold confeſſion, but the real forſaking of Sin, in which we ſhall find Mercy, Prov. 28. 13. Thy Heart and Will, Love and Delight, muſt turn Sin out, and take Chriſt in, or thou art no Goſpel-Convert. A true Convert loaths every Sin, and himſelf for Sin, Ezek. 36. 31. But general Confeſſions of Sin, are conſiſtent with the full Dominion of Sin. Moreover, in all true Converſion there is a poſitive turning unto God, a whole Heart-choice of him for your ſupreme and ultimate Happineſs and Portion, Pſal. 73. 25. And of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, as your Prince and Saviour, Acts 5. 31. And anſwerably it will devote your whole Life to his Service and Glory, Phil. 1. 21. And thus it brings forth the New Man. And the whole Frame of your Heart and Life, is marvellouſly changed and altered, 2 Cor. 5. 17. Old things are paſſed away, behold all things are become new.

It may be you will think ſuch a change as this impoſſible to be made upon you. And ſo it is indeed, until the Day of God's Power come, Pſalm 110. 3. What! to forſake with loathing your old Companions and Courſes, which you have ſo long lived with, and delighted in, and to embrace with higheſt pleaſure ſtrict Godlineſs, which you have ſo loathed and ridiculed! This would be a ſtrange alteration indeed. But as ſtrange as it ſeems to be, 'twill be effected in a moment, when God fulfils that gracious Promiſe (as I hope he is now doing) to you, Ezek. 36. 26. A new Heart alſo will I give you, and a new Spirit will I put within you: Operations follow Natures. When the Heart of a Beaſt was given to that great King Nebuchadnezzar, Dan. 5. 21. his Dwelling was with the wild Aſſes, they fed him with Graſs like Oxen. But let the Spirit of a Man return to him again, and he'll bluſh to think of his brutiſh Company, and way of Life: And ſo will you of yours alſo. As marvellous a change as this, has paſt upon as eminent and notorious Sinners as your ſelves, Gal. 1. 22. the God of the Spirits of all Fleſh can with eaſe and ſpeed produce all this by that Almighty Power, whereby he is able to ſubdue all things to himſelf.

§ VI. Of the Hazards attending Converſion.

IF the Lord ſhall in his rich Grace and Mercy to your Souls, ſtir up in them the Thoughts and Reſolutions of a change of your Courſe, great care ought to be taken in the time of this change, leſt they miſcarry in their remove from one State to another. Multitudes miſcarry betwixt a State of Profaneneſs, and true Godlineſs. To continue in the State of Profaneneſs, is to be certainly loſt; and ſo it is to take up ſhort of Chriſt in meer Civility and Formality in Religion. This Middle State takes up Multitudes by the Way, who do but change the open Road for a more private Way to Hell.

Meer Civilized Nature, is Unregenerated Nature ſtill. They return, but not to the Moſt High; they are like a deceitful Bow, ſaith the Prophet, Hoſ. 7. 16. They ſeem to aim at Chriſt and Salvation; but as an Arrow from a weak Bow, it goes not home; or as from a deceitful Bow, it ſlents aſide, and miſſes the Mark. 'Tis true, they are not openly profane, as they were before; but they take up and ſettle in an Unregenerate State ſtill. Their Condition is the ſame, tho' their Company be not.

This is excellently ſet forth by our Saviour, Mat. 12. 43, 44, 45. The Devil may be caſt out as a profane Devil, and yet keep his Propriety ſtill as a formal Devil. The Sence of that Text is well expreſſed by one in this Note upon it, That a reſtraint by Formality keeps the Devil's Propriety, and diſpoſes the Soul to final Apoſtacy. You are as far from Chriſt and Salvation under the Power of Formality, as you were before. He that's cured of a Fever, hath no great cauſe to rejoyce, if his Fever have left him under a Conſumption, which will kill him as ſurely, tho' it may be leſs violently or ſpeedily.

§ VII. Of the abſolute Neceſſity of a thorough Change.

WHatever the Difficulties and Hazards be that attend this Change by Converſion unto God, the Change it ſelf is abſolutely and indiſpenſibly neceſſary to every Man's Salvation. The Door of Salvation can never be open'd without the Key of Regeneration. Chriſt aſſures Civil and Formal Nicodemus, That except he be born again, he cannot ſee the Kingdom of God, Joh. 3. 3. Think not Converſion to be the attainment of ſome ſingular and extraordinary Chriſtians; for 'tis the very Point upon which every Man's eternal Happineſs or Miſery depends. There is one Law for all the World, They muſt be changed or damned. No Reſtitutions or Reformations, no common Gifts or Abilities, no Religious Duties or Services, can ſave any Man from Hell without a Change by thorough Converſion, Rom. 8. 8. They that are in the Fleſh, cannot pleaſe God.

Satisfie and pleaſe not your ſelves with this: Tho' we live in Sin, yet God is a merciful God; we will confeſs our Sins to him, ſay our Prayers, keep our Church, and no doubt, but God will be merciful to us, as well as others. Conſider it, Man, that this merciful God is alſo a God of Truth; and this God of Truth hath plainly aſſured thee, That all theſe external things ſignifie nothing to thy Salvation, unleſs thou become a new Creature, Gal. 6. 15. And that thou muſt be born again, John 3. 3. Say not without this, you will hope in God. If you hope in God, you muſt hope in his Word, Pſalm 119. 81. Now where will you find that Word in the Bible, that warrants the hope of Salvation in an unregenerate Perſon? All Scriptural Hope is of a purifying nature, and evermore productive of an Holy Life, 1 John 3. 3.

If you ſay, Chriſt died for the greateſt of Sinners, and you truſt to be ſaved through him: 'Tis true he did ſo; but Converſion is his only Method of Salvation, Tit. 2. 14. And thoſe that are not waſhed by Sanctification, have no part in him, or in his Blood, John 13. 8. He came not to ſave Men continuing in their Sins, but to ſave his People from their Sins, Mat. 1. 21. His way is to lead you through Sanctification unto Salvation, 2 Theſ. 2. 13. If you have a Mind to ſee whom and how he ſaves, you have it before your Eyes, Tit. 2. 14. Who gave himſelf for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purifie unto himſelf a peculiar People, zealous of good Works. Thoſe only are ſaved by him, that denying Ungodlineſs and worldly Luſts, live not only ſoberly and righteouſly, but godly in this preſent World.

And this is the Change I am here preſſing you to: And until this Change be made, you cannot find your ſelves within the Compaſs of any Covenant-Promiſe, Eph. 2. 12. But if you will turn to Heb. 12. 14. You may the very next Minute find your ſelves barr'd out of Heaven by a Scripture-threatning. Let no Man therefore impoſe ſo great a Cheat upon his own Soul, as once to imagine, that any thing ſhort of ſound Converſion, can ever put him out of the danger of Damnation.

§ VIII. Every Man might do more than he doth towards his own Converſion.

IT is not in any Man's Power to convert himſelf: but yet becauſe every Man might do more towards it than he doth do, and doth it not, he is juſtly chargeable with his own Damnation. We are bid and and bound to ſtrive to enter in at the ſtrait Gate, Luke 13. 24. 'Tis true, a Man in his natural ſtate can do nothing that is ſpiritually or ſupernaturally good; yet he can do, and forbear to do many things, the doing or forbearing of which have a true, tho' remoter Tendency to his Converſion; and not doing or forbearing of them, his Deſtruction is of, and from himſelf.

You can, if you will, forbear to ſwear and blaſpheme the Name of God: Who can, or does, compel, or force your Tongues to it? The Devil can tempt, but not compel them. You can, if you will, ſtop, when Nature is duly refreſhed: Your wicked Companions can provoke, but not force you. You can, if you pleaſe, ſhun laſcivious Books and Company, and keep your Bodies chaſt, at leaſt from the external Acts of Uncleanneſs.

And why cannot you (if you pleaſe) perform, as well as neglect, the external Acts of Religious Duties? The ſame Feet that carry you to a Tavern, can carry you to your Cloſets, if you pleaſe to have them do ſo. Nor do I know any Reaſon why you cannot compoſe your ſelves, when engaged in God's publick or private Worſhip, to a cloſe and ſerious attendance to thoſe Duties. The Application of the Mind to what is ſpoken, is of great concernment to you: And if an unſanctified Miniſter can apply his Thoughts to compoſe a Sermon and preach it, I ſee no Reaſon why an unſanctified Hearer may not alſo compoſe and apply his Mind to hear it. And I am paſt all doubt, that ſomething may be done beyond all this. You have ſome power certainly to reflect upon, and conſider what Concernment you have in the Things you read or hear, and how they agree, or diſagree with your Experience.

Now if Men would but do this (which certainly they have a power to do) tho' they cannot convert themſelves, yet thereby they would lie in the hopeful way of Converting Grace; which is more than they could ever yet be perſwaded to do. And tho' there be no poſitive Certainty or Aſſurance, that Converſion and Salvation ſhall follow theſe Acts; yet Hope and Probability are Engagements enough. Hope ſets all the World on work without Aſſurance. The Plough-man ploughs in hope, and the Merchants ventures in hope. Do but as much for your Souls, as theſe do for their Bodies.

§ IX. Temptations and Diſcouragements in the Way of Converſion.

BUT here I expect to be encountered by all the Policy and Power of Hell. Satan and your own Luſts are in Confederacy to turn away your Minds from ſuch Counſel and Perſwaſions as theſe. They will tell you, this is no proper Seaſon to mind your Converſion: 'tis either too ſoon, or too late. You have not yet had Pleaſure enough in Sin, or ſo much as hath put you beyond all hope of Mercy: That Religion is a melancholy thing, and if once you look that way, you'll never have a merry Day, or Hour, more. With a thouſand ſuch Damps and Diſcouragements.

But pray, Gentlemen, do ſo much at leaſt for your Souls, before you turn away your Ear from the Inſtructions of Life, as to hear theſe Matters examined. If they be not worth that, they are worth nothing.

I will ſuppoſe you in the Flower and Vigour of your Youth, and this dangerous Seaſon now nick'd with a more dangerous Temptation, that it is too ſoon to mind ſuch ſerious Matters now: You have not yet had your full Pleaſure out of Sin.

Need I to ſpend a word to refute and baffle ſuch a Temptation as this? I doubt not but you your ſelves can eaſily do it. Ask your ſelves, Sirs, if Sentence of Death were paſs'd upon you by Men (as it is by God, John 3. 18. He that believeth not is condemned already) would you think a Pardon could come too ſoon? Be aſſured every Bit of Bread you eat, is the Bread of the Condemned. You are in hazard of Hell every Day and Hour: There wants nothing but a Sword, a Bullet, a Shipwrack, or Diſeaſe, (of which Multitudes wait on you every Day) to put you beyond Mercy, and all hopes of Mercy. And can you get too ſoon (think you) out of this Danger and Miſery? Oh, why do you linger any longer? The Danger is too great and imminent to admit one Hours longer delay.

And it is as ſtrange and ſtrong a Deluſion on the other ſide, to fancy it is now too late. The Vanity and Groundleſneſs of this hath been evinced in the Second Section, to which I refer you for full Satiſfaction.

And for the loſs of your Pleaſures by Converſion to God, that's the thinneſt and ſillieſt Pretence of all the reſt. That's the ſame thing as to imagine it is to a Thirſty Man's loſs, to leave the Puddle-waters of a broken Ciſtern, to enjoy the Criſtal Streams of a flowing Fountain: For the Pleaſures of an Ale-houſe, Play-houſe, or Whore-houſe, to be ſweeter than the Light of God's Countenance, the Comforts of his Pardon, or the lively Hopes of Glory with him in Heaven, of which you read, 1 Pet. 1. 8.

Poor Men! O that you did but once know what the Life of Holineſs, and Dedication to God is! What the Seals, Earneſt, and Firſt-fruits of his Spirit are! How willingly and joyfully would you trample all the ſordid Pleaſures of Sin under your Feet, to enjoy them!

§ X. Motives and Conſiderations perſwading to Converſion.

THis ſhort Diſcourſe ſhall wind up it ſelf in Motives and Conſiderations to prevail with you, not only to make the firſt Step out of Profaneneſs to Civility; but the other neceſſary and happy Step too, for the Lord's ſake, Gentlemen, that bleſſed Step beyond meer Civility, to ſerious Godlineſs.

Oh, that I knew what Words to chuſe, and what Arguments to urge, that might poſſibly prevail with you! My Witneſs is in Heaven, I would do any thing within my power to procure your temporal and eternal Happineſs. I beg you in the Bowels of Chriſt Jeſus, as if I were upon my bended Knees before your Feet, turn not away your Eye or Ear from theſe Diſcourſes. Ponder and conſider once and again what hath been rationally debated in the Firſt Part, about your Reformation, and what hath and ſhall be offered in this Second Part.

Oh, my God! thou that haſt counted me faithful, and put me into the Miniſtry; thou that haſt inclined my Heart to make this Attempt, and encouraged me with hope that it ſhall not be in vain to all them that read it, if it muſt be ſo to ſome; I beſeech thee, lay the Hand of thy Spirit upon the Heart and Hand of thy Servant, ſtrengthen and guide him in drawing the Bow of the Goſpel, and directing the Arrows, that they may ſtrike the Mark he aims it, even the Conviction and Converſion of lewd and diſſolute Sinners. Command theſe Conſiderations to ſtay and ſettle in their Hearts, 'till they bring them fully over to thy ſelf in Chriſt.

1. Conſideration. And Firſt, O that you would conſider how the whole of your Life paſt hath been caſt away in vain, as to the Great End and Buſineſs you came into the World for. You have breathed many Years, but not lived one Day to God. Your Conſciences could never yet prevail with you to get out of the Noiſe and Hurry of the World, and go along with it into ſome private Retiring-place, to debate the State of your Souls, and think cloſe (but for one Hour) to ſuch awful Subjects as God, Soul, Chriſt, and Eternity, Heaven, Hell, Death, and Judgment. Do you think, Gentlemen, that you came into this World to do nothing elſe but to eat and drink, ſport and play, ſleep and die? Aſk your ſelves, I beſeech you, whether the Life you have hitherto lived, have looked to your own Eyes like an earneſt Flight from Hell, and a ſerious Purſuit of Heaven and Salvation? How much nearer are you got to Chriſt now, than you were when in your Cradles? The ſweeteſt and fitteſt part of your Life is paſt away in Vanity, and there's no calling one Day or Hour of it back again.

2. Conſideration. Conſider, Gentlemen, for Chriſt Jeſus ſake, you have yet an opportunity to be eternally happy, if you will ſlight and neglect Opportunities of Salvation no longer. The Door of Mercy is not yet finally ſhut up. The Lord Jeſus yet waits to be gracious to you. Such is his aſtoniſhing Grace and Mercy, he will pardon and paſs by all that you have done againſt him; if now, after all, you will but come unto him that you may have Life. Turn ye, turn ye, for why will ye die? Your Swearing and Blaſpheming, your Drunkenneſs, Uncleanneſs, and Enmity at Godlineſs, ſhall never be mentioned, if you will yet repent and return, Ezek. 18. 21, 22. If the Wicked will turn from all his Sins that he hath committed, and keep all my Statutes, and do that which is lawful and right, he ſhall ſurely live, he ſhall not die. All his tranſgreſſions that he hath committed, they ſhall not be mentioned unto him.

If you ſay, theſe are hard and impoſſible Terms to Nature. 'Tis true they are ſo; and God's end in urging them here upon you, is to convince you of your Natural Impotence, and drive you to Chriſt, that by Union with him, the Righteouſneſs of the Law might be fulfilled in you.

3. Conſideration. Let it be throughly conſidered, 'tis no leſs than Salvation, and your own Salvation too, which depends upon your Converſion. How diligent was Chriſt in purchaſing Salvation! How negligent and remiſs are we in applying it! Oh, what Compoſitions of Sloth and Stupidity are unconverted Sinners! How do they ſit with folded Arms, as if it were eaſie to periſh? Is this your running and ſtriving to obtain the Palms and Crowns of Immortal Glory? Work out (ſaith the Apoſtle, Phil. 2. 12, 13.) your own Salvation with fear and trembling. 'Tis for Salvation, and nothing leſs, you are here preſſed to ſtrive. And what Care, Pains, or Sollicitude of ours can be equal and proportionate to ſo great a thing as Salvation? If every Thought of the Heart were reſcued from all other Concerns, and the Mind ſtand continually fixed with utmoſt Intention upon this Subject, ſurely ſuch a Subject deſerves it all, and much more.

But when you conſider it is not another's, but your own Salvation you are ſtriving for, how powerfully ſhould the Principle of Self-preſervation awaken and invigorate your utmoſt Endeavours after it! The Law of Charity, and Bowels of Mercy, would compel us to do much to ſave the Body, and much more the Soul of another; and will they move us to do nothing for our own Salvation?

Say not, if I ſhould be careleſs and neglective, yet God is good and gracious; if this Seaſon be neglected, there be more to come. Alas! that's more than you know. 'Tis poſſible your eternal Happineſs may depend upon the Improvement of this preſent Opportunity. There's much of time in a ſhort Opportunity.

4. Conſideration. Do you think your Hearts would be in ſuch a dead, careleſs, and unconcerned Frame, about this great and awful Matter of your Converſion and Salvation, if thoſe things were now before your Eyes, which certainly and ſhortly muſt be before them?

How rational and neceſſary is it for you now to ſuppoſe thoſe very things, as preſent before you, which you know to be near you, and a few Days or Hours will make preſent? Here let me make a few Suppoſitions, ſo rational, becauſe certainly future and near, that no wiſe Man will, or dare to ſlight them, as Fictions, or Chimera's.

1. Suppoſition. Suppoſe your ſelves now upon your Death-beds, your Heart and Breath failing, your Eye and Heart-ſtrings breaking, all earthly Comforts failing and ſhrinking from you; theſe things, you know, are unavoidable, and muſt ſhortly befal you, Eccleſ. 8. 8. Suppoſe alſo in theſe your laſt Extremities, your Conſciences ſhould awake (as probably they will, there being now no more Charms of Pleaſure, and ſinful Companions to divert or ſtupifie them) what a Caſe will you find your ſelves in! What a cold Sweat will then lie upon your panting Boſoms! What a pale Horror will appear in your Countenances? Will you not then wiſh, Oh that the time I have ſpent in Vanity, had been ſpent in the Duties of ſerious Piety! Oh that I had been as careful of my Soul, as I was of my Body! What are the Pains of Mortification, which I was ſo afraid of, to the Pains of Damnation, which I begin to ſcent and apprehend! I thought it hard to pray, mourn, and deny my ſelf, but I ſhall find it harder to grapple with the Wrath of an incenſed God to all Eternity.

2. Suppoſition. Suppoſe your ſelves now to be at the Judgment-Seat of God, where you know you muſt be immediately after Death; or that you did behold the Proceſs, and awful Solemnity of the General Judgment of the Great Day, both which Appearances are indiſputably ſure and certain, Heb. 9. 27. 2 Cor. 5. 10. Suppoſe you ſaw all Adam's Poſterity there aſſembled and convened, even Multitudes, Multitudes, which no Man can number; all theſe ſeparated into two grand Diviſions; Chriſt the Supream and Final Judge upon the Judgment-Seat, the Chriſtleſs and Unregenerate World, quivering at the Bar, the laſt Sentence pronouncing on them, the Executioners ſtanding ready to take them away: Will you not then (think you) be ready to tear your ſelves with Indignation, for this your ſupine and ſottiſh Careleſneſs? A Voice from the Throne, like the Voice of a Trumpet, ſounds a loud Alarm to all Careleſs, Negligent, and Trifling Sinners; and this is the Voice, if you will not be in the ſame Caſe with the miſerable condemned World. Put to it heartily then, in the uſe of all means with God and Men, for Converting and Regenerating Grace now, which is the only thing that differences your State from thoſe miſerable Wretches then.

3. Suppoſition. Suppoſe God did but give you a Fore-ſight, or Fore-taſte, in the Terrors of your Conſciences, of that Damnation you have jeſted at, and ſo often imprecated upon your ſelves; did you but lie one Night in that Plight poor Spira, and many others beſide him have done, with the Terrors of the Lord upon your Spirits, under Horror and Remorſe of Conſcience, which are the firſt Niblings and Bitings of that Worm that ſhall never die:

———Tum pallida mens eſt,
Criminibus, tacitâ ſudant præcordia culpâ.

Paleneſs and Horror, Fear and Trembling upon the outward and inward Man, whilſt God is making the immediate Impreſſions of his Wrath upon the Conſcience; ſeeming to want ſome one to let out that miſerable wretched Soul, that is weary to ſtay any longer in the Body, and yet afraid to be diſlodged, leſt its Condition be made worſe by the exchange; do you think you would ever imprecate Damnation any more? And yet all theſe Terrors and Horrors upon the Conſcience, are but as the Sweating of Marble-ſtones before the great Rain fall.

But what if God ſhould give you a Viſion of Hell it ſelf, and of the inconceivable and unexpreſſible Miſery of thoſe deſperate and forlorn Wretches, that lie there ſweltring and groaning under the heavy Preſſures of the Wrath of a great and terrible God, immediately and everlaſtingly tranſacted upon their Souls? Would you ever jeſt with Damnation any more, as with an harmleſs thing? Nay, would you not ſtrive to the uttermoſt to flee from this Wrath to come? Do you not ſeem to hear in this rational and juſt Suppoſition, a doleful Cry coming from Hell, and the State of the Damned, with this very Sound and Senſe; Good Souls, if ever you expect to be delivered from this State and Place of Torments, ſtrive to the utmoſt, ſtrive while you have Opportunity, ſtrive whilſt Breath and Strength do laſt, to flee from, and eſcape by a ſound Converſion, this doleful State of eternal Damnation.

4. Suppoſition. Laſtly, and in a Word: Suppoſe you had a Viſion of Heaven, as Stephen and Paul had in the Body; ſuppoſe you ſaw the Glory of God, and Jeſus ſtanding at his Right-hand, ſurrounded with the triumphant Myriads of Palm-baring Saints, ſinging Hoſanna's and Allelujahs to God, and the Lamb for ever, and Bleſſing, Praiſing, and Admiring Him, that gave them another Spirit, vaſtly different from that which governs ſuch as you; Bleſſing the Lord that enabled them to be Praying and Praiſing, whilſt others were Curſing and Swearing; to be Sighing and Groaning for Sin in ſecret, whilſt others were Shouting and Singing, in Taverns and Alehouſes; to beat down their Bodies, and keep them under, whilſt others were pleaſing and gratifying their Luſts; would you ſtill drive that Courſe you do? Well, Sirs, if ever you expect to come where theſe Bleſſed Ones are, you muſt take the Courſe they did. Let this be your Endeavour, and it ſhall be my fervent and hearty Prayer.

A # Coronation-Sermon,
Preached at # DARTMOUTH.

CANT. III. xi.

Go forth ye Daughters of Zion, and behold King Solomon, with the Crown wherewith his Mother Crowned him in the Day of his Eſpouſals, and in the Day of the Gladneſs of his Heart.

A Crown is the Top of Earthly Glory, the Culminating Point of Humane Dignity. Pſal. 21. 2, 3. Thou haſt given him his Heart's Deſire, thou haſt ſet a Crown of pure Gold upon his Head. The Ambition of the many, moves in various Spheres below it, the Ambition of none aſpires above it ; except it be that Anomalous Monſter, the Man of Sin, who affects to ſit in the very Throne of God, and exalts himſelf above all that is called God, 2 Theſ. 2. 4.

When God puts a Crown upon the Head, and a Scepter into the Hand of a Man, he engraves upon that Man in a qualified Senſe, both his Name, and the lively Characters of his Majeſty and Authority, Pſal. 82. 6. I have ſaid ye are Gods, and all of you the Children of the Moſt High : But yet in all the Grants and Conveyances of Heaven, there is always a Reſervation and Salvo to the Divine Prerogative , to * diſplace it at pleaſure, and ſet it upon what Head he ſhall pleaſe, Ezek. 21.26. Thus ſaith the Lord God, Remove the Diadem, and take off the Crown ; this ſhall not be the ſame, exalt him that is low, and abaſe him that is high.

* Deponit Reges, diſponit Regna.

Tho' Dominion be not founded in Grace, yet Grace both embelliſhes and ſecures the Dominion of Men ; the Princes of the Earth owe Fealty and Homage to Jeſus Chriſt ; and had ſome of them been more ſubject to his Laws, their Kingdoms had flouriſhed , and their Government beeen more auſpicious.

Pſal. 2. 10, 11, 11, 12.

The Coronation-Day of a King, is, in a Sence, the Marriage-Day betwixt him and his People, and is accordingly ſolemnized with all the Signs and Demonſtrations of Joy and Gladneſs : For the Shout of a King is among them. Thus when the Crown of Iſrael was ſet upon the Head of Solomon, the Scripture repreſents their exuberant Joy in an elegant and lofty Hyperbole, 1 Kings 1. 40. And all the People came up after him, and the People piped with Pipes, and rejoyced with great Joy, ſo that the Earth rent with the Sound of them.

Carnal Men rejoyce carnally, and ſpiritual Men ſhould rejoyce ſpiritually. The moſt glorious Part of the Solemnity of ſuch a Day, conſiſts in,

1. Praiſes and Prayers for him that wears the Crown.
2. In a Spiritual Improvement of the Action to our ſelves.

1. In Praiſes and Prayers for the King whom God hath ſet over us : Your Prayers and Praiſes reflect more Glory upon the Crown, than all the Jewels and ſparkling Stones with which it ſhines ; and ſo I am perſwaded our King will account it, according to Zech. 12. 5. The Governours of Judah ſhall ſay in their Hearts, The Inhabitants of Jeruſalem ſhall be my ſtrength, in the Lord of Hoſts their God.

Praiſe thy God, O England ! for ſetting thy Crown this Day upon the Head of a Proteſtant Prince, who accounted not his Treaſures, or Blood, dear unto him, to redeem the Intereſt of Chriſt out of the Dangers that were ready to ſwallow it up.

Pray fervently for your King this Day ; the Concernments of the People of God are ſo great in him, as that they exact from all the Saints the uttermoſt Importunity in Prayer :

(1.) That God would cleanſe and waſh the Crown of England, from all that Guilt and Pollution it hath contracted under former Governments, that the Sins of the Crown may not deſcend with it.

(2.) That the Royal Head on which it ſhall be ſet this Day, may be filled with the Wiſdom of God, and match'd with an holy Heart, inflamed with Love to God, and Zeal for his Glory.

(3.) That as ſoon as Men have ſet the Crown upon his Head, he may chearfully take it off again, and caſt it at the Feet of Jeſus Chriſt, as the Twenty-four Elders did, Rev. 4. 10. And the Twenty-four Elders fell down before him that ſat on the Throne, and worſhipped him that liveth for ever and ever; and caſt their Crowns before the Throne, &c.

(4.) That God would make the Crown ſit eaſie and long upon his Royal Head. Eaſie, becauſe Crowns are uſually lined with thorny Cares; and Long, for the Church's Peace and Tranquility.

(2*dly*,) The next thing belonging to the due Solemnity of this Day, will be the Spiritual Improvement, of the whole Scene of Actions, to your own Inſtruction, and Spiritual Advantage; and this will be much more glorious than all the Triumphant Arches, Royal Robes, Thundering Guns, and Loud Acclamations of the People. To this purpoſe, I have choſen this Text, for the Direction, and Spiritualizing of the Duties of the Day. Go forth ye Daughters of Zion, and behold King Solomon, with the Crown wherewith his Mother crowned him, in the Day of his Eſpouſals, and in the Day of the Gladneſs of his Heart.

This Book of the Canticles, is a Spiritual Epithalamium, ſung in Parts, betwixt the Heavenly Bridegroom, and the Bride. The Matter of it is moſt ſpiritual and weighty, the Stile of it rapturous and lofty; the intimate Union and Communion of Chriſt and the Church, is elegantly illuſtrated in an Allegory of Marriage; but nothing is found here light or obſcene:

——Procul hinc, procul eſte profani.
Nil hic niſi caſtum.

'Tis a Chryſtal Stream of pure Spiritual Love, ſliding ſweetly betwixt two pleaſant Banks, Chriſt and the Church.

In the Ninth and Tenth Verſe, you have the Deſcription of a Triumphant Chariot, prepared by King Solomon for the Daughters of Jeruſalem: The Pillars thereof of Silver, the Bottom of Gold, the Covering of Purple, and the Midſt thereof paved with Love. A Chariot is an Inſtrument framed for eaſie, ſafe, and honourable Conveyance. This Chariot is the Covenant of Grace fitted by Chriſt, for the ſafe and honourable tranſporting of his Bride, the Church, through this World, to her ſtately Pavilion, or glorious Manſion, in the higheſt Heavens.

But how ſtately and magnificent ſoever this Royal Chariot be, he that contrived and fram'd it, is much more glorious to behold; and therefore in the next Words, which are my Text, Believers are ſummoned and invited, to behold and contemplate Chriſt that fram'd it: Go forth ye Daughters of Zion, and behold King Solomon with his Crown, &c. In which Words we have,

1. The Spectators ſummoned or invited.
2. The Spectacle they are invited to ſee.

1. The Spectators invited, The Daughters of Zion. By Zion underſtand the Church; and by the Daughters of Zion, the Members of the Church, or every particular Believer. Theſe are here invited or ſummoned to go forth, i. e. of their entangling, diverting Temptations; and to behold, viz. by the Eye of Faith, this moſt glorious and heart-raviſhing Object.

2. The Spectacle they are invited to behold and contemplate, King Solomon with his Crown, &c. The moſt illuſtrious, glorious, and raviſhing Sight that ever the Eyes of Men did, or ſhall behold. By King Solomon, underſtand Chriſt, of whom Solomon in this Book is the Figure or Shadow; yet one to whom Solomon, in all his Glory, was but as a depainted Sun on a Sign-poſt, to the Sun in the Mid-heavens, ſhining in all his Glory.

And by his Crown, underſtand not any material Crown, as that of Solomon's was; but the Glory and Honour that is put upon Chriſt the King of Zion; of which Glory, a Crown is the Emblem.

What Crown is here meant, Interpreters are not all agreed about it. Some would have it to be underſtood of our Human Nature, which he was Crowned withal by his Mother Mary, of whom he took it; but tho' his Aſſumption of our Nature put ſuch a Crown of Glory upon it as it never had before, yet it was rather an obſcuring of Chriſt's Glory, than any addition of Glory to him.

Others interpret it of the Crown of Thorns, with which his Mother, the Jewiſh Church, or Synagogue, Crowned him in the Day of his Paſſion at Jeruſalem; but this ſeems to be as hard and foreign a Senſe as the former.

The moſt Judicious Expoſitors are agreed in a third Sence, viz. That by the Crown on Chriſt's Head, we are to underſtand that Glory and Honour which Believers give unto, or put upon Chriſt, when in the Day of their Eſpouſals to him by Faith, renouncing Satan, Sin, and all that had exerciſed Dominion over them before, with all truſt and dependance on any Righteouſneſs of their own, they give their deliberate, full, and hearty Conſent, That Chriſt alone ſhall Reign over them for ever and ever, ſaying, The Lord is our King, the Lord is our Judge, the Lord is our Lawgiver. Chriſt is the Lord our Righteouſneſs, and in all things we will obey him. This Chriſt eſteems as a Crown of Glory put upon his Head, in the Day of his Eſpouſals, and in the Day of the Gladneſs of his Heart. There is no ſuch Honour, no ſuch Pleaſure a poor Sinner can give to Chriſt, as to believe in him; this is as the putting of a Crown of Glory upon his Head. 'Tis true, it adds no Glory to him, but it is the greateſt Manifeſtation of his Glory, we are capable to make.

Object. But then it will be objected, in what Sence Believers can be tolerably ſtiled his Mother? For the Text tells us, it was the Crown his Mother put upon him.

Anſw. They may be ſo ſtiled in a double reſpect.

(1.) Becauſe Chriſt is formed in every Believer, he in a Spiritual Sence conceived and formed in their Souls, as the Child is formed in its Mother's Womb; ſo the Apoſtle ſpeaks, Gal. 4. 19. My little Children, of whom I travail again in Birth, till Chriſt be formed in you.

(2.) In reſpect of the dear Affection Chriſt bears to every Soul that believeth in him: No Man loves his Brother, Siſter, or Mother, as Chriſt eſteems and loves Believers, Mark 3. 34. When he was told, his Mother, and Brethren were without, ſeeking him, he ſaid, Behold my Mother, and my Brethren: For whoſoever ſhall do the Will of God, the ſame is my Brother, and Siſter, and Mother. The Day of a Sinner's Conſent to come under Chriſt's Government, is the Day of Eſpouſals, 2 Cor. 11. 2. And the Day of a Sinner's

Eſpouſals to Chriſt, is the Day of the Gladneſs of his Heart, Luke 15. 32. Thus you have the Parts and Sence of the Text. The Point from it is this:

Doct. That the Day of a Believer's Eſpouſals to Chriſt by Faith, is to Chriſt as the Day of a King's Coronation is to him, even the Day of the Gladneſs of his Heart.

'Tis very remarkable, what we find in Luke 10. 21. where the Spirit hath carefully recorded one Hour of Joy in the Life of Chriſt, for he had not many, being a Man of Sorrows, and acquainted with Grief. In that Hour, Jeſus rejoyced in Spirit, ſaith the Text; And what Hour was that? Why, it was the ſame Hour in which the Seventy returned with theſe joyful Tidings to him, Lord, even the Devils are ſubject to us through thy Name, ver. 17. The Hour when Chriſt ſaw Satan falling as Lightning from Heaven, ver. 18. His Kingdom tottering, his Forces routed by the Goſpel, his Subjects running away to Chriſt, from under his cruel Bondage, and made willing to come under his Government; In that Hour Jeſus rejoiced in Spirit. This was joyful News to Chriſt, it was the Day of the Gladneſs of his Heart. He had now got a new Throne in the Souls of poor Sinners, over whom the Devil and Sin had reigned; this was as a Crown of Glory to Chriſt.

In opening this Point, I ſhall diſcourſe theſe Three Things:

(1.) In what reſpect a Sinner's Eſpouſals to Chriſt, reſembles the Day of a King's Coronation, over his Subjects.

(2.) Wherein theſe two Days differ each from other.

(3.) On what Accounts it is the Day of the Gladneſs of Chriſt's Heart, as the Text calls it. And then apply it.

Let me ſhew the Reſemblances and Agreements which are betwixt the Day of a King's Coronation, and the Day of a Sinner's Eſpouſals to Chriſt by Faith: And this will appear in ſix Reſpects.

(1.) A King that is duly Crowned over his Subjects, hath a lawful Right to govern them, either by Lineal Deſcent, Conqueſt, or Compact. Solomon had his Right and Title to the Kingdom by Deſcent from his Royal Father David, who by his Laſt Will and Teſtament, conſtituted and appointed him to be his immediate Succeſſor upon the Throne of Iſrael, 1 Kings 1. 35. The Roman Cæſar's Title to that Kingdom was by Conqueſt, and this Title was legitimated not only by the Jews acknowledgment of it, but alſo by Chriſt's expreſs owning it, and ſubmiſſion to it. The People ſaid, We have no King but Cæſar, John 19. 15. and Chriſt owned it, Luke 20. 25. when he payed Tribute, ſaying, Give unto Cæſar the things that are Cæſar's. But David had his Title by Compact with, and voluntary Election of the People; Abner confers with the Elders of Iſrael about it, and they meet David at Hebron, and there chuſe him King in the room of Saul, 2 Sam. 5. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5. and that in conſideration of the eminent Service he had performed for that Kingdom, in delivering them from their mortal Enemies the Philiſtines, Enemies to their Religion, and Civil Liberties; and certainly the Crown of Iſrael was not a Reward above the Merit of ſuch a performance. Then came all the Tribes of Iſrael to David unto Hebron, and ſaid, Behold, we are thy Bone, and thy Fleſh. Alſo in time paſt, when Saul was King over us, thou waſt he that leddeſt out, and broughteſt in Iſrael: And the Lord ſaid to thee, Thou ſhalt feed my People Iſrael, and thou ſhalt be a Captain over Iſrael. So all the Elders of Iſrael came to the King to Hebron, and King David made a League with them in Hebron before the Lord: And they anointed David King over Iſrael.

But Chriſt hath Right to Reign over our Souls, by all theſe Titles and Claims; the Throne of our Souls is by his Father's Conſtitution and Decree, Pſal. 2. 6. Yet have I ſet my King upon my holy Hill of Zion; by Conqueſt, for he wins it by the Sword of his Spirit, before he poſſeſſeth it. 2 Cor. 10. 4, 5. he caſts down by Spiritual Weapons all that oppoſeth, and brings every Thought into Obedience to him. And he hath Right alſo by Conſent and Compact, Pſalm 110. 3. The People ſhall be willing in the Day of thy Power. Of which more anon.

(2.) On the Coronation-Day, Kings appear in all their Royal Robes, glittering Jewels, and all the Luſtre that can be put upon them; they ſhine in the Eyes of the People more glorioully than all that are about them. Velut luna, inter minora ſidera: There's none like him in the Beauty of his Ornaments. Much more doth Chriſt excel all others in Beauty and Glory, to the Eyes of thoſe that chuſe him for their Lord and King, 1 Pet. 2. 7. To you that believe, he is precious, Ἡ τιμὴ, Honour it ſelf, Col. 1. 17. He is before all things; not only in Time, or in Order, but in real Dignity, and ſolid Glory, and Excellency. So his Spouſe pronounceth him, Pſal. 45. 2. Thou art fairer than the Children of Men, Grace is poured into thy lips. And Cant. 5. 10. My Beloved is white and ruddy; the chiefeſt among ten thouſand. Examine and mark all the Creatures in both Worlds, Angels, and Men; and they bear no more proportion to Chriſt in Glory, than a Glow-worm to the Sun.

(3.) On the Coronation-Day, the Conſent of the People is demanded and given. Conſent was demanded by Abner in the behalf of David, 2 Sam. 3. 17, 18. and freely given by them, in order to David's Coronation, 2 Sam. 5. 1, 2, 3, 4. Thus at the Coronation of our Kings, the Conſent of the Nobles and Commonalty is demanded on the Publick Theatre, in theſe words:

'I Here preſent you ſuch an one, ( naming 'the King ) the rightful Inheritor of the 'Crown of this Realm: Are you willing to do 'your Homage, Service, and do bounden Duty 'to him?

And they ſay,

'WE are willing; or ſignifie they are ſo, by 'their loud and joyful Acclamations.

So it is when Chriſt is Crowned King over the Soul. His Right is aſſerted, and their Conſent demanded by his Ambaſſadors; the Believer maniſeſts his hearty Conſent, Pſal. 110. 3. Thy People ſhall be willing in the day of thy power. And over all that are made truly willing to receive him, he reigns, and inveſts them all with the Priviledges of his Kingdom, John 1. 12. The Unbeliever is not willing to come under Chriſt's Government, John 5. 4. You will not come to me, &c. and the iſſue of their unwillingneſs, is their eternal ruin, Luke 19. 27. But thoſe mine Enemies that would not that I ſhould reign over them, bring them hither, and ſlay them before me. Now, to make a Soul truly willing to accept Chriſt's Government, and give his Conſent to him, four things muſt be done upon, and by ſuch a Soul. (1.) He muſt be convinced of his Sin and Miſery: No Man will be willing to change his Lord, whilſt he finds no Matter of Complaint. (2.) He muſt know, and deliberate upon the Terms of Chriſt; for an ignorant Perſon cannot be ſaid to conſent. Non conſentit qui non ſentit. Chriſt will have all the World to know his Terms, and will not hide the worſt and hardeſt things from them, whether they like them or not. No Man ſhall ſay afterwards, I was ſurprized, or impoſed upon; had I known this, I had never conſented to be a Chriſtian. Therefore the hardeſt Terms of Chriſtianity are plainly propounded, Luke 14. 26. and that to cut off all after Pleas and Pretences for reſiling from Chriſt, John 16. 1. Theſe things have I ſpoken to you, that ye ſhould not be offended in me. (3.) Upon Deliberation; there muſt appear to the Soul that chuſeth Chriſt, and conſents to his Government, a preponderating Good; that Chriſt with all his Reproaches and Sufferings, is better than Sin with all its Honours and Pleaſures. No Man will change for no advantage, much leſs to his loſs. Thus Moſes ſaw more Glory and Excellency in the very Reproaches of Chriſt, than in all the Treaſures of Egypt, or Pleaſures of Sin, Heb. 11. 25, 26. O! ſaith the Soul, tho' there be hard and bitter Sufferings in the way of Godlineſs, yet 'tis infinitely better for me to endure them for Chriſt, than to be damned. And upon ballancing the Gains and Loſſes, the Conveniences, and the Inconveniences of Chriſtianity, the Odds appears ſo great, that the Soul pronounceth, they are not worthy to be compared, Rom. 8. 18. (4.) When all is done, there muſt be a Divine Almighty Influence upon the Will, without which Men will never heartily conſent to Chriſt's Terms. No Man (ſaith Chriſt) can come unto me, except my Father, which hath ſent me, draw him, John 6. 44. This Influence of God upon the Will, is in a way ſuitable to its Nature, Hoſea 11. 4. and produceth a Conſent without Co-action. If the Lord ſhew any Man the infinite Advantages that come, and accrue to his Soul by Chriſt, this very diſcovery doth, as it were, compel that Man to come into Chriſt, as that Expreſſion is uſed, Luke 14. 23. a Scripture vilely abuſed in our times. Chriſt compels none into his Kingdom, as the Spaniards did the poor Indians to Baptiſm; or as others have been compelled to the Lord's Table. He will Reign over a willing People, or not Reign at all.

(4.) On the Coronation-Day, a Champion appears on the King's behalf, to challenge any that ſhall deny his Right, or by Allurements, or Threatnings, attempt to draw his Subjects from their Duty and Allegiance; he throws down the Gantlet, and defies the proudeſt Enemy the King hath.

So when Chriſt is Crowned King over the Souls of his People, there is a publick Defiance bid, a formal Challenge given to all the Enemies of Chriſt and his People, as you may read at large, Rom. 8. 33, 34, 35. Who ſhall lay any thing to the charge of God's elect? Who is he that condemneth? Who ſhall ſeparate us from the Love of Chriſt? Devils and Men are defied to do their worſt. Chriſt muſt Reign 'till all his Enemies be put under his Feet. Sin ſhall not have Dominion over his People; for they are not under the Law, but under Grace. Come Gebal, Amon, and Amaleck, come Satan and all his Infernal Powers; they are all defied in the Name of Chriſt; Believers are his own Subjects, and none ſhall pluck them out of his hand.

(5.) At or about the Coronation-Day, an Act of Indempnity, Pardon, and Oblivion is paſt, and publiſhed, pardoning the Offences the Subjects had committed unto that Day.

Thus it is at the Day of Chriſt's Coronation over the Believer's Souls, and its Eſpouſals to him by Faith; all his Sins are pardoned, new and old, great and ſmall; and of this, Proclamation is openly made in the Goſpel, Acts 10. 43. To him give all the Prophets witneſs, That through his Name, whoſoever believeth in him, ſhall receive Remiſſion of Sins. O glorious Pardon! free without purchaſe, full without exception, and final without revocation. Now there's a Goal-delivery, the Priſon-doors are open, Liberty proclaimed to the Captives, Iſa. 61. 1, 2. The King of Sion is a merciful King, and his Subjects ſhall find him ſo; they have gladded his Heart, by accepting his Government, and he will glad theirs by his Pardons; the Son hath made them free, and they are free indeed.

(6.) In a word, a Coronation-Day is a Day of Gladneſs, a Day of Joy and Triumph: Joy diſplays it ſelf in the Faces of all Loyal Subjects; thoſe only that had rather be under another Government, hang the Head, and bite the Lip.

So 'tis here, all that are Loyal Subjects to Jeſus Chriſt, rejoyce exceedingly in his Government; and it muſt needs be ſo, becauſe his Kingdom conſiſts in Joy in the Holy Ghoſt, Rom. 14. 17. when Zacheus came under this King, he came down joyfully, Luke 19. 6, 9. When the Eunuch received him for his Lord and King, he went home rejoycing, Act. 8. 39. When Samaria ſubmitted to his Scepter, there was great Joy in that City, Acts 8. 5, 6. and let the Joy be what it will, the Cauſes of Joy are greater than the Joy it ſelf. But thoſe that belong to Satan's Kingdom, that love to be under the Dominion of Sin, and hate the Strictneſs and Severities of Religion, theſe are the only Male contents, theſe fret to ſee Chriſt's Kingdom enlarged, and ſecretly plot to deſtroy it. Thus we ſee the Agreement betwixt the Day of a King's Coronation over his Subjects, and Chriſt's Coronation over Believers.

But tho' they harmonize in theſe Particulars, and divers others that may be named; yet,

2dly, There are as many remarkable Differences and Diſagreements betwixt them, but none to the Believer's loſs or diſadvantage, for they all fall on his ſide; as, ex gr.

(1.) 'Tis not the Priviledge of every Subject; no, nor of one among many thouſands, to ſee the King who is Crowned over them, to hear his Voice, or give their explicit Conſent in his Preſence. But every Subject in Chriſt's Kingdom, doth ſee Chriſt by the Eye of Faith. John 6. 40.

He that ſeeth the Son, and believeth on him. Seeing, and believing, are Terms convertible ; they do all hear his Voice, and give their explicit Conſent to take him for their King. Union with Chriſt is not a work to be done by a Proxy, or Repreſentative, but it is the Reſult of a ſolemn Debate betwixt Chriſt and the Soul.

(2.) Kings are Crowned over many that love them not, but are fill'd with prejudice againſt their Perſons and Government.

But it cannot be ſo in the Kingdom of Chriſt ; To them that believe, he is precious, 1 Pet. 2. 7. all Chriſt's Subjects love him above Father or Mother, Wiſe or Children ; yea, above their own Lives, otherwiſe they cannot be his Subjects, Luk. 14. 26. They alſo delight in his Government, and nothing would be more pleaſant to their Souls, than to find every Thought of their Heart brought into Subjection to him, 2 Cor. 10. 4, 5. They dare not confederate with his Enemies, and will chuſe rather to die than forſake him ; they will eſteem it a glorious thing, tho' their Right-arm ſhould be ſevered from their Shoulder-blade, for their regular Endeavours to defend and ſupport the Crown upon the Head of their Royal Maſter.

(3.) The relation betwixt a King and his Subjects, may, and muſt be diſſolved by Death. Death fears not to arreſt the moſt potent Monarch upon his Throne, and tranſlate his Crown to another Head.

But our King, Chriſt, lives for ever, Death hath no Dominion over him ; his Kingdom is an everlaſting Kingdom, and his Dominion that which ſhall have no end, Dan. 7. 13, 14. Death is ſo far from ſeparating Chriſt and his Subjects, that it brings them nearer together than ever they were before ; it brings them into his immediate Preſence, to his Facial Viſion, 1 Cor. 13. 12. and fixes them there for ever, 1 Theſ. 4 17.

(4.) Kings may degenerate into Tyrants, and Subjects into Rebels ; they may undermine the Laws, Liberties, and Religion of their People. They that Rule over the People, may make them to howl, Iſa. 52. 5. the World is too full of ſuch Inſtances and Examples. But Chriſt can never oppreſs his Subjects, the Scepter of his Kingdom is a right Scepter, Pſal. 45. 6. His Yoke is eaſie, and his Burden is light, Mat. 11. 29. and his true Subjects can never ſhake off their Allegiance to him, they will rather die than do it.

(5.) Kings will not permit their greateſt Favourites to ſit in their Thrones ; 'tis their peculiar Honour, and not communicable to any, Gen. 41. 40. Only in the Throne I will be greater than thou, ſaid Pharaoh to his Joſeph.

But Chriſt permits and appoints all his Subjects to ſit with him upon his Throne, Rev. 3. 21. the Glory which God gave him, he hath given to them, John 17. 22. What King is like Chriſt ?

(6.) To conclude : The Joy and Triumph at a King's Coronation, is only among Men, in this lower World ; but the Joy and Triumph at Chriſt's Coronation, is among Angels in Heaven, Luke 15. 7. The City of God holds a ſolemn Triumph at the Converſion of a particular Sinner. What are the Shouts of Men, to the Jubilations of Angels ?

Thus you have ſix Particulars wherein they agree, and as many in which they differ.

We come, in the next place, to enquire into,

3dly, The Reaſons why Chriſt's Coronation over Believers, is the Day of the Gladneſs of his Heart : And it muſt be ſo,

(1.) Becauſe it is Chriſt's Marriage-Day, at leaſt the Day of his Eſpouſals ; and the Day of Marriage, or Eſpouſals, is a Day of Joy and Gladneſs. Chriſt hath now a new Spouſe, a Soul in which he never dwelt before ; and as a Bridegroom rejoyceth over the Bride, ſo doth Chriſt over Believers, Iſa. 62. 5. here is a new Relation entred, and that with the King of Kings, the Angels of God rejoyce exceedingly in it, but much more Chriſt the bleſſed Bridegroom.

(2.) 'Tis Chriſt's Day of Conqueſt, and Victory over Satan ; the Day in which he hath depoſed him from his Throne, Mat. 12. 29. delivered a Soul of invaluable worth in his Eyes, out of the Power of Darkneſs, and tranſlated it into his own Kingdom, Col. 1. 13. And the Day of Conqueſt is a Day of extraordinary Joy and Triumph. Iſa. 9. 3.

(3.) 'Tis the Day in which he receives the Fruit and Reward of his bloody Travels, and bitter Agonies ; there is now a Son or Daughter born to God, an Heir born to the Heavenly Inheritance. Now 'tis moſt pleaſant and joyful to Jeſus Chriſt, to ſee of the Travel of his Soul, Iſa. 53. 11. no Satisfaction in this World comparable to it. When a young Heir is born to the Kingdom and Crown of Heaven, it deſerves a Triumph.

(4.) 'Tis the Day in which Chriſt finds a Soul that was loſt, Luke 15. 5, 6. What Joy was it to the Father of the Prodigal, when he had found his loſt Son? Luke 15, 20. there was Mirth and Muſick, Feaſting and Rejoycing ; This my Son was loſt, and is found ; was dead, and is alive.

Poor Sinners are loſt Creatures by Nature, they have loſt their God, and therein themſelves too. God hath loſt, and the Devil found every Unregenerate Sinner ; all Strayers from God fall to his ſhare ; but this loſs is not irrecoverable ; the Errand and End for which Chriſt came into the World, was to ſeek and to ſave that which was loſt, Mat. 18. 11. And when the Sinner that was loſt, comes home to him by Repentance and Faith, he obtains the End of his Incarnation, Life and Death, upon that Soul, which cannot but be the Day of the Gladneſs of his Heart.

If then the Day of King's Eſpouſals, or Marriage, be a Day of Joy and Gladneſs to his Soul : If a Day of Conqueſt, and dividing the Spoils, be a Day of Joy to the Conqueror, after a ſharp and bloody Fight. If it be a Joy to a Mother after long and ſore Travail, to embrace in her Arms, and kiſs the Child for whom ſhe endured ſo many bitter Throws ; if it be a Joy to a Father to find and recover a Child that was loſt, and as dead to him : In a word ; If it be high delight and ſatisfaction to ſee a great Deſign, on which the Heart is intently ſet, brought at laſt by orderly Conduct, to the deſired happy Iſſue ; then let us allow the Day of a Sinners coming into Chriſt by Converſion, to be as a Coronation-Day to a King, the Day of his Eſpouſals, and of the Gladneſs of his Heart.

Uſe I. This Point, like a fruitful Root, ſends forth many Branches, and all loaden with diverſity of Fruits. The firſt is for Information, in ſeveral Inferences from it.

Inſer. 1.

Infer. 1. Be informed from hence what is the true Cauſe and Reaſon of Satan's Rage and Spite againſt the Goſpel, and the moſt painful, able, and ſucceſsful Preachers of it in the World. The great Deſign of the Goſpel, and of all that ſincerely preach it, is to win and perſwade Satan's Subjects to forſake his cruel, unjuſt, and tyrannical Government, and ſubmit to the Kingdom and Scepter of the Lord Jeſus. What is the Preaching of the Goſpel, but the ſounding of a Trumpet in the Devil's Kingdom, to win his Subjects from their Allegiance to him; to proclaim another King in his Territories? Every faithful Miniſter's Buſineſs, is, to gather theſe wretched Vaſſals of Satan together, and ſet before them the miſerable Captivity and Bondage they are in under that Tyrant that rules over them, whoſe Laws, like Draco's, are written in the Blood of their Souls, to exaggerate their Sin and Miſery, and to let them know how willing Chriſt is to receive and ſave them, if they will renounce and abandon Satan's Government. To ſet before them the bleſſed Freedom, and glorious Privileges of the Subjects of Chriſt. To beſeech and perſwade them to break away from their old cruel Maſter, and come over to Chriſt, to anſwer all their Pleas and Objections againſt it, and to denounce the Wrath of God againſt all the Refuſers of Chriſt's gracious Proclamation. Now Satan is not ignorant of all this; he eſteems the loſs of one, much more the Revolt of many, a greater miſchief than a King reckons the loſs of a Kingdom, and to ſee them break away ſo faſt from him, and be liſted to fight againſt him: Oh how it grates that envious Spirit, and ſharpens his Malice againſt the Inſtruments and Agents in this Work! 'This, as a late Worthy ſpeaks, torments 'the foul Spirit, to ſee himſelf forſaken 'of his old Friends and Servants, and 'this new Lord to come and take away 'his Subjects from him. Hence comes 'Perſecutions, Slanders, &c. In Showers, upon 'Chriſt's faithful Miniſters. He knows his Kingdom of Darkneſs muſt vaniſh, as the Light of the Goſpel riſes and ſpreads it ſelf. You read, Rev. 14, 6, 7. Of an Angel fleeing in the midſt of Heaven, having the everlaſting Goſpel to preach to them that dwell on the Earth. And in ver. 8. you have another Angel following him, ſaying, Babylon is fallen, is fallen, that great City. No ſooner is the two-edged Sword of the Goſpel drawn, but the next Voice is Victory, Victory. He knows every Home-charge made by the Goſpel, will iſſue in a Rout of his Infernal Legions. Now Miniſters coming forth againſt him as Heralds, to proclaim Chriſt's Right, and as Captains of the Army of Chriſt their General; he owes them a particular Grudge, and ſeeks every way to ſtop their Mouths, and deſtroy their Perſons. And ſurely he hath puſhed hard at them, and made deſperate Attempts againſt them in our Days; no doubt but it was reckon'd a great Service done him, to ſhut up the Mouths of ſo many at once; but the time draws nigh, that Babylon muſt fall; and thoſe that could not lately ſhew their Faces on Earth, muſt fly in the midſt of Heaven, with the everlaſting Goſpel. The dead Witneſſes of Chriſt, ſhall hear ſhortly a great Voice from Heaven, ſaying, Come up hither; and they ſhall aſcend in a Cloud, their Enemies beholding, but not able any more to hinder them.

Gurnal's
1 Part,
page 59.

Infer. 2. How cauſleſs and altogether groundleſs are the Diſcouragements and Fears of humbled and convinced Sinners, That Jeſus Chriſt will reject them, and ſhut the Door of Mercy againſt them, if they ſhould go to him, and caſt their poor ſinful Souls upon him by Faith?

Certainly ſuch Perſons fear, where no fear is. That which is the Command of Chriſt, the earneſt Deſire of his Soul, that Act which makes his Heart glad, as the Text ſpeaks, can never meet with ſuch a Repulſe as you fear. Was ever any King unwilling to have the Crown ſet upon his Head? Do they uſe to frown upon their Subjects that are upon the Knee, tender their Homage and Allegiance to them? No, no, 'tis the Day of the Gladneſs of their Hearts. Renounce thy old Maſter Satan, give a Bill of Divorce to thoſe Luſts which have reigned over thy Soul; ponder well Chriſt's Terms, and heartily conſent to them, and try whether he will not quickly confute theſe vain Fears of thine, and fully make good his gracious, ſweet, and moſt encouraging Word, John 6. 37. Him that cometh unto me, I will in no wiſe caſt out. A ſweet Encouragement to a Coming-ſoul; and becauſe Sence of Guilt and Unworthineſs uſually doubles their Fears, Christ hath cauſed a double Negative to be put into that Text, on purpoſe to obviate their Fears and Diſcouragements, οὐ μὴ ἐκϐαλω ἔξω: I will not, no, I will not; or as we render, I will in no wiſe caſt him out. Acts of Delight flow freely and eaſily, and ſo doth this.

Infer. 3. What an high and honourable Relation doth Faith bring the Soul of a Sinner into! The Day of Converſion, is the Day of that Soul's Eſpouſals to Chriſt.

A King from Heaven makes Suit for a poor Sinner's Heart, woo's for Union with ſinful Creatures; rejoyces exceedingly when he wins their Conſent; and eſpouſes them for ever to himſelf, when he obtains it; for Contractus is nothing elſe, but Conſenſus explicatus; a Contract is Conſent explained, in affirmative plain words, de preſenti. I do diſclaim, and for ever renounce all others, and willingly yield up my Heart and Life to Jeſus Chriſt. Now Ex contractu oritur vinculum, an Obligation reſults from this Contract with Chriſt; and a moſt honourable Myſtical Union with him. He that is joyned to the Lord, is one Spirit, 1 Cor. 6. 17. The greateſt Honour that was ever put upon the Humane Nature, was by its Aſſumption into Union with the Son of God Hypoſtatically; and the greateſt Honour that can be done to our Perſons, is by our Union with Chriſt Myſtically; hereby we become Members of his Body, of his Fleſh, and of his Bones, Eph. 5. 30. the Spouſe of Chriſt: Oh what a Preferment is this! What Soul feels not it ſelf lifted up far above all earthly Honours, in ſuch a relation to Chriſt as this? The Nobles and Barons of the Kingdom, think it a Preferment to ſerve the Queen; and the Angels of Heaven do not think themſelves degraded by performing Service to the Bride, the Lamb's Wife. Well might Great Conſtantine prefer the Honour of being a Member of the Church, to that of being Head of an Empire.

Let all the Saints underſtand their Dignity and Privileges, by this their honourable Union with Chriſt; and with it, let them ballance all the Reproaches, Scorns, and Contempts, this vile World loads them with for his ſake.

Infer. 4. Be informed hence of the dreadful and damning Nature of the Sin of Unbelief; a Sin that queſtions, yea denies Chriſt's Right to rule over the Soul; blinds the Mind, hardens the Heart, ſtiffens the Will, and makes the Soul obſtinate and inflexible to all the gracious Tenders of Chriſt in the Goſpel.

Unbelief is the poyſonous Breath of Satan, whiſpering Jealouſies, Surmizes, and dangerous Prejudices againſt Chriſt into the Ear of the Soul, and all tending to this miſchievous Deſign and Purpoſe, viz. to hinder or break the Treaty of the Spiritual Marriage betwixt Chriſt and the Soul. Now 'twill be digging at the very Root and Foundation of the aſſenting Act; and thus it whiſpers, How canſt thou be ſure of the reality of the things reported in the Goſpel? Is it not poſſible they may be deviſed Fables? the cunning Artifices of Men to keep the World in awe? Thou never ſaweſt Chriſt, for whoſe ſake thou art ſo earneſtly ſollicited to renounce all thy real ſweet and preſent Comforts and Enjoyments. Then it dilates rhetorically upon the ſevere Terms of the Goſpel, adviſes the Soul to think ſadly, how hard, grievous, and unreaſonable the Demands of Chriſt be, Luke 14 26. If any Man come to me, and hate not his Father and Mother, Wife and Children, Brethren and Siſters; yea, and his own Life alſo, he cannot be my Diſciple. How likeſt thou this, Soul? Here be all thy principal Comforts, thy moſt dear and deſirable Things in the World, both perſonal and relative, to be forſaken, yea, hated for Chriſt's ſake; the Terms are ſet ſo high, that a Man muſt loſe his Brains and Bowels too, ſaith Unbelief, before he can be wrought up to them. Canſt thou endure to ſee all the Labours of thy Life to become a Prey to thine Enemies? That which hath coſt thee ſo much Study and Toyl, ſcattered and deſtroyed in a Day, when it is yet in the Power of thine Hand to ſave all; thy Habitation to caſt thee out, thy pleaſant Fields poſſeſt by Strangers: Impius has ſegetes; Haſt thou Hardineſs enough to encounter Beggery? To fight with Hunger, Thirſt, and Nakedneſs? To lie in a naſty Goal, to endure a Parting-pull with neareſt Relatives, which are as thine own Soul? But yet there are harder Trials than theſe: Canſt thou endure a tormenting Death, by cruel barbarous Enemies? Canſt thou ſtand quietly at a Stake, and endure the exquiſite Torments of the Fire, and that in the fulneſs of thy time, whilſt thou art in the Flower of thine Age, Fulneſs of thy Senſes, and haſt ſo fair a Proſpect of many pleaſant Years before thee; and all this for an unſeen Glory in another World? Theſe are the feeling Arguments urged by Infidelity, againſt embracing Chriſt's Overtures in the Goſpel, or coming under the Scepter of this new Lord; And with how many do they prevail! Thus Satan fixes his Subjects, and makes them ſecure to himſelf.

But Sinner, if God have any Intention of Saving-Mercy to thy Soul, thou ſhalt feel the more potent Principles of Divine Faith and Love, overpowering and ſubacting theſe carnal Reaſonings within thy Soul. 'Tis admirable to behold the Almighty Influences of Grace upon Nature. How the Drawings of the Spirit, his Omnipotent-pull at the Heart, makes the ſtrongeſt Ties this World hath upon it, to give way, and eaſily to loſe, Mark 10. 28. Lord, we have left all, and followed thee. If not, but thou be fixedly reſolved not to change Satan's Government for Chriſt's; if thou ſay in thy Heart, and ſtand to that ſaying, I will never conſent to ſuch hard Conditions; then hear thy Sentence, read thy Mittimus, Luke 19. 27. But thoſe mine Enemies, that would not that I ſhould reign over them, bring hither, and ſlay them before me. The Sentence is dreadful, the Execution ſure; thy Unbelief will as ſurely damn thee, as a Millſtone about thy Neck, in the midſt of the Sea will drown thee, Mark 16. 16. He that believeth not, ſhall be damned; thou haſt caſt the vileſt Diſhonour upon Chriſt, thou haſt rejected the only way of Salvation; And what can the iſſue of thy final Unbelief be, but ruin and deſtruction?

Uſe II. My next Work will be perſwaſive Work, to gain the Conſent of the Souls to come under the Scepter and Government of Chriſt; to make his heart glad, and your ſelves happy for ever by your Eſpouſals to him. And Oh that I could this Day ſo repreſent this King in his Glory, ſo diſcover the miſerable Thraldom you are in under Satan, and your Luſts; ſo clear up the Reaſonableneſs and Eaſineſs of Chriſt's Terms and Demands, that there might be as chearſul and hearty (tho' not ſo loud and audible) an Applauſe, and Acclamations returned to my demand of your conſent to Chriſt, as this Day is, or ever was at the Coronation of any King.

1. And to this end, firſt conſider the Glory and Dignity of the Perſon of Chriſt; he is the Son of God by Nature, the Brightneſs of his Glory, and the expreſs Image of his Perſon, Heb. 1. 3. He is the Prince of the Kings of the Earth, Rev. 1. 5. The moſt glorious Monarch that ever ſway'd a Scepter over Men, is but as a Worm of the Earth, or a deſpicable Inſect in the Air, compar'd with Solomon in his Glory; the moſt perfect Beauty in the Creatures beneath or above, is Blackneſs and Deformity, in compariſon with Chriſt; the Beauty of Roſes, Lillies, Sun, Stars, Angels, is not worthy to be mentioned in compariſon with Chriſt: Thou art fairer (ſaith his Spouſe) than the Children of Men: None ever ſaw him ſavingly by the Eye of Faith, but were charmed into his Boſom by Love. The Facial Viſion of Chriſt, is the Feaſt of bleſſed Souls above.

This King of Glory makes Suit for your Hearts this Day; he woo's for your Conſent; he paſſed by Apoſtate Angels, not once making them a Tender of Reconciliation or Union, but comes to you in his red Garments, glorious in his Apparel: He ſhed his invaluable Blood to redeem you to God: He loved you, and gave himſelf for you; if there be a Drop of Love in your Hearts, methinks the Excellency of Chriſt ſhould extract and engage it; write that Man a Beaſt, a ſenceleſs Stock, that hath no Love for Chriſt.

2. Conſider Secondly, What a bleſſed State abounding with glorious and invaluable Privileges your Conſent to be Chriſt's, is introductive to; it opens into all Privileges, Mercies, and Bleſſings, deſirable in the Eyes of Men; it opens into Freedom and Liberty, from the Vaſſalage of Satan, the Servitude of Sin, the Curſe of the Law, the Danger of Wrath to come, John 8. 36. If the Son therefore make you free, then are ye free indeed. It opens the Door into Reſt and Peace, Peace with God, Peace in your own Conſciences, Rom. 5. 1, 2, 3. The Delicioufneſs of Peace you never yet taſted, who are Strangers to Chriſt, nor ever ſhall till you Conſent to be his, Rev. 2. 17. this ſhall be your Support amidſt all the Confuſions and Diſtractions, Hurries and Tumults of this reſtleſs and unquiet World, Mic. 5. 5. This Man ſhall be the peace, when the Aſſyrian cometh into our Land, and when he ſhall tread in our Palaces. Chriſt hath pitch'd his Standard in the Goſpel, repair unto it, come under his Banner, and liſt your ſelves among his faithful Subjects, and the Glory of the World to come is yours, if you overcome and be faithful unto death, Rev. 3. 21. The Subjects of Chriſt in this Kingdom of Grace, are ſhortly to be all tranſlated into the Kingdom of Glory, Rom. 8. 30.

3. Conſider the miſerable Bondage you are now in, over whom Satan rules, and how your Condition ſtill grows worſe and worſe, 'till it ſhall not be capable of any further addition of Miſery, to make it more abſolutely and compleatly miſerable.

You are now without God, without a Promiſe, without Peace, without the Pardon of one Sin, Eph. 2. 12. You have no Communion with God, nor Title to Heaven, Slaves to your ſordid Luſts, Titus 3. 3. You are under the Curſe, Gal. 3. 10. Condemned already, John 3. 18. And when ever you die out of Chriſt, you ſhall die in your Sins, John 8. 24. He that was your Ruler in this World, is to be both your Companion and Tormenter in the World to come, Mat. 25. 41.

Is this a Condition to be ſatisfied in? Can you ſleep quietly in your Chains? O methinks the poor Priſoners of Satan ſhould ſigh and cry, through the Grates of the Priſon, eſpecially when they are informed of Deliverance at the Door?

You have no reaſon to ſcare at the Terms and Conditions propounded to you by Chriſt; they are equal, neceſſary, and eaſie, Mat. 11.29. Come unto me; my yoke is eaſie, and my burden light. His Commands are not grievous, 1 John 5. 3. All his ways are pleaſantneſs, and all his paths are peace, Prov. 3. 17. The joy of the Lord ſhall be your ſtrength, Neh. 8. 10. If there be Repenting-work, Believing-work, Sin-mortifying-work, or Suffering-work for you; there is alſo a ſuitable proviſion of Divine Aſſiſtance to enable and carry you through it all, 2 Cor. 12. 9. My Grace is ſufficient for thee. If Men caſt you out, God will receive you, 2 Cor. 6. 17, 18. If any ſharp Trial befal you, there's a Door of Eſcape prepared for your out-let, 1 Cor. 10. 13. If you meet with Trouble in the World, you ſhall not fail of Peace in Chriſt, Joh. 16. 33. If you loſe any outward Enjoyment for Chriſt's ſake, it ſhall be recompenced an hundred-fold in this World, beſides the Reward of Heaven hereafter, Mat. 19. 29. If you be caſt in Priſon for Chriſt, the Comforter ſhall come from Heaven, and reſt upon you there, 1 Pet. 4. 13, 14. If you ſuffer with him, you ſhall reign with him, 2 Tim. 2. 12.

What think ye Brethren of Chriſt's Terms now? What is there here for Men to ſcare and fright at? Can you mend your ſelves elſewhere? O! when ſhall the Match be made? When will you come to Chriſt, and ſay, Lord, I heartily conſent to take thee for my King; I am pleaſed with the hardeſt Condition required in thy Word!

5. Laſtly, Be convinced of the unreaſonableneſs of all that you can pretend againſt this great Duty. If you ſay, the Pains of Mortification are hard; you muſt in Reaſon yield, that the Pains of Damnation are harder; and that it's better for you to enter into Life halt and maimed, than having two Eyes or Hands to be caſt into Hell, where the Worm dies not, and where the Fire is not quenched, Mat. 5. 29. If you ſay, you have no power to come to Chriſt; your Conſciences will preſently tell you, that you never yet put forth the uttermoſt power that you have, in ſtriving for your own Salvation. It will alſo tell you, that you ſuppoſe you have ſuch a power; elſe, why have you ſo long delayed Repentance and Converſion upon this pretence, that you will ſeriouſly perform them hereafter? Beſides, tho' your Endeavours do not oblige God to do that for you, you cannot do of your ſelves; yet 'tis more probable he will do ſo, when you ſtrive to your utmoſt, than when you careleſly neglect thoſe Duties, and give your ſelves up to the contrary Courſes. If you ſay, you would ſtrive, if you were aſſured of ſucceſs, and that you ſhould be received and accepted by Chriſt, if you came unto him, and did caſt your poor Souls upon him; you can anſwer your ſelves, if you will, that you daily ſpend your Time, Pains, and Studies, upon leſſer things, having no aſſurance at all of ſucceſs. The Husbandman toils all day at Plough, yet is not aſſured of a good Harveſt; his Corn may die in the Seed, or be blaſted in the Ear. The Mariner ventures his Eſtate upon the Sea, yet hath no aſſurance of a good Return; the Ship may miſcarry. The Miner will dig into the Bowels of the Earth, and try here and there, yet hath no aſſurance he ſhall find that rich Vein of Ore, that ſhall recompence his Coſt and Pains. Now, if Men will labour ſo hard, and adventure ſo much upon Uncertainties for a little of the World, doth not your own Reaſon conclude you ought to do more, and adventure further than any of them to obtain Chriſt, and eternal Salvation? O ſtrive, ſtrive to make your eſcape out of Satan's Kingdom, to Chriſt; ſit not with folded Hands on the Seats of Sloth, ſaying, 'Tis to no purpoſe.

Suppoſe your ſelves now upon your Death-bed, all earthly Comforts inſipid things to you; Conſcience preſaging the Wrath to come; Time and Hope ending together; would you not then wiſh, O, that we had been ruled and governed by Chriſt's Laws and Spirit, and not by Satan, and our own Luſts! Had we been the Servants of Chriſt, we had now been going to Chriſt; had he governed, he would have ſaved us; but his Servants we are to whom we obey; we have ſerved our Luſts, and the Wages of Sin is Death.

Or ſuppoſe you ſaw the Glory of Heaven, or the Horrors of Hell; that you heard the Allelujahs of the Palm-bearing Multitude, or the Shrieks of damned Caſt-aways; would it be ſo indifferent a thing to you, whether you obey Chriſt's Call or no? Believe it, theſe are no deviſed Fables, but do really exiſt, whether you mind them or not. And why ſhould you not ſuppoſe, and forethink things ſo ſure, and ſo nigh? A ſweet Voice comes from Heaven this Day, ſaying, Let all that expect to enjoy the Glory that is here, ſee that they ſubmit heartily to Chriſt's Scepter, for he ſaves no more than he rules; and the whole Number of the Glorified in Heaven, is made up of ſuch as heartily cloſed with Chriſt's Terms on Earth. A dreadful Voice comes up from Hell, crying, as it were in your Ears; As ever you expect to eſcape the Miſeries and Torments that are here, do not reject Chriſt's Yoke and Government as we did; our yielding up of our ſelves to the Sway and Government of our Luſts, was our ruin.

Uſe III. To conclude: Let all Men try their own Eſtates, and examine to what King they do indeed belong; and whoſe Subjects, in truth, they are, Chriſt's or Satan's; for theſe two Kingdoms divide the whole World. God hath furniſhed us with Self-reflecting Powers; we are able to retire out of the confuſed Noiſes of the World, and ſit retired in the innermoſt Cloſet of our own Souls, where none but God and our Conſciences ſhall be privy to our Debates; and there ſolemnly demand of our Conſcience, and charge it to make plain and faithful Anſwers to ſuch Queſtions and Enquiries as theſe:

Queſt. 1. To whom do I yield the moſt prompt, chearful, and conſtant Obedience? To the Commands of Chriſt, or to Solicitations of Satan, and my own Luſts? He that hath my Obedience, the ſame is my Lord and King, Rom. 6. 16. To whom ye yield your ſelves Servants to obey, his Servants ye are to whom ye obey. When God and Conſcience calls me to pray, and the World calls me off to attend its enſnaring Pleaſures, and unneceſſary Employments, which of theſe Calls do I pay Obedience to?

Queſt. 2. Who governs the ſecret and unſeen part of my Life? That every Man is in the account of God, which he is in ſecret, Rom. 2. 28, 29. Now, who is King in the Cloſet? And what Rules do my Thoughts move by? If Chriſt bring my Thoughts into Obedience, ſo that I dare not indulge to my ſelf a ſinful liberty, to enjoy the ſpeculative Pleaſure of the Sins I have acted, or would act, had I opportunity for it: And if I am in the fear of God when alone, and make Conſcience of my ſecret, as well as publick Duties, then I am under Chriſt's Government, and he is King of my Soul, 2 Cor. 10. 5. Mat. 6. 6. But if I make an external ſhew of Obedience to Chriſt, and ſecretly obey my Luſts, I am really the Servant of Sin, and belong to another King. O my Conſcience, what ſay'ſt thou to theſe things?

Queſt. 3. Whom do I follow, or heartily reſolve to follow, when it comes to a Parting-point betwixt Chriſt and the World? When I muſt cleave to the one, and forſake the other, Mat. 6. 24. Do I with full purpoſe of heart cleave to the Lord? Acts 11. 23. Is it my ſincere Reſolution to follow the Lamb whitherſoever he goeth? Rev. 14. 4. Or have I ſecret Reſerves to quit Chriſt's Service, and give Religion the ſlip, when it comes to a real diſtreſs and difficulty? Theſe are ſounding Queſtions, and will diſcover whoſe Government we are under.

The CONCLUSION.

Thus I have endeavoured to ſpiritualize and improve the great and ſolemn Actions of this Good Day; a Day, for which I hope the Children yet unborn, ſhall praiſe the Lord: How happy will our King and Queen be, if they Reign over a People that Chriſt Reigneth over, and will conſcientiouſly pay them Obedience in, and for the Lord! I believe it will be a greater Joy to their Souls, to ſee you ſet the Crown upon Chriſt's Head, in your Subjection to his Laws, than to ſee the Imperial Crown of England ſet upon their own Heads: Religion breeds the beſt Subjects.

Let England praiſe the Lord for ſuch a Day as this! How many ſad Years are run out, ſince it ſaw the Crown upon the Heads of a Proteſtant King and Queen at once! Let faithful Magiſtrates rejoyce, they ſhall never more be put upon the odious and dangerous Drudgery of perſecuting good Men, under ſuch a Government as this.

Let Miniſters rejoyce; yea, let them rejoyce with double Joy to others; they ſhall no more be driven into Corners, nor put to Silence; a Silence as bitter as Death, whilſt the Royal Scepter is ſwayed by ſuch Hands as God hath now put it into.

Let all the People rejoyce; for theſe their Rulers ſhall be to them as the Light of the Morning, and as the clear ſhining after Rain, 2 Sam. 23. 3, 4. And let us all ſay, Iſaiah 25. 9. Lo, this is our God, we have waited for him, and he will ſave us; this is the Lord, we have waited for him, we will rejoyce and be glad in his Salvation.

THE CHARACTER OF A Compleat Evangelical PASTOR, DRAWN by CHRIST.

MAT. XXIV. 45, 46, 47.

Who then is a faithful and wiſe Servant, whom his Lord hath made Ruler over his Houſhold, to give them Meat in due ſeaſon?

Bleſſed is that Servant, whom his Lord, when he cometh, ſhall find ſo doing.

Verily, I ſay unto you, that he ſhall make him Ruler over all his Goods.

THIS Great and Solemn Aſſembly (met upon a a Greater and more Solemn Account), brings to my Mind thoſe Words, and with the Words, a very ſenſible Touch of the ſame Affection with which the Church uttered them, Iſa. 49. 20, 21. Children which thou ſhalt have after thou haſt loſt the other, ſhall ſay again in thine Ears, The place is too ſtraight for me: Give place to me that I may dwell. Then ſhalt thou ſay in thine heart, Who hath begotten me theſe, ſeeing I have loſt my children, and am deſolate; a Captive, and removing to and fro? And who hath brought up theſe? Behold, I was left alone; Theſe, where had they been?

Words big with holy Admiration and Wonderment, at her ſtrange and ſudden increaſe and multiplication, after ſuch a waſting time, as thoſe Seventy ſad Years had been to her. This was a miraculous and ſurprizing Work of God in their Eyes.

We have had our Waſting-time as well as they: Multitudes of Faithful and Prudent Miniſters have been ſwept into their Graves by Ejections, Baniſhments, Impriſonments, and Heart-breaking Silencings. Whence then are all theſe, which our Eyes behold this Day! Who hath begotten us, and brought up theſe? Theſe, where had they been, and out of what ſecret Receſſes are they come!

Many thought the Days of our Proſperity, and Opportunities of our Service, had been numbred and finiſhed; and that God had no more Work (except Suffering-work) for us: When lo, above and beyond the deſponding Thoughts, and unbelieving Fears of our Hearts, we are here this Day in a numerous Aſſembly, with Peace and Liberty, to conſult the Affairs of Chriſt's Kingdom.

Yea, to the Joy of our Souls, we ſee the Plummets and the Lines once more in the Hands of our Zerubbabels, as Zech. 4. 10. Who hath deſpiſed the Day of ſmall things? For they ſhall rejoyce, and ſhall ſee the Plummet in the hand of Zerubbabel, with thoſe ſeven, they are the Eyes of the Lord, which run to and fro thro' the whole Earth. Our prudent Repairers Co-working with the Divine Providence, expreſs'd Emblematically by the Seven Eyes, will bring weak and contemptible Beginnings, to happy and bleſſed Reſults and Iſſues. What ſhall one now anſwer the Meſſengers of the Churches? That God hath founded Sion, and the Poor of his People ſhall truſt in it.

We are met this Day in all hearty Loyalty to the Government, and Peaceableneſs to the National Church-Eſtabliſhment, to review and conſider the Caſes of our reſpective Congregations, which I doubt we ſhall find too like that Deſcription, Prov. 24. 31. all over-grown with Thorns and Nettles, and the Stone-wall broken down.

Thus Ignorance and Error have overſpread the People, and the Wall of Diſcipline greatly decayed. Our Buſineſs is to cleanſe our Churches, and repair their Walls, that ſo they may become Gardens of Delight, and Beds of Spices, for Chriſt to walk and take pleaſure in.

You have ordered this Meeting to be opened with a Sermon, and demandated that Work to my Hand, by your earneſt and unanimous

Call: I wiſh the Work may not ſuffer by your Choice.

When I conſidered the Quality and Occaſion of this Aſſembly, my Thoughts quickly centered themſelves in thoſe Words of our Lord, which I have read unto you. Who then is a faithful and a wiſe Servant, whom his Lord hath made Ruler over his Houſhold, to give them Meat in due ſeaſon? &c.

Here we find our ſelves in a Parable: A Parable is the Veil of ſome Divine Truth: Whilſt we are embodied and veiled with Fleſh, Truth muſt embody and veil her ſelf too in order to our freer Converſes with it. There's much Truth and Reaſon, in the Obſervation of the Ancient Cabbaliſts. * The Supream Light never deſcends without a Covering. Yea, ſaith Dionyſius, the ſuppoſed Areopagite, † 'Tis impoſſible that a Divine Beam ſhould otherwiſe ſhine to us, except it be covered with variety of Sacred Veils, and Umbrages.

* Lumen ſupremum nunquam deſcendit ſine indumento.

† Impoſſibile eſt nobis aliter lucere radium divinum, niſi varietate Sacrorum velaminum circumvelatum, Cœleſt. Hier. cap. 1.

Not to ſpend much time about the Order and Relation of the Text; Chriſt had been ſolemnly warning the Diſciples, and all the Chriſtian World, of his moſt certain, (tho' ſecret) coming to Judgment, and therefore to beware of Idleneſs, Luxury, and Security, the Sins of the World; and that all be found at his coming, watchful and diligent in their proper places of Duty. This Exhortation he infers, from what common Prudence would teach any Servant, eſpecially any Steward of an Houſe to do, to whom his Lord hath committed the Care of his Family. 'Tis agreed by all, that the Words have a ſpecial and immediate reſpect to Goſpel Miniſters, the Stewards of Chriſt's Houſe or Church, to whom Chriſt, the 'Οικοδεσπότης, or Lord of the Family, hath truſted the Care and Diſpenſation of the Affairs thereof. And in them we find,

I. An Evangelical Paſtor deſcribed.
II. The Reward of ſuch as Anſwer that Deſcription, propounded.

1. Chriſt's Deſcription of an Evangelical Paſtor, verſe 45. which he doth by two excellent and eſſential Properties, or Qualifications, Πιστὸς, ϗ φρόνιμος, Faithful, and Wiſe; both which make up the Character of a Compleat Goſpel Miniſter: For if he be Faithful, he deceives not others; and if Wiſe, or Prudent, he is not apt to be deceived himſelf. His Prudence ſuffers not Deceivers eaſily to impoſe upon him; and his Faithfulneſs will not ſuffer him knowingly to impoſe upon his People. His Prudence will enable him to diſcern; and his Faithfulneſs oblige him to diſtribute wholeſome Food to his Flock. Theſe two therefore meeting together, make a Paſtor after God's own Heart, according to Jer. 3. 15.

Both theſe are found in an Interrogative Form of Speech in the Text; but 'tis agreed, that τὶς is put conditionally for εἴ τὶς, and is rather Hypothetical, than Interrogatory. But in this Form of Speech, it inſinuates the rarity and difficulty of finding ſuch a Servant. He is Σπάνιος ϗ δυσεύρετος, as Theophylact gloſſeth it. And Chryſoſtom, by way of admiration, Quam rari, & præſtantes eſſent tales! How rare and excellent would ſuch Servants be! Theſe are their Properties.

2. The Reward of thoſe that anſwer theſe Characters, is propounded,

1. In Proper } Terms.
2. In Metaphorical }

1. In Proper Terms, Bleſſed is that Servant, v. 46. He is certainly bleſſed of God, whatever his Uſage be from Men. If he be faithful, all his Prudence will not ſecure him from the Hatred and Perſecution of Men, but it is enough that Chriſt calls and counts him bleſſed; and thoſe whom he bleſſeth, are truly and eternally bleſſed.

2. In Metaphorical Terms, ver. 47. Verily I ſay unto you, That he ſhall make him Ruler over all his Goods. In alluſion to the Cuſtom of great Kings and Generals, who uſe to prefer and advance diſcreet and faithful Servants to Places of eminent Truſt, Profit, and Honour; as Daniel and Joſeph were. The Sence thus cleared, runs naturally and eaſily into this

DOCTRINE.

That our Lord Jeſus Chriſt will amply reward the faithful and prudent Stewards of his Houſe, in the Day of their Account.

This Point will open it ſelf to you in theſe Three Doctrinal Branches.

1. That Miniſters in a ſpecial Sence are the Stewards of Chriſt's Houſe.
2. Faithfulneſs and Prudence are the neceſſary Qualifications of Chriſt's Stewards.
3. Where-ever theſe are found, Chriſt will abundantly reward them.

1. Miniſters in a ſpecial ſence are the Stewards, or chief Servants of Chriſt's Houſe. So ſpeaks the Apoſtle, 1 Cor. 4. 1. Let a Man account of us as the Miniſters of Chriſt, and Stewards of the Myſteries of God. To them he hath committed the Diſpenſation of the Word and Sacraments, which contain the Great Myſteries of the Kingdom of God.

Every private Perſon, who hath received any Talent from God (and to be ſure the meaneſt among us hath one Talent at leaſt) is a Steward, and will be called to an Account for the Employment, or Non-employment of that Talent in the Audit-Day. But Miniſters are Stewards in the ſtrict and ſpecial Sence. Chriſt diſtinguiſhes them from the others, as Porters from the reſt of the Servants, Mark 13. 34. Nor may any aſſume that Office, but by Order from Chriſt the Maſter of the Family. But this is too obvious to ſtay longer upon it.

2. We will therefore immediately take into Conſideration the Properties or Qualifications of the Stewards of Chriſt: Which are,

1. Faithfulneſs.
2. Prudence.

And conſider them;

1. Diſtinctly.
2. Conjunctly.

Faithfulneſs,

1. Faithfulneſs, an Eſſential requiſite to a Steward, 1 Cor. 4. 2. It is required in Stewards, that a Man be found faithful. What ground is there for Truſt, where there is no Truth? Hence is that ſolemn Charge, 2 Tim. 2. 2. to commit that great Truſt of the Miniſtry to faithful Men. And Paul bleſſeth God, 1 Tim. 1. 11, 12. who had accounted him Faithful, and put into the Miniſtry. This Faithfulneſs, as it reſpects GOD, our Selves, and the Flocks committed to us, includes,

1. Pure and Spiritual Aims and Intentions.
2. Sincerity and Integrity of Heart.
3. Diligence in the diſcharge of Duty.
4. Impartiality in the Adminiſtrations of Chriſt's Houſe.
5. And unſhaken Conſtancy and Perſeverance to the end.

1. Miniſterial Faithfulneſs includes pure and ſpiritual Aims and Intentions for God. A Servant is Ὁλῶς ἐκεῖνȣ· 'Tis not his own, but his Maſter's Honour and Intereſt, he muſt deſign and aim at. Fidelity will not endure Self-ends, diſguiſed with a pretence of Zeal for Chriſt. 'Tis ſaid of the Maſter-workmen of the Temple, 2 Kings 22. 7. that there was no Reckoning made with them of the Money collected for that uſe, becauſe they dealt faithfully, i. e. they had given ſufficient proof that they impropriated not a Farthing to themſelves, but truly applied it to the publick ſacred end and uſe, to which it was given. Oh, let us be all ſuch faithful Maſter-builders of the Houſe of our God. Let us ſay, Not our Intereſt, but Chriſt's; not our Glory, but his. Pure Ends in our Service, will give us abundant Comfort at the end of our Service. Have a care, Brethren, of all Artifices and Deſigns, to accommodate carnal Intereſts, under a ſhew of Devotion to God.

Timothy is our Pattern in this, of whom Paul ſaith, Phil. 2. 20, 21. I have no Man like minded, who will naturally care for your ſtate; for all ſeek their own, not the things that are Jeſus Chriſt's. Where the word Naturally is not oppoſed to Spiritually, but to Artificially. Others had the Art to cloak Self ends under Chriſt's Honour; but Timothy was ignorant of ſuch unfaithful Tricks and Artifices.

Nehem. 9. 8.

2. Miniſterial Faithfulneſs imports Perſonal Sincerity. So the word ſignifies, where it's ſaid of Abraham, that God found his Heart faithful; that is, ſincere before him. A faithful Miniſter is a ſincere hearted Miniſter. And herein, Brethren, Oh herein, or in nothing, let us approve our ſelves the Miniſters of Chriſt. Let this be our rejoycing, that in all Sincerity, and Godly Simplicity, we have had our Converſations in this World, 2 Cor. 1. 12. And the rather let us be careful in this, becauſe no Sin is more apt to inſinuate it ſelf into our Hearts and Duties, than Hypocriſie. We of all Men are moſt in danger to be deceived by it: For our Employment lying in, and about Spiritual things, we are on that account ſtiled Spiritual Men, Hoſ. 9. 7. But it's plain from that very place, that a Man may be Objectively a Spiritual, and all the while Subjectively a Carnal Man. Believe it, Brethren, it's eaſier to declaim like an Orator againſt a thouſand Sins of others, than it is to mortifie one Sin, like Chriſtians, in our ſelves; to be more induſtrious in our Pulpits, than in our Cloſets; to preach twenty Sermons to our People, than one to our own Hearts.

Believe it, Sirs, all our Reading, Studying, and Preaching, is but trifling Hypocriſie, 'till the things read, ſtudied and preach'd, be felt in ſome degree upon our own Hearts. We tell our People (the Lord help us to tell the ſame to our own Hearts) that there are ſimilar, as well as ſaving Works of the Spirit, by which their (and why not our own) Souls may be loſt?

3. Miniſterial Faithfulneſs includes Miniſterial Diligence. A ſlothful cannot be a faithful Servant, Mat. 25. 21. His Lord ſaid unto him, Well done thou good and faithful Servant, &c. And ver. 26. His Lord anſwered and ſaid unto him, Thou wicked and ſlothful Servant, &c. I may ſay to him that ſnatcheth at the Miniſtry, as Henry the Fourth to his Son, that haſtily ſnatch'd at the Crown, He little knows what an heap of Cares and Toils he ſnatcheth at. * The Labours of the Miniſtry will exhauſt the very Marrow from your Bones, haſten Old Age and Death. They are fitly compared to the Toil of Men in Harveſt, to the Labours of a Woman in Travel, and to the Agonies of Soldiers in the extremity of a Battel. We muſt watch, when others ſleep.

And indeed it is not ſo much the Expence of our Labours, as the loſs of them, that kills us. It is not with us, as with other Labourers: They find their Work, as they leave it, ſo don't we. Sin and Satan unravel almoſt all we do; the Impreſſions we make on our Peoples Souls in one Sermon, vaniſh before the next. How many Truths have we to ſtudy! How many Wiles of Satan, and Myſteries of Corruption, to detect! How many Caſes of Conſcience to reſolve! Yea, we muſt fight in defence of the Truths we preach, as well as ſtudy them to Paleneſs, and preach them unto Faintneſs. But well-ſpent Head, Heart, Lungs, and all; welcome pained Breaſts, aching Backs, and trembling Legs; if we can by all, but approve our ſelves Chriſt's faithful Servants, and hear that joyful Voice from his Mouth, Well done, good and faithful Servants.

4. Miniſterial Faithfulneſs includes our Impartiality, in all the Adminiſtrations of Chriſt's Houſe. He that is partial, cannot be faithful. Oh! with what extraordinary Solemnity doth Paul ſet on this Exhortation upon Timothy! I charge thee before God, and the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, and the elect Angels, that thou obſerve theſe things, without preferring one before another, doing nothing by Partiality; 1 Tim. 5. 21.

Brethren, you will ſhortly appear before an impartial God; ſee that ye be impartial Stewards. Take the ſame Care, manifeſt the ſame Love, attend with the ſame Diligence, the pooreſt and weakeſt Souls that are committed to your Care, as you do the Rich, the Great, and Honourable.

---

* Labores Eccleſiaſtici ſuccum exhauriunt abimis medullis, ſenium, mortemque accelerant. Luther.

Remember all Souls are rated at one Value in your Maſter's Book, and your Redeemer paid as much for the one, as for the other. Civil Differences muſt be civilly acknowledged; but theſe have no place in your Spiritual Adminiſtrations.

5. Laſtly, Miniſterial Faithfulneſs includes Conſtancy and Stedfaſtneſs: A backſliding, or flinching Servant, Rev. 2. 10. Be thou faithful, (i. e. Fixt and Conſtant) to the Death, and I will give thee a Crown of Life. We look for Happineſs, as long as God is in Heaven; and he expects Conſtancy, as long as we are on Earth.

Many of us have cauſe to bleſs the Lord, and greatly to rejoyce in his Goodneſs this Day, who enabled us to be ſtedfaſt and unmovable in the Trials that have paſt over us; and when the great Earthquake ſhaked down our Liberties, our Eſtates, and made our Hearts to ſhake; yet our Reſolutions for God and his Truth, ſtood firm and unſhaken. Our Hearts turned not back, nor did our Steps decline, tho' we were broken in the place of Dragons, and covered with the Shadow of Death. This we wholly owe to him, that holds the Stars in his Right-hand: But our Warfare is not yet ended. Our Faithfulneſs is not yet Faithfulneſs to the Death: We hope it will ſhortly be called ſo, whilſt it thus involves our Self-denial, Sincerity, Diligence, Impartiality, and Conſtancy.

Theſe are the principal things included in the firſt Qualification of Miniſterial Faithfulneſs. In the next place let us weigh and value,

2. The Second Qualification in the Text, viz. Miniſterial Prudence.

Prudence.

The Lord's Servant muſt not only be Πιςὸς, Faithful; but Φρόνιμος, Prudent, Diſcreet, and Wiſe. Fidelity and Honeſty makes a good Chriſtian; but the addition of Prudence to Fidelity, makes a good Steward. Faithfulneſs will fix the Eye upon the right End; but it's Prudence muſt direct to the proper Means of attaining it.

If we look into Rev. 4. 6, 7. we ſhall there find a ſtately Emblem of true Goſpel-Miniſters. They are Ἄνθρωποι πολυόμματοι, Men full of Eyes. They have Eyes looking before them to God for direction, behind them to the Flocks they lead, and within them to their own Hearts; leſt after they have preached to others, themſelves become Caſtaways. They have alſo ſix Wings, with two they cover their Faces, manifeſting their deep Reverence of God; with two their Feet, manifeſting the humble Sence of their Infirmities; and with two they fly with chearful expedition in the Service of God: They have not only the Courage of the Lion, the Strength of the Ox, the Loftineſs of the Eagle; but the Face of a Man, (i. e.) Prudence and Diſcretion.

The uſe of Prudence to a Miniſter of Chriſt, is unſpeakably great: It not only gives clearneſs and perſpicacity to the Mind, by freeing it from Paſſions and Corporeal Impreſſions, enabling it thereby to apprehend what is beſt to be done; but enables it in its Deliberations, about the means to make choice of the moſt apt and proper; and directs the Application of them in the fitteſt Seaſon, without precipitation, by too much haſte; or hazard, by too tedious delay. And judge you, Brethren by this, what an Intereſt the Affairs of Chriſt's Kingdom have in this ſecond Qualification.

I know there is a carnal Policy, an unworthy Puſillanimity, that often ſhrowd themſelves under the Name of Prudence; I have nothing to do with Mock-graces here. My Buſineſs is to ſhew you in what Particulars true Miniſterial Prudence is highly ſerviceable to the Affairs of Chriſt's Houſe, or Kingdom: And this I will briefly diſcourſe in two reſpects. The Eye of Prudence muſt look,

1. To our own proper perſonal Work, to ſee that be well done.
2. To others who work,
   1. With us as Friends, that we may have Aſſiſtance from them.
   2. Or againſt us as Enemies, that our Work be not ruin'd by them.

1. Prudence will direct the Servants of Chriſt in their own proper Miniſterial Work, that it be well done. And in order thereto, it will guide them in their Deliberations to the Six following proper Means, and excellent Expedients.

1. Prudential Expedient.

And Firſt, Prudence will direct us to lay a good Foundation of Knowledge in our Peoples Souls, by Catechiſing and Inſtructing them in the Principles of Chriſtianity, without which we labour in vain.

Except you have a knowing People, you are not like to have a gracious People. St. Paul's Prudentials lay much in this, 1 Cor. 3. 10. As a wiſe Maſter-builder, I have laid the Foundation. And indeed this is the Maſter-piece of a Maſter-builder. All your excellent Sermons will be daſh'd to pieces, upon the Rock of your Peoples Ignorance. You can never pitch upon a better Project to promote and ſecure the Succeſs of your Labours, than the fruitful way of Catechiſing.

What Age of Chriſtianity ever produced more lively and ſtedfaſt Chriſtians, than the firſt Ages? And then the care of this Duty moſt eminently flouriſhed in the Churches. Clemens Alexandrinus, Origen, Optatus, Baſil, Auſtin, and Ambroſe, were all Catechiſts. And it is the Opinion both of Chemnitius and Zanchy, That that Exerciſe, which Chriſt honoured with his Preſence in his Youth, was a Catechiſtical Exerciſe.

We that live in this Age, have as much Obligation as they, and God hath furniſhed to our hands the beſt help for it, that ever any Age ſince Chriſt enjoyed. As Chymiſts extract the Spirits of Herbs and Minerals, into ſome rare Elixir: So have our Venerable Aſſembly (lately ſitting at Weſtminſter, now in Glory) compoſed for us the moſt Judicious and Compendious Syſtem, that ever bleſſed this Age. And to make it yet more uſeful, divers worthy Hands have been employed, ſome in one Method, ſome in another, to make thoſe Compendious Anſwers more intelligible to the People. And yet I am of Opinion, ſomewhat may be further done to advance that great Deſign in a Third Method, that ſhall not only make thoſe Points more intelligible, than in anſwering by Yea and No; or drawing out the ſubſervient Anſwers to ſuch a length, as too much charges the Peoples Memory, but withal to intermix the moſt uſeful Practical Matter with what is Doctrinal. If ſuch a Courſe might obtain in all our Congregations, I think it would greatly diſcover our Prudence, and turn richly to the Account of our Peoples Profit.

2. Prudential Expedient.

Miniſterial Prudence diſcovers it ſelf in the choice of ſuch Subjects, as the Needs of our Peoples Souls do moſt require and call for.

A prudent Miniſter will ſtudy the Souls of his People, more than the beſt Humane Books in his Library: And not chuſe what is eaſieſt for him, but what is moſt neceſſary for them. Miniſters that are acquainted with the State of their Flocks as they ought to be, will be ſeldom at a loſs in the choice of the next Subject. Their Peoples Wants will chuſe their Text, from time to time, for them.

The greateſt part of our Congregations, are poor, ignorant, and unregenerated People, that know neither their Miſery, nor their Remedy. This will direct us to the great Doctrines of Conviction, Regeneration, and Faith; and make us to ſit with ſollicitous Minds in our Studies, pondering thus in our Hearts; Lord, what Courſe ſhall we take, and what Words ſhall we chuſe, that may beſt convey the Sence of their Sin and Danger, with the fulneſs and neceſſity of Chriſt, into their Hearts!

Others are withering and decaying in their Affections, or ſtaggering and floating in their Judgments: Prudence will enable the Man of God to give to every one his proper Food, or Phyſick, in due Seaſon. This will make us ſpend more Hours in our Studies, and ſet to it with all our might and skill, that thereby we may both ſave our ſelves, and them that hear us.

3. Prudential Expedient.

This Miniſterial Wiſdom will not only direct us thus in the choice of our Subjects, but of the Language too in which we dreſs and deliver them to our People.

It will tell you, a Crucified Stile beſt ſuits the Preachers of a Crucified Chriſt. A grave and proper Stile becomes the Lips of Chriſt's Ambaſſadors. Prudence will neither allow us to be rude, nor affectedly gaudy in our Expreſſions. Tertullian checks thoſe Preachers, whoſe Sermons dreſs up Chriſtianity in Philoſophical, rather than Evangelical Terms [*]. Prudence will chuſe Words that are ſolid, rather than florid: As a Merchant will a Ship by a ſound Bottom, and capacious Hold, rather than a gilded Head and Stern. Words are but Servants to Matter. An Iron Key fitted to the Wards of the Lock, is more uſeful than a Golden one, that will not open the Door to the Treaſure.

Some of Chriſt's Miniſters excel in a neat and pleaſing plainneſs of Language. For this Auſtin was ſo affected with the Stile of Ambroſe; With his ſweet Words, which I loved, came into my Mind the Duties which I neglected [*]. And Zanchy ſaith of Viret, I admired his Eloquence, and the force it had in moving the Affections [†].

Prudence will caſt away a thouſand fine Words, for one that is apt to penetrate the Conſcience, and reach the Heart. This made Baſil look upon the famed Allegories of his time, with a compaſſionate Smile, ſaying [*], We take them for pretty Witticiſms, but things of little uſe or value in the Miniſtry. Who in the laſt Age was ever honoured with more Succeſs in his Miniſtry, than bleſſed Mr. Burroughs? and who ever excelled him in Skill, to bring down the ſublime Myſteries of the Goſpel to the meaneſt Capacity?

4. Prudential Expedient.

Miniſterial Prudence will ſhew us of what great uſe our own Affections are for the moving of others. And will therefore adviſe us, That as ever we expect the Truths we preach, ſhould operate upon the Hearts of others, we firſt labour to work them in upon our own Hearts. Such a Preacher was St. Paul; he preached with Tears accompanying his words, Phil. 3. 18. An hot Iron, tho' blunt, will pierce ſooner than a cold one, tho' ſharper.

And why, my Brethren, do we think, God hath Commiſſionated us, rather than Angels, to be his Ambaſſadors? Was it not, among other Reaſons, for this: Becauſe we having been under the ſame Condemnation and Miſery our ſelves, and felt both the Terrors and Conſolations of the Spirit, (which Angels experimentally know not) might thereby be enabled to treat with Sinners more feelingly and affectionately, in a way more accommodate to them, and therefore more apt to move and win them?

5. Prudential Expedient.

Miniſterial Prudence will direct the Servants of Chriſt (who highly value and earneſtly long for the ſucceſs of their Labours) to be careful by the ſtrictneſs and gravity of their Deportment, to maintain their Eſteem in the Conſciences of their People.

In your Pulpits you are carrying on a Treaty of Peace betwixt God and them; and therefore it will not allow you to do any thing out of your Pulpits, to make the Breach wider, or hinder the happy Cloſe between him and them. The Fowler that ſpreads his Net to take the Birds, will not leave a Feather, or make the leaſt Noiſe, to ſcare the Bird he intends to take. Let not them who aim no higher than a Bird, be more prudent and cautious, than you that are ſet to catch immortal Souls. Remember that of Solomon, Prov. 11. 30. He that winneth Souls, is wiſe. Prudence will not allow the Miniſters of Chriſt to immix themſelves with vain Company, and take the ſame liberty they do in vain Jeſts, and idle Stories. Nor will it allow on the other ſide, a moroſe Reſervedneſs, and diſcouraging Auſterity; but temper Gravity with condeſcending Affability.

---

[*] Qui Platonicum Chriſtianiſſimum procudunt Chriſtianis.

[*] Veniebant in animum meum ſimul cum verbis, quæ diligebam, etiam res, quas negligebam.

[†] Singularem eloquentiam, & in commovendis effectibus efficacitatem admirabar.

[*] Ὡς κεκομψευμένον μὲν τ͂ λόγον ἀποδεχόμεθα.

To you that are Juniors and Candidates for the Miniſtry, I will aſſume the Boldneſs to addreſs one ſeaſonable Word of Advice. And it is this: Have a care of that light and airy Spirit which ſo much obtains every-where in this unſerious Age. It was the Charge of God againſt ſome Miniſters of old, that they were light Perſons, Rev. 3. 4. And yet I cannot but think, comparatively ſpeaking, with ſome of our times, they might paſs for grave and ſerious. The People have Eyes to ſee how we walk, as well as Ears to hear what we ſay. It will be our Wiſdom and great Advantage to be able to ſay, as St. Paul did, Phil. 4. 9. The things which you have both heard and ſeen in me, do.

6. Prudential Expedient.

Miniſterial Prudence will ſend you often to your Knees to ſeek a Bleſſing from God upon your Studies and Labours, as knowing all your Miniſterial Succeſs entirely depends thereupon, 1 Cor. 3. 7.

Thoſe are the beſt Sermons that are obtained by Prayer. Bleſſed Bradford ſtudied upon his Knees. Luther obtained more this way, than by all his Studies. If an honeſt Husbandman could tell his Neighbour, That the Reaſon why his Corn proſpered better than his, was, becauſe he ſteeped the Seed in Prayer, before he ſowed it in the Field; we may bluſh to think how much more precious Seed we have ſown dry and unſteeped in Prayer, and by this neglect have fruſtrated our own Expectations. Thus laying our Foundations in the Knowledge of Principles, chuſing our Subjects by the Peoples Neceſſities, handling them in apt Language, working them firſt upon our own Affections, enforcing them by ſtrict Converſations, and ſteeping this holy Seed in Prayer, we ſhall approve our ſelves the Prudent Miniſters of Chriſt.

2*dly*, Having ſaid thus much of Prudence, with reſpect to our ſingle Perſonal Concernment in the Work of the Miniſtry; I come next to ſhew its great Uſefulneſs with reſpect to others, who are concerned either,

1. With us, as Friendly Aſſiſtants in our Work.
2. Or againſt us as Enemies, who labour to obſtruct and fruſtrate our Work.

1. As to our Brethren and Fellow-workers in the Lord: Prudence will dictate and enjoyn it upon us, that by the firmeſt Union with them, we make their Gifts and Graces as uſeful as is poſſible, for the furtherance and advancement of our great and difficult Work. We cannot be ignorant how much Satan hath gained, and Chriſt's Intereſt hath ſenſibly loſt by thoſe unhappy Diviſions and Alienations amongſt Brethren, and Fellow-labourers in the Work of the Lord. Chriſt hath ſhed down variety of glorious Aſcenſion-gifts upon them, which are not capable of a full Improvement, but in union and conjunction with each other. Gifts are improved in us by Prayer and Study; but the Benefits of thoſe Gifts are ſhared among us by Love and Unity. Love and Union bring every Man's Gifts and Graces into the Common Bank, and inſtead of Monopolies, they drive a free and open Trade, to the great enriching of the Church.

There is not a greater or more pleaſant Variety of Qualities, Smells, and Colours, among the Herbs and Flowers, with which the Earth is variegated and decked for the Delight and Service of Man, than there is in the Gifts and Abilities of Miniſters, for the Uſe and Service of the Church. One hath quickneſs of Parts, but not ſo deep and ſolid a Judgment. Another is grave and ſolid, but not ſo ready and preſential. One is wary and reſerved: Another open and plain. One is melancholy and timorous: Another chearful and couragious. When theſe different Gifts and Qualities ſhine together in the Church-Heavens, what a Glorious Conſtellation do they make! And what ſweet benign Influences do they ſhed down upon the Lord's Heritage! All theſe Miniſterial Gifts and Graces are improvable for Chriſt,

1. More Privately, } by Brotherly Union.
2. More Publickly, }

1. More Privately: When God caſts the Lot of two, or more, Fellow-labourers, in the Goſpel, upon the ſame City, Town, or Neighbourhood, what a bleſſed advantage have they beyond ſolitary Miniſters, to carry on the Work of the Lord chearfully, vigorouſly, and ſucceſsfully! Whilſt Love cauſes their Hearts to claſp and cloſe, how muſt their Work be facilitated, ſweetned, and proſpered in their Hands! But if once Jars and Jealouſies get in amongſt them; if Pride, Envy, or carnal Intereſt, diſſolve the Bond of Brotherly Love; if inſtead of planting for Chriſt, they once begin to ſupplant one another; no Words are able to ſhew what a Train of Miſchief and Sins will now break in amongſt them, to the great Diſhonour of Chriſt, and Obſtruction of the Goſpel.

I do therefore in the Name of Chriſt, as upon my bended Knees, earneſtly entreat and beſeech my Brethren, by all the regard they have to the Honour of Chriſt, the Souls of their People, their own Comfort, or the Succeſs of their Labours; that no Envyings, or Strifes, no Supplantings, or Detractions, be once admitted or named among them. Methinks it is ſcarce imaginable, that thoſe who have ſo lately and ſeverely ſmarted, ſhould fall again into the ſame Follies, for which God hath chaſtiſed them.

2. And as Prudence directs us in to the way of our Profit and Comfort by this more private Improvement of our Gifts and Graces, ſo into a more excellent way by a General Union and Coalition with all our Brethren, farther diſtant in place from us. It calls upon us to bury and forget henceforth the factious Names of Diſtinction, growing out of our different Apprehenſions about ſmaller Diſciplinary Points. How many fervent Prayers have been poured out! How many excellent Irenicums have been written by thoſe excellent Miniſters that are now at perfect Unity in Heaven! Tho' they did not, yet I hope we and our Children ſhall reap the bleſſed Fruits of thoſe pious Endeavours. God hath ſpoken with a ſtrong Hand to our pious and prudent Brethren, in and about the Great City of this Kingdom; they have moſt wiſely and ſeaſonably projected this Great and Glorious Deſign: They have followed it cloſe with unwearied Diligence, admirable Patience, Chiſtian Humility and Condeſcenſion; and by the good Hand of the Lord with them, have brought it at laſt to a comfortable Iſſue.

The happy reſult of their fervent Prayers, and frequent Brotherly Conſults (all Praiſe to the God of Love and Peace for it!) are now in our Hands in thoſe bleſſed Sheets, called Heads of Agreement: Wherein God hath ſignally helped them to evidence their Wiſdom in the choice of Words, and their Humility and Charity, in mutual and neceſſary Conceſſions. They have by the Mouth of an Eminent Brother, (whoſe Praiſe is in the Goſpel, and whoſe Hand hath eminently aſſiſted in this Service) chearfully offered up their Praiſes to Jehovah-Shalom, for making the two Sticks of Judah and Ephraim, to become one Stick in his own Hand.

And now, Brethren, they wait; yea, give me leave to ſay, Chriſt waits as well as they, for our explicit Conſent, and chearful Suffrages. We have heard the joyful Sound of our Brethrens Praiſes: Shall we not Eccho to it, and ſay Hallelujah, and again Hallelujah? Ephraim ſhall no more envy Judah, nor Judah vex Ephraim; our Swords are turned into Plow-ſhares, and our Spears into Pruning-hooks: The Lord hath this Day rolled away our Reproach. Thus Prudence will direct us to carry it with Love and Unity towards our Brethren, that labour in the Work with us.

2. Let us next ſee what Direction it gives us, with reſpect to our Enemies, who endeavour to obſtruct and hinder the Work of the Lord in our Hands. If we be heartily engaged in the Service of Chriſt, we muſt expect many Adverſaries, and ſtrong Oppoſitions; Men that will raiſe Clouds of Reproaches to darken our Reputation among the People; Men that will repreſent us to them as Ignorant and Unlearned, Factious and Seditious, Erroneous and Enthuſiaſtical. Prudence in this Caſe will reſtrain us from rendring Reproach for Reproach, and propound to us the beſt Project in the World for the Vindication of our Names, and Succeſs of our Labours; and that is, that we ſo preach the Goſpel, that the People may feel the Power of Chriſt in our Doctrine; and ſo live, that they may ſee the Beauty of Chriſt in our Converſations; and ſo preaching and living, we ſhall bear down all the Prejudices of the World before us. Such Doctrine, ſeconded with ſuch a Converſation, like the Sun in the Heavens, will not only break up and ſcatter all Clouds of Reproach; but ſhed down their enlighning and enlivening Influences upon the Hearts of the People.

I neither do, nor dare ſuggeſt and inſinuate any thing in this Diſcourſe, againſt any Party or Body of Men, being convinced, that amongſt thoſe who differ from us, there are many Learned, Pious, and Peaceable Men, who can heartily rejoyce to ſee the Work of Chriſt carried on by thoſe that follow not them. But ſome there are almoſt in every place, who are more concerned for a Ceremony, than for the Subſtance of Religion; for a Tile upon the Roof, than a Stone in the Foundation: Whoſe Envy, if it cannot reach others by Imitation, will be reſtleſs 'till it meet them by Calumniation. In this Caſe Miniſterial Prudence will carefully ſhun all Occaſions of Exaſperation; and if that Care be not ſufficient to avoid them, it will furniſh us with that Patience and Conſtancy, which will be ſufficient to bear them.

Thus we ſee the Neceſſity and Excellency of Miniſterial Faithfulneſs and Prudence diſtinctly conſidered: Let us next,

2. View them conjunctly in ſome ſpecial Parts of our Work, whereinto they ſhed down their joint and commixed Influences. And theſe, among ſome others, are the Duties of,

1. Defending Truth againſt Error.
2. Reproving Offenders.
3. Dealing with diſtreſſed Conſciences.

1. There is great need of Faithfulneſs and Prudence, in defending the Truths of Chriſt, againſt the Errors of the Times. Our Faithfulneſs indeed, will oblige us to do it; but Prudence muſt direct us how to do it. The eſtabliſhment of our People in the Truth, is one ſpecial end of the Inſtitution of the Miniſtry, Eph. 4. 11. But without the aſſiſtance of both theſe Graces, that end is never like to be attained. A faithful Miniſter dares not be ſilent, where the Souls of his People are concerned; yet all his Endeavours to ſecure them will be to little purpoſe, if Prudence be wanting in the management of that Deſign. Prudence muſt both time our Contentions, and regulate the manner of them. 'Twill neither ſuffer us to appear too ſoon, nor too late; not too ſoon, becauſe Errors are ſometimes beſt cured by neglect, and in a little time grow weary of themſelves: Not too late, leſt they get head, and be paſt retrieve. Haſty Contenders, like young Faulconers, let fly the Hawk with her Hood on. Upon the other ſide, if Friendſhip, or Relation to Seducers ſtop our Mouths too long, we may in a few Days be entertained by them, (as Thyeſtes was by his Brother Atreus) with the Limbs of our own (Spiritual) Children. Prudence will not ſuffer our Pulpets to ring with Invectives againſt Seducers, 'till the more private and gentle Methods have been tried in vain; and then neither Prudence, nor Faithfulneſs will admit of longer delay. But yet when they both adviſe us to engage, Prudence muſt regulate the manner of the Contention, and commands us to urge hard Arguments, with mild and ſoft Language:

Erroriſts are uſually hot and paſſionate, proud and daring Perſons. Moſt true is that of Nazianzen, Φύσεις θερμαὶ ϗ μεγάλαι ταύτης τῆς ταραχῆς αἴτιον. Hot and haughty Spirits are the Cauſes of Troubles and Diſtractions in the Church: Hot to hot will never do well. Theſe heights and heats are beſt taken down and cooled by ſtrong and mild Reaſonings: The Wrath of Man worketh not the Righteouſneſs of God.

2. The joint commixed Influences of both theſe Graces, muſt be found in all our Miniſterial Reproofs.

proofs. Reprove we muſt, or we cannot be faithful; and prudently too, or we cannot be ſucceſsful. He that is ſilent, cannot be innocent; and yet 'tis a meaſuring Caſt, whether Cowardly Silence be more prejudicial to the Reprover, than indiſcreet Zeal may be to the Reproved. Faithfulneſs is loth to loſe the Soul of another for want of Reproof; Prudence is jealous of loſing it by the ill management of the Reproof. Faithfulneſs ſaith, 'Tis better to loſe the Smiles, than the Souls of Men; Prudence ſaith, To ſave both is beſt. Reprehenſion is Χειρουργία τῶν παθῶν, The Chyrurgery of the Paſſions; and Cutting-work is no eaſie or pleaſant Work. Sick and pained Men are wayward and pettiſh; but Prudence will caſt Fetters upon their Paſſions, and make them lie quiet, whilſt Faithfulneſs probes and ſearches their Wounds to the bottom. Prudence can ſometimes convey a Reproof ſo effectually and inoffenſively, that the Conſcience of the Reproved ſhall ſenſibly feel it; and yet his Paſſions not be awakened by the leaſt injurious Touch. Faithfulneſs conſiders and urges the neceſſity of the Duty; Prudence conſiders the Quality of the Perſon, Time, and Manner of Application: It will reach the Sin, and yet (if poſſible) avoid the Offence of the Sinner. It ſometimes directs us to convict an Offender, by transferring the Offence by way of Suppoſition to our ſelves; ſometimes by relating a ſuitable Hiſtory, or folding down a remarkable Scripture-Threatning or Example, as it were accidentally to meet them. How prudently did Nathan prepare David, before he came to touch the quick, with, Thou art the Man? Above all, Prudence adviſeth us to keep our ſelves pure from thoſe Sins we reprove in others; and when we muſt apply the precious Oil of Reproof to them, that we work it in with the warm, ſoft, gentle hand of Love and Compaſſion; and then the Reproof is like to do good, and the Reprover receive Thanks for his kindneſs. Let the Righteous ſmite me, it ſhall be a Kindneſs: Let him reprove me, it ſhall be an excellent Oyl, which ſhall not break mine Head, Pſal. 141. 5.

3. Once more, their Joynt-influences muſt alſo meet in all our Dealings, with diſtreſſed Conſciences.

Conſcience is a very tender thing, and when ſick and diſtreſſed, needs to be handled both judiciouſly and tenderly. The Wound muſt be ſearched, ſaith Faithfulneſs. It muſt be ſearched ſkilfully, ſaith Prudence. He that can ſo ſearch and cure it, deſerves that excellent Encomium, One among a Thouſand, Job 33. 23. What expert and dexterous Perſons at this Work, were our Greenham, Crook, Dod, Ball, and Burroughs! Every Emperick can skin over a Wound; but a faithful Miniſter will ſearch it throughly, and a prudent Miniſter will heal it warily, Ne

Vulnus in antiquum redeat, male firma Cicatrix.

leſt it feſter at the bottom, and break out again with greater danger. It requires a great meaſure of both theſe Graces, to bring general confuſed Troubles to ſettle upon the right bottom; to direct a Sin-ſick Soul to Chriſt, in the true Goſpel-Method; to furniſh the tempted Chriſtian with a proper Weapons againſt Satan's Aſſaults; and teach him how to manage them. To diſſolve the Doubts, and remove the Scruples, which ariſe almoſt in every ſtep of his way to Chriſt: And ſo to ſettle the fluctuating Soul in a ſweet and ſure dependance upon him by Faith. Theſe things (I ſay) require much faithful Prudence, and prudent Faithfulneſs. And thus we ſee the manifold uſefulneſs of both theſe Graces in the Servants and Stewards of Chriſt. Of ſuch I may ſay, as Chriſt in the Text, Who then is a faithful and wiſe Servant? Hi nuncii (inquit Piſcator) rari ſunt, ità ut ex mille hominibus vix unus reperiatur, qui munere illo recte fungi poſſit. Chriſt hath not many ſuch Servants; yet bleſſed be God, ſome ſuch there are: And,

3. Whoever, or where-ever ſuch faithful and wiſe Servants be, Chriſt will abundantly reward them in the Day of their Account. Which caſts me upon the third and laſt Doctrinal Head I promiſed to ſpeak to. The Glory prepared for, and promiſed to ſuch Servants of Chriſt, is elegantly laid out in ſhining Terms, by the Prophet Daniel, Dan. 12. 3. And they that be wiſe, ſhall ſhine as the brightneſs of the Firmament; and they that turn many to Righteouſneſs, as the Stars for ever and ever. A Promiſe which points directly to faithful and wiſe Miniſters. What a beautiful Sight is the Azure Canopy of Heaven, when it's about to ſhut it's beautiful Eye-lids in a ſerene Evening! And much more, when it is about to open them with a Smile or Bluſh in the Dawning of the ruddy Morning! And how is that Beauty again outvied by the Glory of the Stars, where the pleaſant Light ſports and twinkles! And how doth one Star excel another in Glory! Yet thus, and more than thus, even above the brightneſs of the Sun it ſelf, ſhall the Servants of Chriſt ſhine, who by their Faithfulneſs and Prudence have inſtrumentally turned many unto Righteouſneſs.

The Queſtion about Degrees of Glory in Heaven is not neceſſary, but Problematical. We reject with abhorrence the Popiſh Doctrine of Diverſity of Glories, as founded in the Diverſity of Merits: Nor is it queſtioned among the Orthodox, whether there be an equality of Glory as to the Eſſentials; but only in reſpect to the Accidentals and Concomitants: Amongſt which they place the additional Glory and Joy of ſuch Miniſters, whoſe faithful and prudent Labours God hath bleſſed and crowned with the Converſion and Edification of many Souls. And of this the Apoſtle ſpeaks, 1 Theſſ. 2. 19, 20. For what is our Hope, or Joy, or Crown of Rejoycing? Are not even ye in the Preſence of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt at his coming? For ye are our Glory and Joy. Where we find a very remarkable Gradation. He calls his Theſſalonian Converts, his Hope, his Joy, nay, his Crown of Rejoicing. His Hope, that is, the Matter of his Hope, that they ſhould be ſaved. His Joy, as they had already given him abundant Cauſe of Joy, in their Converſion to Chriſt by his Miniſtry. And the Crown of his Rejoycing in the preſence of Chriſt at his coming. This is an high Strain indeed! The meaning I ſuppoſe is, That the fruit and ſucceſs of his Miniſtry among them, would add to his Crown, and redound to his Glory in the Day of Chriſt.

O Brethren! who would not ſtudy and pray, ſpend and be ſpent in the Service of ſuch a bountiful Maſter! Is it not worth all our Labours and Sufferings, to come with all thoſe Souls we inſtrumentally begat to Chriſt, and all that we edified, reduced, confirmed, and comforted in the way to Heaven, and ſay, Lord, here am I, and the Children thou haſt given me. To hear one Spiritual Child ſay, Lord, this is the Miniſter by whom I believed. Another, This is he by whom I was edified, eſtabliſhed, and comforted. This is the Man that reſolved my Doubts, quickned my dying Affections, reduced my Soul, when wandring from the Truths! O bleſſed be thy Name, that ever I ſaw his Face, and heard his Voice! What think we of this, Brethren? But far beyond this; What will it be to hear Chriſt, the Prince of Paſtors, ſay in that Day, Well done, good and faithful Servant, thou haſt been faithful over a few things; I will make thee Ruler over many things: Enter thou into the Joy of thy Lord, Mat. 25. 21. O Sirs! we ſerve a good Maſter, who is not unrighteous to forget our Work, and Labour of Love for his Name-ſake: He keeps an exact Account of all your fervent Prayers, of all your Inſtructive and Perſwaſive Sermons; and all your Sighs, Groans, and Pantings, with every Tear and Drop of Sweat, are placed like Marginal Notes againſt your Labours in his Book, in order to a full Reward.

But I have far out-run my own Intention, and (I doubt) your Patience too in the Doctrinal part: I conſider to whom I ſpeak, and ſhall be the ſhorter in the Application; which I ſhall diſpatch apace, in Three Uſes.

1. For Information.
2. For Reprehenſion.
3. For Exhortation.

USE I.

And firſt for our Information briefly in two or three Conſectaries.

1. Conſectary.

By this it appears Chriſt hath eſtabliſhed an Order and Government in his Houſe, which none muſt violate. The Church is a well-ordered Family, or Houſhold, whereof Chriſt is the Head, Chriſtians Members, Miniſters Stewards, the Ordinances Food to be diſpens'd by them in Seaſon. Every one is to keep his own Place and Station. Paſtors muſt faithfully feed and govern the Flocks of Chriſt, Acts 20. 28. People muſt know, honour, and obey thoſe that are over them in the Lord, 1 Theſ. 5. 12. Heb. 13. 17. The one muſt not impoſe, nor the other uſurp; but each walk according to the Rule of Chriſt, with a right Foot, ordinately and comely.

Ὃν κατέστησεν ὁ κύριος.

This Order is the Church's Beauty, Col. 2. 5. And truly we may expect ſo much of Chriſt's Preſence, as we have of his Rule and Order amongſt us, and no more. Oh, that the Rules and Orders of his Houſe were better known and obſerved! Then Miniſters and People would clearly underſtand what they are to expect from each other in the way of Duty, and each Perſon keep his proper Station. Miniſters would not invade the Civil Callings of the People; nor the People the Sacred Calling of the Miniſtry; but all things would more ordinately, Secundum, ſub & ſuprà. The pleaſure of ſuch a ſight would as much tranſport gracious Souls with Joy and Pleaſure, as the Order of Solomon's Houſe did the Queen of the South.

2. Conſectary.

In the Light of this Truth, we may alſo read our Duty, how we ought to govern our ſelves in the Ordination of Men to the Miniſterial Office. This Office is to be committed unto faithful and able Men, 2 Tim. 2. 2. Not to Novices, 1 Tim. 3. 6. I know the Neceſſities of the Churches are great; but no more haſte (I beſeech you) to ſupply their Wants, than good ſpeed. Satis celeriter fieri quicquid commode geritur. That's ſoon enough, that's well enough. 'Tis a leſs hazard to put an ignorant Ruſtick into an Apothecary's Shop, to compound and prepare Medicines for Mens Bodies, than to truſt a Man deſtitute both of Faithfulneſs and Prudence, with the Diſpenſation of Chriſt's Ordinances to Mens Souls.

Some Men are moved by pitiful low Ends, 1 Sam. 2. 36. Put me into the Prieſts Office, that I may eat a piece of Bread. Some by Ambition, conceiting themſelves as able and holy as the beſt, Numb. 16. 3. What Mens ſecret Ends are, we cannot know: But their Qualifications for that Work, we may, and ought to know. We are ſolemnly charged to lay Hands ſuddenly upon no Man, 1 Tim. 5. 22. In Solomon's time the Jews were exceeding careful and wary in admitting Proſelites, becauſe they were then in a flouriſhing and proſperous State; not ſo cautelous in time of Adverſity, as Joſephus obſerves. I would diſcourage none that appear to have pious Inclinations, match'd with competent Qualifications. Many be uſeful, that cannot be excellent. Weaker Gifts rooted in a gracious Heart, will grow by uſing: But nothing grows without a Root. I think the plaineſt Men have done the greateſt Service in the Church of Chriſt; [redacted]. But ſtill Fidelity and Prudence are indiſpenſible Qualifications.

3. Conſectary.

If there be ſuch Rewards in the hand of Chriſt for all his faithful and wiſe Servants, Then we have no juſt Cauſe or Reaſon to repent of our choice of this Office, whatever Sufferings and Reproaches it hath, or yet may expoſe us to. I believe none of us ever yet felt ſuch Straits, endured ſuch Miſeries, or ſuſtained ſuch Labours as the Apoſtle mentions to have befallen him, 2 Cor. 11. 23, 24, 25, 26, 27.

And yet he heartily thanks the Lord Jeſus Chriſt (for all that) who had counted him faithful, and put him into the Miniſtry.

Brethren, we have ſerved a good Maſter, and have cauſe to admire his Care over us, and Bounty to us; and whatever we have ſuffered, we may ſay to them that ſhall ſucceed us, as Toſſanus to his Children and Kindred in his Laſt Will and Tement *: ‘I charge you, my dear Children and Relations, That ye never be aſhamed of the Evangelical Truth, either for the ſake of Offences ariſing from within the Church, or of Perſecutions from without it. Truth may labour, but cannot be ſuppreſſed: And I have often found by Experience, the Lord to be wonderfully preſent with them, that walk before him diligently and uprightly. Oh, he hath been a good God to us! he hath covered us in Days of Danger, made Proviſion for us and ours; and yet his beſt Rewards are behind. Let none ſcare at the Reproaches and Perſecutions that attend the Goſpel.

USE II.

This Point caſts an ireful Countenance upon all unfaithful and imprudent Miniſters, who give their People the Chaff for the Wheat, and Stones for Bread; who glory in the Title, and live upon the Profits, but neither feed the Flock, nor mind the Account. They Preach, they Pray, becauſe they muſt do ſo; but none are the better for their Prayers or Preaching. They ſeem to labour an hour or two in a Week; but their Labours turn to no account. Nor can be expected to turn to any good Account, whilſt they are neither animated by Faithfulneſs, nor guided by Prudence.

Agricola writing de Animantibus Subterraneis, tells us of a certain kind of Spirits that converſe in Minerals, and much infeſt thoſe that work in them. They ſeem to buſie themſelves according to the Cuſtom of Workmen. They will dig and cleanſe, melt and ſever the Metals. Yet when they are gone, the Workmen do not find that there is any thing done. I came not hither (I confeſs) to deal with this ſort of Men; and therefore ſhall leave them to conſider the Words immediately following my Text, which like a Thunder-clap from the Mouth of Chriſt, diſcharge Woes and Threatnings upon them, Verſe 48. ad finem, If that evil Servant ſhall ſay in his heart, My Lord delayeth his coming, and ſhall begin to ſmite his Fellow-ſervants, and to eat and drink with the Drunken; the Lord of that Servant ſhall come in a Day that he looketh not for him, and in an Hour that he is not ware of; and ſhall cut him aſunder, and appoint him his Portion with Hypocrites; there ſhall be weeping and gnaſhing of Teeth. Who can aggravate their Miſery more, than theſe Words of Chriſt have done?

But I am principally concerned at this time about our own Defects both in Faithfulneſs, and in Prudence; tho' neither of theſe (I hope) be totally wanting in us, yet our Defects and ſhort Comings, may, and muſt greatly humble us. Our vain Expence of much precious time; our ſhuffling haſte in ſo weighty a Study as the Salvation of our People is. Our ſinful Silence, when Conſcience ſaith, Reprove. Our Coldneſs and Dead-heartedneſs. Our unſerious and unprofitable Converſes. Our Pride and Oſtentation of Gifts. Our neglect of Perſonal Conferences. All theſe evidently diſcover, that both our Brains and Bowels need more ſtrength and tenderneſs. I will not inſiſt here upon theſe Particulars (let us do that in our Studies) but haſten to Exhortation, and therein to the Cloſe of this Diſcourſe.

USE III.

Are Faithfulneſs and Prudence the eſſential Requiſites of the Servants and Stewards of Chriſt's Houſe? And will he ſo amply reward them in whomſoever he finds them? Then let it be our care and ſtudy to approve our ſelves to him, ſuch as he here deſcribes and encourages.

But who am I, to manage ſuch a Work as this, among Men every way above me! However, you have called me to this Service, and Chriſt hath directed me to this Subject. And ſhould I now ſilently paſs over this part of my Work, how ſhall I approve my ſelf either a faithful or a wiſe Servant to him that ſent me?

I deſpair of ever having ſuch another Opportunity. I ſee many Faces in this Aſſembly, whom I ſhall never ſee any more in this World. I ſpeak to the Miniſters of Chriſt, the Guides and Paſtors of ſo many Flocks. May I be in the leaſt inſtrumental to quicken them to their Duties, their reſpective numerous Congregations will reap the benefit of it.

My Brethren, this is the Day I have often wiſhed for, when in the ſad and ſilent Years that are paſt, I have been ſearching my own Heart, and enquiring into the Cauſes of God's Indignation (as I doubt not you alſo have done); I have bewailed the forementioned Defects before the Lord, and engaged my Soul by ſolemn Promiſe to him, that if he would once more open the Door of Liberty, I would through his Grace labour to reform, and do my utmoſt to perſwade all my Brethren, to exerciſe more Miniſterial Faithfulneſs and Prudence.

And now I am where my Soul hath long deſired to be, and the Vows of God are upon me. Suffer therefore (dear Brethren); yea, ſuffer from unworthy me, this Word of Exhortation: Take heed to your Miniſtry, that you fulfil it: Take heed to your ſelves, and to the Flocks over which the Holy Ghoſt hath made you Overſeers. Let us ſo Study and Preach, let us ſo Pray and Converſe among our People, that we may both ſave our ſelves, and them that hear us. Let us frugally and induſtriouſly husband our Time and Talents for Chriſt. Let us prudently contrive, zealouſly and unanimouſly execute our holy Contrivances, for the advancement of his Kingdom, and Intereſt, in the World. Theſe are Plotting-times, wicked Men are every-where plotting to diſturb the Civil Peace. Let us have our Plot too, an honeſt Plot, how to advance the Intereſt of Chriſt in the Souls of our People; wherein we ſhall alſo promote and ſecure the Civil Peace of that happy Government we live under. Let us learn Prudence from our paſt Follies, and Conſtancy from our paſt Experiences. I look upon you that are aged Miniſters, as ſeaſoned Timber, that hath lain out near thirty Years in the Weather, yet neither warped, raned, nor rotten. I confeſs in all this time, the Sun hath not much tried the force of his Influence upon us, tho' the Storms have. I ſuſpect our greateſt danger will be in the Sun-ſhine of Liberty. If we hold it now, and manage this Trial by Liberty, with eminent Faithfulneſs and Prudence, Humility and Peaceableneſs, Zeal and Diligence; Chriſt may account us fit Materials to build his Houſe. Let us now redeem our many ſilent Sabbaths, by double and treble Improvements of thoſe we enjoy. Let none of us dare to bring our old Sins into our new Pulpits. Then will the Prince of Paſtors delight to uſe us here, and crown our prudent Faithfulneſs with a full Reward hereafter. In order whereunto give me leave to hint (for I can do no more than hint) theſe Three Things by way of Motive, which are worth thinking on:

---

* Obteſtor vos liberos & generos chariſſimos, ne illius veritatis Evangelicæ unquam vos pudeat, vel propter ſcandala domi, vel propter perſecutiones, quæ foris excitantur. Poteſt enim laborare, ſed non vinci veritas. Et non ſemel expertus ſum Dominum Deum mirabiliter adeſſe iis, qui coram ipſo ambulant, & in ſuâ vocatione ſedulò & integrè verſantur, &c. Melch. Adam in Vitâ Toſſani, p. 720.

We have a Solemn Charge given us by Chriſt.

We have a Solemn Account to paſs ſhortly with Chriſt.

We have now a great Opportunity to improve for Chriſt.

1. We have a ſolemn Charge given us by Chriſt, 2 Tim. 4. 1, 2. I charge thee therefore before God, and the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, who ſhall judge the quick and the dead at his appearing, and his Kingdom; preach the word, be inſtant in Seaſon, and out of Seaſon, reprove, rebuke, exhort with all long ſuffering and doctrine. It muſt be a powerful Opiate indeed, that can ſo benumb and ſtupifie the Conſcience of a Miniſter, as that he ſhall not feel the awful Authority of ſuch a Charge.

The precious and immortal Souls of Men are committed to us; Souls about which God hath concerned his Thoughts from Eternity; for the purchaſe of which Chriſt hath ſhed his own Blood; for the winning and eſpouſing of which to himſelf, he hath put you into this Office; at whoſe Hands he will alſo require an Account of them in the Great Day.

2. We have a ſolemn Account at that Day to paſs with Chriſt, Heb. 13. 17. We watch for their Souls, as thoſe that muſt give Account. And what can more powerfully excite to faithful Diligence in the diſcharge of Duty, than the Conſideration of that Day! When the Apoſtle had mentioned in 2 Cor. 5. 10. this awful appearance before the Judgment-Seat of Chriſt, he immediately infers, Verſe 11. Knowing therefore the Terror of the Lord, we perſwade Men.

Oh, Brethren, let us beware of committing, or of neglecting any thing, that may bring us within the compaſs of the Terrors of that Day. Let our Painfulneſs and Faithfulneſs, our Conſtancy and Seriouſneſs, compel a Teſtimony from our Congregations, as the Apoſtle did from his, Acts 28. 26. That we are pure from the Blood of all Men.

3. We have a great Opportunity to improve for Chriſt; which if we do, we ſhall fulfil his Charge, and eſcape the Terrors of his Judgment in that Great Day.

We have now (if I miſtake not) the faireſt Seaſon we ever enjoyed, ſince we firſt preached Chriſt: If this be loſt, I queſtion whether we may ever expect the like. There's great Odds betwixt our preſent Circumſtances at our return to our Flocks, and our paſt Circumſtances when we left them; and that both upon our own Account, and upon theirs.

1. Upon our own Account: We were then young, and (comparatively) unexperienced Miniſters to what we are now. Tho' we have too many Defects and Weakneſſes ſtill to lament; yet I am perſwaded we have not ſpent ſo many Years among Trials, Fears, and Sufferings, in vain. Theſe things, I am perſuaded, have greatly improved our Acquaintance with God, and our own Hearts: It will be as ſad, as ſtrange, if they have not. God hath been training us up in Faith, Humility, Patience, and Self-denial in this School of Affliction. When we could not preach the Doctrine of Faith, we were reduced by a bleſſed neceſſity, to live the Life of Faith. The Rules of Patience, Humility, and Satisfaction, in the Will of God, we were wont to preſcribe from our Pulpits to the People, we were neceſſitated to practice and apply to our ſelves in our ſad Solitudes, and various Diſtreſſes, through which the Lord hath led us. So that now we come better furniſhed to the Work, than ever before. And I hope I have ground for you, Brethren, to ſay, as the Apoſtle, of his coming to the Romans, That you come among them in the fulneſs of the Bleſſing of the Goſpel of Chriſt.

2. There's great Odds upon the Peoples Account: Many of them were full-fed, and wanton, when we left them: They are hungry and ſharp-ſet at our return to them. An hungry Appetite appears in the People in many places, not without great cauſe and reaſon. They are willing to take any Pains: Your Words now drop upon them as the Clouds upon the clefted Earth. Oh, what an Opportunity doth this give to accompliſh the Great Ends of our Miniſtry among them!

Lift up your Eyes, and behold the Fields, Are they not even white unto the Harveſt? Let Huſbandmen rather loſe their Seed-time and Harveſt, than we loſe ſo precious a Seaſon, ſo great, ſo rich an Opportunity as this.

I have finiſhed what concerneth you, my Reverend and Dear Brethren, and Fellow-Labourers in the Lord's Harveſt: A word or two remains to be ſpoken to the People, and I have done.

You have heard what variety of Duty lies upon us, and what difficulty in every part thereof; yet all our Labours would be light, and our Pains pleaſant, might we ſee more Fruits and Succeſs of them amongſt you.

Your Barrenneſs and Unperſwadeableneſs, your Diviſions and Inſtability coſt us more, than all our other Pains in our Studies and Pulpits. How eaſily and ſweetly would the Plow go, would you but ſet both your Hands of Prayer and Obedience to aſſiſt us in that Work.

You have now as bleſſed an Opportunity as your Souls can deſire; yea, that very Seaſon of Mercy ſome of you have a long time anxiouſly deſired. You have confeſſed to God, that you once ſinned us out of our Pulpits; God forbid you ſhould next ſin us into our Graves.

If you be wanton Children at a full Table, our Enemies are not ſo far off, but God can quickly call them in to cure your Wantonneſs, by taking away the Cloath.

The Stewards of Chriſt provide choice Diſhes for you, even Feaſts of Fat Things full of Marrow; and ſerve it into your Souls upon the Knee of Prayer in due Seaſon. Have a care of deſpiſing it, if at any time the Diſhes be not garniſhed as you expect, with curious Figures, and Flowers of Rhetorick.

The Lord give you hungry Appetites, ſound Digeſtions, and thriving Souls; then ſhall ye be our Crown of Rejoycing, and we yours in the Day of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt: To the Word of whoſe Grace I commend you all, which is able to build you up, and give you an Inheritance among them that are ſanctified.

A

A Double Scheme, or Table:

Containing in the Firſt Colume,

The SINS moſt incident to the Members of Particular Churches, plainly forbidden in the Word, and for which GOD ſets Marks of his Diſpleaſure on them.

And in the Second,

The DUTIES enjoined on them in the Scripture; in the Conſcientious Diſcharge whereof, they receive ſignal Fruits of his Favour.

I. Sin. THE Firſt and more General Sin of Church-Members, is, A Defect in their Care and Circumſpection, to prevent all juſt Offences to them that are without; forbidden Col. 4. 5. Walk in Wiſdom towards them which are without. By a careleſs diſregard of this Rule, we harden the Wicked in their Sins, bring Guilt upon our ſelves, and Reproach upon the Name and Ways of God.

II. Sin. The Second and more Particular Sin of ſome Church-Members, is, Idleneſs, and Neglect of their Civil Callings; againſt the expreſs Rule, 2 Theſ. 3. 11, 12. There are ſome which walk among you diſorderly, working not at all: Such we command and exhort by our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, that with quietneſs they work, and eat their own Bread. This brings Poverty on Themſelves, and Scandal on Religion.

III. Sin. The Third Sin is Tale-bearing, and revealing the Secrets of Families, and Perſons; whence many Strifes ariſe, to the cooling and quenching of mutual Love; expreſly forbidden, Lev. 19. 16. Thou ſhalt not go up and down as a Tale bearer among thy People. And 1 Tim. 5. 13. Not only idle, but Tatlers alſo, and Buſie-bodies, ſpeaking things which they ought not.

IV. Sin. The Fourth Sin is an eaſie Credulity of private Whiſpers, and raſh Cenſures thereupon. This we ought not to do againſt the meaneſt Member, 2 Cor. 12. 20. Leſt there be debates, envyings, wraths, ſtrifes, back-bitings, whiſperings, &c. Much leſs againſt Church-Officers, 1 Tim. 5. 19. Againſt an Elder receive not an Accuſation, but before two or three Witneſſes. This ſtrikes at the Bond of Peace.

V. Sin. Their Fifth Sin is in their neglect of God's Ordinances upon ſlight Diverſions, when they are neither diſabled by Works of Neceſſity or Mercy; contrary to Heb. 10. 25. Not forſaking the aſſembling of our ſelves together, as the manner of ſome is. Trivial Occaſions ſhould divert no Chriſtian from attending upon God's Ordinances.

VI. Sin. The Sixth Sin is a defect in Zeal for God's Ordinances, manifeſt in their Dilatory Attendance; contrary to Pſal. 122. 1. I was glad when they ſaid unto me, Let us go into the Houſe of the Lord. And unſuitable to their firſt Practice, Gal. 4. 15. Where is then the Bleſſedneſs? &c.

I. Duty. THeir Firſt Duty, is, To be often together in Acts of Chriſtian Communion, Mal. 3. 16. Then they that feared the Lord, ſpake often one to another, &c. Such Meetings for Prayer, Repetition of Sermons, and Chriſtian Conference, greatly conduce to mutual Edification; which is the Principal Intention of Chriſtian Fellowſhip, Eph. 4. 15, 16.

II. Duty. Their Second Duty, is, To follow and back the great Deſign of the Goſpel into the World, and therein aſſiſt the Publick Miniſtry, by their private and prudent helping on the Converſion of the carnal and careleſs World, Phil. 4. 3. Help those Women that laboured with me in the Goſpel, &c. For the Lord Jeſus Chriſt's ſake, and for the love of the Spirit, ſtrive together with me, Rom. 15. 30.

III. Duty. Their Third Duty, is, Humble Condeſcention to the Infirmities of their weaker Brethren, and denying themſelves in what they can, without Sin, that they give them no offence, Rom. 15. 1. We then that are ſtrong, ought to bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to pleaſe our ſelves. And Verſe 2. Let every one of us pleaſe his Neighbour for his good to edification.

IV. Duty. Their Fourth Duty, is, To be exceeding tender of the Churches Unity, both in Judgment, Love, and Practice; avoiding (as much as may be, and as far as the Goſpel Rule allows) all Cauſes and Occaſions of Diviſion and Separation, Rom. 16. 17. Mark them which cauſe Diviſions and Offences, and avoid them. And Phil 2. 1, 2. If there be any Conſolation in Chriſt, &c. be ye like minded.

V. Duty. Their Fifth Duty, is, A reſpectful Carriage towards the meaneſt Chriſtian, and to have higher eſteem of others than themſelves. External things make no difference with Chriſt, Rom. 12. 10. In honour preferring one another. Gal. 3. 28. Ye are all one in Chriſt Jeſus. Yet a Decorum is to be kept ſuitable to Civil Differences, Eph. 5. 21. Submitting your ſelves to one another in the fear of God.

VI. Duty. Their Sixth Duty, is, Meekly to receive Reproofs from each other for their Sins, eſpecially when the matter is juſt, and the manner of delivering it regular, Pſal. 141. 5. Let the righteous ſmite me, it ſhall be a kindneſs: And let him reprove me, it ſhall be an excellent oyl, &c.

VII. Sin. The Seventh Sin is Irreverence, and want of Seriouſneſs under Ordinances; contrary to Pſal. 89. 7. God is greatly to be feared in the aſſembly of the Saints: And to be had in reverence of all that are round about him. And this is manifeſt in vain Attires, 1 Cor. 11. 10. The Woman ought to have power on her Head, becauſe of the Angels. And unſeemly Poſtures and Geſtures, Eccleſ. 5. 1. Keep thy Foot, when thou goeſt to the Houſe of God; and be more ready to hear, than to give the Sacrifice of Fools.

VIII. Sin. The Eighth Sin reprovable in them, is, The neglect of giving and taking due Reproofs each from other; contrary to Lev. 19. 17. Thou ſhalt in any wiſe rebuke thy Neighbour, and not ſuffer Sin upon him. And Chriſt's own Rule, Mat. 18. 15. Go, and tell him his Fault between thee and him alone. And ſo for taking, ſee Pſal. 141. 5. Let the Righteous ſmite me, &c.

IX. Sin. The Ninth Sin, is, Mutual Strifes and Animoſities, not ſeaſonably and prudently compoſed among themſelves, but ſcandalouſly expoſed to the View of the World; contrary to the Apoſtle's Rule, 1 Cor. 6. 5, 6. Is there not a wiſe Man among you? &c. But Brother goeth to Law with Brother, and that before the Unbelievers? Now therefore, there is utterly a Fault among you.

X. Sin. Their Tenth Sin, is, The Privateneſs of their Spirits, centring too much in their own Concerns; expreſly condemned, Phil. 2. 21. All ſeek their own, not the things which are Jeſus Chriſt's. And contrary to Scripture-Example, 2 *Cor.*11.29. Who is weak, and I am not weak? Who is offended, and I burn not?

VII. Duty. Their Seventh Duty, is, To communicate their Spiritual Stock of Gifts, Graces, and Experiences, not interfering with Publick Offices, nor by ſinful Partiality including ſome, and excluding many others (to whom it is as due, and who may have more need) from the Benefit thereof, 1 Pet. 4. 10. As every Man hath received the Gift, even ſo miniſter the ſame one to another. 1 Tim. 5. 21. Obſerve theſe things without preferring one before another, doing nothing by partiality.

VIII.Duty. Their 8th Duty is,chearfully to communicate their outward Good Things for the Relief of their Brethren, Heb. 13. 16. To do good, and to communicate forget not. And the better to enable them hereunto, to be diligent in their Callings,Eph.4.28. Working with his hands, that he may have to give to him that needeth. And eſpecially to make comfortable Proviſion for their Miniſters, not by way of Courteſie, but Duty, 1 Cor.9.14. Even ſo hath God ordained, That they which preach the Goſpel, ſhould live of the Goſpel.

IX. Duty. Their Ninth Duty, is, Not only to relieve the diſtreſſed Members of Chriſt, but to ſeek out, and viſit them; to know their Spiritual and Temporal Wants, in order to the full Diſcharge of that Duty, James 1. 27. Pure Religion and undefiled before God, and the Father, is this, To viſit the Fatherleſs and Widows in their affliction, &c.

X. Duty. Their Tenth Duty, is, To put charitable Conſtructions upon doubtful Words and Actions; and if either will admit a double Sence, always to take it in the faireſt, according to the Law of Charity, 1 Cor. 13. 7. Charity beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth allt hings, endureth all things. And ſuch a Charity will defend and maintain Church-Peace and Unity.

Six BENEFITS of Walking by theſe RULES.

I. Ben. STrict and heedful Attendance to theſe Rules, will put a Luſtre upon Religion before the World, and make it glorious in the Eyes of ſuch as now deſpiſe it, Tit. 2. 10. Adorn the Doctrine of God our Saviour in all things. Which he here ſpeaks, to encourage all to ordinate Walking.

II. Ben. This will allure and win the World over to Chriſt, and wonderfully proſper and further the Deſign of the Goſpel, Phil.2.15,16. That ye may be blameleſs and harmleſs, the Sons of God without rebuke, in the midſt of a crooked and perverſe Nation, &c. That I may rejoyce in the Day of Chriſt, that I have not run in vain, neither laboured in vain.

III. Ben. This will effectually ſtop the Mouths of all the detracting and blaſpheming Enemies of Religion, 1 Pet. 2. 15. For ſo is the Will of God, that with well doing ye may put to ſilence the ignorance of fooliſh men.

IV. Ben. This will eminently glorifie God; which is the ultimate End of our Beings, Mat. 5. 16. Let your Light ſo ſhine before Men, that they may ſee your good Works, and glorifie your Father which is in Heaven.

V. Ben. This will fill the People of God (by way of Evidence) with much inward Peace, Gal. 6. 16. And as many as walk according to this Rule, Peace be on them, and Mercy, and upon the Iſrael of God.

VI. Ben. This will ſecure the Preſence of God with, and among us; whence reſults both the Efficacy of Ordinances, and the Stability and Glory of the Churches: For Chriſt walks among the Golden Candleſticks, and threatens the Churches, in caſe of Defection from Goſpel-Rules, to remove the Candleſtick out of his place, except they repent, Rev. 2. 1, 5.

BRITISH 26 AP 88 MUSEUM

THE ALPHABETICAL TABLE OF THE CONTENTS Of this Second VOLUME.

ADVERTISEMENT.

In regard ſeveral of theſe Treatiſes have their particular Numbers, for the more eaſie finding out of the CONTENTS, there are added the Signatures of the Alphabetical Letters, for a better Diſtinction and Direction to the Numbers of the Pages in ſeveral Places, where it is judged moſt needful.

A. Page

ABraham's Covenant, and Adam's Covenant of Works, whether the ſame, the Reaſons examin'd 1001
Abraham's Covenant, the Nature of it 1003
Abſtinence from Sin, the Grounds and Motives 5 H. 62, &c.
—— It ſhews the ſincerity of a Chriſtian 54
Affected with Sions Miſery; to be, &c. 2 M. 91
Adam's Fall 935
Adoption, and by what means 5 B. 9
Adoption 948
Adverſity, how to keep our hearts in that Seaſon, and helps to keep us from repining 5 B. 12
—— a Furnace, how it proves the ſincerity or unſoundneſs of our Hearts 5 H. 58
—— what Effects it hath upon the godly and ungodly 59
—— Five Symptoms of a naughty Heart in Adverſity ibid. &c.
Æſchyles his Judgment of Providence 2 A. 2
Afflictions, how they purge away the Impurities of the Saints 2 A. 31
—— like Hue-and-Cries after ſin 990
Affliction, the bleſſed Effects and Fruits of it 14
—— the ſinking weight of it 989
Afflictions, how God deals with his People to ſanctifie and ſupport them 27
—— turn'd by Grace, from a Curſe into a Bleſſing 991
Alexander's Story, and Taxiles the Indian King 1139
Ambition, how to mortifie it 6 H. 969
Anacharſis's Opinion of Seamen 4 A. 1
Angels, their Services to Men 4 H. 56
Apoſtates, their dreadful Caſe 1 A. 121
Antipharmacum Saluberrimum, or a Caveat to all Saints, &c. 77
Art, (an excellent) to diſcourſe with Beaſts and Birds 2 A. 1
Artaxerxes Memnon 2 A. 35
Aſſurance, from whence 5 B. 9
Aſſurance of our Adoption, and by what means ibid.
Aſſurance of Sincerity, poſſible in this Life 5 K. 76
Aſſemblies Catechiſm expounded 6 A. 921
—— the Uſe and Importance of Catechiſing ibid.
—— To the Reader 922
Aſſurance, the Fruit of Juſtification 949
Aſſurance of Believers, the ſubject nature ibid.
Author, quality of it, and why call'd a ſealing 1038

B.

BAptiſm 982 —— It's Subjects ibid.
Baptiſm ſucceeds to Circumciſion 1119 &c.
—— Objections anſwered ibid.
Balm of the Covenant applied to the bleeding Wounds 977
—— Epiſtle Dedicatory to Madam Urſula Upton, &c. ibid.
Barrenneſs, ſpiritual, whence it proceeds, compared with the Barrenneſs of the Ground, and its Cauſes 23
—— the danger of it 24
Believers Children are included within the Covenant of free Grace, &c. 1022
Beauford, Henry, Biſhop of Winchester's Saying 65
—— Chriſt's acknowledging Believers 954
Bread, concerning our daily Bread 992
Blaſpheming the Name of God, how unreaſonable, and what a grievous Sin it is 1290

C.

CAlling, the difference between effectual and ineffectual 946
Ceremonies, bring in the Religion, why continued 100
Change of Man by Converſion, ſupernatural 1 A. 79
Chriſt, how he ſolicits, and is preſent in the Goſpel Adminiſtrations 1 A. 12
Chriſt's threefold Preſence in his Church, and the Conſequence 13, &c.

Chriſt's Meekneſs and Mercy 30
——every Conviction is a knocking of Chriſt from Heaven for Entrance 36
Chriſt an earneſt Suitor for Union and Communion with the Souls of Sinners 47
——how demonſtrated ibid. &c.
——his Life, Miracles, and Doctrine are Demonſtrations of his Willingneſs to embrace Sinners 48
——his Joy, Sorrow, and Mourning are Evidences ibid.
——his principal Deſign, Encouragements, and Threatnings, ſpeak the ſame thing 49
——his Death, the fulleſt Demonſtration that ever was, or can be given of his Love to Sinners; and wherein 50
——the Uſe and End of Chriſt's Sufferings ibid.
——the Gifts he beſtowed at his Aſcenſion, to what End and Deſign 51
——proved by Five Conſiderations; his gaining nothing by us; by his impoveriſhing himſelf to gain ſuch unprofitable Creatures, &c. 52
Chriſt's Willingneſs to receive us, unqueſtionable 53
——Directions how to comply 57, &c.
Chriſt will not refuſe to come into the Soul of the vileſt Sinner, when 'tis made heartily willing to open to him 59
——will not refuſe Sinners as appears from Four Evidences 62
——Encouragements from the Compariſons choſen by God to expreſs the Greatneſs of his Mercy; the Heavens, the Sun, and the Sea, &c. 63
Chriſt's Condeſcenſion to great Sinners 66
Chriſt's Invitation extends to all 67
Chriſt, our Union with him, the ſteady Foundation of our Hopes of Glory 69
Chriſt's Coming into the Soul, what it means 85
Chriſt's myſtical Union with Believers, conſidered 88
Chriſt's coming into the Soul, certain 88
——what bars him out, and what not ibid.
Chriſt's Coming, what Advantages it brings 89
——Pardon of Sin, a raviſhing Advantage, by reaſon of the Trouble before it; 'tis a ſweet Mercy, and its Properties 89
——our Peace with God 90
——our Joy in the Holy Ghoſt ibid.
——the Sealings of the Spirit, with the Advantages and Effects 91
Chriſt's refreſhing the Souls of Sinners, why he doth it 92, &c.
——why call'd a Supper, the excellency of it 93
Chriſt, no true Comfort but in him 94
——the Danger of ſuch as reject him ibid.
a Queſtion anſwered, and Directions to the Unregenerate 96
——an Addreſs and Advices to the Regenerate ibid.
Chriſt's Incarnation 940
——of the manner of it ibid.
Chriſt's Offices 941
——Prophetical Office ibid.
Chriſt's Prieſthood 942
——Kingly Office ibid.
Chriſt's Humiliation 943
——Exaltation ibid.
——The Second Part of it 944
Chriſt, how to be look'd upon, and what Excellencies are in him 1042
Chriſt's Marriage with, and eſpouſed to Believers 1320
——compared with the Coronation-Day ibid.
——the Inferences conſidered in the following Pages; Uſes drawn from thence 1326
Church, its Reſt and Properties 130
Church's Deliverance, a time appointed for it 137
Church of God, a ſpiritual Field, and the Goſpel preaching, a Husbandry 8 ——what is to be inferr'd from thence 10 &c.
Church's Affliction in that Seaſon, how to keep our Hearts 5 B. 14
——Directions how to comfort our ſelves 5 D. 26
——in Croſſes and Provocations, how to keep our Hearts in ſuch times ibid.
——Means to keep our ſelves in a Chriſtian Temper, in ſuch Caſes and Examples 27
Church ſignified by a Lion 1319
Circumciſion, wherefore ordain'd 1009
——that it was not a pure Covenant of Works, proved by Four Arguments 1010
Conſiderations to oblige us to accept of God's Mercies 11
Cuſtom in Sin, how dangerous 19
——not to be overcome without Omnipotent Grace 20
The Firſt Commandment explain'd 959
The Second Commandment 960
The Third Commandment 961
The Fourth Commandment 962
The Fifth Commandment 963
The Sixth Commandment 966
The Seventh Commandment 967
The Eight Commandment 968
The Ninth Commandment ibid.
The Tenth Commandment 969
Converſion of the greateſt Sinners, not impoſſible 16
——the Effects of it ibid.
——what Effects Converſion produces in the Soul 20
——neceſſity of Converſion in order to Salvation 21
Conviction of Conſcience, is a knock of Chriſt from Heaven for Entrance 36
——a great Mercy and Favour of Chriſt 37
——'tis an Embryo of the New Creature 43
——care to be taken about it, wherein, and by whom 44
Converſion of Sinners, wonderful, and a great Deſign of God 81
Convictions on the Underſtanding partial, not perfect Converſion 84
——its Uſes 85
Communion with God, what things are requiſite 1035
——how hindered by natural Corruption in the Seaſons of Duty ibid.
Communion, that it is ſweet and intimate between Chriſt and believing Souls 98
——what it is, a State of Communion and an actual Communion opened negatively and poſitively 99
Communion with Chriſt founded in an Union, and what it ſuppoſes ibid.
——by what Ways and Methods Men have it 100
——its reality evidenced divers ways 102, &c.
——its Excellencies conſidered 104, &c.
——Five Things weaken it 108
Converſion, an unſpeakable Mercy ibid.
——an Addreſs to Converted and Unconverted 109, &c.
Company, to be choice of it 2 M. 89
Conſcience, what it is 113
——the Light of it, and its various kinds ibid.
——how this Light binds the Conſcience, and makes it ſtrive in us 114
Convictions, twofold, general, and particular ibid.
——what hinders it, and wherefore 115

Con-

Convictions impriſoned, or of holding the Truth of God in Unrighteouſneſs ſo dreadful, that it increaſeth God's Wrath; divers Reaſons examin'd 119
Conſcience, a tender one, a choice Mercy 121
——a troubled one, an uncomfortable Life ibid.
——Motives to perſwade to obey Convictions 122
Convictions of Conſcience, ſevere Expoſtulations or Demands concerning it 124
——Directions how to prevent ſinning againſt Conſcience 125, &c.
Condemnations ſure, of ſuch as continue in Sin after Conviction and Condemnations of their own Conſciences 122
Confederates with the Devil, Who? 123
Conde, the Prince's, excellent Saying 3 F. 44
Comforts, two ſorts, Natural and Spiritual 40
Conduct, divine, or Myſtery of Providence 2 A. 1
opened in a Treatiſe, upon Pſal. 57. v. 2. 2 A. 1
——The Epiſtle Dedicatory to the Duke of Bedford ibid.
——Preface to the heedful obſervers of the ways of Providence 2
Conditions of the New Covenant; what is meant by a Condition 1012
Converſation, the Beauty ariſes from the heavenly Frame and Orders of our Spirits 5 A. 8
Converſion, the neceſſity of it 1281
——of the Poſſibility, Nature, Encouragements, Diſcouragements, and Motives to Converſion 1310
Covenant of Works 934
Covenant of Grace 938
——the Fountain of all Belief 989
Creatures, teach Man 1
Creation in General 932
——of Man 933
A Coronation Sermon preach'd at Dartmouth, on Cant. 3. 11. Go forth ye Daughters of Sion, and behold King Solomon, &c. 1318, &c.
——a Crown the Top of earthly Glory ibid.
——the Solemnity of that Day conſiſts in Praiſes and Prayers, for what ibid
——and in a ſpiritual Improvement of the Action to the Subjects 1319
A Chriſtian, how he may work his Heart into a reſigning Frame unto the Will of God, when ſad Providences approach and threaten us 2 I. 65
——the Queſtion rightly ſtated ibid.
——what it ſuppoſeth 66
——Directions and Helps for this Purpoſe ibid. &c.
——a Poſtſcript upon that Subject 68
Conſolation of God's People in Affliction and Trials 995
——from the Covenant of Grace ibid.
Counſels to Saints in the Hour of Temptation 2 K. 78
Corruptions of the preſent World 2 H. 88
Conference, familiar, between a Miniſter and a doubting Chriſtian, concerning the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper 1067

D.

DAmnation of Sinners can be charg'd upon none but themſelves 53
——how their Damnation is inevitable, who conſent not to the neceſſary and reaſonable Conditions of the Goſpel 67
Dangerous Times, how to preſerve our Hearts in ſuch Seaſons 5 C. 22 ——Rules for that Purpoſe, and our Duty in thoſe Times, how to keep our Hearts, Helps for that Purpoſe ibid
Darius 35
David's extream Danger, by Saul, frights him not 4
Death, not to deſpiſe it 49
Deſertion, ſpiritual, in dangerous Times, how to keep the Soul and Heart, and the ſeveral Caſes conſidered 5 D. 29
——what Truths in ſuch Caſes we are to know 30
——ſome proper Queſtions anſwered 31, &c.
Dialogue, in a Poem, between Chriſt and the World 15, &c.
Diſappointments, how to bear them 81
Diſcourſe on 1 Cor. 3. 9. Ye are God's Huſbandry 7
——the Scope of the Apoſtle ibid.
——how this Relation is amplified and compared 7, &c.
Diſſwaſive from the Sins of Drunkenneſs, Swearing, and Uncleanneſs 32, &c.
——The Epiſtle Dedicatory to Sir John Frederick ibid.
——the greatneſs of the Sin of Drunkenneſs, with the Reaſons of this Treatiſe 33
——First Caution, and its Reaſons 34, &c.
——the Shame and Miſchief of this Sin 36, &c.
Divided, Profeſſors, in Judgment and Affections, dangerous 100
Doors of the Soul, are the Underſtanding and the Will 37
Duty of Man to God 356

E.

ENjoyment of God 155
England's Duty under the preſent Goſpel Liberty, upon Revel. 3. 20. 1
——Epiſtle to the Reader ibid.
——the Latin Epiſtle to the Miniſters 2, &c.
England's Alarm 97
Elezarius's Patience in bearing Injuries 44
Eternity, who border upon the Confines 5
Evil, of God's delivering us from all Evil 996
——the Concluſion of the Lord's Prayer ibid.
Evil, the worſt of Evils, preſent with the Saints 1034
Evils of David's Houſe 986
——his Comfort in the Covenant of God with him 987

F.

FAith 974, &c.
Faith, its Neceſſity, and wherein it conſiſts 86
Faith, the Condition of the Goſpel Covenant, to which Salvation is granted 1013
Faithfulneſs, Miniſterial, what it includes, and wherein it conſiſts 1329, &c.
Faith and Obedience 924
——the Neceſſity of our improved Faith in Sufferings, and how to improve it 963
How Faith relieves the Soul in Times of Sufferings 963
Famine of Bread, and of the Goſpel 35
——Rules for that Purpoſe 967
Forbearance, mutual, between Proteſtants needful 102
——Three Queries to that purpoſe, concerning Perſecution ibid.
Fortitude, Chriſtian 965

G.

GLory of God, to mind it 2 M. 90
Gentility and Nobility, wherein it conſiſts 1293
Glory prepared in Heaven for ſanctified Souls, its certainty 108

Gifts adorn the Perſon, but do not ſecure the Soul 29
God is a Spirit 925
—— be governs the World by Faith, not by Senſe 997
—— of God's Infinity ibid
—— of God's Eternity 926
—— of his Wiſdom 927
—— of his Power 928
—— of his Holineſs and Juſtice ibid.
—— of his Goodneſs 929
—— of his Truth 930
—— that there is but one God ibid.
—— that there are in the Godhead, Three Perſons 931
—— of God's Decrees 932
God's Greatneſs and Condeſcenſion to Man, Two great Myſteries 4
God's care to feed his Creatures and People 13
God's Grace ſhines forth in Scripture, in Three illuſtrious Characters 63
—— his Preſence ſecured to the Souls of Men 993, &c.
Goſpel Enemies, their dangerous Caſe 10
—— the Caſe of ſuch as neglect the Goſpel ibid.
—— what a Mercy 'tis to be within the reach of Grace offered by the Goſpel ibid.
Goſpel Worſhip, how ſolemn it is 15
Goſpel Loſs, the greatneſs of it 16
Goſpel Light and Miniſters, their chief Deſign 25
—— the Sins under the Goſpel, and the Puniſhments greateſt 31
Goſpel, what a Mercy is its Light and Liberty 64
—— what a Judgment to remove it from a Nation 78
—— its Two Deſigns explain'd 80
—— the Goſpel's great Deſign and Aim, is to open the Heart to Chriſt 80
—— the whole Trinity concern'd in this Deſign ibid.
—— the greatneſs of this Deſign conſider'd 81
—— the Difficulty from the Nature, Subject, and Enemies ibid.
—— the principal and ſubordinate Inſtruments imployed in it 82
—— the Scope of this Deſign and Intention of it ib.
Goſpel Commands, Promiſes, and Threatnings, are all deſigned to convert Sinners 83
Goſpel Light, its Clearneſs and Excellency 113
Government, the Excellency of a good Government 986
Grace, free, a Doctrine uncapable to convert Sinners 20
—— how far true Grace in Believers may fail ibid.
—— wherein it exceeds the Gifts of Nature in the Adminiſtration of the Word 29
Grace, ſaving, what it is 957
Grace, a ſign of Maturity 47
—— the Time of it is exceeding precious, and it enricheth the Soul that hath it 5 G. 52
—— Reaſons and Cauſes ibid.
—— Six practical Inferences from this Truth 54
—— what true Grace is, and the Proofs of it 55
—— what are to try true Grace ibid. &c.
—— how Proſperity tries true Grace 56, &c.
—— how Grace works upon us in ſuch a Condition 57
—— not ſufficient of it ſelf, in the Saints to endure the greateſt Trials 5 K. 77
Guilt, the Fountain of Fear 1285
—— ſuffer it not to lie upon your Conſciences 6 G. 966
Grave, of Reſt in it 953

H.

Hannibal's Boldneſs and Prudence in War 1285
Harlots Face 4 F. 42
Honywood's, the Lady, Caſe and Converſion. 21
Hearts of Men naturally lock'd againſt Chriſt 17
—— in a twofold manner ibid.
—— how lock'd and bar'd ibid.
—— the opening of the Heart, a ſign of God's Love, and an Effect of God's Almighty Power, and it procures unto us the Benefits of Chriſt's Salvation, mention'd in the Goſpel 24
Hearing of Chriſt's Voice, what it is 70
Heart the worſt part of Man, if unregenerate 4
—— what it ſignifies in Scripture Language ibid.
—— how to keep it, and the Motives why we ſhould endeavour to keep our Hearts ibid.
—— Directions how to keep our Hearts and Duties to be obſerved 5, &c.
—— the Difficulty and Importance of this Duty, and the Neceſſity of it conſidered 7
Heart Sins, dangerous and puniſhable ibid.
Heart keeping, Foundation for Chriſtian Comforts 8
Heaven, its Excellency, and the Joys to be gueſſed from the Foretaſts 94, 109
—— how differing from the ſpiritual Comforts of Believers on Earth ibid.
—— in Quantity, Conſtancy, Purity, Efficacy, Society, and Durability 95
Hell and Heaven begun here in the Souls of Men 92
Holineſs of Children intitles them to Baptiſm 1023
Hundred Years, every one wonderful 129
Husbandry ſpiritualiz'd, or the Heavenly Uſe of Earthly Things 3 A. 1
—— The Epiſtle Dedicatory to the Worſhipful Robert and William Savery, Eſquires, ſhewing the Deſign and Reaſons of it 2, &c.
—— To the Chriſtian Reader, Mr. Cary's Epiſtle 4
—— with Verſes to Mr. Flavel 6
To the Country Reader ibid.
Chap. 1. Huſbandman's Life compared to that of a Chriſtian 12, &c.
—— ſome profitable Reflections 13, &c.
Chap. 2 Huſbandman's Thriftineſs by Induſtry and Diligence in Grace and Nature alike, the Benefits of both 14
—— Reflections upon this Conſideration 15
Chap. 3. Huſbandman's Chearfulneſs, much more ſhould a Chriſtian's be; the Reaſons 16, &c.
—— Reflections and the Poem 17
Chap. 4. Huſbandman's arable Land, of its Quality 18
—— Reflections of the deſigning Hypocrite 19
—— Four Queſtions anſwered ibid. &c.
—— the Poem 20
Chap. 5. The Huſbandman's Improvement of bad Ground ibid.
—— Application of Comfort and Reaſons ibid.
—— Reflections and Poem 22
Chap. 6. The Huſbandman's Incurableneſs of bad Ground 23
—— Reflections 24, &c.
—— the Poem 25
Chap. 7. The Huſbandman's plowing of Corn Land conſidered, and compared with the Preaching of the Word ibid. &c.
—— ſeveral uſeful Reflections 27
—— the Poem 28

Chap. 8

Chap. 8. The Husbandman's Seed Corn, and the Circumſtances adapted to the Preaching of the Word 28, &c
—— Reflections, and Poem 30, &c.
Chap. 9. The Husbandman's ſpringing Weather after Seed Time; as the Rain, ſo the Goſpel comes from Heaven; the Compariſon, with its Circumſtances, conſidered 32
——The Reflections, and Poem 33
Chap. 10. The Husbandman's Caſe upon Dearth, Famine, want of Rain; the Compariſon continued 34, &c.
——Reflections and Poem 36, &c.
——of Huniades 35
Chap. 11. The Husbandman's Seed corrupted before it ſprings up; the Compariſon continued 37, &c
——the Reflections and Poem 38, &c.
Chap. 12. Of the Husbandman; the reſemblance of Wheat and Tares; how to diſtinguiſh both in the Spiritual State 39, &c.
——Reflections and Poem 40, &c.
Chap. 13. The Husbandman's Danger incident to Corn, from Seed Time to Harveſt, compared with the Goſpel preached 41, &c.
——the Reflections and Poem 42
Chap. 14. The Husbandman's Patience for the Harveſt; the Compariſon continued 43
——the Reflections and Poem 45
Chap. 15. The Husbandman's Caſe in the Harveſt Seaſon; the Compariſon continued 46, &c
——the Reflections and Poem 48
Chap. 16. The Husbandman's Care to provide for Winter; the Compariſon continued 49
——the Reflections and Poem 50
Chap. 17. The Husbandman's reaping the ſame he ſows; the Compariſon continued with Examples 51
——the Reflections and Poem 52
Chap. 18. The Husbandman's Joy of Harveſt; the Compariſon continued 53
——the Reflections and Poem 54
Chap. 19. The Husbandman's Threſhing out of his Corn; the Compariſon continued 55, &c
——the Reflections and Poem 56
Chap. 20. The Husbandman's winnowing of Corn 3 H. 57
——The Compariſon continued by way of Application ibid
——Reflections and Poem 58
Husbandry, ſpiritualiz'd, the Second Part of Trees and their Emprovement 59
Chap. 1. Of Ingrafting of Fruit Trees ibid
——Reflections and Poem 60
Chap. 2. The Husbandman's uniting the Graft with the Stock; with the Application 61
——Reflections and Poem 62
Chap. 3. The Husbandman's gathering in of Fruit in Autumn 62
——Application, Reflections and Poem ibid. &c.
Chap. 4. The Husbandman's cutting down of dead Trees 64
——the Application, Reflections and Poem 65, &c
Husbandry's Third Part; Chap. 1. Concerning the Care of Cattle 66
——Reflections and Poem 67
Chap. 2. Of the hard Labour and cruel Uſage of Beaſts 68
——Reflections and Poem 69
Chap. 3. Upon the ſeeking of loſt Cattle ibid.
——Reflections and Poem
Chap. 4. Upon feeding of fat Cattle 70
——Reflections and Poem ibid.
Chap. 5.
——Application, Reflections, and Poem 73
Chap. 6. Husbandman's Care to prove and preſerve his Deeds ——Obſervation, Application, Reflection and Poem 74, &c.
Hubandman's occaſional Concernment with Birds, Beaſts, Trees, Flowers, Rivers, and other Objects 75
——Meditation, 1. Upon the Singing of a Nightingale 76
——Meditation, 2. Upon the Sight of many Birds chirping about a dead Hawk 77
——Meditation, 3. Upon the Sight of a Bird taking Sanctuary in a Buſh, from a purſuing Hawk ibid.
——Meditation, 4. Upon the Sight of divers Linnets intermingling with a Flock of Sparrows ibid.
——Meditation, 5. Upon ſight of a Robin-redbreaſt picking up a Worm from a Mole-hill 78 ——Meditation, 6. Upon the ſhooting of Two Finches fighting in the Air ibid.
——Meditation, 7. Upon the Singing of a Blindfinch by Night ibid.
——Meditation, 8. Upon the comparing of Two Birds Neſts 79
——Meditation, 9. Upon the early Singing of Birds ibid.
——Meditation, 10. Upon the haltering of Birds with a Grain of Hair ibid.
——Meditations upon Beaſts; 1ſt. Upon clogging a ſtraying Beaſt 80
——Meditation, 2. Upon the Love of a Dog to his Maſter ibid.
——Meditation, 3. Upon the fighting of Two Rams 80
——Meditation, 4. Upon the catching of a Horſe in a fat Paſture ibid.
——Meditation, 5 Upon the Hunting of a Deer 81
——Meditations upon Trees, ſt. Upon the Fall of Bloſſoms nipt by a froſty Morning ibid.
——Meditation, 2. Upon the knitting and ſetting of Fruits ibid.
——Meditation, 3. Upon the Sight of a fair ſpreading Oak 82
——Meditation, 4. Upon many Sticks lodg'd in the Branches of a choice Fruit-Tree ibid.
——Meditation, 5. Upon the gathering of choice Fruit upon a ſcrubbed Tree ibid.
——Meditation, 6. Upon an excellent, but irregular Tree ibid.
——Meditations upon a Garden; 1ſt. Upon the new Modelling of a Garden 83
——Meditation, 2. Upon the pulling up of a Leek ibid.
——Meditation, 3. Upon a heedleſs Tread in a curious Garden ibid.
——Meditation, 4. Upon a withered Poſie taken up in the Way 83
——Meditation, 5. Upon the ſudden withering of a Roſe 84
——Meditation, 6. Upon the ſudden withering of beautiful Flowers ibid.
——Meditation, 7. Upon the tenderneſs of ſome choice Flowers ibid.
——Meditation, 8. Upon the ſtrange means of preſerving the Life of Vegetables 84
Hypocriſie, how odious 116
An Hypocrite deſcribed by what he hath, and by what he hath not 962, 1032
Hymn upon Romans Chap. 5. and ver. 6, 7, 8, 9, 10. 11.

I.

JEſuits, their manner of animating their Novices to murder Kings and Princes 105
Idolatry, how dangerous 2 K. 791
——what it is 81
Ignorance, the Danger of it, and how Pernicious 18
Increaſe of Grace 950
Infant Baptiſm, Mr. William Allen's Arguments for it, vindicated againſt the Anabaptiſts 1116, &c.
Injuries and Abuſes, in that Caſe how to keep our Hearts 5 C. 24
——Advices and Examples to that purpoſe ibid.
——Objections anſwered 26
Injuſtice and Fraud, an Evil in Trading 4 L. 79
Irreligious neglect of God ibid
——of Lying in Trade 8
——of Perjury ibid.
Joy and Triumph in Heaven when our Hearts are open'd to Chriſt 25
Joy, how to preſerve it under all Providences 40, &c.
Joy in the holy Ghoſt 950
Judgments and Wrath, a ſound of ſuch Things coming upon us, as appears by Friends, Predictions, Preparations of Enemies, and Poſture of Affairs 97, &c
Juſtification 947

K.

KIngdom of God, what it is? 990
Knockings of Chriſt at the Door of our Hearts, are ſilent and ſecret; more terrible and ſucceſsful in ſome, and in a differing manner 41, &c.
——Motives to open to Chriſt's knocking 45
——Objections anſwered 46
——Conſolations to ſuch as open ibid.
——to take heed of thoſe things that drown'd the Sound of Chriſt's Knocks and Calls 44
Knowledge of it ſelf, not ſufficient to ſecure the Soul from Hell 20
——of the Tree of Knowledge 935
Knox's Prayers more dreadful than a Thouſand Men 100

L.

LAodiceans, their Caſe and miſerable Condition 5 F. 45, &c.
Law of Mount Sinai, the ſame with Adam's Covenant of Works made in Paradiſe 1000
——of keeping it 970
The Law, how weak to convert Sinners 19
Learning's Poverty 4 L. 75
Liberty of the Goſpel granted 6
Liberty and Pleaſure, inordinate Affection of it, to be mortified, how? 6 H. 970 Life, how to overcome an exceſſive Love for it 970, &c.
——how precious it is 19
Light, threefold in Saints 6 G. 961
Limitations, favour upon the Devils and Men in perſecuting God's People 15
London in its Aſhes, how 99
Love, Chriſtian's Love to God, what Influence it hath in all his Sufferings 6 G. 961 ——to God and Man 357
——Rules to diſcover it, with the ordinary Miſtakes 962
——a Fountain of Joy and Comfort in the darkeſt Hour 961
Love of Chriſt to us, how wonderful 1065
Luther's Contempt of the World 966

M.

MAn in his Creation, Degeneration, and Regeneration conſidered 5
——chief End conſidered 923
——a ſociable Creature 1305
——Society how improved and abuſed ibid.
——God's Regard of him 33
Magiſtrates and Seamen the Foundation and the Walls of Kingdoms 1285
Meditations Sacramental 1027
——the Epiſtle Dedicatory to the Reader ibid.
The 1ſt. Meditation on Pſal. 89. 7. God is greatly to be feared, &c. 1029 ——of the Object, Subject, and Mode of Divine worſhip ibid.
——how ſerious we ought to be in the Sacrament and Divine Worſhip ibid.
——the Danger of unworthy receiving 1030
——the Frame of Chriſt's Spirit ſhould be imitated by us at ſuch a time ibid.
——the Things repreſented to our Faith, require our Seriouſneſs ibid.
——the Application 1031
The 2d. Meditation on Jer. 12. 2. Thou art near, &c. 1032
——that God comes nearer to the Hearts and Reins of his People in their Duties, than he doth to an Hypocritical or Formal Profeſſor ibid.
——proved by Three Evidences 1033
——what Effects God's Approaches to his Peoples Hearts produces ibid.
——what Inferences are drawn from thence ibid.
The 3d. Meditation upon Rom. 7. 28. I find then a Law, &c. 1034
——the Anatomy of a true Chriſtian's Heart in that Caſe of St. Paul ibid.
——our Communion with God, how hindred, and the Affliction of it 1036
——what Information, Direction, and Conſolation we may draw from thence 1036, &c.
The 4th. Meditation upon Eph. 1. 13. In whom alſo ye were ſealed, &c. 1038 ——of the Subject, Nature, Author, and Quality of Aſſurance, and that the Privilege of Sealing follows the Duty of Believing ibid.
——ſeveral Queries anſwered ibid.
——the Times of Sealing 1039
——the Ways and Means of Sealing 1040
——the Effects of Sealing or Aſſurance ibid &c.
——the Inferences and Exhortation 1041
The 5th. Meditation upon John 1. 29. Behold the Lamb of God, &c. 1042
——the Preface, Teſtimony and Doctrine ibid.
——the Excellencies of Chriſt how to be ſeen 1402
——the Exhortation to Behold the Lamb, &c. in the Sacrament as a Sacrifice for Souls 1044
The 6th. Meditation upon Rom. 8. 32. He that ſpared not his Son, &c. 1045
——the Severity of Divine Juſtice expreſs'd ibid.
——and executed upon Jeſus Chriſt 1046
——wherein it appeared, and why executed on him with ſuch rigor and ſeverity ibid. &c.
——Uſes of Information and Exhortation 1048
The 7th. Meditation upon Mark 9. 24. And ſtraitway the Father of the Child, &c. 1049 ——of the loweſt Meaſure of true Faith how comfortable, and what matter of Joy to the Poſſeſſor 1050
——Uſes of Trial and Conſolation ibid. &c.
——of the Remains of Unbelief; how many Tears it coſt the gracious Hearts 1051
——the Uſe of Exhortation 1052, &c.

The 8th. Medi-

The 8th. Meditation upon Pſal. 40. 8. I delight to do, &c. 1054

——David and Chriſt ſpoken of in this Pſalm, and two things remarkable in the Words ibid.

——Mans Redemption by the Incarnation of Chriſt, moſt pleaſing to the Heart of Chriſt 1055

——The Reaſons of it ibid

——Uſes of Conviction and Exhortation 1056

The 9th. Meditation upon Zech. 12. 10. And they ſhall look upon him whom they have pierced, &c. 1057 ——That the Sufferings of Chriſt are exceeding powerful to melt Believers Hearts unto Chriſt ibid.

The 10th. Meditation upon John 6. v. 55. For my Fleſh is, &c. 1059

——how Chriſt is Meat and Drink to the Soul ibid.

The 11th. Meditation upon Cant. 8. 6. Set me as a Seal, &c. 1062

——The Church's Requeſt to Chriſt ibid

The 12th. Meditation upon Epheſ. 3. 19. And to know the Love, &c. 1065

Melancthon 70

Meetings, Religious, in ſecret, not Factions, &c. 2 L. 88

Men of Fame and Renown Enemies of Chriſt 74

Mercy of God ſufficient to pardon thee 45, &c

——To take heed how we deſpiſe Mercy and abuſe it. Greateſt Sinners, not built upon our own Righteouſneſs 66

——An Objection anſwered ibid.

Mercy enough in God to heal and cover all, and Sufficiency in the meritorious Cauſe of Pardon, the Blood of Chriſt, to take away all Sin 65

Mercy to be born in a Land of Bibles and Miniſters 998

Mercy, what makes ſuch a Work great 131. 135, &c.

——What ſuitable Sence we ſhould have of ſuch Works 133

——What we muſt beware of 134

——What is expected upon ſignal and great Mercies, from a Nation, by God 34

——Motives to engage us to Thankfulneſs and Prayer 137

Mercies and Promiſes 47

Mercies, great, received, an Argument to expect greater, if not abuſed 135

Mercies, great, Moſes wiſhed to enjoy in Canaan 136

Mercies and Deliverances received from God, reprove the Ungodly, and the Godly, how 138, &c.

Mercies, when ſanctified 33

——how to improve them 5 B. 11

Mercies, nature, weight and worth to be conſidered 10

Miniſtry, the Conſequence of it 9

Miniſters, their Encouragements to preach the Goſpel 15

——their Dignity 16

——the Bleſſing of a rowzing Miniſtry 44

Miniſters Watch Men as well as Paſtors 97

Miſery of Man 937

Morality conſidered 85

Moſes, why he deſired to ſee the Land of Canaan 129

Motions tranſient upon the Affections, no perfect Converſion 84

Mourners, a Token for them, or, Chriſt's Advice to a diſtreſſed Mother, bewailing the Death of her only Son, on Luke 7. 13. 6 A. 913

——The Epiſtle Dedicatory, recommending comfortable and reaſonable Conſiderations to his Brother and Siſter ibid.

Mortified Heart, the Neceſſity of it to all worldly Enjoyments 968

——And to ſeveral other things ibid.

Moral Law 956

Meditations upon Husbandry to be found under H.

N.

NAme: what Reverence the Heathens had for the Names of their Gods 1289

Nature, its diſmal State 20

Natural Gifts, their Nature and Effects 29

Narratives of many Sea-Deliverances 2 I. 69, &c.

Navigation Spiritualized; or, A New Compaſs for Seamen 1

——An Addreſs to all Maſters, Mariners, &c. but chiefly to ſuch as belong to Dartmouth, Clifton, Hardneſs, &c. in the County of Devonſhire ibid.

Chap. 1. Navigation; or, The Ship launch'd on the Ocean 1

——Reflections and Poem 2

Chap. 2. Navigation on the Ocean ibid.

——Reflections and Poem 3

Chap. 3. Navigation; Of the Place whence we ſail 4

——Reflections and Poem 5

Chap. 4. Of the Sea's Purgation ibid.

——Reflections and Poem ibid.

Chap. 5. Navigation; Of the Dangers 6

——Reflections and Poem ibid.

Chap. 6. Navigation; Of the Helm ibid.

——Reflections and Poem 7

Chap. 7. Navigation; Of its Deliverances ibid.

——Reflections and Poem 8

Chap. 8. Navigator's ſhifting his Sails 9

——Reflections and Poem ibid.

Chap. 9. Navigators care to take the Opportunity of the Wind, ſo, &c. ibid.

——Reflections and Poem 10

Chap. 10. Navigations intent to aſſiſt Mankind with various Commodities growing in the ſeveral Countries ibid.

——The Compariſon continued 11

——Reflections and Poem ibid.

Chap. 11. Navigation: The Rocks abide in the midſt of the Tempeſtuous Ocean, unmovable; ſo the Church ibid.

——Reflections and Poem 12

Chap. 12. Navigators expoſed to Dangers for the World ibid.

——Reflections and Poem 13

Chap. 13. How many Creatures are fed in the Seas. This incourages us to truſt upon God and Providence ibid.

——Reflections and Poem 14

Chap. 14. Navigation: The brackiſh Waters of the Seas drain'd through the Earth, or drawn up by the Sun, and ſent back upon the Earth, are ſweet; ſo Afflictions Sanctified, &c. ibid.

——Reflections and Poem 15

Chap. 15. Of God's Power in keeping the boiſterous Waves within their Bounds, teaches us to truſt upon God's Power in the Earth, able to reſtrain Devils and Men ibid.

——Reflections and Poem 16

Chap. 16. None dares venture into the Seas without a Compaſs: The Word of God is of the ſame uſe to ſteer our courſe of Life ibid.

—— Reflections and Poem 17

Chap. 17. Of the Seas ebbing and flowing, repreſents the mutability of earthly things ibid.

—— Reflections and Poem 18

Chap. 18. Of Navigation; How the Waves are employed by God to ſwallow Sinners ibid.

—— Reflections and Poem 19

Chap. 19. Of Navigation; To ſave the Ship and Lives, the richeſt Loading is caſt over board ibid

—— Reflections and Poem ibid

Chap. 20. Of Navigation; How Chriſt commanded the Waves and Seas with a Word, and ſo can pacifie Conſcience 20

—— Reflections and Poem ibid.

Chap. 21. Of the Food that comes out of the Sea, not to be diſregarded 21

—— Reflections and Poem ibid.

Chap. 22. Of Navigation, and the Fiſhing Trade and Skill, compared to Satan's Wiles and Baits 22

—— Reflections and Poem ibid.

Chap. 23. Of Navigation, and its bad Succeſs for the want of God's Bleſſing ibid.

—— Reflections and Poem 23

Chap. 24. How the great Fiſh eat up the little ones 24

—— Reflections and Poem ibid

Chap. 25. Of Navigation; In Storms the Seaman's Practice 24, &c.

—— Reflections and Poem ibid.

Chap. 26. Of the Danger of Leakes, if not perceived and prevented 25

Chap. 27. Of Navigation and Trade; of favourable Winds; ſuch God's People always meet with, though ſeeming contrary 26

—— Reflections and Poem ibid.

Chap. 28. In Storms the Pilot's Skill diſcovered, ſo God's Wiſdom in violent Perſecutions, &c. 27

—— Reflections and Poem ibid.

Chap 29. The bottom of the Depths undiſcoverable, ſo God's Judgments and Proceedings ibid.

—— Reflections and Poem 28

Chap. 30. Of Navigation: How many are drown'd in the Sea, but they ſhall be all reſtored to Life 28, &c.

—— Reflections and Poem ibid.

Chap. 31. Of Navigation; The greateſt Danger is near the Coaſt; ſo the Saints meet with the greateſt Danger neareſt Heaven 29

—— Reflections and Poem 30

Chap. 32. Of Navigation; The Joy of Seamen near the Shoar; ſo Saints near Heaven ibid.

—— Reflections and Poem 31

O.

Oaths, Prophane, the Danger and Wickedneſs of them 39

—— Helps to prevent them 4, &c

Oath, what a ſolemn thing it is 1290

Oaths, horrid Imprecations and Blaſphemies, how grievous ibid.

Objects, common two Ways to be improv'd 2

Omnipreſence and Omniſcience of God 4 K. 67

—— no Place Security from the Sight and Hand of God 4 K. 57

Oppreſſion, how grievous and dangerous 4 L. 80

Ordinances of God, with what Affection we ſhould bear them 16

Ordinances of the Goſpel, what Dignity God hath ſtamp'd on them to make them Organs and Mediums, by which Chriſt ſpeaks Life to dead Souls 78

Ordination of Prieſts and Deacons, Mr. Flavel's Judgment 84

P.

Papiſts, Factors of Hell 79

Paſtor, Evangelical, his true Character drawn by Chriſt, upon Matth 24. 45, 46, 47. Who then is a faithful and wiſe Servant, &c. 1327

—— the cauſe of the Aſſembly ibid.

—— Two Characters of a true Miniſter 1328

—— Miniſterial Faithfulneſs and Prudence, what they include 1329, &c.

—— what they require, how excellent and neceſſary 1333

—— Uſes of Information and Reproof, &c. 1336

Patience of Chriſt, in waiting upon obſtinate Sinners 26

—— wherein it conſiſts, and from whence it proceeds ibid.

—— the true Objects of divine Patience 27

—— Seven Evidences of the Riches of God's Patience 27, &c.

—— the Reaſons of God's and Chriſt's Patience towards Sinners 28

—— 'tis infinite 29

—— Chriſt, an excellent Example of Patience to Miniſters 30

Patience becomes a Petitioner of Mercy 32

—— in bearing Reproaches, and for the Day of Redemption ibid.

—— and for waiting for the Converſion of ſinful Relations, and why 32

—— why we ought not to exerciſe Chriſt's Patience any longer 34

Patience of Chriſt ſhould incourage our Patience towards others ibid.

Parents Life the Child's Copy 16

—— an Objection anſwered ibid.

Parents charg'd with the Souls of Children, as well as with their Bodies 17

Parents Hearts bound up in the Life of Children 988

Perfection at Death 952

Peace of Conſcience 949

Perſecution of the Godly, how pernicious 10

Perſecutors, their juſt Retribution ibid.

Perſeverance 951

Policies ſinful, how dangerous 36

Piſgah Mount 129

Popery, why we muſt abhor it 103

—— falſe Religion, proved 104

—— a Bloody and Blaſphemous Religion 105

—— a moſt Uncomfortable and Damnable Religion 106

—— therefore we ought to uſe all proper Means to divert this Judgment, how ibid, &c.

Prepare your ſelves for the worſt 107

Prayer, its Vertues, Efficacy, and how proper to Seamen 4 H. 57, &c.

Pride, the evil Conſequence of it 18

Prejudice againſt God and Holineſs, how dangerous 19

Prayer; the Neceſſity of fervent Prayer, to accompany the Preaching of the Goſpel 21

Prayer 986

—— Directions in Prayer 987

——how

——how to be performed, with Directions to that purpoſe 5 C. 23
——the Preface to the Lord's Prayer 988
Phariſees Religion, a negative Holineſs 5 G. 50
Pleaſure of Man, what Proviſion God hath made for him more than for other Animals 1301
——the Allowances of his Laws, reſtrain him within the reaſonable Limits ibid
Prayer, ſeaſonable, in our Sufferings and Temptations 974
——Preface to the Commandments 958
Preparation for Sufferings, or the beſt Work in the worſt Times 6 D. 944
Providence conſidered in a Fourfold reſpect upon God's People 101
——'tis pleaſure to conſider it, and of a world of Rarities in it 2 A. 3
——all its Reſults are profitable to the Saints 5
——the Univerſal Intereſt and Influence of Providence in all the Concerns of Saints ibid
——it perfecteth all Things; its Iſſues are beneficial, and encouraging the Faith of Saints 5
——the Church always owns the hand of Providence, proved by Examples 6
——a perfect Reflection upon the providential Works of God in Heaven; how admirable ibid.
——that the Affairs of the Saints in this World are certainly conducted by the Care of a ſpecial Providence, proved 7
——the firſt Demand to prove it ibid.
——the ſecond and third Demand 8
——the fourth and fifth Demand 9
——the ſixth and ſeventh Demand 11
Providence, wherein it appears, and in what Affairs and Concerns of the Saints 12
——An Objection anſwered
——our Place of Nativity, our Parents, our Education, &c. great Mercies 16
Providence, remarkable, in the Converſion of Men 18, &c.
——the fifth Performance of Providence in Relation to the Saints 22
——Two Objections anſwered ibid.
——Cautions to direct us 24
——the ſixth Performance of Providence ibid.
——ſeen in Marriage, in Children the Fruits of Marriage 25
——its aſſiduous Care, Seaſonableneſs, and Opportuneneſs 26
——its Wiſdom in our Proviſions, and the Uſes of it ibid. &c.
Providence in the Preſervation of Saints from the Snares and Temptations of Sin, how and by what means 27, &c.
Providential Preventions of bodily Dangers 28
Providential Aſſiſtances in the Work of Mortification 30
Providential Care, the Duty of God's People to reflect upon it at all times, but eſpecially in Straits 33
——Cautions to manage Providence 33, &c.
——Motives and Uſes, with Directions 34, &c.
——Advantages that reſult from thence 36
——Six Things in Providence, indearing Jeſus Chriſt to his People 49
——its Rebukes, how uſeful 53
——the Conſideration and Study of it, uſeful at the Hour of Death; how ibid.
Providence of God to be proved in all Things 55
——the Uſefulneſs and Conſequence of this Conſideration ibid.
——its delays of Mercies for our Good 58
——Cautions and Conſiderations uſeful upon this Matter 59, &c.
——how to know when a Providence is ſanctified to us 60
——to ſome, all Providences are for Good, to others for Evil 61
——of afflicting Providences 62
Providence hath various and contrary Aſpects 63
——under its comfortable Aſpects, how to behave our ſelves ibid.
——and under adverſe Providences, how to comfort our ſelves 64
——how to comfort our Hearts under doubtful Providences 65
——how to work our Hearts into a reſigning Frame unto the Will of God, in ſad Providences ibid.
——to be truſted 2 I. 29 68
Providence, ſignally diſcovered upon Acts 21. 13. In governing the Motion of the Clouds, and the Spirits and Motions of the Miniſters of the Goſpel 749
Providence, Divine 933
Providence, our Dependance upon it 4 H. 75.
Profeſſors of Religion under great and dangerous Miſtakes in their Profeſſion 5 F. 46, &c.
Profeſſors deceived and deſtroy'd by truſting too much to untried Grace; two ſorts to be lamented 5 K. 77
——Inferences from this Doctrine with an Exhortation to ſelf Tryal and Self-Examination 79, &c.
——Motives to encourage us 80, &c.
——Helps and Rules for the clearing of our Sincerity, and diſcovery of our Hypocriſie 81, &c.
——Queſtions to be asked 83, &c.
——Seven Counſels to this purpoſe 85, &c.
Proſperity when ſanctified, when not 63
Proſperity abuſed 23
——how to keep our Hearts from the Snares of it and to be humble 5 B. 10, &c.
——no Argument of God's Love when Proſperous 77
——how to behave our ſelves in ſuch a Caſe ibid.

R.

Religion, the Danger of ſuch as diſcourage it 54
——it abounds with all ſpiritual Pleaſure 194
——to be promoted by us 2 L. 36
——Religion's firſt Work difficult ibid.
——an Objection anſwered ibid.
——what weakens it in the World 108
Religious Duties are Heart Diſcoveries 5 I. 69, &c.
Redeemer, we have but one 93
Reply to Mr. Philip Cary's Solemn Call; or A Vindication of the Law and Covenant 998
——the Preface to the Author of the Solemn Call ibid.
——about Diviſions in the Church and Infant-Baptiſm 999
Reformation, perſonal, the Reaſonableneſs and Neceſſity of it, &c. 1281
——the Preface to them who are concern'd, and a Meſſage from Reaſon and Conſcience ibid.
Chap. 1. The Introduction and State of the Caſe 1282
Reaſon, the Privilege and Excellency of Man, and the Uſe in divine Matters ibid.
——Appeal to the Reaſon of Man, is the Practice of Scripture 1283
——of the Convictions of Reaſon and Conſcience, and of Holy Scripture 1284

—how much Reformation and good Manners concern and become the Civil Intereſt of Kingdoms and Nations 1285

Chap. 2. How Reaſon is inſlaved in wicked Men 1280

—general Notions in which their Reaſon agrees with others ibid.

—how Luſt blinds Reaſon in them 1288, &c.

Chap. 3. The true Cenſure and Judgment of Reaſon and Conſcience upon prophane Swearing and blaſpheming the Name of God 1289

—of Oaths and Blaſphemies, how horrid 1290

—how unreaſonable 1291

—the ſeveral Pleas of wicked Men, examin'd and anſwered 1291

—that 'tis modiſh and gentle, how fooliſh is this Plea 1293, &c.

Chap. 4. Reaſon and Conſcience conſulted about the Practice of Drunkenneſs, and their impartial Judgment upon that Caſe 1295

—of the Concernment of the Soul, a ſpiritual Being for the Body a lump of Clay ibid.

—unto what compared, and how exemplified 1298

—the Fooliſhneſs of the Soul in Drunkenneſs, diſcovered 1296

—the ſad Complaints of Drunkards againſt the Folly and Tyranny of the Soul, with the Soul's Reply and Excuſes, anſwered 1297

Chap. 5. Reaſon's Judgment upon the Caſe of Uncleanneſs 1301

—and the true Report of every Man's Reaſon ibid.

—lawful Pleaſures reaſonable, but Corruption only hates reſtraint ibid.

—God's choice muſt needs be better for us than our own 1302

—the danger of Uncleanneſs, and a wonder 'tis ſo common ibid.

—how we are induc'd to the Practice of this Sin 1303, &c.

Chap. 6. Reaſon and Conſcience conſulted about the Averſion ſome Men have for true Piety, and its Profeſſors differing from them only in Modes and Rites of Worſhip 1304

—the intent of Societies, wherein their Strength and Happineſs conſiſts 1305

—the true Riſe of the Hatred of Men againſt Chriſtian Profeſſors, with the Cauſes they pretend and inſiſt on, anſwered 1306, &c.

—what Reaſon dictates to us in this Caſe 1308, &c.

The Second Part of the Neceſſity of Reformation and Converſion to God 1310

—how Reaſon and Conſcience invite us to Converſion ibid.

—that the Converſion of the vileſt Sinners is poſſible, proved from the impulſive, meritorious, and applying Cauſes 1311

—Converſion of prophane Ones probable 1312

—Converſion frequently miſtaken ibid.

—of the Nature of true Converſion, of the Hazards of the Neceſſity of a thorough Change attending Converſion 1314

—every Man might do more towards Converſion ibid.

—Diſcouragements in the Way of Converſion, with Motives to perſwade to Converſion 1315

Repentance hath Two remarkable Things, what they are 1057

—'tis the Operation of Faith ibid.

S.

Sabbath, how to be ſanctified 960

Salvation of God's Elect 938

Sanctification 948

Sacraments, their Inſtitution 979

—their Nature and Number 980

Sacramental Meditations upon divers Places of Scripture 1027

Sacrament Seaſons, Harveſt Days of Faith, to be improved 964

—the Epiſtle to the Reader ibid.

See Meditations, &c.

Saints haſten'd out of the World in dangerous Times 46

A Saint indeed, or the great Work of a Chriſtian open'd and preſs'd from Prov. 4. v. 23.

—the Epiſtle Dedicatory to his Flock in Dartmouth, with the Reaſons of the Publication and Dedication 5 A. 1

Seaman's Companion 53

—his Farewel 55

—Prayers going to Sea 56

Self-Flattery, what it is 5 F. 47

Scriptures are our beſt Rule 924

—that many deceive themſelves, and how ibid.

—the Cauſes and Grounds of this Deceit 48

—ſeaſonable and proper Cautions 5 G. 50

—what Uſes we are to make of this Doctrine ibid.

Seamen, to every one ſailing Heavenward 3

The Sinai Covenant conſidered 1004, &c

Sea Bleſſings, how many 21

Signs of Sin appear in the Dominion 67

Seaman in a Storm, on Pſal. 107. 23. &c. 62

Sincerity, what Advantage it gives the Soul, for its Eſtabliſhment in Suffering-Times 73

—Signs of it 2 M. 97, &c.

Sin its hainouſneſs and greatneſs, no bar to believing and accepting of Chriſt 65

Sins Reckoning, multiplied 67

Sins, how to eſtimate their greatneſs, and differing Aggravations 67

—its inequality 971

—its demerit 972

—their Nature and Number 980

—Objections anſwered 63

—Conſiderations recommended 69

Sinners; the Advantages they gain by complying with Chriſt 55, &c.

—what they loſe by this Conſent, and what we muſt part with for Chriſt's ſake 56

Sin's outcry in Heaven to Conſcience 67

A Sermon preached for the Funeral of John Upton, Eſq; on Chron. 35. 24, 25. His Servants, &c. of Joſiah 1002

—his promiſing Temper and Beginnings ibid.

—lamented by his Subjects and Circumſtances 1003

—Saints Death, wherefore to be lamented 1004, &c.

—of Methuſelah's Death 1005

—Mr. Upton's Character and Behaviour ibid.

—an Addreſs to his Relations 1007

—how to take his Death, and regulate our Sorrows for the Loſs of Friends 1008

—Rules for that purpoſe 1009, &c.

Sermon 3. The Seaman's Preſervative in Foreign Countries, on Pſal. 139. 9. If I take the Wings, &c. 4 K. 67

—of God's Omnipreſence and Omniſcience ibid.

Sin, Inducements to it 4 K. 68

——the Vanity and Folly of them ibid.
——the Inferences from thence 70, &c.
Sermon 4. The ſucceſsfull Seaman, on Deut. 8. 17, 18. And thou ſay in thine Heart, &c. 74
——Proſperity to be aſcribed to the Bleſſing of God ibid.
——Inferences from thence 76, &c.
Sermon 5. The diſappointed Seaman, on Luke 5. 5. Maſter we have toiled, &c. 4 L. 78
——God ſometimes fruſtrates and blaſts the Diligence and Labours of Men 4 L. 78
——The Reaſons.
Sermon 6. on Deut. 33. 19. They ſhall call, &c. 84
——we are bound to bleſs God, how, in what manner, the Reaſons and Grounds ibid.
——Incouragements to Seamen's Thankfulneſs 86
Succeſs, how it may be expreſſed 4 L. 75
Sermon 1. Upon Revel. 3. 20. 6
——Containing Chriſt's Suit for Sinners Hearts 1 A. 7
Sermon 2. Upon Revel. 3. 20. Salvation and Joy come to the Souls of Men, when their Hearts are opened to Chriſt 12
Sermon 3. Upon Revel. 3. 20. 17
Sermon 4. Upon Revel. 3. 20. Chriſt's wonderful Patience, &c. 26
Sermon 5. Upon Revel. 3. 20. How Chriſt knocks at our Hearts, &c. 36
Souls, how valuable and precious they are to Chriſt 30
——The firſt Motions of Salvation have their ſpring and riſe from God 38
——the ſweet ſleep of Sin conſidered, and from whence it proceeds 43
Sermon 6. Upon Revel. 3. 20.
——the great Value of Souls conſidered, for which Chriſt was incarnate, ſuffered, &c. 53
——how blind and ignorant are Sinners 54
Sermon 7. Upon Revel. 3. 20. 59
Sermon 8. Upon Revel. 3. 20. 70
Sermon 9. Upon Revel. 3. 20. 80
Sermon 10. Upon Revel. 3. 20. 87
Sermon 11. Upon Revel. 3. 20. 98
Sermon 12. As an Appendix to the former, upon Rom. 1. 18. 111
——of Sins of Ignorance 112
——Sin, how powerful to hold Men faſt after their Eyes are open and ſee their Danger 121
A Sermon on 2 Sam. 23. 5. David's dying Words 985
A Sermon preach'd at the publick Thankſgiving, Feb. 4. $168\frac{8}{9}$. 123
——The Preface to the Right Honourable George Earl of Sunderland ibid.
A Sermon on Acts 21. 5, 6. Of Seamen's Farewel 55
Six Signs of Maturity in Sin 47
Sin, a little one, how dangerous 25
Sights, Three ſad ones, what they are, and the Scandal anſwered 1
Sickneſs; in ſuch times how to keep our Hearts 5 E. 33
——ſeveral Arguments recommended 34, &c.
——the firſt Uſe is for Information 36
——ſecond Uſe is of Exhortation 37
——Motives 38
——Six Means to keep the Heart 41
Sins and Duties of Church Members, in a Double Scheme or Table, reckon'd up 1336
——Six Benefits of Walking by theſe Rules 1340
Sin, of its Nature and Effects 935
Sin, Original, what? 936
——of Forgiveneſs of Sins 989
Spirit of God, principal Inſtrument in Conviction and Converſion 82
Spirit of God's End and Errand to open the Heart to Chriſt 83
Society of Saints ſweet 108
Sorrow; to regulate it becomes a Chriſtian 6 A. 914
Sorrow of the Widow of Nami, the Greatneſs of it, and it's Circumſtances 915
——Chriſt's Compaſſion, with the Occaſion, Motive, and Counſel 916
——the future Reſurrection a ground of Comfort 953, &c.
——Chriſtian's ought to moderate their Sorrows for their dead Relations, how many afflicting Circumſtances ſo ever do meet 917
Sorrow, immoderate, how diſcovered, moderate is our Duty ibid.
——allowable to expreſs our Grief to God and Man ibid.
——we may condemn our ſelves for being the Cauſe of our Troubles 918
——we may in an humble Manner plead with God, and be earneſt for the Removal of the Affliction ibid.
Sorrow, when it is exceſſive and ſinful 919
——Twenty Conſiderations to allay Sorrow 922, &c.
——Objections Anſwered 937, &c.
——Rules to prevent exceſſive Mourning 942
Subjection to Sin, ſhews the Condition of the Soul 5 I. 65
——how this Subjection si diſcovered 69
——'tis diſcoverable by our Oppoſition of Sin 67
Suffering of Chriſt, how great 964
Sufferings for Chriſt; Trial of our Sincerity 5 I. 72
——Reaſons examined 73
——unto great and grievous Sufferings God expoſeth his People, why, and how he calls them thereunto 946
——to illuſtrate his own Glory 947
——to promote his People's Happineſs ibid.
——he premoniſhes them uſually of their approaching Trials 948
——what Tokens go before Judgments 949
——the Intent of God's Proceedings in this Caſe 950
——Excellent Temper of a prepared Heart for the worſt of Sufferings, after Paul's Example ibid.
——how we muſt be prepared, and what Effects Preparation for Sufferings hath upon us 951
——a Two-fold Preparation for Sufferings 155
——the Power of Grace then appears 956
——how it works upon the Mind in ſuch Caſes 957
——what the Evidence or Manifeſtation of this Work of Grace is 960
——how it appears to be of ſuch great Advantage to a ſuffering Saint 961
——Rules preſcrib'd to obtain it 962
——the Neceſſity of an improved Faith, for the right Management of Sufferings 965
——wherein it conſiſts 966, &c.
——Four Corruptions we muſt mortifie in ſuffering Times, &c. 969

——how much Reformation and good Manners concern and become the Civil Intereſt of Kingdoms and Nations 1285
Chap. 2. How Reaſon is inſlaved in wicked Men 1280
——general Notions in which their Reaſon agrees with others ibid.
——how Luſt blinds Reaſon in them 1288, &c.
Chap. 3. The true Cenſure and Judgment of Reaſon and Conſcience upon prophane Swearing and blaſpheming the Name of God 1289
——of Oaths and Blaſphemies, how horrid 1290
——how unreaſonable 1291
——the ſeveral Pleas of wicked Men, examin'd and anſwered 1291
——that 'tis modiſh and gentle, how fooliſh is this Plea 1293, &c.
Chap. 4. Reaſon and Conſcience conſulted about the Practice of Drunkenneſs, and their impartial Judgment upon that Caſe 1295
——of the Concernment of the Soul, a ſpiritual Being for the Body a lump of Clay ibid.
——unto what compared, and how exemplified 1298
——the Fooliſhneſs of the Soul in Drunkenneſs, diſcovered 1296
——the ſad Complaints of Drunkards againſt the Folly and Tyranny of the Soul, with the Soul's Reply and Excuſes, anſwered 1297
Chap. 5. Reaſon's Judgment upon the Caſe of Uncleanneſs 1301
——and the true Report of every Man's Reaſon ibid.
——lawful Pleaſures reaſonable, but Corruption only hates reſtraint ibid.
——God's choice muſt needs be better for us than our own 1302
——the danger of Uncleanneſs, and a wonder 'tis ſo common ibid.
——how we are induc'd to the Practice of this Sin 1303, &c.
Chap. 6. Reaſon and Conſcience conſulted about the Averſion ſome Men have for true Piety, and its Profeſſors differing from them only in Modes and Rites of Worſhip 1304
——the intent of Societies, wherein their Strength and Happineſs conſiſts 1305
——the true Riſe of the Hatred of Men againſt Chriſtian Profeſſors, with the Cauſes they pretend and inſiſt on, anſwered 1306, &c.
——what Reaſon dictates to us in this Caſe 1308, &c.
The Second Part of the Neceſſity of Reformation and Converſion to God 1310
——how Reaſon and Conſcience invite us to Converſion ibid.
——that the Converſion of the vileſt Sinners is poſſible, proved from the impulſive, meritorious, and applying Cauſes 1311
——Converſion of prophane Ones probable 1312
——Converſion frequently miſtaken ibid.
——of the Nature of true Converſion, of the Hazards of the Neceſſity of a thorough Change attending Converſion 1314
——every Man might do more towards Converſion ibid.
——Diſcouragements in the Way of Converſion, with Motives to perſwade to Converſion 1315
Repentance hath Two remarkable Things, what they are 1057
——'tis the Operation of Faith ibid.

S.

Sabbath, how to be ſanctified 960
Salvation of God's Elect 938
Sanctification 948
Sacraments, their Inſtitution 979
——their Nature and Number 980
Sacramental Meditations upon divers Places of Scripture 1027
Sacrament Seaſons, Harveſt Days of Faith, to be improved 964
——the Epiſtle to the Reader ibid.
See Meditations, &c.
Saints haſten'd out of the World in dangerous Times 46
A Saint indeed, or the great Work of a Chriſtian open'd and preſs'd from Prov. 4. v. 23.
——the Epiſtle Dedicatory to his Flock in Dartmouth, with the Reaſons of the Publication and Dedication 5 A. 1
Seaman's Companion 53
——his Farewel 55
——Prayers going to Sea 56
Self-Flattery, what it is 5 F. 47
Scriptures are our beſt Rule 924
——that many deceive themſelves, and how ibid.
——the Cauſes and Grounds of this Deceit 48
——ſeaſonable and proper Cautions 5 G. 50
——what Uſes we are to make of this Doctrine ibid.
Seamen, to every one ſailing Heavenward 3
The Sinai Covenant conſidered 1004, &c
Sea Bleſſings, how many 21
Signs of Sin appear in the Dominion 67
Seaman in a Storm, on Pſal. 107. 23. &c. 62
Sincerity, what Advantage it gives the Soul, for its Eſtabliſhment in Suffering-Times 73
——Signs of it 2 M. 97, &c.
Sin its hainouſneſs and greatneſs, no bar to believing and accepting of Chriſt 65
Sins Reckoning, multiplied 67
Sins, how to eſtimate their greatneſs, and differing Aggravations 67
——its inequality 971
——its demerit 972
——their Nature and Number 980
——Objections anſwered 63
——Conſiderations recommended 69
Sinners; the Advantages they gain by complying with Chriſt 55, &c.
——what they loſe by this Conſent, and what we muſt part with for Chriſt's ſake 56
Sin's outcry in Heaven to Conſcience 67
A Sermon preached for the Funeral of John Upton, Eſq; on Chron. 35. 24, 25. His Servants, &c. of Joſiah 1002
——his promiſing Temper and Beginnings ibid.
——lamented by his Subjects and Circumſtances 1003
——Saints Death, wherefore to be lamented 1004, &.
——of Methuſelah's Death 1005
——Mr. Upton's Character and Behaviour ibid.
——an Addreſs to his Relations 1007
——how to take his Death, and regulate our Sorrows for the Loſs of Friends 1008
——Rules for that purpoſe 1009, &c.
Sermon 3. The Seaman's Preſervative in Foreign Countries, on Pſal. 139. 9. If I take the Wings, &c. 4 K. 67
——of God's Omnipreſence and Omniſcience ibid.
Sin, Inducements to it 4 K. 68
——the

——the Vanity and Folly of them ibid.
——the Inferences from thence 70, &c.
Sermon 4. The ſucceſsfull Seaman, on Deut. 8. 17, 18. And thou ſay in thine Heart, &c. 74
——Proſperity to be aſcribed to the Bleſſing of God ibid.
——Inferences from thence 76, &c.
Sermon 5. The diſappointed Seaman, on Luke 5. 5. Maſter we have toiled, &c. 4 L. 78
——God ſometimes fruſtrates and blaſts the Diligence and Labours of Men 4 L. 78
——The Reaſons.
Sermon 6. on Deut. 33. 19. They ſhall call, &c. 84
——we are bound to bleſs God, how, in what manner, the Reaſons and Grounds ibid.
——Incouragements to Seamen's Thankfulneſs 86
Succeſs, how it may be expreſſed 4 L. 75
Sermon 1. Upon Revel. 3. 20. 6
——Containing Chriſt's Suit for Sinners Hearts 1 A. 7
Sermon 2. Upon Revel. 3. 20. Salvation and Joy come to the Souls of Men, when their Hearts are opened to Chriſt 12
Sermon 3. Upon Revel. 3. 20. 17
Sermon 4. Upon Revel. 3. 20. Chriſt's wonderful Patience, &c. 26
Sermon 5. Upon Revel. 3. 20. How Chriſt knocks at our Hearts, &c. 36
Souls, how valuable and precious they are to Chriſt 30
——The firſt Motions of Salvation have their ſpring and riſe from God 38
——the ſweet ſleep of Sin conſidered, and from whence it proceeds 43
Sermon 6. Upon Revel. 3. 20.
——the great Value of Souls conſidered, for which Chriſt was incarnate, ſuffered, &c. 53
——how blind and ignorant are Sinners 54
Sermon 7. Upon Revel. 3. 20. 59
Sermon 8. Upon Revel. 3. 20. 70
Sermon 9. Upon Revel. 3. 20. 80
Sermon 10. Upon Revel. 3. 20. 87
Sermon 11. Upon Revel. 3. 20. 98
Sermon 12. As an Appendix to the former, upon Rom. 1. 18. 111
——of Sins of Ignorance 112
——Sin, how powerful to hold Men faſt after their Eyes are open and ſee their Danger 121
A Sermon on 2 Sam. 23. 5. David's dying Words 985
A Sermon preach'd at the publick Thankſgiving, Feb. 4. 168$\frac{8}{9}$. 123
——The Preface to the Right Honourable George Earl of Sunderland ibid.
A Sermon on Acts 21. 5, 6. Of Seamen's Farewel 55
Six Signs of Maturity in Sin 47
Sin, a little one, how dangerous 25
Sights, Three ſad ones, what they are, and the Scandal anſwered 1
Sickneſs; in ſuch times how to keep our Hearts 5 E. 33
——ſeveral Arguments recommended 34, &c.
——the firſt Uſe is for Information 36
——ſecond Uſe is of Exhortation 37
——Motives 38
——Six Means to keep the Heart 41
Sins and Duties of Church Members, in a Double Scheme or Table, reckon'd up 1336
——Six Benefits of Walking by theſe Rules 1340
Sin, of its Nature and Effects 935
Sin, Original, what? 936
——of Forgiveneſs of Sins 989
Spirit of God, principal Inſtrument in Conviction and Converſion 82
Spirit of God's End and Errand to open the Heart to Chriſt 83
Society of Saints ſweet 108
Sorrow; to regulate it becomes a Chriſtian 6 A. 914
Sorrow of the Widow of Nami, the Greatneſs of it, and it's Circumſtances 915
——Chriſt's Compaſſion, with the Occaſion, Motive, and Counſel 916
——the future Reſurrection a ground of Comfort 953, &c.
——Chriſtian's ought to moderate their Sorrows for their dead Relations, how many afflicting Circumſtances ſo ever do meet 917
Sorrow, immoderate, how diſcovered, moderate is our Duty ibid.
——allowable to expreſs our Grief to God and Man ibid.
——we may condemn our ſelves for being the Cauſe of our Troubles 918
——we may in an humble Manner plead with God, and be earneſt for the Removal of the Affliction ibid.
Sorrow, when it is exceſſive and ſinful 919
——Twenty Conſiderations to allay Sorrow 922, &c.
——Objections Anſwered 937, &c.
——Rules to prevent exceſſive Mourning 942
Subjection to Sin, ſhews the Condition of the Soul 5 I. 65
——how this Subjection si diſcovered 69
——'tis diſcoverable by our Oppoſition of Sin 67
Suffering of Chriſt, how great 964
Sufferings for Chriſt; Trial of our Sincerity 5 I. 72
——Reaſons examined 73
——unto great and grievous Sufferings God expoſeth his People, why, and how he calls them thereunto 946
——to illuſtrate his own Glory 947
——to promote his People's Happineſs ibid.
——he premoniſhes them uſually of their approaching Trials 948
——what Tokens go before Judgments 949
——the Intent of God's Proceedings in this Caſe 950
——Excellent Temper of a prepared Heart for the worſt of Sufferings, after Paul's Example ibid.
——how we muſt be prepared, and what Effects Preparation for Sufferings hath upon us 951
——a Two-fold Preparation for Sufferings 155
——the Power of Grace then appears 956
——how it works upon the Mind in ſuch Caſes 957
——what the Evidence or Manifeſtation of this Work of Grace is 960
——how it appears to be of ſuch great Advantage to a ſuffering Saint 961
——Rules preſcrib'd to obtain it 962
——the Neceſſity of an improved Faith, for the right Management of Sufferings 965
——wherein it conſiſts 966, &c.
——Four Corruptions we muſt mortifie in ſuffering Times, &c. 969

Sufferings accompanied by Satan's Temptations 971
——--we are then not to depend upon our ſelves, but upon God and his Holy Spirit 975, &c.
——-Conſiderations for that Purpoſe 976
——--how unready moſt Profeſſors are for Sufferings 984
——--an Exhortation to be always prepared for the greateſt Tryals, with Motives to encourage us 981
——--ſome Objections anſwered 982
Stewards of Chriſt, who, and what Properties belong to them 1328
Stubbornneſs of Mens Hearts, though living under the Goſpel 84
Swearing, the right Uſe and Intent of it 1289
Swearing and Blaſphemy, no true Character of a Nobleman 1293
Solicitude, the Vanity of it 2 A. 65
Supper of the Lord 983
——--of its Elements, Actions, and Subjects, Duties to be obſerved 984

T.

Temporal Things never intended by God for his Children's Portion 997
Temptation, how ripen'd and brought to its full Strength 5 B. 10
——--in Times of Temptation, how to keep our Hearts 5 D. 28
——--Six Arguments, by which the Devil intices, anſwered ibid, &c.
Temptation, wherein the Power of it lies 973
——of God's leading us into Temptation 995
——Rules to avoid and overcome Temptation 973
Tongue, as many Sins belong to it, as there are Letters in the Alphabet 37
——the right Uſes for which God hath given it 1289
——the bad Uſes made of this Member ibid.
Touch-ſtone of Sincerity, or the Signs of Grace, or the Symptoms of Hypocriſie open'd, in a practical Treatiſe upon Rev. 3. 17, 18. with an Epiſtle to the Reader 5 F. 41
——The Text open'd 45
Tribulation Day coming upon us 1001
——Creature comforts their preſent Uſe ibid.
——in Heaven no want of them, why? ibid.
Troubles for Sin Trials of Grace 5 I. 65
Trial of our ſelves, whether God hath open'd our Hearts 22
——Eyes open'd to ſee Sin ibid.
——no Heart open'd, unleſs wounded by Compunction 22
Trials of God's People, God's Deſign in them 5. K. 75
Tried Grace is true Grace 76
Triumph of Saints in Affliction and Sufferings 966
Trials, fiery, to prepare for them 2 M. 90
——how, and in what manner ibid
Trials of Sincerity in Religion, Six 95

V.

Vanity of Man conſidered in ſeveral Reſpects 32, &c.
Valens the Emperor, reap'd what he ſowed 51
Unbelief, the Danger of it 18
——its Danger and Wickedneſs 85
Uncleanneſs, the Danger and Evil of it 41, &c.
——Exhortation againſt it 43
Union Spiritual, and Communion betwixt Chriſt and the Soul, is made when the Heart is open'd to him 25
Unwillingneſs, not Unworthineſs, what bars Man from Chriſt 59
Vocation, its Benefits 946
Vows of Chriſt, how many, External and Internal, &c. 70
——what muſt accompany it to render it effectual 71
——Characters and Properties of the internal Voice, examin'd 72, &c.
——to whom this Voice is commonly directed, and the Reaſons why 74
——the Effects of this Voice 75, &c.
——'tis a Seal and Confirmation of the Truth of the Goſpel, as great as Miracles 77
——a ſufficient Warrant to believe 78
——the Danger to Delay our Hearing and Obedience 79
Voice of God, how powerful in Converſion and Reſuſcitation 73
Vows, what they are 47
Unchangable Covenant of God, a ſure Foundation 997
Upright; God's Favour to them 2 M. 89
Uprightneſs, Marks of it 94

W.

Walking with God, ſweet and pleaſant 98
Wants and Straits; in that time how to keep our Hearts 5 G. 19
——Conſiderations for that purpoſe, ibid.
——Objections anſwered 5 C. 20, &c.
Will; Man hath no free-will to ſupernatural Good 21
——how far free-will may carry us to Good 21
——what it is to be willing to receive Jeſus Chriſt 59
Will of God, Secret and Revealed, diſcoverable by Providence, how? and Uſes 56, &c.
——wherein our Willingneſs conſiſts 60
Will, a two-fold conſent to Chriſt ibid.
——partial and entire 61
——the entire three-fold ibid.
——what muſt precede ibid.
Wife, a good one, the Fruit of Prayer 24, &c.
Will; God's Will, how done 991
Will-Worſhip is Idolatry 2 K. 80
Wicked Men, how mercileſs 23
A Wiſe Spirit, ſitting in all the Wheels of Motion, and governing the Creatures, the Saints Comfort 4
Word of God, the moſt approved Rule of Life 36, &c.
Word of God, how neceſſary to ſteer our Courſe 16
Wolf in a Monk's Cowl, preaching to a Flock of Sheep and of Geeſe, where? 105
World, a dangerous Sea 4
World below; a Glaſs to diſcover the World above 1
World; Helps to crucifie it 6 H. 969
Words, idle, how pernicious 38
Wonderful Sea-Deliverances 2 I. 69, &c.
Word heard and read 978
——how to hear it ibid.

Z.

Zeal for God, Exhortation to quicken it 2 M. 89

BRITISH MUSEUM 26 AP 88

A

TABLE of the Holy SCRIPTURES.

Which are Explain'd in Volume II. and are most Remarkable.

Genesis. Page
GEn. 3. 17. 59
4. 10. 67
4. 7. 56
26. 24. 926
5. 24. 98
28. 19. 6
39. 9. 44
48. 1. 41
48. 3. 18
Exodus.
Exod. 4. 10. 14
7. 1. 113
14. 25. 15
34. 6. 28
Numbers.
Numb. 11. 12. 29
Deuteronomy.
Deut. 20. 19. 19
32. 36. 132
8. 16. 5
2 Samuel.
2 Sam. 23. 5. 985
2 Kings.
2 King. 8. 13. 56
2 Chronicles.
2 Chron. 15. 2 12
36. 16. 65
Job.
Job 1. 10. 23
2. 5. 76
4. 21. 30
5. 26. 46
9. 11. 15
9. 24. 71
12. 14. 18
12. 8. 1
15. 35. 68
19. 27. 930
23. 10. 58
24. 56. 925
33. 13. 923
33. 14. 43
Psalms.
Psal. 1. 4, 5. 57
1. 23. 11
2. 6. 1320
4. 8. 51
8. 12. 100
17. 8. 28
17. 14. 71
19. 3. 1
23. 1. 102
22. 17. 51
23. 4. 56
27. 4. 104
34. 20. 29
36. 4. 66
37. 4, 5. 24
39. 15. 12
39. 5. 32
45. 2. 1320
45. 6. 1322
46. 5, 6. 11
60. 3. 989
60. 2. 963
77. 19. 35
63. 13. 148
86. 11. 1035
82. 6. 1319

Page
89. 28. 987
94. 19. 989
85. 10. 44
94. 12. 62
90. 10. 925
103. 13. 14. 56
107. 4, 5, 6. 34
99. 5. 12
97. 7. 14
110. 3. 24
119. 7. 31
119. 19. 18
119. 67. 61
119. 92. 988
129. 7. 46
128. 2. 1055
125. 2. 8
138. 8. 5
139. 14. 68
143. 7, 8. 28
147. 19. 20
147. 20. 113
Proverbs.
Prov. 5. 12, 13. 31
1. 24, 25. 8
8. 3. 1054
10. 4. 22. 14
7. 22. 43
10. 5. 1302
9. 18. 43
10. 29. 14
10. 20. 57
16. 18. 62
20. 27. 113
28. 13. 123
27. 21. 31
30. 8, 9. 18
21. 17. 35
29. 25. 966
23. 21. 35
23. 29, 30. 3
Canticles.
Cant. 2. 7. 54
2. 8. 1032
5. 9. 18
4. 16. 99
6. 2. 10
Ecclesiastes.
Eccleſ. 7. 14. 49
7. 29. 70
9. 2. 292
7. 26. 43
10. 8. 31
12. 14. 10
Iſaiah.
Iſa. 5. 8, 9. 63
9. 6. 48
9. 13. 62
16. 13. 12
16. 9, 10. 18
40. 1. 2. 89
42. 2. 41
55. 2. 11
27. 11. 65
55. 6, 7, 8. 23
55. 11. 15.
53. 11. 92
29. 10. 24
22. 12. 24

Page
32. 20. 10
53. 1. 1050
53. 10. 1054
55. 3. 987
56. 4. 990
57. 20. 59
66. 13. 33
Jeremiah.
Jer. 5. 3. 20
5. 7. 1304
6. 26. 915
9. 7. 75
13. 23. 19
18. 11. 992
18. 18. 19
15. 20, 21. 14
30. 11. 9 & 14
25. 4. 8
57. 33. 55
Ezekiel.
Ezek. 1. 18. 5
2. 5. 8
3. 5, 6. 11
9. 4, 5. 89
21. 26. 131
33. 32. 70
34. 4. 78
36. 26. 1313
39. 29. 7
Daniel.
Dan. 5. 6. 989
5. 21. 1313
7. 10. 9
12. 3. 9
Hoſea.
Hoſ. 2. 19. 23
7. 6. 7. 84
7. 14 68
7. 16. 1714
9. 12. 25
9. 7. 1346
8. 14. 84
11. 4. 38
11. 9. 28
Amos.
Amos 3. 7. 9
9. 9. 57
6. 12. 57
Jonah.
Jon. 4. 2. 29
Micah.
Mic. 6. 5. 33
6. 9. 57
7. 1, 2. 59
7. 18, 19. 63
7. 12. 59
Habakkuk.
Hab. 2. 10, 11. 67
Zephaniah.
Zeph. 1. 12. 57
2. 5. 12
12. 3. 11
12. 10. 915
13. 7. 1046
14. 20. 139
Matthew.
Matth. 3. 8, 9. 65
6. 11. 10
9. 15. 44

Page
9. 36. 878
10. 10. 9
10. 14, 15. 10
16. 24. 60
12. 36. 10
23. 37. 4
21. 2. 3. 8
25. 21. 1329
24. 14. 8
26. 38. 1057
9. 2. 8
7. 3. 1307
13. 11. 24
6. 5, 6. 69
18. 20. 12
22. 12. 9
21. 32. 83
Mark.
Mark 6. 11. 8
10. 28. 1324
14. 35. 36. 1047
16. 16. 1313
16. 20. 14
16. 16. 14
16. 16. 83
Luke.
Luke 1. 7. 1049
3. 7. 8
7. 47. 1312
8. 18. 91
12. 47. 48
13. 34. 59
14. 27. 1320
14. 26. 1324
15. 28. 1322
15. 21. 64
19. 9. 25
20. 25. 1320
21. 15. 19
21. 29. 1032
John.
John 1. 12. 1050
4. 10. 18
4. 36. 9
4. 34. 49
5. 36, 37. 17
4. 4. 18
5. 45. 8
5. 14. 19
6. 35. 83
6. 44. 1321
8. 36. 1324
11. 21. 14
12. 48. 15
14. 7. 927
14. 20. 88
16. 1. 1321
15. 6. 65
16. 9, 10. 1311
17. 24. 57
Acts.
Acts 1. 22. 12
2. 37. 26
3. 19. 9
8. 37. 60
9. 10. 19
10. 33. 15
10. 43. 85 & 1050
13. 48. 1050

13. 37.

A Table of the Holy Scriptures, &c.

| | | Page |
|---|---|---|
| | 13. 39. | 11 |
| | 14. 27. | 19 |
| | 16. 14. | 15 |
| | 20. 28. | 18 |
| | 18. 21. | 11 |
| | 26. 16. | 8 |
| | 26. 18. | 25 |
| | 28. 22. | 19 |
| | Romans. | |
| Rom. | 1. 25, 26. | 45. |
| | 1. 26. | 18 |
| | 2. 4, 5. | 28 |
| | 2. 9. | 48 |
| | 2. 15. | 8 |
| | 2. 16. | 44 |
| | 2. 16. | 44 |
| | 3. 25. | 51 |
| | 4. 5. | 23 |
| | 6. 6. | 68 |
| | 5. 5. | 90 |
| | 5. 20. | 63 |
| | 7. 22. | 66 |
| | 7. 9. | 42 |
| | 7. 23. | 30 |
| | 8. 7. | 17 |
| | 8. 9. | 62 |
| | 8. 30. | 24 |
| | 8. 33, 34. | 89 |
| | 8. 28. | 6 & 53 |
| | 10. 3. | 18 |
| | 10. 14. | 82 |
| | 11. 22. | 28 & 1310 |
| | 12. 9. | 63 |
| | 12. 16. | 10 |
| | 1 Corinthians. | |
| 1 Cor. | 1. 30. | 41 & 61 |
| | 2. 11. | 41 |
| | 3. 7. | 13. & 82 |
| | 4. 9. | 966 |
| | 4. 20. | 1313 |
| | 6. 9. | 8 |
| | 6. 9. | 10 |
| | 7. 14. | 1117 |
| | 7. 29. | 30 |
| | 7. 20. | 24 |
| | 9. 9. | 9 |
| | 11. 26. | 1029 |

| | | Page |
|---|---|---|
| | 14. 25. | 14 |
| | 15. 58. | 12 |
| | 2 Corinthians. | |
| 2 Cor. | 1. 14. | 9 |
| | 1. 16. | 46 |
| | 1. 22. | 91 |
| | 2. 16. | 8 |
| | 5. 11. | 15 |
| | 5. 20. | 11 & 16 |
| | 5. 5. | 91 |
| | 6. 10. | 57 |
| | 5. 21. | 1030 |
| | 8. 9. | 1055 |
| | 11. 2. | 8 |
| | 5. 5. | 91 |
| | 12. 9. | 1325 |
| | 14. 25. | 14 |
| | 10. 4, 5. | 84 |
| | 1. 4. | 96 |
| | Galatians. | |
| Gal. | 3: 13. | 1057 |
| | 4. 14. | 16 |
| | 4. 19. | 1319 |
| | 5. 17. | 67 |
| | 6. 10. | 32 |
| | 6. 15. | 1312 |
| | Epheſians. | |
| Eph. | 1. 14. | 91 |
| | 1. 3. | 1049 |
| | 1. 11. | 992 |
| | 1. 19. | 24 |
| | 2. 8. | 87 |
| | 5. 30. | 1323 |
| | 4. 30. | 97 |
| | 6. 1. | 17 |
| | 6. 16. | 1052 |
| | 6. 19. | 1032 |
| | Philippians. | |
| Phil. | 1. 2. | 78 |
| | 1. 6. | 43 |
| | 1. 29. | 32 |
| | 2. 5. | 1055 |
| | 2. 12, 13. | 11 |
| | 2. 13. | 9 |
| | 2. 21. | 919 |
| | 3. 20. | 98 |
| | 3. 8. | 23 |

| | | Page |
|---|---|---|
| | 4. 6. | 38 |
| | Coloſſians. | |
| Col. | 1. 27. | 24 |
| | 1. 30. | 21 |
| | 2. 22. | 84 |
| | 1 Theſſalonians. | |
| 1 Theſ. | 2. 19, 20 | 930 |
| | 4. 5. | 24 |
| | 4. 6. | 117 |
| | 4. 13, 14. | 37 |
| | 2 Theſſalonians. | |
| 2 Theſ. | 1. 7, 8. | 9 |
| | 1. 4. | 1319 |
| | 2. 8. | 104 |
| | 2. 7. | 84 |
| | 1 Timothy. | |
| 1 Tim. | 1. 16. | 11 |
| | 1. 16. | 100 |
| | 5. 21. | 1329 |
| | 6. 9. | 117 |
| | 2 Timothy. | |
| 1 Tim. | 2. 5. | 78 |
| | 2. 12. | 1325 |
| | 2. 19. | 91 |
| | Hebrews. | |
| Heb. | 1. 14. | 55 |
| | 2. 2, 3. | 10 |
| | 2. 3. | 46 |
| | 4. 3. | 11 |
| | 4. 12. | 73 |
| | 4. 2. | 85 |
| | 10. 30. | 57 |
| | 8. 13. | 991 |
| | 12. 5. | 917 |
| | 12. 11. | 59 |
| | 12. 25. | 79 |
| | 13. 4. | 1301 |
| | 13. 9. | 53 |
| | 13. 20. | 1047 |
| | James: | |
| James | 1. 24. | 56 |
| | 1. 10. | 8 |
| | 4. 8. | 102 |
| | 5. 1. | 1346 |
| | 5. 5. | 94 |
| | 5. 11. | 48 |
| | 5. 20. | 15 |

| | | Page |
|---|---|---|
| | 1 Peter. | |
| 1 Peter | 1. 5. | 76 |
| | 1. 7. | 69 |
| | 1. 8. | 53 |
| | 1. 12. | 21 |
| | 1. 23. | 16 |
| | 2. 2. | 364 |
| | 2. 1. | 84 |
| | 2. 7. | 1322 |
| | 3. 15. | 26 |
| | 3. 19, 20. | 33 |
| | 3. 21. | 123 |
| | 2 Peter. | |
| 2 Peter | 3. 9. | 65 |
| | 3. 15. | 26 |
| | 1 Epiſtle of John. | |
| 1 John | 1. 1. | 12 |
| | 1. 3. | 98 |
| | 2. 1, 2. | 49 |
| | 2. 4, 5. | 68 |
| | 3. 2. | 92 |
| | 3. 8. | 24 |
| | 3. 20. | 1318 |
| | 4. 10. | 1055 |
| | 5. 4. | 1052 |
| | 5. 21. | 84 |
| | 5. 20. | 20 |
| | 6. 4. | 22 |
| | Revelations. | |
| Revel. | 1. 5. | 1324 |
| | 2. 1. | 12 & 13 |
| | 2. 10. | 1330 |
| | 2. 5. | 13 |
| | 2. 21. | 29 |
| | 2. 23. | 1031 |
| | 3. 17. | 19 |
| | 5. 6. | 1044 |
| | 4. 6, 7. | 1323 |
| | 6. 8. | 49 |
| | 11. 6. 7. | 8 |
| | 11. 7. | 14 |
| | 17. 4, 5. | 84 |
| | 20. 12. | 9 |

BRITISH MUSEUM 26 AP 88